NEW COMPLAINT MADE.

JUDGE DEMEZA SAYS HE IS TIRED OF DISMISSING CHARGES.

Complainant Failed to Appear, and Warrant Issued for His Arrest—Prisoner Discharged and Then Rearrested.

The city court was the scene of a lively tilt, yesterday afternoon, between the presiding judge and Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield. The trouble arose out of one of the cases that came before the Judge for trial.

Several days ago, Patrick Wallace, Robert Wallace, Michael Crowley and John Hammill were arrested on the charge of assaulting John F. O'Halloran in Vail's woods on West Fourth street. They were held in $200 bail for trial yesterday afternoon, but being unable to furnish the required bail all but Crowley were confined in jail in Elizabeth. Crowley furnished bail. In the meantime there was a conference between Mr. Hetfield, who represented the prisoners, and Mr. O'Halloran, the complainant. Finally O'Halloran declared that he thought that his assailants had been punished sufficiently and appeared before City Judge DeMeza yesterday morning stating that he wanted to withdraw the complaint.

The Judge does not believe in withdrawing complaints. He thinks that when they are once made they should be pressed to an end and the real offenders discovered. He has in several insances done this in cases that have come before the city court and compelled the complainants to appear and testify. Sometimes the trouble has been proved to have been started by the complainant who made the complaint to cover his own guilt. So it was that the Judge told Mr. Hetfield that if he did allow the complaint to be withdrawn, he would instruct the police to make another against the men and he would investigate the matter thoroughly.

Yesterday at 2:30 o'clock the prisoners were arraigned before the Judge. He called for the complainant and as he did not appear declared the complaint dismissed. The prisoners were immediately re-arrested and a warrant was issued for the arrest of O'Halloran. The charge made against them all was of quarrelling and fighting and being disorderly. The complaint was made by Sergeant Kiely.

Mr. Hetfield was present and made a vigorous speech in which he declared the re-arrest of the prisoners was an outrage. He said that Sergeant Kiely had no right to make a complaint, as he had not been at the scene of the trouble. Then he said that the second complaint was sprung on him unawares. He was very certain that if there had been any trouble that it was in Middlesex county and not in the city limits. He asked that the case be set down for week after next and that the prisoners be released on light bail.

The Judge stopped the Sergeant, who wanted to reply, and made his explanation of the facts already stated. He set the bail at $200 again and set down the trial for two weeks from yesterday. An argument followed and Mr. Hetfield demanded a jury for the trial.

LESSONS IN FRENCH

Practical Study Because No English is Spoken in the Classroom.

Dr. Warde, principal of the New Jersey Military Academy, has started the French classes at the academy. They will be held on Tuesday and Thurday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Military Academy. The terms for the instruction in French are very reasonable, twenty lessons for $10. The instruction will be by Prof. Lacasse, one of the instructors at the academy, a graduate of the University of Paris. Before coming to Plainfield, Prof. Lacasse has only taught at the Berlitz School of Languages in Washington and New York since he came to this country. The number of pupils in the class is limited, and now only five vacancies remain so application should be made at once. No English is spoken in the classroom and the boys of the New Jersey Military Academy are already speaking French.

Transfer of a License.

City Judge DeMeza made application yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas at Somerville before Judge Bartine for the transfer of the license for a wholesale beer bottling establishing from Gustav Sutterlin to Mark Schoellen, of Green Brook.

Realty Changes.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded in the Somerset County Clerk's office from North Plainfield: Edwin F. Titus to Andrew Lane, Jr., North Plainfield, $8,000.00; Andrew Lane, Jr., et ux to Annie L. Titus, North Plainfield, $8,000.00.

AWARDED $15 FOR DEAD DOG

William Demler Gets Satisfaction For the Annihilation of His Canine.

Poor doggy, he never realized what trouble he would cause. Yesterday afternoon the suit brought by his owner, William Demler, against Ralph Bullman, his slayer, was tried at Justice Speer's court, in Washingtonville, and the poor dog was valued at $15 by the representative of the law. The slayer was also ordered to pay the costs of the action.

The story of the dog has already been exclusively related in The Press. It was shot by young Bullman, who is employed on the farm of William H. Smith, of Washington Valley. Smith is also the owner of the sandstone quarry in the valley. Demler brought suit in tort, through his attorneys, McNabb & Clark. Bullman was represented by Pope & Runyon.

The trial was a lively one and both lawyers indulged in several wordy tilts. The counsel for the defence claimed that the papers were not correct but the Justice would not agree to it. Then they threatened to certiorari the case to the Supreme Court. A verdict was finally given for $15 and costs but neither side is willing to let the case stand as it is at present.

Pope & Runyon stated that they contemplated starting action against Demler and Constable Steward for trespass in the Bernardsville court for William H. Smith, the owner of the farm. The ground for the alleged trespass, they claim, is that Demler and Steward hunted throught the fields of Smith's farm to find all that was mortal of Demler's hound.

FAVOR COUNTY TROLLEY

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OVER FRANK BERGEN'S PROPOSITION.

Resolutions Passed Favoring an Electric Railroad on the County Road if it Can Be Widened to One Hundred Feet.

Several hundred citizens of Union county shouted themselves hoarse last evening over the proposed plan of Frank J. Bergen to convert the county road into a boulevard, a hundred feet wide, with a trolley road owned by the county between two roadways.

There has been considerable talk ever the plan as suggested by that great trolley advocate and much has been said for and against the scheme. The Press has already published a cut of the proposed roadway as drawn by Frank J. Hubbard, the engineer.

Last night was the time set for the public meeting at the court-house in Elizabeth to consider the scheme and its advisability. The court house was crowded with citizens from all over the county. Among the prominent Plainfielders on the scene were Sheriff Kirk, Assemblyman W. R. Codington, James A. Pope and Roger F. Murray. Most of the members of the Freeholders of the county were in attendance but they did not commit themselves.

The chairman of the meeting was former Freeholder West, of Elizabeth. The meeting was a unanimous one and if there was any opposition it was not shown there.

A series of resolutions were passed unanimously. The first stated that it was the sense of the meeting that no trolley should be placed on the county road between Elizabeth and Plainfield while the road was in its present condition. The second resolution stated that it was the sense of the meeting that the county road should be widened to a hundred feet and a double-track trolley road be built there by the county, provided on investigation that it was found to be feasible and profitable to the county.

Another resolution provided for the appointment of a committee of eleven to inquire into the matter and report to another public meeting of citizens at the court-house on Oct. 21st. The chairman withheld his appointments until he should have time to consider the best men for the committee. His appointments will be announced later.

Stone Thrown at a Train.

Just after the passenger train arriving here at 9:45 a. m. passed Elizabeth this morning a stone came crashing through a window in one of the coaches, the missile evidently having been thrown by someone standing near the track. A piece of flying glass struck a passenger and cut one of his ears so that it bled profusely. The passenger got off the train when it arrived in this city.

A Happy Pair.

In one of the large show windows of the Plainfield Cycle and SportingGoods Co., are to be seen a raccoon and a dog, which are owned by Edward Campbell. The two animals were brought up together, and are exceedingly tame and playful. They are confined in a cage and seem to enjoy their place.

THE NEW REFORMATORY

WORK PROGRESSING SLOWLY ON ACCOUNT OF LITTLE MONEY.

It Will Be Used For the Improvement of the Morals of Juvenile Offenders by Instruction Rather Than Punishment.

The work on the New Jersey State Reformatory, now being constructed at Rahway, along the line of the Union and Middlesex Electric Railway, near the banks of the Rahway river, is progressing slowly, mainly on account of the smallness of the appropriation made by the last Legislature. The grounds are located about one mile from the Rahway station, on what is known as the old Thomas Edgar homestead, now belonging to the State. The land is level and the soil (a clayey loam) dry. The property extends 600 feet on Hazlewood avenue and its depth on Rahway avenue is 3,500 feet, the whole containing 33.44 acres. The greater part of the property is situated in Middlesex county.

About two years ago the project of building this intermediate prison, or reformatory, was agitated by ex-Governor Werts and other State officials, as well as by various organizations whose object it was to improve the morals of juvenile offenders, with a view to their instruction rather than punishment merely. The bill authorizing its construction was passed March 28th, 1894, with a preliminary appropriation of $100,000, and in the following April the Governor appointed six commissioners to take charge of the construction. The estimated cost of the reformatory is $600,000, although Secretary Thomas M. Gopsill says that $670,000 will be needed, exclusive of convict labor.

The new reformatory, when completed, will cover five acres of ground and furnish accommodations for 1,000 prisoners. From the front it will look like two long wings converging towards a central building with a high dome, the wings and the main building forming the centre of a long, high brick wall. Directly in front of the main building will be the quarters of the reformatory officials. At the head of this building will be a circular driveway from which two arms will extend to the right and left of the reformatory grounds, and on either side of the circular driveway will be a house for the wardens. Four long, wide arms will extend from the main building, and in these the cells will be located, which, according to the specifications, will be graded and will be made of different sizes. Back of the central building will be a drill yard for the inmates, surrounded by a wall one-story high and completely shut off from the other buildings. On the left hand side, beyond the wall, will be shops for practical instruction in manual labor, and a foundry; in the rear a physical culture hall and a dining room and a building for the officers; on the right hand side a hospital, chapel and school-rooms. A little further out on the left hand side of the one-story wall will be located a trade-shool and a building for the solitary confinement of refractory prisoners.

HIS SMILES AND TALK MADE FUN.

A Y. M. C. A. Audience Humorously Entertained by Marshall P. Wilder.

Marshall P. Wilder, the well-known humorist, appeared at the Y. M. C. A. hall, last evening, and kept an audience that comfortably filled the hall in a continual roar. He was accompanied by a pianist who rendered several selections during the intervals in Mr. Wilder's talk. Mr. Wilder was as funny as ever. He had a hard task to perform for everybody expected him to make them laugh, but he performed the feat with ease.

Mr. Wilder is, as almost everybody knows, a dwarf. But his hearers forgot all about his personal appearance when he began to talk. He has a pleasant face that is frequently lighted up by a very attractive smile. There is something contagious about the smile. He smiles when he relates something funny and it really adds to the effect.

Besides a host of humorous anecdotes, he recited several selections of a serious nature and paid a pretty compliment to the women in a short poem. Some of his funny things were not appreciated by all and sometimes as the humor began to dawn on the audience they would have to interrupt his next story to laugh at the last.

Mr. Wilder has a wonderful faculty of facial imitation. His face during some of his stories was more than sufficent to send the audience into laughter. His exhibition of ventriloquism was good while his representation of the different varieties of the snore were side-splitting in their effects.

Superintendent Wightman, of the North Plainfield Public High School, is an ardent wheelman and frequently enjoys a ride when the time permits.

FREED FROM HIS CAGE.

JULIUS DELMOTTE FOLLOWS HIS PRISONED PETS TO FREEDOM.

A Victim of the Jersey Game Law—Sentence 17 Days Above the Limit—Suit May Be Brought Against the Justice.

Judge J. B. Bartine yesterday discharged Julius Delmotte, who was in a cell behind the Somerset court house serving the second day of his term of 107 days for keeping five robins in a cage.

Sheriff Wyckoff immediately freed Delmotte, who went away with his counsel, John A. Frech, and last night he slept in a comfortable bed in the Commercial House.

As told in The Press yesterday, Delmotte was sentenced by Justice Chas. Austin, of Warrenville. The section of the game law covering the offense reads:

That it shall be unlawful to capture, kill or injure or have in possession after the same have been captured, killed or injured, any night-hawk, whippoorwill, thrush, meadow-lark, finch, martin, barn swallow, woodpecker, robin, réd or cardinal bird, cedar bird, tanager, or other insectiverous bird, under a penalty of $20 for every bird so captured, killed, injured, or had in possession.

Delmotte is a small Frenchman with a love for birds. During the summer he has been caretaker for William Van Buren at Mount Bethel, in the Watchung mountains, eight miles away.

One day he found a nest of robins, took them home and put them in a cage. He was so proud of them that he exhibited them, and he showed them to one man too many. That man turned informer and told Israel Ten Eyck, a game warden.

"I only had the robins five days," said Delmotte to a correspondent, "when a friend told me it was against the law to keep them, so I let them go. Two days afterwards I was arrested and charged with having had five robins.

"I had four and I said so. They were well kept and happy. They had a large cage and plenty to eat and drink. I do not believe they are so well off now."

The prisoner was taken before Justice Austin, who fined him $107, and sent him to the county jail in Somerville. According to the law the informer gets one third of the amount imposed, the game warden gets one third and the great State of New Jersey gets the remaining third.

Delmottee arrived yesterday and Lawyer Frech took an interest in the case. He examined the commitment papers, saw two large loopholes for escape and had his client taken before Judge Bartine, the county law judge.

The lawyer argued that the Justice had no right to sentence the man to more than ninety days, "or until fine and costs were paid." The latter clause was not in the commitment papers, simply a sentence of 107 days.

Another point was that the prisoner had appealed from the Justice's sentence and had filed a bond for $214, which had been accepted by the same Justice. Afterwards he sent the man to the county jail.

Judge Bartine upheld the lawyer and ordered Delmotte set free.

Mr. Frech said afterwards that he had prepared papers for a suit for $1,000 damages against Justice Austin in behalf of Delmotte for false imprisonment.

He bases the suit on the fact, he says, that the Justice sent Delmotte to jail after the case had been appealed to a higher court and had passed out of his jurisdiction.

Delmotte was very grateful. Work will be found for him on a farm near this city. He says he will never keep a bird in a cage again—not even a canary.

JUNIOR ENDEAVOR OFFICERS.

Trinity Church Society Prepare For Active Work This Winter.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church held its first fall and winter meeting yesterday afternoon with forty-nine members in attendance. The nominating committee, consisting of Miss Olive Wikoff, Clarence VanDoren, Lida Wyman, Ada VanDoren and Katie Bodine, presented the following list of officers for the coming year and they were unanimously elected: President, Lida Wyman; first vice-president, Hattie Randall; second vice-president, Albert Yaeger; secretary, Clarence VanDoren; treasurer, Bessie Reighton.

Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, the efficient superintendent, was re-elected, and Miss Olive Wikoff, her faithful assistant, was also continued in office.

—The fact that Spicer & Hubbard have been for over thirty years doing business in the same location—corner of Madison avenue and West Third street—is the best testimonial they can receive. Their work is always satisfactory. Read their new advertisement in today's Press.

GIRLS WILD CONDUCT.

Not Content With Telling False Stories They Now Runaway From Home.

Miss Ella Long and Miss Mary Kliner are two Plainfield girls who are causing their parents and friends considerable anxiety, and are keeping everybody guessing as to what they will do next.

On Tuesday they came home from New York city and announced that they had been married to Samuel and William Dennick, two brothers living at 572 Lexington avenue. The story of the marriage has since been contradicted by the Dennicks.

Not content with the stir which their well told story had caused their families, the two girls immediately hit upon other means of attracting attention to themselves. On Wednesday night they ran away to Newark and have not yet returned. Mamie Kliner, who is only 15 years of age, and of a pretty brunette type, has caused much anxiety to her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Lazzi, of 28 Watchung avenue. She left home on Wednesday afternoon saying that she intended visiting a cousin in Somerville.

Yesterday Mrs. Lazzi received the following postal card:

Newark.

Dear Mama: I thought I would write and let you know I am in Newark with Ella untill Sunday or Saturday. I am at Elias sisters. Dont get mad. I went at half past four.

from Mamie.

Mrs. Lazzi says that Miss Long has no sister in Newark, and she is afraid that her girl is in bad company.

Unless Mamie and Ella return tomorrow the parents of both girls will probably ask the aid of the police in bringing them home again.

OLD FIREMEN VISIT HERE

AND MAKE A PRESENTATION TO THE EXEMPT ASSOCIATION.

Entertained With a Sumptuous Spread at Blimm's Hotel and Afterward Enjoyed Sociability at the Exempts' Headquarters

A pleasant event in fire department circles occurred last evening when ex-Chief Bates, of the New York Fire Department, accompanied by George A. Knott and A. I. Brush, of the old Volunteer Department, of New York, came to Plainfield to visit the members of the Exempt Firemen's Association and members of the old Volunteer Department. The visitors were met at the North Avenue station by Jacob Blimm, D. W. Littell, Henry W. Force, R. B. Rogers and Auguste Saltzman, who acted as a special committee from the Exempt Association. They were escorted to Blimm's Hotel where a fine supper was served. At the close the members adjourned to the rooms of the Exempt firemen where there was a number present to receive the visitors.

After an exchange of sociability, George A. Knott, on behalf of the New York Volunteer Association, presented the Exempt Association with an elegant fire-front in a glass case 2x6 feet high and 18 inches wide. The presentation was accompanied by a well-worded speech, and was responded to by Auguste Saltzman, on behalf of the Exempt Association, and by Chief T. O. Doane, on behalf of the Volunteer Association.

This was followed with several speeches by those present and a general social time was enjoyed, after which the members adjourned to Caspar's Hotel for a time. This was followed with a trolley ride to the mountain. The visitors returned home on the 11:26 train and expressed themselves as being highly pleased with their visit. The Plainfield members expressed their gratitude for the handsome gift, and it will occupy a prominent place in their rooms.

The inscription on the fire front reads as follows:

"Presented by the Volunteer Firemen's Association, of the City of New York, to the Exempt and Active Firemen, of Plainfield, N. J., for their Hospitality on October 3d, 1896."

It will be remembered that on the above date that the Plainfield members entertained the New York volunteers in this city, and the gift is in recognition of that event.

Dr. Stearns Coming Back.

Rev. D. M. Stearns who has been traveling abroad in the interest of foreign missions, will return to his home in Germantown next week and will meet his Bible class at the Y. M. C. A in this city on Monday evening, October 2?th. Until then Rev. George C. Needham will meet the class as usual.

The Juniors Anniversary.

Final arrangements were made last evening by the members of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., for their anniversary exercises to be held Wednesday evening, October 6th. The event will be one of the best in the history of this flourishing Council.

PYTHIAN ANNIVERSARY.

GOODWILL LODGE PASSES ITS FIRST YEAR OF EXISTENCE.

The Occasion Marked By a Reception, Drill and Dance in the Cycle Academy—Many Guests From Out of Town.

The first anniversary of Goodwill Lodge, No. 15, K. of P., was held last evening in the Pierce Cycle Academy, and the whole affair was a complete success. The first feature of the evening's programme was the reception of the members of Cypress Commandery, No. 6, K. T., of this city, who were invited to be present. They were met by Grand District Deputy Grant Cannon, Grand Lecturer J. H. Morgan and Past Grand Chancellor J. H. Huggs, of Goodwill Lodge. Both lodges assembled on the spacious floor and while Prof. Vanderveer's orchestra played a favorite march, the uniformed men gave a most creditable exhibition drill.

Following there was a short address of welcome by Grand Lecturer J. H. Morgan, and the response was made by Past Grand Commander William Douglass, of the K. T., of New Jersey.

The next part on the programme was the grand march which was led by William Douglass and lady. This was a pleasing feature and was followed by general dancing. There was a large number of people present from Newark, Jersey City, Camden, Bordentown, Paterson, New York, Westfield, Cranford and Fairnaven, Mass.

The lodge was instituted September 21, 1896, by Grant Cannon with twenty-three charter members. Today the membership is thirty-six and is increasing steadily under the direction of the following officers:

L. L. Croom, P. C.; W. D. Johnson, C. C.; James Groves, V. C.; W. A. Kline, K. R. S.; Peter Robinson, M. F.; A. E. Butler, M. Ex.; W. Downs, Prelate; James Scott, O. G.; Henry Williams, I. G.; Frank DeHart, M. A.; G. C. Cannon, D. D. It is the intention of the members to organize a court of women as an auxiliary at an early date, and they will no doubt be a great help to the lodge.

To the following committees is due great credit for the able manner in which the anniversary was arranged: Committee of arrangements, L. L. Croom, A. E. Butler, W. A. Kline, Wm. Downs, James Scott, Henry Williams, Theodore Hooper, Ben Heywood, Robert Norwood. Committee on reception, J. A. Saunders, Charles Jefferson, Frank DeHart, J. Barrett, H. Smith, Oscar TenEyck. Committee on refreshments, Mrs. Jas. Scott, Mrs. Frank DeHart, Mrs. A. E. Butler, Mrs. W. A. Kline, Mrs. Peter Robinson, Mrs. Louis Peterson, Mrs. Wm. Downs, Mrs. Charles Jefferson, Mrs. Emma Webster and Mrs. Cruse. The soda water was in charge of J. Barrett, Henry Frisbie and Oscar TenEyck, while Wm. Downs and Henry Williams attended to the ice-cream. In the check room were Charles Jefferson and Ben Heywood, and A. E. Butler had charge of the door. The supper was arranged and in charge of Mrs. James Scott, and the menu was especially fine, consisting of everything seasonable.

It was rather early this morning when the enjoyable affair terminated, but all agreed that the first anniversary was a red-letter mark in the history of this enterprising order.

DEFECT IN THE ALARM SYSTEM.

Discovered By Chief David Bodine and Remedied By Electrician Stahl.

Early last evening the boreugh fire alarm gave the officials of the fire department some trouble. At the corner of Grandview avenue and Somerset street Chief David Bodine, of Warren Engine Company, and W. Demarest, of the Prideville department, met, and the lat er asked the former to show him Box 143 at that corner and explain the workings of the same for his own benefit. Chief Bodine opened the box and at once the fire bell sounded once. This puzzled the two firemen and they waited for additional blows, which they failed to hear. Mr. Bodine then shut the door of the box and opened it again, when there was another blow. Electrician Julius Stahl was sent for and a close examination of the box was made. It was discovered that in the upper right-hand corner of the box there was a slight break, which caused the trouble. The difficulty was repaired and everytning is now all right.

Wrenched Her Ankle.

Mrs. Curtis, of Grove street, met with a slight accident last evening, while riding her wheel. She is a novice, and in trying to turn a corner she did not give herself enough room, and collided with a wagon. She fell from her wheel and slightly wrenched her ankle. She was able to walk home.

PEARY'S BIG METEORITE

It Weighs 100 Tons and Looks Like Any Old Iron.

ESKIMOS ARRIVED WITH IT

This Is Hot Weather for the Inhabitants of the North, and They Wear Their Summer Clothes of Seal and Bear Skins.

Brooklyn, Oct. 1.—The steamship Hope, from the Arctic regions, is on view at the East River dock, near the big bridge. She was docked yesterday afternoon, and one of the first persons to board her was Lieut. Peary. The Hope brought with her a meteorite weighing 100 tons.

The Hope reached her pier at the foot of Dock street and made fast shortly after 2 o'clock. The first men aboard were Lieut. Peary, one of his companions on a former expedition, and a customs officer. The black hull of the curious ship was watched by crowds from the passing ferryboats and from the bridge, almost overhead.

The six Eskimos exhibited a row of round, red, perspiring faces as they leaned over the ship's side. All wore the Summer garments of their country. Their coats were of yellow and gray hair sealskin. Their knickerbockers were made of the long white fur of the polar bear, with plain leather leggings. Four Eskimo dogs, warm and panting, stretched themselves on the deck.

As the first visitors made their way aboard interest centred in the great meteorite stored amidships. The hatchway was open, and after the covering of sailcloth was off, the mass of steel was eagerly inspected. It was shaped like a saddle, hanging over a great central beam, and reaching out to other braces fore and aft.

Like a Beaten Kettle.

The surface was like the black beaten iron of an old rusty kettle, but scratches showed the color of the steel beneath.

When the Hope goes to the Navy Yard on Saturday the meteorite will be lifted out by jack screws and lowered by an inclined plane, just as it was put in place at Cape York, Greenland. It will probably be disposed of to one of the museums, but whether the Smithsonian or one of this city or Chicago will take it is not yet determined.

Lieut. Peary said that the six Eskimos were here to arrange a collection of relics of their tribe, gathered in his last three expeditions, and would return to the north in the Spring.

"Cape Sabine," said Lieut. Peary, "is at latitude 78.44.11, our farthest point north. It is the key to the sound beyond, and in the last six years I have studied the local conditions there with a view to entering the sound at favorable seasons, when wind and tide hold off the ice that infringes there. I was the first man to step into Camp Clay since Greely left it. We were there on Aug. 24. This was my seventh expedition."

INTER-STATE BREACH OF PROMISE.

Loved in One, Engaged in Another, and Married in Connecticut.

Scranton, Oct. 1.—Miss Laura Thompson, daughter of Charles A. Thompson, contractor and builder in New York City, has commenced breach of promise proceedings in the Lackawanna County courts against Dr. William Donald H. Namar, a practicing physician in this city. She asks damages in $5,000.

Miss Thompson, in her declaration, says she became acquainted with Dr. Namar in March, 1895, when she was 22 years old, and that in July following an engagement of marriage was entered into between them. This engagement was publicly announced to friends of both, and there was an exchange of photographs and presents. The defendant, she alleges, also borrowed sums of money from her at various times, assuring her he was expecting large sums to fall to him through inheritance in time from wealthy relatives.

In the Fall of 1896 she says Namar left New York, going to Hartford, Ct., still continuing in letters his fidelity to her, but in January last she learned from him that he was paying attentions to another, Miss Sadie Elder, and despite her protests that he should keep his engagement with her, married Miss Elder.

Fitz Should Fight Again.

New York, Oct. 1.—The sporting fraternity generally thinks that Fitzsimmons should accept Corbett's offer of $15,000, win or lose, if he will fight him again for the championship. This is the first offer of this kind that has ever been made by an ex-champion to the champion since the fighting business was first started, and unless Fitzsimmons accepts a challenge from Corbett there is no telling how soon Lanky Bob's name will be scratched from the pugilistic index.

Prof. Von Holst Naturalized.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Prof. Herrmann Eduard Von Holst has become an American citizen. The famous historian and professor at the University of Chicago went before Judge Neely and renounced allegiance to all foreign potentates, and to the Czar of Russia in particular.

MAY BE A CUBAN CRISIS

Spain's New Ministry Will Be More Conciliatory.

HAS CUBA OFFERED TERMS?

Minister Woodford Has Not Communicated with Washington, Which Is Regarded as Strange—London Views of the Crisis.

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 1.—As a result of the interviews which Gen. Azcarraga, the retiring Premier, and Gen. Polavieja have had with the Queen Regent, her Majesty has become convinced that it is impossible to reunite the conservatives in order to form a strong Ministry. Therefore, she has accepted the resignations of the Ministers.

The opinion is general that Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader, will succeed Gen. Azcarraga. Many of the Prefects, under secretaries and directors-general of the department have also resigned.

The Solution of the Crisis.

London, Eng., Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Madrid says:

"The solution of the crisis depends upon the policy to be adopted towards the United States. Liberal politicians declare that they will stoutly resist America's pretentions.

"Gen. Azcarraga, in a long interview with the Queen Regent, explained the situation. It is believed that he asked her Majesty if she was ready to confirm the government in necessary powers in view of the attitude of the United States. After the interview he summoned the Cabinet, which was attended by Senor Reverter, the ex-communicated Minister of Finance, and Senor Cos-Gayon, Minister of the Interior, both of whom tendered their resignations. Shortly afterward the Premier tendered the resignations of the entire Cabinet."

Overtures from the Cubans.

London, Eng., Oct. 1.—A special dispatch from Madrid says that a rumor prevails there to the effect that an important communication has been received by the Spanish Government from the leaders of the Cuban insurgents, suggesting the basis of a possible settlement of the Cuban difficulties.

No Word from Gen. Woodford.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—The State Department has not heard officially of the resignation of the Spanish Cabinet. Gen. Woodford, the American Minister at Madrid, has not cabled to the Secretary of State any information, nor has he even notified the department of a change in the Ministry. This silence on the part of the American Minister is considered somewhat strange at the department, but it is thought that he has some good reason for not notifying the government.

Diplomats familiar with Spanish affairs say the present conditions point to one of two results, namely, the complete collapse of the conservative regime, which has been responsible for the Cuban policy, and its succession by a liberal Cabinet, with pacific and conciliatory tendencies towards Cuba, or else a transition Ministry, with Azcarraga again at the head as a temporary expedient to tide over affairs until the Cortes can meet and a permanent and stable ministry be formed. Officials believe that a complete change of Ministers and political parties, with Sagasta as the new leader, is the more probable. In that case, it is said, Senor Moret probably would become Minister of Foreign Affairs. Moret is best remembered in the United States from the fact that he was the first to recognize the Mora claim, presented by the United States. It made him a target for criticism in Spain, but he was ultimately justified by his political opponents, when they paid the claim after the energetic demands made by Secretary Olney.

BOSTONS ARE CHAMPIONS.

They Win Again from Brooklyn, and the Baltimores Lose.

The Bostons have won the National League's championship pennant. They once more defeated the Brooklyns yesterday, and as the Washingtons, with Mercer in the box, easily disposed of the Baltimores, Selee's men became the king-pin ball club. It is impossible now for the Baltimores to catch the Hub players, for if the latter should lose their remaining game to Brooklyn, while the Orioles win to-day and to-morrow from the Washingtons, the final standing would be: Boston, 93 victories, 39 defeats, .705 per cent.; Baltimore, 91 victories, 39 defeats, .700 per cent. The Washingtons have passed the Brooklyns, but if these teams lose all of their remaining games they will be tied for sixth place. The New Yorks won a close game from the Philadelphias. The results:

New York, 6; Philadelphia, 5.
Boston, 12; Brooklyn, 3.
Washington, 9; Baltimore, 3.

Bucklen's Arnica alve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Howard Martin, of West Front street, has secured a good position in New York city.

Charles A. Moore, the proprietor of the hotel at Basking Ridge, last weak suffered a stroke of paralysis, and his recovery is extremely doubtful.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. Leonard Bunn, of Elmwood place, is much improved from her illness.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Woolley, of West Second street, are entertaining company from out-of-town.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Walter Peterson and family, of Prospect avenue, who have been enjoying their vacation at the seashore, have returned home.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Angie Kuhl and Miss Mary Poole, of Somerville, are visiting friends in Plainfield today.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

J. E. Stewart and family, of West Seventh street, who have been stopping at the Claflin House, Becket, Mass., have returned home.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

TAMMANY'S CANDIDATES.

Judge Van Wyck Will Be the Tiger's Standard Bearer.

New York, Oct. 1.—At the convention of Tammany Hall Democracy last night, Judge Van Wyck was nominated for Mayor of Greater New York.

Bird S. Coler, a Brooklyn banker, practically unknown, was nominated for Comptroller, and Jacob Ruppert, Jr., whose father owns one of the biggest breweries in the country and is worth $10,000,000, was named for President of the Council. Between the banker and the brewer, Mr. Croker expects to maintain Tammany's financial standing.

The platform scores the trusts and is strong on home rule; it denounces "the prodigality, inefficiency and hyprocrisy of the city administration of the past three years." It condemns the Raines law in that it "promotes intemperance, furnishes a legalized refuge for vice, imperils the innocence of children and destroys the sanctity of the home." It declares for everything that is good and true and noble, and scores the Republicans.

Henry George a Factor.

The most striking feature in the Greater New York situation as it exists to-day is the commanding position into which Henry George has been so suddenly thrust.

There is no question of his mastery of the local situation as against Tammany. His influence is great enough to cause the overwhelming defeat of any Tammany candidate.

The most apparent, as well as the most important fact in the news of to-day, is that the Mayor of Greater New York must be approved by Henry George and his backers, or he cannot be elected as a Democrat. It is announced on authority that Henry George will to-night accept the nomination of the Democratic Alliance at its meeting, at which Charles Frederick Adams is to put Mr. George into nomination for Mayor of Greater New York. Mr. George will also notify the United Democracy, which has already nominated him, that he is in the field.

Robert A. Van Wyck was elected Chief Justice of the City Court eight years ago, and holds that place today. He was born in this city, and is 47 years old. He went to the public schools for a few years, and left them to go into business. He had a job as errand boy at first, and then became a clerk. He worked as a clerk five years, and decided then to go back to school and get an education. He wanted to become a lawyer. He entered Columbia College Law School. He was graduated in 1872 at the head of a class of 124, and delivered the valedictory address. He was a successful lawyer.

Justice Van Wyck was arrested seven years ago on the night of the French ball, which was held in the Metropolitan Opera House. The arrest was made on the order of Sergt. Schmittberger, who, later, when a captain, figured in the Lexow investigation. The arrest, Justice Van Wyck insisted, was an outrage.

GREEK CABINET RESIGNS.

The Boule Declines to Give It a Vote of Confidence.

Athens, Oct. 1.—At the session of the Boule yesterday Prime Minister Ralli presented the preliminary treaty of peace with Turkey. He deplored the onerous conditions imposed on Greece, but said he was of the opinion that the country must submit to the superior might of Europe.

When the final treaty came to be discussed the Government would be prepared to undertake the responsibility of accepting the decision of the concert of the powers and of negotiating a final treaty with the Porte and the financial arrangements with the powers and the bondholders. It would first, however, ask the support of the Chamber.

M. Ralli's motion, demanding a vote of confidence was rejected by a vote of 93 to 30. About forty members abstained from voting.

Subsequent to the announcement of the vote the Ministry resigned. The King will take action on the resignation to-day.

Must Pay the Alien Tax?

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—State Treasurer Haywood received a communication from the George V. Cresson Company, of Philadelphia, asking to be advised whether it is proper to return the tax collected from alien employes, as has been done by other firms. The letter was referred to the Attorney-General's department for an opinion, and to-day Deputy Attorney-General Reeder gave the State Treasurer the following opinion:

"This department advises that County Commissioners shall insist on employers making returns and paying the taxes, as provided in the act of June 15, 1897, until that act shall have been declared unconstitutional by a court of last resort."

Gambling Amendment in Doubt

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 1.—The latest figures received on the vote on the constitutional amendments on Tuesday leave a majority of only 783 against the anti-gambling amendment, and the aditerim appointment amendment appears to be adopted by a majority of over 2,000.

The Paterson Press, of which Secretary of State Wurts is the editor, charges that fraudulent ballots were issued at the special election on Tuesday, at which the constitutional amendments were voted on. The ballots are alleged to have borne a fine cancellation mark, thus causing them to be counted against the amendments.

Pennsylvania Ballot Law Decision.

Harrisburg, Oct. 1.—Judge McPherson has decided that the amendment to the ballot law forbidding the printing of a candidate's name on the ballot more than once is illegal, as it is an intereference with the free right of suffrage. This decision will permit of the printing on the Democratic ticket in Philadelphia of the names of the Republican nominees for judge who were indorsed by the Democrats.

Bolts the Democratic Ticket.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The Buffalo Courier-Record and the Buffalo Enquirer, both of which were expected to support the Democratic ticket, have bolted and declared for the Republican nominee for Mayor, because the convention reaffirmed the Chicago platform.

HARRISON BOOMS TRACY

Launches His Name as a Candidate for President in 1900.

MAY GO ON THE STUMP

Ex-Secreary of the Navy Has Presidential Timber, Says His Former Chief—Predicts His Success in the Fight for Mayor.

New York, Oct. 1.—Ex-President Harrison in an interview announced that he looked upon Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy as a probable Presidential candidate.

He also predicted the success of the ex-Secretary of the Navy in the fight for the Mayoralty.

In discussing the Mayoralty fight, Gen. Harrison said that there was a strong personal feeling towards Gen. Tracy, he having been intimately associated with him for years.

"When he was my Secretary of the Navy we were in conference constantly, and I have the highest esteem for his ability and character. He would make good Presidential timber.

"I have been up the State pulling stumps all Summer and I think I have made my last political speech."

May Stump for Tracy.

"Would you go on the stump for Gen. Tracy if he asked you?"

"I don't think he will ask me," Gen. Harrison replied, smiling. "Wait until he does.

"I shall remain here about ten days. Mrs. Harrison has shopping to do.

"The whole country is interested in this big municipal election, and it will undoubtedly have its effect on national politics.

"I think Gen. Tracy's prospects are excellent. I think it would be a disgrace to see the greater city throttled by Tammany Hall as the lesser was for so many years."

Platt Wants Boss McKane Out.

New York, Oct. 1.—The friends of John Y. McKane in the old county towns of Kings are making very determined efforts to bring about his release, and have succeeded in obtaining promise of assistance from Senator Platt and his associate leaders of the Republican party in their efforts.

In speaking of the matter, Senator T. C. Platt said: "The case of John Y. McKane has been brought to my attention by several persons interested in his pardon. I think he is more sinned against than sinning. He has been punished sufficiently. In my opinion his sentence was excessive, and I would have no hesitation in publicly saying that the ends of justice have been sufficiently subserved by what he has suffered, and especially in view of the condition of his family and his failing health."

Big Steamship After the Record.

New York, Oct. 1.—The new German ocean flyer, the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, sailed yesterday on her first trip to the eastward.

Before her departure her machinery was carefully examined and oiled, and everything made ready for a record-breaking voyage.

Now that the steamship holds the westward Southampton record, her engineers will try on this passage to capture from the St. Louis the eastward honors. The St. Louis made the trip three weeks ago in six days, ten hours, fourteen minutes.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse's engineers said that they could beat that time easily. There is much interest in the big vessel's return journey, and shipping men expect that she will give a good account of herself.

Nearly two hundred passengers sailed on her, a large number for this season of the year.

To Bottle Air.

New York, Oct. 1.—A new corporation has come into being—name, American Air-Power Company; capital, $7,000,000. Its purpose is to bottle ozone. Its prospectus says:

"The corporation will carry on the business of manufacturing light, heat and power plant, machinery and apparatus, of supplying light, heat and power to railroads and other works with power plants."

The general intention is to introduce compressed air-power into street railway transit and to supplant steam in long-distance runs.

Swallowed His False Teeth.

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 1.—Ezra T. Sawyer, of East Hampton, is dead. He swallowed two of his false teeth while asleep a few nights ago. The inflammation caused by an operation prevented him from taking nourishment. He died of starvation.

He was a wealthy manufacturer and a member of the Algonquin Club, of Boston.

An Immense Grain Traffic.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The grain traffic of all Western roads for September was the heaviest for any season on record. Deliveries here were 51,387 cars. For August and September the aggregate is 108,853 cars. The September traffic was 5,095 cars less than in August, but for the two months it has never been equaled. For the same time last year they were 69,404 cars.

No Rush at Yale This Year.

New Haven, Ct., Oct. 1.—"Rush night," which has heretofore been a feature of Yale's reopening, passed off without the usual "rush." The faculty had quietly sent around word that the "rush" would not be permitted, and the mandate was obeyed. The sophomores and freshmen, 500 strong, paraded the town, however, with torches and brass bands.

The Southern Epidemic.

Washington, Oct. 1.—A summary of the progress of the yellow-fever epidemic up to the close of the day yesterday, made in the office of the Surgeon-General of the Marine Hospital Service, gives a total of 682 cases and fifty-nine deaths in the entire country.

The Pope Sends McKinley a Present.

London, Eng., Oct. 1.—The Rome correspondent of the Standard says that the Pope has sent President McKinley a copy of a fine illustrated work descriptive of the so-called Appartamenti Borgia at the Vatican, which were recently restored.

FAINT HOPE FOR A CHANGE.

As the official returns from the interior sections come straggling in word comes from Trenton that there is yet a possibility that the anti-gambling amendment may not be defeated. While at first the majority against it was estimated at about 12,000, yesterday the latest figures received showed only 783 against. As the districts yet to hear from are counted as favorable to the amendment, it is barely possible that what appeared to be a majority against may be turned into a majority for. There are not a great many districts to be heard from, however, and it is more than likely that the end may not change the result though it will diminish the size of the victory. The exact result will not be known before Monday. The slight majority only goes to prove that if the moral forces of the State had been up and doing as they had been urged to do, the amendment would have been carried by a substantial majority.

THE FUTILITY OF SPECIAL ELECTIONS.

New Jersey's mournfully absurd performance has given the finishing blow, in propriety and expediency at least, to the practice of submitting Constitutional amendments at special elections. It is not the first fiasco of the kind even in the course of the present year. The people of the State of Tennessee, for instance, defeated in the same way last spring a reformed Constitution for which they had been groaning for twenty years. But this New Jersey catastrophe exceeds all others in its exhibition of the people of the State in a ludicrously false and bad light.—New York Press.

Quite a surprise was felt yesterday when it became known that Prosecutor Fred C. Marsh was likely to be a candidate for Mayor of Elizabeth in succession to John C. Rankin, Jr. Prosecutor Marsh is a Democrat, and it is pretty generally decided that the next Mayor is to be a Democrat. But all the indications have pointed to the president of the City Council, P. J. Ryan; Peter Egenolf or George Ford as the trio from which the Democrats would make their choice.

FIRE BOYS OFF FOR A GOOD TIME.

Engine Company and City Officials Go to Princeton.

About twenty members of Engine Company No. 2, of the fire department, accompanied by Councilmen W. N. Runyon, C. J. Newman, and Assistant Engineers James Martin and J. W. Murray, Jr., left early this morning by stages for Metuchen where they will board a special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad for Princeton, to take part in the parade in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the home company. A special feature of the occasion will be the unveiling of the monument of Gen. Mercer. The boys looked fine as they marched down Park avenue this morning to the home of William Hand, where the stages were in awaiting for them. They will return this evening.

A Model Newspaper.

In these days of sensationalism, flaring headlines and offensive illustrations, it is indeed a pleasure to turn to the New York Evening Post, which is noted as the handsomest newspaper typographically in the country. The one or two other dailies that use good plain type might be as handsome as the Evening Post if they used as good paper stock, but they do not. The Evening Post paper has been especially manufactured for years at the same mills, and an extra price is paid for it in order to maintain its even quality and excellent color. To a lay man there is not much difference in the shades of white paper, but when one stops to realize it or to lay a paper beside another he sees the difference at once.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Miss Mabel Schenck, of Somerville, is the guest of friends in Plainfield.

Fred Sandford, of Rockview avenue, has been spending a few days out of town.

Miss Elsa Pfeiffer, of Madison avenue, has gone to Washington to spend several weeks.

Miss Maude VanDyke, of East Front street, is visiting friends in Washingtonville.

Assemblyman W. R. Coddington, of this city, was in attendance at the Trenton Fair yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S E. Morgan, of Summit, are visiting at the home of Mrs Bird, of North Front street.

E. Miller and family, of Grant avenue, left yesterday for New York city, where they will spend the winter.

Mayor C. J. Fisk is expected home in time to attend the meeting of the City Council next Monday evening.

H. E. Rider and wife, who have been stopping at the ReVere House, have taken up their residence at 933 Watchung avenue.

William Perrine, of East Fourth street, who has been detained at home by illness, has recovered sufficiently to leave the house.

J. Doull Miller and family, of East Ninth street, who have been enjoying their annual outing at the seashore, have returned home.

Mrs. E. D. Moffett, of Orchard place, has returned from Trenton, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tams.

Mrs. J. T. Clossen, of East Front street, who has been spending the summer at her summer home at Elberon, has returned home.

Cyrus E. Moore, of New street, left New York on Tuesday at midnight for Charlotte, N. C., for his health. He expects to remain in the South until next July.

John H. VanWinkle, Jr., of Duer street, who was recently appointed notary public by Governor Griggs, went to Elizabeth yesterday afternoon and took the oath of office before the County Clerk.

Peter V. Weaver and daughters, Mrs. V. L. Frazee and Miss Addie Weaver, of West End Park, accompanied by Miss Edna Garno, of New York, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gulick, of Somerville, last Wednesday.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

The Occasion Was the Passing of Theodore VanNest's Birthday.

A surprise party was given to Theodore VanNest at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Snell, 421 West Second street, last night, in honor of his birthday. The guests arrived about 8 o'clock and took complete possession of the house. A fine entertainment was given, consisting of phonograph selections by Thomas Schaefer, vocal solos by Albert Selvin, and songs by Albert and William Vail. Refreshments were served and the guests then enjoyed a dance, with music by Samuel Frazee. A number of presents were received by Mr. VanNest in remembrance of the occasion.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. VanNest, of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. David VanBuskirk, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis VanNest, Mrs. Lillian Hill, Mrs. Lowrie, Mr. and Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. VanNest, Mr. and Mrs. William Snell, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stites, Mrs. Southard, the Misses Bertha and Cora Naylor, David Anlebar and George Ball.

Cycler Found by the Roadside.

County Detective Keron was in Springfield last night, and while driving along the county road came upon a man lying unconscious in the roadway. Beside him lay a wrecked bicycle. After considerable trouble Keron revived the man, who gave his name as Bernard Fallon, of Summit. He was coasting down the hill in Springfield, when he lost control of his machine. His injuries are not serious.

Developing Country Property.

Work has been extensively begun by the New York syndicate on the Lake property, near Peapack. The surveyors have their work completed. Many men are now at work on the roads on both sides of the river. The entire mountain tract will be laid out in fine drives and park. The dam will be commenced shortly. It will be of Indiana stone and laid to a height of thirty feet.

A Journalist in Trouble.

The case of Edward Franklin Gray, the Rahway journalist, who is locked up in the county jail on two charges of fraud, has gone over now to the Grand Jury for that body to investigate. Gray was to have been tried yesterday, but Prosecutor Marsh changed his mind, it is said, because of lack of sufficient evidence to secure conviction.

Take Time.

It's because we're so well satisfied that we can save the Piano buyer a lot of money that we want him to be satisfied too.

He should take time to visit all the Piano stores he knows; he should be diligent and shrewd in asking questions, and thus find out for himself what is going to best suit him. Let him come here first, if he wants to, and note well what we can do for him; then go to all the others. When through getting "pointers" let him make comparison and decide where he will buy.

We won't try to influence his judgment; we know what the decision will be.

AT THE MAYORS' CONVENTION.

Honors Paid to Miss Egel, the Representative of Lincoln.

New Jersey is represented at the convention of the Mayors and Councilmen at Columbus, O., by the town of Lincoln. The convention began Wednesday morning, and in order to arrive there in time Mayor Drake and Council President Miss Egel left on Monday.

On Tuesday a despatch came from Mayor Drake reading as follows:

"Arrived safe. Received by Mayor of Columbus and wife at depot. Ovation along line."

"S. D. Drake, Mayor of Lincoln."

Another was received soon afterward reading:

"I act as president of convention on Wednesday morning and Miss Egel in afternoon. Hurrah!"

Miss Egel took the convention by storm by a speech in which she said she was sorry that the women in New Jersey were defeated in the election on Tuesday, and also said that every State should have more women in the Common Councils. A banquet was tendered to Miss Egel last evening by the Mayor of Columbus and General Forsyth.

NEW TONSORIAL PARLORS.

Edwin B. Maynard Establishes a New Shop, Complete in Every Detail.

Edwin B. Maynard, the popular barber, of 204 Park avenue, who for more than twenty years has plied his occupation in this city, today opens his new establishment at 141 North avenue, next to Woolston & Buckle's store. Mr. Maynard believes in enterprise. He also likes to treat his customers well. So he has rented the large and commodious room formerly used by Woolston & Buckle for the exhibition of their stock of wall-papers, and has, at a great cost, fitted it up with the latest up-to-date paraphernalia of the tonsorial trade. For comfort, neatness and beauty, the tonsorial parlors of Mr. Maynard will be unsurpassed. Every convenience for his many patrons will be found there, while the room is equipped completely from a hygienic and sanitary point of view. In this new establishment Mr. Maynard will hereafter be found, and by his strict attention to business and his long experience, he hopes to add greatly to his already long list of patrons.

FRANK H. SMITH MARRIED

MISS MARIETTA BENTLEY, OF WESTERLY, R. I, THE BRIDE.

Wedding Attended by Pleasant Surroundings—Gifts Made by Mr. Smith's Associates in Factory and Club—The Gursts.

The Westerly (R. I.) Sun published the following account of the marriage of Frank Howard Smith, of this city, and Miss Marietta Bentley, of Westerly, Wednesday afternoon:

A very pretty home wedding was held at the residence of Hon. and Mrs. B. C. Bentley, on School street, in this town, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Marietta, was united in marriage to Frank Howard Smith, of Plainfield, N. J., by Rev. S. H. Davis, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church.

The bride, in white silk and lace, made a very pretty picture. She was charmingly attired and could have well answered the question: "What more charming than a bride in June?" Her sister, Miss Bertha Bentley, of Pawtucket, was the bridemaid. The best man was Frank D. Randolph, of Plainfield, N. J., and the ushers were Hobart B. Ayres, of Schenectady, N. Y.; Walter Briggs, of Brown University, Providence; and B. C. Bentley Jr., a brother of the bride. The wedding march of Mendelssohn was played by Miss Bertha Sweet, of Westerly.

From 6 to 8 o'clock a reception followed, and the prominence of the parties naturally led to a large attendance. At the tables Mrs. Waldo Davis, of Providence, poured the coffee, being assisted by Miss Fanny Clark, of Providence; Miss Eloise Santee, of Smith College, Northampton; Miss H. Louise Ayers, of Westerly, and Miss Ernestine C. Smith, of Plainfield, N. J.

Hardly had the ceremony been completed when the telegrams began to arrive, and they continued to come all through the evening. From the Potter Press Works of Plainfield, in the office of which Mr. Smith is employed, had come, earlier in the day, a magnificent case of table silver, and from the employes of the firm beautiful Haviland dinner and tea sets; from the Crescent Wheelmen's club of Plainfield had come a chiffonier and dressing table. Individual presents of beauty and worth attested the esteem in which the contracting parties were held. The groom's present to the bride was $100 in gold, and to the ushers and best man pearl sunburst pins.

Among the guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clark, J. E. Clark, Edward Clark, Miss Fanny Clark, Mrs. Darling, Miss Louis Stedman and Walter Briggs, of Providence; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Miss Ernestine C. Smith, Miss May Stelle, Frank Randolph and Frank Jones, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Titsworth, of Dunellen.

The wedding party left Stonington by boat. After an extenned tour Mr. and Mrs. Smith will return to Plainfield, where they will be "at home," 421 Madison avenue, Nov. 3d and 10th. Their Westerly friends unite in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

THE SUNDAY LESSON

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text: I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.—Acts xxi 13. Oct. 3, 1897.

1-3. "And when it came to pass that we were parted from them we sailed unto Syria and landed at Tyre, for there the ship was to unlade her burden." This is a summary of these three verses, quoting from the R. V. He was hasting if it were possible to be at Jerusalem by the day of Pentecost (chapter xx, 16), but as they were dependent upon the possibility of finding a vessel about to sail in the direction in which they wished to journey and upon favorable winds, it would not seem to us much like making haste.

4. "And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days, who said to Paul through the Spirit that he should not go up to Jerusalem." The Gospel had reached and been received by some in this city, and so the travelers and the residents were at once friends, for there is no bond like the blood of Christ. His redeemed ones are all citizens of heaven, but pilgrims and strangers here (Phil. iii, 20, R. V.; I Pet. ii 11). But here is a strange message to Paul which makes us think of chapter xvi, 6, 7, when the Spirit suffered him not to go into Asia or Bithynia. In that case he was obedient. Let us see how he acts now.

5. "And when we had accomplished those days we departed and went our way, * * * and we kneeled down on the shore and prayed." The Spirit had not said to stop at Tyre, nor to proceed no farther, so it was all right to move on. How touching this parting scene! Men, women and children accompany Paul and his companions out of the city, and all kneel on the shore in prayer. So in chapter xx, 36, before leaving the elders of Ephesus he kneeled down and prayed with them all.

6. "And when we had taken our leave one of another we took ship, and they returned home again." These believers at Tyre may have been part of the result of the visit of our Lord (Math xv, 21-28), or perhaps through the preaching of those who were scattered at Stephen's death (Acts viii, 4). There is just one thing for disciples to be doing, whether at home or abroad, and that is to walk worthy of our calling and show ourselves approved unto God (I Thess. ii, 12; II Tim. ii, 15).

7. "And when we had finished our voyage from Tyre we came to Ptolamais and saluted the brethren and abode with them one day." Brief but blessed visits of men of God and foretastes of the eternal fellowship of the future. There would be but one topic of conversation, the kingdom of God and the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ (Acts xxviii, 31,) but one book, the Scriptures, and doubtless much prayer. The believers would be encouraged to be steadfast and to do all in their power to give the gospel to others.

8 "We entered into the house of Philip, the Evangelist, which was one of the seven, and abode with him." Leaving Ptolemais, they came to Caesarea, which seems to be Philip's home. The last we heard of him was preaching in the cities from Azotus to Caesarea after he had led the treasurer of Queen Candace to Christ (Acts viii 40). He is still known as a bearer of glad tidings and was doubtless continually at it. Why should not every believer be in some large sense an evangelist, an embassador for Christ?

9. "And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophecy." Daughters as well as sons are included in the promise of the gift of the Spirit (Joel i, 28; Acts ii, 17). In the Old Testament, Miriam, Deborah and Huldah and in the New the women whom He sent from the sepulcher and Priscilla and others are notable examples of women whom he used as His messengers.

10, 11. "Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man the man that owneth this girdle and shall deliver him into the hands of the gentiles." Thus testified a prophet named Agabus, who came down from Judaea, and being with these disciples took Paul's girdle and significantly bound his own hands and feet with the same. Thus for the second time Paul is warned not to go up to Jerusalem and it is the Holy Spirit who tells him not to go.

12. "And when we heard these things both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem." Now it is possible for a man to stand alone with God and be all right, and it is possible for a man to think he is standing with God and be standing with himself.

13. "Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus." This is certainly a right attitude of soul for a believer, and the only right attitude—to be ready for life or death, prosperity or adversity, if only God is glorified thereby—but my perplexity here is to know what was the heartbreaking part of this affair to Paul. Was he so set upon getting to Jerusalem at that particular time that his heart would break if he did not accomplish it, or was he so set upon doing the will of God that his heart would break if he failed to do it? If the latter, then why not accept the voice of the Spirit at Tyre and Caesarea and be satisfied to be subject to the Spirit in this matter? Is not perfect submission to the will of God the highest mission on earth? As one has said:

Is not His will the wisest; is not His way the best?
And in perfect acquiescence is there not perfect rest?

14. "And when he would not be persuaded we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done." Both Paul and Barnabas could not be right in the matter of John Mark (Acts xv, 37-41) and both parties cannot be right in this case, but the brethren yield to Paul and appeal to God. It is good to say, "Thy will be done," but it is better to do it without resistance. It is good to say "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good," but it is better to be wholly in His hand that He may unhindered do what seemeth Him good.

$15,000 worth of the finest

FALL AND WINTER -CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Re ollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal-heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1 50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15.00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18 00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50, Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1.65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00. 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16 00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12 00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined, French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3.25, worth 10 00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18.00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2.50 and $3.00, worth from 6.00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants actually valued at 12 00 to 15.00, sale price at $4.50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7.50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's extra fine brown plaid suits at $3.50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2.50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12 00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. Everybody living within tweny-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great sheriff sale.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

good qualities are easily determined from the poor. The solid chunks that are free from slate is the coal that brings the biggest prices. Crumbling coal is the kind that makes the dust and it's the kind you get when you are not careful where you buy. We sell the honest, solid coal for the price you've paid for the other sort,

SOLID TIRES, PNEUMATIC HUB.

A New Invention Which Renders the Wheel Punctureless.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 1.—An inventor here has just secured a patent on a bicycle with pneumatic hubs and solid tires. Around the axle, protected by steel thimbles, so that there is absolutely no wear on the rubber, is a pneumatic tube, blown up the same as pneumatic tires. This tube is incased in a nickel-steel frame, to which the spokes are attached. The frame, hanging on these inflated hubs, causes the rider to rock easily, as though he were sitting in a swing. There is consequently the least possible vibration, jarring and jolting. The wooden rim consists of three kinds of wood, in three sections, spliced together. The spokes are of a material which can be bent and twisted and tied into knots like twine without breaking—in fact, they cannot be broken. The inventor also has a new way of stringing the wheel, so that the pressure and weight are never on less than four spokes at the same time.

WOMEN CLUB MINERS.

Non-Union Men Under Deputies' Protection When Attacked.

Edwardsville, Ill., Oct. 1.—Non-union coal miners were being escorted to work this morning by the deputy sheriffs, when they were chased by a force of strikers numbering fully 300, supplemented by about one hundred women.

The line was broken and the non-union men fled in every direction, and the deputies were roughly handled. The women used clubs and beat the non-union men most unmercifully, but none was dangerously hurt. The deputies were wonderfully cool and not a shot was fired.

After the riot the strikers, led by women, marched through the town, with the Stars and Stripes flying at their head. Another riot to-day may mean bloodshed.

The Treasury Finances.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The Treasury statement for September will show receipts of $21,319,644, of which the tariff has contributed $7,943,100, internal revenue $12,701,975, and miscellaneous items $674,547. This is generally as predicted, the tariff showing an increase over August of $956,000, and the internal revenue an increase of $1,508,000. September is always a better customs month than August. The month's expenditures were $24,752,361. This brings a deficit for the month of $3,432,717, and for the three months of the fiscal year $29,012,954. Of the month's total expenses nearly eleven million dollars, or 44 per cent., was for pensions, and yet this month's charge under this head has been the smallest since June. For this quarter of the fiscal year, the pensions payments are nearly forty million dollars.

Czar Opposes English Aggression.

Paris, Oct. 1.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Russia is negotiating with Abyssinia with the object of opposing the advance of the British in Africa, and is also coming to an understanding with the United States to arrest Great Britain's excessive extension of her possessions in the Pacific.

The latest Egyptian advices say that the Sultan has decided to offer strong resistance to the British advance up the Nile. A large force of Dervishes, under the command of the Emir Mahomud, is now at Metemueh, and batteries are being erected near the Sixth Cataract for the purpose of obstructing the further advance of the forces of Gen. Kitchener, commanding the Anglo-Egyptian troops.

Costly Steaks in San Francico.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—The price of beef has gone up fully one-third within the last few weeks, and butchers say that before the holidays it will have advanced 50 per cent. over the price of last year. Beef has been steadily advancing for the last few months, and is now from 1½ to 2 cents a pound higher than it was at this time last year.

Australia but recently recovered from one of her periodical droughts, and, as an exporter of cattle or sheep, is practically out of the foreign competition. California cattle are practically exhausted. Oregon has had a short crop, and the result is that beef is and will be higher than it has been for years.

Christian Still at Large.

Wurtsboro, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The residents of this place have not given up the search for Wallace Christain, the murderer of Horace Pritchard and Constable Manny. The main reason for this is the general belief that the man is still in the woods nearby, getting his meals from some friendly resident. The fugitive is heavily armed.

Two Cruisers for Japan.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Advices from Japan by the steamship Doric say that the Mikado's Government has purchased two armored cruisers that Armstrong was building for Chili. The South American republic was unable to pay for the vessels. The cruisers are 9,000-ton vessels, and are designed to make a twenty-one-knot speed.

Pennsylvania Coal Tonnage.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 1.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company carried over its lines east of Pittsburg and Erie for the week ended Sept. 25, 336,398 tons of coal and 101,619 tons of coke. For the year to date it carried 11,534,669 tons of coal and 3,301,825 tons of coke, against 10,900,453 tons of coal and 3,017,158 tons of coke for the same time last year.

Three Tons of Gold—Nit.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—The report that three tons of gold is coming from Alaska on the steamship Portland was believed in this city to be untrue. The tug Richard Holyoke has arrived at Port Townsend from St. Michael's. She reported that no steamboats had arrived at St. Michael's from up the Yukon recently.

Gold Coming Our Way.

New York, Oct. 1.—On the steamship Saale, which arrived to-day, came $1,000,000 in gold consigned to the National City Bank.

This is the first yellow metal that has come into this country in several months, and is believed to be the beginning of a big import.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks

Thomas U. Smith has been elected captain of the Plainfield A. A. eleven for Saturday's game.

Raymond A. McGee played guard for Yale against Trinity Wednesday for one half. He is looked upon as a prominent candidate for that position.

Charles Dupee of this city is a promising candidate for the freshman team at Yale. He is spoken of as a good man for a position behind the line.

After tomorrow, Harry L. McGee, last year's captain of the Stevens Institute eleven, will play with the Plainfield A. A. team. He will probably play behind the line where he is well known as a steady player, a good ground gainer and a sure tackler.

Roy T. Phillips, captain of the Alis team, is a candidate for the position of quarter back on the Plainfield A. A. team. In the absence of Waring, tomorrow he will fill that position. He is looked upon as one of the rising players on the city and were he a little heavier he would be sure of a game all the season. He is too light, however, for any accepted quarter.

The football season will be inaugurated in Plainfield tomorrow afternoon at the Plainfield Athletic Association's gridiron on Martine common. On that occasion the contesting teams will be the Plainfield Athletic Association and the Warwick Athletic Club. The game is called for 4 o'clock promptly. This season will see the beginning of a scheme to give Plainfield the best quality of football possible. If the games are given the proper support by the townsfolk, the best clubs in the metropolitan district and from all the neighboring colleges will come here to play. The Plainfield Athletic Association is not a money-making organizing. The members of it are simply in it for the good of the sport. To give the best game, it is necessary to pay expenses and have a suitable field so the club will charge admission to its games. Those who have already subscribed, will receive season tickets. To others the admission will be twenty-five cents. With proper support, a strong eleven will worthily represent Plainfield on the gridiron this year with even better prospects for next year.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The account of the bowling contest between Harold Chandor and William Timpson on the Y. M. C. A. alleys, which appeared in these columns recently, was incorrect. Chandor was the winner of the match, his high score being 194 points.

Sunday-school's Autumnal Outing.

Every fall the officers, teachers and pupils of the Sunday-school of the Holy Cross church enjoy an outing to some nearby resort where they picnic for the day. This takes the place of the regular excursions of the other Sunday-schools. Tomorrow this autumnal picnic will be held. Captain Hand's stages have been engaged for the occasion and will start from in front of the church at 10 o'clock. The destination is Chimney Rock. The committee has arranged an ample supply of lunch for all the picnicers, so there will be no fear of a lack of lunch for the occasion.

Improvements at Industrial Home.

The alms committee of the Common Council has commenced the work of moving the old building of the Industrial Home in which the men are quartered, up to the new structure, so that the two will stand side by side and the patients of both sexes can be cared for as conveniently as if all were in one building.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Wiseman, of Asbury Park, spent last night in Plainfield with friends.

Mrs. Cox, of Brooklyn, who has been the guest of Plainfield relatives, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Ball, of Myrtle avenue, returned this morning from their wedding tour.

Mrs. John M. Crane, of West Eighth street, has gone to Boston to spend several weeks.

Chief Grant, of the police department, went to Princeton today to attend the firemen's parade.

Editor Frank Runyon is steadily improving from his recent severe illness, and is now able to be about the house.

Mrs. E. B. Williams and Miss Florence Williams, of West Seventh street, leave in a few days for Chicago to visit friends.

Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and family, who have just returned from the seashore, left the city today for Luray Cavern, and from there they will go to Charlottesville, Va. They will be absent about one week.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Additional locals on third page.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Club will be held in the clubhouse on Monday evening.

—The annual meeting of the Boys' Club will be held at 125 Crescent avenue tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

—Fred Endress, the butcher, has just finished the erection of a new barn at the rear of his shop on West Front street.

—Tickets for the Y. M. C. A. Star Lecture Course will be on sale at Leggett's pharmacy, in the Y. M. C. A building, next Monday

—A choice lot of table and canning peaches, Damson and Gage plums, and Bartlett pears, has just been received at Neuman Bros., and will be sold this afternoon and evening at popular prices.

—The remains of Miss Florence Perry, who formerly lived on Elm place, this city, were brought here from New York this afternoon and interred in the Presbyterian cemetery, in North Plainfield.

—A. E. Butler, the Park avenue barber, will open his shop on Monday with everything new and convenient. Being under contract with Edward Maynard he will complete the week in the employ of the latter at his place on North avenue.

—It is especially desired by the officers of the Y. M. C. A. that all students wishing to enroll themselves in their classes, as well as those who are considering the matter, will attend the opening of the association's educational department, which will be held tonight.

A Fine Line of Meats

J. M. Smalley, butcher, 405 Park avenue, will have a great variety of meats, poultry, etc., to select your Sunday dinner from. The list includes Jersey spring ducks and chickens, Jersey lamb, pork and sausage, the latter his own make, English mutton, and a very fine grade of beef. Sugar-cured hams and bacon are also made a specialty. His telephone is No. 217-A, and all orders will be called for and delivered.

Educational Instructors.

The corps of instructors which has been secured for the educational department of the Y. M. C. A. includes in the mechanical course George F. Scull, Jr., Frank D. Randolph, Warren S. Mitchell, J. F. T. Fuller and Dr. A. D. Warde; in stenography, George Weeks Sandford; commercial course, George E. Fuller and Max Moraller; German, Rev. G. Hauser; Spanish, Antonio C. Taybo.

CHINA WANTS TO BORROW.

Alleged Negotiations with an American Syndicate for a Loan.

London, Eng., Oct. 1.—The Times publishes a long letter on the financial situation in China. Among other things the writer says the fresh fall in silver has wiped out the margin for hypothecation which remained out of the customs revenue.

Continuing, the letter says: "But China is raising a new loan in order to pay the balance of the Japanese indemnity before 1898, as thereby the Treasury profits to the extent of two and three-quarter millions, aside from the Japanese evacuation of Wei-Hai-Wei. China is negotiating not only with English and German banks, but with the United States Consul-General, who represents a powerful American syndicate, including Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and several minor financiers, playing off one against the other.

"As a matter of fact, at the date of writing, Sheng is still receiving overtures from the Americans, and has been receiving them ever since the signing of the preliminary contracts."

BAY STATE GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Dr. Everett Nominated for Governor and J. E. Cotter for Lieutenant.

Boston, Oct. 1.—Dr. William Everett, of Quincy, was formally nominated for Governor, and James E. Cotter, of Hyde Park, for Lieutenant-Governor by the Gold Democrats at Faneuil Hall.

The Committee on Credentials reported 336 delegates present, representing eighty-nine cities and towns.

Mr. Moorfield Story, of Brookline, was made permanent chairman, and John C. Lane, of Norwood, permanent secretary.

The platform adopted declares strongly for the maintenance of the gold standard and for a tariff for revenue only; denounces a protective tariff as now constructed; opposes territorial extensions; favors international arbitration and condemns the usurpation of arbitrary powers by the Speaker of the National House; favors putting a limit on injunctions, and denounces trusts.

NEW YORK'S ANTI-TRUST ACT.

Its Constitutionality Is Being Vigorously Fought by the Companies.

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The third department of the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, was filled with a brilliant array of counsel yesterday, when the so-called Coal Trust came up. The session was devoted to hearing argument on the appeal of Attorney-General Hancock against Judge Chester's decree, which vacated the order to take testimony before a referee, in order to determine whether or not proceedings should be commenced against various coal railroads accused of violating the Anti-Trust law.

The proceedings were taken under the provision of chapter 387, laws of 1897. The counsel included David Wilcox and Lewis E. Carr for Robert M. Olyphant, respondent; Turner, McClure & Ralston for Samuel Sloan, respondent; John B. Kerr for Thomas R. Fowler, respondent; De Forest Bros. for J. Rogers Maxwell, respondent; Deputy Attorney-General John C. Davis and J. Newton Fiero for Attorney-General T. E. Hancock, appellant.

The arguments were completed, and the Justice reserved his decision.

A Leather Medal

indicating supreme excellence in footwear, has been awarded us by the grand jury of shoe buyers. The mercury is not more sensitive to changes of temperature than the feet are to their surroundings. It hurts them to have more room than they require or to be pinched into a smaller space than they should occupy. Exact fits in soft, easy, yielding shoes are absolutely essential to comfort. Our footwear combines all the fine points at prices as pleasant as sunshine after a storm. Our men's Bull-Dog toe and Opera toe Russia calf shoe meet all these requirments. THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

MANY MATTERS OF MUNIC PAL GOVERNMENT CONSIDERED.

Mayor Wilson's Sound Views in the Conduct of a City Government—Report of the Committee on Delinquent Taxes Received

The regular October meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening and all the members were present.

After the reading of the minutes Clerk Arnold presented his financial report as follows: Borough, balance, $2,910.77; lights, $570.46; fire department, $706.79; roads, $272.24; poor account, deficit, $510.34; paid county and State, $2,944.67; total balance, $1,005.25. Mr. Arnold also reported that $69.35 had been collected from fines, etc. Collector Spencer reported $102.83 collected since last report, also $169.55 for 1895, and $380.50 for 1896, from the borough duplicate.

Residents of Fairview avenue asked for an electric light between Verdon and Watchung avenues. A communication was received from George W. Bird asking the Council to set a price on a strip of land at the corner of Harmony street and Watchung avenue. The matter will be considered later after an investigation of the Assessor's map is made.

The following was read by the Clerk at the suggestion of Mayor Wilson:

My experience in the City Hall has impressed me strongly with the fact that the conduct of a city government is purely a business matter. I venture to say as the result of my observations that whenever the city departments have been used for political purposes, they have been used against the public interest. The further away from politics that a city officer gets in the performance of his duty, the better for him and the people. There is not one single particle of business done under a city government that should be viewed from a political standpoint. There is not one question arising in the administration of city affairs that requires a political opinion as to its necessity or wisdom. No one who has had experience in the administration of city affairs will contend that it is other than a business proposition. That is all there is in it. You can't make anything else out of it. The mayor and other officers are charged with the expenditure of a large amount of public money and the health and comfort of the community. These are not matters that admit of proper solution through political channels, and the more they are run in those channels, the worse for the taxpayers.

Clerk Arnold reported that the report of the Watchung Avenue Commissioners had been received, together with all objections thus far offered. The report was filed. Chairman Woolston, of the street committee, stated that during the past month $303.61 had been expended on the streets in various parts of the borough. He also reported the cost of macadamizing Sycamore avenue to be $389.61, at 60 cents per foot. Regarding the erection of the Washingtonville dam, Mr. Woolston said he knew very little.

Mr. Rogers explained the cause of the inability of the fire-alarm system to work a few nights ago, and stated that the superintendent of the Gamewell Fire-Alarm Company would be in Plainfield today to remedy the difficulty. Mr. Rogers recommended that two nozzles and two extension ladders be purchased for the fire department, that the bell tower be painted, that a stove be purchased for the West End hose house, and a coal box and runway be purchased for the Warren Engine Company house. The total cost of the above will be about $220, divided as follows: Nozzles, $70; ladders, $70; painting tower, $25; stove, $15; coal box and runway, $25 It was ordered by the Council that the above be purchased.

Mr. Rogers also recommended that an electric light on Sycamore avenue be changed as requested by the residents. He also reported that through the courtesy of the license and marshal committee and Chief Marshal Wilson a thorough investigation of the lighting system had been made, and a shortage in the lights had been found, but Superintendent McClurg, of the Electric Light Company, had made the difference right. Mr Rogers spoke especially of the aid given so cheerfully by Chief Wilson.

The committee now have in their possession a complete list of all the electric lights in the borough and an accounting of those hitherto missing which have been replaced.

Resolutions were offered by Mr. Carey to the effect that five uniforms and overcoats be purchased for the marshals at a cost not to exceed $200, also that a loan of $1,500 be negotiated and the same be charged to the borough account.

Mr. Schutt, of the special committee having in charge the arrangement and investigation of the delinquent taxes of the borough and township, submitted for the committee a final report. There is now delinquent poll and dog tax to the amount of $1,600; personal, $1,200; real estate, $1,400. The report showed that from 1885 to 1894 inclusive, $283,000 township du-

PATRIOTS' AND POETS' HOME

Entertaining Historical Talk Given by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell Last Evening.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell gave a very instructing lecture in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church last night on the subject: "New England, the Home of Patriots and Poets." By way of introduction the speaker gave a rapid itinerary of his vacation trip through New England and Canada. Then he said:

"Thus we have the panorama of this land of poets and patriots and here we have witnessed the poetry of patriotism and the patriotism of poetry."

The present appearance of the historic spots, as described by the speaker, was an important part of the lecture. The minute-man and the monument at Concord bridge, the old houses and the trees, fences and walls behind which the patriots shielded themselves and harassed the retreating enemy; the old church where the first Provincial Congress was held; the monuments and the stone cannon at Lexington; the view of Boston from Bunker Hill monument and that thrilling battle commemorated by the monument, were portrayed.

The lecture closed with a special tribute to that famous quartette of poets whose sweet tones, like the voices of angels to the music of harps, have outrivalled the fabled miracles of Orpheus and Arion.

The poems read by Miss Overton were: "Century Ode" by Lowell; Emerson's "Concord Monument Hymn;" Whittier's "Witches Daughter;" "To Fanueil Hall" and "Lexington;" Longfellow's "Sailing of the Mayflower."

SELECT THEIR LEADERS.

Endeavor Societies Choose Officers to Push Their Work of Christianity.

After a half-hour's consecration meeting, led by George Watts, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church held its semi-annual business meeting and annual election of officers last evening. The reports were received and the treasurer reported that there was a balance of $16 in the treasury, while during the past year $50 had been devoted to foreign missions and $25 to home missions.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—President, Mrs. W. S. Lowry; vice-president, Miss Annie Wyckoff; secretary, Miss Myra Runyon; treasurer, Miss Henrietta Cuming. The chairmen of committees were chosen as follows:—Lookout, Miss Florence G. Hawkins; prayer meeting, Miss Mabel Treadwell; missionary, Joseph M. Hawkins; social, Frank Clarkson; good literature Miss Jennie Giles; music, Wesley Brokaw; flower, Miss May Thompson; temperance and good citizenship, George Poole.

The Junior Endeavorers of the Congregational church held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the church parlors and elected officers for the ensuing year. The reports of some of the old officers were heard and different matters of interest to the Juniors discussed. The election resulted as follows: President, Harold Nomer; vice-president, Edward Suffren; secretary, Miss Agnes La Boyteaux; treasurer, Edwin Wesseman; chairman of prayer meeting committee, Miss Hattie Messersmith; social committee, Miss Carrie Fuller; lookout committee, Miss Cornelia Lance; missionary committee, Miss Emily Winant; birthday committee, Frank Emmons.

The semi-annual business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church was held in the church parlors last evening and was well attended. The reports of the retiring officers were read. The treasurer's report showed a nice balance in the treasury. The missionary committee reported that $17 21 had been devoted during the last six months to benevolent purposes. A box and a barrel of useful articles have been sent to the people of the flooded district of Oklahoma, and packages had also been distributed among the needy ones in this city.

The election of officers was then held and resulted as follows:—President, Robert A. Suffren; vice president, Miss M. G. Morse; secretary, Robert C. LaBoyteaux; treasurer, Phillip S. Suffren. The chairmen of committees were chosen as follows: Lockout committee, Charles Belknap; prayer meeting, Mrs. Harold Tomlinson; missionary, Miss J. Louise Jenkins; socials Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux; good literature, Miss Eda Beekman; music, Miss Nellie Winckler; flower, Miss Sadie Howell.

—The Sunday-school of the First M. E. church will meet at 2:30 p. m. hereafter.

ALL-ROUND CHAMPION.

CARROLL L. RUNYON WON THE DAILY PRESS MEDAL.

Was a Victor Because of His Purely Superior Ability—Started From Scratch in Most of the Events—The Result in Detail

The contest for the Daily Press medal and the all-round championship of the Plainfield High School was fought and won yesterday afternoon at the Crescent Oval, and Carroll L. Runyon was the victor. The fight was a close one and nearly a score of the young men of the High School appeared in the different events and made things interesting for the leaders. Runyon won by purely superior ability, for in the majority of events in which he scored points he started from scratch. Altogether the meet was one of the most successful ever given under the auspices of the High School Athletic Association.

The contests yesterday afternoon were the semi-annual games of the High School, and were open only to students of that institution. A medal was offered by The Daily Press to the contestant scoring the most points, as has been the custom for several years. The afternoon was full of surprises. Rhey T. Snodgrass, a new-comer at the High School, proved himself a runner of excellent ability, and captured all three of the running events with ease. His finishes in the trial and final heats of the 100-yard dash were very pretty, while he passed his field of competitors in the other events and won easily. In the hammer and shot events he made a good showing. He was Runyon's principal rival and made a spirited fight for the medal. Arthur Lederer showed up as an excellent all round man and did well in track and field events, finishing just behind Snodgrass in the race for points.

The dashes both furnished exciting finishes. In the bicycle race, Runyon surprised everybody by easily defeating Cuming. The high jump was a hot contest between Lederer and Runyon. J. L. DeForeest was a dark horse in the weight contests and took two firsts and a second there.

The most exciting event of the day was the three-legged race in which there were three teams. The fight was between Runyon and Brower and Snodgrass and Lederer. Runyon and Brower took the lead at the start, but the other team came up and passed them at fifty yards. The boys were going neck and neck as they neared the tape, then Runyon made a final effort and almost threw his partner across the line several inches ahead of their opponents. One of the straps that fastened Lederer and Snodgrass together broke just at that moment and Lederer lost his stride, as they crossed the tape second.

The third-mile walk was something new, but it found favor with the audience. Westerberg was looked on as a sure victor, but Long had a remarkable stride that proved a winning one and won easily.

There were plenty of contestants in most of the events while a fair-sized audience, composed mostly of the fair sex, occupied the grand stand. William A. DeLong, Jr., Henry W. Brower and Lindley M. Hillman were the committee in charge. A. B. Meredith was the referee. Ira W. Travell, Prof. Sandford, and A. Willis West were the judges. The timers were J. Hervey Doane, Charles W. Runyon, Richard Stevens, and E. S. Peck. George Schoonmaker was starter. Charles B. Morse was clerk of the course with Roy T. Phillips as assistant. Mr. Meredith and Mr. Runyon acted as judges of walking.

The points were scored as follows: Carroll L. Runyon, 28; Rhey T. Snodgrass, 22; Arthur Lederer, 15; Joseph L. DeForeest, 13; Walter L. Long, 9; Henry W. Brower, 5; Irving Stewart, 4; Harry Cuming, 4; William A. Fisher, 3; C. H. Westerberg, 3; Sidney Craig, 1; E Stanley Peck, 1.

The summery of the events follows:

100-yards dash—First heat: Won by Rhey T. Snodgrass, scratch; Arthur Lederer, 1 yard, second; Hervey K. Doane, 4 yards, third. Time, 11.1-5 seconds. Second heat: Won by Irving Stewart, 3 yards; Carroll L. Runyon, 1 yard, second; Harry Cuming, scratch, third. Time, 11.3-5 seconds. Final heat: Won by Snodgrass; Stewart, second; Runyon, third. Time, 10.4-5 seconds.

Throwing the hammer—Won by Carroll L. Runyon scratch; Rhey T. Snodgrass, 20 feet, second; Walter L. Long, 20 feet, third. Distance, 90 feet, 7 inches.

1-mile bicycle race—Won by Carroll L. Runyon, 25 yards; Harry Cuming, scratch, second; Walter L. Long, 50 yards, third. Time, 2 56.

Running high jump—Carroll L. Runyon, 5 inches, and Arthur Lederer, 5 inches, tied for first place; Walter Long, scratch, third. Height, 4 feet, 8 inches. Jump of scratch man, 4 feet, 11 inches.

220-yards dash—Won by Rhey T. Snodgrass, scratch; Arthur Lederer, 5 yards, second; Irving Stewart, 7 yards, third. Time, 24.3 5 seconds.

Throwing the discus—Won by Joseph DeForeest, 20 feet; Arthur Lederer, 12 feet, second; Walter L. Long, 10 feet, third. Distance, 70 feet, 7½ inches. Throw of scratch man, C.

FOR MENTAL EQUIPMENT

OPENING OF THE EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Stephen Cahoone Explained How They Tried to Lessen the Chasm Between Capital and Labor by Education—Remarks.

A fairly large audience, mostly composed of young men, assembled in the large hall at the Y. M. C. A. building last night on the occasion of the annual opening of the educational department. The audience was first treated to a select literary and musical programme, which began at 8:15 o'clock. Stephen Cahoone presided, and first introduced Prof. P. Ludwig Conde, who gave a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Lavinia French upon the piano. The rendition was well received and roundly applauded. Miss Mary Luckey next gave a recitation entitled "The Bell of St. Basil's," proving herself a talented and finished elocutionist.

Mr. Cahoone then made a few appropriate remarks in reference to the work of the Y. M. C. A. educational department. One of the characteristics of the present times, he said, was the problem of how to reconcile the two great classes of society, the capitalists and the laborers. Combinations of capital and the introduction of machinery in factories and type writers and other modern improvements into offices had placed barriers between the employer and his employes and rendered the position of the latter more machine-like and difficult. The power which seems to lie nearest to hand and to be most effective to better the condition of the laborer is education.

Unfortunately, most young men, either by the force of circumstances or from their own misguided choice, have left school without completing the course of study needful to give them a fair chance in the fight for success, and it is exactly this deficiency which the Y. M. C. A. undertakes to make up. It believes that by educating young men it can place them in a position to accomplish the very best of which they are capable—in plain work to get ahead in life and earn better wages. The Y. M. C. A. is better than an ordinary business college because it gives the student more than it receives from him. It is not a money-making concern, but pays out four dollars for every one received in tuition fees. There are many young men in this city today ready to testify that they have been helped to better positions by these courses of study.

Prof. Condé and Miss French rendered another piano and violin selection and were called to respond to an encore, at the close of which former Mayor Gilbert was introduced and made an address to the young men. He had been invited to address the educational classes, the speaker said in opening, and surprised to confront such an audience as he found before him. He valued education highly, because he firmly believed that his success in life depended largely upon the help and training which his old schoolmaster had given him. That worthy man had discovered in him an ability for mathematics, and had given his time and strength freely to aid him in developing it. The result of that training, Mr. Gilbert said, had influenced his work in every position he had ever held, and had enabled him to do work of which he would otherwise have been incapable. Another lad in his school had been encouraged by the same teacher in a love for chemistry, and was now at the head of a firm doing one of the largest wholesale drug businesses in New York city. There were many things necessary for a young man wishing to succeed, said the speaker, and among these is the determination to work hard, improve one's time, and to bring out the very best that is in one's self. Every young man must look at the future and ask himself what he is aiming at and where he expects to stand twenty or thirty years hence. We should have a goal and keep it steadily in sight. We should be careful of our companions, as they help to make us what we are. Employers are in the habit of judging young men by the company they keep. The best company is that of good books. They never corrupt. With them we will have no lonely hours, and the young man who cultivates a love of good books will not have to go out upon the streets at night to seek his pleasures. The Y. M. C. A holds out to young men an opportunity to reap the benefits of culture.

At the close of Mr. Gilbert's remarks the young men wishing to join the various classes were invited upstairs to confer with the instructor. A large number took advantage of the opportunity, the enrollment of students in the shorthand and mechanical courses being unusually large. Word was also received from a number of students wishing to join who were not able to be present last night. The classes will commence work at once, and the year promises to be a most successful one.

HORSE'S WILD RUN.

Could Not Be Guided by Driver and Collided With Another Rig With Bad Effect.

A horse attached to the delivery wagon of W. L. & J. M. Smalley, butchers, of 94 Somerset street, took fright at a train while being driven along Watchung avenue at 12:45 o'clock this afternoon.

The animal took the bit it its mouth and dashed through North avenue, the efforts of the driver to control it proving useless.

George Chester, who held the reins, retained his presence of mind and did his best to guide the runaway safely around the corner into Park avenue.

The horse ran into the rear of a carriage on Park avenue in which Mrs. John L. Ludlum, of 713 East Front street, was seated.

The force of the collision injured the rear of the carriage badly and frightened Mrs. Ludlum. She luckily escaped injury. The horse was thrown down, cutting itself badly in the breast and damaging the shafts and harness.

The services of a veterinary surgeon were secured, and it was found that the horse's injuries were of a serious character. At 1 o'clock the animal was shot to end its suffering.

CONSTABLES CONFISCATED.

Seized a Horse and Cart of R. F. M. Chase to Secure Judgment for a Debt.

A comedy in one act was played in North Plainfield yesterday, but the principals had all of the fun. In the morning a writ of attachment had been issued on the goods owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. M. Chase, of the "Notch." The papers were given to Constable VanHorn and he marched to the place in person to perform his duty.

When he reached the house he found no one at home. He came back to Plainfield and secured the assistance of Constable Rockafellow, also that of the attorneys, Lawyers Wm Newcorn and H. C. Runyon. The quartette returned to the scene of action, but were unable to get in the house. They then went to the barn and secured a horse and cart, upon which they levied the attachment. The horse was harnessed to the cart and the quartette took possession. It was a toss up as to who should drive the horse, but Constable VanHorn won the honors hands down, and he played coachman. The party then came down Somerset street to Hoff's livery stable, where the rig has been placed until the attachment is satisfied.

The attachment was issued by John Cronan, a coachman in the employ of R. F. M. Chase, for money due for wages. The rig levied upon will not satisfy the claim, but other proceedings will be adopted.

A BATCH OF OFFENDERS.

Judge DeMeza Dealt Out Punishment to City Court Prisoners.

The usual Saturday morning string of offenders appeared before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, in the city court room. Stephen Murphy was arrested by Sergeant Kiely, last evening, for assaulting a man in a local saloon. He was held under $200 bail for trial on Monday.

James Rourke begged money from Mrs. Marsh, of Plainfield avenue, and threatened to burn down her house if she did not accommodate him. Patrolman Higgins arrested him. He went to the county jail for thirty days.

John Flynn and Michael Scheeney were arrested last evening by Patrolman Watson and Vanderweg for vagrancy and trespassing on the railroad cars. They were tough characters and were sent to the county jail for twenty days.

MISSION LEADER RESIGNS.

Ill Health Compels Mrs. Leggett to Retire From Young Ladies' Band.

The Young Ladies' Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church met yesterday afternoon and talked over the work to be done during the coming winter. On account of ill-health, their president, Mrs. C. P. Leggett, was compelled to resign her position as president, which she did in a tender letter to the Band. Before adjournment the young ladies unanimously elected Mrs. Frank E. Woodruff as their president, each feeling grateful to her for her acceptance of the responsible position, and pledging themselves to assist her in every way to make the Band a useful auxiliary of the church.

District Conference.

The annual district Y. M. C. A. conference will be held at Somerville on Saturday and Sunday, October 9th and 10th. On Saturday evening addresses will be made by Rev. W. R. Richards, D D, on "Good Citizenship," and by William D. Murray, on Bible study.

NO STEED NEEDED HERE.

HORSELESS CARRIAGE INVENTED BY AN INGENIOUS PLAINFIELDER.

Hugo Stommel Has Worked Out His Ideas Into Practical Form and Has the Vehicle Nearly Finished—Trial Soon to be Made.

Unknown, except to a few, a horseless carriage has been in process of construction in this city for several weeks and is now almost completed. It is of a new design and is predicted to fill a long felt want in the line of motor vehicles.

The horseless carriage stands now almost completed in the second story of the factory of the Union Tire Company. It is there that Hugo Stommel, an expert machinist from Germany, has worked his ideas on the subject into practical shape. He is the inventor and maker of this machine, and, if it proves successful, will be at the head of a company that will enter into the manufacture of horseless carriages after this pattern.

The motor carriage differs in appearance from the majority of like vehicles. It greatly resembles an ordinary carriage in the rear, with one wheel in front, to which a long handle is attached, by which the carriage is steered. Below the body of the carriage and between the rear wheels is a large wooden box, which contains the motive power. The power is supplied from a little gasoline engine of 2½ horse-power, which is contained in the box under the carriage. A pipe which goes to the bottom of the box carries away the smoke and fumes from the engine, so there is no odor to those above. The engine furnishes sufficient power to run the carriage at any speed between two and nineteen miles an hour. The speed and direction of the movements of the carriage are controlled by a little lever, which will be at the right hand of the driver or steersman.

The vehicle has to be steered by the handle already mentioned which is within easy reach of the driver or steersman on the right hand side of the seat. There are two seats, one low one in front facing to the rear and a higher one in back, similar to the seat in a carriage, where the director of the carriage will be seated. Besides the power-lever and the steering-handle, there will be an electric push-button at his side to control the electric gong on the front of the carriage. There are electric headlights on either side of the front of the carriage. The power for the lights and the bell is supplied by four batteries that are concealed under the front seat.

The body of the carriage is very similar to that of a regular open carriage. The wheels are of wood with solid rubber tires on them and are the regulation distance apart. Three carriage springs make the carriage an easy riding one. The wheels are all ball-bearing. The metal work visible is either nickeled or enameled in black.

There remains but little more to be done to the machine, and Mr. Stommel hopes to have it out on the road in a week or ten days and give it a practical trial. Mr. Stommel was formerly employed in a factory in Germany where the horseless carriages were made. Then he went into the shop of Walter Scott and started to make one, but there was trouble between Mr. Scott and Mr. Stommel, and so the latter is now making a carriage according to his own ideas.

Death of a Young Wife and Mother.

The following item appeared in The Daily Intelligencer, Belleville, Ontario, under date of Friday, September 24th:

Mrs. Herman Dunning, formerly Miss Emma Deacon, daughter of Edward Deacon, of Mourney street, died last night from typhoid fever at her home in Troy, O. Deceased was twenty-five years of age, leaves one child, and is survived by her father, mother, one brother and three sisters, one of whom resides here.

Several years ago Mrs. Dunning lived in this city with her sister, formerly Miss Ida Deacon, and both were well known in a large circle of young people. The deceased was married to Herman Dunning, who at that time was employed at Wilson Fulper's grocery store on West Front street. They moved to Troy, O., where they resided up to the time of her death.

Too Cold to Go to the Rock.

The Sunday-school of Holy Cross church was to have enjoyed a picnic at Chimney Rock, today, but on account of the unfavorable weather the children were given a party in the Sunday-school room. Under the charge of Superintendent Benjamin R. Western and the teachers of the school, the children passed an enjoyable day, playing indoor games and amusing themselves in various other ways. At noon a luncheon, with ice cream and cake, was served.

GROVER FOR SENATOR

Former President Cleveland Seeks to Represent New Jersey.

QUIETLY LAYING PIPES

He Is Anxious to Round Out His Public Life by One More National Service—Had Long Been His Ambition.

New York, Oct. 2.—Throughout the length and breadth of New Jersey the rumor has flown that Grover Cleveland is anxious to become United States Senator from New Jersey.

The next vacancy in New Jersey will occur in 1899, when Senator Smith's term will expire. Senator Sewell goes out in 1901.

If Mr. Cleveland succeeds in being sent to the Senate he will have followed the example set by John Quincy Adams, who became a Representative in Congress after having been the nation's chief magistrate.

Mr. Cleveland returned to his stone house in Princeton but a short time ago. He was born in New Jersey, and it is said that for that very reason he wishes to serve the State before his career closes.

There are rumors afloat that Mr. Cleveland began the consideration of the Senatorial matter many years ago—in fact, before his last election. The purchase of the Princeton house was the first veiled move.

Health Greatly Improved.

The health of the former President is greatly improved. He looks better and says he feel better than in years. It was the confinement at a desk that undid him, he says.

When Mr. Cleveland will begin open operations for the Senatorship is a matter of conjecture among Jerseymen. At present he is engaged in "praising up" the State, Princeton in particular, and is making friends hand over fist.

Mr. Cleveland is punctilious as to the dignity of his position as a former President. He has recently declined two highly important undertakings, only because he deemed them inconsistent with his standing. He could have acted for Venezuela had he wished. But a place in the Senate would please him greatly.

The late William E. Russell, Massachusetts' brilliant young Governor, used to talk by the hour with Mr. Cleveland. He commented to him on the case of John Quincy Adams, how that distinguished citizen divested himself of the Presidency and entered the House of Representatives as a simple Congressman.

Mr. Cleveland has been credited with a hankering after another term at the White House. This was never the case after the expiration of the first half of his last term of office. He knew it was out of the question, and dismissed the matter from his mind. When he abandoned the idea of another term he became more and more indifferent to Senators and the politicians generally.

Outside a circle of personal friends, Mr. Cleveland cares nothing for men except as they may be of use to him. Of late he had been cultivating acquaintances in New Jersey. Those who observe him closely in the future will perceive that his fondness for New Jersey and Jerseymen grows apace.

A Summer at the "heel of Cape Cod"—fishing, shooting, plenty of outdoor exercise—has made another man of Grover Cleveland. He has no chronic disease, as many people have imagined he had. He was merely suffering from bad hygienic conditions, from the effect of too close confinement at the desk and overwork without exercise. To-day Mr. Cleveland feels as well and as brisk as a man of his physique is capable of feeling. He perceives an increasing family of children about him and he regards the fact as an encouragement of his aspirations.

SHOWER OF BULLETS.

A Hot Battle Fought at Unity, Pa. One Killed, Several Injured.

Pittsburg, Oct. 2.—Unity's long and black record of crime was emphasized by a pitched battle at the colored camp to-day. One man was shot dead and several others seriously and, perhaps, fatally wounded.

Two colored men held up Joe Coteria, an Austrian. Coteria was returning to his home. The colored men, who were armed with a shotgun and revolvers, sprang upon him from the roadside and ordered him to throw up his hands. Coteria obeyed. They demanded his money. Coteria replied that he had none. Imediately one of the negroes shot the Austrian in the head. He dropped dead.

The sound of the shot aroused the boarders in the murdered man's home, not more than ten yards away. The boarders saw the negroes stooping over the body of Coteria, searching his pockets. The first man out of the house fired at the robbers, who returned the fire. Then followed promiscuous shooting on both sides as the thieves retreated. They were pursued and the firing ceased.

Two of the boarders attempted to carry Coteria's body into the house, and they were scarcely under cover when a perfect volley of shots rained upon the house from either side. The colored men had returned, bringing with them a number of others.

The windows, doors and sides of the house were perforated, and several persons inside were hit. Lights were extinguished, and the boarders fired at the attacking party from windows and doors. Many shots were exchanged, and it is thought several of the attacking party were wounded. The fight continued nearly an hour.

Justice Gilbert Dead.

Rondout, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Justice Francis H. Gilbert died at his home in Stamford, in the Catskills, yesterday, aged 67 years. He had been ill for some months.

Justice Gilbert had long been a prominent figure in State politics. He was the law partner of the late Judge Maynard, who was his cousin. The firm had offices at Stamford and Albany.

Secretary Bliss' New Home.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Secretary Bliss has secured the handsome residence on the southwest corner of Sixteenth and K streets, two blocks from the White House. His family will move here from New York in a few weeks.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Yonkers Physician Jumps from a Hotel Window.

New York, Oct. 2.—Robert N. Flagg, a Yonkers physician, tried to commit suicide yesterday morning by jumping from a second-story window of the Murray Hill Hotel, on Park avenue. He is now in a private hospital suffering from a fractured skull and a broken leg.

Dr. Flagg was accompanied by his wife, whom he only married the day before. When the doctor came downstairs to breakfast, he appeared to be much agitated. He was nervous and ate very little. After breakfast he returned to his room on the second floor on the Fortieth street side of the hotel.

What occurred there is not known, but not more than half an hour after he had left the breakfast table a woman's screams were heard coming from his room. Several persons responded, but before they could get the door open the doctor had plunged head first to the street below.

His wife was hysterical and could not tell what had happened other than that the doctor, in spite of her efforts to hold him, had jumped from the window.

Dr. Helmuth, a friend of Dr. Flagg, when he heard of the occurrence, had him removed to his private hospital on Lexington avenue.

Business Troubles the Cause.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Dr. Robert N. Flagg, who committed suicide by jumping from the Murray Hill Hotel, was one of the most widely known and popular residents of Yonkers. He was the oldest son of the late Dr. Levi N. Flagg, and the descendant of one of the first families that settled in Westchester County.

Dr. Flagg was in his 38th year, and enjoyed a lucrative practice here as physician. It is well-known here that the doctor was suffering from mental trouble brought on by the business failure of Howard W. and George A. Flagg, his brothers. Dr. Flagg had indorsed a large amount of paper for the defunct firm, which conducted a large hat manufactory here. He resided with his aged mother.

BALTIMORES WIN HANDILY.

Washingtons Are Now Tied with Brooklyns.

The National League championship season will come to an end in the East to-day and in the West to-morrow. There are still two positions in doubt, sixth and tenth. Baltimore's victory over the Washingtons yesterday put the latter on even terms with the Brooklyns for sixth place. The Pittsburgs won two games from the Clevelands, and gained enough points to enable them to pass the Washingtons and Brooklyns to-day, providing the latter clubs lose and Pittsburg beats Cleveland again. The Louisvilles won handily from the Cincinnatis, and can pass the Philadelphias by capturing two more games from the Reds, if the Quakers lose again to the New Yorks this afternoon. The results:

Baltimore, 7; Washington, 4.

Pittsburg, 11; Cleveland, 10 (first game).

Pittsburg, 7; Cleveland, 3 (second game).

Louisville, 5; Cincinnati, 3.

WOOED FOR $25,000.

Congressman Dingley's Fair Cousin the Defendant.

Auburn, Me., Oct. 2.—This usually peaceful section of Maine has never known anything that upset it quite so much as the breach of promise suit of Arthur S. Melcher against Mrs. Louise Dingley Hadley, a cousin of Congressman Nelson Dingley, the cross-examination of whom was yesterday continued in the Supreme Court.

The unique feature of the case is that Melcher wants $25,000 damages because Mrs. Hadley married some one else after he had given her two rings and fixed up his house.

Sleep

Induced by the use of coca, opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. It undermines the health and shatters the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the cocaine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla may not come as quickly, but it comes more surely, permanently and is

Sweet

And refreshing because it is realized through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the system and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.

Refreshing

"I was generally run down last spring, appetite was poor and I could not sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla built me right up, gave good appetite and I was soon able to get a good night's rest." G. F. WHITNEY, Merchant, Yeomans St., Ionia, Michigan.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Emma Loftz, of Elmwood place, who has been very ill, is now out of danger.

Edward F. Randolph, of West Front street, has gone to Liberty, N. Y., with a wife, a tandem and two cameras.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Rev. P. S. Gibson, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, will return from Princeton today where he has been attending a State convention of the Afro-American Society.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Lucie Palmer Davis, of East Fifth street, has entered the School of Ethical Culture, in New York.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Agnes Minford, of Watchung avenue, has left for boarding-school at Dobb's Ferry.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Frank Smalley, of East Sixth street, is now studying in the law offices of McNabb & Clark.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Randolph, of West Second street, have returned from their summer outing in the Adirondacks.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

NEW RECORD FOR STAR POINTER.

He Beats Joe Patchen and Lowers the Race Figures to 2.00½.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—In one of the most sensational races ever seen on the Illinois State Fair Grounds and in the presence of over sixty thousand persons, Star Pointer yesterday afternoon defeated Joe Patchen, his formidable rival, and, in addition, lowered the world's pacing record for a race by making a mile in 2.00½. Pointer held the previous record of 2.01, made at Indianapolis on Sept. 18. The first heat Patchen won in 2.14, almost one hundred yards in front of Pointer, but in the second heat Pointer passed under the wire a half length ahead, in 2.06, amid the cheers of the crowd.

The horses got a nice start in the third heat. Pointer soon took the lead, and, though Patchen made a gamey rally near the half-mile post, and was not over a length behind when the three-quarter pole was reached, Pointer came in under the wire easily a half dozen lengths ahead, making the mile in 2.00½, amid tremendous cheering. The time by quarters was as follows: 0.29¾, 1.00, 1.30¼, 2.00½.

HIDIHG CASES OF FEVER.

alians in New Orleans Bother the Health Board.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 2.—Among those stricken with yellow fever yesterday was the Rev. Beverly Warner, rector of Trinity Church, the leading Episcopal church in New Orleans. Mr. Warner was taking his vacation in New England. When the fever started here he returned at once and has taken a leading part in the measures to put it down.

Antonio Sinacra was found dead from the fever on St. Philip street, in the Italian quarter. He came here from New York fifteen days ago, and was taken with the yellow fever almost at once. His family concealed the disease. When the case was reported to the Board of Health the guards and fumigating force had to break into the house, which was barricaded against them. They found Sinacra dead and his wife lying across the body in hysterics and kissing the dead man's lips.

Sally Betsy Jennings 100 To-day.

Bridgeport, Ct., Oct. 2.—To-day Sally Betsy Jennings, of New Fairfield, celebrates her her 100th birthday. There was dancing, and she took part. Representatives of five generations assembled to commemorate the occasion. Mrs. Jennings is a spare little body, weighing but ninety-six pounds, but is as lively as her daughter, who is thirty years her junior. She is a direct descendant of Alexander Hamilton. Her grandmother was Orpha Hamilton, sister of Mr. Hamilton. Her grandfather was an uncle of the late P. T. Barnum.

Mrs. Jennings has lived in New York State most of her life. When her husband died some years ago she went to live with her eldest son, Peter Haviland Jennings, who is now a resident of Danbury. To-morrow he will celebrate his 80th birthday.

Banquet to Archbishop Keane.

Washington, Oct. 2.—A banquet will be given Archbishop John Joseph Keane, formerly rector of the Catholic University, now stationed in Rome, who is here on a visit and to attend the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Catholic University, on the 13th inst. Among the list of subscribers and guests are Secretary of State Sherman, Attorney-General McKenna, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, Senator Roach, Senator Carter, Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Martinelli, the Papal Delegate; Mgr. Sharetti and Dr. Rooker, of the Papal Delegation; Mgr. Conaty, the rector, and many professors of the Catholic University; the heads of other educational institutions in the District and a number of prominent citizens.

Postmasters.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Fourth-class postmasters were appointed as follows:

New Jersey—Linden, Union County, D. G. Hilliard.

New York—Churchtown, Columbia, E. C. Shultz; Johnson, Orange, I. R. Drake; Mellenville, Columbia, G. H. Philip; Palatine Bridge, Montgomery, E. B. Ireland; Raymondville, St. Lawrence, S. N. Babcock St. James, Suffolk, Everett Smith; Scott, Cortland, M. A. Whiting; Valley Stream, Queens, L. E. Culnet.

Pennsylvania—Andalusia, W. C. Pickering; Charkston, Julius Wetmore; Chatham Valley, William Goodwin; Clintondale, William Knorr; Cranberry, W. H. Sayers; Nittany, Robert Tate; Picture Rocks, J. P. Fague.

Disastrous Prairie Fires.

Omaha, Oct. 2.—Disastrous prairie fires are raging in Nebraska and South Dakota as a result of the protracted drought. From Rapid City, Chamberlain, Huron, Howard and other points in South Dakota come reports of the flames sweeping over whole counties, destroying all crops in their path. From Dakota City, Chadron and other towns in Nebraska large prairie fires are reported sweeping over the State. Many of the districts are isolated, and it is feared that lives have been lost. Much stock has perished.

Zaimis to Form a Cabinet.

Athens, Oct. 2.—The King has accepted the resignation of the Ralli Cabinet, and M. Zaimis, President of the Chamber of Deputies, has undertaken the task of forming a new Ministry. Probably M. Skouloudis, Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Ralli Cabinet, will retain the foreign portfolio in the new government. It is expected that all the other members of the Cabinet will be new men.

Village Half Destroyed.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Half of the village of Willow Springs, sixteen miles from here, on the drainage canal, was wiped out by fire yesterday morning. Fifty families were made homeless, and the best business buildings in the village are in ruins.

The loss is $50,000. There were many narrow escapes from death.

Jersey Lily Will Retire.

London, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Langtry makes the announcement that she has retired from the stage, and that her steam yacht White Ladye will be sold.

Her racing stable, which is conducted under the name of "Mr. Jersey," will be retained and her horses run as heretofore.

WEYLER READY TO QUIT

Has Cabled His Resignation as Captain General of Cuba.

SAGASTA SEES THE QUEEN

Campos and Pidal Also in Consultation with Her in Regard to New Cabinet—Marshal Campos to Return to Cuba.

Havana, via Key West, Fla., Oct. 2.—It is announced on the highest authority that Capt.-Gen. Weyler has sent his resignation to Madrid, to take effect as soon as the incoming Cabinet may see fit.

The resignation was cabled to Spain as soon as Weyler was informed of the fall of the Azcarraga Ministry. He believes that a Liberal Cabinet will be summoned and that therefore his resignation would be requested in any event.

It is common talk, even in official circles, that the war has proved exceedingly profitable to "the Butcher." He is said to have netted, in "commissions" and otherwise, something like two million dollars. Rumor says that he has provided against possible trouble in Spain by having the money placed to his credit with Paris bankers.

Has No Fear of Poverty.

When Weyler's term as Captain-General of the Philippines had expired he had amassed, it is estimated, fully four million dollars in the devious ways familiar to nearly all Spanish rulers of those islands.

If he retires from Cuba with no military glory and the hatred of every friend of humanity, it will not be to retirement into poverty.

The general belief that Marshal Martinez Campos will return to Cuba as Captain-General has caused a great stir among Weyler's satellites, many of whom have grown rich by imitating their master's methods. It is likely that a large number of them will endeavor to return to the peninsula with Weyler.

Sagasta Visits the Regent.

Madrid, Oct. 2.—Senor Sagasta, the former Premier, who will probably form the new Cabinet, arrived here from the country yesterday morning, and other incoming trains brought Marshal Martinez Campos and Senor Pidal, President of the Chamber of Deputies. All of them lost little time in accepting invitations to tender their views on the situation to the Queen Regent.

The official paper, the Correspondencia, has caused much surprise by declaring that there is some possibility of Marshal Martinez Campos forming a compromise Cabinet, composed of men of all political parties. This idea is laughed at in Madrid. The Cabinet would only be thus formed in case war with the United States was inevitable.

The general feeling over the Ministerial situation is that it will probably take a week to reach a solution of the crisis.

WILL TRACY WITHDRAW ?

Important Conference Between the Candidate, Platt and Quigg.

New York, Oct. 2.—A two hours' conference was held yesterday between Gen. Tracy and Messrs. Platt and Quigg at the office of Tracy, Boardman & Platt. Immediately afterward Mr. Quigg returned to Republican County headquarters. He declined to say what had been the subject of the conference.

It was learned, however, that a statement alleged to have been made by Henry George had been brought to Mr. Platt. This was that Mr. George did not care to be the Mayor of Greater New York himself, but that he was anxious to see Seth Low elected.

It is certain that yesterday's conference concerned the advisability of withdrawing Gen. Tracy's name.

REJECTED TOM MOORE.

Name of Ireland's Great Poet Not on Congressional Library Walls.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The discovery has been made that the name of Tom Moore, Ireland's famous poet, has been omitted from the long list of authors inscribed on the walls of the Congressional Library. It is learned that the Irish poet's name was considered by a committee, and rejected. This committee consisted of Ainsworth R. Spofford, Dr. E. M. Gallaudet, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, and Superintendent of Library Green.

The affair has aroused deep feeling among Ireland's friends. Division No. 3, A. O. H., decided to ask their brothers throughout the country to cooperate with them in an effort to have the next session of Congress consider the matter.

Bates Gets the Place.

Washington, Oct. 2. — President McKinley has appointed Medical Director Newton L. Bates to be Surgeon General of the Navy and Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in the Navy Department. Dr. Bates is a personal friend of McKinley, and is the family physician of the President.

An Old Bank's Doors Shut.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 2.—The Government National Bank, of this city, has gone into liquidation after an existence of thirty-five years. Officials of the bank say that the liquidation is owing to differences among the stockholders.

DENOUNCE AMUSEMENTS.

Antagonism of church organizations to popular amusements, such as dancing, card-playing, theatre-going, and the like, has generally ceased, except in the Methodist Episcopal church, and even there it has not been very insistent of late, says the Evening Post. In that church and in others the laws forbid participation in such amusements, but these rules of discipline have become, in most cases, dead letters, because of a lack of supporting sentiment. It is something of a surprise, therefore, that at this day the Methodist Conference in Indiana should adopt an emphatic and wholesale denunciation of popular amusements. This it did without any discrimination whatever as to time, place or character, so that the ministers in that conference must continue to condemn from the pulpit what the great majority of their congregations regard as innocent recreations. Such a conflict in opinion between pulpit and pew is not likely to contribute to harmony of belief on more important questions.

THE BOROUGH MAYOR.

Probably never in the history of the borough has it had an executive who has served the people more faithfully and with a truer conception of public needs and rights than Col. Wilson. The Mayor has a large quantity of what is commonly called "backbone" and it stands him in good stead in more ways than one in administering the duties of his office. He is stern but just, aggressive but fair in dealing alike with rich and poor. Wealthy corporations, usually defiant of municipal ordinances in most cities, are compelled by Col. Wilson to adhere to the borough ordinances with the same strict compliance that the humble citizen is. Col. Wilson knows no distinction or discrimination in public office. He is Mayor from the top to the bottom, and the borough citizens out to be glad and proud of it.

Under the direction of Councilman MacLaughlin a very neat police manual has just been issued for the borough. It contains the rules and regulations for the conduct of the marshals. Gradually the borough government is improving in all directions.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Charles French, of this city, who is in the employ of Hackett, Carhart & Co., has taken up his residence in New York for the winter.

—Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W., met last night and initiated one candidate. The Mogullians met afterwards and initiated three victims.

—At the First Presbyterian church organ recital tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30, the music will be from the works of Beethoven.

—J. Cloos, cloak and dressmaker, formerly of Somerset street, has removed to one of the stores in the Manning building on West Front street.

—A large shipment of choice canning and table peaches was received at Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers today, and must all be disposed of this afternoon and evening. Prices to suit everybody.

A Hint on Preserving.

To the housewife who is now busy preserving fruits and other dainties for winter use, it is timely to suggest that in her attention to this duty she should not forget a hint indicated by her occupation, and that is to be careful about preserving her eyesight. Her book of recipes may not instruct her as to this, but a call at Colliers will, and result in prolonging her usefulness in the bargain.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Miss Clara Frost, of Canada, is visiting her friend, Miss Middledith, of Mercer avenue.

Miss Alys Chandor, of East Fifth street, has gone to Nutley to spend Saturday and Sunday.

Mortimer Chilton, of Jersey City, is a guest at the home of Lemuel W. Serrell, of Crescent avenue.

Miss Adelaide Baxter, of Putnam avenue, has gone to New York to visit friends for a few days.

Miss Bertha Swackhamer, of Whitehouse, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Edith DuBois, of Park avenue.

Mrs. S. T. Wilson, of Central avenue, has returned to her home, after spending the summer out of town.

Messrs. Charles and Fred Case, of Central avenue, have returned to Harvard College, where they are students.

Miss Fannie Western, of Washington avenue, and her guest, Miss Ethel Marsh, have been visiting friends in Cranford.

J. H. Hasbrook and family, of Grove street, will remove to Brooklyn next week. Mr. Hasbrook has been a resident of Plainfield for the past twenty-five years.

Miss Sarah Schuyler, of LaGrande avenue, leaves next week for Barnard College, which she will enter. She graduated from the Plainfield High School last June.

Councilman A. C. Stebbins is still at Pittsfield, Mass., and has not returned as reported by another paper. Mr. Stebbins may be home in time for the next Council meeting.

THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

plicates, and that less than one-half of one per cent. of the amount remained uncollected. The report spoke of the somewhat antiquated method of keeping the reports, but it also mentioned the efficiency of Collector Spencer who had kept the reports so accurately. Mr. Spencer is not responsible for the method in vogue. Mayor Wilson expressed the thanks of the Council to the committee for their earnest labors, and the committee also thanked Messrs. Rogers and Burtis for their kind assistance.

Mr. MacLaughlin stated that the Assessors' maps were completed and ready for inspection. Mr. Burtis offered a resolution setting Thursday evening, October 14th, as the time when the Council would meet to consider any objections to the report of the Watchung Avenue Commissioners, and to examine and confirm said report. Mr. Rogers followed with a resolution that the Council meet Monday evening, October 11th, for the purpose of examining the above report before the date of October 14th.

It was stated by Counsel Reed, for the benefit of Mr. MacLaughlin, that seven copies of the commissioners' report had been made for the Councilmen for their personal examination.

Mr. Woolston reported the names of a hundred or more property owners of the borough who had failed to comply with the law in laying sidewalks in front of their properties. It was moved that the proper steps be taken to have the walks laid and that the Council take steps to effect a lien on the property for the payment of the work.

Another matter introduced by Mr. Woolston was that street signs be placed about the borough where needed. Mr. Rogers thought that 100 signs would be necessary. Mr. Woolston reported that they could be secured for $1 each. Mr. MacLaughlin thought that others should be asked to bid on furnishing the signs, but Mr. Woolston convinced Mr. MacLaughlin that no better price could be secured and the signs were ordered by the Council. The $100 does not include the placing of the signs, and they will have to be erected by the Council. Following this the Council went into executive session.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Sincerity

is the strong point in our advertising. These daily notices have the merit of simple truth.

When we assert that a buyer saves money in getting his Piano here, when we tell you that we have the largest stock of Pianos in New Jersey, when we affirm that you're absolutely sure of getting satisfaction from us, we only state plain unvarnished facts.

Exaggeration or prevarication, to our thinking, would be much worse thanif we did not advertise at all. What we tell you about our store and its methods can be thoroughly depended upon,

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

J. B. Conover is able to be out again after a short illness.

A meeting of the women of the M. E. church was held yesterday afternoon.

A large number of people from the borough attended the State Fair at Trenton yesterday.

Miss Lillian Staats has purchased a new wheel, and her spare time will now be devoted to riding.

William Terry and A. N. Randolph will start tomorrow for a few days hunting trip for pheasants.

Rev. A. I. Martine will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church tomorrow both morning and evening.

William Carman, who is a member of the Dunellen Gun Club, killed 25 pigeons out of 27, at the club grounds yesterday. The birds were all drivers. Billy is a hard one to beat.

The members of the New Market Baptist church are making great preparation for the East New Jersey Baptist Sunday-school convention to be held in their church October 19th.

Some enterprising person has placed two road signs at the corner of Washington avenue and North avenue, telling people which way to go. A number of such signs are needed in the borough.

Harry Apgar, son of Joseph Apgar, broke a small bone in his right wrist Thursday afternoon while playing football in the station park. The boy was taken to Dr. Brakeley's, where the fractured bone was set.

The borough sidewalk ordinance is killed for this year and there is no hope of reviving it. A certain number of residents in one part of the borough wanted to make the residents in another part do what they would not do, hence the action of the Council in killing the ordinance.

The Protective Game and Propagating Association of Union, Middlesex and Somerset counties, have leased the mountain front from Clinton avenue to Sebring's Mills, for the purpose of protecting and stocking the same with rabbit, quail and partridge. The land will be posted in a few days.

Deputy Game Warden Sisty met the wrong man in New York last week, in passing one of the bird stores in the metropolis. He noticed a gray squirrel caged in front of the store, and he walked in and asked the proprietor if he knew that he was liable to be arrested for keeping a squirrel caged. The dealer said that he did not know that he was in any way liable. Whereupon, Sisty said that he was, and that he was an officer of the game society, and showed his badge in evidence. The dealer laughed and said that made no difference to him as he was a Jersey officer and had no say in the matter in New York, as they made their own laws and had their own officers. Mr. Sisty had no more to say, but walked away after a large crowd gave him the laugh.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The football team meets for practice every day.

The Fanwood Board of Health holds a meeting tonight.

A union meeting will be held in the Methodist church tomorrow night.

W. H. Dowling, of Rahway, was in Scotch Plains on business yesterday.

Lynus Walpole intends taking a hunting trip to Pike county, Pennsylvania, next week.

William Lee is recovering from the injuries received by being attacked by a mad dog on Tuesday night.

The Scotch Plains baseball team play the Glenside team on the Scotch Plains grounds this afternoon. This will be the last game of the season.

The case of Lyuus Walpole against Jonothan Kendal for the willful shooting of the former's dog, was dismissed by Justice Kelley, of Summit, on Thursday. Walpole has announced his intention of bringing another action before Justice Joseph Clark, of Scotch Plains.

WESTFIELD

TO ABATE NUISANCES.

WESTFIELD BOARD OF HEALTH AND TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE MEET.

Contracts Received for Cleaning of Brook—Town Counsel Decides That Miller Must Pay His Taxes—Other Items.

All members of the Westfield Township Committee were present at its meeting last night. A corrected estimate of $35 upon the work of constructing 500 feet of fence between his property and the Westfield sewer farm, was submitted by Thomas Dickson and accepted by the Committee. George W. Tice complained of the bad condition in which the Union Water Company had left Lawrence avenue, in front of his property, after making excavation for a flush tank at that point. The clerk was instructed to notify the Water Company to place the street in proper condition at once. Several property owners sent in agreements to pay their sewer assessments in annual installments. Engineer H. C. VanEmburgh appeared before the Committee and explained that the delay in beginning the repairs on Broad street was due to the inability of Contractor Johnston to secure the necessary stone from the crushers. As the contract allows him until the 9th to finish the work, it was decided to take no action upon the matter until that date. A communication was received from Counsel Frank Bergen stating that in his opinion A. J. Miller, a member of the Westfield Exempt Firemen's Association, had forfeited his claim to tax exemption by moving out of the State. The committee, acting upon the advice of Mr. Bergen, will refuse to allow Miller his exemption, and the matter will be taken to the courts for settlement. It was decided that the Cooper bronze drinking fountain which was run into by a truck sometime ago and badly damaged, should be housed for the winter. The following bids for cleaning the brook from the farm of Oliver Pierson on Broad street to the A. A. Drake property, on Westfield avenue: William McCarthy, $9; Michael Kelley, $10 and Philip Sterphone $72. Bills to the amount of $599.11 were ordered paid and the Committee adjourned to next Monday night.

The Westfield Board of Health met last night and ordered Francis R Baker to abate nuisances upon his property on the Rahway road within five days. Nuisances were also reported as existing upon the premises of George Burrell and Aaron Allen, on Downer street. The health inspector was ordered to look into the matter, and to order the abatement of any nuisances discovered. Martin Welles complained of a drain running through his Elm street property and carrying polluted water. J. M. C. Marsh, secretary of the Board, and Inspector E. W. Chamberlain were ordered to discover the origin of the nuisance and order an abatement. The secretary reported three cases of contagious disease in the township during the past month. A number of bills were received and referred to the Township Committee.

Rev. Mr. Snyder, of this place, will preach in St. Paul's church tomorrow. Bishop Scarborough has advised Rev. Charles Fisk, of Trenton, to accept the call and become rector of the church. Mr. Fisk's decision will be made known to the vestry within a week.

A projectoscope exhibition was given before a rather small audience at the Westfield Club Hall last evening. The programme included some sleight-of-hand tricks by Edward Hendrickson.

The Westfield Club football team plays its first game in The Journal trophy series with the Cranford team on the Roosevelt Manor grounds in Cranford this afternoon.

The annual inspection of the Westfield fire department by Chief Dennis will take place at the engine house on North avenue Wednesday, the 13th, at 8 o'clock.

Charles Forster and family, of Mountainside, have taken possession of their newly-rented house on Westfield avenue for the winter.

There will be a reception of probationers and communion services in the Methodist church tomorrow morning.

Miss Helen Beebe will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting in the Congregational church tomorrow evening.

William Dallas and family, of Prospect street, have returned from their summer's vacation, spent at Belmar.

J. Willis Pierson, of Bloomfield, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pierson, of North Broad street.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are preparing a box to send to the family of a home missionary.

Mrs. W. L. Harvey has returned to Gouldsboro, Pa., after a week's visit with her son, Dr. T. J. Harvey.

The offering in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning will be for the poor fund.

Communion service will be held in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning.

THEATRICAL.

"Side Tracked," the sensational comedy-drama which will appear at the Stillman Music Hall is one of the greatest laughter-provokers now before the public, and well merits the unstinted praise bestowed upon it by both press and public everywhere it is seen. It has no hair lifting plot, but is a comedy, bright and clean, with touches of pathos and a charming love story running through it.

The Corbett-Fitzimmons fight will be reproduced lifelike in Music Hall next Friday and Saturday by the veriscope.

BOSTON'S SUB-WAY.

THE FIRST AMERICAN DEMONSTRATION OF UNDERGROUND TRASIT.

A Congested Portion of the Hub Relieved by a Tunnel—Ventilation, Light, Comfort and Rapid Progress Vouchedsafe the Cultured People of Codopolis.

A stupendous public work has been completed in part in Boston. A large section of the subway for street cars is now in operation, and is the first to be operated in any city in the United States.

Old Boston, as is well known, abounds in narrow, crooked streets. The traffic on the trolley cars is immense. The greater portion of the numerous routes pass over a main line that traverses Tremont street. A congestion of traffic existed during portions of the day that virtually blocked the way of the surface cars. The subway absorbs all this.

The subway is constructed of brick and steel. Portions consist of oval brick arches, with two tracks in each. Other portions have straight brick walls with steel girders crossing overhead supporting short brick arches.

The average descent to the stations is about 16 feet. On the New York elevated railways the lowest station platform is about 19 feet above the street level, and the average height is 21½ feet. The stairs are of hard bluestone, with broad "treads" and short easy rises.

The stations have hard stone platforms. There can be no crossing the tracks. There is a ticket station at the foot of the entrance stairs and turnstiles at the exit stairs.

The stairways are covered above ground by massive granite structures, with glass roofs. The architecture is severely plain, of the classic type, suggesting ancient Greek tombs.

The ventilation of the subway is apparently perfect. Fresh air is drawn in at the stations and is caused to flow in each direction by fans. It is exhausted through special openings at the side.

The lighting is by electric lamps, the curent for which is derived from a special plant. The illumination is brilliant, so that the passengers in the cars will not be incommoded. Newspapers may be read in any portion of the subway.

The difference between the Boston subway and the London underground lines is very great. The latter are operated by steam locomotives and are not provided with artificial ventilation. Any person who has traveled in the cars of the London underground will remember the smoky, gaseous horrors of the journey. The engineer of the New York Rapid Transit Commission reported that one of the New York elevated locomotives vitiates the air as much as the respiration of 25,000 people.

The temperature of the Boston subway is cooler in summer and warmer in winter than the outside air. It will be more agreeable to travel in winter in the subway than it would to travel on the surface. The motorman will encounter no wind, rain or snow. There will be no teams to avoid. No children wil be in front of the cars. No people dodging across the tracks oblivious of danger. Stopping and starting will occpr only at the stations.

There has been no serious engineering difficulty encountered. There were an immense number of pipes to be removed and changed, but this work was merely a matter of time and detail. The most difficult portion of the work was on Washington street. Here the line burrowed down ten feet below the foundations of the buildings on either side, and the excavations extended on each side to within two feet of the line of the basement walls. The work was conducted along Tremont street with the full tide of traffic going on overhead.

At present over 32,000,000 passengers are transported yearly over some portion of the route covered by the subway. It is estimated that the subway will increase the number to 60,000,000 passengers in less than one-half the time now taken to traverse the route if on time. They will be relieved from the absolute uncertainty which now exists on account of frequent street blockades. They will move with the same certainty as on trains on a steam railway.

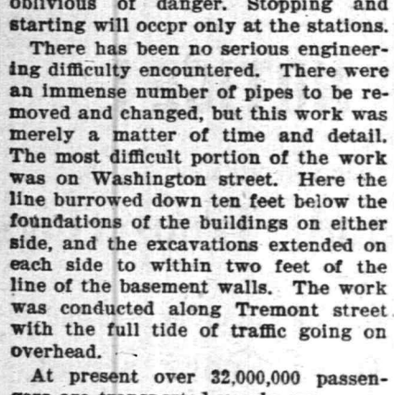
"Dose puritans vas no goot," said Mr. Isacheimerstein.

"Vhy?" asked the partner.

"Vhen dey burned dose vitches dey did not have dem insured."—Judge.

The manly way is to treat lightly the judgments passed on us by others, but to be honorably sensitive about the judgments we are compelled to pass on ourselves.—James Stalker.

DAD'S REASONING.



Johnnie (insinuatingly)—Say, Pop, they say the fishes is bitin' like everything to-day.

Farmer Barnes—All right, sonny. Jest you stay away frum thet thar crick an' they won't bite yer.

The Blood of Life.

Modern Science Discovers a New Way of Restoring its Vitality and Curing Disease.

Physicians are giving more and more attention to the quality of the blood. Anæmia is the scourge of mankind, an enemy the most skilled physicians dread to attack. It is the starting point of nearly all the ills to which human flesh is heir. Anæmia is caused by a bankruptcy of iron in the blood. The blood fails to take up the oxygen breathed into the lungs, the germs of disease multiply, the weakest part of the system is attacked and disease is the result.

The food we eat does not supply the blood with sufficient iron to meet the demands of nature, as a result it becomes pale, thin and watery. The cheeks, lips and ears become pale and the appetite is bad; there is palpitation, shortness of breath, weariness, constipation and loss of energy. To restore the system to a normal condition you must restore to the blood its natural iron. Prescribed forms of iron are inadequate because indigestible; dangerous because they derange the stomach and ruin the teeth.

Realizing this, Dr. Campbell, an English physician and chemist of high repute, sought to produce iron as nature produces it, as it is contained in the blood. He satisfied himself that the iron contained in the blood of the bullock was similar to that in human blood. A process of extraction was discovered and this natural iron or Hæmoglobin was enclosed in pure gelatine globes called Capsuloids.

These Capsuloids when taken into the stomach dissolve immediately and the iron is absorbed by the blood, strength created, vitality restored.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

IT'S IN THE BLOOD and you can't get it out, even if you drink a river full of "blood medicines."

Impurity of blood is caused only by the failure of the Kidneys, the natural purifiers of the blood, to filter out the impurities that come from the waste tissues and ashes of the food.

If you are tired, dull, aching and suffering greatly from a combination of ailments, you may be sure your Kidneys are clogged and inactive. Cure your Kidneys and the blood will take care of itself. You can be

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Don't Make a Mistake

When you have a painting job on hand. It's the painting quite as much as the paint that costs, and only good paint is worth the expense the work entails. To be sure of getting what will stand the severest exposure better and longer than anything else, drop in and select what you require from our stock. Knowing exactly what is needed to produce a paint that will answer every purpose and thus be economical as well as satisfactory, we turn our knowledge to practical use.

YESTERDAY'S CABINET MEETING.

The Cuban Question and the Situation in Hawaii the Chief Topics.

Washington, Oct. 2.—There was a general understanding in official circles here that yesterday's Cabinet meeting would be partly devoted to a discussion of the advisability of making public the text of the instructions given Minister Woodford for his guidance in treating with the Spanish Government on the Cuban question, or of advising Gen. Woodford to give the press the text of the note he presented to the Duke of Tetuan. Permission to furnish the note to the newspapers had been asked by Gen. Woodford, and Secretary Sherman sent the note, with his approval, to the President, who was then at North Adams. The answer of the President that he believed it best not to comply with Gen. Woodford's request at this time was considered as indicating only a short delay until the President could consult with his Cabinet. But no mention of the subject was made at the meeting, probably because the change in the political situation at Madrid leaves this Government in a quandary as to whether it will be necessary to take further action when a new ministry is formed. The present crisis in Spain was discussed by the President and his official family at some length, with particular reference to the effect the change in political control at Madrid would be likely to have on Cuba. It was the first opportunity afforded for an exchange of views since the President went to Massachusetts.

The Cabinet meeting was longer than usual. It lasted more than two hours, and adjourned on the departure of Secretary Sherman, who almost invariably leaves the Cabinet room when the consideration of State Department matters is concluded. The Cuban discussion was not based on any information from Gen. Woodford. He has not sent a line about the resignation of the Spanish Ministry or its probable effect on the insurrection. The President and the Cabinet talked about the probability of the succession of a liberal ministry, and how it would act toward the struggling patriots, but there was no attempt to arrive at a definite conclusion in regard to any action it might be necessary for the United States to take.

The views expressed were of a general character, and the topic was deferred for future consideration, because the developments at Madrid have not been sufficient to justify any new instructions to the American Minister there.

Some consideration was also given to the situation in Hawaii. It was the verdict of the President and the others gathered at the Cabinet table that things in the islands were in such a peaceable condition that no fears need be entertained of any trouble from the opponents of annexation.

THE "SAUSAGE CASE."

Daring and Startling Statement of Expert Allport.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The "sausage case," as irreverent Chicago calls the long-drawn-out trial of Adolph L. Luetgert, charged with murdering his wife, continues as a tournament of scientists, real and pseudo, and with varying fortunes.

Prof. Allport, the osteologist, threw dismay for a moment into the camp of the prosecution, and made the man whose life is at stake laugh, by testifying, as he held in his hand that shattered fragment which the experts for the prosecution declare to be the temporal bone of a woman:

"This is not a temporal bone of a human, nor of a lower order of animal. It is a composition of bones put together artificially. The trace here which Prof. Dorsey has said was the outline of a facial nerve is really a fibre of animal matter with which the bones are stuck together—a fortuitous collection of fragments such as result in the process of making headcheese."

But when Prosecutor McEwen got at the young osteologist with his little cross-catechism, he "made a monkey" of Prof. Allport, in Chicago vernacular.

He passed up a bucketful of sesamoids to the witness and got a lot of hazy answers from him. Then he asked him what kind of an animal had worn a certain bone exhibited.

"That's from the leg of a monkey," said Allport promptly, with a dissertation on monkey's legs.

Mr. McEwen smiled mischievously and said he understood the bone was from a dog's leg, whereupon Prof. Allport chirruped:

"Yes, there is a species of dog-monkey, and"——

"And you took this for one of them," assented the prosecutor, interrupting.

That about used up the young osteologist in the opinion of the prosecution, but they relentlessly continued.

Fight to Death Over a Girl.

New York, Oct. 2.—John McNally was instantly killed by a blow from the fist of William Klynger yesterday at an outing given by the George W. Johnson Association, at Dexter Park. The woman for whom the men fought is Miss Louisa Decker, of Brooklyn. She had divided her attention between the two during the midnight picnic. After the homicide the police, in response to a riot call, charged on the party in the park, and a free-for-all fight ensued. Klynger was captured hiding in a barn five miles from the scene of the duel.

Hard Work Getting to Dawson.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The news brought from the Yukon by the revenue cutter Rush was a complete surprise. One important item was that many miners and most of the newspaper correspondents who sailed from here on the steamer Excelsior were stranded at Fort Yukon.

Biggest in the World.

Pittsburg, Oct. 2.—The Standard Oil Company will build a twenty-four-mill tin-plate factory at Hites station, on the Alleghany River. This will be the largest in the world, the next greatest being eighteen-mill plants.

Hites is opposite Kensington, and twenty miles above Pittsburg.

Train Fell to the Street.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—A trestle on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, at Tenth and Morris streets, collapsed yesterday morning, and a train was precipitated to the street.

Workmen were under the structure, but no lives were lost. Two men were injured.

WHOLE FAMILY DIES

Mother and Her Four Children Asphyxiated in a Hotel.

WAS IT MURDER OR SUICIDE

They Registered as from West Point—Mother Carefully Planned Death While Her Children Slept—A Horrifying Sight.

New York, Oct. 2.—A fearful tragedy was discovered yesterday morning in the West Shore Hotel, at Forty-second street and Eleventh avenue. A woman and her four children were found dead in their rooms. They had been killed by illuminating gas. The woman had registered as "Karoline Rivinius and children, West Point." The writing seemed to be that of a German, and the appearance of the woman bore out that impression.

There were two boys and two girls dead with the woman in the two small rooms which they had occupied. One boy was about 3 years old and the other about 8. One of the girls was about 5 years old, and the other about 15. The woman and the children had occupied two small connecting rooms on the third floor of the hotel. When their bodies were found at 9 o'clock the gas was escaping from the jets in each room.

There was one window in the woman's room, which was tightly closed. The woman and the two girls occupied the bed in this room. In the next a small window about one foot square opened to an airshaft. This was also shut. The transoms of the rooms were also closed. The keys in the doors were turned so that the flanges of the keys filled the holes.

The attendants at the hotel declared that the airshaft window and the transoms were always kept open. The cleats were removed from the transom in each of the rooms where the deaths occurred, so that they could be closed.

The woman and the children went to the hotel about 8.45 o'clock in the evening. They were neatly dressed, but their clothing was not of fine texture. After eating supper they retired to their rooms. The woman had no baggage except a small hand satchel.

Nothing unusual about the appearance of the woman was noticed by the hotel attendants. After they retired no sounds out of the ordinary were heard coming from their rooms. When a man who had a room on the same floor went to bed about 1 o'clock he heard the baby faintly crying, but that was all.

There was no comment when the family failed to appear at 9 o'clock. But at that time a bellboy who had been up all night passed along the third floor to his room. He noticed the odor of gas, and on tracing the smell thought that he detected it coming from the room which the boys occupied.

S. G. Sprague, the clerk, was notified, and he beat upon the doors to arouse the woman. No answer came in response to his most energetic pounding, so the door was forced in. Volumes of gas burst out and drove Sprague and his assistants back for a time. But, covering their nostrils, they ran into the rooms and threw up the windows in the front room. The doors were opened and the gas was let out. Word had been sent in the meantime to Roosevelt Hospital, and when the ambulance surgeon arrived he found it impossible to revive the five.

The clothes that the children wore appeared to be new. The wash basins showed that the children had been carefully washed before going to bed. When found the mother lay on the outside of the bed in the front room, and the youngest girl wes cuddled up close under her right arm. The child held a new tin horn in one of its hands. The eldest girl was on the inside. There were signs that the mother and the two girls had died in agony, but the boys had apparently passed away peacefully.

A dispatch from West Point said that Mrs. Rivinius was 40 years old and the wife of Robert Rivinius, a soldier in the regular army and attached to the printing office. Her home life was a happy one, her friends said, and nothing happened to cause her to be melancholy.

She had been married sixteen years. The names and ages of the children were: William, 13 years; Augustus, 8; Laura, 15, and Elizabeth, 4½ years.

Father Hears the News.

West Point, Oct. 2.—Robert Ravinius, the husband of the murderess, is a janitor in the administration building at West Point. He has been employed there for six years. As far as the neighbors knew, the Ravinius family got along happily together and had no quarrels or misunderstandings to speak of. Mr. Ravinius was at work when the news of the tragedy reached him. He was almost prostrated with grief, and was unable to talk coherently. It is thought probable, however, that Mrs. Ravinius and her husband may have had a quarrel and that she left home, taking the children with her, with the evident intention of killing herself and them. The Ravinius family were in comfortable circumstances, and moved in fairly good society.

Germany's Hand on Greece.

Athens, Oct. 2.—The Government has issued a White Book containing the details of the negotiations of the powers for the conclusion of peace between Turkey and Greece. The book shows that Greece was informed on May 28 that the conditions of peace imposed by the powers were onerous, but she must not decline them; if she did, Germany would withdraw from the concert of the powers engaged in the negotiations for the establishment of peace. The book also shows that on May 30 M. Hanotaux, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, informed the Greek Minister at Paris that an internal attack upon the Greek dynasty would threaten the existence of the country.

Mayors' Convention Adjourns.

Columbus, Oct. 2.—The national conference of Mayors and Councilmen ended yesterday with a warm discussion and a somewhat close vote on the indorsement of the idea of the municipal ownership of semi-public franchises, such as street railroads, gas and electric light companies, and waterworks.

MAYOR SILAS ELATED.

The Lincoln Seer Returns Home Loaded Down With Honors.

Mayor Silas D. Drake, of Lincoln, and the three Councilwomen of that embryonic municipality, arriving in Plainfield last night from Columbus, O., resplendent with silk and satin badges and feeling highly elated over the honors they received at the convention of municipal officers. The Mayor met a couple of reporters at the North Avenue station and was bombastically enthusiastic in relating his experiences among the other notable men who were in attendance there. Miss Egel, Miss Moore and Mrs. Hazard were the only women delegates in the great body of Mayors and Councilmen and they were accorded distinguished consideration.

Mr Drake said that the greatest trouble he experienced at the convention was to explain that his Lincoln was not in Nebraska, but was right in the great State of New Jersey. He says he always put in a good word for this city by referring to Lincoln being near Plainfield. Mr. Drake presided over the convention one afternoon and made a speech that he says "beat the whole shooting match."

Wednesday afternoon a reception was tendered Mayor Drake by Allen R. Foote, which was attended by a number of notable men.

LOCAL L. A. W. CONSUL

T. A. Cuming Selected for the Position by Chief Consul Kireker.

T. A. Cuming, manager, of the Eldridge Bicycle Company, in this city, has just been appointed local counsul of the L. A. W. for Plainfield, by Chief Consul C. F. Kireker, of the New Jersey Division. Mr. Cuming will have his office at the L. A. W. headquarters, corner of Fourth street and Park avenue, where application blanks may be obtained, and full information given about matters of interest pertaining to the L. A. W. and its members. Mr. Cuming will also investigate all complaints made by members and in cases of accidents not caused by the carelessness of riders, he will assure L. A. W. members of the prompt assistance of the State Division.

AUXILIARY REORGANIZED.

Holy Cross Women Prepare for the Winter's Work.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Holy Cross church held its reorganization meeting yesterday afternoon to prepare for the winter's work. The annual report showed an improvement in last year's work over that of any preceding, the society having sent a number of finely stocked boxes of clothing and provisions to missionaries. Another box is now being packed to send to a missionary in South Carolina.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. T. Logan Murphy; vice-president, Mrs. Benjamin R. Western; treasurer, Mrs. Horsely Barker; secretary, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler; directoresses, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Arthur Gallup, Mrs. B. Western, Mrs. Horsely Barker.

Given a Surprise Party.

Miss Bessie Martin was given a surprise party at her home, 453 West Front street, last evening, by Miss Gertrude Tier. The party, consisting of about twenty of Miss Martin's school friends, succeeded in completely surprising her. The evening was passed in the playing of games and dancing, and at a late hour refreshments were served.

First Junior Dance.

The first junior dance of the season at the Park Club was held last evening in the clubhouse on Washington avenue. It was well attended and proved a success. It was under the charge of the junior entertainment committee of the club.

FIRE LADDIES GOOD TIME.

Plainfielders Treated in a Good Manner at Princeton.

The members of No. 2 Engine Company who went to Princeton yesterday to take part in the firemen's parade at that place, returned home last evening delighted with the time prepared for them at the above place. On their way over they were met at Metuchen by the firemen and given a cordial reception. In Princeton the Plainfield boys showed up well in the parade and they were given all the attention possible. In the parade they were escorted by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps who furnished excellent music. The banquet served was all to be desired. The boys reached Plainfield last evening soon after 11 o'clock and they received quite an ovation on the part of those who happened to be on the street. The members went to the home of R. B. Rogers and routed him out of bed. He appeared and joined in the remaining part of the festivities,

Thoroughly Surprised.

H. R. Munger, of Washington avenue, was thoroughly and pleasantly surprised on Wednesday night last when some thirty or forty members of the Men's Bible class of Hope chapel called to pay their former teacher a friendly visit. Kindly inquiries as to how each had spent the several months since they had last met, the enjoyment of a dainty repast, and hearty singing occupied one of the most delightful of their many similar gatherings.

Report Seems to Be Satisfactory.

The executive session of the Borough Council held last evening, was for the purpose of examining the report of the Watchung Avenue Commissioners, also the new assessor's maps. A considerable time was spent in discussing the many fine points of interest about each, and the councilmen, so far as can be learned, are well satisfied with the work.

An Avenue in Darkness.

Watchung avenue, between East Front street and East Fifth street, was in darkness last evening. One of the electric light wires was snapped under the Watchung avenue bridge, which is now being repaired, but the insulation held and it was not until 9 o'clock that the break could be found and repaired.

A Quiet Marriage.

On Thursday evening last took place the marriage of Miss Emily Mattison, of Newark, to Jacob Benner, of Duer street, North Plainfield. The marriage was performed in the borough by Rev. H. J. Johnston, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, in the presence of only necessary witnesses.

Progressive Citizen Complimented.

At the meeting of the Borough Council last evening Mayor Wilson complimented J. P. Emmons, of Washington avenue, for the most excellent manner in which he had improved his property, and he said that Mr. Emmons is a model citizen deserving of much credit.

Overcome by the Heat.

Bert Bodine, drum corporal of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, of this city, was overcome by the heat while in line at the firemen's parade in Princeton, yesterday, and had to fall out of line. He recovered sufficiently to return with his comrades to Plainfield.

Night Services to be Resumed.

Tomorrow evening service will be resumed by the congregation of Trinity Reformed church in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will preach on the subject, "A Good Witness." Seats are free and all are cordially invited to be present.

—Young men are especially invited to be present at the young men's Bible class at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A New Merchant.

The attention of the people was attracted this morning to a beautiful sign in front of 23 Somerset street. The sign is that of George F. Brown, well known to almost every person in Plainfield. He has opened the store at the above number for the purpose of carrying on the window shade and awning business, also that of interior decorations. Mr. Brown has had many years' experience in Canal street and Twenty third street, New York, and Plainfield is glad to welcome him back as one of her merchants.

Will Admitted to Probate.

The will of the late Mary E. Dunlap of this city was admitted to probate by Surrogate Parrot in the Orphan's Court at Elizabeth, yesterday. Miss Lizzie U. Dunlap was qualified as executrix. She was represented by Murphy & Blatz.

Sentence Suspended.

John Schmidt, of Elizabeth, who was tried last Saturday on the charge of carrying soap fat in an uncovered wagon, was represented in city court this morning by his lawyer, Frank J. Blatz, of Murphy & Blatz. Sentence was suspended.

S. V. Lunger, of 87 Manning avenue, has received notice of being appointed as Deputy Supreme Organizer for New Jersey of the Improved Order of Heptasophs

EACH OVER 90 YEARS OLD.

A Brother and Four Sisters Have Lived Together for Nearly a Century.

On a pretty little farm high up among the hills of Calhoun County, Ala., 1,000 feet above the sea, with only the trees and the hilltops for their neighbors, lives perhaps the most remarkable family that inhabits the boundaries of America. They are known as the Sadlers. The family consists of a brother and four sisters, and the youngest has already turned her ninety-first year. The eldest is several years more than a century old. None of them has ever married.

The Sadlers were born in Virginia, all of them excepting one having seen the light of day before the seventeenth century took its flight. Years ago the father and mother died, the former at the age of ninety-one, the latter at the early age of seventy-five. But the brothers and sisters continued to live together, keeping each other company and administering to each other's comfort.

In spite of the wondrous changes and inventions which time has wrought this virtuous and contented family has never seen fit to in any way reform the methods that were in vogue when their parents taught them how to work.

The clothing which they wear has always been made by them from the cotton which grows in their fields, or from the wool which covers the backs of their sheep.

From the hides of the animals that browse upon their fields the brother makes the comfortable, and not entirely unshapely shoes that cover his and his sisters' feet. They are averse to the use of money; they have no need of it, and will not receive it into their possession. If any one desires to buy provisions of them, for instance, and they have enough to spare, the supplies are freely given or cheerfully loaned, but never sold for money.

No member of this remarkable family has ever married; it is stated that before they were grown they entered into a compact to remain single and stay together. Tradition says they were four exceedingly handsome girls, and were sought after by the beaux of their day and neighborhood, but that they avoided an entangling alliance with one exception. The youngest sister, Virginia, fell desperately in love, it is related, with a young man of the olden time; she was then only sixteen. The family entered such a protest that she repulsed her lover and endeavored to blot him from her memory, but her disappointment was so great that her mind became affected, and she has never regained her mental equilibrium. —New York Journal.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS AMONG ZULAS.

By a Little Diplomacy the Men Were Taught to Assist Their Wives.

Next to the locomotive, the missionary that appeals most strongly to my sympathies is one after the fashion of Mrs. Dartnell, whose husband commands the local military forces of the colony. Colonel Dartnell was stationed at one time in a part of the colony where his official residence was approached by a path leading up a steep hill.

He was much respected by the natives, and there were frequent occasions for these to visit him. Mrs. Dartnell discovered that the native custom was to let the wives carry the burdens up this hill, while the gentlemen of the party contented themselves with a stick or a spear. With fine feminine tact, Mrs. Dartnell commenced her missionary career by inviting the heavily burdened women to rest themselves and have refreshments; but the men she ostentatiously ignored, on the ground that, as they had done no work, they could not require any rest or refreshments. Little by little the news of this social revolution permeated the mind of the black neighborhood, and it was a revolution by no means uncongenial to the advocates of black woman's rights. Soon it was learned that one black man had actually carried part of his wife's burden up the hill; and as this was not followed by a convulsion of nature, other Zulus followed the example, until little by little it became the rule, in that neighborhood at least, for a man to assist his wives in the bearing of burdens.—Harper's Magazine.

FALL AND WINTER
-CLOTHING-
-: FOR :-
MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. ONE YEAR'S GROWTH.

INTEREST IN CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL DURING PAST YEAR.

Attendance of Pupils and Increase in Finances Are the Evidences of Prosperity —Officers Elected For Ensuing Year.

The past year has been a successful one for the Sunday-school of the Congregational church, according to the reports rendered at the annual business meeting held yesterday afternoon at the close of the regular Sunday-school session.

Joseph A. Robinson, superintendent of the school, presided. The reading of the secretary's report was the first item of business, and the secretary, Stacy Raynolds, reported the affairs of the school to be in a very encouraging condition. The Sunday-school roll has been enlarged, and the average attendance and the average collection have increased. The largest attendance during the year was on Rally Day, and the smallest on a very rainy Sunday in July.

The treasurer's report was now read by J. A. Powlison, showing the total receipts for the year to have been $369.39, and the disbursements $363.06, leaving a balance on hand of $6.33. The receipts included the regular collections, and smaller amounts from the Cent-a-Day Club, the home department, and special collections; the disbursements included, besides the regular expenses of the school, amounts given to the American Board for work in Africa, to a colored school in Georgia, to the missionary department of the Congregational Sunday-school and Publication Society, for educational work in the south, for visiting committee benevolences, and to the Plainfield Children's Home.

The report of the visiting committee was submitted by A. C. LaBoyteaux. The home department work, which is under the charge of this committee, had been vigorously carried on, a large number of calls had been made, and food and clothing given to needy ones.

The library committee, George E. Fuller, chairman, reported new books bought, and the library is now in excellent order. The circulation had also increased during the year.

The election of officers for the ensuing year followed the reports of committees. The report of the nominating committee was given by A. C. LaBoyteaux, and the following were elected: Superintendent, J. A. Robinson; assistant superintendent, L. B. Morgan; secretary, Stacy Raynolds; assistant secretary, John W. Kirkner; treasurer, J. A. Powlison; librarian, Charles E. Steiner; assistant chairman, George E. Fuller; musicial director, Mrs. M. E. Dwight.

At the close of the meeting, the superintendent announced that on the following Sunday morning a "recognition service" would be held, in which the newly-elected officers and the teachers of the school would be formally recognized by the church.

GIRL ATHLETES ACTIVE.

Enthusiastic Over Their Organization and Will Soon Begin Practice.

The Girls Athletic Association, which was recently organized at the Plainfield High School, is in great favor at present with the fair students of that institution of learning. All are very enthusiastic over the association and they are impatient for the time when the basket ball games shall begin. It is first necessary to put wire gratings in front of all the windows in the hall on the second floor of the Whittier building where the game is to be played, but that work will soon be done and the girls hope to begin practice inside of two weeks. Walter L. Long, who was a member last year of the Y. M. C. A. basket ball team, is spoken of as coach and instructor in the game. It has not yet been decided whether there is to be a regulation costume adopted, but there seems to be a strong sentiment against it. The senior class is already planning to organize a class team and the other classes will probably soon follow.

O'er Land on a Triplet.

Louis Hummer and Chauncey Stout, of the Daily Press office, and Raymond Carroll rode to Princeton on a triplet Saturday. They spent the day there and returned to Plainfield in the evening. Yesterday Hummer, Stout and Claude Fisher, of Bound Brook, went on the triplet to Flemington. They had a very exciting ride, returning last night.

ANOTHER $2,500 PLUM.

Morgan Turton and Wife Get a Verdict in Chancery Court Against Young Estate.

Morgan Turton and Mrs. Turton, who as legatees of the late Catharine Craig, won the famous contest over her will and secured all of the estate, have just won another important case in Chancery against the executor of John A. Young, the defeated party in the will case. Young's executor is ordered to account for and pay over to Catharine Craig's administrator about $2,500 which Young claimed had been given to him during the last fifteen years of her life.

Craig A. Marsh, counsel for the Turtons, filed the bill in Chancery to have it declared that these moneys were held by Young in trust, or if given to him, were obtained by undue influence. The other side was ably represented by Charles A. Hartshorne, of Jersey City.

A TALK TO ODD FELLOWS.

A Y. M. C. A. Service Especially Applicable to the Members of the Order.

A number of Odd Fellows gathered at the Y. M. C. A. gospel service yesterday afternoon, to hear Fred H. Martin talk. Mr. Martin is an Odd Fellow, and his remarks were of peculiar interest to the lodge members.

The service was opened with prayer by G. D. Morrison, after which Mrs. J. Manley, accompanied by William E. MacClymont on the piano rendered an effective vocal solo. This was followed with a violin solo by William McKillop, accompanied on the piano by Bert Harold. Mr. Martin read for the Scripture lesson the tenth chapter of St. Luke, which tells of the Good Samaritan, and from that he gave a soul-stirring talk. Mr. Martin impressed strongly the point that an Odd Fellow could be a Christian, and that a Christian could be an Odd Fellow. After the talk Mrs. Manley gave another pleasing solo, and the rest of the time was devoted to short talks and testimonies from those in the audience.

A feature of the service at the close was a vocal selection, rendered by Mrs. Manley, who stood on the platform, and the response by Miss Elizabeth Dunn and H. J. Martin, who were located in the gallery. The effect was impressive. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Moffett.

DEATH OF MRS. MULFORD.

After an Illness of Several Months She Dies in the Prime of Life.

Irsaella Moores Mulford, wife of Armstrong Mulford, died at 3 o'clock this morning at her home, 425 East Fifth street, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Mulford was thirty-two years of age, and until her last illness was in perfect health. She is survived by her husband and four children, the youngest of whom is one year old and eldest ten years. She was a member of the Crescent Avenue church, and during the eleven years of her married life, which were spent in this city, she endeared herself to everyone with whom she came in contact, by her winning ways and gentle, Christian spirit. The members of her bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

The funeral will take place at the house at 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., officiating.

Sacrament Administered.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to the Trinity Reformed church congregation yesterday morning by the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D. There was a large attendance of members and, beside the spiritual refreshing that always prevails at the communion season, the hearts of pastor and people were made glad by the addition of two persons as members of the church on confession of their needs of a Saviour.

Their First Concert

On the evening of Tuesday, October 26th, the Plainfield Mandolin and Guitar Club, composed of young men of this city, will give a concert in Monroe Avenue church. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Weitz, pianists, and Miss Marion Short, elocutionist, of New York. As this will be the first concert given by these enterprising young men, no doubt a large number of people will attend. An exceedingly fine programme will be presented.

Councilman Frost to Read a Paper.

Last evening Councilman G. H. Frost left for Nashville, Tenn., to attend a convention in the interest of municipal government and improvements. He will read a paper Wednesday morning on "Sewage Disposal." Mr. Frost will be absent from Plainfield about one week.

WRECKED AND ROBBED.

MALICIOUS BRAND OF THIEVES OPERATED IN THE CITY HOTEL.

Opened a Cash Register and When They Found it Only Contained 200 Pennies They Broke it With a Stone.

It was a peculiarly malicious brand of thieves who operated in the City Hotel cafe some time between 11 o'clock Saturday night and 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The fact that 200 pennies was all the booty that the depredators were able to secure, is probably what rankled them, and even though the damage they did resulted in no benefit to themselves financially, they no doubt departed more satisfied after venting their spite.

Mr. Beerbower has recently had his barroom refitted in an elaborate manner, and among the improvements was the institution of a new cash register, making two of these machines in the barroom. When Mr. Beerbower entered the barroom yesterday morning he was surprised to notice that only one of the machines graced the back bar. A hurried investigation told the tale of plunder that had been enacted since the closing-up time the night previous.

With the aid of a heavy chisel the burglars had succeeded in prying open a window in the toilet room to the rear of the bar-room, and through the aperture they made their entrance from the yard at the side of the house. In the darkness the burglars—for evidently there were more than one—had passed by the new register that had just been purchased at a cost of $200, and went to the other end of the bar and laid hold of the one valued at $175.

Then the bolt was slipped on a rear door and the thieves and booty made their exit to the rear yard and from there to the wagon shed adjoining the kitchen annex. A slight pressure on one of the keys opened the drawer, and then, much to the disappointment of the burglars, thay found only two hundred pennies. Probably angered at the thought of the risk they had taken and the slight reward that the pennies conveyed, a heavy stone was picked up outside the door and the handsome nickle-plated register battered in a damaging manner. It was left in a promiscuous heap in the wagon shed. There it was found by an attache of the hotel.

Mr. Beerbower has no idea who the thieves were, but the case has been put in the hands of the police.

NEW LEGAL ALLIANCE.

W. R. Codington and S. S. Swackhamer Form a Partnership.

This morning there was a dissolution in the law firm of Swackhamer & Williams, Mr. Swackhamer immediately afterward associating himself with W. R. Codington under the firm name of Codington & Swackhamer.

Mr. Codington is now having an entrance made from his building to the Martin house, now occupied by the Crescent Wheelmen, and an office will be fitted up in the latter building to make more room for the increased practice of the new alliance.

Mr. Codington is one of the oldest and most prosperous of the legal profession in this city, and though Mr Swackhamer is comparatively a new comer his success as a practitioner is well established. It will be a strong firm.

Walter Williams, for the present at least, will continue the practice of law alone.

QUARREL CAME TO A FOCUS.

Blows Brought Blood and Then an Arrest Followed.

There has long been a quarrel smouldering between Stephen Murphy and John Scott and Friday night it blazed out. Murphy struck Scott twice in the face and the blood flowed in consequence. Murphy and Thomas Muldowney went into the saloon of the Rising Sun Brewing Company, and then Scott and John Newman came in. Murphy and his friends say that Scott has been trying to annoy him for a long time and has done all he could to provoke a quarrel.

Friday night Scott continued his actions, whereupon Murphy drew off and struck him twice. Murphy was arrested and came before City Judge DeMeza this morning for trial. Then the facts came out. The Judge reserved his decision for one week.

Woman to Assist at a Fair.

A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held Friday evening at which time a committee, of which Mrs. I. L. McVoy is the chairman, was appointed to assist the Son's of Veterans in their fair to be held the first week in November. The corps also initiated one candidate, and accepted an invitation to attend a campfire to be given by Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., a week from next Tuesday night.

GAMBLING NOW DOOMED

LATE RETURNS OF THE ELECTION REVERSE THE RESULT.

Anti-Gambling Amendment Carried by a Small Majority—Woman's Suffrage Was Overwhelmingly Defeated at the Polls.

It is now settled beyond doubt that two of the three Constitutional amendments, voted on last Tuesday, were adopted. They are the amendments which will prohibit any form of gambling legislation and compel the Governor to respect the Senate when it refuses to consent to an unpopular or ill-advised appointment. The majority for the anti gambling amendment is 612. The woman suffrage amendment is overwhelmingly defeated.

The error in the previous statements came from estimates based on the vote cast in the race-track counties, but the figures now presented are nearly accurate, because the county clerks, under the law, are obliged to prepare the tables for the Board of Canvassers that meets tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

There are 965 precincts in the State, and no preparations were made to gather returns from those in the country districts. The figures here presented have in nearly every instance been secured from officials, but in some instances may be slightly changed tomorrow by the official canvassers.

The vote was light. In the general election of 1896, 271,127 votes were cast, but in the special election last Tuesday the number of votes cast on the anti-gambling amendment was 139,762, about one-half. The number cast for the ad interim amendment was 139,512 and for the woman's suffrage 139,863. The majority for the ad interim amendment was 7,006 and against the woman's suffrage 10,295.

Only seven counties gave a majority against the anti gambling amendment. Hudson leads with 9,218; Passaic is next with 1,683; Union, 1,221; Mercer, 1,150; Monmouth, 796; Atlantic, 197, and Essex, 124. Four of these are race-track counties.

Cumberland gives the largest majority for the amendment, 2,371; then came Morris, 2,193; Hunterdon, 1,568; Warren, 1,331; Burlington, 1,159; Somerset, 1,152; Gloucester, 1,142; Salem, 1,134; Bergen, 729; Sussex, 598; Cape May, 582; Middlesex, 477; Ocean, 241 and Camden, 102.

In only one or two counties does the vote on the different amendments tally. The variation can only be accounted for by an error in the count or an error in the tally.

The race-track men are quoted as intending to contest the election on the ground that the tickets were printed in a form that made them entirely affirmative, and that voters were not given a fair chance to express themselves. The Werts law makes no provision for contests in special elections, and neither does the special act, which regulated this election, so there is no appeal for the race-track people.

BOYS' CLUB OFFICERS.

Chosen at the Annual Meeting —Treasurer's Report Shows a Balance.

The annual meeting of the Boys' Club Association, that organization which has so successfully managed the club for the mental and physical improvement of the Plainfield boys, was held Saturday evening at the home of Dexter O. Tiffany, of 125 Crescent avenue. In the absence of the president, W. B. Wadsworth, H. M. Maxson was elected chairman of the meeting.

The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, W. B Wadsworth; vice-presidents, Charles J. Fisk, Edward F. Milliken and Augustus D. Shepard; secretary and treasurer, Dexter O. Tiffany; executive committee, A. W. Duxbury, Dr. W. H. Murray and Edward F. Milliken.

The ladies auxilliary of the club was elected the same as last year, Miss Kate Erskine, Mrs. D. W. Pond, Mrs. George H. Frost, Mrs. J. L. Sleven, Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Miss Florence Tweedy and Mrs. John Doull Miller.

The reports of the treasurer and superintendent were read and listened to with much interest. The treasurer's report showed a small balance on hand for the beginning of the new year after all the bills had been paid.

After the reports the remainder of the meeting was spent in talking over plans for the work during the coming year.

Feeney Discharged From the Hospital.

James Feeney, the moulder employed at the Potter Press Works, who was so severely burned last week, was discharged from the hospital today. He will not be able to go to work for several days.

ESCAPES THE GALLOWS.

Chaldea, the Bound Brook Murderer, Sentenced to 20 Years in State Prison.

Joseph Chaldea, the Italian who murdered his wife in Bound Brook during a quarrel last spring, was arraigned in Supreme Court at Somerville this morning and through his counsel, John A. Frech, pleaded non vult to the charge of murder. He was immediately brought before the bar and Judge Magee sentenced him to State prison for a term of twenty years. He was taken back to jail and locked in a cell, where he raised considerable disturbance for some time by his loud and prayerful appeals for mercy and forgiveness.

Chaldea was tried and convicted of murder in the first degree last June and sentenced to be hung in the Somerset county jail in September. His counsel, John H. Frech, secured a new trial for him and his case was set down for this term of court.

Chaldea always maintained that his wife stabbed herself while trying to use a knife with fatal effect on himself.

PERHAPS ONE OF THE MURDERERS.

Louise Rossel Owned Revolver and Coat Found Near the Scene of the Crime.

Louis Rossel was arrested Saturday at Willow Grove, Port Richmond, by Detective Kelly, of Summit, on suspicion of complicity in the murder of James C. Pitts, at Stony Hill, on September 10, and in the assault upon Mary Davis, the colored housekeeper for Pitts, on the same night.

A coat and revolver were found three days ago, hidden under a shed near the Pitts house, and were recognized as the property of Rossel, who was employed by A. G. Woodruff, a neighbor of Pitts, about six months ago. After leaving Woodruff at that time Rossel was employed in New York and Rhode Island, but in the former place under the assumed name of Peter Schmidt.

When arrested Rossel admitted that he owned the revolver and coat found near the Pitts house, but declared they had been stolen from him some time ago.

Two days before the murder a man, whose name is unknown, visited Woodruff and applied for work. He was engaged to return two days later, but, after asking several questions concerning Pitts, his financial affairs and his methods of life, he went away and did not return to work. He informed Woodruff that he had been sent to Summit by Rossel. The man arrested today answers the description of one of the two men who purchased tickets at the Morris and Essex station for Summit, the punched tickets being found the day after the murder near the Pitts house.

FALSE PRETENCES CHARGED.

Frank Day Says He Rented a Rig to a Young Man Who Misrepresented Things.

Isidore De Castro Brittin was arrested September 25th on the charge of securing a horse and buggy from Frank Day, the West Sixth street liveryman, on false pretences. It is alleged in the complaint that he represented himself as being from the Hotel Hunterston, when he had already left the employ of that hostelry, and that he only wanted the carriage for an hour and kept it until the next day. He came before Justice Newcorn this morning for trial, but the case was adjourned until next Monday morning.

CUPID'S SECRET OUT.

Information of a Marriage Gleaned While on a Cycle Trip.

A crowd of Newark cyclists who stopped at McVey's restaurant, on North avenue, yesterday afternoon, amused themselves with Mr. and Mrs. George Peck, who were in their party. It appears that about three weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Peck were married, and their friends did not find it out until yesterday. In consequence they gave them a genuine send off. Showers of rice and old shoes performed an important part in the proceedings, and for awhile the wedded couple were the object of much attention. They returned in safety with their friends.

Visiting Friends Make Her Happy.

Last Saturday afternoon Lewis Wyckoff, of 26 Howard street, gave his daughter, Miss May Wyckoff, a party in honor of the celebration of her tenth birthday. The guests indulged in playing all sorts of games and enjoyed themselves in a general social manner. During the afternoon the guests took a trolley ride to Netherwood and on the return supper was served to all. Those present included the Misses Emma Fritz, Maggie Fritz, Josie Fritz, Lottie Fritz, Maggie Wyckoff, Dottie Casey, Ethel Wyckoff, Eva Higgins, Edna Lewis Master Willie Higgins.

NUPTIAL BOND SEVERED

"CAP" KIRKNER GRANTED A DIVORCE FROM HIS WIFE.

Suit Has Been Pending for Over Two Years in the Court of Chancery—The Decree Granted on "Statutory" Grounds.

Perhaps the most hotly-contested divorce case ever tried from this part of the State, with one exception, is the case decided Saturday last in which J. Caspar Kirkner, of West Eighth street, is declared to be entitled to a decree of absolute divorce from his wife, Frank P. Kirkner, on "statutory" grounds.

The Press has known of this case ever since it was begun over two years ago, but has refrained from making publication of the sensational details of the long drawn out contest out of regard for the wishes of the families interested, and also because of the well-known policy adopted by this newspaper in all such cases. Now, however, that Mr. Kirkner has been completely vindicated from the charges made against him, and has been held by the Court entitled to be forever free from the bonds of matrimony between him and his wife, it is proper the judgment of the Court should be made public.

The testimony was taken by Special Master Herbert W. Knight at Plainfield, Paterson and Newark, and made up over 1,000 pages when printed.

There were many arguments on the different questions arising during the taking of the testimony in which Mr. Kirkner was uniformly successful. The final oral arguments was supplemented by voluminous briefs on both sides, which the opinion refers to as "very full and exhaustive." The Vice Chancellor says that the complainant (the husband) has proved satisfactorily the case against his wife, and is entitled to a decree for divorce based upon this proof. As to the wife's suit against the husband, the Vice Chancellor says that none of the charges has been proved, and the crossbill is, therefore, dismissed.

Craig A. Marsh was counsel for the husband, and William Nelson, of Paterson, counsel for the wife.

WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES.

Walter G Runyon Claims That the Smiths Maliciously Persecuted Him.

Walter G. Runyon, of Elizabeth, has commenced suit through his attorneys Pope & Runyon, of this city, against C. A. Smith, C. E. Smith and Jesse Bendick, of the C. A. Smith Coal and Lumber Company, of Fanwood, for $10,000 damages for malicious prosecution. In January of this year the Smith Company had Runyon indicted for obtaining under false pretenses a quantity of building materials valued at $246.

The evidence brought out at the trial was to the effect that Runyon had paid the bill by giving the Smith company an order upon a third party which they had sold before securing an indictment against Runyon. At the trial the latter was acquitted, and now seeks reparation for what he considers a malicious use of the machinery of the law.

HURT IN A GYMNASIUM.

Young Myers Struck on His Head and Had to be Taken to the Hospital.

Charles Myers, aged 19 years, and a son of Charles Myers, Sr., the gymnastic instructor at the Saenger and Turner Hall, met with a serious accident yesterday forenoon, while he was turning in the hall on Somerset street. He had performed several feats successfully, but in turning a handspring he landed on his head with considerable force. The blow caused unconsciousness, and for a time young Myers lay in a comatose state. He was removed to the hospital. The examination developed the fact that no bones were broken. The back of the neck is badly bruised and very sore. Myers is unable to move his head to any extent. The physician in charge does not apprehend any serious results and thinks that Myers will be able to go out in a short time.

Caught Her Finger in the Wringer.

Jennie Kramer, aged seventeen months, of 500 West Third street, was taken to the hospital last evening about 6 o'clock suffering with a compound fracture of the finger next to the little finger on the right hand. She together with some other children were playing with a clothes-wringer when the little girl's finger became fastened between the rollers, causing the fracture.

Big Fire in Elizabeth.

The grain elevator and buildings of the Paul T. Norton Company, Third street and Broadway, Elizabeth, were destroyed by fire this morning at 4 o'clock, entailing a loss of $50,000. The fire started in the office. The Norton Company have a branch store on East Front street, this city. The fire will not interfere with the company's business.

STARVING AT DAWSON

Five Thousand Miners Have Food for a Few Weeks Only.

FLEEING FROM SURE DEATH

Some Have Dared the Perils of Snow-Bound Trails to Escape—Rescuers Going to Get the Others—Camp Seized by Pestilence.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 4.—Hunger and death is the inevitable for the large number of miners at Dawson City. They have waited patiently for the big transportation companies to get food up the river, but by this time have learned that not another steamer can reach even Circle City on account of low water on the Yukon flats.

To make matters worse 300 miners, most of them having small fortunes in gold, are blockaded at Dawson. They cannot get down the river to St. Michael, and their only possible way of escape is to attempt the dangers of a Winter trip over Dalton trail, through terrific snow storms, and with the thermometer ranging from 20 to 25 degrees below zero. Dogs being scarce, very few can make this journey.

The steamer Farrallon arrived here Saturday from Skaguay with 110 returning prospectors, and the steamer North Fork touched here the same night, going to Tacoma with 28 returning prospectors.

Food Nearly Gone at Dawson.

One of the prospectors on the Farrallon is Louis Long, direct from Dawson City, which place he left Aug. 26, coming out on the Dalton trail. The Dalton trail is passable for a week or two yet. Here is what Long says of the conditions at Dawson:

"When I left Dawson the stores had stopped selling supplies, and restaurants had closed because they could get nothing to cook. Provisions will be scarce, although many of the miners are leaving. In my opinion, 200 or 300 will come out over the Dalton trail within the next few days, while a great many others are going down by St. Michael.

Fleeing from the Famished Place.

"It was a great mistake in trading companies to bring so much whisky up the river, instead of supplies. Before we left Dawson nine cattle had been driven in and four of them butchered. Choice cuts brought $1.50 per pound, while a soup bone was worth 50 cents. I paid $1 and $1.25 per pound for elk meat. We got out as quickly as possible.

"We crossed the Summit Sept. 21 in a snow storm, and had Indian guides to show us the way. We had to wade knee-deep in snow. We met the Sharp party twelve miles this side of Summit with their cattle, and it seemed to me doubtful whether they would get in."

FEVER STILL UNCHECKED.

Difficulty of Holding an Interstate Conference Over It.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 4.—The proposed health conference between the Texas and Louisiana health authorities as proposed by Gov. Foster to Gov. Culberson, of Texas, may take place either at Galveston or St. Louis. Dr. Oliphant, president of the local board, has not heard yet from Gov. Foster on the matter, but has expressed a willingness to meet Dr. Swearington, health officer of Texas, at any point agreed on. The decision, according to Gov. Culberson's telegram, will rest with Gov. Foster. Dr. Oliphant said he could take a tug and go to Galveston, undergo quarantine there, and confer with the Texas official.

The better plan, he seems to think, would be to meet Dr. Swearington in St. Louis, which is reached from here in twenty-six hours. Such a course would be free from the restraint of the general quarantine regulations throughout the fever-stricken region. Up to last night there were twenty-five new cases reported here, with two deaths, one an Italian and the other a man named John Dullivan, from Algiers.

No Reconciliation of the Booths.

Montclair, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Ballington Booth yesterday denied the truth of the report, sent from Detroit, that the Booths were reconciled and that the Volunteers of America would soon be amalgamated with the Salvation Army. "The dispatch is utterly without foundation. Commander Ballington Booth and his followers are not leaders of the Volunteers because of any personal grievance or petty differences of opinion between them and the Salvation Army, but on an entirely different issue, which involves an irreconcilable difference between democratic and autocratic government. The Volunteers were never stronger in their faith and more determined to push forward their work.

Had Yellow Jack on Board.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 4.—The Norwegian steamship John Wilson, from Bocas del Toro, United States of Colombia, for Philadelphia, with a cargo of bananas for the Quaker City Fruit Company, arrived off the national quarantine station at noon yesterday for medical assistance. Yellow fever was discovered on the vessel, and the chief engineer, John Petersen, died of it at sea on Friday last. His body was taken ashore and buried in lime in the Marine Hospital Cemetery. The chief officer of the vessel was attacked with yellow fever before the vessel cleared and was put ashore at Bocas del Toro.

Racing Amendment Adopted.

Trenton, Oct. 4.—Semi-official returns received from all of the counties show that the anti-gambling amendment to the Constitution was adopted by a majority of 612. The amendment forbidding the ad interim appointment by the Governor of persons whom the Senate has refused to confirm was adopted by a majority of 7,006. The amendment giving women the right to vote at school elections in municipalities where school boards are selected by popular vote was defeated by a majority of 10,295.

The Wreck Off Ocean City.

Atlantic City, Oct. 4.—Yesterday morning the crew of the schooner that capsized off Ocean City were rescued, after they had passed a night of terror. The vessel proves to be the Henry May of Portland, Me., a schooner of 179 tons net register. She was bound from the James River to Portland with a cargo of pilings.

SLANDER SUITS FOR $400,000.

Following the Breaking of a Marriage Engagement.

New York, Oct. 4.—Two slander suits for $100,000 damages each, brought by James T. Hatfield, of Hackensack, against Elias H. Sisson and his son, Elias H. Sisson, Jr., of Tenafly, N. J., will be filed in this city to-day.

The Sissons are wealthy, the father being a director of the Northern Railroad of New Jersey and the owner of a weekly publication of this city devoted to amateur athletics. Father and son are members of the Tenafly Club, an exclusive organization, are prominent in society circles, and are credited with being Democratic local leaders.

Hatfield met his employer's daughter, Miss Nancy May Sisson, and became enamored of her. Several months ago their engagement was announced. Society was looking forward to a June wedding when suddenly it learned that Miss Sisson had gone to Wisconsin and that the engagement was off.

Hatfield wants damages on the ground that the Sissons caused him to lose money in business, prestige in society, and a prospective bride. In addition to the suits to be filed in this city to-day, he has begun duplicate suits in New Jersey, so that the entire amount involved is $400,000. In New York his counsel will be Edward A. Sumner, and in New Jersey the firm of McEwen & McEwen.

NEBRASKA'S GREAT PROSPERITY.

Clearing House Figures for September Tell a Pleasing Story.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—The extraordinary business activity in Nebraska is indicated by the Clearing House report for September. The report shows Omaha figures: For September, 1895, $15,000,000; for September, 1896, $13,000,000; for September, 1897, $23,000,000. This shows an increase for the month of $10,000,000. The local bankers attribute the great improvement to the great quantity of money handled as a result of the movement of crops and the revival in stock trade and other commercial business.

The payment of an enormous amount of mortgages was noticed during the month. A great deal of money was also loaned on real estate in the interior of the State, with which to open up new farms. This great impetus given the money market is not confined to the local banks, the bankers of the city declare, but to the entire State, and to the States of Kansas, South Dakota and Iowa. It is the best showing ever made in the history of the local Clearing House.

The bankers declare that even a more pronounced improvement may be expected next month. Much more money is being borrowed throughout the State than was the case three months ago. The complaint then was that the farmers had all the cash they wanted and the banks could not lend their capital. Now the farmers are beginning to invest heavily in additional lands and stocks. The money is being loaned 2 per cent. cheaper than ever in the State's history, and securities are not being examined as carefully as previously.

POPE'S LIFE NEARING AN END.

The Pontiff's Condition Growing Steadily Weaker.

Rome, Oct. 4.—The condition of the Pope continues grave. He seems to be growing rapidly weaker, and often sinks into fainting spells, from which it is difficult to arouse him. For the past two years the Pope's health has been far from good. At times he has shown signs of weakness, but he has rallied under the great efforts of the Vatican physicians. The doctors have insisted on the Pope, who is 87 years old, leaving the bulk of his work to be done by secretaries, but this advice he has disregarded, believing that hard work, a careful diet, and as much exercise as he could stand were as beneficial as rest.

The Pope's death in the near future is now regarded as so near a probability that the Cardinals are already discussing his successor. Cardinal Satolli, who was a former delegate from the Pope to the Catholic Church in the United States, is being named as his possible successor.

UNKNOWN SHIP LOST.

Forty-five Sailors Perish in a Hurricane.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 4.—The British barkentine St. Peter, before reported having been passed at sea and making for Halifax in distress, arrived here yesterday. She was partly dismasted in a hurricane that struck her on the night of Sept. 8, compelling her to put about for Halifax in order to repair the damage.

Capt. Skaling brings the report that the storm through which his vessel passed was the cause of sending to the bottom a four-masted iron sailing ship, which must have carried a crew of at least forty-five men.

New Ministry for Greece.

Athens, Oct. 4.—It is officially announced that a new Cabinet to replace that of M. Ralli, which resigned on Thursday, has been constituted as follows:

M. Zaimis, Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs.
M. Korpas, Minister of the Interior.
M. Streit, Minister of Finance.
M. Toman, Minister of Justice.
M. Panagiotopoulo, Minister of Public Instruction.
Gen. Smolenski, Minister of War.
M. Delyannis, formerly Prime Minister, threatens to overthrow the new Ministry in the Chamber, where his supporters comprise a majority, reiterating his declaration that no Ministry will be acceptable to him of which he himself is not the head.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Young, of Trenton, is visiting her cousin, Miss Helen Boice, of East Front street.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. Mattison and her daughter, Miss Nettie Mattison, of Church street, have gone to Ashville, where they will reside permanently.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Worth, of Grove street, spent Sunday at Phœnixville.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Samuel H. Edwards and family, of Carthage, N. Y., will take possession of their residence on LaGrande avenue this week.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

IN EXTRA SESSION

Congress May Be Called for Next Month.

MUCH WORK TO BE DONE

Lawmakers Want Early Adjournment to Conduct Their Campaigns. The President Wants to Have the Currency Question Settled.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Gossip has it in political circles that a number of prominent members of the Senate and House have suggested to President McKinley that it would be a good idea to call Congress together in extra session on the ninth day of November. It is said that the President has not yet fully made up his mind. The argument is advanced that by so doing the legislators could get to work nearly a month earlier than if Congress met on the 6th of December, the regular time for assembling.

Just before the House adjourned in July Speaker Reed named the committees. Nearly all the Republicans agree that if their party is to be successful in the elections next year, it is absolutely necessary that the coming session should be brought to a close at the earliest possible moment. To have Congress remain in activity until July, August, or possibly September, of 1898, means that the average Republican, who is renominated, cannot get out in his district to run his campaign, and this is a most important matter to those who will have to run in districts that are close when party lines are tightly drawn.

The President, according to some of his political friends, wants to have the currency question settled. The belief is general that he will recommend to Congress that the recommendations of the Monetary Commission shall be adopted, and the chances are that the anti-gold standard Senators will fight that proposition to the last ditch. There will be the Cuban question to consider, unless the rebellion should end, and the Hawaiian annexation treaty is another momentous matter that will have to be considered.

Ordinarily the appropriation bills consume from six to seven months before they can be disposed of. Speaker Reed is known to favor an extra session, but it is not stated that he would personally request the President to call it. It is understood that he prefers to leave the whole matter to the President.

PLAN TO FREE CUBA.

Report that Our Government Would Guarantee $200,000,000 to Spain.

New York, Oct. 4.—A report has reached this city from Havana regarding a plan to free Cuba. It is generally believed in that city that in case the Spanish Government should accept the good offices of the United States to end the war in the island the American Government would try to reach an understanding with the foremost revolutionary leaders before offering to Spain any form of settlement.

This belief, it is said, is supported by trustworthy advices from Washington and Madrid. The plan most likely to be followed would take the form of an offer to Spain of $200,000,000 for her recognition of the independence of Cuba. This indemnity would be paid in cash, and to raise the money the republic would issue bonds, based on the customs receipts and guaranteed by the United States Government. The American Government would have the full management and administration of the custom houses of Cuba until the total debt should be paid by the shareholders of the loan.

It is said that this plan will be backed by a powerful syndicate of financial men of the United States and will be suggested to Spain in case of a favorable answer to Minister Woodford's friendly note.

It is estimated that under the honest management the custom houses of Cuba in normal times would yield a net annual revenue of $18,000,000. All the business men and landowners of the island would probably favor the plan. The greatest difficulty in its way would be to secure the consent of the Banco Hispano Colonial, of Barcelona, which represents the shareholders in the Spanish loans of 1886 and 1890.

CLEVELAND FOR JUDGE.

His Friends Approach Gov. Griggs, but Get Little Encouragement.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 4.—The return of the family of ex-President Cleveland to Princeton has again started gossip as to the future of Mr. Cleveland. Within the past week it has been suggested by New Jersey Democrats that he might be chosen to succeed United States Senator Smith if the Democrats control the Legislature in 1899. With so many ambitious Jerseymen in line, however, the chances of the ex-President are not regarded as very promising, and some of his friends have started a movement to have him appointed judge of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals to succeed the late William L. Dayton. Conspicuous alumni of Princeton are interested in the movement, and Gov. Griggs has been approached. The Governor is said to have been non-committal, but as he has declined to appoint several Republicans from this county on the ground that other counties should receive consideration, there is doubt expressed as to his willingness to appoint Mr. Cleveland.

Heads on the Block.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The Department of Agriculture is financially embarrassed, and, although it is not likely to be forced into the hands of a receiver, stringent retrenchment is the order of the day, and discharged employes are likely to be numerous. Yesterday twelve women clerks were laid off, and further reductions will follow every few days during October.

Inadequate appropriations are said to be the cause, but it is considered strange that this condition has only just been discovered, and that those selected for discharge should have been placed on the rolls during Sterling Morton's regime.

Arrested the Salvationists.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 4.—Capt. Hurdman and five other members of the Salvation Army were arrested last evening while conducting services at Broad and Front streets, in the centre of the city. They were taken to the police station and locked up. One of them, who has a sick wife, accepted an offer of bail, but the other five refused.

NEW YORK'S BIG FIGHT

Voters Blinded to the True Issues of the Campaign.

SPOILS OF THE STRUGGLE

Power of an Empire at Stake—A Third of a Billion Dollars to Spend—Greatest Municipal Campaign in History.

New York, Oct. 4.—The fury of the factional fight of the politicians of Greater New York has blinded the voters to the true issues of the momentous campaign. What should be the grandest effort in the history of the municipalities of America for all that is honest in government has been resolved into a bitter, conscienceless struggle for the control of a third of a billion dollars to spend under each recurring administration. Behind the masks of some of the most prominent men in the metropolis who have been nominated for Mayor are aggregations inflated with all the professional politicians that the leaders could rake and scrape.

Here are the spoils of the struggle:

Cleaning and repairing of 1,300 miles of streets.

Maintenance of 700 miles of sewers.

Spending of $75,000,000 a year.

Places for 33,000 party workers.

Assessment of $2,500,000,000 of property.

Control of more than half of the government of the State.

Distribution of $33,000,000 to officeholders.

Control of 125 miles of wharfage.

The welding of a half a dozen cities into the Greater New York, that will be larger than most of our States, larger than nations of the world that boast a king—an empire in itself—is a master stroke of municipal government that will put its Mayor in a position second only in extent of power to that of the President of the United States. The famous convention of 1787 formulated a government for 3,000,000 persons; the political conventions of the present campaign in New York are formulating the government for 3,400,000 persons.

Big as a Nation.

Greater New York has a greater population than any State in the Union with the exception of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, and the people of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah and Nevada would hardly replace the people in the new metropolis in numbers, for it will have a population of three and a quarter millions. It has as many people as Algeria, as many as Saxony, as many as Wurtemberg and Alsace-Lorraine together; more than Bulgaria, half as many as Egypt, twice as many as in Cuba, nearly as many as Portugal, more than Norway, Chile, Peru, Switzerland, Greece or Denmark, and Hawaii would only make a good ward. Its population equals the size of 120 armies like the standing army of the United States, and if the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the mammoth new steamship, were to transport the population to Europe it would take twelve years to do it.

In this new nation, the control of which Richard Croker has come from England to secure, there will be 1,040 miles of surface traction lines and 160 miles of elevated roads, so that it is not surprising that the street car companies are a power behind the throne. The area in square miles will be 306. New York will have 167,000 buildings, of which 130,000 are residences. Its people drink 10,200,000 gallons of beer annually, and 100,000 arrests are made each year for intoxication and disorderly conduct. There are 1,186 places of worship. The annual receipts of the theatres and music halls are $2,500,000. There are 125 miles of wharfage and 712 newspapers. The place will be 35 miles long.

FITZ MUST FIGHT CORBETT.

The American Champion Should Meet All Comers.

New York, Oct. 4.—Bob Fitzsimmons must fight Jim Corbett again. This is the opinion which every sporting man in this country has at the present time. Unless the auburn-haired Australian pugilist comes out of his hiding place very soon and accepts Corbett's challenge and agrees to give him another chance to regain his lost laurels, Bob will be looked upon by the sporting public as our champion coward.

Fitzsimmons is the first champion who ever had the nerve to refuse to defend the title against all comers.

This country could always feel proud of John L. Sullivan when he was our real champion, for John L. was a fighter who never refused to fight and defend the title whenever he was challenged by a foreigner; but this cannot be said of our present champion. Fitzsimmons has surprised every one in this country by the mean way in which he has flunked away from every challenge which has been thrown in his face.

If he expects to be looked upon as our champion, the best thing for him to do is to enter the ring and fight again. If he doesn't do something in regard to the challenges which have already been hurled at him by Corbett and Goddard and Sharkey, he will sink in sporting scales.

Postmaster Loftin to Quit.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—The citizens of Hogansville, some of whom tried to assassinate their colored postmaster, J. H. Loftin, will soon be relieved of Mr. Loftin's presence. It is said that he has accepted a remunerative clerkship in Washington.

Loftin, after the shooting, volunteered to continue his duties at Hogansville, even though he felt certain that to do so was to court death. The Washington authorities, among them President McKinley, who has taken a special interest in this case, believed it wisest not to further inflame the prejudices of Hogansville people, and the resignation is the result.

$5,000 Burglary in Paterson.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 4.—When Mrs. Elizabeth Voorhis, a widow, returned home last night from services at the Broadway Reformed Church, she found the lights burning brightly in the house. On entering she found that burglars had ransacked every room and scattered the contents of every bureau on about the floor. The door of the safe in one of the rooms had been left open; the burglars helped themselves to the money and jewelry. Mrs. Voorhis estimates that about five thousand dollars' worth of money and jewelry was stolen.

GIRLS AND ATHLETICS.

The clever and pretty young women who attend Plainfield's High School are forming a Girls' Athletic Association. The upper part of the Whittier School building will be fitted up for their use. At first basket ball will be the principal diversion. The work will be inaugurated by the organization of class teams, which will contest with one another. Such an action on the part of the girls is to be highly commended. Young women, around whom even yet social customs form a prohibitory barrier in certain directions, are entitled to exercise the body as well as the mind. They will be only the better for good healthy exercise and as their brothers are doing, ensure their constitutions against the battle of life. The example set by Plainfield could well be followed in Trenton, particulary after we secure our new High School.—Trenton Times.

RIGHT AND MIGHT AT LAST

It is seldom that one can feel the pang of defeat and the elation of victory over one subject, but such is the curious condition of affairs that exists in relation to the fate of the anti-gambling Constitutional amendment. The gamblers and the Christians came in for a share of each, but the latter's portion as the real result became known suggests the quotation that "he who laughs last laughs best"—even though the fact that the matter is not a jesting one makes the aphorism slightly inapt. The final knowledge that the moralists have won their point and that New Jersey influences of race-track history are routed beyond resustication shows what right and might can do when linked together.

OPPOSITION TO A LEADER.

From what has been learned of the action of the Middlesex Republican county executive committee at its meeting on Saturday, it is believed there will be a move to supersede Robert Carson as leader in Middlesex. Benjamin F. Howell's name has been suggested by the opposition. This is due to the fact that the committee voted to place someone else on the committee to represent a ward in the city of Perth Amboy, formerly represented by Milton A. Edgar, a prominent Republican of Middlesex county.

The result of the special election shows that there is need for some radical changes in the manner of counting and reporting the vot s of New Jersey. Why a great State like New Jersey, set in the very heart of the most progressive and up to-date section of the United States, should tolerate a system that permits the result to remain shrouded in doubt for almost a whole week, is a mystery that should be solved at the very next session of the Legislature.

"All things come to him who waits." Peculiarly applicable, indeed, is this to the moral forces of New Jersey just at present.

—The best definition of civilization is the art of making the most of what we are, and what we have. You can do that and meanwhile demonstrate your high culture by buying your dress trimmings at Pecks.

William Jennings, of Watchung avenue, has returned after spending a week in Somerville.

Lester Waltom, of Craig place, has returned from the New York Military Academy for a few days.

George Randolph, of Park avenue, has resigned his position in New York which he held temporarily.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Newhall are now residing at the corner of Arlington avenue and West Ninth street.

Mrs. Harry Brokaw, of Philadelphia, has returned home after a visit with North Plainfield relatives.

R. F. R. Huntsman and family, of Westervelt avenue, have returned from Belmar where they spent the summer.

Owen Smith, of Watchung avenue, attended a dinner at Elizabeth last Friday evening given by the Junior Press Club of that place.

Frank Randolph, of West Front street, has returned from Westerly, R. I., where he attended the wedding of Frank Smith, of this city.

Wm. Flanders, of Scotch Plains, expects to go south in a short time, and he will probably take up his residence permanently in that section.

Bert Harold, Richard Randolph and Herbert Martin, of this city, will go to Metuchen this week to attend a musical in which Bert Harold will take part.

Mrs Edward A. Smith, of 104 Summit avenue, left for Binghamton, N. Y., on Saturday where she will join her husband who is on his way home from his western trip.

Mrs. Morgan S. Taylor and her daughter, Miss Edith Taylor, have returned to Plainfield, after an absence of two years, most of which time has been spent abroad.

Wilson W. Smith, formerly of Madison avenue, has rented the former residence of Henry B. Newhall, at 144 East Seventh street, and will take possession next week.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Zeisz, of Chatham street, and Charles Van-Middlesworth, of Brooklyn, will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 27th, at the home of the bride.

Miss Moss, superintendent at Muhlenberg Hospital, who has been enjoying a month's vacation at the Delaware Water Gap, will return to her duties at the hospital next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, of Crescent avenue, have returned to Plainfield after spending the summer at their summer home at the Thousand Islands.

At an early date Miss Grace Overton, of Washington Park, expects to enter the Emerson School of Oratory at Boston. Miss Overton has much talent as an elocutionist and she will no doubt gain a high point of success in her admirable work.

BUT ONE CADET COMPANY.

Borough Military Boys Join the Corps on This Side of the Brook.

This school year will see but one company of school cadets in this city and borough. Last year, there were two regularly organized companies, one in the Plainfield High School and one in the North Plainfield High School. Both were of fair size and were under the instruction of Captain George F. Edwards. Now, all the officers and larger boys who were in the North Plainfield cadet corps have left that school and the number of cadets is reduced to sixteen. The cadet company on this side of the brook numbers about thirty in all and many of the officers remain.

The Plainfield cadets were very much in favor of admitting the North Plainfield boys to their ranks and last Thursday a meeting of the borough cadet corps was held and the question of annexation put to vote. The borough company decided to unite with their comrades over the brook. The uniforms are the same except that the borough boys have N. P. H S. on their caps while the Plainfield boys have P. H. S. on theirs. The difference is small, however, and the cadets will form one company without regard to the extra letter on the caps of the annexed company. The new company will be known as the Plainfield High School Cadets.

PASSING COMMENT.

There is a church in Little Silver, one of the small places on the Jersey coast, where there hangs on the walls of the edifice a sign that would be considered very strange indeed if seen in a Plainfield church. The sign reads: "Please do not expectorate on the floor." Why such a sign is necessary in such a place it does not say.

The sight of fine strawberries growing at this season of the year out of doors, is one rarely witnessed in this section of the country. Christian Herlich, a Warrenville farmer, enjoys the distintion of having a fine bed of the fruit now ripe and ready for picking. A few days ago this favored fruit grower brought a quartr of his berries to this city and presented them to J. F. MacDonald, the East Front street grocer, who speaks highly of the flavor of the berries.

Day and Fred Emerson Brooks. There will also be a large chorus and an orchestra, both composed of local talent.

The Westfield Junior football team played its first game of the season with the Dunellen Juniors on the North Broad street grounds, Saturday morning, defeating the visiting team by the score of 14 to 0. Features of the game were the fine playing of Edward Vought at fullback, and the two 30-yard runs around the ends, made by Edgar Foster.

The Westfield Club's football team went to Cranford Saturday afternoon and played its first game in the Journal League series with the Cranford Athletic Club's team. The game was won by Westfield by the score of 6 to 0. Cranford won the toss and chose the west goal. From the start Westfield showed itself the stronger team, and Cranford found it impossible to stop the opposing backs from making continual gains of five and ten yards each through their lines. Westfield's fullback made a twenty-five-yard run, scoring a goal within the first ten minutes. Cranford protested the score on the ground that the umpire had called time before the goal was made. Westfield conceded the point and then hammered Cranford's line for a touchdown and kicked a goal. Before any additional points were made time was called on the first half. Cranford then refused to play the second half, claiming that Westfield had made the touchdown on an offside play, and announcing their intention to protest the game before the league. The umpire accordingly awarded the game to Westfield. Next Saturday the Westfield Club's team will play its second game in the Journal League series with the Crescents, of Plainfield, on the North Broad street grounds.

HOSPITAL FOR SOMERVILLE.

Liberal Citizens of the Town Endeavoring to Establish Such an Institution.

Some forty or fifty substantial men and women of the substantial town of Somerville came together last week to show their interest in the local Emergency Hospital and to learn something about the work and methods of hospitals in general. Hon. J. J. Bergen acted as chairman, and introduced Dr. Woodhull, of Washington, prominent in the surgical service of the United States. This gentleman gave a very instructive talk in relation to modern hospital work, and explained—with the help of black-board and chalk—how to secure the best results at the least cost in constituting hospitals suited to the needs of small towns.

The chairman then introduced H. P. Reynolds, a representative of Muhlenberg Hospital, of Plainfield, who began by saying that while the fifteen minutes alloted to him should suffice for all he knew about hospitals, it would require all night to tell what he did not know. He could not assume to advise the citizens of Somerville just what sort of hospital was needed in their town, or what it might cost. But he would, from memory and printed reports, give the audience a chapter from the experience of the Plainfield hospital which, organized in 1877, and opened in 1883, had become a popular, useful and well-established local institution. In a conversational manner Mr. Reynolds pointed out some of the difficulties likely to be met, some of the objections to be expected; and contrasted the standing of Muhlenberg in 1883 with its present standing. Mr. Reynolds told how the hospital was supported in Plainfield, and advised a system of annual subscriptions as the main reliance. He reminded his hearers of the successful Kermess of last year, and cordially invited them and all their friends to attend the grand Spiel-Karten Fest, (now in course of preparation) to be opened to the public November 8th to 13th, and intended to eclipse any show ever given in Plainfield.

On the suggestion of the chair, brief remarks were made by local physicians and clergymen favoring the proposed erection of a suitable "cottage hospital," after which the meeting adjourned.

Long live Somerville! Do the people of Plainfield fully appreciate the enterprise, the intelligence of that ancient borough, and the growth it has made of late years in all that makes for civilization and home life?

WEYLER MAY REFUSE TO QUIT.

Claims He Has a Two Years' Contract With Spain.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—It is perfectly understood in Madrid that Weyler is the cause of the Ministerial crisis. The Queen, as well as Azcarraga, objects to his continuation in Cuba; but a strong military party, mostly composed of officers who have obtained promotions and decorations from Weyler during previous military campaigns, support him in Madrid. Naturally, the Queen and Government were afraid of the Weyler clique and of the effect that demonstrations in which high officers of the army might take part would have on the discipline of the army in Cuba, as on the public mind here and in the United States.

Weyler is entirely capable of disobeying orders if recalled. As Captain-General of the Canary Islands on a previous occasion, he refused to obey orders of recall, and the Government had to resort to energetic measures to compel his obedience. Weyler now declares that he has a contract with the Spanish Government, and that by that contract he is given two years for ending the war in Cuba, and that the term has not expired.

The Queen was much annoyed at this state of affairs, and the first step she took on arriving at Madrid was to call to her Gen. Polavieja, in whom she has full confidence, who at one time was Captain-General of Cuba, and who recently put down an insurrection in the Philippine Islands, where he was sent at the Queen's express desire and against the will of Canovas, who feared his influence.

Polavieja promised the Queen that he would take the responsibility of bringing Weyler back from Cuba, and prevent any hostile demonstrations on the part of Weyler's friends.

Polavieja is a very energetic man, very popular in the army and entirely capable of fulfilling his promise. Although in bad health, he showed himself ready to accept any post, if the rebellious attitude of Weyler's friends makes it necessary. The Queen was thus reassured. She called Azcarraga and delicately hinted at the necessity of the Ministerial resignations.

She was alarmed, however, at Azcarraga's weakness in dealing with Weyler. Azcarraga's attitude towards Weyler is all the more extraordinary in that he has always been known as the personal enemy of the present Captain-General of Cuba, but he supported him from fear of his clique. The Queen was also offended at the idea which several papers suggested, that she was completely under the influence of Tetuan. She was much angered, besides, at the extraordinary precautions taken by the authorities on her arrival in Madrid on Tuesday night, which were so extreme that the Imparcial, although a Dynastical paper, declared that even Napoleon, when he entered the Spanish capital, had not taken such extraordinary measures to protect his life. The Queen being a very proud woman, these incidents resulted in completing her determination to change the Ministry.

Such is the true history of the crisis.

CITZENS TICKET FOR TO-NIGHT.

Committee of 289 Expected to Adopt It with Thanks.

New York, Oct. 4.—The Sun of this morning publishes the following:

For Mayor, Seth Low of Manhattan.

For Comptroller, Charles S. Fairchild or J. Harsen Rhoades of Manhattan.

For President of the Council, Major John D. Kieley of Brooklyn.

For President of the Borough of Manhattan, Robert J. Hoguet.

For County Clerk, Alderman Benjamin E. Hall.

For Sheriff, Edward F. McSweeney, Deputy Commissioner of Immigration.

For Register, John B. Pannes.

For District Attorney, William Travis Jerome or Wallace MacFarlane.

For Justices of the Supreme Court, Charles H. Van Brunt and George P. Andrews.

Such is the slate that will probably be presented to the Citizens' Committee on Organization to-night, when it meets in Hardman Hall to ratify the report of the Executive Committee in respect to nominations.

NEW BIG WIRE TRUST.

Capitalized at $50,000,000 and to Buy All the Mills.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Ex-Judge Gary, one of the largest holders of stock in the Consolidated Wire Company, announces the launching of a trust to control the wire, barbed wire and wire nail interests of the country. The capital stock of the new combine will be at least $50,000,000, and possibly $80,000,000.

"It is true," admitted Judge Gary, "that we have a plan on foot to combine a number, or, rather, a majority, of the barbed wire and wire nail mills of the country into one concern. The new company will buy mills outright, giving in exchange either cash or stock.

"We have assurances of some of the largest moneyed men in New York that there will be no trouble in financing the new company. The capital will be at least $50,000,000."

Armor Contracts Completed.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The deliveries of armor for the battleships Kearsarge and Kentucky, under contracts made two years ago, have been completed, with the exception of some plates for the turrets, and within a month both of the big armor plants which have supplied the navy with all the armor for the sides of its war vessels will, for the first time in the history of the new navy, be unemployed. The present contract represented over 6,000 tons of all classes of armor, costing the Government on an average of $550 a ton, or $250 more than the department now offers the firms for furnishing plates to three more battleships authorized.

Swallowed a Dose of Chloral.

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Theodore Porter, Minister of Finance for the Hawaiian Republic when it was first established in 1893, attempted suicide at Golden Gate Park last night by swallowing a dose of chloral and cutting veins in both his wrists. He was picked up by a policeman and taken to the receiving hospital, where his life was saved by the attending physicians. He now lies in a very precarious state at the home of a friend.

END OF A BOOM TOWN

EVERYBODY WHO INVESTED IN IT LOST MONEY.

Property of Florence, Alabama, which was Worth $3,000,000 Sold Under the Hammer for $60,000—What the Advertising Scheme of Sharks Accomplished.

All of the property of the Florence, Ala., Land, Mining and Manufacturing Company and the Florence educational Land and Development Company was recently sold at public auction. The property sold was at one time worth $3,000,000. It was bought at the sale for $60,000. This sale brought to a close one of the most remarkable real estate booms of recent times. There are few cities in the land that do not contain one or more men who were drawn into the wild speculation which attended the launching of the Florence boom nine years ago. It was the best advertised boom of that boom period.

The promoters of the boom boasted that Florence would become the Philadelphia of the South, and that so pleased Philadelphians that hundreds of thousands of good Philadelphia dollars were exchanged for corner lots in the promising city and for preferred stock in Florence enterprises. The sale of this promperty recalled to the citizens the memories of other days when town lots changed hands half a dozen times a day at exceedingly high prices, when the spirit of speculation was rife in the land and ministers of the gospel were not averse to investing some of their slender salaries in Florence dirt at so much a front foot. The fall of 1888 witnessed a most exciting time in the town of Florence. The Florence Land Company, which had been organized the previous year, began active work then. Thousands of dollars were spent in advertising the town. Speculators rushed in from every part of the country. The town grew in three months from a sleepy river village of twelve hundred souls to a bustling boom town of seven thousand speculative spirits, each striving to get rich in a day.

So great was the excitement at that time that two additional trains daily were put on by the Memphis and Charleston Railroad to accomodate the crowds that flocked to Florence. Property which a few months before was not considered worth $500 was held for $25,000, and sold readily at that figure. Lots out of the business part of the town sold for $150 a front foot. Land companies were organized upon a half hour's notice, and manufacturing enterprises jumped into existence in a night. Out of the boom grew many banks, and when the excitement began to subside, the banks began to subside also. There were three bank failures within as many weeks, and public confidence was so badly shaken that the old-fashioned yarn stocking again became popular as a savings institution.

The recent land sale severed the last tie that bound the Florence of to-day to the Florence of the boom period. Prices have become normal and the town has fully recovered from the disastrous effects of the boom.

While nearly every one who speculated in Florence property lost money, the town itself was benefitted. It increased in population more than 500 per cent. in two years and its population to-day is more than 7,000. It has many handsome buildings and large manufacturing plants it would not otherwise have had. Its streets have been well graded and paved, making them as solid and as smooth as any in the State. But with all this Florence is not anxious for another boom. It is well satisfied with the last one, as an experiment.

Counting Money.

"I've seen men chopping wood in their shirt sleeves with the sleeves rolled up," said Mr. Bugleton, "and laying brick and all that sort of thing, but the other day I saw a man counting money in his shirt sleeves. And that at first seemed sort of queer, because it seems as though it would be such an easy thing to count money if you only had it. But this man was in a bank, counting money all day long and doing nothing else; taking the deposits as they came in and counting them into bundles of like denominations and uniform amounts, so that they would be easy to handle and to pay out again. And it was a very hot day; and this was work, just like anything else; and so it was perfectly natural that he should plug away at it in his shirt sleeves, and with the sleeves rolled up."

Teacher: "What is a synonym?"
Boy: "It is a word you can use in the place of another when you don't know how to spell the other one."

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

GEN. NEAL DOW.

Sketch of the "Father of Prohibition"—Many Good Deeds.

Portland, Me., Oct. 4.—Gen. Neal Dow, the "Father of Prohibition," who peacefully passed away on Saturday afternoon, had attained the great age of 93. Without education other than that to be obtained in preparatory schools and in judicious reading, he had lifted himself from obscurity to world-wide fame. On his ninetieth birthday he received messages from every quarter of the globe.

Mr. Dow was descended from early settlers of New England. His father was a prosperous banker. The son, upon his majority, was admitted to the firm of Josiah Dow & Co., and became prominent in the city as a director of various banks and other mercantile companies.

As a young man, Gen. Dow was fond of music and athletics. He was an expert oarsman, boxer, fencer and swimmer, and by his skill on the water he saved two lives. He became interested early in politics, made his first speech and cast his first vote for John Quincy Adams, was attracted by the anti-slavery and the temperance movements and gave his life up to their advancement. In 1880 he was the Presidential candidate of the Prohibition party.

He was elected Mayor of Portland in 1857 as a Whig, and in 1858 as a Republican. While serving his first term he brought about the enactment of "the Maine law," and won his title of "Father of Prohibition."

Gen. Dow represented Portland in the Legislature in 1859 and 1860. At the outbreak of the war he was active in supporting the efforts of Maine to send troops to the front. He raised a regiment of infantry and a battery of artillery, and as Colonel of the Thirteenth Maine Volunteers went to join Butler on the Gulf. He distinguished himself and won the praise of Butler for gallantry in a shipwreck. He became a Brigadier, was wounded twice in the first assault upon Port Hudson, and was praised by Gen. Sherman. While convalescing he was captured by the rebels, and afterward exchanged for Fitz Hugh Lee.

Gen. Dow resigned his commission and did effective service for the Union cause by writing in its defense in English newspapers, and in advocating the cause of emancipation. After the close of the war his pen and his oratory were devoted to the cause of temperance.

MILLENNIUM NOT YET.

Gen Miles Saw 3,000,000 Men Under Arms in Europe.

London, Oct. 4.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., with Mrs. Miles and his Aide-de-Camp, Capt. Maus, sailed on Saturday for the United States on the American line steamer St. Louis.

The General had been in Europe since May on his tour of military observation, and had inspected everything of military interest from the armies of the great powers in field action down to "balloons and bicycles," as he remarked.

"I have seen all the great armies of Europe, except the Spanish army," said Gen. Miles, "and if Spain should declare war against the United States I may possibly have an opportunity of seeing that. Of something over 3,000,000 men under arms, I have seen nearly 400,000 in barracks and garrison and in field manoeuvres, besides nearly 100,000 men engaged in the construction of war material.

"What I have seen does not indicate that the millenium is at hand, when swords will be beaten into ploughshares.

"There never was another time in the history of the world when so much energy, ingenuity and wealth were being devoted to war purposes. The resources and industries of many peoples are largely devoted to maintaining large standing armies and formidable navies.

"Fortunate are the people of the United States that they are walled in by two great oceans; yet this fact would not warrant them in any policy other than keeping a reasonable percentage of the population fully equipped and instructed in modern appliances and methods of war."

THE RUSH FOR OFFICE.

Place Hunters as Numerous as Before Commencement of Congress.

Washington, Oct. 4.—It is probable that President McKinley will be forced, for the sake of his physical welfare, to change the rules governing the reception of visitors at the White House. After Congress adjourned it was believed that the rush for office would end, and that the crowds which had infested the White oHuse since inauguration day would dwindle to a less embarrassing number. But the reverse proved to be true. Since Mr. McKinley's return from his vacation the callers have been almost as numerous as ever.

With the exception of Senators and Representatives, nearly all of those who call at the White House for the purpose of obtaining an audience with Mr. McKinley could transact their business with greater satisfaction with the Cabinet officers. All of his recent predecessors have adhered to the rule of seeing only those callers who came in relation to matters directly under the President. After Mr. McKinley has talked with some his Cabinet and with a score of Congressmen, he has little time left to attend to executive business, and is obliged to do the major part of his work at night.

To Aid Destitute Irish.

London, Oct. 4.—A memorial signed by sixty-four Irish members of the House of Commons has been published here requesting Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury and the Government leader in the House of Commons, to summon an immediate sitting of Parliament for the purpose of enacting legislation in behalf of the Irish tenants, in view of the failure of the potato crop.

The Government does not intend, however, to convene Parliament until the usual date in February.

Duty on Personal Baggage.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The Collector of Customs at New York has reported to the Treasury Department that the duties collected by him on personal baggage during the month of September under the new tariff law, which limits the free entry of personal effects purchased abroad to $100, amounted to $93,709, as compared with $19,050 collected during September, 1896.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

The Plainfield Athletic Association will meet the well-known New York team, the Murray Hills, on Saturday afternoon on the gridiron at Martine common.

Charles Denise, formerly of this city and then quarterback for the E. A. C., is now at Lehigh and played quarterback for the Lehigh team against Princeton, Saturday.

Raymond A. McGee played right guard for Yale against Wesleyan Saturday afternoon, when Yale was victorious 30 to 0. McGee was noted by the Sun for doing specially good work.

Wesley Abbott, of this city, is candidate for the position of end on the Yale 'varsity eleven. While practicing last week he broke one of the tendons in his leg and had to stop. His physician says that he will be able to play in another week, however.

The Plainfield A. A. did not meet the Warwick Athletic Club, of New York, Saturday afternoon, as was expected. The Warwicks sent word at the last moment that they could not come as several of their players were injured in practice. Every effort was put forth by the management to get another game but the effort was in vain. The Elizabeth scrubs tried to come but they could not get their team together in time and finally sent word that they too could not come. The season will begin next Saturday, however, rain or shine.

The Plainfield Crescent Football Club played its first game for the Journal trophy, Saturday afternoon. The team went to Elizabeth and was defeated by the Y. M. C. A. team of that city by a score of 16 to 0. Last year the Elizabeth boys were the champions of the league and the Plainfield boys were well satisfied with the showing they made at the first of the season. Owing to the short notice they had to get the team ready, there was very little chance for practice, but as the season advances the Plainfield boys hope to do better

GOLF.

The monthly handicap golf tournament played last Saturday on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club resulted in N. Pendleton Rogers winning the loving cup offered as a prize. A goodly number entered the contest, which bids fair to be a spirited one before the cup reaches its final owner. The result of the play on Saturday is as follows:

COMMITTEE OF ELEVEN.

Will Investigate and Report Upon the Widening of Westfield Avenue.

The following gentlemen have been appointed as a committee of eleven to investigate and report upon the matter of widening Westfield avenue to 100 feet and constructing a street railroad upon it by the county, to be leased for operation:

B. A. Vail, of Rahway; Albert B. Carlton, Louis Quien, Alex. Kerr, of Elizabeth; John B. Dumont, DeWitt C. Ivins, Plainfield; W. H. Coffey, Summit; George W. Doty, of Union; Jasper C. Hunt, of Cranford; James T. Pierson, of Westfield, and Frank W. Westcott, of Fanwood.

Dust or No Dust.

"To Klondyke! to Klondyke!" the cry still ascends.
And thither the seeker of fortune now tends.
Ambition his motor, in pluck is his trust,
And the motto he beareth--"I'm out for the dust!"
But if "no dust in mine" be the cry of your soul,
Of Stevens & Co. you should order your coal.

THE BOROUGH DELINQUENTS.

Tax Collector Spencer Has the Amounts Correct, Says the Report.

The following is the report of the borough councilmanic committees who investigated the delinquent taxes in North Plainfield:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield, N. J.

Gentlemen:—In compliance with a resolution passed by this Council some time since relative to ascertaining the amount of unpaid taxes and names of delinquents in the township duplicates, we would report that the instructions therein have been complied with to the best of our ability, and we herewith submit a list of delinquents and amounts due the borough for arrears of taxes.

In the year 1895, when the borough was set off from the township, a sum of about $8,000 uncollected taxes was allotted the borough as an asset.

Since that time about $4,000 has been collected, thus reducing the amount now due the borough on said account to be about $4,200, divided as follows:

Poll tax and dogs	$1,600
Personal	$1,200
Real estate	$1,400

We would call your special attention to the small amount uncollected on real estate, which includes properties that have been sold from year to year as required by law to maintain our lien upon said premises.

The total amount of the township duplicates from 1885 to 1894 inclusive amounts to $283,000; thus we find that less than 1½ per cent. of the total duplicates of ten (10) years remains uncollected at this time.

Your committee has exceeded the authority granted by the resolution and entered into the work with an earnest and persistent endeavor to ascertain the true condition existing relative to the accounts and methods of the collector, and feel that they can report that although the system in vogue is antiquated, yet the accounts are undoubtedly correct.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Her Seventy-second Birthday.

Miss Mary Randolph, of Greenbrook, celebrated the anniversary of her seventy-second birthday last Saturday, and during the afternoon and evening she was given a surprise when a large number of her relatives and friends gathered at her home in honor of the event. There were guests from Plainfield, Brooklyn, New York and Canada. The programme that made the occasion a happy one included vocal and instrumental music, and games, and at the close a delightful supper was served in abundance.

To Go to Klondyke.

Fred Disborough, the treasurer of the Somerset Baseball Club, of Somerville, whose plan of doing away with the time-honored precedent of allowing the girls to come to the games free of charge finally compelled the club to give in for lack of financial support, is reported as being one of the prospective Klondykers. He expects to start for that golden region in the spring and return to Somerville after several years with all his treasure.

Result of a Fire.

The New York warehouse of L. H. Michan & Co., of Paris, who are one of the oldest and best known importers of fine goods, was recently damaged by fire. All of the dress goods that were not damaged were sold at auction, and Edward White secured a large and attractive assortment at one half the real value of the goods. They show no evidence of having been in a fire and are guaranteed to be absolutely perfect.

Now Her Left Arm Is Broken.

Annie Eimer, the two-and a-half-year-old daughter of Henry Eimer, of Harmony street, fell from a chair yesterday and broke her left arm. Last February she met with an accident in which her right arm was broken.

—Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, will receive an extra large shipment of fine table and canning peaches, tomorrow, and will sell the stock at rock-bottom prices. A choice selection of sycle and bartlett pears also in stock.

Death of Mrs. Fitz Weaver.

Mrs. Sarah L. Fitz Weaver died at the home of L. W. Randolph, 321 West Second street, last night at midnight. She was in her sixty fifth year. Mrs. Weaver was born in this city, but lived in New York and Brooklyn after her marriage until her husband's death eleven years ago. She was an aunt of Mrs. L. W. Randolph, and leaves a brother, Sylvester F. Randolph, of West Eighth street, and a sister, Miss Mary Randolph, of West Second street. She has been ill for the past two years from kidney trouble, but a sudden attack was the immediate cause of her death.

Driver Thrown Out.

A horse belonging to E. L. Finch, of Park avenue, with a two seated phaeton attached, ran away on Park avenue late yesterday afternoon. Rufus Finch was driving at the time and was thrown out. The horse ran into a tree and smashed up the carriage. The horse was caught by a policeman at 2 o'clock this morning on Park avenue. None of the occupants of the carriage were seriously injured.

A Chimney on Fire.

A chimney in the residence of E. J. Richards, corner of Liberty and West Fourth streets, was discovered to be on fire at 7 o'clock last evening. The heat from the fire was so intense that it scorched the mantlepieces and set fire to a picture that hung in the dining room. Mr. Richarns with the aid of a visitor, succeeded in extinguishing the fire, and it was not found necessary to turn in an alarm.

Didn't Know He Was in the City Limits.

A. M. Line appeared before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, on the charge of riding his wheel without a light. He pleaded extenuating circumstances. He was going to walk when he reached the city limits, but crossed them without knowing it. Sentence was suspended

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walling, and son Ritner, a bright little fellow of nine years, of Germantown, Pa., a surburb of Philadelphia, spent Saturday night and part of Sunday with friends in the borough, and Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Eva Ralpelyea, of Westfield. Mr. Walling holds a lucrative position in the coal and freight department of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company at Philadelphia.

FALL AND WINTER -CLOTHING- -: FOR :- MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Re ollect these will be sac ifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. DETERMINE SENTIMENT.

A REMARKABLE PROPOSITION SUBMITTED TO CITY FATHERS.

Its Purpose is to Allow Voters to Record a Vote For or Against Liquor License Without the Result Becoming Binding.

The October meeting of the Common Council last night was marked by one of the most radical and remarkable propositions ever before submitted to the City Fathers. Councilman Runyon, of the Second ward, was the originator of it. The proposition is to permit the voters to express an opinion at the polls on the question of license or no license without the result becoming binding on the Council who have invested in them the power to decide. The proposition is simply this: That at the city election in December two special ballots be printed and given to the voters. On one of these will be printed words to the effect that the citizen voting it believes in a continuation of the liquor business in Plainfield under the present system. On the other one will be printed words to the effect that the voter is opposed to the granting of liquor licenses at all. Corporation Counsel Marsh has expressed an opinion that it will be legal for such ballots to be deposited and counted at the city election, but that the result will not be binding upon the Councilmen to follow, unless so inclined. The ostensible purpose of the proposition is to determine the exact sentiment of the voters in reference to the liquor license question, and if the affirmative proposition is carried it is thought that it will relieve the Council of the sting of criticism to which they are subjected each year by certain elements. The resolution was adopted by the Common Council last night with but one dissenting vote—that of Mr. Westphal.

A communication was received from residents of West Fourth street in the vicinity of Lee place, asking for a crosswalk at that point. Residents of LaGrande avenue asked for two crosswalks, one to be located on Richmond street and the other on Scott place. A communication was received from President J. B. Probasco, of the Board of Education, asking the Council for the privilege of having the fire-alarm whistle blown once on one session days at the public schools in the city. The hour selected was 11:15 a. m., as the time when the alarm shall be sounded. Residents of the Fourth ward asked for three crosswalks at the intersection of Grant avenue and South Second street. The freight carters of the city asked the Council to have Richmond street, between East Second street and North avenue, repaired, as the road is in bad condition. Communications were received from the Plainfield Electric Light Company and the Plainfield Water Supply Company, stating that the lights and hydrants had been located as directed by the Council. In a communication, Mayor Fisk appointed Special Patrolman Andrew Saffron as a regular patrolman, and D. Taynor, Charles Clarkson and C. Flynn as special policemen. The appointments were confirmed by the Council.

From Mrs. Malli, president of the Town Improvement Association, was received a communication asking the Council to give the association the proper authority to improve the City Park, also to appoint W. H. Forester, the superintendent of the proposed work, a special policeman.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that twenty five permits were granted during the past month, and during the same time twenty permits were granted according to Street Commissioner Gavett's report. This makes 1,015 sewer permits to date.

City Judge DeMeza's report for the month showed that 213 prisoners had appeared before His Honor, of which number 53 were fined, on 35 sentence was suspended and 25 were discharged. $287 had been received from fines, and $75 30 expended. To Chief Grant $25 was paid as half fine in an illegal liquor case, and $3 to Roundsman Flynn in another similar case. There are unpaid fines to the amount of $20, and the balance on hand is $211.70.

The monthly reports of the city treasurer and collector were received and filed.

Mr. Westphal reported back the contract between the city and the Plainfield Electric Light Company, in which is included the terms of agreement for the proposed eleven arc lights, and in accordance with a suggestion made by Mr. Barrows, the contract was referred back to the light and trees committee to be considered jointly by the fire and building committee, so that all precaution that is necessary be taken as regards

BEYOND EARTH'S TRIALS

MISS A. KATE MARTINE DIED AT "CEDAR BROOK" TODAY.

Though She Had Been Ailing for Three Weeks Her Condition was Not Considered Dangerous Until a Day or Two Ago.

For several years there has been no woman in this city who has been more actively identified in charitable, church and social circles than Miss A. Kate Martine. It will, therefore, be a great shock to her associates to hear of her death, which occurred at "Cedar Brook" at 7:45 o'clock this morning, after an illness extending over a period of three weeks, but which, until just before her passing away, was not considered so serious but what she would recover from it.

Three weeks ago Miss Martine was attacked with the grip, but the illness was not thought to be more than a passing malady until last Friday when it culminated in heart trouble. Even then, though the affliction seemed to be severe, it was thought by both physician and relatives that she would revive and eventually regain the rugged health that had always been hers. Last night, however, her breathing was very labored and there was indications that unless a change came soon she could not survive. At mid night her condition became so serious that her brother, James E. Martine, hurried for Dr. Endicott, who came as soon as possible. He treated her and remained at her side for some time. He returned again at 3 o'clock and remained until after 6 o'clock. During this time she failed rapidly until the end came.

Miss Martine was born in New York city and was the daughter of Daniel and Anna M. Martine. Thirty years ago her parents removed to this city and bought what is known as "Cedar Brook" farm, but whose acres then spread over much that is now residential property. Ever since then she has resided in the quaint and roomy old house that sets at the head of the long lane leading from the the Watchung avenue entrance of the place—a home wherein her convival spirit always reflected the happy side of life.

Miss Martine was a member of the Crescent avenue Presbyterian church, the Monday Afternoon Club and the Woman's Town Improvement Association, in all of which societies she was an active factor. No function or undertaking of theirs was ever inaugurated but what her efforts were devoted to its success. In the successful Fete Champetre given last June she was one of the principal assistants of Mrs. Pierre Malli. Her indefatigable work for the success of the event is, in a measure, ascribed by her relatives as one of the causes for her sickness.

Her manner and disposition was always breezy and pleasant—a positive pleasure for a company of young people to have her mingle in their midst. She read much and remembered well, and these two things gave her an almost inexhaustible fund of anecdotes that always carried humor and laughter with them. Indeed, she was a companionable person, either in or out of the home circle. Her death will be received with feelings of sorrow and regret by all who knew her.

She leaves two brothers—James E. and D. W.; and three sisters—Ella, Mary and Mrs. Harriet Myers.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

PRIMARY MAY BE REMOVED.

Thought to be the Only Way to Relieve Overcrowding in Borough School.

A special meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education was held last evening for the purpose of hearing a report of the committee who has in charge the relief of the overcrowded condition of the school. The committee stated that they were unable to secure suitable quarters for the kindergarten department outside of the school, and at their suggestion it was decided to hold two sessions of this department in the same class room. One session will be held in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

Regarding the Primary department, it was decided to secure quarters outside, if possible. There are between forty-five and fifty scholars in this department ready to go into other quarters as soon as the accommodations are secured. The committee was given full power and as soon as the quarters are obtained the department will be moved, which will probably be this week.

New Jersey Team Won.

The contest for the auxiliary whist trophy was played for on Saturday evening, at the rooms of the Brooklyn Whist Club. The New Jersey team defeated the New York team by 27 points. The Park Club four played on the New Jersey team.

DIALECT DRAMA FOR DABBLERS IN POLITICS.

Being, in Effect, a Moral to Prove to Some Women How Inferior They Are to Certain Voters.

The following little skit was written by a prominent Plainfielder, and is based on an actual scene and conversation that he unintentionally saw and heard a week ago yesterday. But let the story be told in the author's own way, which is a very interesting and apt one. It follows:

THE LATE ELECTION.

A Dialect Drama Dedicated to Down-hearted Dabblers in the Poisonous Pool of Partisan Politics; to Woman Suffrgists, White Ribboners and S. S. Politicians of all Sexes, Ages and Conditions; with Suggestive Sidelights upon the local Leadership of the G. O P.

NOT GOOD FARMING.

CITY SELLS POTATOES FOR 35 CENTS AND PAYS $1.15 A BUSHEL.

A Sad Commentary on the Theoretical Farming Which This Town is Indulging in—Products Sold Below Market Price.

The city of Plainfield has turned its hand to farming since that tract of land, near Dunellen, known as Mountain View Farm, was purchased and the sewer beds located there. Corn, potatoes and cabbages have been raised on the sewage disposal beds and on the fields adjoining. The products of the city farm have been sold at prices that have quite astonished the farmers in that vicinity. Meanwhile, those in charge of the Industrial Home have been buying farm products from Plainfield grocers at market prices.

Early in the summer, one of the fields adjacent to the sewer beds was planted with potatoes. They were cared for by the city's men who are employed at the beds under the direction of Superintendent Slape. Six weeks ago the potatoes were ripe and they were sold to Patrick Keeley at 35 cents a bushel as they lay in the ground. The cost of gathering is about 7 cents a bushel. There were 190 bushels of potatoes raised on the city's farm. The market price at that time was 80 cents a bushel. Superintendent Slape wanted some and so did Overseer of the Poor Marx, but Keely came so quickly that neither secured what they wanted.

Today the market price of potatoes is $1.15 a bushel. The alms committee is now forced to pay that price for the potatoes to feed the city's charges at the Industrial Home. There are not very many there, it is true, and so the amount of potatoes needed is not very large. There are but two occupants of the Home at present.

The corn was sold to a neighboring farmer for 6 cents a shock. The market price is reported by the farmers in the neighborhood to be 12 cents. They wonder greatly at the low price at which the product of the city farm was disposed of, for the corn was of excellent quality.

Police Looking for Herman.

The latter part of last week Fred Hand, young son of Frank Hand, the Somerset street blacksmith, was run into by Chas. Herman, of the borough, who was on a wheel. Herman was angry that the boy was in his way, and it is said he gave the youth a trouncing. The boy told his father the circumstances, and the latter with a horse and wagon gave chase and caught Herman. The latter told Mr. Hand that if he touched him he would have him arrested. Mr. Hand then went away to have a warrant issued for the arrest of Herman. In the meantime Herman slipped away and his whereabouts is not known. He will be arrested, however, as soon as he returns, if he decides to come back.

Druggist Hall to Marry.

Charles H. Hall, of this city, and Miss Elizabeth P. Tice, daughter of Hon. Geo. H. Tice, of Perth Amboy, will be married in the Presbyterian church at Perth Amboy on Wednesday, the 20th, at 6 o'clock p. m. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. George B. VanDyck, pastor of the church. After the ceremony a wedding reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, 67 Market street.

Rev. H. J. Johnston and family, have moved from 19 Craig place to 332 East Front street.

CHILD A HUMAN TORCH

TWO-YEAR-OLD BOY BURNED TO DEATH IN MOTHER'S PRESENCE.

Was Playing With an Older Brother Who Had Secured Some Matches—Died Two Hours After Accident in Terrible Agony.

Charles Hanan, the two-year old son of James Hanan, of Elmer street, Westfield, was burned to death last evening as the result of an accident. The two Hanan children were playing alone upon the lawn some distance from the house at about 6 o'clock, when the older boy, five years old, found some matches, and the two began playing with them. Suddenly there was a scream from the children.

The clothing of the younger child began to blaze and in another instant it was enveloped in flames. Mrs. Hanan was in the house at the time and, hearing the cries of the children, started out of doors to their assistance. She got no further than the piazza, however, for when she reached that point and caught sight of her child enveloped in flames, she fell in a faint.

The cries of the children attracted the attention of neighbors who ran to the rescue of the child. Its clothes were entirely burned from its body, and the flesh was a crisp.

Drs. Cooper and Sinclair were summoned and did all that was possible to relieve the child's suffering. It died at 8 o'clock in great agony. The mother is in a serious condition resulting from the shock of the terrible experience. It is not known how the children secured possession of the matches, as care was taken not to leave them lying about the house where the children could get them.

THE MEDAL PRESENTED.

Daily Press Emblem Now Worn by the High School Champion.

This morning, the Daily Press medal, a handsome design of solid silver, was awarded to its winner, Carroll L. Runyon. Last Friday afternoon, the annual closed games of the Plainfield High School were held at the Crescent Oval. The Press medal and the all-round championship of the High School were contested for and Carroll L. Runyon won after a very close contest with Rhey T. Snodgrass, while a dozen other scholastic athletes made the events close and exciting.

White and blue ribbons were offered by the Athletic Association for the first and second places in the different events. This morning, after the usual devotional exercises that open the session of the High School, Principal Ira W. Travell called Runyon forward and with a few appropriate remarks presented The Daily Press medal. Then the winners in the different events were called up and given their prizes. The presentation of the medal and the other prizes was made quite an impressive ceremony.

Klondyke Lecture.

Very Rev. Archdeacon Kirkby, who is to lecture in Grace church parish house, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, is well fitted for the task which he has undertaken. He resided for some years in the vicinity of the now famous gold mining districts, and can therefore speak of what he saw and heard. In addition to the lecture, W. W. Moore will exhibit some of the wonders of the graphophone.

Miss Kittie Ransom, of East Fifth street, has returned from a visit with friends in New York.

THE OLD HORSE KICKED

A BOYISH FREAK MAY END IN THE LOSS OF AN EYE.

Edward Marcellis, Jr., Mounted the Apparently Docile Animal, But When He Got Off the Steed Kicked Him Spitefully.

Edward Marcellis, Jr., aged eight years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marcellis, of West Fourth street, was so severely kicked by a horse yesterday afternoon that he will probably lose his left eye.

With a number of other boys he was playing on Brown's dumping grounds on Watchung avenue. In the party was an old horse owned by Mr. Parsons, of Cottage place. The boys were daring each other to get on the back of the animal and ride him, whereupon young Marcellis said that he was not afraid to do so.

He accomplished his purpose and the old horse did not appear to mind his load very much until the boy tried to reach the ground. The boy had no sooner planted his feet on terra firma when the hind feet of the animal were raised and with much force struck Marcellis in the face. The lad was thrown fully six feet, and for a few minutes he was stunned.

His companions ran to his assistance and found the boy in a serious condition. His left eye was almost thrown out of its socket and a large bruise was found on the face. Acting wisely the injured boy's companions ran for Dr. Carman The latter gave his assistance and temporarily fixed him until he could be taken to the hospital for further treatment.

At the hospital it was discovered that the eye was in a very critical condition and that the boy may be obliged to lose that member. The bruises on the face, while painful, are not of a serious nature. Today young Marcellis seems to be doing very well. It will be a day or two before it can be determined hs to whether the eye will be lost.

Came to Visit and Was Hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, of Brooklyn, started from their home yesterday to ride on their bicycles to vsiit Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Titsworth, of Madison avenue. They reached Netherwood and Mr. Marshall, who was ahead, collided with a coal wagon and was thrown from his wheel. His wife was close behind and before she could stop she ran into him. Mrs Marshall was thrown to the ground with much force, and sustained a severe injury to one of her knees. She was taken to a neighboring house and Dr. B. Van D. Hedges called. The injury was dressed and Mrs. Marshall was so anxious to get home that she left on the 3:52 train. Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth were afterwards notified of the accident.

Christian Endeavor Officers.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of Trinity Reformed church met last evening and elected officers for the coming year as follows: President, Horace J. Martin; first vice-president, Harry W. Marshall; second vice president, Mrs. F. C. Adams; recording secretary, Miss E. F. Gillem; corresponding secretary, Miss Mabel A. Woodruff; treasurer, Charles M. Dolliver. There was not the slightest opposition to the above-named officers and the election was made unanimous.

Patrolman Mattox Elected a Delegate.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, of Plainfield, held a meeting yesterday afternoon in their rooms on Park avenue, at which time President W. R. Mattox was elected a delegate to go to Trenton today to attend the annual State convention of patrolmen. The association will meet on the first and third Wednesdays in every month. No other business of importance was transacted at the meeting.

Lights Went Out, But Singing Went On.

Last Sunday evening at Grace P. E. church while the choir and congregation were singing a hymn the electric lights suddenly disappeared. The effect was blinding, but it did not interfere with the music in the slightest degree. It so happened that the hymn was a familiar one and everyone was able to go on with it, accompanied by Mrs. Freeman on the organ.

Narrowly Escaped Injury.

A colored man employed by C. Frank French, narrowly escaped a serious accident this morning. He was riding on top of a load of baled hay on Somerset stteet when he slipped and fell almost under the wheels of the vehicle. He was somewhat stunned by the fall but escaped injury.

Miss Lizzie Haddow, formerly of Plainfield, who has been visiting friends in Glasgow during the past eighteen months, returned to this country on the City of Rome yesterday, and was cordially received in this city by her friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Morton, of West Front street.

THE SCHOOL FINANCES.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

The Receipts Were $67,490.73—Cost of Lincoln School Building was $27,125.95—Other Matters Transacted by the Board.

The reading of the annual financial statement of the Board was the most interesting feature of the regular October meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education, held last evening at the Stillman building.

The report of Tax Collector Bird was read and showed that taxes to the amount of $703.35 had been collected together with $107.93 interest, making a total of $811.28 which had been deposited in the City National Bank.

A communication was read from Charles Burdette Morse, chairman of the committee in charge of the last High School alumni reception, extending a vote of thanks to the Board for furnishing the music on that occasion and for their support of the committee.

Mr. Lounsbury said that Woolston & Buckle estimated that it would cost $97 to paper and paint the upper floor of the Washington School and put it in good condition. There was a general discussion of what that floor was to be used for and Superintendent Maxson replied that he had given the cadets permission to drill there in the winter and that the girls wanted permission to play basket ball there. It was decided that it would be necessary to light the floor and screen the windows to it before the girls could play there. Mr. Lounsbury and Dr. Jenkins were not in favor of the extra expense, but Dr. Probasco thought that the Board should provide at least that for the physical exercise of the girls, and the other two members agreed with him. It was then decided to make those improvements and the matter was left in the hands of the building committee.

The estimates were received for removing the ashes during the current year from the nine schools. The Plainfield Sanitary Company offered to do it for $250 and Fernando Brown for $110. The Board awarded the contract to Brown.

The financial statement ending August 31st was read by Mr. Lounsbury and was as follows:

A Bicycle Thief.

The bicycle thief is still at large and continues his depredations. Saturday evening he took the Spalding wheel belonging to Lindley M. Hillman, of Sherman avenue, from in front of Moy's pharmacy, while the owner was inside the store. Hillman reported the theft to the police, but no trace of the wheel has yet been found.

NACK AND THORN PLEAD

The Murderers of Guldensuppe Arraigned Yesterday.

CURIOUS FOLKS IN COURT

Thorn Very Restless and Nervous—Both Have a Worried Look—Indicted Jointly, but Will Probably Have Separate Trials.

New York, Oct. 5.—Augusta Nack and Martin Thorn were arraigned in Long Island City yesterday to plead to the indictment for the murder of William Guldensuppe.

Each professes to be joyful; they say they are going to get justice at last. But the worried look about their eyes doesn't bear out the smiles on their faces. A large number of curiosity-seekers were present with the hope of getting a glimpse of the prisoners.

District Attorney Youngs said Thorn and Mrs. Nack would probably not be arraigned until after the Grand Jury had been charged by the court and the civil calendar called.

Martin Thorn and Mrs. Nack were up bright and early, and after carefully preparing their toilets, were anxiously waiting in their cells to be summoned to the court room. According to Sheriff Doht, Mrs. Nack was calm and sat in her rocking chair chatting pleasantly with the two matrons, who have charge of her.

Thorn, however, the Sheriff said, seemed to be restless and nervous. The two prisoners have had an understanding with their lawyers as to the legal course to be pursued in their respective cases. Howe & Hummel will defend Thorn, and Friend & House will appear for Mrs. Nack. One of the assistants of District Attorney Olcott, of New York, will aid District Attorney Youngs in the prosecution.

Though they are jointly indicted for the killing of Guldensuppe, they will without doubt elect to have separate trials. District Attorney Youngs, it is believed, will place Thorn on trial first because the evidence is the strongest against him.

It is charged against the prisoners that the conspiracy to murder Guldensuppe was planned in New York City, that Mrs. Nack enticed Guldensuppe to the house in Woodside under the pretense she was going to hire the house, and that Thorne preceded them there, and while Guldensuppe was inspecting the rooms Thorn suddenly jumped from a closet and shot him in the head.

Then it is claimed Thorne carried the body of Guldensuppe to the bath tub, and there dismembered it and tied up the parts into separate bundles, depositing the bundles in the East River.

The motive is alleged to be Thorn's desire to get rid of Guldensuppe, so that he could live with Mrs. Knack.

Counselor Howe, who has had thirty years' experience as a criminal lawyer in New York City, and who has defended scores of notorious prisoners charged with murder, says he never entered into a case with more confidence of securing the discharge of his client than in the case of Thorn.

Lawyer Howe contends it will be a fishing expedition on the part of the District Attorney throughout the trial with the hope that something will develop to prove the guilt of the defendants.

On the other hand, District Attorney Youngs says he fully believes the prosecution will present such strong circumstantial evidence, with corroborative proof, as to leave no doubt of the guilt of both Thorn and Mrs Nack.

HALF A MILLION IN NUGGETS.

Rich Claims on Eldorado Creek in the Yukon Country.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 5.—George Stanley, who is mining on El Dorado Creek, in the Yukon, writes to his father in this city that claims owned by his father and partner, Warden, on El Dorado Creek, will pan out half a million in gold nuggets this coming Winter. The letter predicts that claims on Bear Creek will turn out as rich as those on Bonanza and El Dorado creeks, pans averaging $5 each. Stanley also writes that the Canadian Government is exacting a royalty of 2½ cents per cord on wood to be used in thawing out the gravel this Winter. A similar charge is also made for logs used in building cabins for the miners. During the Summer forest fires have destroyed a large amount of cord wood. Owing to the scarcity of water but little sluicing has been done.

State Board of Dental Examiners.

Albany, Oct. 5.—The State Board of Dental Examiners has elected these officers for the ensuing year: President Dr. A. Southwick, of Buffalo; secretary Dr. Frank French, of Rochester; editor, Dr. William Carr, of New York City.

The board has withdrawn from membership in the National Association of Dental Faculties on account of the latter having reduced materially the preliminary requirements for entrance to the dental examinations under its jurisdiction. To make it possible for all dental students to take the same licensing examination a resolution has been adopted by the board requesting the State Board of Regents to suggest to the dental colleges that they hold their commencements on or near the same date as possible.

He Objects to "Amen."

Toronto, Oct. 5.—The new Presbyterian Book of Praise, adopted for the use of the church in Great Britain and Canada, does not meet with entire approval. In a church here a leading member resumed his seat before the congregation had sung the "Amen" at the end of a hymn. Later he arose and protested against singing the "Amen" on the ground that it savored strongly of Episcopalianism. After the service the session held a meeting and decided to omit the word in future.

Killed by a Falling Derrick.

Seneca Falls, N. Y., Oct. 5.—John McClue, proprietor of the Merchants' Canal Navigation Company, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at Waterloo about three miles from this place, by a falling derrick. McClue was 51 years of age and had been in the canal-boating business for thirty-five years.

THE POPE'S HEALTH.

The Report Is False that He Is Seriously Ill—His Health Is Good.

(Cable Dispatch to the Sun.)

Paris, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Rome to the Depeche Coloniale says the Pope has been seriously ill for three days, and that his physicians fear his illness will terminate fatally.

London, Oct. 5.—The Sun's correspondent in Rome telegraphs that the Pope is in excellent health. His Holiness takes daily walks in the Vatican gardens, and suspended them yesterday and to-day only because it was raining.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Dr. Lapponi, the Pope's body physician, confirms the statement cabled to the Sun that His Holiness is enjoying good health.

THE LOW TICKET COMPLETED.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild Named for Comptroller.

New York, Oct. 5.—The Executive Committee of the Citizens' Union last night completed their city and county ticket. The nominations are as follows:

For Mayor—Seth Low, Republican, of Manhattan.

For President of the Council—John N. Schuman, Worth Republican, of Brooklyn.

For Comptroller—Charles S. Fairchild, Cleveland Democrat, of Manhattan.

For District Attorney—Austen G. Fox, Cleveland Democrat.

For County Clerk—Benjamin E. Hall, Republican.

For Sheriff—Edward F. McSweeney, Cleveland Democrat.

For Register—Richard H. Adams, president of the Liederkranz.

For Justices of Supreme Court—Charles H. Van Brunt and George P. Andrews, Democrats.

For Justices of the City Court—Joseph Fettrech, Republican; S. Stanwood Menken, Democrat.

For President of the Borough of Manhattan—Robert J. Hogues, Democrat.

A resolution was adopted indorsing Mayor Strong's administration.

CONNECTICUT'S ELECTION.

Big Majority for the Educational Qualification of Voters.

Hartford, Ct., Oct. 5.—The election in this city yesterday was on the adoption of the constitutional amendment requiring electors to be able to read in the English language any article of the constitution or any section of the statutes of this State before being admitted. The voting here was very light and the amendment was approved by a practically unanimous vote—1,151 for and 51 against the measure. The voting all over the State is about in the same ratio.

Elections were held for town officers in every town in the State excepting Hartford, New Haven and Bridgeport. Mayors and full city governments were voted for in New London, Waterbury, South Norwalk and Norwalk.

The results have no particular bearing on the political situation. In Middletown much interest centred around the license question, which at last accounts had a majority of 700.

The Republicans elected nearly their entire ticket and they are also ahead in Meriden and New London. Some three hundred illegal ballots were cast in New Britain for the Republican school visitors, and the result will depend on their being accepted.

Filing Nominations at Albany.

Albany, Oct. 5.—Yesterday was the last day for filing with the Secretary of State certificates of regular party nominations. Independent nominations may be filed up to and including Oct. 8. The official ballot this year will contain party columns for the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist Labor parties. The People's party seems to have abided by the decision of the Attorney-General that they were not entitled to a party column this year, as they cast less than ten thousand votes last Fall. The People's party has not filed any nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals, as has been usual with them, and they will not be represented on the official ballot this year unless they nominate by petition. This is unlikely, owing to the great work necessary to secure the 6,000 names which are required before such a nomination can be recognized by the Secretary of State.

Can't Eat

This is the complaint of thousands at this season. They have no appetite; food does not relish and often fails to digest, causing severe suffering. Such people need the toning up of the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distress after eating and

Internal Misery

Only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and effectively relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

Distress After Eating.

"I have been troubled with indigestion for some time. After eating anything that was sweet I was sure to experience great difficulty and distress. Last fall I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and am glad to say that my stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. I can now eat a hearty meal of almost any kind of food and have no trouble afterwards. Hood's Sarsaparilla has also cured me of nervous spells." JOHN H. HOMRIGHAUSEN, Wheatland, Iowa. A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. Eugenia LaForge, of New Brunswick, has been visiting Mrs. VanFleet, of East Third street.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Ralph Tolles, of Westervelt avenue, entered the New Jersey Military Academy yesterday, and will take up a regular course of study.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. James Leggett and daughter, of Skillman, who were the guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Leggett, of West Front street, have returned home.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pheumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Edward Loizeaux, of the borough, entered Columbia College yesterday morning for the purpose of taking up a course in medicine.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

DEBS COLONISTS DISCOURAGED.

Worked Out the Theory All Right but the Scheme Did Not Succeed.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 5.—The six Reading men who belonged to the new labor colony on the Debs plan at Kepner, Schuylkill County, returned home yesterday, not at all pleased with the first season's experience. It is doubtful whether they will return. The farm is a good one of 312 acres, 125 being under cultivation. Forty men, women and children were on the farm all Summer The colony's plan to pay off $1,400 of the debt failed, as the installments promised were not forthcoming. The colony inn could not be completed Nearly every member of the colony has returned home for the Winter. A few remain to look after the property Many have time checks given for labor rendered which have not been redeemed. Many took potatoes for their checks. The men were to get 15 cents an hour for labor performed, but this could not be carried out.

The men say such a colony can be a success only if started without debt. This farm is in every way good, but the debt was a dead weight. A Jersey City man has promised substantial aid for next season. The colonists have several tons of hay stacked or housed. The colony idea is not very assuring to those who have most experience. They say there should be several industries on the farm to give employment to those who cannot find work in the fields.

LOW'S RESIGNATION HELD.

A Committee Will Report on it After Election.

New York, Oct. 5.—Seth Low is still president of Columbia University. This is the outcome of the meeting of the trustees of Columbia University, held yesterday afternoon at the office of John McL. Nash, treasurer of the institution, at 67 Wall street. In order to avoid taking decisive action they handed the resignation to a committee of five, appointed by William C. Schermerhorn, their chairman, to be considered and reported on at the next regular meeting on Nov. 15.

Mr. Low's resignation read as follows:

"As I have felt constrained by a sense of public duty to accept a nomination for Mayor of the City of New York at the hands of the Citizens' Union, I feel it to be my duty to the university to place in your hands, for such action as you may see fit to take, my resignation as president of the university. I need not say that nothing but a deep sense of the imperative nature of the call to public duty would have led me to accept the nomination. Respectfully, "SETH LOW."

The meeting at which this document was discussed was, of course, private. Cit John B. Pine, who is clerk of the board, said afterward there was very little discussion on the matter. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the resignation of the president be referred to a select committee of five, to be appointed by the chair, of which the chairman shall be a member, to consider and report at the next meeting of the trustees as to what action should be taken in reference thereto, with their recommendations."

Ex-Senator McMillan Dead.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5.—Samuel J. R McMillan, United States Senator from 1876 to 1888, who died at his home in this city late Sunday night, had been ill for nearly a year.

He was born in Brownsville, Pa. Feb. 22, 1826. He studied in the office of Edwin M. Stanton, afterward Secretary of War. After being Judge, he was appointed Associate Judge of the Supreme Court in 1864, and was re-elected in 1871, and in 1874 chosen Chief Justice.

In February, 1875, he was elected to the United States Senate as the result of one of the most noted deadlocks in the history of the State.

Dissipated a Fortune of $40,000.

Syracuse, Oct. 5.—E. H. Robinson who a few years ago left this city with an inheritance of $40,000, is now a fugitive from justice. He located in Middleport, near Niagara Falls, and engaged in business, but his money was rapidly dissipated by fast living In June last a confectionery store in the village was robbed of $77, which was taken from the till. The crime was traced to Robinson, who confessed. He was not punished, however, on account of his previous good character, and because the money was restored by his friends. Recently he was caught in the act of robbing the till in Holland Bros. store. A warrant was issued for him but he fled and his whereabouts are not known.

Y. P. S. C. E. State Convention.

Elmira, Oct. 5.—Last evening the annual State convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor opened here. One thousand delegates arrived yesterday, and 4,000 more are expected. The convention will conclude on Thursday. Among the prominent speakers will be President McKettrick of Buffalo; the Rev. G. M. Hemdel, of Albany; Mrs. Booth-Tucker, Mrs. C. C Linckey, of Brooklyn; Mrs. E. H Whittemore, of New York; the Rev John Elliott, of Rochester; the Rev H. H. Stebbins, of Rochester; the Rev Henry McEwen, of New York; Francis Clark, of Boston, and the Rev. George Pentecost, of Yonkers.

Swallowed a Dose of Chloral.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Theodore Porter, Minister of Finance for the Hawaiian Republic when it was first established in 1893, attempted suicide at Golden Gate Park last night by swallowing a dose of chloral and cutting veins in both his wrists. He was picked up by a policeman and taken to the receiving hospital, where his life was saved by the attending physicians He now lies in a very precarious state at the home of a friend.

Indian Outbreak Feared.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Secretary Bliss has requested Secretary Alger to order troops to proceed to Tuskohoma, I. T. to avert threatened trouble during the sessions of the Choctaw Council, which convenes to-day. Both Gov. McCurtain and Indian Agent Wisdom fear an outbreak between the political factions and urged that troops be sent to preserve the peace and prevent riots. It is probable that a troop of cavalry will be sent from Fort Gibson.

BEATEN BY BICYCLISTS

Yonkers Girl Rescued From the Hands of a Ruffian.

SISTER HAD GONE FOR AID

After Thrashing the Wretch the Cyclists Called the Police and Had Him Locked Up—Residents Greatly Excited.

Yonkers, Oct. 5.—James McGowan, the ruffian who attacked Miss Edith Bakeman on Sunday evening, was arraigned before Judge Kellogg yesterday and was remanded until last evening.

Miss Bakeman is a decidedly pretty 17-year-old girl and probably owes her life to two bicyclists. As the two men were speeding along Van Cortlandt Park avenue on their wheels at dusk last evening they heard a woman's cry for help in a clump of bushes by the roadside.

Without hesitation the wheelmen dismounted, and, laying their wheels down, hastened in the direction from whence the cry came. In the midst of the underbrush they discovered a middle-aged man of medium height, bent over the form of a young woman, and with his two hands clutched about her throat.

The fellow was cursing the young woman, who was vainly endeavoring to free herself from her assailant. In a much shorter time than it takes to describe it the two bicyclists dragged the man from his unfortunate victim, and while one held him the other assisted the girl to her feet.

Feeling assured that the young lady was not seriously injured or in need of immediate assistance, the two bicyclists set about to beat their prisoner, which they did with a vengeance.

At first the fellow showed fight, but the continued onslaught of his captors soon subdued him, and he begged for mercy. The men did not desist, however, until the fellow was unable to move.

They then turned their attention to the young lady, who told them that she was proceeding to church with her 13-year-old sister, when the fellow approached her. She tried to avoid him, but he pursued her and after catching her dragged her into the woods for the purpose of assaulting her.

She resisted him, and he beat, kicked and tried to choke her. Her little sister, she said, ran home for help. The men waited for no further explanation, and after assuring the young lady of their protection they persuaded her to accompany them. They then dragged the fellow to the nearest police signal-box, where the police were communicated with.

When the police arrived they found the man terribly beaten. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Both of his eyes were closed. At the police station he gave his name as James McGowan, age 45 years.

Miss Bateman resides at Lincoln Park and is much thought of by all who know her. She said:

"I feel that I would surely have been killed if those good men had not come to my assistance. The villain wanted money and tried to rob me of my honor."

The residents of Lincoln Park are greatly excited about the affair, and they all promise to be on hand at the trial.

Edith and her sister are attendants at St. John's Episcopal Church, and it was to that place she was going. The wheelmen who rescued her were Louis Page, of 18 Carroll street, and D. D. Alley, also a resident of Yonkers.

MURDER IN SCHAGTICOKE.

A Fiddler Plied with Liquor in a Saloon, Then Beaten to Death.

Troy, Oct. 5.—George Drake, of Schaghticoke, lies dead at the Troy Hospital, and his alleged murderers, Edward Guare and Thomas Hickey, are in the Troy jail. Drake was mentally weak, but his musical abilities were strong enough to please the people of Schaghticoke, where the tragedy occurred. On Saturday night Drake wandered into Mrs. Butler's saloon in Front street, with his violin under his arm. The crowd in the saloon was a boisterous one, and became still more so when Drake began to play. They filled the violinist with whisky, and when Drake became loud and abusive he was ejected by the bartender. But Drake would not stay out, and immediately re-entered the saloon.

Edward Guare and Thomas Hickey, both of whom were drunk, grabbed Drake and pushed him through the door into the street. They followed him across the street and beat him until he fell. Guare and Hickey became frightened at what they had done, picked him up and placed him on the sidewalk. Some of the men in the Butler saloon hurried over and carried Drake to Casey's Hotel, where his condition became so serious that he was removed to the Troy Hospital. Drake died in the hospital Sunday night. The autopsy showed that death had been caused by a fracture of the skull and laceration of the brain. Guare and Hickey were arrested in the woods near Schaghticoke and will be tried for murder. Drake was 50 years old and well known throughout the county.

Loss of a Jersey Schooner.

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 5.—Nothing has been heard of the crew of the schooner Priscilla Scribner, the wreckage of which has been floating ashore on Anastasia Island. It is believed that all her men have been lost at sea. A yawl came ashore on North Beach yesterday, and an effort had evidently been made to launch it, as the davits are attached to it, together with about two hundred feet of line. The bow of the yawl is stove in. Parts of the cabin have been picked up on South Beach.

Lands Purchased for the State Park.

Albany, Oct. 5.—The State Forest Preserve Board has purchased of W. W. Durant, of New York City, 23,872 acres of Adirondack land in township six, Hamilton County, which embraces a portion of Raquette Lake. This land is of the best timbered property in the woods and is considered a valuable addition to the State's holdings within the boundaries of the Adirondack State Park. The purchase price has not yet been made public, but it is understood to have been $7 an acre.

PLAIN WORDS FROM THE PULPIT.

Morristown has a preacher who believes plain words and—realism. This divine's name is Rev. Samuel Zane Batten, and the sermon that he preached Sunday evening and the material things he had on hand to illustrate his points have set the aristocratic town agog. The subject was "The Liquor Traffic in Morristown." Many saloon-keepers and town officials were present to hear the discourse, the principal point of which was that the license laws were violated persistently and flagrantly. As evidence of the truth of his statement he had five whiskey bottles standing beside the Bible in front of him. They had, he said, been purchased in every case by rank violation of the laws—even one of them by a fourteen-year-old boy on that very Sunday. Rev. Mr. Batten said both Mayor and police disiaim responsibility under the present charter, but the minister's idea was that the police force was hopelessly incompetent or corrupt. The sermon caused a great sensation because, as a newspaer report states, "It is acknowledged that the preacher spoke the truth."

The girls of the Plainfield High School have organized an athletic association. The Mothers' Congress of the State of New York is in session at Syracuse. There is no sign of any falling off in the activity of the other sex.—Evening Sun.

Delegates Appointed.

The executive board of the Park avenue Baptist Sunday.school held its third quarterly business meeting, last evening at the home of the superintendent, Miss Alice Spangenberg, of Woodland avenue. ARM BROKEN IN PLAY.

Little Miss Gullenberg Fell Through the Floor Beams of an Unfinished House.

Ellen Gullenberg, aged 12 years, of Berckman street, met with a painful accident last evening about 6 o'clock while she was playing about one of Charles Hand's new houses on that street. With other children she was in the second story of the house, and in running about over the rafters young Miss Gullenberg lost her balance and fell through the floor to the ground. Her friends went to the home of the injured girl's parents and informed them of what had happened. Mrs. Gullenberg hastened to where her daughter was and found that she was suffering intensely with pain. With the mother's assistance the little girl was taken home and a physician was called. The latter discovered, after a thorough examination, that the girl's arm was fractured in two places, one near the wrist and the other near the elbow. The broken bones were set and the unfortunate girl is now doing as well as can be expected. Her age is in her favor and the bones are sure to knit more readily.

Rasores Club's First Meeting.

The Rasores Club held its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. M. Kimball, of 829 Park avenue, at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Kimball, the president, was in the chair. The subject was "Vacation Experiences," each member telling in an informal way the pleasant experiences of their summer outings. In the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. I. C. Pierson was elected temporary secretary. The club will hold its annual election of officers on next Tuesday morning.

Protesting Against an Appointment.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Several protests have been filed at the War Department protesting against the appointment of the Rev. David H. Shields of Shippensburg, Pa., who was recently appointed to the post of Chaplain in the Army by President McKinley. The Rev. Mr. Shields is a Methodist minister, and received some very strong indorsements, among the signers of his application being nine of the twelve bishops of the Methodist Church. There are names also of some very prominent men throughout the country signed to his application.

It is said that the resignation of the chaplain has been called for, but inquiry both at the White House and War Department fail to elicit anything to bear out the statement.

Fourth-Class Postmasters Appointed.

Sagasta's New Cabinet.

Madrid, Oct. 5.—Senor Sagasta has succeded in his undertaking of forming a new Cabinet.

Although the new Cabinet embraces respectable talent, it is less strong than it was expected it would be.

It is currently reported that the animosities and jealousies which are so conspicuous in Spanish politics thwarted Senor Sagasta's efforts, and that he was compelled to omit statesmen from his Cabinet who declined to share office with others whom the premier was pledged to appoint. All, however, are trusted friends of Senor Sagasta.

A Piano Sensation!

During this month we're going to sell good Pianos at the previously unheard of price of $170 cash, or $190 on easy monthly payments.

We bought nearly a hundred from different makers during the summer. These are good pianos that we guarantee for five years.

We have also marked down for this month the prices on all of our regular lines of Hardmans, Gabler's, Voses, Sterlings and Standards. There is decided saving for the buyer who comes during this sale.

It would be worth your while to buy now, even if you don't want the Piano until Christmas; we'll store it for you without charge.

FIVE TIMES LARGER STOCK OF PIANOS THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE IN THE STATE.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mrs. John Huff is entertaining her father from Oyster Bay, L. I.

Postmaster C. A. Corriell spent yesterday with friends in Newark.

Mrs. Purcer, of Brooklyn, is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. A. Nelson.

Mrs. S. S. Prentise is visiting friends at Greenwich, Conn., for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. George V. T. Schenck returned last evening from their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sampson and daughter visited friends in Elizabeth on Sunday.

Nothing of importance was transacted at the regular meeting of the Council last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer have returned from a visit with relatives in Somerville.

Mrs. Kenney and Miss Ella Boice rode their wheels to New Brunswick yesterday and spent the day with friends.

The regular monthly meeting of the Epworth League will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Kenney. Sociability will be a feature.

Samuel Merrill has just purchased a new three-horse truck to carry on his increasing business. It was made by William Plim, of Flemington.

Yesterday afternoon while J. B. Conover was driving one of W. H. Cole's horses on the scales in front of the coal office, two or three wooden planks gave way and allowed the hind legs of the animal to fall through. For a few minutes it was thought that the legs would be broken, but quick assistance on the part of neighbors saved the horse. A new plank floor will now be put down to take the place of the old one.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

John O'Neill, of Brooklyn, is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. George Clark and Miss Emma Clark are spending the day in New York.

Miss Sadie Walpole spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Demarest, of Plainfield.

Twilight Council No. 7, Jr. O. U. A. M., will attend in a body the annual meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, of Plainfield. A number of members will take their wives and lady friends to enjoy the occasion.

The Fanwood Township Committee held a meeting last evening to award damages for injuries inflicted upon domestic animals by dogs remaining at large. As no claims were presented, the Committee transacted some routine business and adjourned.

James Somers and Edward Palmer, of Brooklyn, were the guests on Sunday of Mrs. W. H. Turton. On their return they were accompanied safely to East Orange by Mr. Turton and Fred Hoagland, and were there shown the nearest route by rail to New York.

Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, of Scotch Plains, has awarded the contract for painting the truck house to Charles Messler, and for constructing the new roof, to Alexander MacCauley. When this work is completed, and the truck house is decked in its new light colors, it will add much to the appearance of the town.

THEATRICAL.

If you want to enjoy a good laugh, one that will act on you like a tonic and drive your cares away, just pay a visit to Music Hall Thursday, and see a production of the greatest of laughing successes, "Side Tracked." If all reports we hear of it are true the piece is better than ever this season.

The "Corbett Fitzsimmons" pictures of the fight at Carson City, March 17, 1897, illustrated by the "Veriscope," at Music Hall, Friday and Saturday, matinee and night.

FINE ARRAY OF ARTISTS AT CHILDREN'S HOME ENTERTAINMENT.

Westfield Township Committee Met and Awarded Claim of John V. Pickell —Dog Tax Fixed—Junior Football.

A large audience gathered in the Westfield Club house auditorium last night when the annual entertainment for the benefit of the Children's Country Home was given. The orchestra, under the direction of Samuel Burhans, gave the overture and Alfred E. Pearsall sang "Jerusalem," a song which he has made familar to the music-loving people of Westfield. He was accompanied by Miss Marie Budworth; Miss Helen Gomes next made a hit in her recitation "The Swing"; James S Burdette, the humorist, gave a side-splitting selection entitled "The Ape," and was encored; a soprano solo, "Ava Maria," sung by Miss Annie M. Weed, received generous applause. One of the hits of the evening was a reading by Fred Emerson Brooks of one of his own pieces entitled "Pickett's Charge." The applause which greeted the Californian poet-reciter was deafening. He recited a short humorous piece as an encore. "The Sneezing Song," by Miss Budworth, was well received; it was followed by "The Lost Chord" sung by the chorus of twenty voices, with orchestral accompaniment. The second half of the programme was of an informal nature including selections of a light character from all the artists. George W. Day, the story teller was also introduced and made a hit with his humorous songs and stories.

The Westfield Township Committee met last night and awarded John V. Pickell $35 damages for a cow belonging to him which died from rabies resulting from the bite of an unknown dog. The dog tax for the current year was fixed at twenty-five cents a head. Bids were opened for the work of cleaning and straightening the Westfield brook from First street to the township line, and the contract was awarded to Felix Sterpone, for $72. A communication was received from J. C. Henry, giving suggestions for the widening and straightening of the Westfield brook so as to prevent a repetition of the disastrous floods of this summer. Applications to pay sewer assessments in three annual instalments were received from A. E. B. Bogert and Mary A. Marsh, and the Committee adjourned until Friday night when it wil give a public hearing in the Westfield Club Hall on the question of granting a franchise to the Elizabeth and Plainfield Railway company.

Rev. George A. Francis, J. Warren Brown and Charles E. Smith will attend the meeting of the Baptist examining council for the ordination of ministers, which will meet in Mt. Zion Baptist church, Newark, tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Blanche Buchanan, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. A. Smith, of Elm street.

The case of A. M. Griffen against A. L. Jimmerson will be tried in Justice Collins' court tomorrow.

Fred Pierson, of Plainfield, spent yesterday visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pierson, of Elm street.

Lloyd S. Thompson, of Clark street, will shortly enter the New York Law School.

PRIMARY TEACHERS' UNION.

Annual Meeting Held and Arrangements Made for Annual Institute.

The annual meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Morse, of Westfield, and Mrs. Baker, also of Westfield, taught the lesson. The report of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Smalley, was read, and showed increased interest. The collections were reported to be much better.

It was decided to hold the annual institute in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church on Monday, October 25th, and among those who will take part in the exercises are Miss Cushman, the celebrated kindergarten teacher of Newark; Rev. Mr. Ferguson, State secretary of the Union; Dr. Breaker, of Scotch Plains; Dr. Main, of this city; Mrs. T. H. Skillman and Mrs. J. N. Harris, of New Brunswick.

The election of officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows: President, Miss Nettie Beeching; first vice-president, Mrs. Powlison; second vice-president, Mrs. Baker; third vice-president, Mrs. Mosher; secretary, Mrs. Smalley; librarian, Miss Lambert.

Pushing the Church Alterations.

Trinity Reformed church will be lowered onto the foundation tomorrow and Contractor Wilson, the carpenter, will put a gang of men on the interior and the new front with a view of pushing it to completion as quickly as possible.

NOT A KNIGHT OF CHIVALRY ANYWAY.

Young Man Got Angry and Set Out to Pummel His Sister.

Mont Knight, an employe at the Pond Machine Tool Company's Works, was arraigned before Justice of Peace Mosher last evening to answer to a charge of assault and battery preferred by his sister, Mrs. George H. Rockafellow, of Manson place.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Rockafellow went to visit her parents who live on New street, and was asked to remain and take supper. Young Knight who lives at home returned shortly after 6 o'clock and all sat down to the table. During the meal some family matter was brought up and a wrangle ensued over it. Mrs. Rockafellow would not give up her views upon the matter, and finally young Knight, she alleges, got up in a rage and struck her a blow which felled her to the floor. He then roughly ejected her from the house.

Mrs. Rockafellow fainted several times from the effects of the assault, and was barely able to get to the house of a neighbor, where she was cared for.

After hearing the evidence Justice Mosher held Knight in $100 bail to appear before the Grand Jury. The young man's father furnished the bond and he was released.

Transfers and Contracts.

The following property transfers were recorded at County Clerk Howard's office, September 25th to October 1st, inclusive, as reported, in The New Jersey Contractor and Gazette:

Kneeland P. Ketcham, Freeport, N. Y., to Beulah P. Hatch, lot Eighth street, near Arlington avenue, $1. O. Leland et ux, to Abigail M Briant and Mary C. Harris, Plainfield, lot Fifth and Division streets, $1. Abigail M. Briant to O. Leland, lot westerly side Kensington avenue, 625 feet north Putnam avenue, $1. Neil D. Scott et ux, to Rising Sun Brewing Co., tract 106 feet from Spooner property, Plainfield, $2,000. Regina Hand et ux, to Chas. H. Hand, Plainfield, lot Third street, Plainfield, $1.

The following contracts were also recorded:

George H. Burgess with F. O. Smith, Plainfield, painter, house, Central avenue, Plainfield, $425. Same with C. William Krouse, heating, $2,152.11. Trinity Reformed church, Dutch, with Coriell & TenEyke, Plainfield, painting, $190.

A New Deputy for New Jersey.

Freemasons who are members of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite will be interested to learn that at the recent meeting of the Supreme Council, thirty-third degree of that rite, in Boston, Mass., Brother Robert A. Shirrefs, thirty-third degree, of Elizabeth, Commander-in-Chief of New Jersey Consistory, S. P. R. S., at Jersey City, was elected Deputy for the State of New Jersey, to succeed Illustrious Brother Andrew B. Frazee, thirty-third degree, of Camden, who declined a re-election. The exalted position he now occupies—one to which only that of Grand Master Masons is to be compared—was due to his eminent fitness for it, a recognition of the work he has done in building up the rite in New Jersey.

Just Escaped a Collision.

Mrs. DeLong, of Sandford avenue, narrowly escaped being run down this morning while riding her wheel. A man in a wagon driving a spirited horse at full speed turned from Front street into Sandford avenue and was about to run over Mrs. DeLong when, by her quick action she jumped out of the way just in time to save herself from severe injury.

Inspecting Properties.

GEN. REEDER TO BE TRIED.

The Writs of Habeas Corpus Dismissed in the Wanamaker Case.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 5.—The cases of Gen. Frank Reeder, until recently Secretary of the Commonwealth; Assemblyman Weiss and M. C. Luckenbach, who are charged with conspiracy to defame the good name of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, by scheming to have a bribe offered to Weiss for a vote for Wanamaker for United States Senator, came before Judge Scott yesterday. It is alleged that a bribe was offered to Weiss last month, and an action in the matter is now pending against E. A. Van Valkenburg, one of Wanamaker's lieutenants. The District Attorney moved that the writs of habeas corpus be dismissed on the ground that the surrender of bail had been voluntary on the part of the defendants.

The counsel for the defence objected. W. C. Shipman, private counsel for the prosecution, said that his side was ready to proceed with the case. The court said that the motion was in conformity with the practice of the court, and unless the defendants could show good cause the motion of the District Attorney would be allowed.

ACCUSED OF BUYING DELEGATES.

State Senator Miller, of Pennsylvania, and His Friend Arrested.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 5.—Democratic State Senator W. Oscar Miller has been arrested, charged with assisting in buying up a bunch of delegates at the last Democratic county convention. The sworn allegations made before Alderman Brownwell is that Senator Miller, who was taking a hand in fixing up a slate for the county offices, bargained for a lot of votes in the convention to nominate a candidate for Recorder of Deeds. The alleged stipulation was $1,000 spot cash, or a clerkship in the Recorder's office. The delegates are said to have delivered, and Senator Miller's friend, Daniel W. Reeser, nominated. The alleged bargain was not carried out on the Senator's part, and hence the suit on the part of the person who says he delivered the men. A similar suit was begun against Reeser.

Senator Miller says the charge is absolutely untrue, and that it is simply an attempt at blackmail or intimidation. Each accused man gave bail of $1,000.

CORNELL FRESHMAN MISSING.

Mysterious Disappearance from Ithaca of a Brooklyn Boy.

Ithaca, Oct. 5.—Frank Powers Parkinson, of Seventy-eighth street, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, a graduate of the Boys' High School and a freshman in Cornell University, on Sunday morning mysteriously disappeared from his temporary residence in Ithaca, 192 East State street, without giving his friends any knowledge whatever as to his intentions. He ate breakfast as usual at his boarding-house, 23 Heustis street, returned to his room, and his roommate, A. L. Wessels, being absent, packed his valise and departed, to go no one knows where. On Sunday night his immediate friends in Ithaca, S. H. Benton, W. E. Phelps, A. L. Wessels and R. L. Haskell, made a search for him, but without success. A telegram has been sent to his home in Brooklyn in order that his parents might be informed of the facts and a more careful search made. At the time of his disappearance he wore a light gray suit of clothes, a light brown overcoat, a dark brown Derby, eye-glasses and brown shoes.

IN THE BASE BALL FIELD.

Boston Wins the First Game in the Temple Cup Series.

Boston, Oct. 5.—The old champions went down in defeat before the new ones yesterday in the first game of the Temple Cup series. The game was loosely played, a curious medley of hits and errors, with an occasional brilliant bit of fielding by way of spice. Neither team played in anything like championship form.

The real feature was the crowd, which overran the field, and made necessary a ground rule that a ball hit into the crowd should be good for two bases only.

Nichols and Nops were pitted against each other, and, so far as base hits went, Nops had the better of the argument. Nops, however, was wild as a hawk, and of the seven Bostons he sent to first on balls no less than five scored. This was the deciding factor in Boston's victory, for not an Oriole got to first without hitting the ball. The score was as follows:

Boston	3	0	0	1	2	5	0	2	x	13
Baltimore	4	0	1	0	9	3	2	0	0	12

MRS. BALDWIN LOSES $25,000.

She Was the Bride Who Was Paid $45,000 by the New York Central.

Troy, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Homer Baldwin, formerly of Troy but now of Brooklyn, alleges that she has been defrauded of nearly $25,000 by a supposed friend, who led her to invest the money in Jefferson iron stock, which proved worthless. Mrs. Baldwin, while on her bridal tour a few years ago, was badly injured in a railroad wreck, and was otherwise frightfully disfigured. She recovered $45,000 from the New York Central Railroad Company, and she advanced the money to the supposed friend with the belief that she would have a fixed income. Mrs. Baldwin intends to bring action against her false friend, who is said to be one of the best-known business men in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Explosion of Acetylene Gas.

Rochester, Oct. 5.—While experimenting with acetylene gas in his machine shop in this city yesterday Valentine Long, his brother Frank Long and Jacob Fassett, an employe, were injured by an explosion of the tank used in making the experiment. Valentine Long's skull is fractured over his right eye, he lost the sight of both his eyes and it is said at the City Hospital that he will probably die. The other two men are not seriously injured.

The Vesuvius to Chase Filibusters.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Orders were issued by Secretary Long yesterday assigning the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, now at Boston, to duty with the [illegible] bustering patrol off the Florida [illegible] She will relieve the gunboat Nash[illegible] which will come north for her [illegible] trip. The Vesuvius is a swift [illegible] and otherwise suited for chasing [illegible] busters. She has been out of commission since Spring.

A Promenade Costume.

This skirt and jacket are of green and white check woolen etmine. The trimming is of white moire antique and green woolen braid sewn on with white, having a distinguished appearance. Jacket is slashed front and back lined with green sarcenet or moirette, and added revers faced with tailor's canvas and moire set on after neck-opening has been trimmed with braid, and stripe of etamine.

A Natty Matinee.

Looking through an elaborate trousseau I came upon a matinee which might be copied by natty fingers at quite a third of the price paid for it. It was made only of muslin, with lines of handsome insertion in the neighborhood of the neck. The fabric, though thin, was so entirely covered with a pattern in pansies that its transparency is scarcely obvious, and therefore only lining in the region of the bodice was necessary. The same design was carried out for year in the autumn in striped mohair, with an underground of cherry pink. A floating silk flounce of the same color bobbed about in the region of the Japanese slippers, which were of rose-colored leather embroidered with gold.

The King of Siam's Armed Yacht.

Of the many things connected with the King of Siam in his tour of Europe, nothing has attracted so much attention as the royal yacht.

The King calls it his yacht but naval men who have inspected the vessel say that it would be no mean addition to any navy in the world. It has a ram shaped bow, and rapid fire guns of different calibre are as plentiful on board of her as in a first class battle ship. Moreover, there are fighting tops in her two masts and in an encounter with a vessel of her tonnage the royal yacht would doubtless make a good showing.

One of the features of this vesse. is the library which is abundantly stored with the writings of the best English and French authors. When at sea the King spends most of his time reading and that he has a wonderfully retentive mind is shown by his knowledge in a mulitiplicity of subjects ranging all the way from the best breed of bulldogs to the latest achievements in the electrical world.

"I have just had a note from Willie's teacher," said Mrs. Parvenu, "and she says that he is very deficient in spelling."

"What in thunder is he studying spelling for?" thundered Mr. Parvenu, angrily. "Does his teacher mean to insinuate that he won't be rich enough to hire a typewriter?"—Chicago Post.

Doesn't your wife's mother live with you?"

"No; I am living with her. Of course the house is mine and I furnished it, but yet"—.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Good Riddance.

Night-Watchman A. B. Henry, at The Standard Flint Paper Co., of Newark, N. J., Ejects an Undesirable Tenant.

There is a great deal of truth in the tales told about evictions in Ireland and in the North of Scotland during the early and middle part of the century. It is a hardship for any family to be summarily dumped on a roadside, without friends or wealth, half famished and half clad, but such ejections or evictions are not by any means confined to the British Isles. Scarcely a day passes in free America without similar cases being recorded, and often in place of extending gratuitous sympathy across the Atlantic we could find abundant opportunities to lavish it at home. Night watchman A. B. Henry, of 43 William street, Newark, N.J., became involved in an eviction a short time ago. Some time the reader may be forced to adapt the same measures. Knowing how Mr. Henry proceeded will save a heap of trouble and many a dollar. He says: "It may or it may not have been kidney disease that I had, but I know the pain was located in the left kidney and was very troublesome and annoying, to say nothing of the suffering it at times caused me. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from a drug store. I had to be very careful in stooping or lifting in order to avoid the sharp pains which were sure to follow if I made any careless movement, and any strain on the back caused a sharp twinge to pass through my loins. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured, and am now entirely free from it. My back is as strong as ever, and during the long hours I am on my feet it does not bother me or get tired and painful as it did formerly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

SPAIN'S LATEST PLAN

To Grant the Island the Reforms Proposed by Campos.

CUBA MUST PAY THE DEBT

If the United States Is Not Satisfied with the Terms, Then Spain Is Prepared to Fight—A Striking Interview.

London, Eng., Oct. 5.—A special dispatch from Madrid gives the substance of an interview between a newspaper correspondent and an unnamed member of the new Spanish Cabinet, in which the latter is quoted as saying Premier Sagasta will carry out the Cuban reforms proposed by Marshal Martinez de Campos ten years ago, including granting autonomy to Cuba on condition Cuba takes over the Cuban debt, including the war debt, and accepts Spain's customs tariff.

The new Cabinet Minister is said to have remarked that Premier Sagasta will not consent to a customs union between the United States and Cuba, and he is said to have added that if the former is not satisfied Spain is prepared to fight, as the Spanish Navy is regarded as equal in strength with the navy of the United States. Further, if necessary, Spain, according to the Cabinet Minister interviewed, will have recourse to privateering.

In conclusion, the new Minister is alleged to have said it is improbable Spain will consent to recognize the insurgent debt; but Premier Sagasta will not prevent the new Cuban Government from dealing with it.

TRAIN LOAD OF GOLD.

Output of Colorado Mines to Be Sent East in One Consignment.

Colorado Springs, Col., Oct. 5.—A novel scheme for handling the gold output of the Cripple Creek mines will be put into use by the operators in that district.

The plan is to set aside the output for one month, take the bullion therefrom and ship it to the United States Mint at Philadelphia in one single consignment.

A special train will be secured for the purpose of transporting it, the bullion will be placed in the charge of some express companies which can guarantee its safety, and all necessary precautions taken to prevent accident or theft while the consignment is in transit.

As the present output of Cripple Creek is over a million dollars per month, there will be one of the largest shipments of gold bullion that has ever crossed the continent.

JAPAN'S FIERCE STORMS.

Scores Killed and Thousands of Houses Destroyed.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 5.—The steamer Victoria brings news of a severe storm that prevailed over Japan last month and which was almost a typhoon.

The principal damage was at Tokio, where 376 houses were totally demolished, 7,726 partly damaged and 14,043 houses submerged. In Shiydoka there were 1,060 houses demolished and 4,000 rendered worthless. In this district thirty-seven persons were killed.

In the Saituma prefecture an embankment broke and fifteen villages were flooded. Yejer is practically in ruins. In Koiishikawa 1,500 houses were submerged, and in Ushigome 156 collapsed.

Hardly a house in the concession escaped damage; the Presbyterian Mission and the Baptist schools suffered the worst. At Toyama 1,500 houses were flooded.

SAY GEORGE WILL WIN.

British Opinion Is that Native American Vote Doesn't Count.

London, Oct. 5.—The newspapers here generally pay much attention to the New York political campaign, publishing long articles, dispatches and editorials on the subject.

The Globe says:

"Judging from the Times' dispatch Henry George will be the next Mayor. The Americans do not exceed a quarter of the whole population, and the European Anarchists, Socialists, Italians, Poles, Hungarians and Russians, all the very lowest of their race, will support the man whose childish economics and wild theories are derided in every capital of Europe. These being the people who sway public opinion, it is the height of absurdity to rave about blood being thicker than water."

The Pall Mall Gazette's article, written by an American, concludes with stating that Tammany will win.

Four Fishermen Drowned.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 5.—Four fishermen were drowned here yesterday morning, and three others in the capsized boat narrowly escaped.

The high surf threw the bow of the boat in the air and then twisted it over. The boat was only a hundred yards from the shore.

Fifty persons on the beach, stricken into stone, beheld the tragedy, saw them buffeted hither and thither by the great waves, saw them disappear, reappear on the crest of a billow and then suddenly slip out of sight for good and all.

The men were employes of Hennessy Bros., pound fishermen at North Long Branch.

The bodies of the drowned men have not been recovered, and there is a possibility that they never will be, for a very high sea is running.

Yellow Fever Spreading.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—It is generally admitted in New Orleans that the yellow fever is spreading, and that the disease will have a very depressing effect on commerce. Dr. Joseph Holt, formerly president of the Board of Health, says the scourge will mean a loss of $25,000,000 to the city.

Britain to Aid Spain.

London, Oct. 5.—It is reported that the British Ambassador to Spain has been instructed to offer the good offices of Great Britain with the United States in the event of a stable government being formed at Madrid. Long dispatches have been passing between London and Madrid.

DETERMINE SENTIMENT.

the stretching of additional wires.

Mr. Runyon made a report concerning the compilation of the city ordinances, and it is now being considered whether certain ordinances should be published. Later it was ordered that the Law and Ordinance Committee be authorized to ask for bids for the printing of the ordinances, and that there be at least four bids. Regarding the redistricting of the wards of the city, Mr. Runyon asked that the Laws and Ordinance Committee be instructed to take proper steps to have an ordinance drafted so that it will conform to the present condition of affairs. It will be introduced at the November meeting.

Mr. Serrell offered a resolution that due notice be given property owners to settle their sewer assessments by November 1st, and if the same is not paid by that time the collector be authorized to give the proper thirty days' notice. If the assessment is not paid within the thirty days a list of all delinquents will be published and the collector will at once proceed according to law to sell the property for the several amounts.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Barrows all those who petitioned for crosswalks had their petition granted by the Council. Another resolution was offered by Mr. Barrows that the property owners of Westervelt avenue be given due notice that the Council intends to use their land in the widening of the avenue, that is the necessary portion of it, and that November 1st be set as the time when the property owners can meet the Council to offer any objections to the action proposed. Still another resolution by Mr. Barrows provided for the securing of the necessary specifications and plans to place sewers in Stelle avenue, Plainfield avenue, Somerset street, Hillside avenue, Berkeley street and Orange place. Mr. Barrows stated that residents in most of the above named streets had petitioned for sewers and they were needed badly.

Mr. Barrows called up the ordinance relative to the placing of telephone wires under ground, and the ordinance was adopted on its second reading, ordered engrossed and advertised. Manager Charles W. Runyon, of the local telephone office, was present and told the members of the Council how the company proposed to do the work. He said that the wires would be placed in a cement bottom, brick side and iron top conduit, with man-holes at convenient distances. In Jersey City and Newark the system is working satisfactorily, said Mr. Runyon It is the intention to place the telephone, fire-alarm and police wires in the one conduit.

The ordinance which provides for the grading of Central avenue, from Randolph road to Elizabeth street, was adopted on a third reading, and another ordinance providing for the location of railroad tracks near Berckman street for the use of the Cornwell Press Works, was adopted on first and second readings.

Mr. Barrows presented a communication which he asked be sent to Mrs. Malli, president of the Town Improvement Association. The letter states that the Council has no objections to the association making improvements about the city park, although it has no knowledge as to what the improvements are to consist of. Mr. Newman raised a point of inquiry as to whether the park would always remain as such and whether the Council would be expected to expend any money on the park. Mr. Barrows replied in the negative, and informed him that he had been given to understand that so long as the city park was an open thoroughfare it could not be used for any other purpose than a park, although there are a number of persons who claim ownership in the tract of land. This finished the business of the evening and the Council adjourned.

A four year-old colt, sired by Athol, and sold from F. P. Olcott's Round-Top stock farm, Bernardsville, to Mr. Harriman, of Orange county, New York, recently won a race in three straight in 2:25 and better. Mr. Olcott has a sale of thoroughbreds at his stock farm on the 16th of the present month.

A meeting of the executive committee of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association was held at Pingry's School, Elizabeth, Friday afternoon. George Proctor Smith was present from the Plainfield High School. The applications of the New Jersey Military Academy, of Plainfield, and the Princeton Preparatory School were received and those schools were elected to membership. There are now nine schools in the association. A special meeting will be held in November to arrange a hockey schedule. A banner will be offered this year for the football championship. Plainfield will not be in the latter this year.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Last year Plainfield set an example for other places in this part of New Jersey by holding a bicycle carnival. Last month New Brunswick fell in line, as did Asbury Park. Now Somerville winds up the list and announces a bicycle carnival for some night the latter part of this month. It will be held in the evening and only those wheels which have at least four lanterns attached will be allowed in line.

The latest idea of Sig. Marconi, the young Italian inventor, of a system of wireless telegraphy, is to place all the watches in a city in accord with a central electric chronometer, and then to keep the time of all uniform by sending out electric waves. This can be done, it is said, as far as eight miles in every direction from the regulator.

If Czar Nicholas should decree universal compulsory education in Russia, as is foreshadowed, he will inaugurate a much greater revolution in the life of that country than did his grandfather when he emancipated the serfs. The effect will not be felt, probably, in his day, for it will take at least a generation to develop it, but in the not distant future the result will be a constitutional government, if not the free and independent republic of Russia.

Electricity now supplies the power for ringing the chimes in Grace church New York, and the curfew hymn is played by an automatic arrangement breaking the current to huge magnets connected with ten bells, the largest weighing 3,000 pounds. Music produced by mechanical means is becoming more popular in this country, and orchestrions and self-playing pianos and harps, to say nothing of phonographs, are multiplying.

The Atlanta Journal is raging mad at the president for visiting the tomb of John Brown, whom that paper calls a "desperate villain" and a "depraved law-breaker." This is hather violent language to apply to the hero of Harper's Ferry nearly forty years after his execution. In the turmoil of politics John Brown had been forgotten in the north in recent years, but in Georgia, at least his soul seems to be marching on.

By the ruling of the postoffice department, any man can make a card of his own, of any size he pleases, print it and send it through the mails at postal card rates, but he cannot cut down a postal card to suit his purpose and send it through the mails without paying double postage on it. The wisdom of this ruling requires demonstration; it is not self-evident.

The substitution of bicycle matches for horse racing at the Bridgeton, N. J., fair, was a sign of the times that means a great deal. If the "agricultural horse race" is to be no longer the leading feature of the county fair, that gathering will, perhaps, be more reputable in future; for though the horse is the noblest and most useful animal given to man, its associations on the country race track are almost always of a bad character. All the swindling games and disreputable characters that infest the farmers' annual gatherings seem to be attracted to the race course ways attached an evil reputation to what should be an enjoyable and useful trial of speed and strength. The introduction of bicycle contests in place of horse races will clear away much of this bad element.

1,000,000 PENSIONERS

THIRTY-TWO YEARS AFTER THE WAR THE LIST IS GROWING.

Last Year Showed an Increase of 12,850, Ten Years After the Cessation of Hostilities the Number Was Only 234,821 and Rapidly Decreasing—A Boom Since '79.

A statement drawn up at the Pension Office shows that the number of pensioners on the roll for June 30, the end of the last fiscal years, was 983,528. This prodigious total breaks all records, the surprising fact being that now, thirty-two years after the close of the civil war, the number of pensioners is larger than at any preceding time, although the ravages of death among the survivors of the war are now becoming so great. In other words, the influx to the list still exceeds the increasing outflow.

In 1865, the last year of hostilities, the number of pensioners on June 30 was set down at 85,986. A year later it got into six figures, with 126,722. The increase thenceforward was steady, yet moderate, until 207,495 was reached in 1871. Two years later, in 1873, what then appeared to be its maximum was attained, June 30 showing 238,411; for the following year it fell to 236,241, this being the first decrease in a dozen years. The next June there was a falling off to 234,821; the next, to 232,137; the next, to 232,104; the next, to 223,998.

But then, just as a continuing ebb, with these five successive years, seemed assured, the tide turned. The Arrears and other pension acts made a vase difference. In 1879, the record for June 30 rose to 242,755, and each succeeding June from that time has shown an increase, larger or smaller, up to the one just past. In 1883 the number had grown to 303,658; in 1887, to 406,007, while in 1890 it passed the half-million mark, June 30 of that year showing 537,944.

Thereafter it took prodigious bounds, influenced largely by the Disability Pension act. The first year's jump was nearly 140,000, to 676,160 in 1891; while even that was outdone by an increase of nearly 200,000 in the following twelve months, to 876,068. A third increase brought the number to 966,012 on June 30, 1893.

Just there, however, when there was a general expectation of reaching the million mark the following June, since fewer than 34,000 net additions were required to do it, the annual gain dwindled to a few thousand, the number reached being 969,544. The next year the gain was smaller yet, not quite a thousand, the total being 970,524. When, therefore, last year, the gain fell off to only 154, the total being 970,678, it seemed an easy prediction that this year there would be an actual loss, and that the ebb would again set in.

But, on the contrary, the gain is the striking one of 12,850, or the biggest in four years; and with only 16,472 more to be made up, the million mark may soon be reached.

Thirty-two years after the end of the civil war, the number of pensioners on account of that war exceeds by about a quarter of a million the number of soldiers actually engaged in service in all the armies of the Government at any time between the firing upon Sumter and the surrender of Lee at Appomattox. The army of pensioners after a third of a century is between thirty and forty per cent. larger than the fighting army at any one time during the war

Since the end of the war more than two billion dollars, that is to say, more than two thousand million dollars, has been paid out in pensions.

This is two-thirds of what the civil war in its entirety cost the government.

It was in 1872 that James A. Garfield, whose patriotism and liberal disposition toward his fellow veterans no one will deny, declared that the pension list was then "swollen beyond all account." "I am the last man," he exclaimed in the House of Representatives, "to say a word against voting pensions to all persons who deserve them. But I wish to say to the House that more frauds are being perpetrated on the Government by claim agents in different parts of the country than from almost any other single source." In that same year, 1872, Gen. Garfield, as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, expressed the opinion, which we have frequently quoted, that "we may reasonably expect that the expenditures for pensions will hereafter steadily decrease, unless our legislation should be unwarrantably extravagant."

And since that patriotic and prophetic warning of Garfield's the number of pensioners has quadrupled, the annual expenditure has increased fivefold, and the total outlay of the Government has reached two billion dollars!

Corporation Notice

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct 4th, 1897.

AN ORDINANCE

granting permission to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, to lay and maintain underground conduits cables, wires and manholes for electrical conductors in the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, to be used for telephone and telegraph purposes.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain for the uses and purposes of its business aforesaid, a system of subways and underground conduits, including the necessary manholes and street openings, and lateral connections to property lines beneath the surface of the streets, avenues and other highways in the City of Plainfield, and to place, maintain and operate in said system of subways or underground conduits the wires, cables or other electrical conductors necessary for its said business; also to construct, maintain and operate for such purposes a system of electrical conductors in connection with the necessary poles for distribution from the electrical conductors to be placed in the subways or underground conduits herein before mentioned.

Section 2. And be it further ordained that the following streets, avenues and highways and parts thereof are hereby designated for the constrction of the underground conduits of said Company to be opened only after the adoption of a resolution granting permission in each street:

Front street from the Eastern to the Western limits of the City.

Somerset street from the Nothern limits of the City to Front street

Park avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

North avenue from Park avenue to Watchung avenue.

Watchung avenue from Front street to Kensington avenue.

East Fifth street, South avenue from Watchung avenue to Leland avenue.

Eighth street from Park avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Sixth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Central avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

Fourth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Liberty street from Front street to Eighth street.

Washington avenue from Front street to the Northern limits of the City;

and all other streets, avenues and highways of said City as may be necessary and from time to time designated in permits to be issued by the Street Committee for the construction of such conduits; said Company may on the same streets, avenues and parts thereof erect the necessary poles fixtures and supports for distributing its electrical conductors along, across and above the surface of the streets in connection with said subways; said poles shall be placed inside and within eighteen (18) inches of and adjacent to the curb line; said cables shall in all cases be placed under the carriage-way and within five (5) feet of the curb line, unless construction make it necessary to go further from the curb line, and then only after written permission has been given by the Committee on streets and sewers, and shall be placed at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the street.

Section 3. And be it further ordained that the said manholes shall be located beneath the surface of the streets at such points along the line of the subways or underground conduits as may be necessary or convenient for placing and operating the electrical conductors which the said Company may from time to time place in said subways or underground conduits, and shall be so constructed as not to interfere with the passage of the public over and along the said streets; and the said Company shall restore any street or avenue which may be disturbed in the construction or maintenance of said subways or conduits and manholes to the condition in which it was at the commencement of the work thereon and free from any cost or expense whatever to the City of Plainfield. And the said Company and its servants and employes in the laying of any wires or conduits, in excavating or replacing the earth in any street, alley or public place, and of the pavement thereon, shall be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and shall promptly comply with any order of said Commissioner in reference thereto.

The earth removed in making any excavation shall be restored, and the pavement taken up shall be relaid by the said company in as good condition as before the making of such excavation or taking up of such pavement, and thereafter shall be maintained in as good condition as the surrounding pavement, until such street, avenue or highway in each case shall be repaved by the City. No street, avenue, alley or public place shall be incumbered for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the work for which the excavation is made. The cost of restoring the earth or otherwise, arising from such excavations, and the laying of pavements and repairs thereto, caused by the opening of any such avenue, street, alley or public place, shall be paid by said Company, and said work shall be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

In case the company shall fail to restore, relay or repair any pavement or street surface within 48 hours after receiving notice from the Street Commissioner that such work is required, said Street Commissioner shall have the right to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the Company.

Section 4. And be it further ordained that said Company shall indemnify the Common Council of the City of Plainfield against and assume all liability and damages which may at any time arise, come or occur to said City from any injury to persons or property from the doing of any work herein mentioned, or from the neglect of the Company or its employes to comply with the provisions of any ordinance of the City relative to the use of streets or other public places, especially as to the putting up of lights or barriers at or around excavations; and the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance shall be an agreement by it to pay to the Common Council of Plainfield any sum of money for which the City may become liable from or by reason of such injury and damage.

Section 5. And be it further ordained that said Company shall file with the Mayor or City Clerk its acceptance of this ordinance within twenty (20) days from the date when such ordinance shall take effect, and shall also file with the City Treasurer a satisfactory bond with sureties approved by the Mayor in the sum of Three Thousand Dollars ($3000,) that it will faithfully comply with and perform all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 6. And be it further ordained that the said The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company shall provide sufficient space in said subways or underground conduits to accommodate the telegraph or telephone wires or conductors operated from time to time by the Police, Fire and other Departments of the City of Plainfield.

Section 7. And be it further ordained that said Company shall pay into the City Treasury all advertising and printing fees incurred by the City under this ordinance, and that this ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Walks on Her Knees to Keep a Vow.

Mrs. Louisa Williams, of San Leandro, Cal., walks for a quarter of a mile over a stony road on her bare knees once a year to keep a vow. Recently she accomplished the feat for the seventeenth time. Seventeen years ago she prayed that her husband's sight might be restored. She vowed that if her prayer was answered she would walk on her bared knees from her house to the church once a year. Her husband regained his sight and the woman kept her vow.—New York Journal.

FOR LITTLE ORPHANS.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE CHILDREN'S HOME CELEBRATED.

The Exercises Attended by the Present Members of the Home—Report of the President—An Address by Jacob Riis.

The hearts of Christian people in happy homes go out in love and compassion toward homeless and friendless little children, and it is not remarkable that the Children's Home is probably the most popular charity in Plainfield. A deeply interested audience gathered in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the institution. Henry B. Newhall presided, and the front seats were occupied by the neatly-dressed little folk from the Home. The room was tastefully decorated with roses, cannas and other flowers.

The exercises were opened with a song, "As Pants the Hart," by a quartette composed of Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, Miss Randolph, Elmer E. Runyon and D. E. Titsworth, after which came Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Mr. Nickerson. The treasurer's report, submitted by Miss Ella W. Serrell, was read by L. W. Serrell.

This report showed total receipts during the past year, from members, subscriptions, the board, for clothing, from donations, lectures, legacies, etc., of $4 217 97. Total expenditures, including cash paid for services, provisions, clothing, fuel, stationery, etc., have been $2,197.37. The balance on hand May 1, 1897, was $2,020 60, of which there is for endowment fund, $1,191.77, and for current expenses, $828,83.

Charles L. Lewis now sang a very touching and beautiful solo, after which the report of the president, Mrs. Horace Kimball, was read by Rev. Floyd Appleton:

Ladies and gentlemen, friends of our Home, gathered with us tonight to celebrate its twentieth anniversary, we ask you for a few moments to turn your thoughts backward through the years to that first evening, when with three little orphan brothers as the nucleus of our family, we gathered in the small house on Grove street to receive the few friends who had confidence enough in us and in our plans to "lend a hand" and to bid us God-speed in the work, which has from that evening held a warm place in the hearts of the good people of Plainfield.

As we recall tonight nearly three hundred boys and girls whom we have been able to gather under our care, and one after another send them into other homes, where they have lived useful lives, and are loved and valued members, our hearts are filled with gratitude. Some of them now hold positions of honor and trust in other communities. Seven of the boys and girls have married and are now living in comfortable, happy homes. From several of these we have pleasant reports of the home-making and the daily lives. It is a great help as well as pleasure to learn that their first impulses towards anything good or noble in their present lives came to them through our Home. Only a few weeks since I received a letter from one of our children in the west, in which she says, "You were the first friend I ever had, and the Children's Home the only one I ever knew until I had one of my own."

While we rejoice in all that has been done we realize most fully that we have not by any means reached our own best ideals for our children, and we always welcome most heartily any helpful suggestions from any source. Of all the officers gathered on that first evening your president alone remains in active service. Tonight we remember gratefully and tenderly all the loved workers who have ceased from their labors and have joyously answered the summons, "Friend, come up higher."

Mr. Newhall now introduced Jacob A. Riis, of New York, who delivered a very absorbing and entertaining address. His subject was the typical city "tough," whom he called Tony. He told of the crowded blocks in New York, where people were packed in after the fashion of sardines. "Only," said he, "the sardine is dead, so he lies still, but the man is alive, and he kicks!" Of course, in such places there are no homes, and what moral stamina can you expect of a boy who has no home? And he has no place to play, and a child has got to play, or he is no child, and who can wonder that he grows up with the most depraved part of him most fully developed? He can't play in the poor little yard, for the landlord of the tenement won't let him, and in the street the policeman is after him. With the landlord and the policeman both sitting on his safety-valve, what will happen? By and by he explodes, and then off he goes to the station-house. Bad boy? Bosh! He is only normal; give him a chance to amuse himself in a natural way, and you won't see so much crime. Is it any wonder that Tony throws mud and stones? They say Tony has no moral sense. Is it remarkable, brought up as he is, and saloons on every corner around him? Good children are spoiled every day in these wretched surroundings. Machinery for rescuing these children has been set in motion. Providing a home must be the first business. The reason we are always fighting the slum is because there can't be a decent home there. After the home must

REMODELED CITY HOTEL.

Proprietor Beerbower Now Has a Hostlery Up-to-Date in Every Detail.

A thorough renovating within and without and the addition of substantial improvements have transformed the City Hotel into an apparently new hostlery. The changes that have been made there have greatly improved the hotel and now make it an up-to-date establishment of which its proprietor, John E. Beerbower, can be justly proud.

To the passersby, the most noticeable improvements are the new stone side walk to take the place of the old areaway at the side of the hotel and the new entrance placed diagonally across the corner. Within, the owner and lessee have both done their share toward the general improvement of the house. The office has been entirely refitted. New paper and quartered oak trimmings give an air of luxury that has been lacking. The reading room is also equipped after the most modern fashion with handsome oak table and time-table rack. The finish of the stairway leading to the toilet rooms in the basement is brand-new, while the equipment there is of the latest sanitary pattern.

The ladies' entrance, the halls and dining room have all received a thorough cleaning and are resplendent with new carpets, paper and paint. Upstairs, the same changes have been made and the rooms are tasteful and neat in their appearance.

The barroom has been enlarged to four times its former size, and equipped after the latest methods. The ceiling is of metal, stamped with an artistic design, while the floor is composed of small blocks of stone set in a bed of concrete. The windows are of French plate glass and those in the main entrance have on them the monogram of the hotel.

Tomorrow night, Mr. Beerbower will keep open house to his friends whom he has invited to come and inspect the place. A large number of invitations have been issued and the guests will be cared for sumptuously by their genial host.

THE HEROISM OF YOUTH.

Rev. W. C. Snodgrass' Interesting Talk to Monroe Avenue Church Young People.

Last evening, in the Epworth House of Monroe Avenue church, a good-sized audience gathered to hear Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, deliver a lecture on the "Heroism of Youth."

At the start Mr. Snodgrass said that he had a growing regard for the Christian work being done in the western section of the city, and though his society was considered the "mother church," he could not be considered the father. He thought that he might be considered the step father, and as such he greeted his audience.

The speaker thought it was a perilous thing to be young, for all along the pathway of life there are great dangers. He said that the young people of this generation are hungry socially, physically, mentally and in many other ways. One of the worst things for a young person is solitary confinement. He thought it was unholy. On the other hand, there are great dangers to be met with too much company that is oftentimes apt to be bad. He spoke of moral and intellectual hunger which young people have, and cautioned all in letting that hunger be rightly directed. Mr. Snodgrass spoke in detail about the perils and benefits to be found in youth, and drew many pointed lessons which were helpful.

A vote of thanks was extended to the speaker at the close for his interesting address.

Borough Health Statistics.

The following is Rev. W. E. Honeyman's report, as registrar of vital statistics in the borough, for the past year: Births, 71; deaths, 65; marriages, 29; burial permits, 60; transit permits, 10; cases of contagious disease, 45, as follows: scarlet fever, 41; typhoid, 2; diphtheria, 1; measles, 1. There were two deaths from contagious diseases. Mr. Honeyman has been re-elected to the office for the ensuing year.

Fire-Alarm System in Good Shape.

Yesterday Chief Doane made a test of the whole fire-alarm system, including the new box, 76, at the corner of Park avenue and Arlington place. In making the test the whistle was shut off. Each box was found to be all right and the system in general in fine working order.

The Physicians Dined.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Plainfield Medical Association was held last evening at the Hotel Tuileries. The business session was held at which several resolutions were passed. The dinner was enjoyed by the members.

REV. JOHN A. WELLS' TRANSIT FROM PULPIT TO SANCTUM.

The Late Congressional Candidate Will Now Air His Views By Pen Rather Than Voice.

The decision of the Elizabeth Presbytery, in session at Metuchen, yesterday, paves the way for Rev. John A. Wells, who gained considerable publicity as a Free Silver Congressional candidate in the Third district last fall, to become an editor pure and simple.

Mr. Wells was the Bryanite candidate for Congress in the Third District last fall. He made an active canvass, leaving his church in the care of a supply, and returning to his ministerial duties at the end of the campaign. He was one of the principal speakers and workers for the cause of silver in this section of New Jersey, and some of the members of his church resented his activity. There was no open breach, but Mr. Wells felt that his usefulness was greatly impaired and he resigned his pastorate last spring.

His friends were in the majority, however, and they refused to accept the resignation. His arguments were of no avail and he appealed to the Presbytery for aid. It was his intention to enter the journalistic field with his son, and he did not wait for the severance of his pastoral relations, but went to work in the newspaper office while continuing to act as pastor in charge of the church.

There was fault found with that course, but the people still refused to reconsider their refusal and accept the resignation. Then Mr. Wells made a proposition that he receive half of the salary, which had been $600, and that he be allowed to devote three days of each week to his other pursuits.

John V. Hoos, an elder of the church at Liberty Corner, presented a report of the action of that meeting to the Presbytery.

There were thirty-one people present, and after a long discussion it was voted to accept the pastor's resignation. Nineteen people voted in the affirmative. This vote was discussed yesterday afternoon. Some of the members of the Presbytery favored refusing to sanction the action of the church, claiming that the differences between people and pastor could easily be adjusted.

Mr. Wells was present and he was asked if he thought that he should be relieved of his pastoral duties. He replied that he did, and said that he felt that he had not been properly treated and that some of the people had failed to appreciate the dignity of his position. Some of the minister's opponents claim that he himself failed to remember the dignity that should attach to the office of minister.

The Presbytery finally, by a unanimous vote, decided to accept the situation and a committee was appointed to inform the Liberty Corner Presbyterians that Mr. Wells is no longer their pastor. The released preacher announced that he would gladly act as a supply or assist any church of the Presbytery, whenever called upon. As soon as his case was settled Mr. Wells left for his home. He continues a member of the Presbytery.

PARK CLUB IS PROSPEROUS.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

Report of Treasurer Shows the Finances to be Flourishing—Senator Reed Chosen President.

The sixth annual meeting of the Park Club was held last evening at the clubhouse with President Charles A. Reed in the chair, and a good attendance of members present. The first item of interest was the presentation of the report of George P. Dupee, treasurer. It showed the total receipts for the year to be $5,826.22, and of that amount $2,197.92 was received as dues, $100 for initiation fees, and $1,675.21 from the sale of cigars, ice-cream, etc., For the last item $1,413 was expended, showing a profit of $261.50. On the side of disbursements, $238 47 was expended for the Fourth of July celebration. The assets and liabilities reported were $861.27. Under the head of real estate, etc., it was reported that the value of the house and lot is $8,972 8.; improvements, $1,285 27; furniture, $2,436 61; making a total of $12,694.71, and against that amount there are bonds out to the amount of $9,300, leaving a balance of $3,394.71. The report was received and the treasurer complimented.

Following the reading of the report the election of three members of the board of governors took place, and resulted in the re-election of George D. Halleck, Walter McGee and George P. Dupee, for a term of three years. The board of governers then met and selected the following officers who were unanimously elected: President, Chas. A. Reed; vice-president, Benjamin Day; treasurer, George P. Dupee; secretary, George D. Halleck.

An amendment to the constitution was made giving the board of governors the right to place into effect such regulations as they deem best for the use of the clubhouse by the junior members.

To Be Married in St. Mary's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Flanagan, of 522 West Fifth street, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Flanagan, and Michael J. Whelan, of this city. The wedding will be celebrated at St. Mary's R. C. church, Wednesday evening, October 20th, at 5 o'clock. A reception will take place at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Change in Bicycle Business.

A transfer is being made of the controlling interest in the Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company, whose store is on North avenue, opposite the Central Railway station. The details of the transaction are not completed, as yet, and no formal announcement has been made by the parties interested.

From Comedian to Host.

George Thatcher, the well-known minstrel man, has rented the roadhouse formerly conducted by John Benner, near Fanwood, and will open it as soon as he can procure a license from the Union County Court. At present Mr. Thatcher is playing "dates" in western cities.

JOKE, OR DID THEY REPENT?

T. J. CAREY'S HORSE DISAPPEARS

While Hunting for Supposed Thieves the Steed, Flecked With Foam, Was Returned by Unknown Men.

T. J. Carey, the furniture man, was given a bad scare last evening when he was informed that some person or persons unknown had entered his stables, on West Front street, near Plainfield avenue, and had hitched one of his horses to a light business wagon that was kept in the barn and driven away with the rig to parts unknown. Mr. Carey's son Harry was preparing to drive a loaded furniture van to New York, and went to the barn at 7 o'clock to get the team, when he discovered the theft. He sent word to his father, and hitching up another horse started at once upon a search for the supposed thieves.

He drove to Dunellen and New Market, and to various points in the vicinity of this city, but returned about 10 o'clock without securing any clew.

As the searchers were returning to the barn they saw a wagon drive to the door and two men leap out of it and run swiftly away in the darkness. The horse and wagon were found to be those taken from the barn. The animal was flecked with foam, and showed signs of hard driving.

Mr. Carey caught a glimpse of the men as they ran off, and thinks he could identify them. He is inclined to think that the same thing has been done before, and will deal harshly with the guilty parties if they are captured.

THIEF GRABBED MONEY AND RAN.

A Hebrew Shoemaker the Victim, But He Doesn't Know the Robber.

A Hebrew shoemaker, named Gold, whose shop is at 615 West Third street, opposite the Muhlenberg Hospital, was robbed of nearly $9 in cash on Monday night. Gold was working in his shop until rather late that night when an unknown colored man entered the store and wanted a pair of shoes half-soled. Gold did the job that night while the colored man waited.

After the repairs to the shoes had been completed, Gold turned them over to the colored stranger who tried them on and pronounced them all right. Then the stranger handed Gold a bill. Gold took out his pocketbook, gave the necessary change to the man, and started to put away the pocketbook which contained nearly $9. Suddenly the man grabbed the pocketbook from Gold's hand and bolted out of the door before the astonished shoemaker could recover sufficiently from his surprise to make any attempt to stop him.

When Gold realized that he had been robbed he hurried to the street, but could get no glimpse of the fleeing thief and had no idea where he went.

The matter was reported to the police, but no trace has been found of the thief or the money.

$5,000 FOR RIGHT OF WAY.

Bound Brook Council Grants Trolley Franchise to the Brunswick Company.

The trolley question which has so long been before the Bound Brook Common Council now appears to be in a fair way to be finally settled, as that body last evening granted to the Brunswick Traction Company a franchise to construct, maintain and operate an electric road on Main street, between the eastern limits of the borough and Talmage avenue.

After the routine business had been disposed of, William A. Coddington who has lately been retained by the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, presented an entirely new ordinance with accompanying maps, etc., and asked to have a time appointed for a public meeting for the hearing of objections. This was laid on the table by a vote of four to one and Councilman Hastings then moved that the ordinance of the Brunswick Traction Company receive its third reading and final passage.

The ordinance was then read and after a few minor changes was unanimously passed.

Another ordinance providing for a continuation of this route to the western limits of the borough over Talmage avenue will be presented at the next meeting of the Council, and the attorneys for the Brunswick Company say they will provide for the macadamizing of that avenue from curb to curb. Besides the improvements above mentioned, the borough will receive the sum of $5,000 for the franchise.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED.

High School A. A. Establish an Advisory Committee That Has Veto Power.

The adoption of a new constitution was the principal business that was considered at a meeting of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association, held in the High School building yesterday afternoon. The new constitution was the work of several months and embodies the original work of a committee composed of William A. Fisher, Elwood Davis and William H. Sebring, Jr., with the suggestions of a number of the other members.

The new constitution does away with the four vice-presidents and makes the managers of the different teams separate from the other officers. It provides for an advisory committee to be composed of two graduates of the High School and one member of the faculty. This committee has the veto power over all acts of the association relating to finances, audits the bills and exercises a general supervision over the other affairs of the association.

STILL ANOTHER CYCLE THEFT

The mysterious bicycle thief still continues his work in Plainfield. Last week he took Lindley M. Hillman's wheel from in front of Moy's pharmacy at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street. Last night the wheel belonging to George Rockfellow, son of George W. Rockfellow, the grocer, was taken from the corner diagonally opposite.

The wheel was left standing in front of the store at about 6 o'clock. The store was lighted up and there were customers constantly passing in and out. When Rockfellow came to look for his wheel it was gone and there was absolutely no trace as to the identity of the thief. The missing wheel is a Columbia, 1897 model, with blue rims.

SOUGHT HYMEN QUIETLY.

Alfred K. Willett and S Elizabeth Dunn Married by Rev. Mr. Schenck.

Alfred Kline Willett and Miss S Elizabeth Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dunn, of 210 West Fourth street, were marrried last evening by Rev. Cornelius Schenck at the parsonage, 904 West Front street.

The wedding was a very quiet and unostentatious one, there being only a few witnesses present. After the ceremony the bride and groom were driven to their own house at 319 East Second street, where they will live.

Both Mr. and Mrs Willett are members of Trinity Reformed church, and are active workers in the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

This morning the couple found that some friend of a joking disposition had hung a pair of old shoes on the front door of their home during the night.

Two Typhoid Cases.

One medical case was received at the hospital yesterday and one this morning. At present there are two typhoid cases at the hospital, but both are doing well. Edward Marcellis seems to be improving, although it has not yet been determined as to whether he will have to lose his eye.

'RAS STOLE THE BICYCLE.

DIMINUTIVE DARKEY CAUGHT WITH THE WHEEL IN HIS POSSESSION.

He Looks Innocent Enough, But Even His Mother Says He is a Bad Boy—Clever Capture By Officer Frederickson.

To Roundsman Frederickson belongs the credit for tracking down and capturing the first bicycle thief in this city. Wheels have been stolen here and the thief captured elsewhere, but this was the first occasion when the police have made the arrest within the limits of the city.

Last May, Shepard Dekay, whose home is on Carleton avenue, received a brand-new Crescent, model 2, of the 1897 style. The wheel was a small one and just suited to him. Shepard has ridden the wheel a great deal this summer, and lately it has been his custom to ride it to school. Yesterday Shepard rode the wheel to school and then brought it home and left it on the piazza.

The young daughter of E. H. Bogardus, who lives on Putnam avenue, remarked to her father, soon after 1 o'clock, that she had seen a little colored boy go up on Dekay's piazza and carry away Shepard's wheel. Mr. Bogardus hurried over to his neighbor's house, but the wheel was gone and there was no boy or wheel in sight. The theft was then reported to the police and Roundsman Frederickson started out to investigate.

Diligent inquiry in the neighborhood revealed the fact that a small colored boy had been seen riding a maroon enameled Crescent wheel. Further search discovered that Raspberry Harrison, a diminutive piece of dusky humanity, living in the East Sixth street row, had been riding a wheel of that description.

This little black Raspberry, or "Ras" as he is usually called, is alleged to have paid a visit to the new houses that Charles Hand is building on Berckman street and helped himself to the lunch belonging to the men working there. The men gave chase but the youthful raider eluded them.

The Roundsman went to see Mrs. Harrison, mother of the boy, and she told him that the last she had seen of 'Ras was at 3 o'clock. She told him that the men had been there and wanted to know what he had done with their lunch and that he must now stay home. She went down stairs and when she came back the lad was gone. She said that he was not an obedient child and that he was always into mischief despite her best efforts.

This morning early the Roundsman was out again looking for the lad and the wheel. He at last found them both in the alley leading to Battle Row. Another boy was riding the wheel while 'Ras was standing nearby. When the lad saw the blue coat and brass buttons of the bicycle cop flash round the corner the youngster took to his heels and headed for the nearest fence. The officer jumped off his wheel and followed. 'Ras tumbled over the fence but before he could roll away the hand of Roundsman Frederickson reached over the pickets and settled on the collar of the youthful rider. He squirmed a little as the officer lifted him over the fence but mounted his wheel quietly and rode to town peaceably in front of the Roundsman.

'Ras told the officer that his mother gave him the wheel. He also said that he spent the night at the home of a friend on West Fourth street. He was locked up in the fastness of one of the cells in the city jail where he looked extremely small and inoffensive as he huddled up against the wall.

Arlington Avenue Surprise.

A pleasant surprise was given to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson, of Arlington avenue, last evening. The affair was complete in every detail and was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis The evening was passed in dancing and in having a good social time. Those present were: Mrs. Lewis Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Peterson, George Peterson, Walter Peterson, Mrs. Ellen Peterson, Mrs. Cade Wyett, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby, William Ashby, Miss Annie Patten, Miss Mary Jones, Miss Wilson, Fred Wood, Mrs. Catharine Hill, Charles Williams, Oscar Nelson, Miss Maggie Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

Battle of Liepsig to be Celebrated.

The anniversary of the battle of Liepsig, which occurs on the 18th inst., will be celebrated in an appropriate manner by the German citizens of Plainfield. At a meeting to be held on that date in Saengerbund Hall the German women of the city will present a handsome flag to the Independent Shooting Corps. The Saengerbund Society will furnish the programme for the occasion, and rehearsals are now being held for that purpose.

IS HE WILSON'S SLAYER

Man Surrenders as the Muderer of the Philadelphia Librarian.

IMPLICATES TWO OTHERS

Were Surprised at Their Work and Beat the Old Man to Death While He Stood—Police Are Very Reticent.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The police are reticent, and will give out no information whatever regarding the man who gave himself up Monday night, stating that he was one of three men who murdered William C. Wilson, the aged librarian who was killed in his book store on the evening of Aug. 16.

It has been learned that he has informed the police authorities that he, with two other men, went into the book store for the purpose of robbery, and that when they unexpectedly met Wilson in the place, they beat him to death, and then made their escape.

The man's first name is Harry, but the police refuse to divulge his full name. They are investigating the story, and are endeavoring to locate the man's alleged companions in the crime.

The story told by the prisoner to the Philadelphia police tallies with the theories advanced at the time of the murder. It was supposed at the time of the murder that three men took part in the crime, as the interior of the store was all in disorder, and the killing of the aged librarian bore the evidence of more than one man.

William C. Wilson was found dead on the night of Aug. 16 last. His body was found in his store. It would have been possible for passing pedestrians to look through the glass door of Wilson's store, which was used as a circulating library, and witness the crime.

Wilson was known to all women of any social prominence or means in the Quaker City. He was the almost sole purveyor of fiction for the leisure classes of Philadelphia. After the discovery of the murder the Mayor offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension of the murderer.

The old man had been struck down where he was standing in the middle of the store. He fell near a bookcase, and then he was beaten into insensibility. The murderer or murderers, after the crime, had apparently dragged the body behind the bookcase. Imprints of fingers were found on the old man's neck, and a bloody towel was found near the body.

One of the intruders must have crept behind the old man, clasped his throat, and then wound the towel around his neck. Blows were then struck with a tack hammer until the old man was dead. Eleven distinct marks were found on Wilson's face, which seemingly were made by a hammer. The police thought that the mutilation of the old man was done, not because the murderer or murderers did not secure any money, but out of motives of revenge.

Four men were arrested, but discharged, as there was no evidence against them.

Mr. Wilson was small and spare. His whole life was devoted to his books. He rarely mingled with the outside world and lived alone on the third floor of his library, the two lower floors being filled with books. None of the rooms were carpeted, and he slept in a single bed. He was last seen alive on the night of Aug. 15, when he left a restaurant where he usually got his meals, to return to the store, at No. 1119 Walnut street. The murder was discovered by a policeman, who found a back gate open. Everything in the place was topsy turvy, the intruders searching evidently for the money Wilson was supposed to have.

The murder created a great sensation in Philadelphia at the time, and any number of theories were advanced for the motive of the crime.

MORE TESTIMONY AGAINST THORN.

Frank Clark, His Cellmate in the Tombs, Makes an Important Statement.

New York, Oct. 6.—Frank Clark, a prisoner in the Tombs, sent word to District Attorney Olcott yesterday that he desired to tell all he knew about Martin Thorn, the alleged murderer of William Guldensuppe. For six weeks District Attorney Olcott has been trying to get Clark to make a statement, as it was known that he was the only person aside from Barber Gotha of whom Thorn had made a confidant. Thorn and Clark were cellmates in the hospital ward of the Tombs, and Clark became intimately acquainted with Thorn. All sorts of jobs were put up on Clark to get him to make a statement, but he pretended that he knew nothing about Thorn or his conversation with visitors.

Assistant District Attorneys Mitchell and Rosolsky went over to the Tombs yesterday and questioned Clark. Clark told them a story that needed only the verification of some one at Woodside, L. I. Then a messenger was sent to Woodside, and certan statements made by Clark were backed up by proof. Later Clark made a long statement, which he swore to.

Clark is 42 years old. He is now under indictment for forgery. A few weeks ago, while in his cell in the Tombs, he raised a dollar note to a ten, and succeeded in passing it on the Tombs caterer, who discovered the forgery only when making a deposit of the bill in a savings bank.

Neal Dow Buried.

Portland, Me., Oct. 6.—Gen. Neal Dow was buried from the Second Paris Church yesterday afternoon. Three clergymen participated in the services: The Rev. Leary S. Bean, the Rev. D. B. Randall, who is 91 years old; the Rev. Asa Dalton, the Rev. A. H. Wright, the Rev. R. T. Hack. The pall bearers were Gov. Lellewyn Powers, ex-Gov. Dingley, ex-Gov. Perham, ex-Gov. Robie, ex-Gov. Cleaves, Mayor Randall, ex-Mayor Fessenden, ex-Mayor King, ex-Mayor Deering, W. L. Putnam, C. F. Libby, Gen. Selden Connor, W. G. Davis, Spencer Rogers. The interment was at Evergreen Cemetery.

London, Oct. 6.—The Globe says that the net value of the estate of Barney Barnato, the famous South African millionaire, who committed suicide last June by jumping overboard from the steamer Scot, while on his way from South Africa to England, is £960,119.

GEORGE SCORES CROKER.

Radical Bryan Ticket for Greater New York.

LAST NIGHT'S BIG MEETING

Greeting Sent to the "Gallant Leader of the Democratic Party," William J. Bryan—A Crowded House and Lots of Enthusiasm.

New York, Oct. 6.—With yells of defiance and denunciation for Tammany Hall, and with jeers and hoots for Richard Croker and the French ball ticket nominated at the Tammany convention, the acre of people who jammed themselves into Cooper Union last night, and acres more who couldn't get in, notified Henry George that he was their candidate for Mayor of the Greater New York, and told him that he was the only Democratic candidate. They were the simon-pure Democrats, the believers in the Chicago platform, the supporters to a man of William J. Bryan, and they yelled their approval of it and their candidate until they had no voices left to yell with.

Henry George was brought into the big hall after the platform had been read, and then followed a tumultuous time. Men, and women, too, leaped up and down, waving hats, coats, umbrellas and handkerchiefs, and yelled as if their lives depended upon it. There was no question of Mr. George's popularity, and there was no question about the character of their Democracy.

George received notification of his nomination by four separate organizations, the United Democracy, the Democratic Alliance, the People's party and the Manhattan Single Tax Club. He accepted the nominations in a speech entirely characteristic.

The Platform.

The platform of the George men is headed: "Declaration of Principles. Jeffersonian Democrats of New York." It says in part:

We, Democrats of Greater New York, in mass meeting assembled, do reaffirm our adherence to the creed of Democracy as set forth in the platform adopted by the National Convention of the Democratic party in Chicago, July 9, 1896; we declare our allegiance to the principles enunciated in that document, pronouncing them the formal expression of the spirit of true Democracy.

We send our greeting to the gallant leader of the Democratic party, William Jennings Bryan, and we applaud the earnestness of purpose, the indomitable courage and the fidelity to the principles of his party which have made him a beacon to which Democrats may turn with confidence for guidance and for light when leaders about them waver or desert.

We declare that the functions of street railway transportation, the lighting of the streets and homes of the people, whether by gas or electricity, the carriage of the people by ferries about the waterways of Greater New York the facilitation of the interchange of speech by telephones or telegraphs, are all purely municipal functions, things which can better be done by organized society than by individuals.

We are here to demonstrate that what Democrats shall or shall not think and speak of is not to be determined on English race tracks, nor in secret conclaves of self-constituted bosses. We are here to declare that only by wresting control of the Democratic party from the hands of the paid agents of monopolistic millionaires can the city control the corporations, and not the corporations the city.

George's Acceptance.

Mr. George was loudly cheered when he arose to respond to the notification of the committee. He said, in part:

"The City Convention has acted. It has registered the will of—whom? Of Mr. Croker (hisses and groans) from the English racetracks; a man whom you know (a voice, "a murderer and thief"); who has grown rich on what? He dictates the Democratic nomination. Is it the Democratic nomination? As a Democrat, I say 'No.' (A voice: "You are right.") The real Democracy—the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson—the regular Democracy (applause), as I hold it, tenders me the nomination to-day. I have sought by every means to have some one else come forward and take this place. I would gladly support him. It was not until it was shown to me that unless I took this nomination Mr. Croker's representative must poll the votes of the Democracy of the Greater New York that I consented.

"Now, I accept. (Great applause). Such power as I have, such strength as is left me, such ability as I well can yield, is for your cause—the greatest of causes. (Great applause).

"I am a Democrat. Not a silver Democrat or a gold Democrat, but a Democrat who believes in the cardinal principle of Jeffersonian Democracy (applause), to whom this great truth is self-evident, that all men are created equal. (Great applause.) On that principle I stand."

The moment Mr. George had finished the crowd on the stage gathered around him, and in a minute the police made way for him to get out of the hall. He was followed by Mrs. George and her daughters. When it was seen that the candidate was gone again and that the hour was still early, there were more calls for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease. While they were still hot, Chairman O'Neill, who had been escorting Mr. George out, rushed back and up to the desk and announced: "Ladies and gentlemen, I do declare this meeting now adjourned." But the crowd was reluctant to go, and it was several minutes later, when the lights had already begun to go out, that the rush for the open air began.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mrs. T. H. May arrived Monday evening at her home on Somerset street, after spending six weeks at the home of relatives at Plainview, N. Y.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss E. Lawson, of New York city, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. C. MacClymont, of Washington avenue.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Harry B. Williams, of West Seventh street, is now studying law with his brother, Walter Gordon Williams, of the Babcock building.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pheumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Walter G. Williams, of West Seventh street, spent Monday at Philadelphia and Woodbury.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

MRS. MC ENROE GETS A DIVORCE.

Allowed to Resume Her Maiden Name by the Court.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Eleanor F. McEnroe, daughter of Capt. Fred J. Peck of this city and granddaughter of Commodore Richard Peck of the New Haven and New York steamboat line, is now free from her husband, Eugene F. McEnroe of New York. Judge Roraback of the Superior Court granted her a divorce in this city Tuesday afternoon. The divorce was obtained on the ground of intolerable cruelty, and Mrs. McEnroe was permitted to change to the name of Peck.

The defendant in the case, Eugene F. McEnroe, is a relative of Richard Croker. He is chief clerk to Register William Sohmer, of New York, and it is said that McEnroe procured the office through Croker. The divorce case was heard on an ex-parte hearing last Friday. McEnroe had entered a contest to his wife's complaint, but withdrew it after she had agreed to strike out infidelity as one of the causes and leave the sole cause of complaint as intolerable cruelty.

According to Mrs. McEnroe's statement her husband was insanely jealous of her and became enraged when another man would notice her. They were married in April, 1895, in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, by Archbishop Corrigan, a special dispensation for the ceremony having been obtained from the Pope. A wedding-supper at Delmonico's followed the marriage.

The McEnroes separated about a year ago, and since then Mrs. McEnroe has lived with Commodore Peck in this city.

ANNEXATION OF HAWAII.

Senators Proctor and Lodge Say that Union Is Assured Practically.

Boston, Oct. 6.—United States Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont, who was in this city yesterday, said that, in his opinion, Hawaii would be admitted to the United States at the next session of Congress.

"I think," he said, "that the great majority of Americans are in favor of acquiring control of the islands, if for nothing else but to keep them out of foreign hands. Annexation in some form is the only way of reaching that end."

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, is credited with saying that he looks upon the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands as practically accomplished.

"The treaty," he said, will be taken up at once, when Congress assembles in December, and I think that there is an easy two-thirds majority in the Senate in favor of its ratification. If it should appear probable that an opposition is developing, sufficient to defeat ratification, the remedy will be very simple. There is a joint resolution of annexation of the islands on the calendar, which does not require a two-thirds majority.

Sheehan and Croker Make Up.

New York, Oct. 6.—John C. Sheehan is still the ostensible leader of Tammany Hall. He did not resign his place yesterday, but he was successful in making it apparent that Richard Croker and not John C. Sheehan is to be responsible for the Tammany Hall ticket and the management of the campaign this year.

That is what Mr. Sheehan was striving for from the time that it became apparent that Mr. Croker had set his heart on the nomination of a ticket which Mr. Sheehan felt was unusually weak, and which was bitterly opposed by a majority of the members of the Executive Committee. He suggested to Mr. Croker that he did not care to be held responsible for the ticket, and that he had better resign the leadership. Mr. Croker opposed this, because he knew that the resignation of Leader Sheehan at this time would be proof positive to the rank and file that the stories of trouble among the leaders were true.

Albany Railway Plundered.

Albany, Oct. 6.—By a conspiracy among twelve employes the Albany Railway Company has lost more than $20,000. Three months ago Assistant General Manager Edgar S. Fassett began to suspect that the company was not receiving the revenue which travel on the Troy and Albany division should return. Chief of Police Willard employed several Pinkerton detectives to investigate the matter. Their efforts resulted last night in the arrest of James Bain, a clerk in the office of the railway company; Electrical Inspector Peter Brannigan and Conductors John Ryan, Cornelius Tierney, Thomas Noonan and Jacob Mullen.

Warrants are out for the arrest of five other conductors, and it is suspected that more are implicated, as the Pinkerton men have not completed their work. The operations of the employes were unique and escaped detection for over a year.

England and Silver.

(Special Cable Dispatch to the New York Sun.)

London, Oct. 6.—The Daily News, referring to the Government's impending reply to the American Bimetallic Commission, says it is confidently asserted in some city quarters that the Government will make concessions, including the holding of one-fifth of the Bank of England's note reserve in silver, raising the legal tender value of silver from £2 to £5, and reopening the Indian mints.

Correspondence on the latter question is actively progressing between the British and Indian Governments. Confidence is expressed that reservations will be made safeguarding the existing positions here and in the East.

Japan Appoints Delegates.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The State Department has been informed that Shiro Fujita, acting Chief of the Bureau of Marine Products in the Japanese Department of Agriculture, and Prof. Kakichi Mitsukure, of the Department of Science in the Imperial University, have been appointed delegates by Japan to the conference to consider means for the protection of seal life. The Japanese delegates are expected to reach San Francisco on the 7th.

Moved a Five-Story Tenement.

New York, Oct. 6.—A five-story brick tenement house, weighing 1,700 tons, was moved a distance of thirty feet yesterday without so much as disturbing a single brick in the entire building. The cost of the removal was $2,000.

M'KINLEY IN NEW YORK

The President Will Attend the Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

MR. GAGE TO TALK FINANCE

Elaborate Preparations for Opening Banquet Hall in the New Delmonico's—Municipal Love Feast—Many Distinguished Guests.

New York, Oct. 6.—It is expected that Ptesicent McKinley will grace with his presence the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, which is to be held at the new Delmonico's on November 23. Not since the inauguration has the President had an opportunity to meet face to face the men of this city who worked so valiantly for his election.

Therefore, if the President consents to come on here as the guest of the Chamber he will receive a royal and an enthusiastic welcome. He will find that his views on the currency question will receive a patriotic support, irrespective of what he may possibly say on the tariff.

The arrangements for the dinner have not yet been completed. The regular monthly meeting of the members of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Thursday, when the matter of the annual banquet will be brought up. Then a committee will be appointed to take charge of the affair, issue the manifold invitations and correspond with the various guests to be as to the subjects to which they respectively will respond.

Of course it is not expected that the President, if he comes to the dinner, will make a set speech. His presence alone will add honor and lustre to the occasion.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Lyman J. Gage, also will probably be asked to attend and speak upon some topic within the lines of finance, in which assuredly every member is deeply interested.

Another topic will interest those fortunate enough to attend the banquet. That will be the discussion on the needs of Greater New York. It is not yet certain whether Andrew H. Green, the father of the idea, or Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, the chairman of the commission which prepared the charter, will be asked to speak to this toast.

Mr. Seth Low also may have an opportunity to express his views on the manner in which the magnificent big city should be managed by its officials. On the day when the banquet will be held the election in Greater New York will have been held.

It will then be known whether Mr. Low, Gen. Tracy, Judge Van Wyck, Henry George, P. Jerome Gleason (and so on) is to be the first Mayor. Then the bitter feelings of the campaign will have died away and the subject of improving the situation in the entire city can be listened to dispassionately and without any material rancor being exhibited.

DEBS' PLAN FOR LABOR.

To Set His Social Democracy Building a Tennessee Railroad.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Railroad building has been selected by Eugene V. Debs as the first great industrial project to be undertaken by the Social Democracy of America.

He has sought for the privilege of constructing a railroad in Tennessee, and if his preliminary plans meet with favor the work will be launched next month.

The City Council of Nashville will receive a formal proposition from the Social Democracy to build a seventy-five-mile road from Nashville to Lebanon, which will be turned over to the city of Nashville for a nominal consideration.

Labor for the building and operation of the railroad will be furnished by the Social Democracy, and it is intended that the road will be maintained under the methods set forth by the advocates of public ownership of railroads.

The building of the line, with another small line at Monterey to connect with the Cincinnati Southern Road, owned by the city of Cincinnati, will give a direct road to Cincinnati.

It is proposed to employ idle labor in constructing the road, and the Social Democracy will have at its selection capable and experienced men who were its members when it was the old American Railway Union.

The establishment of a colony on the line of the new railroad, if built, will be a second undertaking.

ROCKEFELLER BESTS POTTER.

The Parson's Suit for $250,000 Dismissed for Lack of Prosecution.

New York, Oct. 6.—The action brought by the Rev. Daniel C. Potter, formerly pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, on Second avenue, to recover $250,000 from John D. Rockefeller, who had been a large contributor to the church, for malicious prosecution, was dismissed by Justice Gildersleeve, of the Supreme Court, yesterday. The case has been pending for a long time, and has been adjourned frequently at the request of the plaintiff. Mr. Rockefeller's counsel were on hand yesterday to try the case, but Mr. Potter appeared in person and said he had no counsel, and desired an adjournment. He said his counsel had just returned to him the papers in the case, and that he had had no oppartunity to get other counsel.

G. W. Murray, who, with Joseph H. Choate, appeared for Mr. Rockefeller, said that this was but one of the excuses of Mr. Potter for adjournment, of which he always seemed to have a supply.

Justice Gildersleeve said that the case had been adjourned so often that Mr. Potter's counsel probably had not the effrontery to appear in court and ask for another adjournment. The Judges thereupon dismissed the case.

Miners' Wages Go Up in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 6.—Advances in wages are being made at various mines in the Birmingham district. At McDonald's mines, Carbonhill, an advance of 10 cents a ton for forked coke has been given. The Standard Coal Company, at Brookwood, Elliott & Corrington Company, at Little Warrior, and the Dora Company, at Horse Creek, have given a 2½ cents a ton advance in coal mining.

THE EXACT MAJORITY.

The exact majority in favor of the anti-gambing constitutional amendment has been determined to be 737. The total vote for the ad interim amendment was 73,259, against 66,253; majority for, 7,006. The women's suffrage proposition was beaten by 10,295 votes—for, 64,784; against, 75,079. Gov. Griggs has appointed Senators Voorhees, Johnson, Stokes, Gould and Kuhl to act as a State canvassing board on the 19th inst.

So its seems that Rev. J. W. Wells would rather be a country editor than a country preacher. The difference between the practice of the two professions in Liberty Corner is mostly a distinction. Neither one is likely to bring great renown or a bulging pocketbook.

The reported cost of the Lincoln school building is $27,125.95. It was money spent for a good purpose, besides the fact that the city receives in return a permanent and valuable addition to its public buildings.

Rather than face starvation it is evident that Barney Barnato determined to end his life. The information comes from London that he was worth only $5,000,000.

Tax rates in all the principal New Jersey cities seem to be uniformly high. The latest to record is Trenton, which has been fixed at $2.20.

GRAND JURY CHARGED.

The Most Important Case to Be Considered is the Stony Hill Murderer.

The October term of court was opened yesterday morning with a large attendance of members of the bar from all parts of the county.

The grand jurors, escorted by Sheriff Kirk, entered the court room a few minutes after 10 o'clock and they were sworn by County Clerk Howard. The grand jurors are:

John A. Hicks, Summit, foreman; Chas. W. VanHorn, Francis Spencer, Thomas S. Leoser, Charles H. Ross, Dennis Long, Stephen S. Woodruff, John T. Fritts, Frederick C. Lounsberry, Andrew Vanderbeek, Arthur T. Gallup, Kenry Krouse, Caleb C. Pollard, Elias R. Moorehouse, James J. Carter, James M. Silvers, Edward W. Slater, George E. White, William H. Hicks, Lewis W. Miller, John N. Burger.

Judge VanSyckel delivered a brief charge, stating to the jurors that since the last term of court an aged citizen of the county had been murdered, referring to Farmer James C. Pitts at Stony Hill.

The coroner's jury had found no evidence pointing to the murderer, and it would be the duty of the grand jurors to investigate such evidence as the public prosecutor might present. Judge VanSyckel stated further that a letter had been handed him in which it is charged that one of the official boards of a township in the county has dispensed public money in excess of the appropriation and has incurred obligations beyond the limit of its expenditure.

The civil calendar is a large one. On the Supreme Court list there are 28 causes, and on the Circuit Court list 24 causes.

Judge VanSyckel announced that he would be engaged in the Court of Errors on Thursday and Friday.

Two Plainfield young women, ardent cyclists, have for some time been trying for a record. A few days ago they rode from Plainfield to the borough in eight minutes. This is considered very good.

Justice Storms, of New Market, has issued summons in the cases of W. H. Cole against George Huff, on contract, returnable October 11th; Ballantine & VanFleet against Carl Heimerle, on contract, October 12th; F. R. Meserole against Lola Earle, on contract, October 11th. In the case of J. Liddle & Sons against W. V. Carpenter, judgment was given the plaintiff and execution issued. Just at present Justice Storms is kept very busy with the number of cases that are brought to him.

The small boys of the borough were a little ahead of themselves last Monday evening when they called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George V. T. Schenck, for the purpose of serenading them. It so happened that the bride and groom had not returned at the time from their wedding trip, and the crowd was about three hours ahead of time. They built a large bonfire and performed all of their feats before time, and when the bride and groom returned they were allowed to come undisturbed.

In Memory of Mrs. Mary M. Dunlap, Who Died Sept. 19th, 1897.

We miss thee from our home, dear mother,
We miss thee from thy place.
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care.
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.

Oh, mother, thy gentle voice is hushed,
Thy warm, true heart is still;
And on thy pale and peaceful face
Is resting death's cold chill.
Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed thy marble brow,
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no mother now.

A Friend.

THEATRICAL.

Every now and again New York gets excited and half crazy over some pretty woman or batch of pretty women. Female beauty catches it every time and sets talking and rushing in the direction of the collection of pulchritude. No pretty women, though, have ever made a sensation in the metropolis like that created by the small army of diamond-eyed, dewy-lipped Gaiety girls that is now on view at the Knickerbocker Theatre in the successful English musical farce "In Town." They are not only pretty, soul-satisfying and eye-filling, but they are talented girls besides and their songs and dances given with the easy grace and pleasing refinement acquirable only in the Gaiety School of burlesque acting are as potent factors in the tremendous success of "In Town" as are their good looks. The Knickerbocker Theatre has been thronged every night for the past two months—ever since the London fair ones made their first appearance there—and the triump which "In Town" is making is far greater than ever that achieved by the "The Gaiety Girl" two years ago.

Music Hall, Thursday night, offers it's patrons one of the cleanest, brightest, most exciting comedy-dramas that is on the stage today. There is not a dull moment, a slow line or a weak spot in the whole performance. The company selected by A. Q. Scammon is in every way as up-to-date as the play, and the costumes and work of this able company deserves the unstinted praise they everywhere receive.

Local sports, whose finances would not permit them to witness the fight at Carson City last March, will have an opportunity of seeing the contest, as reproduced by the veriscope, at Stillman Music Hall, on Friday and Saturday. The pictures are the same as were seen at the Academy of Music, New York, some time ago. Four exhibitions will be given, including two matinees. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

GAVE A EUCHRE PARTY.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Thiers Entertained Friends Pleasantly.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Thiers gave a euchre party to a number of friends at their charming home on Grove street last evening. Most of the evening was spent at euchre in which Miss Adelaide Ball and Percy Long were the winners of the first prizes. Dancing, music and refreshments followed. Among the guests were the Misses Alice Barlow, Grace Barlow Grace E. Overton, Katheryn Overton, Sarah Long, Margaret Long, Laura Long, Adelaide Ball and Marie Dryden; Percy Long, Allan E. Laing, Dr. Jones, A. Willis West and William J. R. Thiers.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 4, 1897.

AN ORDINANCE

authorizing the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey to lay down and maintain a Siding or Turnout across North avenue and to run and operate engines and cars thereon.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to lay down, construct and maintain, one railroad track across North avenue in the City of Plainfield, and to run and operate railroad engines and cars on and over said railroad track across said North avenue, and that such authorization is granted upon the following terms and condition.

A. That the point where such single railroad track shall cross said North avenue shall be between lands of said Railroad Company on the South side and lands of Charles H. Leonard on the North side of said North avenue and not nearer than fifty (50) feet to Berckman street and not father from said Berckman street than two hundred and fifty (250) feet.

B. That said single railroad track shall be laid and maintained, as nearly as possible, at right angles to said North avenue.

C. That said single railroad track shall be so laid and maintained that the top of the rails shall be on a level with said avenue.

D. That for one foot on the outside of the rails, and between the rails, the said Company shall lay and maintain in good order on a level with the rails, planking, so that the crossing of said railroad track by vehicles shall be easy and convenient, such planking to extend a width equal to three-fifths of the carriage or driveway of said avenue. That the roadway of said North avenue, adjacent to to said crossing, be continually maintained on a level with said planks, and that the planks shall be renewed when, in the opinion of the Street Commissioner, it is necessary.

E. That said Railroad Company in the laying down and maintenance of said single railroad track shall make such culverts or drains, or both, on the gutter lines of the avenue to pass the surface water flowing in said gutters as shall be required by the Street Commissioner of said City.

F. That said Railroad Company shall erect a sign or signal post on one side of said railroad track on the curb line, to be lettered "Railroad Crossing. Look out for the Locomotive."

G. That said Railroad Company shall cause every engine, car, cars, engine and car or cars, which shall be moved across said avenue to be preceded in the going direction of said cars or engines by a flagman to warn persons traveling upon said avenue of the approach of said cars or engines, and no cars or engines shall be moved at a greater speed than such person can walk.

H. That the authorization above granted shall be terminable on thirty days' notice by a resolution of the Common Council to that effect, served on said Railroad Company, and in such case said Railroad Company shall forthwith remove all tracks and rails from said avenue and restore the said avenue to the condition in which it now is.

VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

Patrick McCaull Nominated for Governor—Fair Election Demanded.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 6.—At the Republican State convention, in Lynchburg, yesterday, Jacob Yost, permanent chairman, said the Republicans in the State would compel an honest election law, and would be ready to put down fraud both in their own ranks and those of the Democrats. The committee passed resolutions reaffirming the allegiance of the Virginia Republicans to the national Republican party, and indorsed the St. Louis platform, and demanded fair State elections.

The convention nominated Gov. Patrick McCaull, of Culpepper, formerly collector of internal revenue of the Western District of Virginia, and a defeated candidate for Congress from the Seventh District in 1896. The other names before the convention were Capt. Warren S. Lurty, of Harrisonburg, and Col. William Lamb, ex-State chairman. William F. Wickham, of Lenover, was nominated for State chairman. Both nominations were accepted.

O. F. Roller, of Rockingham, was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor and James Lyons, of Richmond, for Attorney-General. The latter bolted the Democratic party and joined the Republicans when Bryan was nominated for President.

BANK OF SPAIN REVOLTS.

The Committee Refuses to Advance More Money on Cuban Account.

(Cable Dispatch to The New York Sun.)

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Madrid to the Central News says that serious difficulty has arisen between the Ministry and the Bank of Spain. Application was made to the bank for 50,000,000 pesetas on account of the Cuban administration.

The committee of the bank held a meeting to consider the application and virtually refused to advance the money. Thereupon Senor Salvador, the new governor of the bank, demanded that the committee resign.

Governor of the Bank of Spain.

Madrid, Oct. 6.—The new Cabinet has appointed Senor Amos Salvador, who was Minister of Finance in Sagasta's last Ministry, to be Governor of the Bank of Spain.

Unfinished Hotel Collapses.

Charlevoix, Mich., Oct. 6. — The Charlevoix Inn, now in course of construction here by the Charlevoix Improvement Company, collapsed late Tuesday afternoon in a gale of wind, burying fifty workmen in the ruins of the structure, 400 feet long. Work had progressed so far that workmen were roofing in the structure, while lathers and plasterers were at work on the first and second floors. The structure was the largest of any Summer resort in northern Michigan, and the collapse was caused by the strong wind and the inadequate support of the second story, the contractor having neglected to brace and finish the substructure before beginning on the roof. Fifty men were buried beneath the wreck.

Barrios and His Enemies.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Mariano Lopez, an exile from Guatemala, and one of the wealthiest men of that country, on whose head a price has been set by Barrios, arrived in San Francisco yesterday from Paris. Lopez has been in communication with the insurgents since the capture of San Marcos. Last night he received a cablegram from the insurgent camp, saying that a decisive battle would begin during the night. The forces of Morales are intrenched near Cochan and Tierra Blanca, within thirty leagues of the city of Guatemala. It was understood that Barrios was in Chiguimula, where another insurrection has begun.

The Salvation Captain Set Free.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 6.—Half a dozen different persons called on Justice Jackson yesterday to pay the $10 fine imposed on Capt. Herdman, of the Salvation Army, who was sent to the County Farm yesterday for obstructing the streets. The Rev. Messrs. Brooks, Boswell and Shaw paid the fine, and an order was issued for Capt. Herdman's release. The arrest has created considerable adverse comment here, and a movement is on foot to have tested the right of the police authorities to interfere with the Salvationists when carrying on their services without blockading the street.

Killed by Escaping Gas.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 6.—A strong odor of gas in an upper corridor in the Hotel Penn attracted attention to one of the bedrooms yesterday afternoon. The door was forced and a dead man found in bed, undressed, with a full head of gas turned on. The man had registered as Alexander Levy, New York City, and had retired early on Monday evening. Coroner Griesemer said that Levy was a salesman for Schleissner & Co., 793 Broadway, New York, dealers in braids and laces. He had $10.32 in his pockets, no baggage or checks, but a sample book of laces and braids. The man was about 35 years old, and it is probable lived on Oxford street, Philadelphia.

Michael Will Try the Record Again.

New York, Oct. 6.—Jimmy Michael has decided to make an attempt to reduce the world's records from one mile to one hour. Impressed with the speed qualifications of the Willow Grove track, outside of Philadelphia, he has signed an agreement to make his second trial on that track on Saturday, Oct. 9. Michael will have the best pacing crews available for his trial, and in the event of a successful ride is to receive $2,000. In recent rides Michael has easily reduced world's record figures, and it is expected that, with favorable conditions, on Saturday he will create new times for all distances from one mile to one hour.

Mine Explosion Kills Three Men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 6.—A terrific explosion of gas occurred in No. 2 shaft of the Paris Coal Company's mine at Plymouth yesterday afternoon, by which three men lost their lives. They were Isaac Edmunds, aged 65 years; George Eddy, aged 22 years; Louis Richards, aged 32 years. A door in one of the passageways had been left open and gas in large quantities found its way to the place where the men were working. The lamps the men carried ignited the gas.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

Her Personal Appearance Was Not Faithfully Shown by Her Pictures.

Mrs. James T. Field says, in an article in the Atlantic, that Mrs. Stowe's personal appearance has received scant justice and no mercy at the hands of the photographer. She says herself during her triumphal visit to England after the publication of "Uncle Tom:" The general topic of remark on meeting me seems to be that I am not so bad looking as they were afraid I was; and I do assure you, when I have seen the things that are put up in the shop windows here with my name under them. I have been lost in wondering imagination at the boundless loving kindness of my English and Scottish friends in keeping up such a warm heart for such a gorgon. I should think that the sphinx in the London Museum might have sat for most of them. I am going to make a collection of these portraits to bring home to you. There is a great variety of them, and they will be useful, like the Irishman's guideboard, which showed 'where the road did not go.'"

I remember once accompanying her to a reception at a well-known house in Boston, where, before the evening was over, the hostess drew me aside, saying: "Why did you never tell me that Mrs. Stowe was beautiful?" And, indeed, when I observed her in the full ardor of conversation, with her heightened color, her eyes shining and awake, but filled with great softness, her abundant curling hair rippling naturally about her head and falling a little at the sides (as in the portrait by Richmond), I quite agreed with my hostess. Nor was that the first time her beauty had been revealed to me, but she was seldom seen to be beautiful by the great world, and the pleasure of this recognition was very great to those who loved her.

PRAYING BY MACHINERY.

The People of Thibet Make Devotional Exercises an Easy Performance.

Thibet is no longer the unknown country it once was. Recent travellers have pentrated to its most remote fastnesses, and in doing so have confirmed what had been looked on as myths of the earlier visitors. One of the most curious habits they find in use in this most curious of all semi-civilized countries is that of praying by machinery.

Small wooden drums are set up with prayers inscribed on them. They are fixed on a pivot, and whirling them with the finger is looked upon as saying the mystical prayer "Om Mani Padmi Om," with which they are generally inscribed.

Another sort of prayer machine can be held in the hand and made to revolve very rapidly. This is for worshippers of unusual fervor. The demands of the more leisurely class of devotees are met by wheels worked by wind or water power.—New York World.

A Tale of Divorce.

Its Author Prostrated By Overwork.

Hammersmith is a suburb of London. Its inhabitants are interested in Mrs. Ellen B. Wayne, a young woman of literary tastes, who lost her health through overwork. Her color left her, her appetite gradually disappeared, she became sleepless, nervous and restless, she was so exhausted, that after working at her table for four consecutive hours, she fainted while writing "A Tale of Divorce." Her physician said, "she has nearly divorced body from soul, she needs iron."

Five weeks later the story was published, and Mrs. Wayne, through taking Capsuloids alone, had become one of the rosiest of English women.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price by The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

good qualities are easily determined from the poor. The solid chunks that are free from slate is the coal that brings the biggest prices. Crumbling coal is the kind that makes the dust and it's the kind you get when you are not careful where you buy. We sell the honest, solid coal for the price you've paid for the other sort,

MANY FOREST FIRES.

Hundreds of Acres Burned Over in Illinois—Smoke Over Lake Michigan.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—Extremely hot weather for the month of October is now prevailing in this section. Dense smoke aggravates the conditions.

On account of drought the last two months everything is as dry as tinder, and forest and prairie fires are numerous. Lake Michigan has been almost unnavigable on account of the smoke and fog. Captains of incoming vessels report a most alarming state of affairs. Boats picking their way through the Straits of Mackinaw were particularly hampered. Landmarks were utterly obliterated and lights rendered indistinct at a distance of the length of the steamer. The smoke was attributed to excessive forest fires. Hunting parties careless in their camping are thought to have started the conflagrations. Marine underwriters are apprehensive of numerous strandings on account of smoke, and bulletins from the lower end of the lakes are watched for with great anxiety.

Chicago's southern wards and suburbs are surrounded by prairie fires, and dense smoke overhangs a large part of the territory lying south of Seventy-fifth street. Hundreds of acres of prairie have been burned over and thousands of feet of sidewalks and fencing consumed. Firemen in this division of the city are completely exhausted fighting prairie fires by day and night. Most of the fires are started by sparks from locomotives, and not infrequently by mischievous boys, who set the grass on fire for the excitement.

A dispatch from Bremen, Ind., says the most disastrous prairie fire known in the history of Marshall County is now raging. Hundreds of acres of land in the northern portion of the county, comprising what is locally known as the "Big Marsh," is a vast smouldering waste. At times, when fanned by a breeze, the heat bursts into a blaze, and, darting across clover fields, corn fields or meadows, lays waste everything in its path, only stopping when headed off by plowed fields or highways. The drought for the last sixty days has made the pastures brown, compelling flocks to seek the lowlands for grazing, where the fire is smouldering underneath. Many instances are reported where cattle, in passing over the treacherous ground, have broken through into the burning peat and perished.

Farmers are kept busy day and night fighting the flames and preventing destruction of their homes, but the lack of water makes the battle almost hopeless. Just west of Walkerton more than one thousand acres have been swept of every vestige of vegetation, many thousands of tons of hay and miles of fences having been consumed. With fire on every side, great anxiety is being felt for the safety of towns without fire protection. Nothing short of a drenching rain can possibly check the progress of the flames.

LANGTRY GOES INSANE.

Former Husband of the "Jersey Lily" Sent to an Asylum.

London, Oct. 6.—Edward Langtry, whom Mrs. Lily Langtry recently divorced, has been sent to an asylum for the insane.

Mr. Langtry was found walking, apparently dazed, on a railroad track near Chester. He could give no account of himself.

Mrs. Langtry is said to have been married privately to Prince Paul Esterhazy.

Edward Langtry was born in Ireland. He first came before the public in 1876, when he married Emily Charlotte Le Breton on the Isle of Jersey. She was the daughter of a clergyman. He was quite wealthy in those days, and Lily Le Breton was sincerely congratulated by her friends. Soon after the marriage she made a great sensation in society by her beauty, and the Prince of Wales became one of her most sincere admirers. She then separated from her husband.

BASE BALL FIELD.

Baltimore Takes the Second Game of the Temple Cup Series.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Baltimore turned the tables in Boston yesterday in a lively game full of hard hitting, sharp fielding and fast work on the bases. It was in sharp contrast to the slovenly game of Monday and the six thousand rooters went home satisfied that they had seen one of the fastest games of the year, though their favorites lost. The day was clear and bright, just the day for a batting contest. Klobedanz, Stivetts and Corbett, all three came in for a terrific pounding. Corbett was in on both sides of the fun and led the hitting with two singles, a double and a homer. The following is the score:

MC KINLEY INVITED.

First Pneumatic Tube Mail Delivery to Be Made To-morrow.

New York, Oct. 6.—Invitations have been sent out by the Tubular Dispatch Company to President McKinley and 300 prominent men in this city and elsewhere, to be at the Post Office at noon on Thursday to see the first package of mail matter sent under ground by pneumatic tube to Station P, in the Produce Exchange Building.

It is promised that one of these carriers with its freight of letters will make the trip from one office to the other in a minute and a quarter, and that they can be sent off every ten seconds.

Six New Fever Cases.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 6.—Six new cases of yellow fever were reported yesterday.

There is little improvement in the business situation, owing to the refusal of Texas, Alabama and Mississippi to let up on their quarantine regulations.

All cases of distress in New Orleans are being promptly relieved. No assistance is needed here.

Jersey Co. School Superintendent.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 6.—The State Board of Education have appointed Edward A. Murphy as Superintendent of Schools in Hudson county to succeed the Rev. George C. Houghton, whose term has expired, and who has accepted a call as assistant rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, in New York city.

WE AIM

Library Directors Meet.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held last evening, and all the members were present except Mr. Tracy and Mr. Yates. It was decided that the different policies of insurance on books, works of art, etc., in the library be cancelled, and that a new policy for the sum of $25,000 be taken out in their place. The act of the executive committee in paying bills of the last two months was approved. The matter of fitting up a room with shelving for the cloisonne collection was referred to the library committee with power. The librarian was authorized to procure a new library record book.

An Interesting Meeting.

A very interesting meeting was held by Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., in their rooms in the Washington Hall building last evening, at which the council heard encouraging reports of the order from District Deputy State Councilor Van Camp, of Newark. The committee arranging the proposed fair to be held during Thanksgiving week also reported the outlook of the same a success.

FOR LITTLE ORPHANS.

come the kindergarten. No miracle recorded in the Bible was more wonderful than those that are worked every week in our slum kindergartens. Influences are set at work there, by means of soap and water, flowers, faith and love, that revolutionize that whole slum block. A piece of the window has to be cleaned to let the light in on that flower sent into the home, and frequently the whole room is cleaned to correspond with it. Then the father finds home more attractive, and stays at home from the saloon.

Then there are the boys' clubs; that sort of thing is practical gospel. Another thing; have you any idea what trash these children read? There is a splendid system of home libraries, by which these busy minds are given something to occupy themselves with. Often the boys go to saloons because they don't have enough to eat, and the saloon offers them a good free lunch. But the cooking school knocks all that sort of thing endwise. There are very few men who would not rather be at home than at the saloon, if there were any attraction there, and the cooking school is helping on that good work.

To answer the problem of the day, get hold of the children. Tony is the child of our neglect. It is only love that can win him. He may not stop throwing stones right away, though sometimes he does; but you can safely leave the result of your work for him with the One you serve.

Mr. Riis's address was interspersed with many stories, humorous or pathetic, illustrative of his theme. He held every hearer's closest attention, throughout his talk; his delivery was unusually pleasing and bright.

A trio, "While Thee I Seek, Protecting Power," was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth and Miss Randolph, while an offering for the Home was received, after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Floyd Appleton.

Endeavorers Choose Officers.

The semi-annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the East Third Street mission was held last evening, at which time the following officers were elected tor the ensuing term: President, Irving L. Brady; vice-president, Miss Elizabeth Thompson; corresponding secretary, C. E. Hepburn; recording secretary, Miss Mabel Smith; treasurer, Miss Lena Jomini. A meeting was arranged for tomorrow evening at 7:15, when the members will form a Bible class. Clifford Braider was chosen as a delegate to attend the State Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Paterson.

Married at Pastor's House.

At the home of Rev. George Hauser, on Duer street, last evening occurred the marriage of Miss Cora Jerolaman, daughter of John Jerolaman, of 35 Jackson avenue, and Fred Elsworth Moore, of 94 Grandview avenue. Rev. Mr. Hauser performed the ceremony, while Mrs. Hauser and Miss Sadie Line were witnesses to the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside on Jackson avenue.

For Bridge Over Raceway.

William Ferrier, contractor, has been awarded the contract for building the bridge over the raceway on Watchung avenue, just this side of the large bridge. His bid was $4 50 per cubic yard for the masonry and 27 cents per square yard for the concrete work.

Funeral of Miss Martine.

The funeral of Miss A. Kate Martine, whose death occurred yesterday morning, will be held from her late home, "Cedar Brook" farm, tomorrow afternoon at 2:20 o'clock.

TO WORK INTELLIGENTLY.

Aim of the Bookkeeping Class Organized in the Y. M. C. A.

The object of the Y. M. C. A. bookkeeping class is to give boys and young men who are desirous of becoming clerks the good mental equipment that will enable them to more intelligently accomplish duties they may be called upon to perform when in business. While it is called a bookkeeping class the instructors for the coming term will carry out the policy inaugurated several years ago and in conjunction with bookkeeping give as much of a business course as possible during the time at the disposal of the class. The three principal studies of every business college—writing, business arithmetic and correspondence will be as thoroughly gone into as there is time for, and it is hoped that the term of "97" and "98" will prove a profitable one in this department.

Do the Dead Return?

Dr. and Mrs. Ford will give a religious lecture in Washington Hall, West Second street, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, in which manifestations of experiments on spiritualism will be an important feature of the spirit's power. Everything will be done in full gas light on the stage. The admission is 10, 20 and 30 cents, and as Dr. and Mrs Ford come to Plainfield highly endorsed in their special line, large audiences are sure to greet them.

Expressed Sorrow for a Comrade.

The Boy's Club held a meeting last evening at the clubhouse on Sycamore street, and the members united in sending word to their fellow member, Charles Myers, at the Muhlenberg Hospital, expressing their sorrow at his accident and the hope that he would recover soon. Myers was injured last Sunday while exercising in the gymnasium of the Saengerbund in North Plainfield.

A Talented Speaker.

Rev. George N. Eldridge and wife, of Anderson, Ind., will conduct the services at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Thursday evening at 7:45 in the W. C. T. U. parlors, Watchung avenue. Mr. Eldridge is one of the leaders of the Fourfold Gospel movement in the west. Mrs. Eldridge will sing to autoharp accompaniment.

Series of Lectures by Rev. Mr. Schenck.

At the prayer meeting service of Trinity Reformed church tonight in the Y. M. C. A. hall, the pastor, Rev. C. Schenck, Ph.D., will deliver the first of a series of four lectures on "The Tabernacle," "The Temple," "The Synagogue," and "The Church." Everybody will be made welcome.

An Unusual Occurrence.

At the regular meeting last evening of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 24, F. and A. M., the Entered Apprentice degree was conferred on two candidates, and in the meeting room sat five other Entered Apprentice Masons awaiting examination, making seven of that degree present at the meeting.

Judgment Given.

Judgment was rendered yesterday by Justice Nash in the case of Young against Blond, possession of premises, and a warrant of removal issued. The case of Howatt against Van Dorn, landlord and tenant, was dismissed.

Four-Year-Old Boy Broke an Arm.

Alfred Stein, the four-year old son of Alpheus M. Stein, of 52 Grandview avenue, fell from a wagon this morning and broke his arm. Dr. Carman is in attendance.

—Locals on third page.

—The hour of the Children's Home meeting tomorrow afternoon will be changed from 3 to 4 o'clock, in order to allow the members of the board to attend the funeral of Miss Martine.

—Adelia, the four-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dennis, of West Front street, died this afternoon. The little one has been sick for the past two and-a-half months. Funeral services on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—We are receiving our Blue Point oysters direct from the original Blue Point oyster beds. People who want a delicacy will have no other. We are the only firm that handles oysters from these beds in this section. Rogers.

—The first big dance of the season will be given in the Cycle Academy tomorrow night under the auspices of the Arion Club. A large number of guests are expected from neighboring towns. The academy is being prettily decorated for the occasion.

Forrest's Sympathy Aroused.

The Boston Transcript recalls a story of Edwin Forrest during one of his Boston engagements. A poor artist called several times to see him at the old Winthrop House. Each time he brought a picture which he had painted; he finally left it with a note stating that he was in needy circumstances. Forrest read the note, and took the wrapping from the picture. It proved to be a painting of himself as Spartacus. Forrest gazed upon it a moment, and then ejaculated to the clerk: "Give him $10. If he is as poor as his picture he must be on the point of starvation!"

"Barin' me landlady and me washwoman," said Mr. Horrigan, with honest pride, "Oi owe no man a cint."—Indianapolis Journal.

CLEVELAND DENIES THE REPORT.

He Says He Does Not Want a Seat in the Senate.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 6.—Ex-President Cleveland authorizes a contradiction of the report that he wants an appointment on the bench or seeks a seat in the United States Senate. He has resumed the writing of his memoirs.

Mrs. Cleveland will be a recluse for the next few months. She will neither accept nor extend social courtesies. Only her intimate friends will be received. On occasions such as this Mrs. Cleveland delights in having her personal friends about.

Bought at a Sheriff Sale

$15,000 worth of the finest

FALL AND WINTER -CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. FRANKLIN'S TENTH YEAR

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED PLEASANTLY FOR MEMBERS AND FRIENDS.

Forty-five Members at the Start Have Now Increased to 195—A Big Bank Account, Though—$22,500 Has Been Expended.

Last evening the tenth anniversary of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, was marked by an entertainment of merit which was held in Washington Hall, on West Second street. The hall was filled to overflowing with a representative audience. There were delegations from councils located at Dunellen, Bound Brook, Westfield, Gillia, Scotch Plains, New Brunswick and other places.

In opening the programme Firman Long, Warden of State Council, made a few pleasant remarks concerning the order and especially about the council celebrating its anniversary. He said that Franklin Council was organized ten years ago with a membership of forty-five, and at present there are on the roll 195 members. The council has to their credit in the bank about $1,000. During the past ten years, $22,500 has been expended for the sick and funeral benefits. Mr. Long also stated that the order is known in every State but four. New Jersey is among the leaders with a membership of 28,000, and in the United Stated there are 177,000 members.

The above remarks were followed by an overture by Samuel Frazee on the violin, Whitfield Frazee on the cornet, and Anthony Kregier on the piano. This was followed with a series of magical tricks by Professors Sherwood and Horace Adams. They performed a number of very clever tricks which interested the audience exceedingly. The magicians divided their performance into three parts and interspering them there was a pleasing piano solo by Albert Squires, a vocal solo by Ethel Reynolds, a little tot who won great favor from the audience. She was obliged to respond to an encore. Each number was well given and received hearty applause from those present.

This concluded the entertainment and all present were invited to the room below, where a supper was served in abundance.

Following the supper the guests returned to the main hall where dancing was continued until an early hour this morning. Sam Frazee furnished the music and the merry dancers had a jolly time. The following persons, as members of the committee of arrangements, are entitled to much praise for the excellent time provided: J. V. Beekman, chairman; P. T. Bogert, secretary; T. E Currin, Jr., treasurer; Isaac Squires, Horace Adams, H. R. Palmer. Horace Adams and Isaac Squires served in the capacity of floor managers during the dancing.

It was hoped that several of the State officers of the order would be present, but owing to circumstances which could not be avoided they were unable to attend.

A feature was the presentation to each one present of a handsome souvenir button, bearing the shield of the order and the words, "Tenth Anniversary. Franklin Council, October 6th 1897." These buttons were given out as the guests went to supper.

FELL TWENTY FEET ONTO ROCKS.

Marvelous Escape of an Italian From Serious Injury.

Yesterday afternoon Paxy Nosis, an Italian employed at the Wilson stone crusher at Washingtonville, was drilling some rocks, when his drill slipped and he was precipitated fully twenty feet over rugged rocks into a deep hole at the bottom of the quarry. He was picked up by fellow-workmen for dead, but in a few minutes Nosis came to consciousness and an examination disclosed the fact that his arm was broken in two places. He was taken in a carriage to a Plainfield physician and had the bones set. The man also received several bruises about the body.

Somerville May Have Y. M. C. A. Building.

It is reported authoritatively that Somerville is soon to have a handsome new Y. M. C. A. building, and that J. V. Duke and J. B. Brown, both wealthy residents of that place, are to erect the structure at their own expense and give it to the association. It is also reported that A. V. Sargeant, another wealthy citizen, will furnish the building when completed. Robert Honeyman has been secured as secretary of the association at a fair salary.

Roughing It in Florida.

Edward Finch, of Belvidere avenue, and Charles Bull, of East Ninth street, are now on a government claim in Florida with several friends. They are roughing it and having a fine time they say.

NEGRO ATTACKED WITH AXE.

QUARRELED OVER A HALF DOLLAR.

In a Rage One of the Disputants Made the Murderous Attack—Victim in a Critical Condition.

Thomas Bird and Wesley Sheperson, two negroes who have been keeping bachelors hall in a house owned by John Nelson, on Spring street, Westfield, quarreled over fifty cents last evening and Bird in a rage ran to the woodpile, caught up an axe and made a murderous attack upon Sheperson. The latter defended himself as best he could, but was struck once upon the right temple, receiving a cut several inches long.

Constable Marsh arrived upon the scene in time to prevent Bird from striking the wounded man again. Bird was arrested by the officer and placed in the lockup, and Sheperson who was weak from the loss of blood, was taken to Dr. R. R. Sinclair, where the wound in his head was sewed up. He was also suffering severely from the shock, and the physician was unable to say how the injury would result. Bird was given an examination before Justice Collins this morning and was committed to the county jail to await the result of Sheperson's injuries.

MAY BUILD A SYNAGOGUE.

JEWS TALKED OVER PROPOSITION

Beth Tefeleth Isho Yentel Congregation Feel the Need of Their House of Worship.

A Hebrew synagogue is now being considered by the Hebrew congregation, Beth Tefeleth Isho Yentel, of this city. While they have pleasant quarters already, it is the wish of many of them to have a home of their own and with that end in view, they are planning to build a suitable structure in this city. The advisability of such an action was informally discussed at a special meeting of the congregation held last evening.

The object of the meeting, however, was not to arrange for a synagogue, but to plan for the division of the lots in the new cemetery of the congregation among the members. The cemetery is located in what is known as Gateville, lying between Bound Brook and Chimney Rock. A committee of three was appointed at the meeting to formulate a plan for the distribution of the lots among the members of the congregation.

After the business of the meeting, the members fell to discussing the erection of a synagogue. There was a general sentiment that there should be one. One of the prominent sites suggested was on West Front street. The matter will be brought before the next meeting of the congregation at which time some formal action will probably be taken.

Y. M. C. A. District Conference.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold its annual district conference at Somerville, on Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday afternoon session will begin at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening session at 7:30. The latter meeting will be addressed by Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., and W. D. Murray of this city. The Sunday meetings will include one at 9 a. m., sperate meetings for men, women and boys, a platform meeting at 7 o'clock and a farewell meeting at 9 o'clock.

Tramp Trying to Beat His Way.

Yesterday morning, the eagle eye of Conductor Rose, of the New York train leaving here at 9:27 o'clock, noticed the shadow of a person on the inside of the closet of one of the cars as he passed by collecting fares. Going into the closet, he found a tramp standing on the seat and crouching in the corner. He was trying to beat his way to Jersey City. The conductor put him off at Fanwood.

Cold Kept Pastor Away.

Owing to a slight cold, which caused hoarseness, Rev. Mr. Schenck was not present at the prayer meeting of his congregation last evening, and Capt George D. Morrison very kindly consented to take charge of the meeting. He gave a very interesting and helpful talk on the subject of "God's Providences," and all felt spiritually refreshed and strengthened by the service.

One of Her Ribs Broken.

Mrs. John Ludlum, of East Front street, who was setting in the carriage run into by Smalley's runaway horse on Park avenue last Saturday noon, had one of her ribs broken as a result of the collision. She is under the care of Dr. Jenkins

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS' MECCA IS PATERSON.

Thousands of Young Christians Gather There to Receive Inspiration in Their Work.

REV. J. CLEMENT FRENCH. President State Society.

E. E. ANTHONY. Treasurer State Society.

The eleventh annual convention of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union was begun in Paterson yesterday, where more than 4,000 visiting members are quartered. Orange and black, the union's colors, dotted the city streets and public and private buildings, while from every Protestant church top floated Old Glory. The city is in gala day attire.

The visitors marched through the streets to their various quarters wearing handsome silk badges bearing the monogram of the union in the Silk City. The members of the Junior Brigade attached to the First Baptist church acted as pages and were placed at the several stations and directed the strangers to the union's headquarters, which are in the Young Men's Christian Association building, in Ellison street. There they were received by the local members, and, after registering their names, were escorted to the homes of prominent citizens who had volunteered to entertain them.

Among the most prominent delegates who arrived yesterday were: Rev. Dr. Francis Clark, president of the United Societies of Christian Endeavor, of Boston; Rev. Dr. J. Clement French, of Newark, president of the State Society; Rev. Luther R. Dyott, president of the Essex County Union; Rev. Dr. David J. Burrell, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, New York; Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, Philadelphia; Rev. Dr. William Justin Harsha, New York; Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, Philadelphia; Rev. Robert Y. Pierce, Philadelphia; Rev. Dr. Frederick J. Stanley, Atlantic City, Rev. W. Y. Puddefont, secretary of the American Missionary Society, New York; Rev. Dr. W. C. Bitting, New York; Mrs. Ballington Booth and Rev. Ford C. Ottman, Newark.

The large auditorium was thronged with the members of the union from all over the State when Dr. French called the convention to order. A song service opened the proceedings, and a chorus of 4,000 voices sang "Onward Christian Soldiers." Rev. E. W. Thompson, of the Broadway Reformed church, Paterson, opened the devotional exercises, and "Christian Citizenship" was discussed by Rev. William W. Lebanon.

The afternoon service was brought to a close by Rev. Dr. Burrell, who delivered an address on "Sabbath Observance."

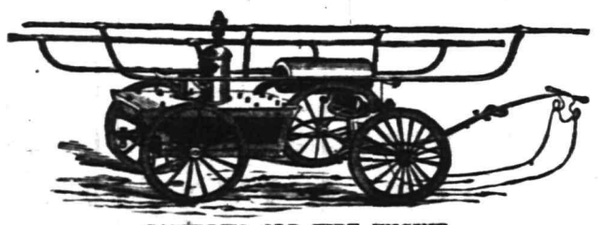
Two separate sessions were held last night, owing to the constant inpouring of visitors. At the Y. M. C. A. Hall Rev. Dr. French presided, while at the First Baptist church Rev Dr. Cornelius Brett was in charge.

Both edifices were crowded with enthusiastic Endeavorers and their friends. Today and tomorrow will be the most important days of the convention, and several large delegations are expected from South Jersey.

The outdoor meetings which are to be held will be a novel feature of the union. Several well-known speakers will address the employes of the Rogers Locomotive Works during the noon hour, while Mrs. Ballington Booth and several Volunteer lassies will speak to working girls at the various mills in the city.

RELIC OF EARLY FIRE-FIGHTING DAYS GIVEN TO EXEMPTS.

The Old Hand-Engine Presented to the Retired Fire-Laddies by Gazelle Engine Company.



GAZELLE'S OLD FIRE ENGINE.

Another interesting chapter in the history of Plainfield's fire department was recorded last evening at the meeting of Gazelle Engine Company, when the members decided unanimously to present to the Exempt Firemen's Association, of this city, the old fire hand-engine which was on duty in Plainfield many years ago. This action recalls local history of a very interesting nature to the minds of many.

Harmony Engine Company, the second in the history of Plainfield, was organized in 1836, lived, grew and flourished until 1863, when it was just about on its last legs—dead, but not buried. At this time I. C. Varian called the citizens together and organized Gazelle Engine Company, No. 1, he being the first foreman, and Samuel Manning, the first secretary. Trace can be found of but the following five who were among the charter members: I. C. Varian, Warren Marsh and Lewis Barkalew, of this city; Dr. Henry R. Cannon, of Elizabeth; Richard Barkalew, of Newark.

To William Bloom belongs the credit of naming the Gazelle Engine Company. D. W. Dorman, Washington Marsh, I. C. Varian, W. Gano, Samuel Manning and W. Webster were appointed a committee to purchase the hand-engine for the sum of $900.

Joseph Pine, of Philadelphia, was the maker, and when it was received in Plainfield there was the usual big time among the boys. In 1867 No. 2 Engine was purchased, and in 1869 Warren Engine Company took the hand-engine at which time Gazelle Engine Company received a new machine. When Warren Engine Company secured their new apparatus the hand-engine was stored in a building back of French's Mill, and the Gazelle Company payed the storage.

Later the engine was placed in the parlors of Gazelle Engine Company and there she remained until about 1884, when at the solicitation of the Scotch Plains firemen the engine was temporarily loaned to them. The transfer took place on Washington's Birthday and was marked by a large time including a sumptuous repast.

Last evening closed another chapter in the history of the engine and it will be brought to Plainfield and placed somewhere for safe-keeping. It was presented to the Exempt Firemen as a relic and token of former days. No doubt the reception of the engine will be attended by festivities appropriate to the occasion.

Dinner Party to Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Pelletier, of LaGrande avenue, gave an informal dinner party last evening to a few of their friends. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August W. Kleinecke, Miss Bessie Ewing, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Drayton, Miss Delphine Bowers and the host and hostess.

Death of a Child.

The death of Adelle, daughter of Chester and Alice Dennis, aged four months, died yesterday after a lingering illness with consumption. The funeral services will be held from the residence, 469 West Front street, Friday afternoon, October 8th, at 3 o'clock.

GIRL GRABBED IN THE DARK.

BOLD ACT ON EAST FRONT STREET.

Unknown Man Stepped From Behind the Shadow of a Tree and Intercepted Lottie Cockley.

An attempted hold-up of a bold nature took place on East Front street last evening in front of Dr. Probasco's house. Miss Lottie Cockley, in company with her mother, of the West End, were on their way to Manning's wood-yard, on Elm place, at 7:15 o'clock. As the two women approached Dr. Probasco's residence they noticed the shadowy outline of a man's form behind a tree, but thought little of it until a very tall and muscular man stepped out and attempted to grasp Miss Cockley. The girl gave a scream and managed to get away from the man before he could carry out whatever purpose he might have had.

Mrs. Cockley was much frightened, but asked the man what he meant by such conduct. He replied, "I want the girl, not you." His hat was pulled down over his face and Mrs. Cockley was unable to distinguish any features that would help her to identify the man. The stranger walked rapidly down the street and disappeared.

'RAS TO GO TO DIXEY LAND.

HIS PA WILL TRY TO REFORM HIM.

Little Picaninny Spent Yesterday in a Cell, But Finally Departed in Custody of His Sire.

Poor little Raspberry Harris spent yesterday in one of the cold cells in the city jail. "Ras" is only seven years old, and the grim appearance of the whitewashed cell walls chilled his youthful bones to the marrow. He had a delightful time Tuesday afternoon riding on the wheel which he had borrowed without leave from the home of Mr. Dekay, of Carleton avenue, and he enjoyed wheeling yesterday morning until Roundsman Frederickson captured him at Battle Row.

As has already been stated, poor "Ras" has only seen seven summers, and the law requires that he shall be at least eight years of age before he can be committed to the Reform School or any other similar institution for the young. He could not be sent to the county jail; nobody wanted to send him there in fact. So it was that he spent the day in the cell at the rookery, thinking of what he had done.

Late in the afternoon his father came to the station house and held a conference with Chief Grant and Roundsman Frederickson, as to what was to be done with the recreant Raspberry. The father stated that he was going to leave for the south in a few days and intended to take Raspberry and his other son along and take them down on some southern plantation and try to make good boys of them. So the diminutive black Raspberry was released and allowed to go home with his father, while the wheel was turned over to its young owner, who hereafter will not leave it on the piazza unprotected.

MADE A REVEREND.

Ernest L. Walz, Jr., Ordained by Presbyterians for Evangelistic Work.

The Presbytery of Elizabeth, which met in Metuchen yesterday, adjourned last evening to this city and held a meeting in the Crescent Avenue church to ordain Ernest L. Walz, Jr., as an evangelist. Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., acted as moderator and offered the ordaining prayer; Rev. C. E Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, preached the sermon; Rev. J. T. Kerr, of the Third Presbyterian church, of Elizabeth, and Rev. F. D. Tildon pastor of Bethel chapel, took part; and Rev. G. K. Newell, of Hope chapel, delivered the charge. Mr. Walz starts today for the field of his labors in North Carolina.

Received an Ugly Cut.

A young man on a wheel collided with a horse attached to a grocery wagon on West Front srteet, near Leal's school, last evening. The young man received an ugly cut on the forehead which bled profusely. He was taken into the house of J. H. Leggett and temporarily fixed up by Mr. Leggett, who happened to be home.

Two New Members Taken In.

A meeting of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, was held last evening. Two new members were added to the entertainment committee. A communication was received regarding the institution of the new great council of New Jersey on November 2d, at Trenton. Mrs. Charles L. Holdstein was elected delegate to the institution.

Ellwood I. Schurtz, of Palestina, Cal., who has been visiting H A. Weber, of Liberty street, left yesterday for Newark, where he will spend a few days before returning home to California.

SUIT AGAINST BOROUGH.

MILKMAN SAGE WANTS $1,000 FOR FALSE ARREST AND PUNISHMENT.

The Milkman Insists That as Long as He Stands on the Sidewalk Close to His Horse He Cannot be Compelled to Tie.

The new borough ordinance, which compels people to tie their horses when they leave them standing at the curb, is the primary cause of a suit for $1,000, which is soon to be instituted against the borough of North Plainfield. The man who brings the suit is Charles E. Sage, the milkman, from Union Village, who was arrested Monday morning and fined $10 under that ordinance. The suit is for damages resulting from what Mr. Sage considers false arrest and punishment.

Last Monday morning at 6 o'clock Sage was arrested by Marshal George Wise for leaving the horse attached to his milk wagon standing on Linden avenue without being tied. He afterwards appeared before Borough Magistrate Thomas and was fined $10.

Sage claims that he had just jumped out of his wagon when he saw Wise running in his direction. He therefore waited for the officer to come up. Wise promptly told him that he was under arrest, at which time, Sage claims, he was standing on the sidewalk not far from his horse's head. He says that he explained to the officer that he had not had time to tie the horse, but that the latter refused to take that excuse. He says that he then offered the officer $20 as bail if he would let him finish his milk route. The offer, he claims, was accepted and he afterwards appeared before the Magistrate.

Sage claims that he explained the situation to the Magistrate, how he had not left the horse's head, but that the Magistrate had told him that he had left his horse once before and so he would fine him $10. Such is the story of Mr. Sage, on which he bases his case. His legal advisers are Pope & Runyon.

Sage says he will contest the legality of the ordinance, and that furthermore he does not consider that the ordinance compels him to tie his horse as long as he stands on the sidewalk close beside it.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MULFORD.

Attended by Many Friends and a Lavish Display of Floral Tributes.

The funeral of Israella Moores Mulford, wife of Armstrong Mulford, took place yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock from the house, 425 East Fifth street. A large number of relatives and friends were present from Brooklyn and New York as well as residents of this city. The flowers were exceptionally lavish and beautiful, the casket being entirely covered over with white roses.

Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., of the Crescent Avenue church, of which church Mrs. Mulford was a member, officiated, and spoke with excellent feeling of the beautiful Christian character of the departed and the loss which all who knew her had sustained by her death.

Interment was made at the family plot in Hillside cemetery.

STEPPED TOO NEAR THE EDGE.

Venturesome Lad Playing in an Unfinished House Fell and Strained His Shoulder.

John Kilbride, a ten-year-old lad, living on West Fourth street, met with a serious accident last evening while playing about the new house that William Brokaw, the builder, is erecting for Patrick Harrington on West Fourth street. The lad was running along the scaffolding at the second floor with several of his companions when he went too near the edge and fell over, striking on his shoulder. He received a severe strain and numerous bruises, but it is thought that no bones were broken.

Colors for Girl Athletes.

Now that the Plainfield Board of Education has taken a hand in the preparation of the Whittier building for the use of the members of the Girl's Athletic Association of the High School, the success of that organization seems assured. One of the most essential features of the association, the fair members consider, is the selection of colors. With that object in view, a committee has been appointed to decide on certain combinations of colors which will be submitted to the association at another meeting.

An Informal Luncheon.

Miss Mabel Coard gave an informal luncheon to her sister, Miss Alice Coard, Tuesday, at their home on East Ninth street. The affair was in honor of the engagement of Miss Alice Coard. The guests were Miss Tracy, of New York, Miss Maud Middledith, Miss Delphine Bowers, Miss Florence Abbott, Miss Ethel Holmes, Miss Clara Frost and Miss Lulu Patton.

BOTH TO DIE TOGETHER

Mrs. Nack and Thorn Planned to Commit Suicide.

THORN'S NOTE TO MRS. NACK

Alleged Guldensuppe Murderer Tells the Woman He Approves Her Idea of Suicide—but Later—Given Up All Hope to Escape.

New York, Oct. 7.—Sheriff Doht last night made public the following letter from Martin Thorn, accused of the murder of William Guldensuppe, to Mrs. Augusta Nack, his alleged accomplice:

"My Dear: You wrote of self-destruction. That would be the last I have thought it over long ago, and came to the conclusion that it would be the best for me, but not before all is done to gain liberty. Perhaps it would be the better way, and it would be easy to accomplish it. I have a prescription that I can get or buy at any drug store, but have patience and endurance, and say what I would write to you; and if it comes to extremes then it is time, and I will arrange it so. It is not on account of living I would like to get free, but in spite of people here."

The above was apparently a reply to the following note from Mrs. Nack:

"Dear Martin: I send you a couple of potatoes. If you do not care to eat them perhaps the others will. Dear child, send me a few lines how you feel. Dear child, I believe there is little hope for us. I feel very bad this afternoon. Send me a letter by your sister or by your brother-in-law. I wish they would procure us something so that we can make an end to our lives. This would be the best. My attorney assures me that the evidence against me is as strong as that against you, and that you have talked too much, which injures us both, for the proofs are on hand. Good-night."

Sheiff Doht, in relating how he got possession of Thorn's letter, said that Thorn made a desperate fight in trying to prevent the Sheriff and his keepers from getting possession of the letter. He then tore it up in small pieces. According to the Sheriff this is not the letter which Mrs. Nack wrote to Thorn. It is evidently a reply to that letter by Thorn. The letter was in German, was not completed and unsigned.

This letter of Thorn's was delivered by Sheriff Doht to District Attorney Youngs, and after the pieces had been put together in the District Attorney's office the letter was translated and then made public.

Sheriff Doht has placed an extra guard over both prisoners. Mrs. Nack is in a hysterical condition, and the Sheriff said he would not be surprised if she broke down completely and made a confession.

Thorn is in a very sulky mood, but is trying to keep up his nerve. The Sheriff said he had taken every precaution to prevent Mrs. Nack or Thorn from making an attempt on their lives. He said it was not possible for either of the prisoners to escape from the jail.

Sheriff Doht, after making public Thorn's letter, said that Mrs. Nack undoubtedly lied when she denied that she had written the letters to Thorn.

Mrs. Nack had her attention called to a part of the published letter which intimated that she contemplated committing suicide if she got a chance. On hearing this Mrs. Nack became hysterical and wept and moaned. Between her sobs she said that if it was not for her poor mother she would be better off dead. She said that everybody seemed to be hounding her for her life.

REJECTED BY GERMANY.

Refuses to Recognize United States Consul at Cologne.

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 7.—The German Government has refused to recognize Mr. Ferdinand Neumann, of Illinois, who was nominated by President McKinley on May 28 to be United States Consul at Cologne.

The Allegations Against Him.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—Although without official notice of the refusal of the German Government to grant an exequatur to United States Consul Neumann, at Cologne, the news of his rejection caused no surprise at the State Department. Mr. Neumann was appointed to his post last May, and has since exercised the functions of his office, but the German authorities have been considering certain allegations connected with the World's Fair and a concert enterprise, in which Neumann is said to have been interested, which resulted disastrously to some German artists.

PRINCETON'S NEW TRICK.

Capt. Cochran Originates a New Style of Kicking Goals.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 7.—The gridiron enthusiasts here are all agog over the "newest thing out" in drop kicking. Capt. Garry Cochran is the originator of the idea, and it will probably be used in all the games played by the Tigers hereafter.

Instead of the old method of the quarterback passing the ball to the fullback, who then makes the drop kick, Cochran at the given signal dashes from his position at right end, drops behind the quarterback, and catching the pigskin, holds it on the ground while the fullback kicks the same as if for a place kick.

Cochran and Johnny Baird now have the trick down so finely that Baird can kick goals from the thirty and forty yard lines. The trick will probably be used against Yale.

Five Strange Deaths.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 7.—There is grave suspicion of the death of five children by slow poison in this city, and Jennie Layton and Mary Simmonds were arrested yesterday afternoon.

The fifth child died yesterday. Its lips seem to be poisoned by carbolic acid. The police have been watching the house since the other deaths followed so rapidly.

Mr. Dana Critically Ill.

New York, Oct. 7.—A ditpatch from Glen Cove, L. I., announces that Mr. Charles A. Dana's condition has grown much worse and his family have been called to his bedside.

Mr. Dana is the editor of the Sun and has been ill for three months.

EXPORTS IN AUGUST LAST.

$79,490,264 Greater than in Any Corresponding Month in Many Years.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Information collected by the Bureau of statistics, Treasury Department, show that the value of the exports of domestic merchandise in August last was $79,490,264 greater than in any corresponding month for many years. The values of exports in August, 1896, was $66,689,. Almost all of the staple articles of export shared in the increase. The value of exported articles during the eight months ended Aug. 30, was almost as great as during the entire fiscal year 1895. Wheat was the greatest factor in the increased total shipments, the output, under the condition of advanced prices, amounting to about $9,000,000 in value more than in August of last year, and general breadstuffs were exported in much larger quantities than usual and brought higher prices.

The articles which showed an increase of exports were: Animals, $5,998,286; wheat, $13,211,662; other breadstuffs, $26,317,219; carriages, $215,187; clocks and watches, $126,731; hops, $27,935; leather and leather goods, $701,185; mineral oils, $5,218,403; vegetable oils, $468,384; paper, $420,830; provisions, $12,923,533; distilled spirits, $59,785; sugar and molasses, $195,946; tobacco, unmanufactured, $3,437,951; lumber, $775,700; woolen manufactures, $129,766.

INTENDED SUICIDE AT NIAGARA.

Arrested Before He Could Leap Over the Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Robert Wright, of New York, aged about 35 years, attempted to commit suicide by leaping from Prospect Point at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was reading a book entitled "Death or Dishonor," and took frequent drinks from a bottle he carried while making for the point to throw himself over the falls. He had written this letter:

"To Whom It May Concern—I have leaped over the falls of my own accord, and for reasons best known to myself.

"P. S.—Please send message to H. J. Wright, the Ariston, Fifty-fifth street and Broadway, New York City, and kindly mail letter herewith."

On the back of the envelope he had written: "I am at Imperial Hotel. My baggage will be found there."

He was arrested and locked up at Police Headquarters last night. Wright reached here on Oct. 1, and passed much of his time reading. This afternoon his actions in Prospect Park attracted the attention of two ladies, who notified the reservation officers. He was desperate in his determination to end his life, and the liquor he had drunk made him more so. Had there been delay in arresting him there is little doubt but another Niagara suicide would have been reported.

Proposed Armor Plant.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The board of naval officers appointed to gather information and prepare plans for the establishment of a Government armor plant were ordered by Secretary Long yesterday to visit Elizabethton, Tenn., on their trip through the South, to examine the facilities there for manufacturing armor. A committee of gentlemen who have interests in Elizabethton and its vicinity called on Secretary Long and urged him to send the board there. Among the members of the committee were John G. Carlisle, former Secretary of the Treasury; Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, and Benjamin Butterworth, the Commissioner of Patents. The committee told the Secretary that all the places which the board will visit in the South obtain Bessemer from Carter County, Tenn., and Mitchell County, N. C. Elizabethton is in Carter County.

All Ocean Records Smashed.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, that newest, largest and fleetest of all ocean thoroughbreds, has performed a wonderful record-smashing feat in her race against time across the Atlantic. When she reached Plymouth she crossed the Atlantic Ocean in 5 days 13 hours 13 minutes.

This not only breaks every record of trips across the ocean, either eastward or westward, between New York and Plymouth, but reduces her own superb maiden time by 7 hours and 22 minutes.

Merit Talks

"Merit talks" the intrinsic value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. It will make your blood pure, rich and nourishing, and thus drive out the germs of disease, strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia

"I suffered from dyspepsia 20 years. I had a feeling as though there was a lump in my stomach. I did not dare to eat meat or warm bread, very few vegetables, for fear of the great distress food caused me. I experienced relief right after commencing to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. My appetite increased, I gained in general health and strength. I can eat almost anything now without discomfort. Although I had been an invalid for twenty years, I can truthfully say that I am better than for a long time. I never weighed so much in my life." MRS. EMILY F. BUMP, 45 Portland Street, Middleboro, Mass.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will hold a special communication tomorrow evening to confer the F. C. degree upon a number of candidates.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—A meeting of Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., will be held tonight.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Belle Booth, of Newburg, formerly of Plainfield, was married on September 23d, to Charles F. Kimball, of New York city.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Maud Swilling, of Georgia, is now staying at the home of Frank W. Morse, of the Jackson building.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

LOW TO THE PEOPLE

The Candidate Addresses a Cooper Union Mass Meeting.

HE ARRAIGNS THE BOSSES

A Temperate Exposition of the Independent Movement in Greater New York—Plea for Divorcement of National and Municipal Politics.

New York, Oct. 7.—The first gun of the municipal campaign so far as the Citizens' Union is concerned was fired last night at Cooper Union. The event was enthusiastic to a degree. The fact that all the so-called anti-Tammany parties have either indorsed the candidacy of Seth Low for Mayor, or promised to do so, rendered the independents more jubilant than ever. Henry D. Purroy and his Home Rule Democracy were the last to enter the Low camp which they did by resolution last night.

The scenes in and around Cooper Union were lively indeed. Long before the time of the meeting every seat was occupied and hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Many prominent people occupied the platform, central among which was the standard bearer of the independent movement. His appearance was the signal for loud applause which continued for many minutes or until the enthusiasts became tired from their exertions at noise making.

Mr. Low was the principal speaker of the evening and his address occupied about thirty minutes. In it he gave a comprehensive and impassioned review of the situation, closing with a plea for clean politics and the subjugation of the bosses.

Mr. Low's Speech.

After the applause had subsided Mr. Low said, in part:

"From the point of view of the Citizens' Union this campaign has only one object, namely, to secure good government for the city of New York. I know that it is considered audacious in some quarters to appear before a constituency comprising more than half a million voters with a programme so simple.

"If the Mayor of the people's choice is elected under such conditions that his primary obligation is towards some other object, a successful installation and administration of the new charter is simply out of the question. If the city government, by the consent of the voters, is to be trusted as party spoil, history is full of illustrations of what is to be expected. The city's work will be done after a fashion; and the work of building up the party or the faction of the powers that be, will be done with the utmost thoroughness.

"Now let us see the form that this contest has taken. There are four tickets in the field. Two of them—the ticket headed by Gen. Tracy and the ticket headed by Henry George—openly proclaim the doctrine that in the solution of this tremendous municipal problem that confronts the city of New York, national issues and not the local issues ought to dominate in the mind of the voters. Gen. Tracy, or the platform on which he stands, says that the general issue is Bryanism, with a free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, and all that that implies. Henry George in the main agrees with him as to the issue, and brings into the canvass the Chicago platform of the Democratic party; only Gen. Tracy is against Bryanism and Henry George is for it. Both of these gentlemen propose certain things for the city, of course. Even a partisan of the strictest sect would hardly undertake to say in a purely municipal election like this that the city 'is not in it at all.'

"Nevertheless they do say, both of them, that the city's interests are not the paramount issue, and that the voter ought to cast his ballot primarily with reference to national issues. This is the voter's privilege, undoubtedly, if he wishes to do so, but if he does do it he must not be disappointed if he does not get good city government. No man can serve two masters; and if the people of the city elect a Mayor because of the views he entertains on the free coinage of silver, and all the rest, they must not be surprised if the Mayor they elect subordinates the interests of the city to the exigencies of the party to which he belongs, in its strenuous effort to use the city for the advantage of the party in all succeeding elections. Translated into plain English this means that appointments will be made to strengthen the party, and that the patronage of the city, wherever possible, will be used for the same purpose. Every intelligent citizen of New York knows what this means, for he has seen the effect of it with his own eyes. The Street-Cleaning Department, under Col. Waring's administration, is an illustration of what it means to have the departments of the city administered in the city's interest alone. Any one who will recall the condition of the streets under the immediate predecessors of Col. Waring will understand the inevitable effect of mingling party politics with the administration of the city.

"Curiously enough, in this campaign Tammany Hall in its platform has confined itself as strictly to local issues as the Citizens' Union. But everybody understands that Tammany has done this only because it has not dared to come out either for the Chicago platform of its party or against it. The sincerity of Tammany's platform utterances is easily tested. I cannot believe that many people who have high ideals of city government will look to Tammany for their realization, under its present management. That organization is too intimately associated with our municipal dishonor in the past to be deliberately intrusted by the people of the city with the solution of the great problem involved in the installation of the new government of the city of New York.

"There is one point, however, as to which Tammany, the Republican organization and the adherents of Henry George are all agreed. With one voice they proclaim the doctrine that the administration of the city ought to be responsible to some party, as they put it, and not directly to the people themselves. If a party were to represent the final judgment of a vast body of people there might be something to say for this proposition; though even then, for such business as the city demands of its officials, I think it would be open to question. But what are you going to say when a party becomes an organization and the organization becomes a machine that responds absolutely to the will of one man? That has been the fundamental difficulty with Tammany Hall for many a year. It never was more open to this criticism than at this moment. And I am sorry to believe this is also the fundamental difficulty with the Republican party of the city of New York to-day. In both cases you have the one-man power illustrated in its most absolute form, and, as I think, in its most dangerous form, because it is absolutely irresponsible. Against that idea I stand for direct and continuous responsibility on the part of the city officials to the people themselves.

"When party organizations have become political machines that respond absolutely to the will of a single man the very fabric of free government is in peril. We might almost appeal against such a condition of things to the general Government at Washington to make good in our behalf the constitutional guarantee of a republican form of government in all the States. Happily, a better appeal still is available, and that is to the people of the city. I make that appeal now to the people of New York, in their own behalf and in behalf of free government, to elect this year officials who will be responsible directly to them, and not indirectly to some person whom they cannot get at.

"I think our ticket stands in this campaign, first, for the independence of the city; secondly, for the responsibility of the city official after his election directly to the people, and, thirdly, for the independence of the citizen in naming the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. Upon this platform I shall submit our case fearlessly to the people of the city of New York."

A Strike at the Bradford Mills.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—About two hundred of the three hundred employes of the Bradford Mills, conducted by John and James Dobson, manufacturers of dress goods and worsted cloth, have gone on strike because of the refusal of the firm to grant an increase of 10 per cent. in wages.

The manager of the mills informed a committee of the employes that a 10 per cent. increase would be granted on or before the first of the year if new orders for goods brought increased prices. An immediate increase was demanded, however, and, as stated, two hundred of the employes quit work.

L. A. W. Membership.

New York, Oct. 7.—The membership of the L. A. W. was increased by the addition of 774 new names this week, making the total membership 99,802. It is expected that several hundred new members will be enrolled next week, making the total over 100,000. Secretary Bassett reports the following returns from the leading divisions: New York, 26,553; Pennsylvania, 23,574; Massachusetts, 11,956; New Jersey, 6,699; Connecticut, 2,038.

The opinion prevails that the National Board of Trade of Cycle Manufacturers will experience considerable difficulty in abolishing cycle shows.

Swenson for Copenhagen.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The President yesterday made the following appointments:

Laurito S. Swenson, of Minnesota, Minister to Denmark.

Edward Bedloe, of Pennsylvania, Consul at Canton, China.

Dr. Bedloe, the famous wit of the Philadelphia Clover Club. He was Consul to Amoy, China, under Harrison's Administration, and his reports were among the most valuable and highly commended received by the State Department. Dr. Bedloe rendered important service to the Republican organiation in the campaign last Fall.

Priests Form a G. A. R. Post.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 7.—A Grand Army post, composed exclusively of priests of the Roman Catholic Church, was formed last night at Notre Dame. This post has the distinction of being the only organization of soldier priests in the world. The Very Rev. Father Corby, who was chaplain of the Eighty-eighth New York Volunteers, was installed Post Commander, and Gen. William A. Olmsted, of New York City, who will soon be ordained to the priesthood, was elected adjutant. There are twelve priests in the post.

Gagged by a Hired Man.

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Gus Snyder, hired man of John Murphy, a farmer, of Conklin Forks, went to his employer's house yesterday morning, knocked Mrs. Murphy down, bound and gagged her and then ransacked the house, getting $1,000 in money, besides other valuables.

Snyder is at large, but is pursued by officers. Mrs. Murphy's condition is serious.

Fled in Their Night Clothes.

Plankinton, S. D., Oct. 7.—The girls' cottage at the State Industrial School burned at an early hour yesterday morning, and six lives were lost.

Twenty-five escaped in their night clothes.

The loss is about $25,000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it probably was caused by a lamp explosion.

Yellow Jack's Victims.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 7.—Yellow Jack got a good hold yesterday. There were a dozen cases and two deaths reported. Other cases are recovering so rapidly that there are now under treatment not more than 15 or 20 cases more than were being cared for five or six days ago, although there have been nu-

A DEAD BLUE LAW.

It is a sad commentary on many Dogberries of New Jersey that they have recognized in many instances a law enacted in 1805, and commonly known as a "blue law," which was wiped off the statue books by a law passed by the Legislature in 1893. Several times of late justices of the peace have thrown out suits brought by wheelmen for damages to their wheels while riding Sundays, on the ground that it was a pleasure to ride a wheel on that day, and the law of 1805 prohibited such a practice. The law of 1893 says:

It shall not be unlawful for any person or corporation, on the Christian Sabbath, the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, to print, publish and sell newspapers, to sell and deliver milk, or to walk, ride, or drive for recreation, and to hire horses and carriages or other conveyances for riding or driving.

Riding and driving for recreation cover the case of wheelmen, and they are therefore entitled to all the rights and privileges of persons who sustain injury while doing a legal act, in case the injury is the fault of another person, and they are also liable for any injury they may do to others.

SOMERSET DEMOCRATS.

Hiram O. Hance, chairman of the Somerset Democratic county executive committee, has called the county convention to be held in the court house at Somerville on Monday, Oct. 18th. The nominations to be made are for Surrogate and Assemblyman. In accordance with the resolution apopted by the county Democratic executive committee, all townships having but one polling place will be entitled to six delegates; townships having two polling places will be entitled to elect three delegates in each polling place, and townships having more than two polling places will be entitled to elect two delegates in each polling place. The primary for the election of delegates from North Plainfield borough will be held Friday evening, October 15th. The primaries in other parts of the county will be held the following afternoon.

THE BOROUGH'S OPPORTUNITY.

Just as soon as the Borough Council will pass an ordinance similar to the one now in course of enactment in this city granting the telephone company the right to lay their wires in underground conduits, it is understood that the wires in the borough will be treated to the same process. The Borough Council ought to applaud the willingness of the telephone company to make the improvements, by hurrying the ordinance through.

A new ordinance in Freehold prohibits the propelling of baby carriages on the sidewalks. Without true knowledge at hand there is reason to believe that the Common Council of Freehold is composed of bachelors or crusty old men who don't know the joy of taking "the baby" out for a ride.

Plainfield has a minister who rides a bicycle on Sunday.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

New Directory Out.

The directory of the city and borough, which has been compiled by Charles VanWinkle, is out and being delivered. Typographically it is the neatest directory ever issued for the city. Its real worth, of course, will be determined as it is required for use from time to time, but there is every reason to believe that it will be a great improvement over the old one, inasmuch as Mr. VanWinkle has taken especial pains to gather the names and addresses in a correct manner.

Entertained English Friends

Marion S. Ackerman, of Crescent avenue, entertained a few of his English friends yesterday in this city. In the afternoon the party enjoyed a drive to Summit.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

Series of Lectures Arranged to be Delivered by Talented Men.

The committee in charge of the University Extension lectures have arranged for two courses of lectures. The first course will consist of six lectures by Prof. Arthur M. Wheeler, Professor of Modern History in Yale University, on the following subjects: "The Establishment of the Second Empire of France," "The Crimean War, its Causes and Results," "Italian Unity," "German Unity," "The Struggle Between the Catholic Church and the New German Empire," "Some Phases of the Eastern Question, Particularly as it Effects the Greeks and Cretans." The whole course will discuss the most important events in European politics since 1848.

The second course will consist of six lectures by Prof. William G. Sumner, Professor of Political Economy in Yale University, on the following subjects: "What is a Free Man in a Free State?" "What is Democracy?" "What are Trusts?" "Women in Society," "Immigration."

All these lectures will deal with some of the most vital historical and political questions of the present time; they will be found to be of the deepest interest to all members.

Prof. Wheeler's lectures will be given on Tuesdays, October 26, and November 9, 16, 23 and 30, and December 7; Prof. Sumner's on Mondays, January 10, 17, 24 and 31 and February 7 and 14. The place, as heretofore, will be the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church.

The price of tickets will be $1.50 for the twelve lectures. The number of tickets is limited and subscribers of 1896 will be given the preference.

A Piano Sensation!

During this month we're going to sell good Pianos at the previously unheard of price of $170 cash, or $190 on easy monthly payments.

We bought nearly a hundred from different makers during the summer. These are good pianos that we guarantee for five years.

We have also marked down for this month the prices on all of our regular lines of Hardmans, Gabler's, Voses, Sterlings and Standards. There is decided saving for the buyer who comes during this sale.

It would be worth your while to buy now, even if you don't want the Piano until Christmas; we'll store it for you without charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kliner, of Somerset street, are rejoicing upon the arrival of a young son.

A Liniment to Rely On.

No matter how careful you are, you can hardly hope to escape bruises, strains and bodily aches. If you elude them, some other member of the family will not, and so a liniment is needed in every home. There are three reasons why should be chosen.

It is thoroughly scientific and is calculated to do more than other liniments.

It has been used with utmost satisfaction by hundreds of your neighbors.

It is fully guaranteed. You can have your money back if it fails to suit.

BICYCLE STEALING GOING ON.

While Allen Laing's Wheel was Left Unguarded the Thief Got in His Work.

The bicycle thief continues his work without hindrance. Last night he added another wheel to his collection. The owner of the missing wheel is Allen B. Laing, of Craig place.

Mr. Laing is the well-known electrician whose office is in the Babcock building. Last night he came to his office and left his wheel downstairs in the vestibule. He employed one of the colored men about the building to clean the wheel. The colored man was called away for a moment and left the wheel alone. When he returned, the wheel was gone. Mr. Laing was notified at once, and both hunted about the place to find the bicycle or the thief, but without success.

The stolen wheel was a Spalding of this year's model, No. 77,277. It was equipped with a lantern at the time it was stolen.

SOCIABILITY AWHEEL.

Under the Light of the Full Moon the Epworth League Will Enjoy a Spin.

The excellent condition of the roads and the full moon have combined to induce the social committee of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church to arrange another moonlight run for this evening. This bicycle sociable takes the place of the regular monthly sociable of the league and it is found to be far more pleasant under the present favorable conditions.

The run is under the charge of Miss Persis Snodgrass. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Leggett will act as chaperones. J. H. Stafford will be the bugler.

The start will be made from in front of the First M. E. church at 7:30 o'clock. After a spin out the Stelton road, the party will return to the residence of the pastor, Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, 610 Central avenue, and enjoy a social time.

THEATRICAL.

If one half the good reports we hear of the comedy "Side Tracked," which appears at Music Hall tonight, have been true, then the patrons of this theatre will have a genuine treat in store for them. The piece was written to amuse and entertain, and in this it never fails. The music is bright and catchy, including the latest popular airs, and as rendered by the remarkably fine voices in the company, is a pleasing feature of the entertainment.

Local sports, whose finances would not permit them to witness the fight at Carson City last March, will have an opportunity of seeing the contest, as reproduced by the veriscope, at Stillman Music Hall, on Friday and Saturday. The pictures are the same as were seen at the Academy of Music, New York, some time ago. Four exhibitions will be given, including two matinees. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

TO PLAN FOR WINTER WORK.

Working Church Forces to Gather and Confer for Mutual Benefit.

For the purpose of discussing plans for the fall and winter work at Grace M. E. church a meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Carroll, of Westervelt avenue. A special invitation has been extended to the members of the official board, officers and teachers of Sunday-school, cabinet of the Epworth League, officers of the Ladies' Aid Society and Woman's Home Missionary Society, and Superintendents of Queen Esther Band and Junior League. Besides the above all interested in the spiritual condition of the church are invited to be present.

Rev. Louis Walz, of LaGrande avenue, left this morning for Maryland, where he will remain for awhile.

Mrs. Joseph Blimm and daughter, of East Third street, are visiting relatives in New York for a few days.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD,

WILSON SUSPECT HELD.

Police Detain the Man Who Said He Helped Kill the Librarian.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—The man who surrendered himself to the police, and said that he was one of three men who robbed and murdered William C. Wilson, the Walnut street librarian, is detained at police headquarters.

The man gave his name as William Harris. The authorities are making every effort to corroborate his story and to arrest his alleged accomplices, whose full names Harris said he did not know.

Harris described one of his companions as a man whom he knew by the name of Monk. The police of the Twenty-fifth district say that a rough locally known as Monk is missing from his accustomed haunts. Harris gives details of the crime as he says it was committed. He says that Wilson was killed with a hatchet.

The prisoner declared that he was not the instigator of the crime. The other two men, he said, arranged the matter, and he "simply went along." The motive of the murder, he said, was robbery. The men believed that Wilson had a large sum of money in his place, but after killing him they found only $1.48. They took Wilson's gold watch.

Harris declared in his confession that the watch was buried in a field near Gloucester, N. J. Three special policemen Tuesday accompanied the prisoner to the spot, but no watch was found. Harris said that one of his accomplices must have gone to the place and unearthed it.

Both of the men named by Harris are criminals of the petty type, who are known to the police. One of them, at least, is believed to be out of town.

If Harris' confession is a hoax, as is believed by some of the officers of the department, it is a little hard to explain why he made it, except that he is of unsound mind. It may be, however, that he has a desire to secure witness fees.

The police are still arresting and discharging men suspected of being implicated in the murder of the aged bookseller.

FANATICS BURIED ALIVE.

Bodies of Six More Victims Unearthed—Sect's Strange Belief.

Odessa, Oct. 7.—Further excavations in the pits near Tirespol, where a number of fanatical followers of the Raskolniki were self-immolated by being buried alive some months ago, have revealed six more bodies of men, women and children. The search is being continued.

It is believed that thirty other bodies are still in the series of pits, where the horrible rites of the fanatical sect were practiced. Thus far the bodies of upward of thirty persons who voluntarily sacrificed themselves to the fanaticism of this religious sect, have been recovered.

In the early part of May it was reported, and the rumor was quickly confirmed, that a number of the fanatical followers of the Raskolniki, a Russian sect that believes in salvation by martyrdom, had been immolated by being buried alive or walled up in masonry, and shortly afterward the bodies of about twenty-five of the victims were recovered.

Six bodies were accidentally discovered on the premises of Feodore Kovaleff, who confessed that he had walled up in his cellar nine living persons, including his wife and two young children. He further admitted that he had buried the other six, while they were still alive, in a specially excavated pit ten feet deep. Kovaleff declared that all of these were voluntary victims.

In an adjoining garden, belonging to Matvel Sakula, four bodies were discovered in a pit. Sakula said that these were buried alive at their own request.

The sect of the Raskolniki is a survival of the old Dissenters, who were persecuted in Russia for two centuries. Their treatment was worst under Empress Sophia, when thousands of them were knouted by the State. The result was that they became fiercely fanatical, and invented a doctrine of salvation by martyrdom. They are now practicing self-immolation.

Kovaleff belongs to an ultra-fanatical branch of the Raskolniki called the Beguni. So rigorously exclusive are the members of this branch that they will not eat or drink from the same utensils used by relatives who have married ordinary members of the Raskolniki. They will not worship in churches or buildings used by others, but only in caves and cellars, which are usually filthy beyond description. Their services are conducted in closely guarded secrecy.

NEW ORLEANS IN A SORE PLIGHT.

Increase in Yellow Fever—Indignation Against the Health Board.

New Orleans, Oct. 7.—The record here yesterday for yellow fever consisted of forty-six new cases and five deaths. This makes a total of forty-three deaths here, with a total of 425 cases to date, and 134 recoveries. The situation is daily becoming more serious, particularly as the large pay roll of officials is mounting higher every day.

There is now a quarantine guard force of more than six hundred men guarding 250 infected localities, and the cost is about $30,000 a month for this work alone. Should the fever continue to mount as steadily as it did yesterday and the day before, it is believed that the finances of the health authorities cannot stand the strain and they will be forced to abandon the rigorous system of quarantining each and every house.

One Million for Powder.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—One of the first messages that President McKinley will send to Congress will ask for an emergency appropriation of $1,000,000 for the purchase of smokeless powder for the navy. It will take at least a year to prepare this immense amount hence the necessity for early action by Congress.

In view of the threatening complications with Spain, the President will urge Congress to act expeditiously.

A Millionaire Kicker.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—The old millionaire, Mr. William B. Bradbury, who recently paid a heavy fine for spitting on the floor of a street car, was caught in the toils of the law again yesterday when he was convicted of assault and battery on Paul Durney, a piano tuner. He will be sentenced to-morrow, and from the Judge's remarks he is likely to get the full penalty.

DRAFT RIOT OF 1863

NEW YORK CITY STILL OWES SOME OF THE DEBT IT INCURRED.

Horace Greeley and Henry J. Raymond Barely Escaped the Mob—Colored People were Stoned, the Militia Defied, and General Disorder Maintained.

In mid-July, 1863, when the whole North was rejoicing over Gettysburg and a call had been made for a new army to be raised by a draft, a large number of New Yorkers undertook to resist conscription. Their opposition assumed the form early on the morning of July 13 of a riotous onslaught upon the headquarters of a district provost marshal at the corner of Third avenue and Forty-sixth street. The rioters put to flight Deputy Provost Marshal Jenkins and his subordinates, destroyed wheel and ballots, and then set fire to the house. Marauding bands sprang up in various parts of the city. Bull's Head Hotel was visited, and a request for free drinks being refused, the place was fired, and two private houses on near-by Lexington avenue were burned down.

The feeling was that the war had been waged in order to free the Southern negroes, and animosity toward the colored race inspired the rioters in the afternoon to make a raid on the Colored Orphan Asylum in Fifth avenue. It was set on fire and destroyed. The original mob had now increased enormously. It started to go downtown to set on fire another provost marshal headquarters on the east side of Broadway, opposite where is now Daly's theater. The mob thwarted the firemen, with the result that the fire destroyed all the fronts between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, while many of the shops were pillaged.

A fatal sense of security and reliance on popular patriotism, together with some political dislike of harsh measures, had seemingly possessed the police department, (the old Metropolitan state organization,) and due preliminary precautions for the prevention of disturbance had been neglected; but at this stage the Superintendent of police became energetic. It was now seen at the close of Monday that the riotous spirit had exceeded ordinary police resources, and that the military arm was needed. Particularly so, because riotous feints had been made upon the Seventh avenue and the Center street arsenals and upon the armory at the corner of Second avenue and Twenty-first street. The house of Mayor Opdyke on Fifth avenue, near Sixteenth street, had been invaded and some of his furniture destroyed; and a riotous feint had been also made against the residence on Ninth street, near Fifth avenue, of Henry J. Raymond, editor of the Times, which had strongly supported the draft. Monday closed with a proclamation from the Mayor, commanding order and with the calling out of police reserves, so that Superintendent Kennedy now had 3,000 bluecoats at his command.

Tuesday, July 14, came and before the day closed a poor negro had been chased by a mob through Clarkson street, in old Greenwich village, captured, beaten, and then hanged. Gov. Seymour issued a proclamation declaring the city under insurrection, and inviting citizens to enroll themselves as special aids. Meantime a large section of the mob was threatening the Tribune office and also the house of a citizen, 19 Lamartine place, where Horace Greeley was a guest. Governor Seymour and Mayor Opdyke proceeded to the city hall, opposite the Tribune office, (where the compositors and staff were in a state of siege and armed with rifles and hand grenades), and addressed the rioters, urging them to refrain from violence. His habitual word in first addressing a meeting had always been "Friends," and he used that word in beginning his speech, which fact was immediately seized upon by some of the newspapers to his disadvantage. What rhetoric failed to do was accomplished by police clubs and good discipline before nightfall of Tuesday, and the Tribune was relieved of a mob.

All day Tuesday disturbances continued. Colored people were stoned and maltreated. At Fifth avenue and Forty-sixth street, a collision occurred between the military and a section of the mob, where the bayonet dispersed the latter. Another collision came on the east side, at Broome and Pitt streets, where the military were compelled to fire and wound several rioters. In another collision, at Second avenue and Thirty-fourth street, Col. O'Brien was unhorsed, stoned, and beaten to death, and his corpse dragged along the pavement and hanged to a lamppost. The house of Postmaster Wakeman, who had been active in promoting the draft, as well as the police station on Eighty-sixth street, were burned, and some clothing stores were sacked by the rioters. Up to Wednesday morning the third and last day of the rioting, 130 policemen had been more or less injured, including Superintendent Kennedy.

Archbishop Hughes issued a temperate address, one of the judges decided the draft methods not in accordance with the Constitution, and Provost Marshal-General Nugent issued orders suspending the draft, which proceedings, conjoined to the return of the city regiments from the front and details of Federal and state soldiers and the popular experience with the police force, virtually quelled the riot. One result of the riot was a municipal debt for damages of several millions, and a few of the riot bonds then issued are still outstanding.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Don't Make a Mistake

When you have a painting job on hand. It's the painting quite as much as the paint that costs, and only good paint is worth the expense the work entails. To be sure of getting what will stand the severest exposure better and longer than anything else, drop in and select what you require from our stock. Knowing exactly what is needed to produce a paint that will answer every purpose and thus be economical as well as satisfactory, we turn our knowledge to practical use.

Borough Notice.

Watchung Avenue Assessment.

To whom it may concern:

Take notice that the report of the Commissioners appointed to make the benefit assessment of the cost and expenses of the improvement of laying out, opening, grading, macadamizing, &c., of Watchung avenue in the said Borough under an ordinance entitled "An ordinance for the laying out and opening of Watchung avenue from the centre line of Green brook to the southeasterly side line of Jackson avenue," approved Sept. 6, 1895, together with all objections filed thereto in writing, has been duly brought before the Mayor and Council of the said Borough and

Take further notice, that said Mayor and Council has fixed Thursday, October 14th, 1897, at 8 P. M. at the Council Chambers as the time and place for the examination and confirmation of said report, when and where any parties interested can be heard by said Mayor and Council, if any such desire to be heard or to object to said report or assessment in any way.

After such hearing said Mayor and Council will proceed as required by law to examine the matter and correct said report and assessment and ratify the same.

Dated October 1st, 1897

By order of the Mayor and Council.

HAVANA BADLY SCARED

Crowds of Spanish Volunteers Parading the Streets.

AMERICANS ALSO ALARMED

They Are Shouting "Death to the United States" and "Long Live Weyler"—Big Demonstration in Protest Against Weyler's Recall.

(Cable to the New York Sun.)

Havana, via Key West, Oct. 7.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the compromising Spanish merchants in Havana closed their stores and threatening groups of Spanish volunteers began to march along the streets crying:

"Death to the United States! Long live Spain! Long live Gen. Weyler! Death to the traitors!"

The whole city is in a state of terror. A large mass meeting of Spaniards has been called to meet at the Casino Espanol to-night in honor of Gen. Weyler. Placards have been posted in all the streets summoning the loyal Spaniards to the Casino, and inciting them to firmly support Gen. Weyler, who is, the placards say "the savior of Spain."

A long cable dispatch has been sent to Madrid, signed by all the most conspicuous irreconcilables of Havana, urging the Government to withdraw all steps for the recall of Gen. Weyler, which public opinion attributes to pressure from the United States.

The Spanish volunteers also threaten to throw down their arms if the Captain-General is recalled. The cable dispatches to the Government and the other manifestations in favor of Weyler have been signed also by Senors Montero, Galvez, Cueto and Saladrigas, members of the Autonomist party.

The excitement against the United States is so intense that an attack on the Americans is feared. The Cuban families are also in great danger. The city presents the same aspect of anarchy that it bore in 1869 and 1873. If the Government recalls Weyler, outrages upon American citizens and attacks upon the American Consulate are almost certain to occur.

The mobs that are parading the streets are also lifting their voices against autonomy, and the Autonomists themselves, led by Senor Montoro, declare that Weyler must not be recalled, and that it is a shame for Spain to grant "reforms" under pressure from the United States.

Gen. Weyler's factotum and favorite, Col. Escribano, chief of the staff of the Captain-General, is the man who started all this boom for Weyler through his agents, sent out to all the quarters of the city. Gen. Weyler himself has publicly declared that "he can neither resign nor accept a recall, because he is sure to end the revolution in a few weeks."

La Lucha publishes to-day a strong editorial in favor of Gen. Weyler, and inciting all loyal Spaniards "to do their duty."

The demonstration to-night will be turbulent, and disturbance of peace is feared. The crowd proposes to call at the palace and salute Gen. Weyler.

The report, widely circulated this morning, that negotiations are going on between Madrid and Washington to establish home rule in Cuba, and that the American Government will make proposals to the revolutionary leaders to induce them to accept, has increased the indignation of the uncompromising Spaniards.

A report came also from Madrid this morning that the Government has asked Gen. Martinez Campos to come to Cuba. The name of Martinez Campos is hissed by the uncompromising Spaniards in their meetings.

La Lucha asserts also that the Cabinet is in great difficulties because Gamazo and Maura, who have no portfolios, are beginning to attack Sagasta.

Seventeen hundred Spanish residents left Havana yesterday for Spain, fearing that the recall of Weyler would be the certain end of Spain's rule in Cuba.

The war is raging more fiercely than last week in Pinar del Rio province. At Llañadas Dolores, in that province, a remarkable victory was obtained on Monday by the insurgents. The Spaniards had forty-one killed and twenty-nine wounded, and the Cubans only six killed and twelve wounded. The Cubans were commanded by Col. Serafin Garcia. The Spaniards retreated, leaving a valuable convoy of supplies in the field.

The town of Guayabas, also Pinar del Rio, has surrendered to the insurgents. Another important engagement is reported at Cumanayagua, Santa Clara province, with heavy losses on both sides.

The report comes from Madrid that the Government has pardoned Senor Alfredo Zayas, a Cuban who was exiled to Ceuta.

EDITOR BEANS AGAIN.

Horsewhipped and Beaten in the Public Street in Waco, Tex.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 7.—Editor W. C. Brann published a card in which he disclaimed any intention to defame the young women pupils of Baylor University, but declared that the trustees and faculty were the objects of his attack, and insisted that they merited all he had said in the Iconoclast.

In consequence another attack was made on him this afternoon, and he was severely beaten. The persons attacking Brann were J. B. Scarborough, attorney and a trustee of Baylor University; George Scarborough, son of J. B. Scarborough, and R. H. Hamilton, another Baylor student.

They seized Brann in the Provident Building, took him to the middle of the street, and beat him with a cane and a buggy whip. It was done before the police could interfere.

The assailants were promptly arrested and refused to give bond for forcibly and illegally restraining Brann of his liberty and for aggravated assault.

Christian Endeavorers in Paterson.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 7.—The State Convention of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor societies opened at 3 o'clock yesterday afternon at the Hall of the Young Men's Christian Association. There were upward of one thousand delegates present. The Rev. Dr French, president of the union, presided. The principal event of the afternoon was an address on Sabbath observance by the Rev. Dr. David James Burrell, of New York.

FOR COUNTY CONTROL.

Union County Citizens Interested in the Construction of the Trolley Line.

The Union county citizens interested in the construction of the trolley line between Elizabeth and Plainfield met last night at the court house in Elizabeth and effected a permanent organization by electing ex-Senator Vail, of Rahway, president, and Lewis Quinn, of Elizabeth, secretary.

The plans as set forth in yesterday's Press were considered and adopted. Arrangements were made for the appointment of sub-committees, which will be named later.

The meeting was attended by those who have become interested in the new idea of county control of the trolley line. At the next meeting definite steps will be taken to secure the right of way along the proposed route.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

There seems to be no doubt but that Plainfield will have the strongest eleven on the gridiron this year she has ever seen when the Plainfield A. A. team gets down to working order. There are now a number of candidates, and as most of them are excellent players it is difficult to select the team. Louis Waring is looking over the material at hand very carefully, however, and expects to announce in a short time the make-up of the eleven that is to represent Plainfield this year.

Last year an experiment was made, and Thomas A. Cuming, a comparatively light man, was tried at centre on the Plainfield team. He proved a great success, and between two such towers of strength as Brown and Milne, there was not a man who went through him during the season. This year Cuming was talked of as a candidate for centre, but now there appears a candidate that outdistances Cuming. The late arrival is Samuel Hall, who played with the Elizabeth Athletic Club team last year. He combines experience, great strength and weight, and makes an ideal man for centre. He has expressed a willingness to play with the Plainfield team this year, and will naturally strengthen the team. While Cuming will not play at centre, he is too valuable a man to loose. His original place was tackle, but two excellent men, Hallock and Lowell, make it hard for anyone else to secure a place. Cuming is now considered as a good candidate for a position behind the line. He has played there before on several of the minor teams. He embodies quickness and the faculty of using his weight to the best advantage. He is never rattled, but plays a systematic game and can be considered one of the most conscientious players on the eleven. He will probably be tried behind the line next Saturday.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Willard M. Miner, of East Sixth street, is spending his vacation in Plainfield awheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph, of West Front street, returned yesterday from an enjoyable two weeks' vacation spent in New York State on their wheels.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has something new in the line of Cleveland wheels which are finding ready sale. They have been sold in fact before they have arrived and another instalment of them is expected. They are known as models A. and B. One of the principal features is the very reasonable price.

Harold Chandor, of East Fifth street, will try to break the road record between Westfield and Plainfield on Saturday Oct. 9th. He will be paced by William Hobby of this city and another rider from Westfield. Walter Long will be the time keeper in this city and William Timpson will hold the watch at Westfield. This will make Chandor's third attempt at this record. Each time before he has met with an accident of some sort and been compelled to quit.

BASKET BALL.

Fred Smith is nursing a black eye, as the result of Monday's game.

The basket ball season has opened again and promises to be a lively one as far as Plainfield is concerned. The first team of the Y. M. C. A., of this city, is planning a regular campaign. Monday night the team was composed of Walter Long, captain; Fred Bonny, Berry Egan, E. Moraller and Mox Moraller. There are several others who are strong candidates for the team.

The business men of the Y. M. C A. are preparing to play all winter this year. Their great hope is to fairly defeat the regular team and to that end they will practice carefully. Monday's game was not a good chance to judge of the playing of the team, as several of them had not practiced any this season. The line up on Monday was Rev. H. J. Johnston, John H. Doane, captain; Frank Richards, Gilmour Drayton and Fred G. Smith.

GOLF.

The Plainfield golf team will play in Elizabeth next Saturday.

Bicycle Spin After Business.

The regular business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held last evening. Miss Ida Spicer was elected delegate to the State convention at Paterson. Rev. A. E Main will also attend. After the meeting twelve of the members enjoyed a spin on their wheels to Pumptown.

Pythian Delegates.

Goodwill Lodge, No. 15, Knights of Pythias, met last evening and selected Peter Robinson and William Downs delegates, and W. A. Kline representative, to attend the State convention of the order, which will meet at Bordentown next Thursday.

Miss Jennie Hutchison left today for her home in Eastport, Me., after a visit with her brother, John P Hutchison, of Leggett's pharmacy.

May Wed Helen Gould.

New York, Oct. 7.—Society is discussing the reported engagement of Helen Gould, the daughter of the great capitalist, and Alonzo Potter, eldest son of the Episcopal bishop of the metropolitan see. The engagement was whispered about in exclusive drawing-rooms just before the bishop and his family went to the Lambeth conference in June, and, it was understood, would be announced just as soon as all the members of both families would meet after the Summer vacation. All are here now except Howard Gould, and he is on the Campania, which will arrive on Friday.

A Good Riddance.

Night-Watchman A. B. Henry, at The Standard Flint Paper Co., of Newark, N J., Ejects an Undesirable Tenant.

There is a great deal of truth in the tales told about evictions in Ireland and in the North of Scotland during the early and middle part of the century. It is a hardship for any family to be summarily dumped on a roadside, without friends or wealth, half famished and half clad, but such ejections or evictions are not by any means confined to the British Isles. Scarcely a day passes in free America without similar cases being recorded, and often in place of extending gratuitous sympathy across the Atlantic we could find abundant opportunities to lavish it at home. Night watchman A. B. Henry, of 43 William street, Newark, N.J., became involved in an eviction a short time ago. Some time the reader may be forced to adapt the same measures. Knowing how Mr. Henry proceeded will save a heap of trouble and many a dollar. He says: "It may or it may not have been kidney disease that I had, but I know the pain was located in the left kidney and was very troublesome and annoying, to say nothing of the suffering it at times caused me. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from a drug store. I had to be very careful in stooping or lifting in order to avoid the sharp pains which were sure to follow if I made any careless movement, and any strain on the back caused a sharp twinge to pass through my loins. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured, and am now entirely free from it. My back is as strong as ever, and during the long hours I am on my feet it does not bother me or get tired and painful as it did formerly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Temple Cup Series Goes to Baltimore.

Boston, Oct. 7.—Boston's hopes of winning the Temple Cup grew beautifully less yesterday, when the champions dropped another game to Baltimore, more by wretched battery work and careless fielding. The general work of the team was listless and indifferent and would not land the team high in the second division if continued through the season. The crowd was not backward in expressing its displeasure, and, all in all, it cannot be said that the baseball season in Boston came to a brilliant close yesterday. The score:

$15,000 worth of the finest

FALL AND WINTER -CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. THEIR LAST TRIBUTE.

FUNERAL OF MISS A. KATE MARTINE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Large Concourse of Friends Attended the the Obsequies—Rev. W. R. Richards Officiated and Spoke Comforting Words.

The funeral of Miss A. Kate Martine, which was held at "Cedar Brook," the Martine homestead, on Watchung avenue, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, attracted a large concourse of relatives and friends from this city and surrounding towns, who came to pay a last tribute of love and respect to the memory of the departed.

The officiating clergymen were Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., of the Crescent Avenue church, of which Miss Martine was a member, and Rev. S. P. Simpson, of St. Stephen's church, of Netherwood. The services began with the singing of a hymn, "Oh! Paradise," by a choir consisting of Mrs. Frank Clawson, Miss Jessie Utter, Elmer Runyon and H. A. Gavett. Dr. Richards read a number of selections from the New Testament and offered a brief prayer. His sermon which followed was based upon the injunction of the Apostle Paul to his disciples, to "Rejoice with them that rejoice and weep with those that weep."

"The people whose sympathy is most perfect," the speaker said, "will obey this injunction, since both the rejoicing and the weeping which they do are prompted by the same tenderness of heart, leading its possessor to share the burdens of others. And they who do this are following in the footsteps of Christ, who rejoices in our joys and sorrows in our griefs. We cannot forget such scenes in the Lord's life as that of the wedding at Cana, where His presence brought the best joys at the end of the feast, nor can we forget His parable of the Prodigal Son, where the only one who comes in for condemnation is the brother who could not share in the rejoicing at the wanderer's home-coming.

"But Christ can also weep with those who weep. It was thus that He went into the afflicted home at Bethany and wept. The matter of sympathy is largely one of temperment. Some find it easy to share sorrow and others can share joy, but few people are able to enter into both our joys and our sorrows. Once in a great while we find one made in the larger mould, whose temperment seems to have something of the Christlike in it. We are able to know by something other than the confession of the lips, whether the Spirit of the Master is in the heart of a person.

"The friends gathered here today are all of one household, prompted by the same sense of personal loss. When the news of this death came, some of the brightness was taken out of the day for all of us. This sense of enduring loss is a test better than words of the Christlike character of her whom we mourn. But if her character was Christlike and deserves our sorrowful remembrance, is it not also designed to draw our thoughts Heavenward? Can we not remember that Christ is the source of all gifts, and when He gives His Spirit to a person He merely draws us to Him that we may know Him better as a tender-loving Saviour and a merciful High Priest."

At the close of Dr. Richards' remarks a prayer was offered by Rev. S. P. Simpson, rector of St Stephen's church at Netherwood. The choir sang a hymn, "The Homeland," and the friends were then given an opportunity to view the remains which reposed in a handsome casket in the parlor.

The room was filled with floral offerings, mostly roses, and the casket was decked with roses. One by one, slowly the long line passed, each taking a last look at the face of the friend whom they would not see again upon earth. There were fully 300 people present.

The pallbearers were John Bushnell, Stephen Ginna, Gilbert Storrs, R Kirkhoff, Charles King and Mr. Marion.

Interment was made in the family plot at Hillside cemetery.

To Study English Literature

A number of the young people of the Seventh-Day Baptist church have organized a class in English literature under the direction of Miss May Tomlinson, of Cornell University. A meeting was held last Tuesday evening at which fifteen were present and the details for the class arranged. The meetings will be held every Tuesday evening, when the works of prominent authors will be read and studied.

Smith to be Hypnotized.

Paul Smith, of Punxsutawney, Pa., will be the subject who will be hypnotized by Prof. Sevengala tonight at Washington Hall, and he will then be placed in Harry Werner's show window on West Front street, where he will sleep for twenty-four hours.

TOILERS HEAR GOSPEL.

FACTORY MEETINGS HELD BY ENDEAVORERS AT PATERSON.

The Great Convention of Young Christians Now in Full Sway—The Reports of Officers Show Marked Prosperity.

A feature of the work of the Christian Endeavor convention now being held in Paterson, is a series of outdoor noonday meetings that have been arranged for different points in the manufacturing districts. It was the intention to have five of these gatherings. Yesterday the sky became overcast, the programme was changed, and only two were held—one on the Y. M. C. A. lawn and the other on Spruce street, near Oliver.

At the First Baptist and Market Street Methodist churches the main sessions of the day were opened at 3 p. m. The greatest interest was centred in the Baptist church, where Rev. Dr. J. Clement French, of Newark, the State president, delivered his address. Rev. L. R. Dyott, of Newark, opened the session as presiding officer. There was the usual song service, followed by devotional exercises in which Rev. F. S. Wilson, of Pompton, made the invocation.

At the session of the Market street edifice Rev. T. E. Davis, of Bound Brook presided and Rev. Harvey Wood led the devotional exercises. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Brett, speaking of the Christian Endeavor movement, said the union had far outgrown the fondest expectations of "Father Endeavor" Clark, its founder. Still there was much work to be done, as "sin multiplies like the mosquitoes of our New Jersey meadow."

The annual report prepared by Miss Ida B. Stephens, the State secretary, shows there are in the State 1,109 societies of Christian Endeavor, of which 731 are young people, 373 are junior and 5 are intermediate. Our Mothers' Society is about being organized Fifty-eight young people, 47 juniors and 5 intermediate, have been added to the roll this year. The total membership is 40,703, of which 12,073 are juniors. Of the members of these societies 2,293 have united with the church, the number including junior organizations. The young people's societies that have engaged in evangelistic work number 231, and 402 have missionary committees. The Y. P. S. C. E. have given $12,567 51 to missions, and the juniors $3,074 87, making a total of $15,642.38. There are forty-nine county and local unions in the State, nearly all of which have adopted the department system of work. Some have taken up special local work, of which the "Fresh Air Camp," conducted by the Westfield local union, with the help of neighboring societies, is the most notable.

E. E. Anthony, of Plainfield, the State Treasurer, makes a report showing receipts of $649.71, including $363 received as contributions from 190 societies. Of this sum $522.47 was expended for printing, postage, stationery, etc., leaving a balance of $127 24 on hand.

Miss Florence G. Hawkins, of LaGrande avenue, and Miss May D. Tompson, of Belvidere avenue, are the delegates from the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church at the State convention. Mrs. Hawkins and J. M. Hawkins, of LaGrande avenue, went there yesterday from the same society.

THE UNDERGROUND WIRES.

Work Will Probably Begin After the Next Council Meeting.

There seems no reasonable doubt but that the City Council will pass the ordinance giving the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company permission to lay their wires underground at the November meeting when that ordinance comes up for third reading. If such is the case, the company will start at once laying the wires in some of the principal business streets so as to have them completed before the winter sets in in earnest. The rest of the work will be done in the spring as soon as the streets are in condition to allow it. Had the ordinance been taken up, however, when it was first presented by the company and passed at that time, Plainfield would now be entirely through with the trouble of laying the conduits.

A Busy Store

Prices do not always talk, but when they are backed up with merchandise of good quality they are worth investigating. White's advertisement tells of many goods and prices that cannot fail to interest you. Every department in the store on all four floors is in splendid shape to supply every want. All the orders for fall and winter goods were placed before the advance in prices, and you will find prices are lower than ever. They are starting special sales throughout every department, and it will pay to buy now for the future.

AN EXPERT'S VIEW OF PROPOSED COUNTY TROLLEY

Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., Who Has Had Much Experience, Says It Cannot Be Profitable For Taxpayers.

He Reasons that the Amount of Money That Will be Required to Build the Road and Put it in Operation by the Lessees Will be Too Large For the Revenues of the Road to Pay an Interest On.

Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., is what might be termed an expert in the matter of electric railways. Mr. Serrell is an electrical contractor, who has had much experience in building trolley lines and intimately knowing the cost of operation. Mr. Serrell has watched the promulgation of Frank Bergen's theory of county ownership for a trolley road on the county road with interest. He believes that it is not a practical scheme, and his reasons therefor are given below in the following letter sent to the editor of The Press this morning:

The citizens of Union county have recently been considering a project for the county to build an electric railroad between Elizabeth and Plainfield along the county roads, and, in so doing, widening the same to 100 feet, leaving the present macadam in the same place; making wide sidewalks, dirt driveway, curbing the street and building culverts at cross streets. The object of this plan is to lease the railway tracks to some electric railway corporation that will pay a sufficient rental to pay the interest on the county investment and in time retire the county bonds, all of which is to be done without burden to the taxpayer. Meetings have been held giving the project enthusiastic endorsement, but no one seems to have asked the question—can the county find a corporation willing to lease this road? If a railroad corporation can lease and operate the railroad so as to make money out of it, then the county will be safe in assuming the necessary indebtedness. If not, the taxpayer will be called upon to stand the losses.

The county road runs on the north side of the Central Railroad, between Elizabeth and Westfield, and on the south side, between Westfield and Plainfield, and the primary object of the movement is to preserve its present macadam, therefore it will be necessary to widen the street by making the widening all on the north and south side. The north side must evidently be chosen between Elizabeth and Westfield, and the south side between Westfield and Plainfield on account of the small depth of the property backing up to the Central railroad.

The total length of this proposed trolley between the Elizabeth and Netherwood depots, where connection would be made with the Plainfield street railroad track, is practically 10.8 miles. The total length of county road to be widened is practically 8.8 miles. To widen this street as called for in the proposed plans, it will be necessary to move 107 houses, and taking the average width of the county road at 60 feet, it will be necessary to acquire about 43 acres of land.

To move these houses, build new foundations, excavate cellars, regrade property and rebuild fences, will cost at least $700 each.

The county cannot become bandits and confiscate the land needed for widening the street; benefits and damages must be paid, and the cost to the county must certainly be as much as $2,000 per acre.

The following is, therefore, a reasonable estimate of what the work will cost:

Double track construction	$222,300
Overhead construction without feeders	28,500
Move 107 houses at $700 each	74,900
Purchase of 40 acres of land at $2,000 each	80,000
Grading street to 100 feet in width	25,650
Curbing street	55,800
Total	$487,150
Add for culverts, engineering and incidentals	12,850
Total	$500,000

The electric railway company leasing this proposed road must furnish equipment power and feeders at its own expense.

For a fifteen minute headway between Elizabeth and Plainfield the company must have eleven open and eleven closed cars, the necessary feed wires, a suitable power station and car barn. The estimated cost of which is $130,000, which makes a total outlay that the railway company must be able to earn the interest upon—$630,000.

Can such a railway do this? Let us see:

Suppose the county issue $500,000 bonds and place the same at par for 4½ per cent. interest. In order to pay these bonds off in thirty years they must redeem $16,000 every year.

These two charges amount to $39,100 per annum which the railway company leasing the proposed tracks would have to pay as rental, or the taxpayer will have to pay the same.

In addition to this, the railway company must earn interest on its own investment at 5 per cent. and must have at least 5 per cent. for contingencies and accidents, which amounts to $13,000 per annum. The net earning of the railway company must, therefore, be $52,100 per annum in order to make both ends meet.

For a suburban road such as this, the very lowest figure for the operating expenses would be 65 per cent of the gross receipts. The necessary gross receipts per annum would therefore have to be $150,000, or practically $7,600 gross per annum per mile of track, or $14,000 per mile of street.

Any railroad man of experience would know this was an impossibility; but for those who do not know let us give a comparison:

The report of the New Jersey State Board of Assessors for the last year shows the following gross earnings per mile of track per annum for several cities:

Trenton	$6,000
Plainfield	5,000
Camden	4,500

It must be remembered in considering the above earnings that fully one-third of the track mileage is single track, which gives a much greater population to draw on, and makes the earnings per mile of track larger than in a case where the road is double tracked from one end to the other as in the case of the proposed Elizabeth-Plainfield road.

Let us also consider a few suburban roads, i. e. The New Jersey Electric Railway, which starts at the Lackawanna Ferry, Hoboken, and runs through Hoboken, Jersey City, Union Hill, Rutherford, Carlstat, Passaic, Clifton, Paterson and Signac; all of which makes a population of about 400,000 people to draw on, besides a New York city terminal. Its gross earnings per mile of track per annum are $5,000.

The Camden, Gloucester & Woodbury Electric Railway, having a Philadelphia terminus, only earns $5,100 per mile of track per annum.

Such facts as these ought to aid digest the enthusiasm of the advocates of this proposed county trolley and show them that what Union county is undertaking to do will result to them in losses which the tax payer must make good.

Only One Bid Received.

The Building Committee of Trinity Reformed church met last evening at the residence of B. A. Hegeman, Sr., to talk over the painting and decoration of the interior of the sanctuary, and to receive bids for the same. As only one bid was received the matter was not decided upon. Wiring the church for electric lights and re-upholstering the seats and cushions was also discussed but no action was taken. Another meeting of the committee will be held at an early date and bids for decorating, upholstering and electric lightning will then be received and contracts awarded.

Flag Presentation Arranged.

At the meeting of the Gesang and Turn Verein held last evening three new members were elected and one candidate proposed. The members made final arrangements for the ball and flag presentation to be held at an early date. A ball and concert will be given in the hall on Thanksgiving Eve. The winter opening of the hall will take place next Sunday.

Apples Dumped Out in the Road

While a man in the employ of W H. Smith, of Washingtonville, was taking a load of apples to a nearby cider mill yesterday afternoon, the horse which he was driving became frightened and ran away. The wagon struck the bridge at Spencer's place, and after throwing the driver out, also dumped the apples and wrecked the wagon. The horse got away and ran for a considerable distance before he was caught. Neither man or horse was injured. The apples were gathered and placed in another wagon, after which they were taken to the cider mill.

The Arion's First Ball.

The first annual ball of the Arion Club was held in the Cycle Academy last night and was attended by about seventy five couples. The academy, which has the largest dancing surface of any building in New Jersey, presented a neat appearance with the tasteful decorations that had been arranged by the members of the club. O'Reilly's orchestra furnished the music, and to its tuneful melodies the dancing was continued until close to daylight this morning.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS

SENSATIONAL DISAPPEARANCE OF A U. S. EXPRESS EMPLOYE.

Manager Mills Discovered a Discrepancy This Morning and a Short Time After, H. P. Barton, the Culprit, Disappeared.

Much comment was caused in this city today by the sensational disappearance of H. P. Barton, an employe of the United States Express Company, whose office is at 152 North avenue.

Barton has been in the employ of the company as a driver for the past three years and was considered a reliable man until a short ago, when he seemed to have got into bad company.

No discrepancy was ever found in his accounts, however, until last night, when the manager of the office, E. W. Mills, detected a difference in the amount of money handed in by Barton and the amount indicated to be due upon the return sheets.

This morning the Manager taxed Barton with the discrepancy and reprimanded him. He seemed to feel the disgrace of his position keenly, and left shortly afterward, at about 7:45 o'clock, to make his morning deliveries and collections.

At 9 o'clock Manager Mills was called to the telephone and informed that the wagon which had been sent out in Barton's charge, was abandoned at the corner of Madison avenue and West Second street.

Mr. Mills sent a man after the wagon at once. It was standing uncared for where Barton had left it nearly an hour before. No trace of the missing man has yet been found and it is thought that he has left the city to escape censure for his misconduct. His widowed mother and sister, with whom he lived on West Second street, are unable to account for his disappearance.

When seen by a Daily Press reporter this afternoon Mr. Mills stated that the amount of money Barton did not turn over would probably not exceed $60. The company will sustain no loss, as the missing man is under a $1 000 bond.

At a late hour this afternoon Mr. Mills received a telegram sent by Barton from New York city, which read as follows:

Will be back this p. m. Harry.

IN BEST BIB AND TUCKER.

Mine Host Beerbower Entertained His Friends in the City Hotel.

Mine host Beerbower was in his best bib and tucker, figuratively speaking, last night on the occasion of the "opening" of his rejuvenated hostlery, and a large number of Plainfielders were his guests at the old and yet new City Hotel. As told in this paper on Wednesday this hotel has undergone a thorough overhauling from top to bottom and now possesses interior furnishings and improvements that put it in the up-to-date class.

In keeping with the season the cafe had been appropriately decorated in autumnal style, and the prevailing tints and hues of waning nature, as gathered in well-designed pieces and arrangement, gave a pleasant effect to those who clinked glasses there and drank to the health of the proprietor.

In the dining room Mr Beerbower had prepared sumptuously to tickle the palates of those who gathered around the board. A delectable lunch was served and with it ample decoctions of lemonade or Roman punch, as determined by the guests' fancy for either that which merely appeased the thirst or imparted a vigor after the sips had been many.

"Open house" was kept from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock, and during the intervening time Mr. Beerbower was many times complimented on the fine hostlery that he now presides over.

WHO WILL COACH THE TEAM?

The Girls Athletic Association of the High School Are Asking That Question.

The question that is now most concerning the members of the Girls Athletic Association of the Plainfield High School is who is to be their coach. Walter L. Long, captain of the Y. M. C. A. basket ball team, has offered to coach the girls of the Senior class team. It has also been suggested that a graduate of Smith College, a friend of one of the teachers, who played basket ball there, be engaged to coach the girls. It is probable however that Long's offer will be gladly accepted. Another meeting of the Athletic Association will be held soon to select colors for the association and also the design for a pin.

Kerwin's Trial Again Adjourned.

The trial of Lawrence Kerwin on the charge of illegal liquor selling, was adjourned this afternoon for two weeks after a conference between Walter L. Hetfield, counsel for the prisoner, and City Judge DeMeza.

LAND OF GREAT WEALTH.

INFORMATION ABOUT KLONDYKE BY ONE WHO HAS BEEN THERE.

The Lecture Given by Archdeacon Kirkby, and Marked by the Relation of What the Speaker Knew by Personal Experience.

Alaska and the Klondyke are words in everyone's mind and everyone's mouth in these days, and it was a deeply-interested audience that gathered in the parish house of Grace P. E. church last night to hear a lecture on the all-absorbing subject by Very Reverend Archdeacon Kirkby, of Rye, N. Y. The lecture was unusually interesting, because of the fact that the reverend gentleman had himself seen the place which he described, and that very recently.

The lecture, Mr. Kirkby announced in the beginning, would be in three sections, and the first section would refer to the geography of the region. A large map of the northern part of our continent hung behind the lecturer, and he pointed out each place he mentioned, saying that he would take it for granted that his hearers knew nothing about it. He described the various ways of reaching the Klondyke. There was the route traversed by the Alaska Transportation Company, by boat from San Francisco, the easiest of the ways of reaching the region; the more difficult way by boat to Dyea (which he said should be spelled "Die" here), which necessitated a perilous passage of the mountains; the overland route from Canada; and lastly the route he himself took from the east, through the straits to Hudson's Bay, landing at York Fort, and across British America.

The stories the speaker told of his experiences among the Eskimoes kept his audience in a continual state of amusement, as they abounded in racy anecdotes, told in an unusually bright and entertaining manner.

The first section of the lecture having come to an end, a musical interlude was given, in which the graphophone, managed by W. W. Moore, entertained the audience with the Liberty Bell March, a xylophone solo, "Firefly Galop," a waltz, "On the Seashore," and a selection played by the Trinity chimes.

The second section of the lecture referred to the country and the people. The winters, of course, are intensely cold, the temperature going as low as fifty degrees. In the winter, the sun rose at 10 o'clock and set at 2; in summer it rose at 2 o'clock and set at 10. In the summer it is actually hot, sometimes ninety degrees, and the mosquitoes are a perfect torment. Mr. Kirkby spent twenty-five years in the northern wilderness, and for many years they received only three mails a year, and any goods that they wanted sent to them must be ordered two years before. Traveling is by snowshoes and dog-sledges. Mr. Kirkby exhibited an Indian snowshoe made in the Klondyke region. The Indians are quiet folks, simpleminded and confiding, making no trouble for the white men.

Another musical interlude by the graphophone included Sousa's last march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," a song, "The Palms," a banjo solo, "Down in Tennessee," and a waltz, "La Gitana."

The third and last part of the lecture referred to the gold fields, and what must be done by those who would obtain a share in its riches.

Gold is found in three kinds—placer gold, the richest of which is found in old river beds; gravel gold, which is found in the gravel about eighteen feet under ground, and in the rocks, which can only be obtained when they get the proper machinery. So no one knows how rich the country is. The proper time to arrive is in the spring, as, if you arrive in the fall or winter, you have to wait till the snow is gone. Then you have to legally take up your claim. The supplies required include all manner of cooking utensils, a stove, a large amount of food, and ten per cent. more of the graces of character than would be required anywhere else.

The lecture was followed by three more graphophone pieces: a selection from "Carmen," "Blue Bells of Scotland," played on the orchestra bells, and the Lord's Prayer in the Indian language, as repeated by the archdeacon. This closed an evening unusually pleasant, both in its interesting and instructive lecture by the genial archdeacon, and in its entertainment by the little cylinders of preserved music.

Republicans Looking Forward.

The date for the local primaries of the Republican party are not far off and the time for an awakening among the local politicians has come. A meeting of the city executive committee of the Republicans has been called for this evening, when plans for the coming campaign will be discussed.

BOTH WERE DRUGGED

The Food of Nack and Thorn Dosed to Make Them Sick.

A CONFESSION EXPECTED

Strange Methods Adopted to "Break Down" the Prisoners—Man's Head Hung in Mrs. Nack's Cell at Night to Scare Her.

New York, Oct. 8.—It would appear that Sheriff Doht and District Attorney Youngs have hopes of securing a confession from either Mrs. Nack or Martin Thorn, who are in the Queens County Jail at Long Island City awaiting trial for the murder of William Guldensuppe.

It is well known that both prisoners have been in a very excitable condition at different periods in the last few days. Sheriff Doht said yesterday he believed that had not the lawyers of both Mrs. Nack and Thorn called upon them late Wednesday afternoon both would have collapsed from nervous hysteria.

Man's Head in Her Room.

As an indication of how the jail authorities are trying to work on the feelings of Mrs. Nack, the picture of a man's head was hung up in her room in plan view of the prisoner on Tuesday night after she had retired.

When she got a glimpse of the picture Wednesday morning she asked the matrons why it was put there, and they replied it was only a joke. She requested that the picture be removed. This was done.

A story was being circulated about the jail yesterday that on Tuesday food had been especially prepared for Mrs. Nack and Thorn in a way to cause them to have nausea. This was done, it is alleged, to help in breaking them down.

Sheriff Doht was asked about this, and he admitted that both Mrs. Nack and Thorn had been taken sick after partaking of some soup on Tuesday.

When asked if the soup had been "doctored" the Sheriff laughed and said he was not going to tell everything. On being further pressed for an answer, he said he supposed that the soup was "too rich" for the prisoners. He said that such diet was not usually given to ordinary prisoners in the Queens County Jail.

On the Verge of Madness.

Mrs. Nack is on the verge of a tragic breakdown. She is a haunted woman, starting at the least sound, shivering with fits of terror.

She fails to recognize familiar faces. She stares intently at the blank cell walls, and then recoils as though she beheld some one—Guldensuppe perhaps—standing there.

Sheriff Doht believes that Mrs. Nack is on the verge of madness. He says that Thorn, too, shows signs of losing his reason under the terrible strain. He mumbles to himself. He broods, with knitted brows and restless hands.

Mrs. Nack knows the details of the death that awaits her—this is the latest discovery. She has sat in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison.

Sat in the Seat of Death.

Six months ago, when she and Thorn were planning the murder of Guldensuppe, she visted the prison for this purpose.

She wanted to steel herself for any ordeals of the future. She fitted her portly form in the chair; she had no fear; her superstitious nature told her this was a good omen.

Back she came to New York in an enthusiastic frame of mind. All scruples were thrown to the wind; she urged the killing of Guldensuppe.

The foul murder was committed.

She was arrested; she saw the narrow road between prison walls that lay before her. Then she beheld the electric chair—at one end of the narrow road the dismembered body of Guldensuppe, at the other the electric chair, not harmless as when she sat in it before, but tingling with mysterious, scientific death.

Showed Him Her Deformed Foot.

Baltimore, Oct. 8.—Miss Carrie Shapiro, of Richmond, was a witness today in her own behalf in the suit brought by her against Nathan Roseu, of Harowith, Roseu & Co., cloakmakers, of Baltimore, for breach of promise. The case differs from any other ever brought here in that the defendant acknowledges that he was engaged, but says he declared the marriage off as the young woman had a flat and deformed foot. Miss Shapiro says that he was fully aware that her foot was not shapely, as he examined it soon after he became engaged to her, and then told her it made no difference to him. She also testified that he wanted her to elope soon after this, but she objected.

Col. G. H. North in Jail.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Col. George H. North, the well-known stock broker and a prominent officer of the National Guard on Gen. Snowden's staff, is confined in Moyamensing prison under a commitment by Judge Ferguson, of the Orphan's Court, dated Oct. 5, 1987. Col. North was arrested on an attachment issued by Judge Hanna for contempt, dated Oct. 2. The contempt consisted of a failure to obey an order made upon him as executor of the estate of the late Mary S. Volans, to account for the payment of a legacy of $2,000 bequeathed to the Woman's Christian Association, of Philadelphia.

More Gold Is Coming.

New York, Oct. 8.—On the steamship Normannia, sailing from Hamburg today, will be shipped $500,000 in gold, consigned to Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the New York bankers.

This will make $1,000,000 en route to New York. The total amount which has been received here since the flow of the yellow metal turned to the United States is $2,300,000.

A Spellbinder's Suicide.

New York, Oct. 8.—J. L. Downs, a resident of Cleveland, O., until recently a wealthy business man of St. Louis, Mo., shot himself last night in Central Park. He was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital, where it was said he could not live.

Downs was a friend of Senator Jones, of Nevada, and last year stumped the West for Bryan.

RIGHTS OF SALVATIONISTS.

Capt. Herdman Again Arrested in Trenton—Will Fight the Case.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 8.—Thomas Herdman, of the Salvation Army, was again arrested last evening while holding services in the streets in the centre of the town. He was released on bail for a hearing this morning. Announcement was made that the Army would hold street services, and a crowd collected, but there was no disorder. The charge made is obstructing the street. On last Sunday Capt. Herdman and five companions were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, and the Captain was sent to the county farm in default of a fine. Judge Woodruff ordered his discharge because of illegal commitment, but before the order was served on the workhouse keeper the fine was paid by Trenton ministers.

Capt. Herdman has been advised that the police have no right to interfere with him, and the street service was held last night with a view of making a test question. Citizens have procured counsel for him and will pay the expenses.

Gen. Woodford's Note.

Madrid, Oct. 8.—Premier Sagasta has declared that the note addressed to the Duke of Tetuan by United States Minister Woodford, concerning which there has been so much speculation as to its actual purport, was worded in the most polite terms. The note, he says, conveyed assurances of the highest regard on the part of the United States for Spain, and its purpose was to make inquiry at what period the Spanish Government thought it would be able to bring the war in Cuba to an end.

Gen. Woodford requested an answer to his note before the end of October, upon the pretext that the United States Government must report the matter to Congress at the earliest possible moment.

Debs Would Be a Railroad Contractor.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Eugene V. Debs and other Social Democracy leaders have temporarily abandoned their co-operative colony scheme for the business of railroad contracting. Debs now desires to build a railroad for the city of Nashville, Tenn. He offers to supply bonds to any amount for the fulfillment of the contract. The contract price is $300,000, for which amount he suggests that the city shall issue bonds in large and small denominations and turn them over to the Social Democracy in payment for the work on the installment plan.

Veterans Are Preferred.

Albany, Oct. 8. — Attorney-General Hancock has interpreted the civil-service law as it relates to veterans, at the request of the Civil-Service Commission of Rochester. His opinion says that all persons who have passed examinations for merit are to be certified to the appointing offices. That officer must hold examinations for fitness. If any veteran passes both of these examinations, even though the percentages he receives are the minimums required by the examiners for passing, he is then entitled to preference for appointment under the Constitution.

$7,500,000 for Famine Relief.

London, Oct. 8.—The Lord Mayor's fund for the relief of the sufferers by the famine in India, which was opened last January, has been closed. The total collections amount to £549,300, which exceeds the record of any charity fund raised by popular contributions.

Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, announced at a meeting that the aggregate collections for the relief of the Indian famine sufferers, including the American, Colonial and others funds, amounted to £1,500,000, and said that the famine had caused a pecuniary loss of £10,000,000.

New Big Glass Company.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 8.—The American Glass Company, with a capital stock of $1,200,000, to-day filed articles of incorporation in this city. The incorporators are James A. Chambers, a prominent glass manufacturer of New Kensington, Pa.; Elmer I. Phillips, of New Castle, Pa., and S. Lawrence Bodine and William Bodine, glass manufacturers of Bridgton. Stock to the amount of $300,000 will be issued at once, and additional stock will be issued from time to time until the limit, $1,200,000, shall have been issued.

Baltimore and Boston Tied.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 8.—The Baltimore and Boston teams of the National League played an exhibition game here yesterday afternoon.

The town did justice to its first opportunity to witness a contest between League champions, and turned out royally, giving both teams a good reception.

The score at the end of the sixth inning was 7 to 7.

The final score was: Baltimore, 11; Boston, 10.

A Mile in 1.36.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Jimmy Michael lowered the world's one-mile record at Willow Grove yesterday, covering the distance in 1 minutes and 36 seconds. Michael made two trials, failing on the first on account of the chain snapping on the "quad." He was forced to go the mile behind a sextet, his time being 1 38 4-5, one second better than the previous track record, made during the L. A. W. meet by Arthur Gardiner. After a rest of a half hour he made a second trial, having a sextet and "quad" to pace him.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. George Duffert, of Whitehouse, are guests at the home of Walter C. Williams, of West Third street.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. George Reighton, of Park avenue, has been very ill for a week past but is now improving.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mrs. L. L. Metler, of Lincoln, is stopping with her her sister, Mrs. George Reighton, of Park avenue

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Edwards, Miss Helen Edwards and Bert Edwards, of Carthage, N. Y., arrived in Plainfield yesterday and were guests at the home of J. E. Morse, of Franklin place. They have now taken possession of their new home on La-Grande avenue.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

FULL TAMMANY TICKET.

Withdrawal of Ruppert, and Host of Other Surprises.

New York, Oct. 8.—The Tammany Hall Convention, to name a county ticket, was called to order at 2½ o'clock yesterday afternoon.

It was a typical Tammany crowd, noisy and good-natured, and as the celebrities came in they were received with cheers.

At 2.10 o'clock Maurice Holahan, who had been selected to preside at the convention, rapped for order, and then made a speech, roasting Mr. Platt's party with true Tammany vigor. He announced that the only issues of the campaign are "low taxes, home rule, personal liberty, and the excise law."

John W. Keller was named for permanent chairman. He made a speech the principal feature of which was that he voted for Bryan and helped nominate Judge Van Wyck.

After the reading of the platform John C. Sheehan came forward and presented a resolution directing the convention to proceed to the nomination of candidates for two Justices of the Supreme Court, two Judges of the City Court, a Sheriff, a County Clerk, a Register and four Coroners.

The following is the full ticket nominated:

For Justices of the Supreme Court—Charles H. Van Brunt and Francis M. Scott.

For Justices of the City Court—John Henry McCarthy and Edward F. O'Dwyer.

For Sheriff—Thomas F. Dunn.

For County Clerk—William Sohmer.

For Register—Isaac Fromme.

For District Attorney—Asa Bird Gardiner.

For President of the Borough of Manhattan—Augustus W. Peters.

For Coroners—Edward T. Fitzpatrick, Jacob E. Bausch, Edward W. Hart and Antonio Zucca.

Grady, it will be observed, is not on the ticket. Another piece of news is the withdrawal of Jacob Ruppert, Jr., from the city ticket, on which he had been nominated for President of the Council.

THE MYSTERIOUS WILSON MURDER

Titterman, the Suspect, Thought to be Demented and His Story Untrue.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The man who surrendered himself to the police on Monday and said that he was one of the murderers of William C. Wilson, the librarian, giving his name as William Harris, has been identified as John Tittermary. He is well known to the authorities.

The police now believe that Tittermary is demented. In many particulars the story which he told when he surrendered himself seemed probable, but his alleged confession has been found to be untrue.

The man Monk, whom Tittermary described as one of his accomplices, was in prison at the time of the murder, where he was serving a sentence for robbing railroad cars. Tittermary was examined yesterday for the purpose of ascertaining his mental condition, but the result of the examination has not been made public.

MAIL TUBE SERVICE.

Dr. Depew Sends the First Parcel—A Cat Sent Through the Tube.

New York, Oct. 8.—At fifteen minutes past noon yesterday Chauncey M. Depew wrapped a small silk American flag around a Bible and copies of the Constitution of the United States and President McKinley's inaugural address. He put them into a special "carrier," which he placed in the opening of the new pneumatic mail tube from the Post-Office to the Produce Exchange. One minute later the "carrier" was started for the Exchange Post-Office station. It arrived there in a second or two over a one minute. This was the inauguration of the Greater New York mail tube service. When completed next January, the system will comprise six pneumatic tubes, two of which will connect the General Post-Office Building with the Produce Exchange, two with the branch station at Forty-fourth street and Lexington avenue, and two with the main office in Brooklyn.

After the sending of the first "carrier" others went and returned in rapid succession. The returning ones brought all sorts of curious things, among others being a handsome, live, Angora cat.

Hazleton Deputy Missing.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—The whereabouts of Henry Diehl, one of Sheriff Martin's deputies, who disappeared on the day of the Lattimer shooting, is still a mystery, and efforts to find a trace of him are being made. The missing man is 42 years old.

His wife is prostrated. She and her five children are in abject poverty. Diehl left without even telling his wife of the shooting. The theory that he has been murdered is not generally accepted.

Queen's View of Us.

London, Oct. 8.—Vanity Fair yesterday said:

"The Queen-Empress was very much grieved at the attitude of the United States eighteen months ago, and it is an open secret that Her Majesty, who has made a close study of the American people, holds almost pessimistic views in regard to the stability and future of the Republic.

"The Queen's long conversation with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when that statesman was in England, would make most interesting reading."

Big Fire in Detroit.

Detroit, Oct. 8.—Fire early yesterday morning destroyed five large buildings and two smaller ones, with all their contents, in the centre of the business part of this city. The total loss is close to $700,000. The fire started on the stage of the Detroit Opera House, and was not discovered until the rear wall of the theatre had been blown out by the explosion of a calcium light. It was four hours from the time the fire started before it was under control.

Epidemic of Diphtheria.

New London, Oct. 8.—Diphtheria is epidemic in Montville. Fifteen cases are reported, and several deaths have occurred. Antitoxin does not prove effectual, and tracheotomy has been performed in several cases. Physicians from other towns are assisting in caring for the patients.

$400,000 BY SWINDLING

E. C. Gibson's Operations Extended All Over the Country.

HOTELS WERE VICTIMIZED

He Got $1,000 from Banker Henry Clews—A Cleveland Woman Swindled Out of $6,000—Passed Bad Checks.

New York, Oct. 8.—Chief of Detectives McClusky had at Police Headquarters this afternoon a man whom he charges with being one of the greatest swindlers ever known in this country. His operations, McClusky alleges in his complaint, have covered a period of years and have netted him at least $400,000.

The man under arrest is Emmet C. Gibson, alias George A. Sherin. He said that he was 39 years old and lived at the Hotel Bartholdi. He was arrested at the Grand Hotel, at Thirtieth street and Broadway, by Detectives Evanhoe and Connelly.

Gibson is a lawyer, and was, he says, once president of the Akron Street Railway in Ohio. He says that he is now vice-president of the road.

The specific charge against Gibson is that he passed a bogus check on Aug. 6, 1896, for $620 on the manager of the Imperial Hotel. He tendered the check in payment for a board bill of $265. That is one of his methods, Detective McClusky says. Another method is selling bogus stocks and bonds.

Gibson had an office in the rear of Henry Clews' place in the Mills Building. He swindled Henry Clews, it is charged out of $1,000.

A list of the hotels where he is said to have passed bad checks is as follows: Hotel Netherlands, Continental Hotel and the Fifth Avenue Hotel, of this city: the Cadillac and Lincoln hotels in Pittsburg, the Hollander Hotel, of Cleveland, Ohio, the Bristol Inn, of Akron, Ohio, and the Parker House, Boston.

He was arrested on Jan. 1, 1897, on the complaint of the proprietor of the Parker House in Boston for a board bill of $400. He is said to have given a bad check for $500 in payment and pocketed the change.

Gibson hired as his secretary W. H. Campbell, and is said to have swindled him out of $350.

A widow in Cleveland, Ohio, is said to have lost $6,000, which she was induced to invest in a motor at Gibson's suggestion.

Examinations for Consuls.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The President has recently designated a number of persons to take examinations for appointments as United States Consuls, and if the requirements are met, the commissions will be soon made out. In the list are two men from Maryland, Howard Carroll, a nephew of ex-Gov. John Lee Carroll, who will be appointed Consul to Messina, and Talbott Albert, who will be sent to Brunswick, Germany. Mr. Carroll is not satisfied with the small post given him, which pays only $1,500 a year, and through members of the State delegation in Congress is endeavoring to secure some more important place.

The plan now pursued by the President in selecting Consuls is to order them to appear for examination and announces the appointments just before they are ready to sail for abroad.

Debs Campaigns in the East.

New York, Oct. 8.—Eugene V. Debs, the labor agitator, arrived in this city and addressed last night a meeting of the Social Democracy, of which he is the founder, in Brevoort Hall. Debs is going to remain in this section of the country for the next five or six weeks. He is here to boom his Social Democracy scheme. To-morrow night he will address a meeting to be held in the Grand Central Palace. He will be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Hotel Bartholdi on Sunday night. From this city he will go to Philadelphia, then to Pottstown, and afterward on a trip through New England.

The Robberies at Vassar.

Poughkeepsie, Oct. 8.—The mystery of the series of robberies at Vassar College that plagued the officials for several years has apparently been cleared up by the arrest in Kingston of a former servant at the college, known variously as Cora and Catherine Simmonds and Ruby Livingston, and the recovery of a gold watch stolen by her on May 6 last from the room of Miss H. Bickmore Long, of Tenant's Harbor, Me.

Venezuela's Chief Dying.

New York, Oct. 8.—Gen. Joaquin Crespo, President of Venezuela, is said to be dangerously ill, and very little hope is entertained of his recovery.

President Crespo is about 50 years old and is a native of Barcelona, Venezuela. He is a shrewd, conservative business man, rich in lands and herds—a veritable cattle king of the South. He is also a successful soldier, whose iron nerve has endeared him to his followers.

Sent Back the Money He Stole.

Saratoga, Oct. 8.—Herbert F Howe, of Cambridge, Mass., who was employed by George C. Howe, of the Mansion House, and recently disappeared with $325 of his employer's money, has sent it back. The police were unable to locate the absconding cashier

Mr. Dana Is Weaker.

A GREAT EDITOR.

Our telegraphic columns record the critical illness of Charles A. Dana, the best known editor in this country. Mr. Dana's death, which seems imminent, would be a distinct loss to journalism. He is the last of the great New York editors who towers above and withstands the grinding tendency of modern journalism to obscure the personality of its members. Even now, when Mr. Dana has not written a line for weeks, his paper is distinguished as a champion of a certain Mayoralty candidate in the seething political caldron of Greater New York—its opinions oftener quoted than any other journal espousing the same cause. They are pointed out for either condemnation or approval not because it is a newspaper influence simply, but because there is the popular knowledge that they reflect the mind of Dana. In other days he was there personally to see that his ideas were the public policy of the paper; but now that he is not there in person, the character of the man is so indelibly stamped into every department of the newspaper by its actual conductors' long association and training with the master hand that no difference is noticeable. Strip the Sun of the popular regard that it is Dana who is the fountain head, and the Sun's influence would wane. The Sun editorials are distinguished simply because Dana is the responsible editor.

SEEMS LIKE NEW STATION.

RAILROAD SIDINGS BEING REMOVED.

The Work is Understood to be the Preliminary Steps Towards Establishing the Improvement.

It looks very much as though the Central railroad intends to erect another station opposite the North Avenue station at an early date. The company has given orders to General Section Boss Higgins that the side tracks in that locality must be removed at once. Already a portion of the siding that runs into Morgan Bird's yard has been removed and the rest will be treated likewise very soon. Under the circumstances the company will be unable to give Mr. Bird a siding at that point as the room will be needed for the new station. The sidings that are used by Rushmore & Co. will also be taken up. The railroad company will be unable to give the firm another siding unless it be run in from the bridge. To do this permission from the City Council would have to be secured. This, it is thought, confident the Council will not extend.

It is known that the railroad company desire to purchase the Rushmore & Company property and have offered something like $100 per front foot, but the firm, it is understood, ask about $300, and this price is considered too high. It is not known just what the outcome will be.

The D. C. Ivins & Co. siding will be taken up, and another one will be given them further east in the vicinity of the gas works. The tracks that will be taken up will be placed in the freight yard for use.

The plans are now completed for the new station and it is confidently believed that before long the work will be started.

LEGAL HAPPENINGS.

Numerous Suits Started in Justice Newcorn's Court.

Several cases were to come up for trial in Justice Newcorn's court yesterday. The contract case of Murphy against Smith was adjourned for thirty days. The four contract cases against Macaroni and Varette, the lessees of the Berkley Heights brickyard, brought by four of their workmen who are suing for wages alleged to be due, were adjourned until the 13th.

Summons were issued in the following contract cases: Reed & Coddington against Kionki, returnable on the 15th, Neuman Brothers against Peck, returnable on the 15th, American Lucal Oil Company against Wyckoff and others, returnable on the 11th. Empire Novelty Company against Dickenson, returnable on the 3th.

INJUNCTIONS FOR TROLLEY.

BOUND BROOK FIGHT STILL ON.

Is is Claimed That the Bound Brook Council Acted Illegally in Granting a Franchise Tuesday Night.

The Brunswick Traction Company, when they secured the franchise to construct their trolley line from the eastern limits of Bound Brook to Talmage avenue in that borough, believed that they had completely euchred the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company in its effort to get the right of way over the disputed territory. But the latter corporation had not played its last card.

Yesterday, Judge Codington, of this city, counsel for the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, appeared before Judge Magee in Trenton and made application for injunctions restraining the Brunswick Company from building the road under the franchise and restraining the Bound Brook Council from granting any more rights to the company until they proved that their action Tuesday night was legal.

Judge Codington argued that the Council had no right to grant the franchise for half the distance when the original application was for right of way from one end of the borough to the other, and also that the application had been changed to suit the purposes of the partial franchise without proper hearings being given to those concerned.

Judge Magee immediately ordered that the injunction be granted.

They were served on the Bound Brook Council and the Brunswick Traction Company last night and this morning by Judge Codington. Until they are disposed of the Brunswick Traction Company cannot do any work in Bound Brook under the franchise granted them on Tuesday evening.

It is not a remedy put up by any Tom, Dick or Harry; it is compounded by expert pharmacists. Ely Bros. offer a 10 cent trial size. Ask your druggist. Full size Cream Balm 50 cents. We mail it. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City. Since 1861 I have been a great sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.

THEATRICAL.

Local sports, whose finances would not permit them to witness the fight at Carson City last March, will have an opportunity of seeing the contest, as reproduced by the veriscope, at Stillman Music Hall, on Friday and Saturday. The pictures are the same as were seen at the Academy of Music, New York, some time ago. Four exhibitions will be given, including two matinees. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

WATCH AND CASH GONE.

VICTIM'S SEARCH WARRANT FAILED TO RECOVER THEM.

Suspected Man's Trunk Was Searched by a Constable Unsuccessfully—Football News and Personal Items of Interest.

James Gunn and Ellsworth Groom are two colored men employed to take charge of the farm of Mr. Miller, near Westfield, on the Springfield road. On Wednesday Groom was discharged and had his trunk taken to the Lehigh Valley Railroad station at Garwood, preparatory to his leaving town. Shortly after the trunk was taken away, Gunn discovered that three ten dollar bills and a gold watch worth $40 were missing from his room, and suspecting Groom of the theft, went before Justice Collins late on Wednesday night and secured a search warrant to examine the trunk. Groom and Constable Marsh drove to the Picton station and the officer searched the trunk, but found no trace of the stolen articles. Groom was allowed to take possession of the trunk and left town with it yesterday. The two negroes were not on friendly terms, and Gunn is still mourning the loss of his savings, and the failure of the officer's search to recover them.

Wesley Sheperson, the negro who was badly cut about the head with an axe during a quarrel on Wednesday night, is now much improved and has been pronounced out of danger. His assailant, Thomas Bird, is in the county jail awaiting the action of the Grand Jury.

NEW WAY OF LOSING THEM.

GOOD WHEEL TAKEN, OLD ONE LEFT.

The Operator Was a Young Woman, But She Was Caught in the Act and Her Purpose Defeated.

Thousands of bicycle riders leave their wheels standing in the street open to the prey of bicycle thieves and malicious people. The experience of Mrs. George O. Stevens yesterday may suggest to many that an ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure in the case of a bicycle and the possibility of its loss.

During the afternoon Mrs. Stevens had occasion to go to the postoffice to buy a postal card. She rode to the office on her bicycle and left it in front of the big window that lights up the corridor While waiting for one of the desks to become unoccupied so that she might wriite a message on the card and mail it then, Mrs. Stevens was gazing casually out of the window. A moment later two young women, dressed in bicycle costume, and each guiding a wheel beside them, took up a position in front of the window. They stood apparently unoccupied for a moment. Then they engaged in conversation. This was followed by one of the young women standing her wheel against one of the big stone columns that support the archway of the Babcock building. She walked over to Mrs. Stevens' bicycle and seemed to be looking at the cyclometer.

Mrs. Stevens reasoned that it was just an exhibition of woman's curiosity to know the make of the wheel and to see how many miles the cyclometer registered. The investigating young woman felt of the tires. Then she looked the whole machine over and walked back to her friend. They resumed their conversation. Then both turned and looked at the wheel again. The young woman who had inspected the bicycle looked cautiously down the street, then up the street, and finally glanced inside the postoffice lobby. Mrs. Steven's was in a position where the young woman could not see her very well.

Apparently satisfied that she had not attracted any one's attention, the young woman took hold of the bicycle she had left standing against the stone column and guided it over beside Mrs. Stevens'. The girl's actions were becoming decidedly interesting to Mrs. Stevens.

The young woman deliberately took hold of Mrs. Steven's wheel and moved it to one side. Then in its place she stood the one that she had appeared with. She glanced furtively up and down the street and grabbing Mrs. Stevens' wheel walked birskly to the curb and started to mount it.

Mrs. Stevens thought it was time to call halt. She hurried to the door and saw that the wheel that had been left was far inferior to her own. She stepped out on the sidewalk and said in a determined tone:

"Say, miss, hadn't you better leave that here?"

The girl, as cautious as she had been in making the exchange, was taken by surprise. She halted, assumed a look of surprise, glanced at the wheel she was about to ride off on, and exclaimed:

"A-a-a hem! A-a-a-a oh, I guess I've made a mistake. I thought that this was my wheel. Why it isn't at all. Please excuse me."

The young woman dejectedly and with flushed countenance walked back and delivered Mrs. Stevens' wheel to the owner while she grasped the old one she had left and hurried to the curb and rode off with her friend.

It was a clever trick—except that Mrs. Stevens happened to be a witness of the proceedings.

THE SUNDAY LESSON

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text: If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed.—1 Pete iv: 16. Oct. 10, 1897.

17, 18. "Make haste and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem, for they will not receive thy testimony concerning Me." In our last lesson Paul was on his way to Jerusalem in spite of the Spirit's warning that he should not go (chapter xxi, 4, 11, 12.). He had not been many days in Jerusalem when the Jews of Asia laid hold of him in the temple, drew him out and would have killed him had he not been rescued by the chief captain with a band of soldiers and carried into the castle. He asked permission of the captain to speak to the people, and having obtained it he addressed them in Hebrew from the castle stairs. He described his former life and the manner of his conversion, and has now come to the Lord's message to him at Jerusalem. The child of God who is willing to be wholly the Lord's, may be sure of the Lord's guidance in all things, and if it should be necessary, an angel from heaven or the Lord Himself will see to it.

19, 20. "And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on Thee." It is all right for us to confess to God all our sins, but it is not for us to argue or reason with Him when He commands us to do anything or go anywhere. He knows where and how He can make the most use of us. He knows who will receive testimony through this one or through that one, and it is for us to say, "Here am I, send me where Thou wilt and when Thou wilt.

21. "And He said unto me, Depart, for I will send thee far hence into the gentiles." We cannot expect the full blessing of the Lord unless we are ready for that work to which He has called us (Acts xiii, 2). May it not be that many ministers who cannot seem to find an open door at home are being called far hence to some of the millions who have never heard of Christ and cannot hear till some one shall tell them? Let each Christian ask, "Am I really willing and obedient and does my heart and say honestly, Lord, what wilt thou have me do?"

22. "Away with such a fellow from the earth, for it is not fit that he should live." That the same privileges should be set before uncircumcised gentiles as before circumcised Jews was to them intolerable, and it was for this same thing that Peter was called to account (chapter xi, 2, 3). I am not sure but the same spirit in a worse form is seen to-day when people of one church or denomination look down upon and make little of work not done by themselves. The ambition of churches or boards or societies to excel each other instead of all uniting to honor Christ and complete His church is tainted with the same spirit.

23, 24. "The chief captain commanded that he should be examined by scourging that he might know wherefore they cried so against him." Paul had been speaking in Hebrew (xxii, 2), of which language probably neither captain, centurions nor soldiers understood a word, and the idea was that a little suffering might bring from him a confession of his wrongdoing.

25. "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman and uncondemned?" This he said to the centurion who stood by while the soldiers bound him with thongs preparatory to scourging him. While Paul was willing to suffer all that was necessary for Christ's sake, and unjustly, too, here was something wholly uncalled for, from which his Roman citizenship might deliver him. I am writing this on the North Pacific ocean on my way to Japan as I start on my tour round the world for Him that I serve.

26. "Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman." Thus said the centurion to the captain. As far as heaven is above the earth, so far are the privileges of heavenly citizenship above all those of earth. The devil could not touch Job, neither could he have Simon Peter without asking permission of God (Job 1, 10; Luke xxii, 31, R. V.), and he that toucheth a child of God toucheth the apple of His eye (Zech. ii, 8). Let us rejoice in our heavenly privileges and walk worthy of them.

27. "Then the chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea." So a believer should be ready always to give to every one that asketh as definite an answer concerning his standing in Christ. Paul did not think or hope that he was a Roman citizen. He knew it and said yes. Any one who has truly accepted Christ is accepted in Him and has redemption, even the forgiveness of sins (Eph. i, 6, 7), and should never hesitate to confess it to the glory of God. It is not honoring to God to think or hope that we are saved. We should know it. (I John v, 12, 13), and live it and ever gladly acknowledge it.

28. "And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was freeborn." The heavenly citizenship cannot be bought by money, or good works or any merit whatever on our part. "Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them." "Not by works of righteousness which we have done" (Zeph. i, 18, Titus iii, 5). See also Rom. iv, 5; Eph. ii, 8, 9. The only way to become a child of God, an heir of God and a citizen of heaven is by a new birth, a birth from above, even as our Lord said in John iii, 3, 5, 7, and I believe a careful study of Jas. i, 18; 1 Pet. i, 23; Eph. v, 26, with John vi, 63, will make it very plain that the new birth is wrought in us by the word of God and the Spirit of God concerning our Lord Jesus Christ.

29, 30. Paul was saved from scourging at that time, and we will in some way be saved from all that it is not best for us to endure (I Cor. x, 13). The captain was still in doubt as to the real cause of the uproar, and so called the chief priests and council together that he might set Paul before them. But Paul's testimony before the council caused such a disturbance that the chief captain had to rescue him again and bring him to the castle. Then followed the discovery of the plot to kill Paul, through Paul's nephew, and his being sent under a guard of soldiers to Felix, the governor of Caesarea.

Hours 9-12 a. m., 1-4 p. m. and evenings.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

FATAL FOREST FIRES

Ten Persons Thought to Have Perished in Manitoba.

FLAMES STILL SPREADING

Heavy Damage Done in Michigan and Indiana by Flames Sweeping Over Dried-Up Prairies—Potatoes Roasted in the Ground.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 8.—The forest fires that have been raging in Manitoba, close to the boundary line, for the past ten days, have broken out more furiously than ever. Ten or twelve persons are reported to have been burned to death, and the fire is rapidly spreading towards North Dakota. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of timber has been destroyed besides grain and farm buildings. It is feared that the fires will get beyond the control of the settlers.

At Beausejour, Man., seven persons are reported to have been burned to death. Mrs. O. W. Thomas her young son and a daughter, had a race with the flames for several miles. They lost a team of horses, which they kept on the run. Sparks from the burning timber were blown into the dry grass of a prairie which they were compelled to cross and soon they were surrounded by the flames. The frantic horses started to run straight ahead into the burning timber. Before they had gone far the carriage overturned and they were thrown down an embankment into a small creek. This probably saved their lives. They were badly burned.

A report from Morris, Man., says a prairie fire has been raging there and that one family of four persons is known to have perished. The fire is supposed to have been started by the spark of an engine.

Potatoes Roasted in the Ground.

Niles, Mich., Oct. 8.—East and north of this city, marsh fires still continue. Farmers have fought the flames night and day for a week and are exhausted. They have moved their household goods to places of safety and have sacrificed their homes.

Near Berrien Springs, on what is known as the Big Meadow, hundreds of acres of potatoes have been roasted in the hills. The fire is the worst that has occurred in this vicinity since 1871.

Large Fires in Indiana.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 8.—Forest fires are raging in the eastern part of this county and farmers have organized to fight the flames. Last evening the little town of Edgerton and Baldwin were threatened with fire and were saved only after hard work. Barns, corn in shock, and acres of Winter wheat which was dried up have been destroyed.

LUETGERT'S FATE NEAR.

State Continues Its Attack in the Luetgert Trial.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8.—The State yesterday continued its attack begun the day before on the defense set up by Adolph L. Luetgert to the charge that he murdered his wife and destroyed her body in a sausage vat.

The State's attorneys are at present dealing with the allegation that Mrs. Luetgert is still alive, and they have brought out some damaging testimony against Matthew Scholey, who swore that he saw her in Kenosha, Wis., on May 4 and 5. Witnesses have now declared that they would not believe Scholey under oath, and two of them have sworn to conversations with Scholey since he was a witness, in which he said he "was satisfied with what he got for testifying," and that "Luetgert made a good job of it, anyway."

As to Luetgert's contention that he was making softsoap in the big vat at the time it is alleged he was boiling his wife's body, the State, through Frank Moan, custodian for the Sheriff, has shown that there were many cases of all kinds of soap in the factory when he took possession, so that Luetgert did not need to make any. Neither did the factory need cleaning.

So far as the evidence is concerned the famous Luetgert trial is nearing its close. It is expected that the rebuttal evidence of the prosecution will all be in by to-morrow night. Some rebuttal on the part of the defense will follow on Saturday and both sides are expected to rest their cases Saturday afternoon.

Never before in Chicago has the interest in a murder trial been sustained from start to finish as it has been in the Luetgert case.

Luetgert was moved to deep profanity in the county jail to-day by the visit of a professional hypnotist. The man of hypnotic science asked Luetgert's permission to hypnotize him. With a richly flavored German oath, Luetgert observed as he stood behind the bars:

"If I was out there in the corridor I'd hypnotize you with one poke on the jaw. I'd put you to sleep good and plenty, you humbug."

Blow to Silver.

London, Oct. 8.—Your correspondent is informed from a trustworthy source that the Indian Government, in reply to a further pressing invitation by the English Cabinet to consider Senator Wolcott's proposal, has answered that it cannot reopen the question of the Indian currency, and it will not be a party to the reopening of the mints for the free coinage of silver.

In well-informed English circles it is not believed that Lord Salisbury's Government will dare to override the decision of the Indian Government.

Senator Wolcott's mission must thus be considered a failure.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Fourth-class postmasters were appointed yesterday as follows:

New Jersey — Hawthorne, Passaic, Charles S. Story; Millbrook, Warren, George R. Spaugenburg; Union, Edwin W. Woolley.

New York — Moscow, Livingston, Frank M. Tilton.

Pennsylvania — Belle Valley, Erie, Daniel Shuter; Glen Mills, Delaware, Newlin Mendenhall; Port Carbon, Schuylkill, Jacob L. Lurwick; Stonchburg, Berks, Kate F. Searle; West Milton, Union, Ephraim Datesman.

WE AIM

To bring our goods within easy reach of every purchaser. With that object in view we have established Five New Jersey Stores, each of which handles the same goods and at the same price.

Try the store nearest to you and see if a wholesale house operating its own purchasing offices and elevators has any advantage over the local store which depends on the promises of others.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

This evening the candidates for the Plainfield A. A. team will meet for practice on the Westervelt avenue grounds. All football players are invited to practice with them.

The eleven of the Stevens Institute is very anxious to arrange a game with the Plainfield A. A. this season, and arrangements will probably be completed in a few days. The college boys would receive a mighty welcome here.

Fred J. Barker, who was quite a football player in Newark, will be another candidate for the Plainfield A. A. eleven. He has the ability to stand a great deal of heavy work, is fearless and knows the game. With practice he will make a good line man.

The football eleven of the well-known Murray Hill Athletic Club, of New York, will play the eleven of the Plainfield, A. A. tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The game will be a hotly contested one. It will be the opening game of the season in Plainfield.

The Plainfield Crescent team will play its second game for the Journal trophy at Westfield on Saturday afternoon. When the showing that the team made against Elizabeth last week is considered, the team feels confident that they will be able to make a fair showing against Westfield.

The Crescent eleven of this city played a hard game against the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. in the first game for the Journal trophy. Two of the players were almost new at the game and had to be picked up at the last moment to fill in the vacant positions. When the team is in good condition the result will be different and the Plainfield boys are confident that they can administer a defeat to the Elizabeth team when they come here.

Fred H. Freeman, last year's captain of the Plainfield team, will return to the gridiron again and try for the Plainfield A. A. eleven. Freeman has made a great reputation for himself at half, but this year he will probably appear at quarter or end as he prefers one of those positions. He is still, however, one of the best half-backs to be found in the city and will be a valuable man to the eleven. It was rumored at the first of the season that he would not play, but he was out for practice again on Monday night and showed a great deal of interest in the team.

—There will be no match racing at the Gentlemen's Driving Park tomorrow afternoon.

P. B. Hodge, of Plainfield avenue, was in Somerville yesterday on business.

FEAST IN THE WILDERNESS.

Novel Entertainment Given in Mt. Bethel Mission.

The Earnest Workers of Bethel chapel gave a novel entertainment in the chapel last evening, entitled, "Feast in the Wilderness." The chapel was well filled with a large and appreciative audience, and the programme was pleasing in every detail During the evening there were four addresses. The subject, "The Fountain," was assigned to Rev. Dr. W. R Richards, while Rev. E. A. Mitchell, of Elizabeth, spoke concerning "The Manna." Rev. C. E. Herring had for his subject, "The Quails," and Rev. M. E. Hall talked on the subject of "The Grapes." Each address was thoroughly interesting and listened to attentively by those present. The programme opened wtth a piano solo by Alfred White. This was followed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Tilden. A vocal duet by Miss Edith Johnson and Mrs. Hall preceded the addresses as mentioned above. The audience was generous in its applause of each number presented and the performers deservedly won it. Following the entertainment, refreshments were served by those in charge and the remainder of the evening was passed in having a good, social time.

Those in charge of the affair were as follows: President Mrs. Mary Walley; chairman, Mrs. Hester A. Barrett; Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Wyckoff, Mrs. VanBlake, Miss Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Miss Holton, Mrs. Reasoner, Henry Johnson, Zachriah Peterson, Mrs. Mary Hall.

"The Fountain" was represented by lemonade; the "Quails" by chickens; the "Grapes" by the fruit, and the "Manna" by cake. All of the above were on sale and a goodly sum was realized from the sales.

TO STUDY CHURCH HISTORY.

Young People of the M. E. Church Will Organize a Reading Circle.

A meeting of a number of the members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church will be held this evening to organize a reading circle. The meeting will be held at the home of Miss Ida Angleman, 540 West Front street. The purpose of the proposed circle is to read and study church history and kindred subjects. It is proposed to take up the Epworth League reading course for 1896 7 or part of it. The members of the League and their friends are invited to be present at the meeting.

Discussed Church Matters.

At the home of Dr. Carroll, on Westervelt avenue, last evening, took place a conference of the members of Grace M. E. church. All of the various societies of the church were represented. Rev. H. J. Johnston, pastor of the church, presided. The conference was called for the purpose of discussing plans for winter work. The conference was satisfactory and interesting and was productive of much good. No definite action was taken in any of the matters discussed, but as a result there promises to be some very active work this winter in Grace church.

Relief Association Officers.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Relief Association was held this morning in the Y. M. C. A. building, at which time the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph; vice-president, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, secretary, Mrs. C. E. Brookes; treasurer, Mrs. Lapsley.

A board of managers, consisting of fifteen members, was also elected.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. Brookes was an admirable one, as was also the report of the former treasurer, Mrs. Woltman.

TWO SURPRISES.

Both in the West End and Carried to a Happy Consummation.

Mrs Wm. Snyder, of Lebanon, who is visiting at the home of her brother, Wm, Thompson, of 131 Liberty street, was given a surprise party by Mrs. Thompson last evening. The time was passed pleasantly with games and sociability until a late hour, when refreshments were served. During the evening a select musical programme was rendered.

Last evening a complete surprise was tendered to Mr. Glaentzer, of Clinton avenue. The affair was arranged by some of the neighbors. There were about forty present.

Frank Howland Takes a Wife.

Frank Worth Howland, of this city, and Miss Anna Delle Sime, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sime, of Brockport, N. Y., were married at the home of the bride's parents last Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. The marriage was attended by a number of friends and relatives of the couple. Mr. Howland is employed as draughtsman at the Scott Press Works. Mr. and Mrs. Howland will reside at 335 East Sixth street, this city.

TRYING TO COMBINE ON BLISS.

The New York Situation at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Rumors have been revived in Washington connecting the name of Secretary Bliss with the Mayoralty contest in Greater New York. Several Low people were in the Interior Department, and it is said that they repeated the overtures made to the Secretary some time ago to unite the warring factions of the Republican party in the city on himself. At the department nothing can be learned as to the truth of the statements, but it is known that the Secretary does not intend to become involved in the contest; and it is believed, further, that the Administration will not take any part in the contest.

The Low people in Washington seem to be more anxious to effect a compromise with the Tracy people than do the latter. Another interesting piece of information is the statement that overtures are being made by the Low forces to the Tracy adherents to effect a compromise by uniting on Mayor Strong. Not much faith is placed in this rumor by New York Republicans in Washington.

It was stated on good authority that if some agreement was not reached within a short time Senator Platt would again visit this city for the purpose of further consulting with the President and Secretary Bliss concerning the New York situation. It is feared that if the Administration does not soon take some action to effect a compromise between the two factions it may involve the Legislature. The loss of the seats in New York and Brooklyn would bring the Republican majority in the State Legislature down to a very small figure, and the turning over of a few additional districts in the State outside would give the Democrats an excellent chance for controlling the Legislature on joint ballot.

Salisbury's Poor Memory.

London, Oct. 8.—The misunderstanding that has arisen over the Behring Sea conference is due entirely to one of Lord Salisbury's extraordinary freaks of memory. He does not now deny that Ambassador Hay verbally informed him in July last of the intention of the United States to invite Russia and Japan to participate in the conference, but declares that he instantly replied: "Oh, no; Great Britain will not participate on such conditions."

Ambassador Hay did not hear any such reply, and interpreted Lord Salisbury's attitude as a tacit consent to take part in the conference. Col. Hay had no intimation of the British objection to Russia and Japan until a few days ago. This is by no means the first time that Lord Sailsbury has affirmed that he had said what may have been in his mind, but which was not expressed.

Lattimer Riot Cost the State $95,000

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—Gov. Hastings has issued a congratulatory order to the Third Brigade and Philadelphia City Troop for their work in the Hazleton riot cases. The cost of the troops at Hazleton, exclusive of transportation charges and supplies for the commissary and quartermaster departments, was $95,000.

One of the Lattimer Deputies Missing.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 8.—No trace of the whereabouts of Henry Diehl, one of Sheriff Martin's deputies, who disappeared the day of the Lattimer shooting, can be found. He is 42 years old His wife is prostrated. She and her five children are in poverty. Diehl left home without even telling his wife of the shooting.

Canada and the United States.

London, England, Oct. 8.—Mr. W. S Fielding, Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada, has arrived here to negotiate a loan of £2,000,000 to take up outstanding obligations of Canada In an interview, Mr. Fielding said:

"The Canadian Government is well aware that a number of influential men in both parties of the United States are dissatisfied with the present state of trade between the United States and Canada, and it is quite possible this will lead to some action. If the United States approaches the Canadian Government on the subject it will be met in the right spirit.

"We strongly believe that it is for the advancement of Canadian as well as imperial interests that there should be friendly trade relations with our neighbors."

Clark Howell Is for Van Wyck.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—In the Constitution to-morrow Editor Clark Howell, National Democratic Committeeman from Georgia, will say that the newspapers of Greater New York are booming Henry George in the hope of splitting the Democratic vote. He says that Van Wyck is the "regular Democratic nominee for Mayor of Greater New York," that no national issues are at stake in this campaign and that the organization which nominated Van Wyck "gave a hearty support to the Chicago platform and Mr Bryan and the national campaign last Fall."

FALL AND WINTER -CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8 00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22 00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8 50 We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5 00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1 50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15 00 for. BOROUGH RECORDER THOMAS HAS CHANGED HIS MIND

After Interviewing the Corporation Counsel He Says That His Court Docket Is Open for Inspection.

Huntington S. Thomas combines the work of gathering news with that of dispensing of justice in the Borough Recorder's court, over which he presides by power of appointment from the Mayor of that municipality. His acts are criticised oftener, no doubt, than any other official in the borough—not always, however, because they smack of unjustness, but frequently because they conform simply with what the law says, and seem harsh to those who feel their effect. It is evident, however, that he erred seriously the other day when he declined to permit an inspection of the docket containing the record of the arrest and fine of Charles E. Sage, the milkman, of Washingtonville, charged with leaving his horse untied in the street, and the legality of which is questioned. Pope & Runyon, the lawyers who were denied the request, received the following epistle from the Recorder, under date of Oct. 7th:

[redacted] October 7th, 1897.

Messrs. Pope & Runyon:

Gentlemen—I am advised by Charles A. Reed that I should have shown you my docket of borough cases when you asked for it this morning. Pardon me for not doing so. I understood it was private. The docket can be seen by you or anyone else at my office on Somerset street any time I am there.

Respectfully,
Huntington S. Thomas.

I am in my office mornings from 7 to 8 o'clock every day.

WANT TO STAND ALONE.

EFFORT TO MAKE AUXILIARY INDEPENDENT OF THE MAIN BODY

Degree of Pocohontas Anxious to Become Their Own Governing Body, but Strong Opposition is Made from Red Men.

There is an unusual stir among the members of the Degree of Pocohontas, that well-known auxiliary to the Improved Order of Red Men, in Plainfield and throughout the State. There promises to be a contest in that organization that will shake it to its very foundations and may end in the disruption of some of the councils in this State.

Ever since its organization a number of years ago, the Degree of Pocohontas has been subordinate to the Red Men. It was composed of the wives, mothers and sisters of the Red Men and sufficient of the chiefs from the tribes to look after affairs. There was no direct governing body but the different councils were allowed representatives at the Great Council of the Red Men. Now some of the more ambitious of the members of the Degree of Pocohontas deem that that organization has grown to sufficient size to be able to govern itself. There are thirty-six councils in the State, including in their membership some thirty-five hundred men and women.

It was planned to institute at Trenton in November and so it was arranged at a meeting that was held of delegates from the different councils in the State. There was a protest at this from some of the councils, including those in this city, claiming that the gathering of delegates was called by misrepresentation and that the end was secured through the same means. The opposition made a decided kick agasnst the plan and will continue to do so.

It is claimed in favor of the formation of a great council that the order is large enough to govern itself and would thereby obtain the benefits of self government. The opponents of the scheme denounce it as the plan of some of the members to raise themselves into office with the accompanying honor and salaries. It is claimed that the great council will be an unnecessary expense and that the cost of it will be too large to be easily supported by the present number of councils.

One of the leaders of the opposition is Justice V. W. Nash, of Paughcaughnaughsinque Council, of this city. Although not an officer, he is well known by the great chiefs of the Red Men and will obtain a hearing before the great council fire of the Red Men of the State this winter. The great council of the order will probably be instituted but the opposition will make a strong effort to have the governing body of the Red Men annul it and put the Degree of Pocohontas back where it has been since its organization, an auxilliary body of the Improved Order of Red Men.

Juniors Invited.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Societies and Epworth Leagues of Plainfield and vicinity are cordially invited to take part in a public demonstration to be held in conjunction with the Elizabeth District Epworth League convention to be held in this city Oct. 28th. It is desired to have all the Juniors meet at the First M. E. church to start for a short march at 4 p. m. The line will return to the church for a service of song and a short address. H. J. Johnston and W. C. O'Donnell, for the convention.

According to City Grades.

A new stone sidewalk and curb has been laid in front of the residence at the corner of Franklin place and Putnam avenue, owned by Mrs. Depew. The sidewalk and curb are laid according to the new city grades, while the surrounding ones are according to the old grades. There is six inches difference between the height of the new sidewalk and those adjoining. The line of the curb is also changed.

REUNITED FOR ACTIVE WORK.

Congregational Church Members Talk Over Plans for Work This Winter.

The members of the Congregational church held their fall reunion in the church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Association. The women provided a pleasant time for those who attended. While there was no elaborate programme, all joined in making the occasion enjoyable. During the evening Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the church, gave an interesting informal talk concerning the work for the coming winter. A feature of the evening was the piano selections rendered by Miss Nellie Winckler and Miss Eva Wilkins, who played several duets. The largest portion of the time was devoted to sociability and making plans for the fall and winter work.

The Sunday-school rooms where the sociable was held were prettily decorated with flowers, while here and there was placed a banquet lamp to add beauty to the scene. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. F. D. Fuller, Mrs. Millard, Mrs. Seeds and Mrs. Messerschmith. These sociables will be held on the evening of every second Friday, except during January.

A Domino Club Formed.

The young people of Willow Grove have of late been seeking for some pastime to help make the coming winter evenings enjoyable, and decided to organize a domino club, as many of the young people do not play cards. A meeting was held last evening at the home of Miss Chrissie Goodman, Ashbrook, and a domino club with a membership of twenty-two was formed. The object is to meet every other Friday night and to play progressive dominoes. The officers selected are as follows: President, Mr. Stoll; vice-president, Miss Edith Darby; secretary, Miss Tillie Lambert; treasurer, Mrs. Stoll

A Speaker From the Far East.

Dr Thompson, of Brooklyn, formerly a missionary to India, will make an address tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church, under the auspices of the Temple Builder's Society of the church. The society has interested itself in the Yerkes chapel at Teto, India, and as Dr. Thompson has personal knowledge concerning the chapel and the work there, his address will no doubt be one of great interest. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. Martine Sends Condolence.

James E. Martine this morning sent the following letter of condolence to Mrs. John B McPherson, whose husband died quiet unexpectedly last night:

Mrs. J. B. McPherson. My Dear Madam—The death of your distinguished husband saddens me. The country has lost a statesman and a patroit, our party a firm adherent and honest champion, his friends a loyal supporter. For years I have had and esteemed his friendship. Please accept my sincere sympathy in your bereavement.

J. E. Martine.

Arranged to Attend a Funeral.

Court Plainfield, No. 1,144, Independent Order of Foresters, met last evening, received three applications for membership, initiated one candidate, ordered paid the death benefit of their late Brother N. M. Westergaard, and made arrangements to attend his funeral in a body from the lodge rooms on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The High Court representatives held back their report until the next meeting.

Public Patriotic Lecture.

Major R. M. J. Reed, of Philadelphia, will deliver the address of the evening at a public patriotic lecture at Washington Hall, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 30, Patriotic Sons of America. All are invited.

Disorderly Young Man.

John Lamore, nineteen-years-old, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, on the charge of being disorderly at Music Hall last night. Sentence was suspended.

ENDEAVORERS GO HOME.

END OF THE BIG STATE CONVENTION IN PATERSON.

Interesting Reports of the Work Throughout the State Are Read and Several Addresses Made—Election of the Officers.

The third and last day of the Christian Endeavor State Convention at Paterson was marked by an increase in the number of visiting delegates. Last night there had registered at the Convention headquarters more than four thousand five hundred visitors, a larger enrollment than ever made at any previous convention.

Two important meetings were held in the morning. At Association Hall Rev. Dr. Clark presided, and, after the song service and devotional exercises, Rev. George H. Ingram, of Trenton, the head of the press department, made a interesting report, showing that much work had been done in his branch. Other reports were on correspondence and missionary work by Dr. W. R. Ward, of Lyons Farms, and Miss Alice B. Spangenberg, of Netherwood, respectively.

Rev. Dr. Frederick J. Stanley delivered the principal address on "The City of Nations, the Crisis of Centuries as the Twentieth Opens." Simultaneously Rev. Charles A. Savage, of Orange, presided at the First Baptist church.

The report of chief interest was that of Rev. A. W. Spooner, of Camden, superintendent of junior work in the State, which showed very favorable progress both in the finances and numbers of that department. An interesting address was also made by Rev. Dr. W. G. Puddefoot, superintendent of the American Missionary Association. At each of these meetings the report of the treasurer showing the healthy financial condition of the State Union was read, as was that of Secretary Ida B. Stephens, of Hackettstown.

The latter stated that there are in the State 1,109 societies of Christian Endeavor, of which 751 are young persons, 373 are juniors and five are intermediate.

One mother society is about being organized. Fifty-three young persons', forty-seven junior and five intermediate societies, 105 in all, have have been added to the roll-call this year. The total membership is 40 075, of whom 12,075 are juniors. From these societies, 2,295 have united with the church, 725 coming from the juniors. They are active along many lines of Christian work, 231 young persons' societies have engaged in evangelistic work and 402 have missionary committees. The Y. P. S. C. E. has given $12 567.51 to missions, and juniors $3 072.81, making a total of $15,642.36.

A census, though very incomplete, shows 878 members giving a tenth of their income to missions, so the report stated. At noon praise services were held on several street corners in the city, and at half past two o'clock in the afternoon two meetings were held.

President French presided at the First Baptist church. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. D. W. Hutchinson, and addresses were made by Rev. Luther R Dyott, of Newark; Rev. F. B. Everett, of Trenton; and Rev. W. C. Bitting, of New York. Rev. John T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, presided at Association Hall, and the devotional exercises were led by Rev. Powhatan Bagnall, of Paterson. Rev. Frank B. Everitt, of Trenton, reported on evangelistic work, and then followed the principal address of the day, by Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, of Boston, Mass, the father of the Christian Endeavor organization.

Meetings were held at the First Baptist and Second Presbyterian churches in the evening. Officers of the State society were elected as follows:

President, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Brett, of Jersey City; first vice-president, Rev. Dr. J. Clement French, of Newark; second vice-president, Rev. L. H. Dyott, of Newark; third vice-president, T. E. Davis, of Bound Brook; secretary, Miss Ida B. Stephens, of Hackettstown; treasurer, E. E. Anthony, of Plainfield; executive committee, Rev Dr. Lewis W. Midge, Princeton; Rev. Charles Harris Jones, Bayonne; A. B Johnson, Orange; Rev. E. W. Thompson, Paterson; Willard L. Hamilton, Newark; Rev. C. C. Tilley, Bridgeton, and Arthur E. Farrier, Jersey City.

A resolution was adopted that the first week in December be devoted to special study.

Reader of Unusual Merit.

C. W. Emerson, president of Emerson College of Oratory, says of Miss Harris, who is to appear at Y. M. C. A Hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 12th: "I gladly recommend Miss Harris as a reader of unusual merit. Her interpretations are always intelligent and in good taste. I believe she will do much in elevating public taste."

IN A HYPNOTIST'S POWER

WAVE OF HAND AND SHARP GLANCE OF EYE SEEMED TO BE THE POWER.

Two Plainfield Young Men, Who Were Not Confederates, Did Remarkable Things at the Command of Sevengala—Boy Asleep.

It was altogether a novel sight to a Plainfield audience last evening at Washington Hall, to see the far-famed power of hypnotism exerted on two young men of this city, whose position precluded the possibility that they were confederates of the hypnotist. Then the audience was treated to the sight of seeing a man put to sleep for twenty-four hours.

When the hypnotistic part of the programme began, Prof. Sevengala called for subjects from the audience. The professor was a tall man of muscular build with bright eyes that seemed endowed with power. Two of his employes came forward and after some waiting, two well-known young men followed. In the first test, the subject stood in the centre of the stage with closed eyes. He was told, if he felt any inclination to fall back, to let himself go. Then the hypnotist made strange motions about the head of his subject, touched him lightly on the head and back and then drew his hands away from the body of his subject after the fashion commonly credited to the hypnotist. The body of his subject swayed slightly and then fell backwards into the arms of the waiting Sevengala. The two employes suscumbed easily to the hypnotistic influence. It took several trials to put the two Plainfielders in a trance.

A somewhat similar test was then tried, only that the hypnotist stood in front of the subject and gazed directly into his eyes and finally caused him to fall forward. Both of the Plainfielders fell as did the others.

The Professor remarked that it was possible to resist the influence, but if the subject made no resistance he could, in almost every instance, hypnotize him. Then the subjects sat in a row and closed their eyes. After a few passes, he commanded them to open their eyes, but told them that they could not. The local subjects did, but afterwards admitted that they had not thought of the test but of the audience.

One of the local subjects, George Graves, then stood up in front of the audience and the hypnotist told him that he was about to have his hands tied behind him with a strap. The hypnotist snapped his fingers as he might a strap, and then pretended to strap the subjects hands behind him although he really had no strap. He made a few passes about the head of his subject and then commanded:

"Pull your hands apart. You can't You can't!" And although the subject struggled it was half a minute before he could separate his hands, although they were bound by no strap. He afterwards told his friends that he really believed at the time that his hands had been bound and could seem to feel the strap. Graves is employed by Hillier & Co, whose laundry and dyeing establishment is located on North avenue. Graves is considered a very reliable young man. The other local subject was Charles Peterson, who is employed by Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett.

Then Prof. Straganella, whom the hypnotist said was the best subject he had ever found, was hypnotized and directed about among the audience and performed various things that had been whispered to the hypnotist by different people in the audience. The subject had his eyes closed and the hynotist only used the words "Come" and "Go" to direct him, so that it seemed very difficult to believe that there was any system of signals between the two.

Paul Smith, of Punxsutawney, Pa., a young man who accompanied the professor, sat down on the stage and the hypnotist proceeded to exercise his powers over the young man and put him to sleep. He was first weighed by Charles Betts. He was then placed on a stretcher and carried to Harry Werner's clothing establishment and put on exhibition in the window. Those who have had a close look at him declare that he appears to be fast asleep. Sometimes he rolls and tosses in his sleep but continues the slow regular breathing of a man asleep. The Professor has invited the doctors of the city to examine the man. He will be waked at the entertainment this evening after sleeping twenty four hours.

Preceding the hypnotistic exhibition, there was a very creditable exhibition of alleged mind-reading and of so-called spiritualistic work in a cabinet by Dr. and Mrs. Ford. Four men from the audience failed to discover the workings of the wonderful cabinet. An entire new programme will be presented tonight.

TO DETERMINE LICENSE OR PROHIBITION SENTIMENT.

Exact Wording of the Remarkable Resolution Offered by Councilman Runyon.

Since the introduction of the resolution into the Common Council Monday night by Councilman Runyon, seeking to find the exact sentiment of the voters towards the matter of liquor licenses, there has been a good deal of conjecture as to just what the resoluion contained. For the first time The Press gives the resolution as received by the Council:

Resolved, That it is desirable to obtain the sense of the voters at the ensuing charter election, whether they are in favor of continuing the present system of high license to regulate and control the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, or in favor of prohibition; and to that end

Resolved, That the City Clerk be directed to print upon each official ballot at such election, beneath the list of candidates thereon, the following, viz:

"For the proposition on this ballot which is not cancelled with ink or pencil, and Against the proposition which is so cancelled. The proposition: Let the Common Council continue the present system of high license to regulate and control the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors."

A "PIG" PARTY.

Guests Required to Draw Pictures of How a Hog Looks to Them.

Miss Hall, of Rockview avenue, gave an informal "pig" party to a few of her friends. The party received its rather remarkable name from the principal amusement of the evening. The guests were all required to close their eyes and draw sketches of a pig Miss Ethel Green and Rowland Western won the prizes for sketching the most artistic grunters. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing, playing games and enjoying the refreshments. Those present were: Miss Ethel Green, Miss Fannie Western, Miss Ethel Marsh, Miss Bertha Hall, Meredith Dryden, Robert Turrill, Brereton Platt, F. E. Buchingham, John H. VanWinkle, Jr., and Rowland Western.

Death of a Young Man.

The death of Neils M. Vestergard, aged twenty-two years, occurred at his home in Elizabeth on Thursday. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his brother, Michael Vestergard, 219 Stebbins place. Death was caused by consumption and the departed was taken to the Elizabeth Hospital, where he died on Thursday.

Telephone Solicitor Here.

H. C. Harlow, a special agent in the employ of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, is now located in Plainfield, and will call on the people of this city to solicit business for the company he represents. Mr. Harlow comes to Plainfield highly recommended and will no doubt make many friends for the telephone company and himself.

Economy.

Economy does not consist solely in saving money; it is equally serviceable in the saving of strength, time and trouble, and in this last direction it will be found vastly beneficial by giving timely attention to the eyes. A free examination at Collier's will advise you how far this attention is required.

Knights Templar Field Day.

The annual field day of the Knights Templar, of this State, will be held in Morristown next Thursday. There will be dress parade, inspection and review. A banquet will be held in the evening. Last year it was held in this city.

Pear Tree in Full Bloom.

Andrew Zeisz, of 412 New street, has a curiosity in his yard that is attracting considerable attention. It is a pear tree in full bloom. The blossoms are exactly similar to those that appeared on the tree in the spring.

Accused of Abusing Her Child.

Mrs. Anna Robinson, colored, was arrested and brought before City Judge DeMeza this morning on the charge of abusing her child. The complaint was dismissed after the Judge heard the evidence.

Mrs. Hill Cleared.

Mrs. Lillie Hill, of West Front street, was discharged by Judge DeMeza this morning on the charge of using profane language. The complainant withdrew the charge.

Paid $5 for Fighting.

Stephen Murphy appeared before City Judge DeMeza this morning for sentence on the charge of fighting. He was fined $5.

—One medical and one surgical case was admitted at the Hospital yesterday.

—Jacquett's slaughter sale needs no fulsome praise in a newspaper way—the prices are the most eloquent and convincing thing about it. All the stock, latest in style and finish, is going for a mere song.

—As an evidence of the success of Brooke and his famous Chicago Marine band in the east, last spring, it is stated that at his appearance in Boston at the Boston Theatre, the receipts were $1.000 while the best advertised band in the east, in the same theatre a short time after drew only $781. It is gratifying to see this young and accomplished conductor coming into favor. Music Hall Thursday.

LOOKS WELL FOR ROGER.

THE YOUNG MAN SAID TO HAVE A GOOD SHOW FOR ASSEMBLY.

He is Willing to Retire in Favor of Judge Codington, If the Latter Wants It—G. O. P. Primaries Called for Monday Evening.

One week from next Monday, the Plainfield Republicans will formally begin their campaign that precedes the election of the State and county officers. On the evening of that day the primaries will be held in this city and delegates will be elected to the county convention to nominate three assemblymen and a surrogate for the county of Union. A meeting of the county committee was held a week ago, as was stated in The Press at the time, and the primaries called for that night, but a meeting of the city committee was held last evening and the action of the county executive committee seconded and the call made for this city.

There was little other work for the committee to do but the members discussed the present political situation in the county and city and numerous suggestions were made regarding plans for the fall and winter campaign.

There will probably be little excitement at the primaries for it is understood that the city will send a solid delegation for Roger F. Murray as nominee for the Assembly as Plainfield's share in the nominations. Assemblyman Codington refuses to have anything to say regarding his chances for a renomination but those in the inside confidently predict that he does not want the nomination and will withdraw in favor of Mr. Murray. Murray has strong backing for the office but is credited with having said that he would refuse to run against the present occupant should the latter want the nomination. The wise ones, however, are very confident that Murray will receive the nomination as far as Plainfield is concerned.

ARTICULAR MENTION.

Brief Items of More or Less Interest to Plainfielders.

Rev. Mr. Jones, of Grove street, is critically ill at his home.

Hiram H. Titus, of Trenton, was in this city on business today.

Miss Stackhouse, of East Sixth street, is visiting in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Burton Jones, of Grove street, is recovering from a slight illness.

Mrs. J. H. VanWinkle, of Duer street, is detained at home with a severe illness.

Miss Clara Woltman, of West Seventh street, is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Washington Lee Simmonds and wife, of New Orleans, are guests of Plainfield relatives.

Miss Margaret Schuck, of Vine street, has been visiting her sister at Alton, returned home today.

Mrs. David Bodine and daughter, of Somerset street, who have been visiting at Mt. Carmel, Pa., for two months, have returned home.

Nicholas Messerschmidt, of 80 Jackson avenue, for many years a resident of Plainfield, is critically ill. It is thought that he cannot live the day out.

Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Sr., of Sycamore avenue, who has been ill for the past month, has so far recovered as to be able to take a carriage ride this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. King, of West Second street, have returned home from a visit of several days with friends and relatives in Newark, Passaic and Paterson.

Mrs. Robert Dryden, Mrs. W. R. Codington and family, and Charles Nightingale left this morning for Mount Minsi, Pa., where they will spend Sunday. Assembyman Codington will join the party later.

—Additional locals on page 3.

—John Hallstrom and family have removed to 113 Somerset street.

—William Pryor was arraigned before Judge DeMeza on the charge of nonsupport of his wife, Elizabeth Pryor. He will be examined this afternoon.

HE'S A KING OF BEATS

Emmet C. Gibson Held to Bail for Wholesale Swindling.

SAYS THAT HE IS INNOCENT

Gibson's Schemes as "Promoter" and "Financier" Involved Millions. Several of Boston's Prominent Business Men Among the Victims.

New York, Oct. 9.—Emmet B. Gibson, who, according to the police of this and other cities, is the prince of all-around swindlers and check kiters, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday on the specific charge of having passed a worthless check for $640 upon the proprietors of the Imperial Hotel.

The other charges against this man, if proved and pressed, would send him to prison for many more years than he is likely to live, for it is alleged that during his career he has obtained, in various ways that were illegal, over four hundred thousand dollars. His victims, it is said, are numbered by the score. From New York to the Mississippi his name is known; from New York to the Mississippi he has "worked" his schemes. He has the reputation of stopping at nothing to gain his ends.

He thought nothing, it is stated, of obtaining thousands from some millionaire and then of defrauding a small hotel out of a paltry sum.

He got $1,600 from Henry Clews & Co., it is alleged, and many thousands from John Wanamaker.

In Washington there are many citizens who remember the suave Gibson to their sorrow.

Besides the Imperial Hotel and the Hotel Netherland, it is alleged Gibson swindled these hostelries:

Continental, Walton and Stratford, Philadelphia; Buchtel, Akron; Du Quesne, Pittsburg; Hollenden and Weddell, Cleveland, and Cadillac, Detroit.

When arraigned, Gibson had nothing to say, except that he was innocent, but the victim of circumstances. He was held in $1,000 bail for examination on Oct. 12.

"I am entirely innocent," said the prisoner to the reporters. "I am no more guilty than you are."

An attorney, representing the German National Bank, of Pittsburg, appeared in court and served papers on the defendant for contempt of court. It is said that he was summoned to be examined in supplementary proceedings at Pittsburg in February last and failed to appear.

Boston Has Known Gibson.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—Emmet C. Gibson, who is under arrest in New York, is remembered by several prominent business men here, who have had dealings with him during the past three or four years. Only one of them, however, Herbert B. Church, seems to have suffered severely. Mr. Church claims that Gibson's security given for a $20,000 loan proved worthless, and caused Mr. Church's failure. Mr. Church said he did not realize one cent on the securities he held from Gibson.

GOV. PINGREE RETURNS.

Michigan's Chief Executive Says Venezuela is a Great Country.

New York, Oct. 9.—Gov. H. S. Pingree, of Michigan, whose whereabouts and business movements have lately puzzled the entire nation, left for home last evening. He arrived from Venezuela yesterday morning on the Red D line steamer Venezuela, and when seen at Quarantine looked the picture of perfect health. He said it was his first vacation in nine years, and he enjoyed the trip immensely.

"Venezuela is a great country for young men," said the Governor. "The opportunities are many and living is cheap.

"No, I didn't go down to invest any money. It was simply a recreation trip I had planned many months ago.

"But about my reception in Venezuela. I tell you it was all any American could desire. Ignacie Andrade, the new President-elect, called on me, and under an escort of about a hundred soldiers we took a drive about the city. The band played 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' and you can believe it sounded good to my ears.

"The new President has the kindliest feeling towards the United States, and has, among other things in his office, a bust of Grover Cleveland.

"Just think of it! Flour is $15 a barrel there, and potatoes as high as $2 a bushel! In Michigan last year you could buy potatoes for 10 cents a bushel. But it will be some time before you can do that in Venezuela. The country is rich, but undeveloped."

IS IT MRS. FLEMING?

Washington Advices Say She is Bound for the Yukon.

New York, Oct. 9.—Acording to a dispatch from Port Townsend, Wash., Mrs. Mary Alice Almont Livingstone Fleming, who was acquitted of the charge of poisoning her mother in this city last year, is at St. Michaels, at the mouth of the Yukon River, bound for the Yukon gold fields.

The dispatch from Port Townsend states that Mrs. Fleming has been at St. Michaels ever since she arrived on the steamer Humboldt. She lived in a tent, and was protected by a lad of 14, whom she called her nephew. They are now on the Seattle No. 1, heading up the river. She is said to have grub-staked two men in Seattle, but they had differences going up on the steamer, and the latest talk was that she proposed doing her own mining.

She said, it is claimed, that she represented a New York syndicate. She had a pocketful of gold, and paid all her gallant woodchoppers liberally, often refreshing them all with beer, which costs there about one dollar a bottle.

Princess Kiulani to Go to Hawaii.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—Princess Kiulani and her father, Mr. Cleghorne, have engaged passage from here on the steamship Australia for Honolulu on Nov. 2. The Princess will leave England on next Saturday, sailing from Liverpool for New York. It is expected that she will spend a week in San Francisco.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Will Attempt to Pass Some Sort of a Currency Bill.

Washington, Oct. 9. — Republican Congressmen in Washington say that, in their opinion, the work of the coming session will be confined to very few subjects. It is expected that an attempt will be made to pass through Congress some sort of a currency bill, but in view of the opposition to be encountered in the Senate, it is doubtful if any bill can be framed which will be satisfactory to both houses.

Representative Wadsworth thinks the session will be a short one. Most of the Congressmen seen do not think that the session will last beyond the middle of June or the first of July. Owing to the fact that the Congressional elections will occur one year from November, it is believed that an attempt will be made to confine legislation as much as possible to such topics only as it is absolutely necessary to touch.

UNCLE SAM WILL ACT.

Recall of Weyler Must Be Hurried, or Trouble May Ensue.

Washington, Oct. 9.—A prominent Cuban of this city, who is in frequent secret communication with the Junta in New York, but who, for prudent reasons, does not care to have his name appear in print at this critical period, is authority for the statement that the Cubans in the United States have reason to believe that if the Spanish Government does not hurry up the recall of Weyler, the influence of the McKinley Administration will be speedily exerted to let the civilized world know that the United States cannot longer tolerate the barbarous warfare in the island.

In addition to the butcheries which are reported from time to time, the United States, on the score of trade, will have to interfere. The Cuban thinks there will be some interesting developments through the State Department in the course of the next two weeks.

JOHN R M'PHERSON DEAD.

Former U. S. Senator Expires at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City.

John R. McPherson, former Democratic Senator from New Jersey, died at 11.30 o'clock last night at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City.

He had been ill since 1892, but his sickness did not take a serious turn till last Tuesday. On Friday last, accompanied by his trained nurse, C. M. Beach, who had been with him since 1895, Mr. McPherson went to Barnegat, N. J., to spend Sunday.

On Monday the Senator was at Lakewood and purchased a lot there, intending to build a house. Upon his return to Taylor's Hotel he complained of pains about the heart and went to bed. His death is attributed to acute inflammation of the bowels.

WEYLER'S FATE SETTLED.

The Decree Recalling Him to Be Drawn To-day.

Madrid, Oct. 9.—The Cabinet, at its meeting to-day will formulate a decree recalling Capt.-Gen. Weyler from Cuba and appointing Gen. Ramon Blanco in his stead. The decree will give notice of the appointment of four divisional commanders.

The Heraldo says that 20,000 troops will accompany Gen. Blanco when he goes to Cuba, in November.

Mill for Negroes Only.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 9.—A contract to furnish machinery for a 10,000-spindle cotton mill and 250 looms in which no white person will be permitted to work except in the capacity of instructor or foreman has just been signed here. The idea of having a cotton mill operated exclusively by colored labor originated with W. S. Monteith, a white lawyer of this city. Mr. Monteith, with his brother, son and nephew as corporators, obtained a commission for the Elmwood Manufacturing Company from the Secretary of State. The capital stock of $100,000 is to be paid in installments. Of this amount 750 shares of 100 each have been subscribed for by Columbia negroes. Mr. Monteith and a few other business men will take the remainder.

The mill, Mr. Monteith says, will employ 600 hands.

A Valuable Prescription.
Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a back ache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50c and $1. Get a bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

—Next Thursday evening a musicale will be given in Metuchen at which time Bert Harold, of this city, will assist.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Woodbridge, is the guest of Miss Mabel Pruden, of East Second street.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

The Misses Gibbons, of East Sixth street, acted as bridemaids at the Townsend-Morbrey wedding in Bayonne Wednesday evening.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Croup Quickly Cured.
MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

250,000 MAY STRIKE

Workmen of All the Shipyards in England Likely to Go Out.

DEMAND EIGHT-HOUR DAY

The Engineers Are in Straits and Beg for Aid—Employers Refuse to Meet the Strikers in Conference.

London, Oct. 9.—The Engineer's Union, whose members are now on strike, has issued a manifesto which reveals the fact that its struggle with the employers has reached the most momentous crisis in the history of trades unionism in England.

The employers maintain the position announced by them a week ago, refusing to meet the strikers in conference and declining to depart in the slightest degree from the stand which they have taken until the men return to work unconditionally. The employers are aware of the straits to which they have driven the hitherto wealthiest union in the country.

The manifesto roundly denounces the employers' rejection of the overtures of the strikers. Their insistence upon the absolute submission of the workmen to their terms, the pronouncement declares, means their intention to crush the entire organiation of trades unionism of the country.

"We appeal to our fellow trades unionists generally," the manifesto continues, "to answer the challenge of the Federated Employers. The Engineers' Society has sustained its struggle alone until the present time, but financial aid is now imperatively necessary."

The manifesto then makes an appeal to the public to subscribe funds, to the end of checkmating the dominance of the Employers' Federation. It denies that the engineers' union has made any unjustifiable demands. It is fighting the battle of all who think that trades unions are essential, and declares that it intends to go right on as it has done to the finish.

The circular does not say what the finish will be unless vast and immediate outside subscriptions are forthcoming, but the tearful rhetoric of many passages of the manifesto shows that the engineers are aware that they are on the edge of the last ditch.

The public is getting impatient at the absolute cessation of shipbuilding in accordance with the naval programme, and at the daily spectacle of contracts being diverted to foreign builders, but the fact that several firms of high reputation have tried the eight-hour-a-day plan and found that they absolutely could not continue it, has convinced most persons that the Employers' Federation is fighting a just fight.

The deadlock is such that a strike throughout the shipbuilding yards of the country is probable next week, involving 250,000 men.

M'KINLEY'S CUBAN POLICY.

A Protest Will Be Made Against the Spanish Minister's Course.

Washington, Oct. 9.—While the regular meeting of the Cabinet, held yesterday, did not result in any important action, it had an interesting bearing on the Cuban question. There are indications that the Administration does not intend to allow the Spanish Ministry to postpone consideration of the situation in the perturbed island until next March without a protest or something more emphatic from the United States. The announcement in Madrid that this policy had been determined on, met with severe criticism by some member of McKinley's official family, and developed a feeling of hearty Americanism that will undoubtedly be productive of decisive measures by the President to bring the war to a close if the present Government of Spain persists in its reported intention to delay the proposed Cuban reforms, or thwart the desire of this country for some speedy settlement. According to trustworthy authority, the President and his Cabinet are convinced that the Sagasta Ministry can do something to ameliorate the condition of things in Cuba without resorting to what they consider the temporizing expedient of calling a general election to determine the political character of a new legislative government.

Minister Woodford has expressed to the Spanish authorities the earnest desire of President McKinley that the inhuman concentration order of Weyler's, by which thousands of non-combatants are forced to remain in the large towns where food is so scarce that many are dying of starvation, be revoked, and the suffering people permitted to return to their farming and other means of livelihood. This request, it was maintained at yesterday's meeting, can be complied with at once, and does not require submission to the Cortes.

The state of affairs prevailing in Havana, where members of the volunteers are parading the streets, shouting for the retention of Weyler, was also discussed at the Cabinet meeting with reference to the safety of Americans in the Cuban capital. Some fear was expressed that the riotous demonstration of the volunteers might cause an attack on the United States Consulate-General, but Mr. Springer, who is acting as Consul-General in the absence of Gen. Lee, has not sent any alarming telegrams on the subject to the State Department.

Bishop Brewster's Consecration.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster, coadjutor Bishop-elect of the diocese of Connecticut and the present rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Brooklyn Heights, will be consecrated on Oct. 28. By the appointment of Bishop Williams the consecration will take place in Trinity Church, New Haven. At the same time there will be celebrated in Trinity Church the centenary of the consecration of Bishop Jarvis, the second Bishop of Connecticut.

An Injunction Defied.

Pittsburg, Oct. 9.—Trouble may occur at the Plum Creek mines to-day. The non-union men refused to go to work yesterday while the marchers from Camp Isolation were at the mines. Acting upon an order from Supt. De Armitt, Deputy Sheriff Young served an injunction upon the strikers and warned them that if they made a similar demonstration to-day all would be arrested. The men say they will march, despite the injunction.

A NOTABLE DEATH.

A notable loss to the list of New Jersey public men is sustained in the death of former Senator John Roderick McPherson, which occurred in Jersey City last night. Though not prominently before the public in the last few years, Senator McPherson was for many years an important factor in politics of State and Nation. As a Democrat he was high in party councils as long as he was actively identified with the party organization. In 1876 he was elected to the United States Senate to succeed F. T. Frelinghuysen. He was re elected in 1883, and at the end of his second term refused to be again a candidate. He was a staunch supporter of President Cleveland. He was a man of aristocratic appearance. His Scotch ancestry was noticeable in his speech. Although not a great orator, he was an agreeable speaker. He was self-reliant and alert, and had a deep knowledge of parliamentary law and practice.

The Union County Democratic Executive Committee met late Thursday afternoon and decided to hold the county convention Tuesday, Oct. 19th, at Turn Hall, Elizabeth. The primaries were called for Friday evening, Oct. 15th. Candidates for Surrogate, three Assemblymen and a Coroner will be named. There was a full attendance at the meeting and so far as could be learned ex-County Clerk Crowell remains a strong favorite for the nomination for Surrogate. The Republican candidate will probably be Surrogate Parrot.

The pathway of the Brunswick Traction Company seems to be strewn with injunctions.

The underground wires will mean greater safety for the lives of Plainfield people.

The bonfire smudge is scheduled.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

This is the season when the small boy goes forth on a pleasant afternoon and, visiting the cornfield of some unwary farmer, purloins one of his yellow pumpkins. The contents of the pumpkin is removed and in some hidden corner, the small boy converts it into a jack-o'lantern with which he tries to scare his timid sister on an evening. The watchful farmer is keeping a careful eye, however, on his property and woe betide the small urchin that tries to appropriate a pumpkin under his nose.

Their wagons run to Westfield, Fanwood, Metuchen, Netherwood and Dunellen.

—Doane & Edsall say their new fall and winter stock is about all in now, and it surpasses anything they have ever shown in elegance of make and style, and that the value is the best they have ever given. They are making a specialty of medium priced goods, as well as carrying a good assortment of the fine grades. They guarantee to do as well by the people as any house in New York city or anywhere else. See new ad.

Mothers Praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, because, by its great blood enriching qualities, it gives rosy cheeks and vigorous appetites to pale and puny children.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family cathartic and liver medicine. Price 25c.

THE MILLINERY STORE.

A selection of trimmed Hats and Bonnets that is pleasing. Not grotesque styles, which no one cares to wear, but a charming collection of stylish, sensible, wearable

A Piano Sensation!

During this month we're going to sell good Pianos at the previously unheard of price of $170 cash, or $190 on easy monthly payments.

We bought nearly a hundred from different makers during the summer. These are good pianos that we guarantee for five years.

We have also marked down for this month the prices on all of our regular lines of Hardmans, Gablers, Voses, Sterlings and Standards. There is decided saving for the buyer who comes during this sale.

It would be worth your while to buy now, even if you don't want the Piano until Christmas; we'll store it for you without charge.

FIVE TIMES LARGER STOCK OF PIANOS THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE IN THE STATE.

$15,000 worth of the finest

-CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1 50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15.00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18 00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50, Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1 65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00, 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16.00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12.00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined, French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3 25, worth 10 00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18 00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2 50 and $3.00, worth from 6 00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants actually valued at 12 00 to 15 00, sale price at $4 50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7 50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's extra fine brown plaid suits at $3 50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2 50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12 00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. Everybody living within tweny-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great sheriff sale.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mrs. Isaac Laing has been the guest of Plainfield friends.

There was bowling on the green at Mr. Schepflin's residence this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill are entertaining company from Brooklyn for a few days.

Mrs. Emily Apgar, who has been very ill, is convalescing, and is able to be about the house.

Miss Jennie Tingley has returned from Bound Brook, where she has been visiting friends.

The Presbyterian church is being treated to an attractive coat of paint. W. H. Kuhn is doing the work.

Rev. A. I. Martine will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church tomorrow, morning and evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the church.

Jacob Johnson has secured his brother to run his place at the end of the trolley line, while he is busily engaged in another line of business.

Jack Auten entertained Preston Apgar, of Junction, yesterday. Mr. Apgar was formerly a resident of the borough and his old friends were glad to see him.

Paxson VanArsdale has sold his blacksmith shop to C. H. Adams, formerly of New Market. Mr. VanArsdale has been in ill-health for a long time and he feels as though he will not be able to return to work for sometime to come.

For a long time the organ at the Presbyterian church has not been al together right, that is, two reeds were broken and consequently two keys could not be used. Yesterday a man from Somerville was engaged to repair the instrument thoroughly, which he did.

Master Theodore Hamilton celebrated the anniversary of his birthday yesterday, and in honor of the event he gave a party to a few of his friends in the afternoon. The time was passed in the usual pleasant manner, playing games, etc., after which refreshments were served.

Last evening Mrs. Egbert gave a reception and musicale at her home to a few of her friends. The members of the Schubert Club Ladies' Orchestra were present and rendered a number of classical selections. Mrs. Egbert received her guests and the hospitality evidenced was proverbial.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Robert Walpole went hunting yesterday and bagged two fine woodcock.

Robert Woodruff, of Westfield, visited friends in Scotch Plains yesterday.

Dennis Crane has rented his farm and will go south for the improvement of his health.

Mrs. Myra Heath leaves today for Brooklyn, where she will spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. Fred Houghton.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church held its annual business meeting and election of officers at the residence of Miss Carrie Bettman, at Fanwood, yesterday afternoon. Miss Mary Westcott was elected president; Miss Addie Johnston, vice-president; Miss Cora Miller, treasurer, and Miss E hel Marsh, secretary.

Sprained His Shoulder.

Early this morning Milkman Sage, of Washingtonville, met with a slight accident while alighting from his milk wagon at the corner of Duer street and Park place. He slipped on the step and fell striking the large root of a tree close by. He landed on his shoulder which pained him to such an extent that he called on Dr. Zeglio who examined his shoulder. In the opinion of the doctor the injury was only a slight sprain.

WESTFIELD

FRANCHISE WAS DENIED

CITIZENS SO INSTRUCTED WESTFIELD OFFICIALS AT TROLLEY HEARING.

Arguments by Senator Voorhees and Frank Bergen—Senator Said That The Applicants Have Tired of Being Thrown About.

The Westfield Township Committee held a public hearing in the Westfield Club Hall last night upon the question of granting a franchise to the Elizabeth and Westfield Electric Railway Company to run a trolley line through the township. The route asked for in the petition is on the county road from Cranford to Middlesex street, in Westfield, through the town on Middlesex, Broad and Elm streets and North avenue, and on North avenue to the Fanwood township line. Col. E. W. Heine, of Newark, the secretary of the company, and State Senator Foster M. Voorhees, its counsel, spoke in favor of granting the franchise. The company asked for the county road, they said, because no capital could be secured to build a road on South avenue. The place for a trolley was where the travel was greatest. It was in the power of the Committee to impose reasonable restrictions upon the company, such as charging it a license fee yearly for a stated number of years and then compelling it to pay to the township a certain percentage of its gross earnings. The company did not expect to get something for nothing, but was willing to make any just recompense. Remarks were made by Martin Wells, Col. A. A. Starr, C. B Peddie, S. W. Reese, L. G. Cohen, Theodore McGarrah, E. L. Whitehead, James O. Clark, Charles N. Codding, John B. Green, Mr. Moorehouse, and others. Senator Voorhees went upon the platform and answered questions asked by the citizens. Much curiosity was shown as to who the incorporators were, and whether their intention was to build a road and operate it or to sell out the franchise after obtaining it. Mr. Codding suggested that the company go to the Board of Freeholders and obtain its consent before applying to the township. Senator Voorhees replied that the company was tired of being thrown about like a handball from one governing body to another, and that it did not make much difference anyway where the beginning was made. James O. Clark offered a resolution that Frank Bergen, who was present, be invited to explain his project to the audience. E. J. Whitehead offered as a substitute a resolution instructing the Township Committee not to grant a franchise for a trolley upon the county road. After the resolution was passed Mr. Bergen was invited to explain his plan for the widening of the county road and the construction of a trolley thereon, to be leased by the county to the corporation operating it. His remarks were listened to with much interest. Chairman Endicott then announced that the Township Committee would withhold its decision on the granting of the franchise until its next meeting.

At the sale of Westfield property for delinquent taxes, which took place in the town rooms yesterday, the property of J. K. McHaffery was sold to Mrs. Margaret Foster for thirty years, and the property of J. B. Swoope went to Margaret Ham, of Cranford, for thirty years. The balance of the sale was postponed two weeks.

Mrs. W. H. Morse will lead the Christian Endeavor missionary meeting in the Baptist church tomorrow evening. The subject will be "Enduring hardship for Christ's sake."

The Westfield Club football team plays the Crescents, of Plainfield, on the North Broad street grounds this afternoon. The game is called at 4 o'clock.

The Westfield Junior football team will play the Alis team, of Plainfield, on the North Broad street grounds this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Mabel Holcomb, of Westfield avenue, will leave on Monday to spend a week with relatives in Brooklyn.

An offering will be taken for the Publication Society in the Baptist church, tomorrow morning.

Holy Trinity Roman Catholic church will hold a fair in Etta Hall next Wednesday and Thursday.

The offering in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning will be for the educational fund.

Miss Bessie Elliot, of Westfield avenue, leaves Monday for a two weeks' visit in Rutherford.

William Terry, of South Broad street, has a Duchess peach tree in blossom.

William Dallas, of Prospect street, has returned from a business trip to Canada.

Mrs. J. D. Ritchie and Miss Medora Ritchie have returned from Asbury Park.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gomes, of Carleton place, are at Delaware Water Gap.

John D. Jacques is dangerously ill at his home on Prospect street.

Miss M. A. Frothingham is at St. Mary's School, Concord, N. H.

A Liniment to Rely On.

Samuel Tucker has left the employ of J. B. Brown and entered that of John I Holly.

MADE GOOD THE SHORTAGE.

Harry P. Barton Settled and Was Dismissed From Express Company's Employ.

Harry P. Barton, the employe of the United States Express Company who yesterday morning abandoned his wagon on West Second street and left the city leaving a shortage in his accounts, returned last night from New York, and paid Manager Mills the amount which he owed the company.

When questioned as to his object in leaving the city, Barton stated that he had gone to a sister living in New York to obtain the money necessary to make the accounts straight.

After making his settlement he was dismissed from the company's employ.

Fads in Medicine.

There are fads in medicine as in every thing else and a "new thing" frequently sells for a short time simply because it is new. But in medicine as in nothing else, the people demand and will be satisfied only with positive, absolute merit. The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood its ground against all competitions, and its sales have never wavered but have remained steadily at the top, demonstates, beyond any doubt, the intrinsic virtues of this medicine. The new things have come and gone but Hood's Sarsaparilla rests upon the solid foundation of absolute merit and its power to cure, and its sales continue to be the largest in the world.

More Than 1,000 Running for Office in Greater New York.

New York, Oct. 9.—There are more than 1,000 persons running for elective offices in the Greater New York territory to-day and the returns are not all in yet. In the 1,552 election districts in the territory there are probably 25,000 men at the present moment who are devoting their time exclusively to politics. This is an underestimate, politicians say, rather than an overestimate.

It is not possible at the present time to give the exact figures even in the matter of candidates. If each party that is in the field had a candidate for each office to be filled, there would be almost sixteen hundred candidates running in the greater city; but as some parties indorse the candidates of other parties, the total number of actual candidates cannot be compiled at present. Besides, there are four days more for the nomination of independent candidates, so the last of candidates may still be largely increased.

So far, there are seven candidates in the field for first Mayor of the Greater New York. The Republican party, Tammany Hall, the Democratic party, the Citizens' Union, the Prohibitionists, the Socialist Labor Party and the No-Tea-No-Tiger party, has each its candidate. There would be eight candidates, but the Populists have indorsed Henry George.

NAVAL PROGRESS ABROAD.

All the Nations Increasing Their Power on the Sea.

Washington, Oct. 9.—A full account of what other nations are doing towards naval development is set forth in a special publication issued to-day by the Office of Naval Intelligence, in which it is shown that marvelous strides are being made, even by the smaller governments, in strengthening their forces on the sea. There is not a third-rate power, according to this publication, which is not making some effort to build a navy. Much stress is laid on the advances made by Japan, and attention is drawn to her liberal naval policy, lately decided upon. Italy is the only one of the more powerful countries supporting large naval establishments shown to be making little progress, and this is accredited to the depleted conditon of her finances.

Great Britain's last programme shows her far in the lead of all other governments, both in the extent of her present programme and in the number of vessels of all types building. France being second, Germany third and possibly Japan next.

New World's Double Team Record.

Glens Falls, Oct. 9.—More than three thousaind persons saw the lowering of the world's double-team record by John R. Gentry and Robert J. from 2.09, made by them at Belmont Park, to 2.08 yesterday. The track was not so fast as earlier in the week, owing to rain. It was fully two seconds slow, with a cold, fast wind blowing across the stretches. The first attempt was a failure, only 2.11 being credited to them. Driver Bowne seemed to be afraid to let them out around the turns. In the next two attempts Robert J. left his feet at the first turn each time, but the fourth time they paced from the start and showed one of the finest speed exhibitions ever witnessed. The first quarter was made in .32, the half in 1.04½, and the three-quarters in 1.87¼. Then Bowne turned on the electricity, and the pair responded nobly, the last quarter being covered in .30¾, a 2.03 clip. When the time for the mile, 2.08, was announced, the crowd went wild.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The following fourth-class postmasters were announced yesterday:

New Jersey—Butler, Morris, John W. Stevens.

New York — Newkirk, Genessee, Frank A. Williams, Ohio, Herkimer, James W. Abeel; Oneida Castle, Oneida, Seiden D. Bridge; Orwell, Oswego, S. J. Olmstead; Protection, Erie, Fred Seigel; Summer Hill, Cayuga, Albert Moshier; Westernville, Oneida, John S. Howe; Wolcottsburg, Erie, John Meisner.

Pennsylvania—Abingdon, Montgomery, Charles A. Ambler; Dingman's Ferry, Pike, William Dusenberry; Freemansburg, Northampton, Catherine Van Billiard; Fribley, Lycoming, Charles W. Simmons; Northampton, Northampton, F. J. Roethline; Wanutport, Northampton, James P. Andreas; Willow Grove, Montgomery, Peter W. Triebels.

The Detroit to Watch Filibusters.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Long has directed that the cruiser Detroit be assigned to patrol duty on the Florida coast. Her assignment will increase the number of vessels engaged in watching filibusters, as she will take the place of the cruiser Marblehead, leaving three ships on that service, the same as last Winter. The dynamite cruiser Vesusvius will soon relieve another vessel of the patrol fleet, the gunboat Nashville.

Young Women Militia.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—A movement is on foot here to obtain admission into the National Guard of the State for a company of well-drilled and disciplined young women. It was suggested by their appearance in public last night for the benefit of a charitable institution. They acquitted themselves so well that it was determined to make an effort to obtain the sanction of the State to their existence as a corporate military body.

Kilauea Boiling Up.

Honolulu, Oct. 1.—The smoking lava in the bed at the bottom of the lake in the crater of Kilauea has risen over a hundred feet in eight days, and is rising twelve feet a day, so that experts declare the volcano will soon equal, if not surpass, its previous great outbursts. When Congressmen Berry and Loudenslager were at the volcano a fortnight ago they were surprised to see a fountain of molten lava 200 feet in height play for an hour or more.

Treasury Overruled on Tariff.

New York, Oct. 9.—The United States Board of General Appraisers has overruled the Treasury Department, and decided that the Dingley Tariff bill did not cover in its operations the whole of the day upon which it was signed by President McKinley.

Rupture!
Trusses!
Dr. Marcley has opened a branch office at No. 325 West Second street, corner Central avenue, Plainfield, for the treatment of rupture. 20 years experience and the most modern appliances warrants satisfactory results. No occasion to go to New York for what you can get better at home. Irreducible, difficult and complicated cases solicited. The treatment of rupture, whether mechanical or otherwise, most properly belongs to a surgeon of long experience in that particular line. No charge for examination or advice. Hours 9-12 a. m., 1-4 p. m. and evenings.

The Tables Turned.
We have almost solved the servant girl problem.
Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.
The tables are turned, and we have turned them.
We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.
Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,
Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "
What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Living on Iron.

Disease Cured by Restoring the Vital Element of Life. Capsuloids, the Latest Discovery of Science Represent the Beginning of a New Epoch in the Practice of Medicine.

The most eminent physicians concede the absolute need of iron in the blood, not only to ward off anæmia, chlorosis and other diseases, but actually to maintain life which becomes extinct the instant the natural iron or Hæmoglobin is insufficient to attract the requisite amount of oxygen from the air cells of the lungs to the blood.

If you would be robust, healthy, strong, clear-brained and impervious to disease, see that your blood is rich with Hæmoglobin. A year ago this advice would have been ridiculous because no form of iron had then been discovered that could be taken up by the blood.

To-day, nineteenth century science makes it possible to infuse the blood with natural iron.

Dr. Campbell, an English physician, widely known for his scientific pursuits, has succeeded in extracting from the blood of healthy bullocks, iron or Hæmoglobin in natural form. This he has re-dissolved and enclosed in a soft, pointed gelatine covering to which the name Capsuloids has been given.

These little globes taken at mealtime, two or three times a day, are all that you require to cure you of any disease having its origin in the blood. They give health to the sickly child, strength to the exhausted woman, vigor to the over-worked man. In chronic ailments and diseases long supposed to be incurable the results accruing from the use of Capsuloids are almost miraculous.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

HEROINE LEAVES CUBA

Senorita Evangelina Cisneros is Bound for This Country.

AIDED BY A PATRIOT BAND

Rumors in Havana that She Was Allowed to Escape by Gen. Weyler's Orders—He Wanted to Protect Berez.

Havana, Oct. 9.—Senorita Evangelina Cossio Cisneros, the beautiful young Cuban patriot who escaped from the Casa de Recodigas, is now on her way to the United States.

The escape of Senorita Cisneros was discovered yesterday morning when the Spanish prison guards called the roster of Recogidas.

She was missing, and a hasty examination of her cell was made. It was found that one of the bars that confined her had been filed through and bent outward, making an aperture just large enough to admit the passage of her body.

From the manner in which the steel bar was bent outward the prison authorities concluded that she alone could not have forced her way, but that aid was given to her by outsiders.

Casa in an Uproar.

The Casa de Recogidas was in an uproar in an instant. The corridors rang with hurrying feet and in short order several of the staff of guards were placed under arrest, suspected of connivance or carelessness.

The surrounding country was searched and every effort made to recapture the young patriot, but the searchers returned empty-handed to the wrathful censure of the governor of the prison.

SENORITA CISNEROS,

Senorita Cisnero's escape is believed in Havana to be the work of a band of young Cubans who were leagued for that purpose. According to the story, they managed to get two women arrested and placed in cells near Senorita Cisneros. These were furnished with tools and false keys and they entered her cell. At a signal four of the band broke the cell window irons and after an hour's work the Senorita was released.

Was It Weyler's Plan?

A rumor is in circulation in Havana that this was done by Weyler's planning; that he wished to protect his ally, Berez, and that, as he was to be recalled, he was afraid that his successor would deal harshly with Berez and release the girl. This, he felt, would be a reflection upon his actions in the case, hence he concluded that the safest way was to let the girl escape and end the case. A good many Cubans think that this is the true solution of the case.

No general who has led the Cuban forces to victory over the Spaniards has attained the world-wide prominence of Senorita Cisneros.

She destroyed and trampled upon a portrait of Gen. Weyler; she conspired against the Spanish crown; she attempted the life of Gov. Berez, of the Isle of Pines—at least, this is what the Spanish charged her with doing—and she was flung into Casa de Recogidas with the outcast women of the town.

Took Father's Place.

The father of Senorita Cisneros is Senor Cossio, who was a Cuban officer during the ten years' war. He was arrested and sent to the Isle of Pines for his patriotism when the present struggle menaced Spanish rule in Cuba. As his band of followers was thus left without a leader, beautiful Senorita Cisneros offered to place herself at their head and lead them to the main body of Gomez's army.

But a member of the band betrayed her into Spanish hands, and on July 27, 1896, she was sent to the Isle of Pines to share her father's captivity.

As Senorita Cisneros is young, beautiful and vivacious, she attracted the attention of Gov. Berez. He became infatuated with her and made her the unwilling recipient of his attention.

One day Gen. Cossio and several other Cubans resented an insult to Evangelina.

This is what the Spaniards construed as an attempt upon the life of Gov. Berez.

Senorita Cisneros fled to the home of a supposed friend and was delivered again into the clutches of the prison authorities.

American Sympathies Aroused.

American sympathy was at once aroused for the beautiful young patriot. Consul-General Lee left nothing undone in his effort to secure her release. The services and sympathy of even the Queen Regent of Spain and the Pope were enlisted.

Petitions were signed and forwarded to the Court of Spain, and it was only after many obstacles had been overcome that anything was done to alleviate the unhappy conditions of the beautiful young prisoner.

McKinley Will Vote in Ohio.

Washington, Oct. 9.—It was learned at the White House that President McKinley would probably go to Ohio to vote. The date of his leaving the city has not yet been decided upon.

WHIST.

The Orange Club was scheduled to play for the Park whist trophy at Elizabeth last Wednesday, but one of their players was unable to go and the Orange team had to forfeit their turn at the cup. Next Wednesday the Park Club four, of this city, will meet the Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club in Elizabeth.

GOLF.

This afternoon a seven men team, from the Hillside Golf Club, will meet the Elizabeth Golf Club at Elizabeth. Next Saturday the Plainfielders will play the Morristown Field Club in this city, and on October 30th the Elizabeth Club will come to Plainfield for a return game.

CYCLING COMMENT.

It is expected that over 300 riders will participate in the bicycle carnival and parade to be held in Somerville soon. About $40 in prizes will be given and a lunch served after the parade.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The regular inspection of the city police will take place in the Council Chamber at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

—Walter Manning, of L. L. Manning & Son, is erecting a monument in Fairview cemetery, Westfield, today.

—J. H. Manning, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will lead the East Third Street mission service tomorrow evening.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., held a special communication last night and conferred the F. C. degree on four candidates.

—G. Q. Packer has had a telephone placed in his furniture store by Manager Runyon, and you can talk with him by calling up 125-A.

—The next meeting of the Union County Medical Association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

—The iron girder for the new Watchung avenue bridge arrived yesterday and is now being placed in position. Sheriff J. F. Kirk is the contractor.

—Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, will meet next Monday evening and entertain the grand officers, among whom will be Grand Regent W. Holt Apgar, of Trenton.

—A meeting of the Borough Council will be held next Monday evening when the report of the Watchung Avenue Commissioners will be considered at an executive session.

—A novel sight is to be witnessed at Denton's nursery on Prospect Hill. It is a pear tree on one side of which is a handsome display of blossoms and on the other side are to be seen pears.

—It is likely that an operation will be performed soon on Edward Marcellus, Jr., who was kicked in the face a few days ago. The eye will have to be removed and a glass one put in its place.

—The Plainfield High School cadets held a meeting yesterday and held the first drill of the season. Forty-one cadets were mustered in line including the new recruits from the North Plainfield High School.

—In New York on Wednesday last occurred the death of Mrs. Ida Manning, wife of Joseph Roberts. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the residence of her aunt, Mrs. William H. Manning, 513 West Fourth street, at 4 o'clock.

Off for the Klondike.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Pacific Mining and Trading Company is the name under which a party of eighteen gold-hunters will set sail to-day for the gold fields of Alaska by the all-water route. The gold-hunters expect to arrive at Cook Inlet early in March. It is not their intention to proceed directly to Alaska. The first stop will be made at Rio de Janeiro for supplies. At San Francisco the ship's company will be augmented by several men who are expected to make the journey overland and by six experienced gold miners. These old miners will take charge of the prospecting expeditions.

Shot Himself Before His Wife.

New York, Oct. 9.—Charles Ward, a woman's tailor, committed suicide yesterday in the presence of his wife by shooting himself through the mouth in his office at 347 West Fifty-ninth street. Mrs. Ward was standing quite close to her husband when he fired the fatal shot, and she caught him in her arms as he fell backward to the floor. An ambulance was summoned from Roosevelt Hospital, but the man was dead before its arrival. Mrs. Ward sat on the floor beside the dead body of her husband and kissed him again and again. The police had to use force to tear her away from the dead body.

DUN'S REVIEW.

The Business of the Week Shows a Steady Increase.

New York, Oct. 9.—The weekly Saturday trade review of R. G. Dun & Co., gives the following:

While failures were the smallest ever known in any quarter since 1892, and business payments through banks the largest by $268,000,000 ever known in September, the speculators who profess anxiety about Cuba, or fever at the South, or a municipal election, still have some influence. Helping them just now is the fact that after extraordinary purchases for replenishment of stocks from any section or town, there must necessarily be for a time less buying from that quarter. Yet business is still increasing, the productive force steadily enlarges, the distributions of wages affords an increasing fund for purchase, and the foundations are laid for a larger business hereafter. The week's exchanges are 8.8 per cent. larger than in 1892.

Crop reporters, who have widely differed, now agree in putting the yield of wheat about 580 to 590 million bushels, which is nearly 200 million bushels more than will be required for home use, keeping stocks as they were July 1, the lowest for seven years. As foreign reports indicate a larger demand, and exports since July 1 have been nearly as heavy as in the best past year, with 2,985,784 bushels from Atlantic ports, flour included, for the last week, against 2,240,571 last year, the recovery of 1½ cents in price for the week is not without reason. Western receipts continue to exceed last year's, 8,001,220 bushels, against 7,243,969 for the week. With less favorable reports of yield, corn exports fall short slightly, with small difference in price. Cotton is unchanged in price, with larger consuming demand, though big crop estimates do not appear to be disputed.

Heavy crops mean greater business for railroads, and earnings have been increasing each week in September compared with last year, so that the aggregate of returns for the month, 12 8 per cent. larger than in 1896, are 1.8 per cent. larger than in 1892. Trunk lines show a gain of 4.3 per cent. and Western roads a small loss, compared with that year.

A large increase in the production of pig iron, with heavy realling sales of lots held on speculation, have caused a decline of 15 cents to $10.60 for Bessemer at Pittburg, though Grey Forge there has advanced 25 cents, and pig is stronger at Chicago and Eastern markets. But finished products grow stronger, with the demand outrunning the capacity of works in operation in many branches, so that delays in delivery are in sheets and tin plate bars embarrassing, and in some other branches orders cannot be filled within one or two months.

Wool has now reached an average of 20.37 cents per pound for 100 quotations of domestic by Coates Bros., of Philadelphia, showing a rise of 8 cents since a year ago, with a much heavier rise on some qualities, but following an average decline of 11 cents from March, 1893.

The exports of merchandise from New York show an increase so large that, notwithstanding heavier imports than have been expected, an enormous merchandise balance is assured, which must continue for months to come.

The complete returns of failure for September and the quarter, both by State and by branches of business given to-day, form the most encouraging report which it has been possible to make for several years. Failures for the week were 212 in the United States, against 296 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 46 last year.

An Anecdote of Speaker Reed.

The speech which goes down into history as Reed's first effort as a child was short, but the one which opened his way to fame as a man was shorter still, says a writer in The Illustrated American. It was delivered not long after he began his career in Congress. He had not up to that time taken much part in debate, but one day, while he was making a somewhat labored argument an older member tried to break him up by putting a question to him suddenly and demanding an immediate answer. Reed gave the answer readily. Then he paused, turned toward the speaker's desk, and drawled out: "And now, having embalmed that fly in the liquid amber of my remarks, I will go on again." The House roared. The galleries took it up. The newspaper correspondents sent it flying all over the country, and to his own surprise more than any one's else, Reed found himself a man of note from that hour.—New York Times.

Serious Drouth in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—Reports from throughout the State, made in response to inquiries of the State Agricultural Board, show that the farmers are suffering greatly for lack of rain. There has not been a rain of any consequence in the southwestern section of Indiana for nearly three months. Corn is as dry as powder, while there is no grass for stock. Many farmers are compelled to haul water for miles, both for household use and for their stock.

Quarantine Against New York.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 9.—The health officers say that there are no cases of yellow fever here at present. A rigid quarantine has been inaugurated here against New York and New Orleans, on account of the yellow fever epidemic in the Southern city. No explanation is given for including New York in the quarantine.

END OF HYPNOTIC SLEEP

THE SUBJECT DEAD TO THE WORLD FOR TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

The Sleeping Young Man Awakened by Sevengala, Whose Strange Actions Were Awe Inspiring—Subject All Right.

The sight of a man in a hypnotic sleep for twenty-four hours proved a great drawing card for the spiritualistic and hypnotic entertainment at Washington Hall by Dr. Ford and Prof. Sevengala, Saturday evening. In Saturday's Press it was told how Paul Smith, a young man from Punxsutawney, Pa., was put to sleep by the hypnotist, and was exhibited in the window of Werner's clothing establishment all day. Crowds of people stopped to look at the sleeping man and all sorts of strange stories were rife. It was stated that Saturday evening, when the twenty-four hours were up, the man would be awakened.

The programme at the entertainment was entirely different from the night before. Mrs. Ford showed her wonderful skill at mind-reading, which was quite remarkable, and Dr. Ford exhibited some wonderful magnetic tricks of the same order that spiritualistic mediums perform. He had a committee from the audience who were as much mystified by his tricks as the rest of the audience.

Then came Prof. Sevengala's part of the entertainment. He had several subjects from the audience and used them for simple tests to which they succumbed after several trials. One of his subjects was hypnotized and given a cane and then Prof. Sevengala told him that the cane was red hot but that he could not let go. The young man rushed about the stage in apparent terrible agony and rolled and fell on the stage until the hypnotist relieved him.

The same young man was hypnotized and put in a state of rigid catalepsy. He was laid across two sawhorses and a large stone, weighing fully a hundred pounds, was placed on his stomach. Then Charles Butts, who is empoyed at the Pond Tool Works, took a heavy sledgehammer and swung it with all his might, striking the stone squarely. The body of the young man bounded into the air for the height of several inches but still remained rigid and the subject showed no sign of having felt the blow. Women in the audience hid their faces and screamed when the blow was struck. The subject afterwards said that he knew nothing that happened except when he returned to consciousness, he was slightly sore where the stone had laid.

The transmission of thought by telepathy, as shown by Prof. Sevengala and Prof. Strananella, was truly wonderful, and the latter who was the subject and in a somnambulistic state, performed many strange things at the request of people in the audience, their requests being whispered to the hypnotist.

The event of the evening, however, was the awakening of the sleeping subject. The man was carried on the stage and laid there and the Professor began his movements to restore consciousness to the young man in the hypnotic sleep. He stationed several of his subjects from the audience at the head of the sleeper and requested them to keep the latter's hands away from his own head. He began his motions slowly and at a distance then gradually approaching. His motions became faster and more violent until he twisted and turned. The sleeping man began to writhe as though in agony. As the hypnotist approached very close, the sleeper seemed to try to roll away and hide his face.

"Wake! Wake! Wake!' Screamed the hypnotist as he placed his face right in front of his subject's. The young man writhed and tried to cover his face, but his arms were held. Then he opened his eyes and in a moment rose to his feet, apparently no worse for the sleep.

He was weighed at once and tipped the scales at 132 pounds. He weighed 140 when he went to sleep. He was weighed on both occasions by Charles Butts, who tested the scales with his own weight to see that they were correct.

While Smith was asleep his pulse varied from 70 to 78. Just before he was awakened it stood at 80, and directly afterwards it was beating 128 a minute. His pulse was taken by a disinterested man from the audience. After he was awakened, he went to McVey's hotel, where he partook of some soup and bread and drank a flask of sherry wine. He told a Press reporter that he felt all right, although a trifle sleepy, and had no memory of what had happened while he had been asleep. His pulse soon returned to its normal condition and he told the reporter that he would recover the lost weight in twenty four hours and probably weigh a pound more. He is rather stout and showed no signs of nervousness. In truth, the Professor was far more exhausted than his subject as he was compelled to keep awake all the time the other slept.

BIBLE'S THREAD OF UNITY.

DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT HOLDS IT.

Rev. C. E. Herring Dissects the New Position in Church Taken by Rev. B. Fay Mills.

The recent change of Rev. B. Fay Mills to the ranks of Unitarianism was the subject for a sermon by Rev. C. E. Herring at the First Presbytarian church last evening. "Mr. Mills and Orthodoxy" was the title of the sermon.

"It is greatly to be regreted," he said, "that B. Fay Mills has concluded it wise to accept the conclusion of modern thought that the old theories have no longer any charm for him." Mr. Herring went on to say that when they were considering Mr. Mills as evangelist in connection with the Christian Endeavor convention in this city last year, they remarked that he said "come with Jesus" instead of "come to Jesus." Mr. Herring did not deem that the right idea. Jesus himself said, "Come unto Me." You cannot go with Him until you have gone to Him. Mr. Herring then went on to say that if Mr. Mills did not accept the doctrine of atonement, he could not appreciate the meaning of sacrifice. It was a thread running through the Bible and to remove it would destroy the unity of the Book. The highest thing in the world is holiness and not happiness.

"It seems to me," said the preacher, "that he has put that aside." He suggested the thought, however, that this might be only a transition period in his life. He has been interested, he said, in Gospel for society—he wants to convert the State and corporations and forgets the doctrine of atonement.

"I believe," continued Mr. Herring, "that if Mr. Mills is searching earnestly for truth it will be apparent to him in time." He told how Dr. Roumaine had taken the same course and finally returned to the truth. He then added that he hoped he would go through the same experience and find final light. The time of excitement will go by and he will get down to sober thought.

He had heard it said that the cause of Mr. Mills' trouble was a swelled head. Mr. Herring said that he did not like that. No one knows what his reasons were for doing what he did, but if his objects were sincere he will come back to the truth. Mr. Herring then spoke of accusing people falsely regarding their motives for their acts. Then followed an interesting discourse on the necessity of being careful in criticising the acts of others lest one fall himself.

SPRIG OF EVERGREEN THEIR TRIBUTE

Foresters Conducted the Final Obsequies Over Remains of Niles M Vestergaard.

The funeral services of the late Niles M. Vestergaard, who died in the Alexean Hospital last Thursday night, took place from his brother's home 219 Stebbins place, yesterday afternoon. Rev. George Kennedy Newall, of Hope chapel, conducted the services at the house, speaking words of comfort to the relatives of the departed.

The deceased was a member of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, whose members, ninety in number, assembled at the house and marched in a body to Hillside Cemetery where the deceased was interred and where the service of the order was conducted by Chief Ranger John Allen and Chaplain W. Howard Toms, after a sprig of evergreen had been deposited by each brother in the grave. The Hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," was sung, after which the circle of concord was formed and the ceremonies ended. The members were then formed in line again and marched back to their lodge room where they were dismissed by the marshal, Lewis DeCamp.

There were many floral pieces, among them a beautiful pillow with the emblem of the order from the court members. This is the first death that has occured among the members of the court since its institution six years ago.

The pall bearers were Francis Whitley, James Patterson, M. C. Hansen, Joseph Bird, George Weber, Jr., and Jens Jepsen.

An Interesting Out-of-Town Wedding.

Among the coming autumn weddings of interest to many circles is that of Miss Marie Graves, the youngest daughter of the late Robert Graves, to Herman Harjes, son of John Harjes, of the banking house of Morgan-Harjes, of Paris. The ceremony will take place October 20th at "My Fancy," the country place of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm W. Ford, at Babylon, L. I. Mrs. Ford is a sister of Miss Graves. Another sister is Mrs. Thomas B. Penton, of Rockview avenue, North Plainfield.

WON THEIR FIRST GAME

MURRAY HILL ATHLETIC CLUB DEFEATED BY LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAM.

Visitors Were Not as Strong an Aggregation as Was Expected—Home Team Also Weak—Large Attendance.

The football season opened for the Plainfield Athletic Association, Saturday afternoon. The eleven from the Murray Hill Athletic Club came out confident of defeating the home team without trouble. It was their first game, but they thought that the Plainfield boys were easy. When the local team began to break big holes in their line, their confidence turned to disgust and they played a very ragged game. The Plainfield A. A. finally won by a score of 28 to 0.

The opening was not a very auspicious one as the home management had hoped. The visitors, who came with the reputation of being more than a match for the Plainfield team, did not come up to expectations and they fooled most of the game. The local team was weak through the absence of several of the best players. There was a large attendance, however, and the last ten minutes of the game was exciting as both teams woke up and played a hard game.

The visitors were a little late in arriving while some of the local players failed to show up. At last both teams were ready and lined up for the game. Plainfield had the kickoff and Darling sent the ball far down the field. It was then taken up for a scrimmage and the Murray Hills lost it on four downs. The Plainfield line was weaker than usual and the opposing backs broke through, but the interference was fair and the ball was pushed rapidly down the field. The end plays gained the most. At last Cuming dove through centre and crossed the goal line after a five-yard run and scored the first touchdown. Darling kicked the goal. Score: Plainfield, 6; Murray Hills, 0.

Darling caught the kickoff, but Plainfield lost the ball on four downs, and the visitors began to brace up and carry the ball down the field for good gains when the ball was lost on a fumble and Rider ran with it for fifteen yards before being downed. Darling gained ten more on another fumble, and after several tackle plays Cuming circles left end for thirty five yards and another touchdown, while Hallock showed his ability as an interferer. Darling failed to kick the goal. Score, Plainfield, 10; Murray Hills. 0

Freeman scores the next touchdown after several minutes of play by a sharp dash through right tackle for twenty-five yards. Darling failed to kick the goal. Score, Plainfield, 14; Murray Hills, 0.

Darling returned the kickoff and then after a scrimmage time was called.

In the first two minutes of play in the second half, Freeman caught the ball on a fluke and ran sixty-five yards with both teams in pursuit to be tackled just as he fell over the goal line. Darling did not kick the goal. Score, Plainfield, 18; Murray Hills, 0.

Three kicks out of bounds gave the kickoff to Plainfield. The battle was carried down the field and Darling punted over the goal line. The ball was taken to the twenty-five yard line and then Plainfield took the ball on four downs. Darling went for twenty yards and Freeman covered the remaining ten, scoring a touchdown. Darling kicked the goal. Score: Plainfield, 24; Murray Hills, 0

After eight minutes of hard play, Serrell carried the ball over the line again, making the last touchdown, Darling failing to kick the goal. Score: Plainfield, 28; Murray Hills, 0. Time was called with the ball in the middle of the field.

Brown had to retire after the first half on account of a sprained ankle, and the other players were changed about, Barker giving way to give Hinrich a chance. Phillips made a good showing at end. The need of more team practice was shown. The teams lined up as follows:

Murray Hill A. C.		Plainfield A A.
Lane	right end	Serrell, Phillips
Dodsworth	right tackle	Hallock
Mitchell	right guard	Brown, Hinrich
Auerbach	centre	Barker, Cuming
Yates	left guard	Huntington
Murphy	left tackle	McClure
Jacobs	left end	Rider
Casey	quarterback	Waring
Dickson	right halfback	Cuming, Serrell
Taylor	fullback	Darling

Score—Plainfield A. A., 28; Murray Hill A.C., 0. Touchdowns—Cuming, 2; Freeman, 2; Serrell, 1. Goals from touchdown—Darling. Time of game—Two twenty minute halves. Referee—Harry Lovell. Umpire—Nathan Titsworth. Linesmen—A. Willis West and Laurens H. VanBuren. Time-keeper—Marion Ackerman.

Opposition to Workers.

Geo. C. Needham's class, this evening, meets in Young Men's Christian Association Hall. He will continue his addresses on Nehemiah. Subject for this evening, Chapter IV. Dr. Stearns has arrived from India. Mr. Needham will speak of his work this evening.

CLOSED ONE OF HIS EYES

WHIT FRAZEE'S UNPLEASANT CONFLICT WITH A FOOTBALL COACH.

Defeated Football Players Wanted to Paint the Town Red—The Expressman Said Something and Was Pummeled.

They mistook Plainfield for Jayville and discovered that there was considerable difference. As a result the innocent one had to suffer, and he who had taken no part in the painting of the town spent thirty six hours in jail.

The Murray Hill Athletic Club played football in this city Saturday afternoon, as is stated in another column, and the Plainfield boys defeated them 28 to 0. The strangers were out for a good time, and when they found that they were beaten they went out to do the town—that is, some of them did.

The Murray Hill team was composed partially of players from the Brooklyn Latin School. With them came George W. Yates, their coach, to watch them play and profit thereby in selecting the school team.

After the games the school boys marched down town. They tried to assist the Salvation Army, wanted to be hypnotic subjects and played all sorts of pranks about the streets. Yates wanted to get them home, but the boys thought that they were having too much fun and stayed. It was soon after 8 o'clock when Yates had managed to get two of the boys on the way to the station. The small boys had been hooting and guying at the players until Yates lost patience and slapped one of the youngsters across the face.

Then they returned from the station to look for the rest who had strayed away, and as they passed Rogers' bicycle store somebody made a remark about the blow that the youngster received. Words passed and it ended in Whitney Frazee having his eye cut open by a blow from the Brooklyn man's fist. John Keeley, who happened to be there at the time, stated in court this morning that Frazee laid down his bundles and struck the first blow. Frazee and two of his companions claimed that Yates was the aggressor and struck the express messenger when his hands were filled with bundles.

Then Yates and his companions walked away and took the trolley car to Netherwood. Sergeant Kiely took a hack and started in pursuit and arrested Yates at the Netherwood station as he was about to take a train for home. He was locked up and ramained in the condemned city jail with all the creeping and crawling things, until this morning, when he was arraigned before the City Judge.

Frazee appeared with his head all tied up in bandages. He said, however, that he did not want Yates severely punished. Yates pleaded guilty, but both stories were told and then the Judge fined him $8, which was paid.

IN THE KLONDYKE REGION.

Word Received That Robert Wyckoff is Doing Well.

Saturday evening a letter was received in this city from Robert Wyckoff, who is now in the Klondyke regions. The letter states that he is doing nicely and is well provided for. He, together with a party, including two old miners, have settled in a comparatively new town and their quarters are comfortable. They have plenty to eat and there is no fear of starvation. The roads in the vicinity of their cabin are deep with mud, and as soon as the ground becomes frozen they expect to start on their journey over the pass to the gold regions. On their claim, which they paid the Government $15 for, is any quantity of lumber, and this they are cutting and selling for fuel, and they receive a good price for it. Everyone in the party is hopeful that they will become rich and strike plenty of gold. Mr. Wyckoff says that his health is fine, and that he has not thus far experienced any hardships.

A Pleasing Reader.

Miss Anna L. Harris, of Boston, gave a very pleasing and instructive entertainment here last evening. Miss Harris is an artist in elocution and created a very favorable impression. Her rendering of "The Honor of the Woods," by Murray, was especially fine.—Syracuse Post. Tomorrow evening at Y. M. C. A. Hall.

First Tea of the Season.

The first "Tea" of the season, under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Tier, Sr., of Bank place, on Thursday evening of next week, October 21st. The entire proceeds will be added to the carpet fund. Such a worthy object will no doubt mean a large attendance.

ESCAPED BY USE OF LASH.

WARNECK A PLUCKY YOUNG DRIVER.

Encountered Desperate Tramps—Horse Urged to a Run and the Desperadoes Left Behind.

Richard Warneck, of 11 Steiner place, and Charles Vardon, of East Fourth street, had an exciting experience with three highwaymen near Oak Tree on Saturday night. Warneck is a driver for Morris Ballentine, a Watchung avenue butcher. Of late he has been working on a country route, which makes it necessary for him often to be out after dark at a distance from the city. On Saturday evening Warneck took his friend Charles Vardon along with him for company. The orders were heavy and it was after dark before the wagon was upon its return trip. At about 7 o'clock they reached the neighborhood of Oak Tree and drove on into a lonely stretch of road where the trees are thick on each side and no houses are near.

As they turned a curve in the road Vardon pointed ahead to a spot where a huge bon fire was burning. Around it in the bright light were gathered the forms of the men.

"Weary Willies," remarked Warneck. They drove on and soon the noise of the approaching wagon reached the ears of the men.

They looked in its direction for a moment and one of their number said something to the rest and walked away.

A minute later he had sprung from the bushes at the roadside and was clinging to the horse's head.

"Hold up, young feller," he yelled. Warneck lashed his horse into a gallop, and the fellow was forced to let go of the bridle to save himself from being trampled upon. The others stood ahead in the road and attempted to hold the plunging animal, but they could not. Warneck lashed the men fiercely with the whip, and the frightened animal soon left all three far behind.

FROM NEAR YERKES CHAPEL.

A Missionary From Far Off India Talks Interestingly.

An interesting meeting was held at the First Baptist church last evening under the auspices of the Temple Builders, a society of young men in the church organized for missionary purposes. George H. Batchelor, president of the society, was in charge. He stated that the society was formed in 1892, and on July 10th of that year the Yerkes Memorial chapel was erected at Teto, India, and is now supported by the society at an annual expense of $100. Mr. Batchelor then introduced Prof. G. N. Thompssen, a missionary, who has been laboring in India near the location of the chapel. Mr. Thompssen is an interesting speaker, and he related many things peculiar to the country in which he had lived. He enlightened very much his audience in mission work and enlisted their sympathies. At the close of the service a collection for the work was taken.

THEIR FIRST CONCERT.

The Plainfield Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club to Appear October 26th.

The Plainfield Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club, composed of local talent, will make its first appearance of the season on the night of Tuesday, October 26th, at Monroe Avenue M. E church, under the auspices of the Young Men's Association of that church. Last year the club made two very successful appearances, first in the entertainment of the Royal Arcanum and then at the commencement of the North Plainfield High School. At the entertainment this season, the club will be assisted by Miss Marion Short, of New York, an elocutionist of exceptional talent, who was received very favorably at the Crescent Avenue church in a recent entertainment.

SCALDED BY STEAM.

A Little Girl's Investigating Mind Resulted Seriously for Her Comfort.

Grace McVey, the six-year-old daughter of John H. McVey, the North avenue hotel keeper, was badly scalded upon the left hand by steam at 11 o'clock this morning.

Steam is used in the hotel for many purposes such as cleansing linen, and a high pressure is kept in the boiler in the kitchen.

Today while the laundress was absent, the child decided to investigate the workings of the faucet, and instantly her hand was enveloped in scalding steam. The screams of the child startled the inmates of the hotel. Her hand was treated with simple remedies and it is thought no serious result will follow the injury.

—A Sunday-school entertainment will be given at the Monroe Avenue church on Thursday evening of this week.

A PREACHER SLANDERED

REV. P. S. GIBSON STARTS A SUIT AGAINST MISS LUCY SWAN.

It is Alleged That She Accused Him of a Serious Offense and Mt. Olive Congregation is in a State of Turmoil.

Rev. Philip S. Gibson, pastor of the Mt. Olive colored Baptist church, of Liberty street, has troubles of his own, which have led him to bring suit in the Supreme Court for slander against Miss Lucy Swan, a young colored woman living in this city.

Miss Swan was at one time a member of the Mt. Olive church, but was expelled some time ago on charges of immorality. Ever since her expulsion from the church Lucy has proved a hoodoo to the congregation individually and collectively. For some time it was whispered that a man prominent in the church was paying undue attention to Lucy, and the matter came to a climax about two months ago when the girl preferred a previous charge against the officer in question, and a special committee was appointed by the church to investigate the matter.

By the time the girl was summoned before the committee she had changed her story, and the member under suspicion was exhonorated. Every one interested was relieved at what seemed the end of an unpleasant affair, when a new and more serious phase of the trouble appeared.

The girl announced that the guilty person was no other than Rev. Mr. Gibson, the pastor of the church.

The charge fell like a bombshell among the congregation, and nothing else was talked of. The matter first got noised about on Saturday, and the pastor and his friends when they heard of it indignantly denied the story. They are inclined to think it was animated by some of the pastor's personal enemies

Mr. Gibson demanded an examination of the charges by the church, and at the service last evening it was announced that a committee would be appointed in conformity with the pastor's wish to sift the matter.

Today Mr. Gibson, through his counsel, Codington & Swackhamer, brought a suit for $1,000 damages in the Supreme court against Miss Swan, alleging slander.

DR. KETCHAM MARRIED.

Former Plainfield Pastor Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

Rev. Dr. Kneeland Platt Ketcham, who for many years occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church in this city, was quietly married to Miss Reta Eleanor Crane, daughter of Gilbert D. Crane, at her home in Boonton, N. J., on last Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The immediate relatives of the couple were the only ones present at the marriage. Rev. William H. Woolverton, of the Boonton Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

Dr. Ketcham has a charge in Freeport, L. I., where he will continue to live after the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hatch, of West Eighth street, this city, were present at the marriage. Mrs. Hatch is a daughter of Dr. Ketcham.

FALL AND WINTER OPENING

Saengerbund Members Had a Jolly Time of It Last Night.

Last evening at the Saenger and Turner Hall, on Somerset street, occurred the regular fall and winter opening. There was a large attendance of members and friends and the occasion was a joyous one in every respect. The programme consisted of songs by the singing section; an address by President Henry Haurand; recitations by A. Wolf, M. Haubner, Otto Keller, Paul Postler, L. Selick; songs by Charles Dresselt William Classen and Charles Steuerwald. The programme closed with a comical farce which was played by A. Wolf and Otto Keller, after which refreshments were served in abundance. The opening was a complete success and everyone had a good time.

Convention Echoes.

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, upstairs, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Trinity Reformed church. E. E. Anthony will be the leader, and Miss Florence Hawkins is also expected to be present and make an address. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Borough Republican Primary.

This evening in the basement of the North Plainfield Public School will take place the Republican primary for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the county convention at Somerville when nominations will be made for an assemblyman and surrogate.

George Cathers, of Somerville, called on friends in Plainfield yesterday.

WASHINGTON MATTERS

The President and Cabinet Getting Ready for Congress.

OFFICIAL HOLIDAYS OVER

Maj. McKinley May Not Go to Ohio to Vote—Importance Attached to the President's First Annual Message.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The McKinley Administration has returned to town for the Winter season of work and social functions. From now until Congress meets, on the first Monday in December, the Government workshops, including the executive mansion, will be hives of industry, which will be interrupted only by the brief political diversion at election time. The President and his secretary are at their desks, to remain there indefinitely, and at the Cabinet meeting Saturday all the members were present except Secretary of the Treasury Gage, who was delivering one of his characteristic addresses at Peoria, Ill.

To a delegation who waited upon him a few days ago to invite him to attend a country fair, President McKinley said that he must decline with regret, as he had returned to Washington with the determination not to leave it again for some time to come. Some people accept this statement as a deliberate announcement by the President that he will not go to Ohio on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November to vote at the election on the result of which depends the fate of his personal friend and political mentor, Senator Mark A. Hanna, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

On the other hand, those who are close to Maj. McKinley and know how deeply he is interested in the success of the Ohio Republicans this Fall, and particularly in the choice of a Republican Legislature, say that he will cast his vote at Canton, as he has done for many years past. It will be the first important election since his inauguration as President, and his friends say that he will make a point of setting a good example to his countrymen and to his fellow-townsmen. These same friends of the President, however, were not many weeks ago giving circulation to the report that he would make a rear platform campaign tour of Ohio during the present month. It is not at all likely that he will do so, and, indeed, it now begins to look as if Secretary Sherman would abandon his intention to take an active part in the Ohio campaign. He will probably go to Ohio to vote, and he may make one speech on national issues, but this is not at all certain, as the venerable secretary said the other day that he believed it had not been customary for members of the Cabinet to make campaign speeches.

The first regular annual message of President McKinley to Congress is awaited with more than usual interest, as it will undoubtedly contain recommendations for the enactment of legislation of the utmost importance, in addition to setting forth clearly and comprehensively the foreign and domestic policy of the administration. President McKinley has sent two messages to Congress during his term, Congress having met in extraordinary session on March 15 last, in response to his summons. It was understood that the session was convened for the purposes of passing a tariff bill and authorizing the appointment of a monetary commission. The first object was accomplished and the way thus cleared for legislative action upon the many questions of foreign and domestic administration. It is because of the general belief that at the coming session Congress will act favorably upon the President's recommendations and give his proposed administrative measures active and substantial support that unusual importance and significance will attach to his first annual message. Already the President has begun to outline some of the features of his forthcoming State papers. Many of the more important suggestions and recommendations to be made by the various members of the Cabinet have been brought to his attention, and may or may not be followed by him in his message.

One recommendation, at least, involving a radical change in governmental policy, is apt to receive executive approval. This is the plan of Postmaster-General Gary for the establishment of postal savings banks throughout the country, as already outlined in these dispatches. The Postmaster-General will set forth at length in his report his arguments in favor of the scheme, and there is reason to believe that the President will ask for its favorable consideration by Congress.

Luetgert Trial on the Stage.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Inspired by the Luetgert trial, a local playwright produced "The Sausage Maker of Lakeview" at a Milwaukee avenue theatre last night. One of the characters is called Mary, another is a nameless widow, and the principal male character is made up to represent Luetgert. Mrs. Luetgert's name does not appear in the cast.

If the play succeeds the ambitious author will try to secure for the title role Mr. Luetgert himself, provided, of course, the sausage maker is not convicted.

The Long Drought Broken.

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—The long drought that has been so disatrous in this State, Nebraska, Texas and other Southwestern States, was broken yesterday by a copious rain fall. Kansas, however, did not share in the blessing, and the condition of a large part of the State is most distressing.

Stock is perishing for lack of water, railroads are burning fire guards for protection against prairie fires, and farmers are locking their wells against travelers.

Langtry Says She Won't Wed.

London, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Langtry, the "Jersey Lily," has caused to be published a statement contradicting the report that she is to be married to Prince Esterhazy. Her horses, it seems, are filling a larger place in her affections.

Blanco's Departure for Cuba.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Gen. Ramon Blanco, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Weyler as Captain-General of Cuba, will sail for Havana to-morrow.

BIG FIND IN OLD MINE

Copper Ore Worth $1,000 a Ton Struck in New Jersey.

SOME GOLD MIXED WITH IT

Twelve Years in Ignorance—Owner Is Having a Percentage Assay Made and Is in No Hurry to Begin Operations.

New York, Oct. 11.—A new vein of gray copper ore, carrying a large percentage of silver and some gold, has been discovered in a low level of the old Schuyler copper mine in North Arlington, N. J.

The assay made last Thursday by one of the leading ore-sampling firms in New Jersey, gives this find the value of $1,000 to the ton of ore.

The discovery was a chance one, and was made by Mayor George Bayliss. The mine has been worked for nearly 150 years, but Mayor Bayliss has been taking building stone from it. His prospect shaft was in the rock face of one of the old quarries and struck a vein which showed on the surface a width of eight inches. Within fifteen feet of the mouth of the shaft the vein began to open out into a vein of gray metallic copper, which was strange to him. He sent samples to the assayers, and on Thursday, when he was told the ore was worth $1,000 a ton he was skeptical.

"Why," he said, "if it was pure copper it would hardly be worth more than that."

Then he was told it was not the copper that made the ore valuable, but silver and some gold. Mayor Bayliss is having a percentages assay made to find out the relative amount of the precious metals in the ore.

He has owned the copper mines and quarries for about twelve years. He has plenty of money to operate the mine after modern methods. He has received offers for a capitalization of the mine, but says that if it is valuable enough for others it is valuable enough for him to keep.

Last winter a man who called himself Oleum Nobody was arrested for living in the old mine shafts. He blamed Mayor Bayliss for his arrest, and when he was sent to the Hackensack jail he told a reporter he had made a valuable discovery in the mine, but would not disclose it because of his treatment by Mayor Bayliss. It is now believed that he knew the value of the ore.

GRAVE RESULTS OF THE STRIKE.

Work on Warships and Manufacture of Textile Machinery Stopped.

London, Oct. 11.—The factories at Blackburn engaged in the manufacture of textile machinery have been compelled to stop work, owing to the strike of the engineers. The strike is causing great delay in the construction of warships. No new ships can be laid down in the Admiralty dockyards, and material is wanting for the completion of a number of vessels. The battleship Goliath wants her stem and stern posts, and the battleship Ocean requires castings and engine fittings. Both vessels were to have been launched this month, but the strike has rendered this impossible. The battleship Canopus is lying at Portsmouth, waiting for her belt of armor, and the cruisers Furious and Gladiator are both waiting for their engines.

Mr. Siemans, of Siemans Brothers & Co. (Limited), speaking in behalf of the Employers' Federation, says that it is desired to get rid of trade unionism altogether. If this is not done the engineering trade of the country will go to the wall. He adds that it is impossible for the engineering firms to pay their men wages for fifty-four hours a week when they get only forty-eight hours' work from them.

Will They Stop the Big Liners?

The Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Engineers' Society threatens to withdraw the engineers in the ocean mail service in the event of a continuance of the present dispute.

The Prince of Wales, replying to an independent suggestion that he use his influence to bring about an amicable settlement of the strike in the engineering and allied trades, says he deeply deplores the disastrous situation, but feels that it would not be proper for him to interfere. He adds that he regrets that he is unable to do so.

The Strike May Spread.

London, Oct. 11.—There is no indication of an improvement in the engineering strike, and the embittered, determined struggle between the employers and the engineers, of whom 70,000 are now idle, continues with almost a certainty of bringing about a general strike throughout the shipbuilding establishments of the country, involving another 20,000 men. No one in authority has the smallest hope of a settlement being arrived at this side of Christmas, since the Employers' Federation has declined the mediation of the Board of Trade and has refused to confer with the men. The strike has already entailed the loss of $3,750,000, and it is calculated to reach $10,000,000 by Christmas.

The railroad employes threaten to add to the chaos. They are to hold a great conference at Birmingham in a few days and will formulate demands which the companies say it is impossible for them to grant, and in the event of the latter's refusal a general strike of 150,000 railroad workers, which will probably mean the turning out of 1,500,000 others, will follow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Next Thursday evening a cobweb sociable will be held at Warren chapel under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society.

—This evening in the basement of the North Plainfield School a Republican primary will be held to elect delegates to the county convention.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Rev. Mr. Moffett, of Pine Bush, N. Y., who has been visiting Plainfield relatives, has returned home.

Mrs. W. J. Greenough, of Philadelphia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Matthews, of Grove street.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph, of West Front street, returned this morning from a two weeks' vacation spent in New York State.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Edith Horton and Miss Luella Crowther, school teachers in the borough school, moved Saturday from 21 Grove street to Sandford avenue.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith, of Willow avenue, are rejoicing over the advent of a young son.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Benjamin Young has returned to her home at Rocky Hill, after spending the summer with her niece, Mrs Levi Kline, of Somerset street.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

John Daley, of Somerset street, is spending a few weeks on his son's farm, in Hunterdon county.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits."

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

SEES SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

Does Not, However, Attribute Them to Politics.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Arthur Sewall, the nominee of the free-silver Democrats for Vice President of the United States at the last Presidential election, is at present in this city.

Asked if he thought there was apparent a revival of prosperity he said: "There is certainly more business being done, but I do not atribute it to politics. I imagine that the condition of the crops in Europe would have been quite the same even if Bryan had been elected, and it is certainly due to the condition of affairs abroad that our own affairs are improved. At any rate, there is an improvement, and I am glad to see it. In fact, part of my errand to Philadelphia is to ascertain whether it is going to pay us to increase the number and tonnage of our vessels."

Mr. Sewall would not commit himself as to the situation in New York City. Said he: "That is no fight of mine. I have no doubt it will all come out right. If Van Wyck should be elected Mayor of Greater New York the national situation may be somewhat complicated, but if Henry George is elected it will simply make Bryan's renomination more sure."

"Then you think Bryan will be the Democratic candidate for the Presidency again?"

"Undoubtedly," was the reply.

"And will Mr. Sewall be his running mate?" was asked.

"Mr. Sewall cannot speak for Mr. Sewall on that subject," said the Maine man with a laugh."

MUCH MONEY FOR CHARITY.

Dr. Evans to Leave Some of His Fortune to Such Institutions.

New York, Oct. 11.—Announcement is made that Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the American dentist of Paris, whose wealth is variously estimated at from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000, will spend a part of that huge fortune in founding and maintaining educational institutions in different cities in this country. Dr. Evans left for Paris on the French liner La Touraine, which sailed for Havre on Saturday.

Arthur A. Valois, the attorney for Mr. Evans, said that what Dr. Evans wanted to do was to put the bulk of his money into charitable, educational and benevolent institutions after providing for his relatives. He has always been an American and wishes to do as much good in his own country as he can.

One thing he contemplates is to establish a great dental university in Philadelphia. It is to be an elaborate institution and partly free.

From Mr. Valois' remarks it was gathered that Philadelphia, Minneapolis and St. Paul and possibly New York, Cincinnati and Chicago were to be the favored cities.

GOLD SEEKERS MAY FREEZE.

Hundreds Are Struggling on the Trail to Klondike.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 11.—Two men and a woman, who came over the land route from the Klondike, were passengers on the steamer Rosalie, which arrived here Saturday.

They state that hundreds of gold-seekers are trying to get through to Dawson, but that their chances of completing the trip are very slight.

The Thorp party, which has several hundred head of stock en route for the gold fields, is snowbound and cannot reach Dawson City this Winter.

The passengers on the steamer report that hundreds of men are facing death on the trails in the hope of reaching the Klondike this Winter or early in the Spring. That many of them will starve or freeze to death seems certain, as they have no means of sheltering themselves from the storms, and the food supply is very slight in many places along the trail.

BELIEF IN BURIAL ALIVE.

More of the Russian Fanatics Missing—A Search for Their Bodies.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11.—It is announced that the police have discovered at the town of Bender, a branch of the Raskolniki, the religious sect that believes its members can gain salvation by self-immolation. Bender is fifty-eight miles from Odessa, near which city the bodies were found of a number of the fanatics who had allowed themselves to be buried alive.

The leader of the Raskolniki at Benner, a woman named Kayiowa, who is the owner of a vineyard, has disappeared, and several other persons are missing. It is supposed that they have all been buried alive in the vineyard, and the police will make a search for their bodies.

Miss Cisneros May Bring War.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—The escape of Senorita Cisneros from the Casa de Recojidas in Havana may lead to further complications with Spain. Should it develop, as it is expected to, that her escape was planned and executed by Americans sent from this country for the purpose and given powerful assistance here, it is quite possible that the Spanish Government may make complaint to the State Department, and if she lands in the United States her surrender to Spanish authorities may be demanded, as well as the prosecution of those engineering her escape.

Such a demand would most likely lead to trouble, as public sentiment in this country would never consent to her surrender.

Reeder's Prosecutor Missing.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 11.—It is reported here that William A. Winsboro, the slate operator and principal witness for the prosecution in the conspiracy cases against Gen. Frank Reeder, late Secretary of the Commonwealth; Assemblyman Weiss and M. C. Luckenbach have suddenly left for Europe.

At Bangor, Winsboro's former home, the news of his departure was no surprise, as it was known a few days ago that he intended to leave. Winsboro's slate property, at Pen Argyl, was levied on a few days ago by the Sheriff.

Sugar Trust's Big Check.

New York, Oct. 11.—The largest check ever turned into the Custom House for import duty on sugar was received Saturday. It was signed by the American Sugar Refining Company, and called for $155,392. It was on a consignment of 11,000,000 pounds of raw sugar, which reached port a short time ago. It will be refined at the Brooklyn works of the company.

TAMMANY SEES VICTORY

The George Schemes Have Reacted in Its Favor.

CROKER SAYS IT IS A CINCH

Low Will Take Charge of His Own Campaign Until the Outlook Has Been Made Somewhat Brighter, Regular Democrats Joyful.

New York, Oct. 11.—The consummation of the deal between the campaign managers of Seth Low and of Henry George, whereby Mr. George's Jeffersonian Democracy indorses all the candidates of the Citizens' Union in New York County, with the exception of the candidates for Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Council, continues to be the sensation of the campaign.

Tom L. Johnson, of Ohio, Mr. George's millionaire manager, who planned the deal in order to get rid of the original silver men, all of whom wanted office, has announced that George E. Waring, Jr. had been selected as the candidate for Comptroller on the George ticket and Jerome O'Neil for President of the Council. Col. Waring is Mayor Strong's Superintendent of the Street Cleaning Department. He is a non-partisan Democrat. O'Neil is a prominent member of the Central Labor Union. He will accept.

Manager Johnson's Scheme.

In Kings, Queens and Richmond Counties Mr. Johnson has arranged to indorse the regular minor Democratic candidates. Thus he secures a complete Greater New York ticket.

Rumors are being circulated that Mr. Johnson was actuated by selfish motives in making the deal. He has large interests in the Nassau Street Railway, in Brooklyn, and it is said that he has so arranged matters that he will find his advantage whatever candidate wins. The organizations which started the movement which ended in the nomination of Mr. George and which have now been left out in the cold are still angry.

Apparently the George boom has collapsed, at least for the time being. But though the Alliance and the United Democracy say they will work against him, some of the smaller organizations which are members of these bodies refuse to follow them. They say that they will stick by George.

Citizens' Union Leaders Abashed.

The Citizens Union leaders seem to be ashamed of the deal with the Bryanites. They are now attempting to evade responsibility for it. Their Executive Committee have issued a statement containing the following explanation:

"The indorsement by the Henry George party can be based only upon recognition of their personal fitness for the offices for which they have been nominated. The Citizens' Union has not invited the support of any political organization, and has not entered into any alliance, understanding or combination with any political organization, but in its declaration of principles it has appealed to all good citizens to unite in the effort to accomplish the objects of the Union, and cannot properly repel co-operation of any citizens who may respond to this appeal. The Union and its candidates represent one issue only—that is good city government as defined in the platform of the Union."

Management of Low's Campaign.

There is much dissatisfaction with the management of the Low canvass. It is entirely in the hands of a few men who are making more enemies than friends for Mr. Low. The Gold Democrats, the Home Rule Democracy, the German-American Reform Union, the Brooklyn Committee of Fifty and other organizations which have indorsed Mr. Low are not consulted, and Mr. Low's own wishes are often disregarded. It is said that he opposed the George deal.

Mr. Low feel the inefficiency of his campaign managers here and will take charge of the headquarters himself until matters have been straightened out.

Regular Democrats Joyful.

The Regular Democrats are joyful over the disintegration of the George movement, which threatened to defeat them. Richard Croker says: "If you wish to know my opinion of the coming election, I will predict that not only will Judge Van Wyck be elected Mayor, but he will beat any other two candidates. He will poll more votes than the other two men behind him. Whatever strength there was in the George movement is gone now. This deal with the Citizens' Union knocks the George men out."

Chairman Elliot Danforth, of the Democratic State Committee, said of the collapse of the George boom: "It ought to give Tammany Hall a walkover. It certainly will help our ticket materially in the Greater New York district and in the State. I know not how Henry George feels, but certainly some of his followers are very much disgusted at the situation of things. The interference of an Ohio statesman in New York politics in this instance has not been eminently successful."

Senator Quay's Silence.

St. Lucie, Fla., Oct. 11.—Although silence is still maintained by Senator Quay in relation to the ousting of his friends from State offices and the placing of David Martin as Secretary Reeder's successor, yet certain statements by an observer of those movements would seem warranted even before the Senator returns to his State to survey the field. He has determined that upon leaving here next Saturday with his son, Capt. A. C. Quay. He will go directly to Sewickley and Beaver, without stopping off in Washington, Philadelphia or Harrisburg. He may return to St. Lucie after the November election.

Earthquakes in Mexico.

Oaxaca, Mexico, Oct. 11.—Serious seismic disturbances are again reported from the Isthmus of Tehauntepec and the eastern parts of this State. These earthquake shocks were felt at intervals all last week, and they are increasing in severity.

The inhabitants of the disturbed section are very much frightened, and are again moving from their houses.

SOMERSET SURROGATESHIP.

Newton B. Spencer, of North Plainfield, is making a vigorous contest for the Republican nomination of Surrogate of Somerset county, but many who are up to the ways of the politicians predict that George B. Cooper, his opponent, will land the prize. Mr. Spencer is strong in North Plainfield and Warren townships, but the leaders elsewhere insist that he cannot get enough delegates to carry the county convention in his favor. Mr. Spencer, however, is old in the game of politics and knows Somerset like a book. It is not to be unexpected that he may surprise those who are opposed to his nomination. Undoubtedly one of the things that has contributed to lessen his chances for the nomination is the fact that North Plainfield Republicans now have the honor of having one of the best offices in the couniy held by one of their number—Senator Reed.

FITTING PHILANTHROPY.

A fitting climax now comes to the endowment of the Policemen's and Letter-Carriers' bed in Muhlenberg Hospital, the result of the Labor Day ball game between those two sets of public servants. Mrs. Horace Kimball, president of the Children's Home, is in receipt of a letter from Postmaster Hetfield and Chief of police Grant, who were delegated with power to choose who should have the benefit of the endowment, in which they proffer the service of the bed to the Children's Home, to be occupied by such little orphans as may become afflicted with maladies that require skilled attention and treatment. Indeed, this is doing with charity for charity.

Plainfield's City Fathers are trying to ascertain the sentiment of the voters as to the method of granting liquor licenses, and it is intended to have them express an opinion at the local election in December. While the Councilmen will not be legally bound by the result, it is fair to assume that they desire to feel the public pulse, with the intention of conforming their own action thereto. If this movement gains much headway it may reach Paterson, Jersey City and Hoboken, and rob the Aldermanic office of its glory.—New York Tribune.

The Newark Daily Advertiser has changed proprietors and is to become a one cent paper. Compared with its competitor, The Evening News, the Advertiser has been way behind the times. Under the new management it will probably evidence more enterprise and take a higher place in New Jersey journalism.

Hot contests were made in the Republican primaries of Hunterdon county Saturday. Charles N. Reading leads in the Senatorial fight and will probably get the nomination.

In a betting way the Tammany candidates in New York are the favorites. The voting way is what tells, though, for both the candidates and the bettors.

State and local issues are to form the texts of the address to be issued by the State Democratic committee.

—Mr. Price, the drug clerk formerly in the employ of Horsley Barker, the West Front street druggist, has again been engaged by Mr. Barker and will return to Plainfield soon.

THEATRICAL.

The comic opera season at the Broadway Theatre, "the handsomest and safest theatre in America," has opened propitiously. Francis Wilson and his splendid comic opera company are now being seen in Smith and Englander's "Half a King," the best comic opera presented on the New York stage for many a year. There is no comedian on the stage today who rivals the deverting Wilson. He has a brand of fun all his own, that no copywright to protect. An evening with Francis Wilson, Miss Glaser and the other admirable performers of the company, serves to put the inner man in a comfortable condition. "Half a King" is beautifully mounted and the costumes gladdening to the eye. During the closed season the Broadway Theatre has been greatly beautified.

Trestle Was Burning.

The trestle in Holmes' coal yard on Madison avenue, near West Second street, was threatened with destruction by fire yesterday morning. The upper end of the trestle was blazing quite merrily at 9 o'clock when it was discovered by J. D. Macintyre, of West Second street. With the assistance of his son, George M. Macintyre, the flames were finally extinguished after a half-hour's lively fight with pails of water and shovels full of dirt. No alarm was sent in.

An Embarrassed Honeymoon.

Brooke, the great band conductor, neatly embarrassed a honeymoon couple at a Philadelphia resort where his band played last summer. The couple had tried to avoid suspicion by acting like old married folks, but Brooke perceived the truth and when they entered the hotel for dinner he had bribed one of the waiters to appear immaculately clad in white, even to cap, shoes and gloves. They were seated at a very prominent table and made doubly conspicuous by the waiter's appropriate raiment. When they stepped into the concert hall later the band immediately struck up a wedding march. The band appears in Music Hall October 14th.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. A Piano Sensation!

During this month we're going to sell good Pianos at the previously unheard of price of $170 cash, or $190 on easy monthly payments.

We bought nearly a hundred from different makers during the summer. These are good pianos that we guarantee for five years.

We have also marked down for this month the prices on all of our regular lines of Hardmans, Gabler, Voses, Sterlings and Standards. There is decided saving for the buyer who comes during this sale.

It would be worth your while to buy now, even if you don't want the Piano until Christmas; we'll store it for you without charge.

FIVE TIMES LARGER STOCK OF PIANOS THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE IN THE STATE.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1 50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15.00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18.00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50. Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1 65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00, 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16.00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12.00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined, French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3 25, worth 10 00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18 00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2 50 and $3.00, worth from 6 00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants actually valued at 12 00 to 15 00, sale price at $4.50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7 50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's extra fine brown plaid suits at $3.50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2 50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12.00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. Everybody living within tweny-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great sheriff sale.

It Reflects Our Methods.

There are two notable points about the sale of

that are worth notice. First, we guarantee it. If it fails to give satisfaction in any respect your money will be cheerfully refunded. Second, it is a remedy that can be guaranteed; it would be folly to sell an inferior remedy that way.

The price is 25 cents. It cures bruises, strains, backache or deep seated pains anywhere.

Our proposition on this remedy applies to all the preparations we make. Our aim is to make satisfaction the basis of every transaction. We believe that such methods appeal to thinking people more than plausible promises of something for nothing; more than the use of schemes which in the end must prove a delusion.

WAS HIT WITH A GROWLER.

COLORED MAN SPOILED FOR A FIGHT.

Persistently Butted Into Tom Marley and the Latter Doused Him With the Amber Fluid He Was Carrying.

William Brown is still at large but the police are looking for him while Thomas Marley is held under $50 bail and all because a "growler" was used as a weapon on North avenue Saturday evening.

Tom Marley, the blacksmith, had the "growler" and was returning from the saloon with it. He had company at home and they had asked him to take it out and fill it with something good. Marley had gone and was coming out of the saloon when a colored man fell against him at the doorway Marley thought the man had a greater load than he could comfortably carry and so paid no attention.

As he was passing along North avenue, Marley says the colored man brushed against him and tried to crowd him into the gutter. He pushed him away, but the man of color persistently returned and seemed spoiling for a fight. Then the stranger is alleged to have struck at Marley and the latter swung the growler, beer and all, and landed it directly on the head of the assailant. Considerably astonished by the damp reception the negro turned to flee while Patrolmen Myers and Cash came up. Myers placed Marley under arrest and Cash started in pursuit of the colored man who is said to be William Brown. Cash ran like the wind but it was a slow wind and the pursued soon outdistanced the pursuer.

A RECOGNITION SERVICE.

Sunday-school Officers Urged to Further the Cause of Christianity.

A recognition service of the recently elected officers and teachers of the Congregational Sunday-school was held in the Congregational church yesterday morning, preceding the morning sermon. After the usual opening exercises were held, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the church, called on the officers of the Sunday-school, who came to the front of the church. They were Superintendent J. A. Robson, Assistant Superintendent W. L. Morgan, Secretary Stacy Reynolds, Assistant Secretary John W. Kirkner, Treasurer J. A. Powlison, Librarian Charles E. Steiner, Assistant Librarian George Fuller, and Musical Director Mrs. M. E. Dwight.

Mr. Goodrich addressed a charge to them, calling on them to perform their duties so as to further the cause of Christianity. Then the teachers were called to the front and read a covenant in unison. They were Mrs. M. E. Dwight, Miss M. G. Morse, Miss J. Louise Jenkins, Miss Addie Parker Jackson, Miss Maud Belknap, Miss Julia Belknap, Miss Bessie Pound, Miss F. F. Clark, Miss Eda Beekman, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Anna E. Manktelow, Miss Adeline P. Parsons, Miss Estella Winckler, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Rev. M. E. Dwight and A. C. LaBoyteaux.

The exercises were quite impressive, and the congregation took part by rising during the reading of the covenant. Then the teachers united in singing one stanza of a hymn, and then all returned to their seats and the regular order of service was resumed.

Presented With a Purse.

NOT DOWN ON THE BILLS.

Fitz Lands on His Sparring Partner, and the Latter Falls in a Heap

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—Champion Bob Fitzsimmons opened his theatrical season here yesterday afternoon at the Fountain Square Theatre with a big house and an act that was not down on the bills that was the realistic thing. In the opening round of the bout between Fitz and Mike Dempsey, of New York, his sparring partner, Lanky Bob landed with his left on Dempsey's breast, and the latter went down like a flash, his head striking the floor with a splintering crash.

At once the greatest confusion prevailed, as another fistic exhibition fatality apparently flashed in the minds of all. Fitzsimmons lost a shade or two of his ruddy color as he hastened to assist the sprawling Dempsey. The violent contact of his head with the boards had dazed the latter, and even caused his legs to be a bit shaky, still he quickly recovered, but the sparring was not resumed.

It developed later that Dempsey had never before faced the mighty Fitzsimmons, and as a courage inspirer imbibed much strong liquor in anticipation thereof. Fitz said that Dempsey, whom he had never before seen, was drunk through and through and simply fell through losing his balance. He acknowledged being badly frightened, however.

Dempsey was discharged, and Fitz and Julian paid his way back to New York. Ernest Roeber did the sparring with Fitz last night, and it is likely that Jack Conley, the "Ithaca Giant," of this city, will be the champion's sparring partner hereafter.

SQUIRRELS AT $10 APIECE.

Two Connecticut Poachers to Pay $80 for Violating the Game Laws.

Hartford, Ct., Oct. 11.—The first arrests of poachers in Connecticut arrests of poachers in Connecticut under the new game law this season was made by Game Warden Tift in Groton on Saturday. The men were James Griswold and Ezra Andrews, both of that town. They were found with eight gray squirrels which they had shot. Tift took the squirrels and told the men that they would have to pay a fine of $80 by to-day or that the law would take its course.

The new game law, passed at the last session of the Legislature, maintains a close season on squirrels and most birds until October 15, much later than has been the custom heretofore. Game is abundant and reports of the depredations of pot hunters are becoming so frequent that the game wardens are determined to enforce the law to the fullest extent. The fine for each violation of the law protecting gray squirrels is $10.

GIRLS CONFINED IN A PIG PEN.

Serious Charge Made Against an Orphan Home in Tivoli.

Poughkeepsie, Oct. 11.—Charges of cruelty are made in connection with the management of the De Peyster Home for Orphan Girls, an institution conducted by a Methodist society at Tivoli, N. Y., and it is likely that an investigation will be made either by the town authorities or the Conference officials.

The home is managed by E. F. George. His wife is matron. There are thirty inmates, all girls, ranging in age from 2 to 16 years.

It was noised around the village of Tivoli some days that two little girls at the home had been confined in a pigpen on a bread-and-water diet for forty-eight hours as a punishment for a trifling offense. It was said that the little girls when released were suffering from nervous prostration and are now seriously ill. The charge, when repeated to the matron, was not denied, except that Mrs. George said that the period of confinement was eight, and not forty-eight hours. There is considerable feeling in the village over the affair, and the matter will not be allowed to rest until it is probed to the bottom.

MORE SPANISH THIEVES.

Stole $500,000 in Cuba and Didn't Give Weyler Any of the Plunder.

Havana, Oct. 11.—Another big fraud has been discovered in the office of the local administration of taxes in Matanzas. The manager, the cashier and several other officials have been arrested. La Lucha says that this affair will be one of "the most sensational in the history of frauds committed against the Spanish treasury in Cuba."

The despoilers of the Treasury, it is known, acted without permitting any participation by Gen. Weyler's agents, and, as in similar previous cases, the Captain-General intends to wreak his vengeance upon them before leaving the island.

The frauds have been carried on for several years, and continued until last month. The total amount of money stolen is estimated at $500,000.

SUICIDE CLUB IN HAWAII.

A Young Man Who Drew the Fatal Card Let the Cat Out of the Bag.

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—The Honolulu Press says that Hawaii has a suicide club at Hilo. There are thirteen members, some of whom live in Honolulu. All the members are known, but their names are withheld. They meet once a year in Hilo. Not a member is over twenty-five years old. They are of the fast set and are aged in experience.

Once a year ballots are marked from one to thirteen. The man who draws No. 13 must take his life. A drawing has just taken place. A popular young Hilo blood, known in Honolulu and visiting there, drew the unlucky ballot. He has become so overcome with the situation that he has given the whole thing away to his friends. He says, however, that he will destroy himself according to the oath he has taken. The police will attempt to break up the club, as all the names are in their possession.

Two Hundredth Anniversary.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The Dutch Reformed Church of Sleepy Hollow celebrated yesterday the 200th anniversary of its foundation. The ceremonies were characterized by a simplicity and directness that was in itself reminiscent of the adventurous Hollanders who came into the New World and built a place of worship among the camps of the Indians.

CONTINUES TO LIVE IN A TENT.

While He Receives a Comfortable Income from Valuable Property.

The old adage of "what's bred in the bone" is well exemplified by Josh Stanley, one of the best-known gypsies in the country. A rover from birth, wandering where fancy and pecuniary consideration dictated, he has taken advantage of the demand for flathouses, and has built one on the old Boston and Providence turnpike, near the Dedham woods, on the outskirts of Boston. It is a pretentious building, six stories high, and supplied with all modern conveniences.

The house has running water, electric lights, steam heat and even a janitor service. As the house is picturesquely situated, there was a great demand for the flats, and now nearly all are occupied by Boston's elite.

But Stanley remains the gypsy—he could not live under a roof—he could not be confined to four walls. So he continues to live in his tent, the Romany as of old, while his apartment house yields him a good revenue.

England Changes Front Again.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The final refusal of the British Government to take part in the approaching conference over the condition and prospects of the fur seals in the North Pacific Ocean, which was communicated to Ambassador Hay at London and by him to the Secretary of State here, will have no effect on the programme outlined by President McKinley and Secretary Sherman. The conference will be held as arranged, and representatives of the United States, Russia and Japan will take part.

Scalp Treatment! Ladies, ATTENTION!

E. Joycelyn Gelsinger,

SCALP SPECIALIST,

is now in Plainfield, and solicits your patronage. Her method is recommended by the most prominent physicians in New York city, as well as those in your own city. Treatments are thoroughly scientific in every particular, consisting of massage, steaming, singing and shampooing. If you are troubled with thin or falling hair or any scalp affection, give this series of treatment your early attention. Kapa Kota preparations, which are used in treating, are delightfully invigorating and refreshing. For sale at Armstrong's Pharmacy, Park avenue. All appointments must be made a week ahead. Trusses! Rupture! Trusses!

Dr. Marcley has opened a branch office at No. 325 West Second street, corner Central avenue, Plainfield, for the treatment of rupture. 20 years experience and the most modern appliances warrants satisfactory results. No occasion to go to New York for what you can get better at home. Irreducible, difficult and complicated cases solicited. The treatment of rupture, whether mechanical or otherwise, most properly belongs to a surgeon of long experience in that particular line. No charge for examination or advice. Hours 9-12 a. m., 1-4 p. m. and evenings.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

PIANO

As the safety has superceded the old high wheel so will the Wonderful supercede the ordinary upright piano. With it any ordinary player can imitate perfectly a Harp, a German Zither, Banjo, Autoharp, Mandolin, and 10 other instruments. The attachment to produce this wonderful result is so simple that it cannot get out of order, and the more it is used the longer the piano is preserved. Aside from the attachment the Crown Piano is equal to any piano made for tone, touch and finish. All are invited to call, especially musicians, at

CROWN PIANO

FARMER TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

Shot a Neighbor Who Accused Him of Killing His Skunks.

Binghamton, Oct. 11.—To-morrow William Lull will be put on trial for his life in Norwich for the killing of Frank Cox last October. Lull gives this version of the murder:

"On the night of October 29, 1896, when the shooting occurred, I was out looking after a cow that had strayed. My dog accompanied me, and during our wanderings the dog killed a skunk. The animal looked as if it had been caught in a trap and got away. While I was looking for the cow I met Austin Cox, the father of the deceased, who passed the time of day. Later on I found the cow and returned home. After I had retired some one rapped at the door. I went to the door and found Frank Cox and his father. They called me out and accused me of stealing their skunk, which was in a trap. I replied that I did not steal the skunk, but that my dog caught it after it had got loose from the trap. They both commenced to abuse me and dared me to come out and fight. I then ordered them off the place, and they would not go, but followed me into the kitchen, and I, thinking they would kill me, ran to the mantel, picked up my revolver and fired at them."

After the shooting Cox walked to his home, about half a mile, and upon entering his house dropped dead. The parties in the case are well-to-do farmers and the best legal talent has been secured on both sides.

THE IRISH PEOPLE UNITE.

Mr. Blake Says They Will Again Demand Home Rule.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—An important statement on the unity of the Irish people for home rule, by Mr. Edward Blake, was given to the press here today. Mr. Blake says that since the Dublin convention there has been a most decided feeling among the Irish masses, wholly in favor of the unity of the Irish forces. There are now but three or four men who stand in the way of a complete reunion of forces, but the Irish National party have to keep up the fight.

The next session of the House of Commons is to be an Irish session. The great debates in the Commons and throughout the country will be upon Irish matters. The bill for Irish local county government must prove a boon to the Irish people when put into proper shape by the Irish party at Westminster, and it would serve to put an end to the systematic depreciation of the Irish, who, though admittedly fit to govern in every part of the world, are told by a class of Englishmen that they are unfit to govern themselves. The Liberal party has remained firendly to Ireland, but it is much more demoralized and disorganized than the Irish party.

The Irish people are united, and the next general election will show their undiminished faith and firmness in the demand for home rule. On the other hand, there are signs of another change in England, and the Irish party must be prepared.

NO FREE SILVER FOR CANADA.

Bankers There Think Our Tariff Bears Hard on Canada's Interests.

Quebec, Oct. 11.—F. Wolferstan Thomas, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, whose annual address to the members of the association is just published, declares that the late Presidential election in the United States involved a paralysis, if not a death blow, to free silver. He trusts that Secretary of the Treasury Gage will receive such support as will enable him to restore the currency of his country to the condition of soundness requisite for the recovery of the industries and the commerce of the republic to their wonted activity.

"As bankers we are benefited by a rehabilitated trade across the border, but we should be better pleased to see that trade revive under a tariff framed more for simple revenue, and less aimed at injuring the export trade of Canada. I am forced to confess a feeling that our government would follow a perfectly justifiable course in adopting measures to offset by discriminatory tariff legislation the injury to Canada's interests."

POLITICIAN PUT IN PRISON.

Republican Leader Threatens to Tell Things About Senator Hanna.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11.—So fast and furious has been the attack upon Thomas R. Blodgett, the Republican State leader, since he expresed his determination to go to Ohio and tell from the stump how Mark Hanna bought the Georgia negroes for McKinley, that for a time the aggressive young man occupied a prison cell. He is charged with pretty nearly every crime on the statute books, and his friends have been kept busy getting bail for him.

The principal charge against him is that he has ben dealing in Federal offices and securing positions for negroes, who paid from $25 to $225.

The curious phase of the situation is that his asseociates in the camp of the Republican leaders did not learn about his alleged corrput actions until he became a violent anti-Hanna man. Blodgett openly charges United States District Attorney Edward A. Angier with persecuting him.

It is generally believed that Blodgett is in possession of information concerning the use of money in the McKinley campaign, that Senator Hanna wants to discredit before it becomes public property.

65,000 Men Now on Strike.

London, Oct. 11.—The Executive Committee of the Society of Amalgamated Engineers announces that 65,000 men are now either on strike or locked out.

The committee of the London Trades Council has decided to appeal immediately to all trade societies and workmen's clubs of the metropolis for money to aid the strikers.

Gen. Weyler Recalled.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—The Cabinet has signed the recall of Gen. Weyler from Cuba and the appointment of Gen. Blanco as Captain-General in his stead.

Gen. Primo de Rivera, Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, has tendered his resignation to the Government, and it has been accepted. It is said that Gen. Martinez Campos will succeed him.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

An interesting but one-sided football game was played between the Crescents, of this city, and the Westfield Club team on the North Broad street grounds, Westfield, on Saturday afternoon. It was evident at the start that Westfield had much the heavier team, her players averaging 145 pounds each while the Crescents tipped the scales at 139 pounds each. Westfield had the wind against her in the first half, however, and the stout resistance of the Crescents, aided by a couple of fumbles by Westfield's players, prevented either side from scoring. When the second half began, however, the Westfields had discovered the Crescents' weak points. Starting off with a rush their heavy backs pounded the ball to Plainfield's five yard line, and Birch was shoved over the line for a touchdown. He kicked a goal, making the score 6 0 in Westfield's favor. The ball was kicked off by Plainfield, and Carberry, of Westfield, ran around the end for a second touchdown. Birch kicked a second goal, making the score 12 0. In the remaining six minutes of the half, Westfield again hammered the Crescents' line for a touchdown and another goal was kicked by Birch. The playing of Titcomb, at the Crescents' leftend, was particularly good.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Brevoort Wheelmen, of Brooklyn, a private club, rode to Plainfield yesterday on tandem wheels and stopped at the Revere House for dinner. The club made a very pretty showing in an attractive uniform of blue and gold trimmings.

GOLF.

Last Saturday at Elizabeth the golf team from the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club played a seven-men team from the Elizabeth Club. The Plainfield team put up a fine game and won by a score of 21 to 12, winning by nine points. Below will be found the scores:

Plainfield.		Elizabeth.
Wadsworth	0	Darrington	2
Wharton	10	Williamson	0
Walz, F. W.	0	Thomas	2
Kaufman	0	Fisher	4
Baker	0	Warner	2
Walz, Carl	11	Sawyer	0
Beebe	0	Pierson	2
	21		12

Next Saturday the Morristown Field Club team will come to Plainfield and meet the home team, and on Oct. 30th the Elizabeth team will meet the Plainfield team in a return game.

Married at Waverly Park.

Last Tuesday at Waverly Park occurred the marriage of Miss Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cain, and John L. Hall, of West Front street, this city. After a pleasant wedding trip they returned to the home of the groom's mother where a reception was given in their honor. The house was attractively decorated with autumn flowers. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cain, Waverly Park; B. R Cain and son, Mr. Walker, D. J. Smith, Miss Emory, Miss May Lunger, Miss Jennie Lunger, Miss Anna Scheelein, Miss Lizzie Scheelein, Mr. and Mrs. McComas, Frank McComas, Mrs. C. L. Hall, the Misses Lena, Nellie, Lessie, Anna and Mattie Hall, of Plainfield and North Plainfield; J. C. Johnson, of Hackettstown; Miss Jones, of Adamsville.

Says His Wife is Unbearable.

Mrs. Reading, colored, of Race street, was arrested Saturday night on a complaint made by her husband. The complainant charged that his wife was invariably drunk and disorderly and that he has been unable to live with her. The hearing was set down for 1 o'clock this afternoon, when the offender was given her choice between $10 and thirty days. She will be given until 6 o'clock tonight to decide what she will do.

Superintendent Case Resigns.

It will be a source of regret to many to learn that Rufus K. Case, superintendent of the First Baptist church Sunday school, has resigned from his position. Mr. Case was forced to take such action owing to ill-health and upon the advice of his physician. L. H. Biglow, Jr., will fill the position for the present.

AUTUMNAL DAY.

Seasonable Services Held in the First M. E. Church.

Yesterday at the First M. E. church was known as "Autumnal Day" and special services were held morning, afternoon and evening. In the morning the pastor, Rev. W. C Snodgrass, preached an appropriate sermon to the old people. In the afternoon there was a Sunday-school rally, at which time the roll was called. Out of a membership of 307, there were 262 scholars who responded to the call, and twelve new members were added. The evening service was a most attractive one. It was a vesper service, and included an appropriate fifteen-minute sermon by the pastor, responsive readings and singing by the congregation and choir Superintendent J. W. Jackson, of the Sunday-school, had charge of the service and conducted the responsive readings. The members of the Sunday-school were present in a body.

INDIAN JUSTICE.

One Tribe That Seemed to Have Some Regard for the Squaw.

"According to the books I studied when a boy," began an oldish man at the club the other night, "Indians looked down on their wives and made them simply beasts of burden. That may have been in some places, but it wasn't always so, or so everywhere.

"A good many years ago there were some Penobscot Indians near my people's place in New Hampshire, who evidently thought a good deal of their squaws and made one of the bucks appreciate the fact that his wife was not a beast of burden. This buck went on what we now call a bat, and got drunk—'drank too much occapee, and Cheepie (devil) got in him.' When he got home he was in a bad humor, and finding his wife in his way he stuck her feet in the fire and burned them off.

"The other Indians discovered this very promptly and tried him by a very summary process. The general opinion was that he should be executed at once; but one of the elder bucks interposed and gave this advice: "No shoot him; make him live long as squaw live; him carry squaw when she want walk; when squaw die bimeby, then we shoot.'

"This advice appealed to the other men, and they decided to punish the buck as the old chief suggested. So the buck carried his wife around on his back, whenever the tribe moved, whenever she wanted to go any place. So far as I learned, she did not hesitate about moving around. Of course the buck hated to carry her; but the beauty of the arrangement was that he didn't dare to ill-treat her, much less to kill her, because his life depended on her. If she died, he knew the tribe would kill him.

"I don't know how long this punishment lasted—who died first, or if after her death he was pardoned or executed.—New York Sun.

BIGGEST FARM ON EARTH.

Machinery Used In Cultivating It, and 30 Acres Plowed in One Day.

The largest farm in this country and probably in the world is situated in the southwestern part of Louisiana. It extends 100 miles east and west. It was purchased in 1883 by a syndicate of northern capitalists, by whom it is still operated. At the time of its purchase its 1,500,000 acres was a vast pasture for cattle belonging to a few dealers in that country. Now it is divided into pasture stations or ranches, existing every six miles. The fencing is said to have cost about $50,000. The land is best adapted for rice, sugar, corn and cotton. A tract, say half a mile wide, is taken, and an engine is placed on each side. The engines are portable, and operate a cable attached to four ploughs. By this arrangement thirty acres are gone over in a day with the labor of only three men. There is not a single draft horse on the entire place, if we except those used by the herders of cattle, of which there are 16,000 head on the place. The Southern Pacific Railway runs for thirty-six miles through the farm. The company has three steamboats operating on the waters of the estate, of which 300 miles are navigable. It has also an ice house, bank, shipyard, and rice mills.—Knoxville Tribune.

—Among the members of the Plainfield Y. M. M. C. A. who attended the district conference at Somerville, Saturday and Sunday, were: W. D. Murray, Stephen Cahoone, Curtis M. Thorpe, H. O. Newman, F. H. Martin, Thomas H Stafford, James A. Stafford, Philip S. Suffern and J. H. Manning.

Miss Bennett, of J. A. Smith & Bros. grocery, is enjoying a vacation.

William Grannat, of Trenton, who has been visiting Plainfield relatives, has returned home.

—Saturday morning Carl Hauser, son of Rev. G. H. Hauser, of Duer street, was accidentally struck with a stone, thrown by a playmate, and severely cut in the forehead. Dr. D C. Adams dressed the wounds.

SPENCER MEN CHOSEN.

North Plainfielder Seems to Have Got the Delegates.

HE WANTS TO BE THE SURROGATE.

Three Townships Solid for Him and Advices From Other Places Indicate That Delegates Favor Him—Former Senator Thompson a Spencer Man.

There is every indication that H. N. Spencer will capture the nomination for Surrogate in the Somerset county Republican convention tomorrow. The majority of delegates chosen at the various township primaries last night are said to be in his favor. Mr. Spencer's most influential supporter is Former Senator Thompson, but a prominent man from Somerville this morning said that there was just the merest possibility that a deal might yet be made whereby the Senator would throw his support to Former Sheriff Dilts and secure his nomination.

The Republican primary in the borough was held last evening in the basement of the Public School on Somerset street, and the attendance was much larger than was anticipated. Previous to the meeting there was considerable caucussing on the part of the leaders.

No great opposition was expected in the nomination of delegates for H. N. Spencer, the candidate for Surrogate, and in fact there was none. Everything worked smoothly and in order. The news was received that Bridgewater and Warren townships had elected Spencer delegates yesterday afternoon at their primaries, and that seemed to have a good effect on Mr. Spencer's supporters.

The primary last evening was called to order by B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and Senator Charles A. Reed was chosen chairman, after which Councilman John MacLaughlin was selected as secretary. The secretary then read the call of the meeting, and in accordance therewith H. A. McGee, W. W. Howland, N. B. Smalley, P. A. Emmons, B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and J. Worth Coddington were nominated as delegates. The last named delegate represented the township and was elected. W. W. Howland resigned, and the other delegates nominated were elected by the secretary casting the ballot. After the delegates were given the power to fill any vacancies the meeting adjourned.

The Warren township primary was held at the Mt. Bethel hotel and the Spencer delegates went through with bells on, securing seventy-five of the hundred votes cast. John C. Cooper was chairman and Howard Toms secretary. The delegates elected were A. J. Jennings, F. E. Elliott, Charles Baldwin, John C. Cooper and Charles Mundy. Enthusiasm run rampant after the primary. Warren township is the old home of Mr. Spencer, and his friends rallied to his support with great vigor.

The Republican primary meeting of Bridgewater township was held yesterday afternoon at Somerville and the delegates chosen are reported to be supporters of H. N. Spencer for the office of surrogate. There was some opposition, but the following were elected: Christopher Ehni, J. P. Hecht, J. L. Griggs, F. W. Somers, W. H. Whiting.

Advices from Montgomery, Franklin, Branchburg and a portion of Bedminster townships give strong evidences that Mr. Spencer has strong backing in his political aspiration, and that he will no doubt receive the nomination for surrogate at the convention to be held tomorrow at Somerville.

A Somerville Marriage.

This evening at the home of the bride's parents, Somerville, will take place the marriage of Miss Craig to William Gaston, also of Somerville. Mr. Gaston is a brother of Mrs. O. W. Dunham, of East Fifth street, and is a well-known popular young man, both in this city and Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dunham and their daughter, Miss Jennie Quick, of East Fifth street, will attend the wedding.

Fine Programme Arranged.

The Young Men's Association of the Monroe Avenue church will give an entertainment in the church on Tuesday, the 26th inst., in which the Plainfield Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar Club will make its first appearance. The programme will also include Miss Marion Short, impersonator, Prof. and Mrs. Langsdorf Weitz, of New York, and other talent.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. Western, of Washington Park, left today for Ballston, N. Y., to attend the funeral of Peter Hogan, their brother-in-law, who was a division engineer on the Erie canal.

MAY HAVE SOLDIERS BOLD.

FIRED WITH THE PATRIOTIC SPIRIT.

Young Men Making a Strong Effort to Organize an Infantry Company of State Malitia.

Several Plainfield young men, fired with a spirit of enthusiasm and patriotism, are strongly impressed with the idea that an infantry company of State militia can be organized in this city, and they are now hustling to secure the required number of men, which is fifty-three.

The State will not consider the matter unless there are fifty-three men in the company, and if the company is well organized and is composed of the right stuff, they will give it a position, probably with the Third Regiment.

Dr. H. M. Lowrie, of Park avenue, is interested in the organization, chiefly for the reason that several young men have sought him with a desire that he engineer the organization for them. The young men who are zealous in the matter have only been working a few days and have succeeded in securing nearly half of the required number of signers, and of course they are much gratified.

They say that if Somerville can have a company which is considered second to none in the State, there is no reason why Plainfield should not have one also. Several years ago an attempt was made to organize such a company, but class distinction was a prominent feature and the scheme fell through. This, it is said, can now be overcome and there is apparently nothing in the way of a first-class company of young men.

Some of the young men now interested as leaders include Herbert Martin, Thomas U. Smith, Fred Ross, Richard Randolph and several others. Just as soon as the required number is obtained a meeting will be called by Dr. Lowrie. If such a company is formed the State will equip the members and allow them $500 for an armory. This is a great inducement and ought to be an incentive for the young men of Plainfield to join. Names will be received by any of the above named persons and added to the list.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION.

BEING ARRANGED BY CAMERA CLUB.

The Exhibit Will be Open for Entries From Three States—Promises to be a Great Success.

A pleasant feature is now being arranged for Thanksgiving week in Plainfield. It will be a photographic print exhibition under the auspices of the Plainfield Camera Club and will be the largest event of its kind ever held in this city.

For some time, the members of the Camera Club have been talking about holding an exhibition and it was definitely decided to hold one during the fall but the date and other details were not arranged until last evening. A meeting of the Camera Club was held last evening and routine business transacted, One new member was elected. Then the members of the committee who were appointed to take charge of the exhibits held a meeting to formulate plans for the affair.

It was decided to hold the exhibit from November 22d to 27th inclusive in the rooms of the Camera Club in the Babcock building. Unlike those of past years, the exhibit will be open to amateur photograpers of New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania and the camera clubs of those States. This will greatly enlarge the field and make the exhibition much larger than ever before. Applications have already been received from over forty exhibitors outside of Plainfield who want to know details of the exhibition.

The question of prizes was discussed and it was decided to give one grand prize for the best exhibit of prints of more than three in number. This can be contested for by anybody and will bring out many fine prints. Then diplomas will be awarded for the best in each class. The classes that are to be included in the exhibition will be announced in a few days.

Sent to State Prison.

Thomas Jones and Peter Swertz, the two tramps who were arrested in Jersey City by Detective John Blackford, and who were afterwards accused of robbing Purcell's store at Flemington, were tried on the latter charge at Belvidere yesterday. Mr. Blackford was among the important witnesses. The men were sentenced to five years in State Prison.

Celebration to Be Postponed.

Next Monday will be the anniversary of the organization of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, but no special service will be held. The celebration of that event will be postponed until the opening of the church.

BOY MISSING SINCE JUNE

JOHN MARTONE'S FATHER WILL SEND OUT A GENERAL ALARM.

The Lad Lost His Job in This City and it Was First Thought He Had Gone to Look for Work—Fears Now for His Safety.

The second day of last June—it was a Wednesday—John Martone, a bright Italian lad, disappeared from his home on Lake street and has never been heard from since the Sunday that followed that day, when he was seen in Westfield looking for work.

John Martone is the son of John Martone, one of the most Americanized Italians in the city. He is a hard worker and his son showed a tendency to follow in the footsteps of his father. He obtained employment with Rheaume, who then ran the sash and blind mill on East Fourth street, and made good progress. He lost his job when there was a lack of work and did various jobs about the city. The lad was anxious to work and was making an effort to get another position at the time when he disappeared.

Supposing that his son had merely gone off for a few days to look for work Martone was not greatly worried, although the boy said nothing of his intentions. He left on June 2d and has not been seen again at his home. On the following Sunday he applied to Matthias Miller, of Hargrave & Miller, of Westfield, for a job. He formerly worked for F. W. Hargrave, of this city, who took a fancy to the lad. Miller told him that they needed no help and the lad went away.

Martone has been waiting and waiting for his son to come home until now he fears that something has happened to the lad, that he has been accidentally killed, or murdered, or perhaps kidnapped by unscruplous Italians in some of the large cities. He is sure that the lad would have returned ere this if he had not been prevented by some reason and that he would have sent word if unable to leave. Martone reported the matter to the Plainfield police some time ago but they have heard nothing.

Now Martone has decided to take active steps. He has advertised in the New York papers and will apply to the Newark police to send in a general alarm.

The missing boy is seventeen years of age, is about five feet two inches in height, weighs about a hundred pounds. He is slim and had a narrow face, dark complexioned and has a bright, intelligent face.

A CHANGE OF EVENING.

Professor Sumner to Lecture on Monday Instead of Wednesday.

The management of the University Extension Society has issued a circular stating that the course for the coming season will consist of a series of six lectures by Prof. Wheeler, of Yale University, on historical subjects, and a like number by Prof. Sumner, of the same institution, on what may briefly be termed political economy. The lectures by Prof. Wheeler will be given as heretofore on Tuesday evenings, but owing to the fact that Prof. Sumner is obliged to be in his classroom early every Wednesday morning, it has been found necessary to arrange his course for Monday evenings. It is confidently believed that these lectures, offered to citizens at a nominal sum, will be as interesting and instructive as any heretofore delivered in this city.

No Contest Books.

A meeting of the Sons of Veterans fair committee was held last evening when further arrangements were made for the event which will be held during the first week in November in Washington Hall on West Second street. All of the committee reported progress, and there is every indication that the fair will be a success. It was decided that no contest books should be allowed in the hall where the fair will be held.

Round Top Farm's Sale.

Notice in this issue the advertisement of Round Top Farm's annual sale of trotting stock, the property of F. P. Olcott, at his farm in Bernardsville, on Saturday, October 16th, by Peter C. Kellogg, auctioneer. Send for the catalogue; buy a fast young trotter or pacer from among those to be sold; join the Plainfield Driving Club next year and be in in the swim.

Rehearsed the Minuet.

Active preparation has begun for the Spielkartenfest. A general conference of all the interested parties was held on Saturday evening when plans for the affair were sketched out and the dances selected. Yesterday afternoon the children who are to take part in the minuet held their first rehearsal under the direction of Miss Stewart.

GONE WITH FIRM'S CASH.

ONE OF SCHEUER & CO.'S CLERKS DISAPPEARS WITH $45.

Joseph Noel is the Employe and the Money He Took Was Collected on the Route Saturday—No Warrant Issued as Yet.

One of the clerks at the West Front street store of Scheuer & Company, the grocers, and $45 in cash have disappeared. Now the clerk is wanted on the charge of embezzlement.

Joseph Noel entered the employ of Scheuer & Company two months ago. He had lately been in the employ of the Plainfield Street Railway as conductor and has had several other positions. Noel was employed by C. B. Cliffton nearly eight years ago and is said to have disappeared from there with $200 in cash belonging to the firm. After a year's absence he returned to Plainfield and made some settlement with Cliffton.

Noel has been in charge of one of the delivery wagons lately and had the handling of what money was collected on goods sent C. O. D. to the patrons of that firm. Saturday he went his rounds as usual and made the collections. Then he put up his horse in the stable and disappeared. It is the custom for the drivers to put up their horses and then come to the office and make their returns. Noel never came, however, and when the time for closing came and he did not appear, it was suspected that something was wrong. When it was discovered that Noel's horse and wagon were in the barn the suspicion changed into a certainty.

While it was known then that Noel had made some collections, the firm could form no definite idea of how much he had. Yesterday one of the employes of the firm was sent on Noel's route and learned that the collections that day had amounted to $45.

Noel lives on West Second street with his wife and daughter. Mrs. Noel is a hard-working, industrious woman. She is a dressmaker and has been trying to do her share toward the support of the family. The disappearance of Noel was a great surprise to them and they heard of his alleged crime with great sorrow. Meanwhile, they are left on their own resources.

So far there has been absolutely no clue to the whereabouts of the missing man, but Manager Schloss is of the opinion that he will return after a time. Justice Newcorn was first consulted, but so far no warrant has been issued for the arrest of the defaulter.

SOME CHANGES TO BE MADE.

Borough Council Likely to Rearrange Some Avenue Assessments.

The members of the Borough Council, together with the Watchung Avenue Commissioners, met last evening in executive session for the purpose of examining the report of the commissioners. It is understood that some changes will be made in the amounts assessed. The Council will meet in open session Thursday evening, when they will be prepared to treat with all property owners who are affected and who desire to make objection to the assessments.

Brooke and His Band.

The celebrated organization from Chicago which has in a couple of years won recognition everywhere as being the best band in the business for playing popular music, will be heard at Music Hall Thursday. This will prove to be a sensation, as the voice of the press everywhere shows that Conductor Brooke does much more than is ever expected of him. His name is now second to none, and no band is in more general demand.

A Sportsmen's Paradise.

T. H. Keller, the well known sporting man, has just returned from spending a few days with Neaf Apgar at Pine Point Club Hotel on Orange Lake, just back of Newburgh, N. Y. Mr. Keller says that Mr. Apgar has one of the finest hotels of its kind in the country. The surrounding country, he says, is prolific with game of all kinds. The fishing is excellent, too. Mr. Keller thinks that it is a regular sportsmen's paradise.

Considering Assault Case

The Union County Grand Jury is now considering the assault and battery charges brought against George Becker, William Hobbie and George Simon. It will be remembered that there was trouble between the three at Becker's house on Woodland avenue on February 13th last, and counter-charges were brought.

The Classis in Session.

The fall session of the Classis of Newark will be held today at Upper Montclair. Trinity Reformed and the German Reformed churches of this city are members and will be represented. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, PhD, and George L VanEmburgh will represent the Trinity Reformed church.

ANOTHER BUSINESS BLOCK.

TO BE BUILT BY W. M. STILLMAN.

The Site is the Babcock Lot Next to the Schepflin Block—Work to be Started at Once.

A handsome four story brick building is soon to be erected on the present vacant field at the corner of Madison avenue and West Front street, opposite the Jackson building. The site of the new building has long stood vacant although a desirable lot in the centre of the business section.

The property has just been purchased by William M. Stillman from the trustees of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Memorial Board for a large consideration. The deal has been under consideration for some time but it has only now been consummated and the deed drawn up.

The property in question has a frontage of 116 feet on West Front street, running from Madison avenue to the Schepflin building. It extends back to Green brook a distance of about 300 feet, varying according to the widenings of the brook. The land in question is some of the most valuable in the city.

It is Mr. Stillman's intention to begin building operations at once. He will start work tomorrow on a four story brick building that will extend all along the West Front street side of the property. The ground floor will be divided into four stores and the upper floors will be made into twelve flats, all equipped with the latest modern improvements, including steam heating and electric lights.

The architect is William H. Clum, who has drawn up the design for a handsome building. Thos. J. McGann, Jr., contractor, has received the contract for making the excavation for tha cellar, to be 60z90 feet. The building will be completed on April 1st.

The property formerly belonged to the estate of the late George H. Babcock and was left by his will to the Memorial Board of the Seventh-Day Baptist church. The property was appraised by Assessor J. A. Hubbard and the late E. R. Pope at $16,000. There was no income from it and rather than pay the high taxes, the trustees of the Board decided to sell it to Mr. Stillman for a consideration equal to the appraisement.

GRAND REGENT PAID A VISIT.

A BIG TIME IN THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

Plainfield Council the Entertainers—Speeches and a General Good Time Enjoyed.

The members of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, enjoyed a visit last evening from Grand Regent Apgar, of Trenton, who was accompanied by a delegation of members from the Grand Council of New Jersey. There was a good attendance of the home council and the reception given to the visitors was a feature of more than passing notice. There was also present members from Greenbrook Council, in charge of Regent Davis.

The gathering was presided over by Regent Bullock, of Plainfield Council, and in his usual pleasant manner he led the host into an evening of great pleasure.

An admirable speech was made by the Grand Regent, who is an acknowledged orator. His remarks in the good of the order were practical and to the point. Other speeches were made by the visiting officers and the home council.

A feature was the appearance of an orchestra from Westfield, in charge of William C. Townsend, of this city. A number of up to-date selections were played, which were enjoyed by all. Mr. Pierson, of Plainfield Council, entertained the members with several selections on a grapaphone. There was another expert player on the same instrument present, and Mr. Pierson challenged his fellow-member to a contest to be held October 25th in the council rooms.

Following the speechmaking and music, refreshments were served by the entertainment committee of Plainfield Council, and thus a pleasant evening was brought to a close.

An Approaching Marriage.

Invitations have been issued by Rev. and Mrs. Clark Wright, of New York, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillian May Wright, to Dr. Louis G. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Newman, of this city. The wedding will take place Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th, in the Union church, Forty-eighth street, near Broadway, New York.

For the Borough Primary School.

The Board of Education of North Plainfield has secured the basement of the German Reformed church, where the primary department of the school will meet in the future until other arrangements are made. This change will relieve the overcrowded condition of the school.

BIG SCANDAL BREWING.

An Anonymous Writer Who Assails Good Characters.

SOCIETY PEOPLE ARE CONCERNED.

A Prominent Woman is the Suspected One and it is Believed She is Involved in a Net Work of Evidence From Which a Public Retraction is Necessary.

Whispers are going forth of a scandal in the highest society circles of this city which is soon to appear before the public eye and involve several well-known people who are now looked upon as above reproach. Mutterings have been heard and gradually the facts are leaking out and are discussed over many a tea table. Unless a settlement is reached very soon, there will be an arrest for the violation of one of the laws of the United States and at the same time a civil suit begun.

For some time past, members of the leading society circles here have been the recipients of anonymous communications, most of which were derogatory to another member of the same family. One well-known citizen has received several of the same kind and at last compared notes with another and the hand-writing was found to be the same. There was no clue, however, to the identity of the writer and so the matter dropped until several weeks ago when the affair came to a crisis.

The daughter of a highly respectable family in this city left for boarding school. She had been attending school in this city. The day before she arrived at her destination, the principal of the school received an anonymous letter stating that the young woman who was to enter that institution had twice been expelled from Plainfield schools for stealing. The principal doubted the truth of the letter and immediately sent it to the father of the new pupil saying that he did not believe the charge. It might be stated here that the charge was utterly false.

The father of the young woman was properly indignant and determined to probe the case to the very bottom and learn, if possible, the perpetrator of the dastardly attempt to injure his daughter's character. His wife was equally anxious to discover the identity.

They consulted a reverend gentleman in this city about the matter and showed him the latter. Then the reverend gentleman went to his book case and produced a letter written in the same handwriting and to which was affixed the name of the writer. Fearing lest their judgment should be biased, an expert in chirography was next consulted and he expressed an opinion that there was no doubt but that the writer of both letters was one and the same person.

A prominent Plainfield lawyer was then called in and the situation explained to him. He now has the matter in charge and sensational developments may be expected any day. An attempt has been made to settle the matter without recourse to the courts and a public apology demanded. There have been several consultations of the interested parties but it is impossible to state at present the outcome of the affair.

The offence is a very serious one as the charge can be made before a United States Commissioner of using the mails for malicious purposes and sending anonymous communications through the mails. The penalty in case of conviction of such a charge is ten years in States Prison or $10,000 fine, or both. There would also be grounds for a civil suit on the grounds of slander.

Among the recipients of the anonymous communications are a well-known legal light in this city and a prominent New York business man who makes his home in this city.

MR. M'PHERSON'S FUNERAL.

Prominent Persons at the Services—Burial Beside His Children.

The funeral of former Senator John R. McPherson, of New Jersey, occurred yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Vermont avenue, Washington. Senators Sewell and Smith, of New Jersey, and several old friends and associates came from New Jersey to attend the services. Many well known public men were present.

The coffin, bound in black broadcloth, with silver mountings, bore a plate with the inscription: "John Roderick McPherson, May 1, 1832; October 8, 1897." On and about it were arranged many elaborate floral pieces.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Elliott, of Ascension church, after which the body was taken to Oak Hill cemetery, where it was buried beside Mr. McPherson's children.

FLEEING FROM HUNGER

Gold Hunters Leave Dawson and Return to Seattle.

MANY ARE NOW IN NEED

Fifty Discouraged Prospectors Turn Back at St. Michael's—Miners Vainly Awaiting the Arrival of Provisions.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 12.—Several persons who have arrived on the Dalton trail from the Klondike, repeat the story of the scarcity of provisions and possible hunger and starvation with many persons there this Winter.

James Clark and C. A. Brown, who had been mining on Birch Creek, having left Dawson City Sept. 6, at noon, poled up the river to fifteen miles above Pelly River and there bought a horse and came in over the supposed Dalton Trail, making the trip in twenty-six days to Haines' Mission, arriving there on Sunday.

They left Dawson because of the scarcity of food. They report that the office of the Gold Commissioner had been entered by burglars a few days before, and about $4,000 taken. Mounted police had been trying to run down the thieves, but had been unsuccessful. Clark and Brown say that the people at Dawson were much excited over the failure of a steamboat to arrive from St. Michaels with food. The Hamilton was looked for daily. Dawson people did not know that the Hamilton had been caught on a sand bar and would not be able to reach them until Spring.

Clark says that he met hundreds of persons going to Dawson while he was coming out. He begged them to return, telling them that they would have to surrender their food, and starvation would be about the best they would get.

They asked him if there was gold at Dawson.

He said: "Yes, and plenty of it."

"That's all we want," they said, and continued on their journey. Clark and Brown are of the opinion that the Thorp party, which is trying to get into Dawson with several hundred head of cattle and horses will meet death on the Dalton trail. They passed the party several hundred miles up the trail. It had no food for the animals, and many of them had already died, and others were succumbing every day. The trip is one of the most dangerous at this time of the year in all Alaska. Thorp, the leader of the party of fifteen, does not seem to know the trail. On several occasions all were lost, and it was with difficulty that the trail was recovered.

Clark and Brown say that millions of dollars in gold will be taken out of the American side this Spring. They have several claims worth fortunes. New discoveries are being made all the time, but the scarcity of food has become a crisis.

Many were trying to get out of the country when these men left Dawson. The North American Company's store was closed, but the Alaska Commercial Company had a few sacks of flour, which were being dealt out to those who were already in need of food.

TO AVOID PROSECUTING REEDER.

District Attorney Fox Wishes to Withdraw from Wanamaker Case.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 12.—Before Judge Scott, James W. Fox, the District Attorney, presented a petition asking to be relieved of acting as District Attorney in the cases against Gen. Frank Reeder, Webster C. Weiss and Maurice Luckenbach, who are charged with conspiracy against John Wanamaker, and praying the Court to appoint a special District Attorney to conduct the cases. His petition said:

"By reason of the relations existing between your petitioner and the said Frank Reeder, your petitioner feels that it would be indelicate and improper for him to act as District Attorney in the trial of said cases."

Judge Scott will consider the matter for a few days. There has been no new development in the report that William Winsboro, one of the Commonwealth's witnesses, had gone to Europe, except that his brother-in-law, L. B. Camden, of Bangor, said to-day that Winsboro had intended going abroad on State business. Winsboro's absence will not be of any moment, unless he fails to be here when the case comes up for trial in November.

Catholics and Indians.

Washington, Oct. 12.—At the annual meeting of the Catholic Archbishops, which will be held in this city this week, and over which Cardinal Gibbons will preside, a new plan of administration of the Catholic Indian missions will be considered.

It is said that archbishops who have Indians in their archdioceses will themselves undertake their care and instruction, the same as they have always done in the case of orphans, so that the present Bureau of Indian Missions, as now constituted, which has been maintaining missions and schools for years, will be abolished.

Odd Campaign Scheme.

Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—This city had a novel feature in its political campaign last night.

The Republican ward organizations came to the Academy of Music meeting in behalf of Gen. Tracy in illuminated trolley cars. These cars were brilliantly lighted by electric globes and decorated with colors, and each carried a band which, on the way to the Academy, played popular music.

Over the Ocean in a Boat.

London, Oct. 12.—William Oldham, of Nottingham, proposes to cross the Atlantic in a steel boat ninety-nine inches long, twenty-six inches beam and forty-two inches deep. It will be propelled by a screw driven by a bicycle-like arrangement.

A sort of hood, that can be closed in rough weather, will completely protect the occupant. The boat will be provisioned for fifty days, in which time Oldham expects to reach New York.

Dominion After a Loan.

London, Oct. 12.—The Bank of Montreal has invited tenders for £2,000,000 ($10,000,000), 2½ per cent. inscribed stock, at not less than 91.

Of this amount £1,000,000 ($5,000,000) will be applied to paying off the floating debt of the Dominion.

TRACY TALKS OF LOW.

Blames Him for Cleveland's Election Over Blaine.

Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—Gen. Tracy, Republican candidate for the Mayoralty of Greater New York, addressed a large crowd here last night. Speaking of Seth Low's candidacy, he said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—In this canvass I propose to have no personal controversy with candidates or their advocates. I respect the motives of men, and I do not impugn them. But I must deal with their actions and with the result of those actions as I see it and believe it to be.

"Mr. Low, in speaking here the other night of me, said that we were friends and had been. I have been Mr. Low's friend now for seventeen years. Others may have served him more wisely; none has been truer or more faithful to him than I. I was the one who made it possible for Mr. Low to be the Mayor of this city. He was renominated and re-elected, and was thus made Mayor for four years. He says that he regards the fact that he and I are now foes to each other as a tragedy in his life. Allow me to say that if Mr. Low's political action had always been as wise as my friendship has been faithful, he would have no occasion to consider this as one of the tragedies of his life.

"Mr. Low was Mayor of the city in 1884. In that great campaign, when the honored statesman, James G. Blaine, was nominated for President, Mr. Low was silent; no one knew what his position was, or what it was to be, until after the election, when he gave it out—and I have no doubt of the truthfulness of it—that he voted for Blaine. But everybody under him in his department, every friend of his here, supposed that he was against Mr. Blaine through all of the administration. It is undoubtedly true that James G. Blaine was defeated here in the city of Brooklyn. Mr. Low was a citizen here. Nobody asked him to use his influence as Mayor; but had Mr. Low, as a citizen, made it known that he cast his vote for James G. Blaine, Blaine would have been elected President, and the disaster that the country has suffered from the two Administrations of Grover Cleveland would never have happened."

LUETGERT TRIAL ENDS SUDDENLY.

The Case Will Probably Go to the Jury Saturday.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The Luetgert trial came to a sudden and unexpected close yesterday.

Witnesses whom the defense had called in sur-rebuttal failed to respond when their names were called, and finally ex-Judge Vincent announced to the Court that the case of the defense was all in.

"We rest," concluded Luetgert's chief counsel. A sigh of relief was heard in the courtroom. After a brief consultation by the counsel in the case it was agreed to begin arguments to the jury in the afternoon.

Assistant State's Attorney McEwen opened. He will be followed by Attorney Phalen. Ex-Judge Vincent will close for the defense, and State's Attorney Deneen will close for the prosecution.

The case will go to the jury probably next Saturday night.

Luetgert as a Showman.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Luetgert is planning to become a showman as soon as he is freed, which he has no doubt he will be. With the middle vat and the pack of Great Dane hounds he will make a tour of the country, and thus retrieve his lost fortune.

"I have lost all my money, and this infamous charge they have put against me has ruined my business," he says. "Do you think I am going to permit myself to become a poor man—a charge on the country? No, I will make lots of money. I will make as much in a year as I lost last year, and that is a good deal. Then I will find my wife and you can watch out to see what I will do to my prosecutors."

As soon as the trial is over Mrs. William Charles will have a warrant issued for the arrest of Mrs. Veidt.

Owing to the failure of witnesses for the defense, the sur-rebuttal, which was begun this morning, was abruptly concluded at 11 o'clock, and a recess was taken. The argument began this afternoon. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen made the opening speech.

Pure

Blood is essential to perfect health. This is a scientific fact. Every organ, nerve and muscle must be fed and nourished. It is the function of the blood to furnish this nourishment, and the quality of nourishment these organs receive depends on the quality of the blood. If the blood is

Rich

Pure and full of vitality it will properly feed and support the whole mechanism of the body. If it is poor and thin disease and suffering will be inevitable. The great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing stubborn cases of scrofula, eczema, rheumatism, neuralgia and many other similar troubles, is based upon its power to enrich and purify the Blood

This is also the reason for the great popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a building up medicine. By making pure, rich blood, it gives vigor and vitality even in trying seasons, when, owing to impoverished blood, thousands are complaining of weakness and weariness, lack of energy and ambition, and that tired feeling.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A meeting of the Parliamentary Club will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

—A. Kane has the contract for laying the curb and flagging on the Belvidere and Watchung avenue sides of the property of N. P. T. Finch.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Elmer Neal, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Chicago, is visiting relatives in this city.

William Lawrence, of Sherman avenue, is improving from a recent accident he met with while playing football.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Brown, of Woodbridge, is the guest of Miss Pruden, of East Second street.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pheumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. James A. Stafford, of Grandview avenue, was the guest of Somerville friends on Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Phillip Suffren, of Linden avenue, has been visiting friends in Somerville.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

SPECIAL CROP REPORT.

The Cereals Have Increased—Decline in Tobacco and Potatoes.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The October report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture shows the average condition of corn on Oct. 1 to have been 77.1, as compared with 79.3 on Sept. 1, and 90.5 on Oct. 1, 1896, and 82.5 the average for the last ten years.

The preliminary estimate of the yield per acre of oats is 28.1 bushels, an increase of 3.8 bushels over the October estimate of last year. The average for quality is 87.6.

The average yield of wheat per acre will not be published pending the result of a special investigation of acreage and production now approaching completion.

The condition of tobacco shows a decline of 5.2 points during September. The tobacco reports vary greatly as between the different States, Pennsylvania and Maryland showing an improvement of 3 and 11 points respectively, while Virginia shows a decline of 2 points, North Carolina, 4; Tennessee, 11; Kentucky, 10; Ohio, 2; Indiana, 6, and Missouri, 6.

The condition of Irish potatoes has declined 5.1 points in the New England States. The decline ranges from 8 points in Massachusetts and Connecticut to 18 in New Hampshire and 21 in Maine. In New York and Pennsylvania it is 9 and 5 points respectively, and in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska it is 6, 2 and 4 points respectively.

BAD JERSEY CHURCHMAN.

J. J. Kents, Prominent in Religious Circles, Accused of Embezzlement.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 12.—Religious and Grand Army circles are deeply stirred over the sudden and unexpected disappearance of John J. Kents, who for years has been doing an apparently prosperous real estate and insurance business in this city.

Kents lived in good style on one of the principal streets in the city, took a leading part in all Grand Army matters, and was an active member of the First Methodist Church.

Kents, in his capacity as pension agent, secured a pension for Mrs. Koenig of $1,500. He borrowed $600 from her. She finally wrote to Wilkes Post, and Capt. E. C. Stahl succeeded in getting $200 for her in cash and a series of notes.

These were for $25 each. Three of these Kents paid off; the fourth one falls due on Oct. 21.

Mrs. Koenig said that when Kents owed $600 he wanted to compromise for $300, but she would not consent.

Kents' family deny that they know anything of his whereabouts. Detectives are trying to locate him.

TOOK PLUNDER FROM CARS.

Merchants of Dalton, Ga., Indicted for Collusion with Robbers.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 12.—Several well-known merchants of Dalton, Ga., have been indicted by the Grand Jury on the charge of receiving stolen goods. The indictment is a sequel to the recent discovery of a gang of thieves who for twelve years have robbed the Southern Railroad at Dalton. A coaling station, where all freight trains stop was the place the robbers entered the cars while the trainmen were assisting in taking on coal. Their custom was to throw freight, such as they wanted, generally coffee, tobacco, clothing or shoes, out of the cars before reaching Dalton. This was gathered up by members of the gang, and stored in their houses or barns until a convenient time for selling. For years the efforts of the road to run down the gang were futile. During this time it is estimated that they stole goods worth $100,000.

A few days ago the gang was caught by special detectives. The parties who were indicted for receiving the goods of the thieves are all leading merchants of Dalton, two being members of the town council.

MRS. ATKINSON'S TRIAL.

Refuting the Charge that She Signed Without Husband's Knowledge.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 12.—It was quite late yesterday before the trial of the case of Mrs. Atkinson, wife of Gov. G. W. Atkinson, indicted for forging the name of her former husband, the late Judge G. D. Camden, was resumed. The testimony taken yesterday afternoon tended to refute the allegation of the prosecution that Mrs. Atkinson signed papers without her husband's knowledge. It also indicated that there was no effort on the part of Mrs. Atkinson to give H. D. Heator receipts for money he never had.

The statement that Mrs. Atkinson will refuse to accept pardon at the hands of her husband in case of conviction is denied by all parties connected with the case. A verdict is not expected before to-morrow.

A MISER WITH $61,000

Pretended She Was Starving While She had Money and Bonds.

Boston, Oct. 12.—A thorough search of the rooms of Mrs. Almira Perham, who died apparently penniless on April 21 at her home at the South End, has revealed over $61,000 scattered about in odd places. Of this sum $24,000 is in cash. Bills of all denominations were found in an old bustle. The rest of the $61,000 is in United States bonds. Much money was found in chairs, trunks and chests with false bottoms and in odd receptacles whose existence was not revealed until the walls themselves had been partially torn down.

Mrs. Perham gave her neighbors to understand that she was almost starving, and she often received presents of money and food from the charitable among them.

Japan Backing Out.

London, Oct. 12.—An official telegram received here from Yokohama says that Japan accepted the invitation to send a representative to the sealing conference to be held at Washington with the understanding that the whole sealing question is to be decided, and not simply the questions which are covered by the Paris award, Japan having no interest in the Pribyloff Islands.

Senator Tillman Ill.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 12.—Senator Tillman is sick at the home of a friend in this city. He came here for medical treatment, and is said to have catarrh of the stomach.

THORN'S SECRET OUT

Guldensuppe's Head is Said to be in the Ocean.

DID THORN TELL OLARK?

Authorities Not Likely to Search for the Missing Part of the Murdered Man—Sufficient Evidence Without It.

New York, Oct. 12.—The head of William Guldensuppe is now said to be lying on the Fishing Banks, where it was thrown by a friend and confidant of Martin Thorn. This man, whose identity is known to District Attorneys Olcott and Youngs, hurled the plaster-incased head into the sea from the fishing boat J. B. Schuyler on July 21.

This was two weeks after the arrest of Thorn. The friend called on him in the Tombs on July 20, and it was then Thorn begged for assistance. The prisoner told the visitor he had hidden the head in the bushes near the cottage in Woodside, L. I., where the murder was committed; gave him an exact description of the spot; said he was fearful it would be found by the searchers and begged him to get it and put it some place where it was less likely to be discovered.

Thorn's friend did as he was asked, it is said, and returned a couple of days later and told the prisoner that he was safe, so far as the head was concerned. This so elated Thorn that he allowed his propensity to talk to get the better of him again and he told of the disposition of the head to Frank E. Clark, a fellow prisoner in the Tombs.

Clark first told his story to District Attorney Youngs, of Queens County, and the authorites here were informed later. Search was then begun for the man who had thrown the head into the water at Thorn's request. He is known and the prosecutors of the case know where to find him when he is wanted. It is said that no attempt will be made to recover the head, because District Attorneys Olcott and Youngs think they can conclusively establish the identity of the murdered man without it.

When Assistant District Attorney Mitchell, who conducted the examination of Clark in the Tombs last Tuesday, asked him to explain how Thorn came to tell him of his connection with the Guldensuppe murder, Clark replied:

"I did not try to gain any information from Thorn. I paid no attention to him, as I was very sick. Thorn aided in nursing me. Dr. Owen J. Ward, the Tombs physician, prescribed whisky and quinine for me. I used to get three or more doses a day. I did not drink all the whisky and one day Thorn asked me for a drink. I gave it to him, and he felt very grateful.

"After that I used to give the whisky I did not want to Thorn. The whisky made him talkative, and one day he voluntarily began to talk about his case. He asked me about Sing Sing Prison, where I had served a term. Then little by little he told me his entire story. It was the doctor's whisky which made him take me into his confidence.

"He told me that after he had placed the head in plaster of paris he carried it out of the house and threw it into some bushes, near the Woodside cottage. It was his intention to get the head away from there and throw it overboard. When he read in the newspapers of the finding of the other portions of the body he became alarmed and did not return to Woodside. He has not been there since."

ENGLAND'S GREAT STRIKE.

Other Trades May Be Called Out, Increasing the Strikers to 400,000.

London, Oct. 12.—A meeting of the Federated Trades Unions was held at Carlisle yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the question of calling out all the men composing the unions represented on Oct. 15 to be in sympathy with the strike of the engineers.

If the question is decided in the affirmative it means the stoppage of thirty distinct industries, including the boilermakers, shipwrights, carpenters, plumbers, blacksmiths and pattern-makers, and the total number of men on strike will be increased to 400,000.

The meeting did not decide the main question of calling out the trades unionists, but resolved to appeal to Mr. C. T. Ritchie, president of the Board of Trade, to summon a conference under the Conciliation act of representatives of the Employers' Federation and the unions. This will delay the crisis for at least two weeks.

Don't Believe the Charges.

New York, Oct. 12.—A great deal of righteous indignation has been aroused among members of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, over the published statement that the affairs of the De Peyster Home for Orphan Girls, at Tivoli, are in a bad way. This institution is under the direct charge of the society, which maintains intimate relatons with the matron and the inmates.

The president of the society, Mrs. Anita B. Fisk, says: "The matron is a most consistent Christian woman and is tenderly disposed toward children, and not likely to inflict on them any unnecessary punishment. She is strict in her ideas of discipline, but not inclined to be barbarous.

Salvationists Barred.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 12.—President Kittson, of the Board of Police Commissioners, has determined that the Salvation Army must keep off the streets of Trenton. He announces that he will have the members arrested as often as they attempt to worship there. This action has caused much adverse criticism. The preachers and friends of the army are clubbing together in a movement to determine whether or not the Police Commissioner is overstepping his authority.

Gen. Lee Ready to Return to Havana.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, who has been spending his leave of absence with his family at Covington, Va., called at the State Department. He told the officials there that after to-day he would again be at the command of the President and ready to return to Havana at once.

RAPID TRANSMISSION OF MAIL.

The introduction of pneumatic tube for the rapid transmission of mails from one point to another at almost lightning speed makes a new era in the postal history of this country. That the system will be a complete success when put into general use was shown the other day in New York when the experimental tube, running from the general postoffice to the Produce Exchange, worked to perfection on a trial. The advantages to the urban citizen can be seen at a glance, but it is a fact that its service will also be of inestimable value to the business men of the suburban territory. Under the present state of affairs a good deal of time is lost in the carriage of mail across the ferries to the New York postoffice, but with a pneumatic tube acting instead the mail could be sent from the postal train to the postoffice in a jiffy and vice versa. The time saved would be enough in many instances to allow business men of suburban towns like Plainfield to mail a letter in the afternoon and receive an answer the same day—something that cannot now be done.

MORE SHADE WANTED.

All good Jerseymen of this particular section know, of course, that New Brunswick politics are so shady that few good shadows are cast, but notwithstanding this popular knowledge the Women's Town Improvement Association of the old Dutch town are bound to have things still more shady—but it is to be the kind that is made by towering maples whose outspreading branches will give a rustic air to the town's thoroughfares. The women have agreed that the city should be beautified by the planting of trees along the sides of its streets, and to that end George street has been chosen for the experiment and will be set with numerous young maples encased in a neat box with the label of the society stamped thereon. It takes the New Brunswick women to show their voting superiors the bright side of municipal life.

The Spencer men say that the argument of some of the Republicans, that North Plainfield ought to be contented with one county office like a Senatorship, will not hold water. They instance the fact that Bridgewater township now has the Sheriff, County Clerk, County Collector, Surrogate and County Superintendent of Schools, and yet there is no kick coming from that direction. North Plainfield is conceded to be the backbone of the Somerset Republicans and the friends of Mr. Spencer insist that he is justly entitled to the nomination he seeks by virtue of all the things that control political parties.

During the last few weeks of her life the late Miss A. Kate Martine was ambitious that a handsome fountain should be established in the city park, and to that end she had interested many prominent and wealthy gentlemen. Now that she is gone, it is to be hoped that the result of her energies will not be dispelled by the lack of some other progressive woman to take up the subject and push it to a consummation. It has been suggested that it would be fitting in case the fountain is established to dedicate it to Miss Martine's memory.

FALL AND WINTER
-CLOTHING-
-: FOR :-
MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1.50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15 00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18.00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50, Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1.65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00, 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16.00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12.00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined. French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3 25, worth 10.00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18.00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2.50 and $3.00, worth from 6.00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants, actually valued at 12 00 to 15.00, sale price at $4.50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7.50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's exta fine brown plaid suits at $3.50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2.50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12.00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. Everybody living within tweny-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great sheriff sale.

The Misses Smith and Mrs. Smith, of South Plainfield, called on friends in the borough yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Taylor and daughter, Miss May Taylor, have returned from their visit with friends at Boonton.

E. Brown, of North avenue, has moved to Newark. He was formerly superintendent of the Dunellen Brick Works.

Justice Storms, of New Market, gave judgment for the plaintiff yesterday in the case of Cole against Huff Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. James Voorhees, of Plainfield, and Mr. Moore, of New York, called on friends in New Market and Dunellen yesterday.

The repairs on the Presbyterian church organ are completed, and it sounds much better. The work of painting the building is progressing nicely.

Augustus Warden had a narrow escape last Sunday from being seriously burned while he was trying to capture a hive of bees. To perform the act he covered his face and neck with fine netting, and then went to the hive where he started a fire under the bees. He depended on an opening to furnish a sufficient amount of air to give the fire a good start, but the air failed to work properly and it blew the flames toward him. The flames caught the netting and in an instant the whole piece of netting was ablaze. Mr. Warden seemed to be helpless to release himself from the netting or the flames and had to wait until most of the netting was consumed before he could do anything. When the fire was put out an examination showed that Mr. Warden's neck and face were terribly burned, and he suffered great pain. He went to Dr. Brakeley's office where the doctor gave the proper treatment. Today Mr. Warden is much better but he still suffers intensely from the burns. It is needless to say that the bees made their escape.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Supporters and Opponents of John Kean Fighting Over Senatorial Candidate.

On the eve of holding the primaries the Republicans of Middlesex county are in the midst of a factional fight. It is current gossip that the supporters of John Kean in Middlesex County have made overtures to the Democratic leaders to trade off the Surrogate for the State Senator. The Republicans throughout the county who are opposed to Kean will make the hardest kind of a fight to defeat the alleged scheme.

The primaries will be held on Wednesday evening, and it is expected that the county convention will be held a week later in New Brunswick.

ECHOES OF A CONVENTION

LOCAL ENDEAVORERS HEAR OF THE BIG MEETINGS HELD IN PATERSON.

The Spirit of the Mighty Gathering Harbored in the Delegates' Souls and They Gave Inspiring Talks of What They Heard.

The spirit of that mighty gathering of Christian Endeavorers, which has just come to an end at Paterson, has been felt all over the State. Last evening, Plainfield felt its awakening influence at the "Convention Echo" meeting, held in the small hall in the Y. M. C. A. building by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Trinity Reformed church.

E. E. Anthony acted as leader of the meeting and soon had the rest of the Endeavorers in a state of enthusiasm. The meeting opened with a stirring song of service led by Horace J. Martin. Then in a few words Mr. Anthony told of the party of three that had gone from that society and that the first speaker of the evening would be Miss Florence G. Hawkins, secretary of the local union.

Miss Hawkins told of the great treat that the convention was to all who attended, and said that so much happened in those three days that it was hard to select any one session to describe. She told of the Thursday night session at the Y. M. C. A. hall, when "Father Endeavor" Clark was present and made a wonderful address. It rained that night, but that did not dampen the enthusiasm of the Endeavorers who crowded the hall. After the opening song service, she said, Dr. French, who was presiding, was very much exercised over the fact that Dr. Clark was nowhere to be found. Messages were sent all over the hall, but he could not be found. At last he came marching up the aisle and was received by a grand Chautauqua salute by all the Endeavorers. He said it was the fourth convention he had attended during the week, and spoke of the New York and Pennsylvania conventions as being nearly as good as the New Jersey convention. He promised the Jersey Endeavorers front seats at the State convention at Nashville, Tenn., and at the international convention at London. The subject of his address was "Christian Endeavor Under Many Skies."

After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie," Horace J. Martin, the president of the society, made a few remarks. He said that there was so much to tell that he did not know where to begin. He described the meeting that had been held in the First Presbyterian church the same night that Dr. Clark had spoken. John Wilbur Chapman had addressed the meeting. Mr. Martin spoke of the sunrise meetings which had been held at 6:30 o'clock in this city last year, but were held at 7:30 o'clock in Paterson.

E. E. Anthony told a few of his impressions of the convention. Every address seemed to centre about Jesus. Dr. French's address, he said, was one of the most beautiful things he had ever heard. Mr. Anthony then spoke of the closing consecration meeting and how the plan was changed, the response being made individually instead of by counties. It was wonderfully impressive, he said. He told how young and old men and women rose over the hall and made their response. One case he cited was of a river thief who rose and told how he had been won over to the Lord Jesus Christ.

After prayer by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., Mr. Anthony asked all who would pray to the Lord to show them what work He had for them to do would please rise and the congregotion rose in a body.

TEMPERANCE AND BEER.

Former Prohibition Resort May Become a Summer Garden.

Much comment has been raised among the temperance advocates of Middlesex county by the announcement that the summer resort known as Boynton Beach has been purchased by Gottfried Krueger, the brewer, of Newark. For many years this resort has been maintained by Captain C.W. Boynton as a strictly temperance place, and it has been the favorite place for Sunday-schools to go for a day's outing.

It is understood that Mr. Krueger has acquired the resort with an idea of making it a summer beer garden. Those interested in the reported transfer of the park refuse to say anything regarding the matter.

For Better Roads.

The Somerset Board of Freeholders advertise for bids for macadamizing the roads from Somerville to the Liberty school house, 2 9-10 miles, and also for the road from Labaw's corner, near Harlingen, to Conover's corner, and a branch from Belle Mead creamery westerly to the road leading to Flagtown, a total distance of 4 36 100 miles. The applications for these roads have been pending for a long time.

John Smalley, of the borough, is now assisting N. B. Smalley at the latter's Somerset street meat market.

It Reflects Our Methods.

There are two notable points about the sale of

that are worth notice. First, we guarantee it. If it fails to give satisfaction in any respect your money will be cheerfully refunded. Second, it is a remedy that can be guaranteed; it would be folly to sell an inferior remedy that way.

The price is 25 cents. It cures bruises, strains, backache or deep seated pains anywhere.

Our proposition on this remedy applies to all the preparations we make. Our aim is to make satisfaction the basis of every transaction. We believe that such methods appeal to thinking people more than plausible promises of something for nothing; more than the use of schemes which in the end must prove a delusion.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOME OPENED

IT IS A SPLENDID AND LIBERAL IDEA.

Suggested and Carried Out by Rev. W. H. Miller—A Place to Educate for Household Duties.

An institution that is destined to fill a long felt want in Plainfield and the borough is now well under way on Manning avenue, in the borough. It is called St. Joseph's Home, and has been established for the purpose of assisting worthy and respectable girls who are looking for employment. The idea is one that originated with Father Miller, rector of St. Joseph's church, and he has, through the assistance of Mother Raymond, of Bordentown, been able to put his ideas to practical use.

The Home is an attractive one and provided with every convenience. On the first floor is to be found a neat and pleasant room which is used as an office where persons who are in search of good, respectable help, can obtain such. People are welcome at all times to call and inspect the Home. On the opposite side of the hall from the office is a pleasant dining-room, while on the upper floors are located the dormitories. These rooms are all that anyone could possibly desire. They are neat, clean and comfortable, and here girls of any faith or nationality, so long as they are respectable and worthy, can come and receive such help as it is in the power of those in charge to give.

Father Miller desires it to be understood that a girl on entering the place will not be questioned as regards her religion. She will be privileged to attend any church of her choice. The place is especially adapted to people who desire help and who like to call at a quiet place and consult about such matters. The Home will be conducted in a strictly first-class manner, and the girls who enter there will be taught how to cook, sew, and do lots of other things that are necessary for a good housekeeper to know.

NO TROLLEY RIGHT AWAY.

The Town Committee, After a Long Wrangle, Votes to Adjourn.

The vote of Chairman Peter Gulick, of the Bridgewater Township Committee, at a meeting yesterday, to consider the applications for a franchise between Somerville and Bound Brook, precludes all hope of a trolley road this season. The applications have been pending for four months, and so bitter has been the fight between the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company and the Brunswick Traction Company, that final action has been repeatedly delayed.

The law required that a company must obtain the consents of a majority of the property owners along the line. The New York and Philadelphia Traction Company yesterday presented consents for 2,000 more feet than was necessary. The Brunswick company did not have a sufficient number of feet. Three or four lawyer's appeared for each side and for hours they argued before the Committee. The latter held two or three private consultations, and after each the lawyers of the New York and Philadelphia Company continued to urge immediate action.

Finally a vote was taken on a motion to adjourn. William Hardgrove voted against delay and William Bartles voted for it. Chairman Gulick had the deciding vote and voted for delay, which was a victory for the Brunswick company.

Lawyer Charles Moffett is in Elizabeth today looking after some legal matters.

Armstrong Mulford and children, of East Fifth street, have moved to Brooklyn, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Mulford will still remain in business in Plainfield, and will commute.

COL. WARING DECLINES.

Will Not Accept the George Nomination for Comptroller.

New York, Oct. 12.—Col. Waring was notified yesterday morning by the George men that he had been nominated for Comptroller by the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson. The notification was made at the Department of Street Cleaning shortly after Col. Waring came down to his office.

When asked by the reporters to-day if he would say whether he would accept or decline it, Col. Waring said:

"I have nothing to say at present. I thought I might be able to give my decision to-day. Now it will be impossible. I should like, however, to correct an evident misapprehension. I had no knowledge of this movement looking to my nomination until the whole scheme had gotten beyond recall."

Later, however, it was learned that Col. Waring will not accept the nomination. The Colonel will write a letter saying, in the friendliest terms, that he cannot see his way clear to accept. Col. Waring came to this conclusion when it was made clear to him that Charles S. Fairchild, the candidate for Comptroller of the Citizens' Union, will not retire. Col. Waring, his friends say, desired to accept the George nomination, but he also desired an indorsement by the Citizens' Union.

CONNECTICUT MAY TAX WHEELS.

Assessors in Doubt Whether to List Them Among the Vehicles.

Stamford, Ct., Oct. 12.—The new Board of Assessors in Connecticut are organizing to make out the lists of property liable to taxation, and the members are giving the proposal to tax bicycles a good deal of thought. Under the taxation laws of the State every vehicle valued at more than $25 must be taxed, but bicycles have never paid taxes. Last year several of the leading lawyers of the State who ride bicycles voluntarily included their bicycles in their lists, but the assessors struck the wheels off.

The wheelmen are now clamorous for better roads, and thousands of dollars have been spent on the highways because of their importunity. There seems to be a desire on the part of many that a special tax of $1 on each wheel shall be laid, the revenue to be spent in improving the roads. This plan would result in bringing in upward of $200,000, which, if spent on the country roads, would make a vast improvement in a few years. The wheelmen as a body, however, are opposed to the tax.

TREASURER ROBERTS' REPORT.

Assets on July 1, $874,764,377—Available Income, $363,173,825.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Mr. Ellis H. Roberts, Treasurer of the United States, reports to the Secretary of the Treasury that at the begining of the fiscal year 1896-1897, the total assets of the Treasury were $855,685,322, and that they increased within the year to $874,764,377. The total income available for the fiscal operations of the Government was $363,173,825. The expenditures amounted to $388,245,017, including $11,378,502 disbursed on account of bonds and fractional currency and $11,092,350 on the retirement of national bank notes. The net deficit in the year's transactions was $25,071,092.

The issue of paper currency, amounting to $374,848, was exceeded only once in the history of the Government, in 1892, and then only by a narrow margin. The redemption, amounting to $330,710,020, was also relatively heavy.

Employes Want an Injunction.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The Street Car Men's Union applied to-day for an injunction against the Chicago City Railway Company. Ex-Judge Ambrose filed a bill which says that employees were discharged by the company because they were members of the union. The bill declares this to be contrary to law, and an order is asked restraining the company and its agents from discharging men for the reasons set forth.

Action on the part of the union was hastened when the Executive Committee learned that officials of the company were notifying the men to cease paying dues to the union.

Editor O'Sullivan Dead.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Word was received yesterday morning from Asheville, N. C., of the death of Jeremiah T. O'Sullivan, of Lawrence, Mass. The body will be taken home at once. Mr. O'Sullivan won the title of the "Original Free-Silver Man of Massachusetts" some weeks before the Democratic National Convention of 1896. He addressed the delegates at Chicago, nominating for the Vice-Presidency George Fred Williams. Mr. O'Sullivan was born in Lawrence in 1871. He attended the public schools in Lawrence and was graduated from the high school in 1888.

Irishmen Hiss Mr. Gladstone.

Dublin, Oct. 12.—The first General National Convention of the Irish Independent League, organized by John Redmond, M. P., the Parnellite leader, opened last evening in the Ancient Concert rooms here.

Eight hundred enthusiastic delegates packed the hall and actively participated in cheering vociferously every point in the speeches which met with their approval, and in jeering the names of Dillon, Healy and Davitt, as well as hissing the name of Mr. Gladstone when Mr. Redmond characterized him as "the Englishman who betrayed Ireland."

Vanderbilt in Bronze.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 12.—The bronze statue of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, which for several months has stood in front of the Parthenon at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition grounds, was presented formally by the people of Nashville to Vanderbilt University yesterday. The exercises attending the presentation took place in the auditorium of the Exposition, which contained several thousand persons.

Adonis Dixey Insolvent.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Comedian Henry E. Dixey has filed a voluntary petition of insolvency in the Suffolk County Registry. The paper stated that he was not able to meet his bills, but it was accompanied by no schedule of assets and liabilities. Dixey has been in tight circumstances for some time, but hoped to be able to pull through. He has called a meeting of his creditors for Oct. 22, when his financial affairs will be canvassed.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 4th, 1897.

AN ORDINANCE

granting permission to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, to lay and maintain underground conduits cables, wires and manholes for electrical conductors in the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, to be used for telephone and telegraph purposes.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain for the uses and purposes of its business aforesaid, a system of subways and underground conduits, including the necessary manholes and street openings, and lateral connections to property lines beneath the surface of the streets, avenues and other highways in the City of Plainfield, and to place, maintain and operate in said system of subways or underground conduits the wires, cables or other electrical conductors necessary for its said business; also to construct, maintain and operate for such purposes a system of electrical conductors in connection with the necessary poles for distribution from the electrical conductors to be placed in the subways or underground conduits herein before mentioned.

Section 2. And be it further ordained that the following streets, avenues and highways and parts thereof are hereby designated for the construction of the underground conduits of said Company to be opened only after the adoption of a resolution granting permission in each street:

Front street from the Esatern to the Western limits of the City.

Somerset street from the Nothern limits of the City to Front street.

Park avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

North avenue from Park avenue to Watchung avenue.

Watchung avenue from Front street to Kensington avenue.

East Fifth street and South avenue from Watchung avenue to Leland avenue.

Eighth street from Park avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Sixth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Central avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

Fourth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Liberty street from Front street to Eighth street.

Washington avenue from Front street to the Northern limits of the City;

and all other streets, avenues and highways of said City as may be necessary and from time to time designated in permits to be issued by the Street Committee for the construction of such conduits; said Company may on the same streets, avenues and parts thereof erect the necessary poles fixtures and supports for distributing its electrical conductors along, across and above the surface of the streets in connection with said subways; said poles shall be placed inside and within eighteen (18) inches of and adjacent to the curb line; said cables shall in all cases be placed under the carriage-way and within five (5) feet of the curb line, unless constructions make it necessary to go further from the curb line, and then only after written permission has been given by the Committee on streets and sewers, and shall be placed at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the street.

Section 3. And be it further ordained that the said manholes shall be located beneath the surface of the streets at such points along the line of the subways or underground conduits as may be necessary or convenient for placing and operating the electrical conductors which the said Company may from time to time place in said subways or underground conduits, and shall be so constructed as not to interfere with the passage of the public over and along the said streets; and the said Company shall restore any street or avenue which may be disturbed in the construction or maintenance of said subways or conduits and manholes to the condition in which it was at the commencement of the work thereon and free from any cost or expense whatever to the City of Plainfield. And the said Company and its servants and employes in the laying of any wires or conduits, in excavating or replacing the earth in any street, alley or public place, and of the pavement thereon, shall be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and shall promptly comply with any order of said Commissioner in reference thereto.

The earth removed in making any excavation shall be restored, and the pavement taken up shall be relaid by the said company in as good condition as before the making of such excavation or taking up of such pavement, and thereafter shall be maintained in as good condition as the surrounding pavement, until such street, avenue or highway in each case shall be repaved by the City. No street, avenue, alley or public place shall be incumbered for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the work for which the excavation is made. The cost of restoring the earth or otherwise, arising from such excavations, and the laying of pavements and repairs thereto, caused by the opening of any such avenue, street, alley or public place, shall be paid by said Company, and said work shall be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

In case the company shall fail to restore, relay or repair any pavement or street surface within 48 hours after receiving notice from the Street Commissioner that such work is required, said Street Commissioner shall have the right to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the Company.

Section 4. And be it further ordained that said Company shall indemnify the Common Council of the City of Plainfield against and assume all liability and damages which may at any time arise, come or occur to said City, from any injury to persons or property from the doing of any work herein mentioned, or from the neglect of the Company or its employes to comply with the provisions of any ordinance of the City relative to the use of streets or other public places, especially as to the putting up of lights or barriers at or around excavations; and the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance shall be an agreement by it to pay to the Common Council of Plainfield any sum of money for which the City may become liable from or by reason of such injury and damage.

Section 5. And be it further ordained that said Company shall file with the Mayor or City Clerk its acceptance of this ordinance within twenty (20) days from the date when such ordinance shall take effect, and shall also file with the City Treasurer a satisfactory bond with sureties approved by the Mayor in the sum of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.) that it will faithfully comply with and perform all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 6. And be it further ordained that the said The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company shall provide sufficient space in said subways or underground conduits to accommodate the telegraph or telephone wires or conductors operated from time to time by the Police, Fire and other Departments of the City of Plainfield.

Section 7. And be it further ordained that said Company shall pay into the City Treasury all advertising and printing fees incurred by the City under this ordinance, and that this ordinance shall take effect immediately.

The Tables Turned.
We have almost solved the servant girl problem.
Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.
The tables are turned, and we have turned them.
We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.
Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,
Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "
What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

SPAIN'S CUBAN POLICY

Gen. Blanco Says He Will Act With Great Energy.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Believed There that Pleas for Delay Will Be Made by the Sagasta Ministry in Dealing with the United States.

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 12.—Gen. Ramon Blanco, the new Captain-General of Cuba, announces that he will act with great energy against the insurgents, and will employ all political means to restore equality of treatment in the various sections of the community. The Captain-General adds that he has the greatest desire to end the horrors of war, and to establish peace by the system which he adopted in 1879.

Many of the inhabitants of Palma, the capital of the island of Majorca, have decided to hold a grand demonstration, welcoming Gen. Weyler to his native place upon his return to Spain.

Gen. Blanco will sail for Havana today. Gen. Weyler will return to Spain immediately. His second in command, Marquis Ahumada, has resigned. Therefore Castellanos commands ad interim.

No Definite Policy For Cuba.

Washington, Oct. 12.—It is understood that the State Department is going over with Gen. Lee and Mr. Hannis Taylor, former Minister to Spain, the effect of the recent Cabinet changes, the result of Gen. Weyler's withdrawal and his succession by Gen. Blanco, and other new phases developed by the accession of Sagasta.

The escape of Miss Cisneros from a Havana prison through the alleged efforts of Americans has been talked over also, the prevailing view being that it will not lead to an international complication.

Mr. Taylor will not discuss the present situation at Madrid. He is engaged, however, in writing a review of the political, economic and diplomatic phases of the Cuban problem, with his own views, drawn from experience at Madrid, and refuses to make any comment in advance of his carefully prepared review of the case.

The talks of Administration officials with Mr. Taylor and Gen. Lee have given an accurate view of the situation both at Havana and Madrid resulting from the change of the Spanish Cabinet and policy. There is good reason to believe that the view communicated to the State Department is that the accession of Sagasta means a Fabian policy of delay, not only for the present, but for many weeks to come, but no definite policy for Cuba will be announced for some time.

How Miss Cisneros Escaped.

New York, Oct. 12.—The manner in which Evangelina Cosio y Cisneros escaped from the Cuban prison in which Gen. Weyler had consigned her is no less interesting than the escape itself.

The young girl who had the courage to defy Weyler's favorite officer and later the Butcher himself was quick to see a chance to escape when the opportunity came. She communicated with friends outside and to them made known her plan of escape.

Miss Evangelina studied the situation carefully, and then made her arrangements to get away from the prison. The plan followed by her she laid out herself, and all those who helped her had to do was to follow her instructions.

And this is the way she planned it in a note sent to those outside who were to aid her:

"To escape by the roof with the aid of a rope, descending by the front of the house at a given hour and signal. For this I require acids to destroy the bars of the windows, and opium or morphine so as to set to sleep my companions. The best way to use it is in sweets, and thus I can also set to sleep the vigilants.

Three of you come and stand at the corners. A lighted cigar will be the signal of alarm, for which I may have to delay, and a white handkerchief will be the agreed signal by which I may safely descend. I will only bring with me the necessary clothes tied around my waist."

That plan, outlined by the young woman, was followed almost to the letter. When she had weakened the bars of the window in her cell she gave the signal that all was ready. She slid down the rope that dangled from her cell to the ground.

Once there she was hurried away to a secret hiding-place, from which she embarked on a steamer for the United States.

Miss Cisneros in New York.

New York, Oct. 12.—Miss Evangelina Cisneros, the young Cuban girl who escaped from Casa de Recojidas, in Cuba, where she was held a prisoner of war, arrived here yesterday afternoon on the Ward line steamship Concho in disguise. She was taken immediately to the offices of the Cuban Junta in New York. There she related all about her experiences with Weyler and his men, all of which has been published at great length for the past month. Miss Cisneros appeared to be in good health, and was jubilant over her escape.

Serious Riot in Rome.

Rome, Oct. 12.—A large procession of tradesmen, headed by the Pro-Syndic of Rome and the president of the Chamber of Commerce, marched to the office of the Minister of the Interior last evening to protest against and confer with the Government regarding the increased taxation.

A large crwod of people had collected around the Ministry, angry shouts were heard, and some of those present tore up paving stones and otherwise assumed a very threatening attitude.

This caused the police to make an attempt to disperse the violent portion of the crowd, and in the conflict which followed six policemen were injured and one rioter was killed.

New Turkish Minister.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The State Department has received word that Ali Ferouck Bey has been appointed Turkish Minister to the United States, to succeed Mustapha Bey.

The new Minister studied in Paris for five years, and for two years was Secretary of Legation at London.

Paid $15 Instead of Going to Jail

Edward Cober, of Wilson avenue, engaged in a fracas last evening with Gustave Sutterlein, of Greenbrook road, and the result was that the latter's head was severely cut. Sutterlein claimed that Cober struck him with something, while Cober says that Sutterlein stumbled and fell over a box of beer. The affair was at the place formerly conducted by Mr. Sutterlein. The latter's injuries were so painful that he went to Dr Mattison's store where he had his wounds dressed. Later Mr. Sutterlein had a warrant issued for the arrest of Cober, and at 10 o'clock Chief Marshal Wilson arrested him at the Arlington Hotel This morning he was fined $15 or sixty days. He paid his fine and was released.

The Organized Aid.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Organized Aid Association last evening committees were appointed to arrange for the annual public meeting. It is planned to hold the meeting in about three weeks in the Crescent Avenue chapel. A prominent feature of the meeting will be an address on the administration of public charities by a speaker who has made the subject a special study.

—Major R. M. J. Reed, of Philadelphia, will deliver a public patriotic lecture in Washington hall this evening.

—Mrs. Mary Reading, of Race street, who was arrested Sunday for being drunk and disorderly, failed to pay her fine yesterday and was committed to the Somerville Jail for thirty days.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

The Dunellen Juniors defeated the Westfield Stars at Dunellen, Saturday, by a score of 12 to 4.

The Alis team played its first game Saturday afternoon at Scotch Plains, and won after a fierce struggle by a score of 8 to 0.

The Alis football eleven played its first game of the season on Saturday morning at Westfield. They played a tie game with the Westfield Junior team, the score being 0 to 0.

Saturday's game between the Plainfield A. A. and the Murray Hill A. C. showed the need of more team practice on the part of the home team. Regular practice was held last evening and the team got down to solid work. Practice will be held on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The alleys at the Y. M. C. A. building will soon be opened with several improvements. There will be a pin boy at the alleys on three nights a week who can be hired for 5 cents a game. On the other nights the members will be free to use the alleys as they wish.

The Central Journal Bowling League will soon be resurrected from its summer lethargy and started up for the winter. It is very probable that the Park Club will be again represented in the contest by a five-men team, and that the team will go about the tournament in a more systematic way than last year. Last year the club made a fine showing at the start, but the interest dropped and the bowlers never practiced for the games, so when the exciting contests that wound up the League came, they were unable to make as good a showing as they should have.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Next Saturday afternoon at the Woodbridge Driving Park a great programme will be offered for all lovers of good trotting, and on the following Saturday the same programme will be presented at the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association in this city. There will be four races divided as follows:

2:30 Class—Judge Coddington's "Belle," D. Darby's "Sunday," of Plainfield: S. Hall's "Alfra D," of Perth Amboy: C. A. Campbell's "Clay Girl," of Woodbridge.

2:32 Class—B. Carpenter's "Joe Boy," E. Ames' "Gen. Benham," of Woodbridge: J. Brown's "Roy," D. Crowell's "Richard Wilkes," of Rahway.

2:37 Class—Woodbrook Stock Farm's "Rocky B," N. Smalley, of Plainfield: D. Demerest's "Gold Dust," of Woodbridge: L. Jardax's "Mox," of Rahway: H. Gynnette's "Daisy M," of Plainfield.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Yale's crack freshmen crew of last year has greatly strengthened the rush line by the addition of such well-developed youngsters as McGee, Allen and Schweppe. These men are doing excellent work on the line. McGee weighing a trifle over 170, is playing a clever game at guard, and Allen, with considerable more weight, is doing well at tackle. On the end, Schweppe is invaluable, and is perhaps the most promising of the aquatic trio.—Evening Journal.

CYCLING COMMENT.

John King, Daniel Guinee and Thomas Muldowney took a bicycle run to New Brunswick and return yesterday.

Frank Eick, of East Third street, was a guest of the Century Wheelmen at their New York clubhouse one evening last week. He was given a very cordial reception and found the clubhouse a model one.

TO CELEBRATE AN ANNIVERSARY.

Committee of Arrangments Appointed by Queen City Lodge.

Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I.O.O.F., will celebrate its anniversary right royally in a short time. The day set for the celebration is October 25th. The programme will be somewhat different from the ordinary. There will be no long addresses, no addresses of any kind, in fact, for professional entertainers have been secured for the occasion and the guests of the lodge are to be given a delightful evening for body as well as mind. The committee in charge is C. I. Young, J. B. Higgins, G. Thorn, Charles DeGraw and Louis DeCamp.

A meeting of the lodge was held last evening and the coming anniversary was discussed. After the lodge meeting, however, the committee held a meeting and completed their arrangements for the occasion. The anniversary will be held in Washington Hall and the invitations will be so arranged that everybody will have a seat.

ATTACKED IN A SALOON.

An Elizabeth Detective Receives Serious Injuries at the Hands of Two Men.

George Navallo, a special detective, was attacked last night in an Italian saloon on Third avenue, Elizabeth, by Charles Wood and Philip Dunn.

Navallo's jaw was broken and his face badly cut and bruised by blows from billiard cues and cuspidors. The interior of the saloon was wrecked, and several men were badly injured in the general melee which followed. Navallo was taken to the General Hospital, and Wood and Dunn were arrested. Navallo may die.

CORBETT CLAIMS CHAMPIONSHIP.

New York World Transfers Laurels from Bob to Jim.

New York, Oct. 12.—The New York World has taken the pugilistic championsnip from Fitzsimmons, who supposed he held it, and given the bauble to Corbett. The transfer was made today, and in this language, Corbett evidently concurring:

"According to precedent in pugilism a champion must either accept a challenge—if one is issued to him—within six months after the challenge is issued, or else he forfeits the championship. It is over six months since Fitzsimmons was first challenged by Corbett to fight again for $10,000 a side and the championship and as he has made the sporting public weary by his numerous announcements of retirement, he is therefore regarded as a 'good, old has-been.'

"Corbett was never accused of being afraid to defend the title, and now that he regains the title again by the retirement of Fitzsimmons he will no doubt be ready to fight any one who issues a challenge to him and secures backing for $5,000 or $10,000 a side, sooner than listen to the same sarcastic remarks which sporting men passed about Fitzsimmons. The American public is anxious to see Corbett regain his lost laurels in the ring, and the chances are that if he comes out with a statement to the effect that he will fight any man in the world for the championship, he will make a great hit."

The Information Supplied by This Barber Will Prove of Inestimable Value In This Vicinity.

When the striped pole or sign which now indicates a barber shop, was employed to let the public know where cupping or blood letting was professionally performed, close shaves were a daily occurrence, not the easy removal of the hirsuit or hairy adornment of the head and face, but close shaves from entering eternity. More than one unfortunate entered the barber-surgeon's doorway to leave it a corpse or so weak that it required weeks to get the victim of malpractice on his feet, blood letting was used for everything from a heartache to a corn, and a pain in the loins was invariably treated with two incisions, one on each side of the spine, like plasters and liniments those helped from the counter irritation they created, and we may presume that had Mr. Silzer, Barber, of 22 Hiram street, New Brunswick, N.J., lived in the time of George III, of England, in place of taking the course he did a short time ago with his back, blood-letting would have been resorted to. Read how he treated his troubles. Mr. Silzer said: "I had no doubt but that my trouble aroused from my kidneys, for the pain centered in the small of my back. It was very sore in that locality. It hurt me to stand on my feet, especially so on Saturdays, my busy day. An occasional griping pain passed through the abdomen to the groin. I went for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from a drug store to see if they would relieve me from the pain. Well, that is just what they did and they did it in short order. I cannot help but recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, they did all that I could expect and all that is claimed for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

BEATEN BECAUSE HE WAS HAPPY.

Somerville Hotel Man Said to Have Brutally Whipped a Half-witted Boy.

It is currently reported that an indictment has been found against George Schenck, chief of the fire department and proprietor of the Ten Eyck House, the leading hotel of Somerville, for assault and battery.

On Monday an organ-grinder stopped in front of Schenck's hotel, on Main street, and was grinding out some lively tunes when "Johnny" Carrigan, a harmless, half-witted young man, began dancing on the sidewalk and a crowd gathered. When Schenck appeared he was angered at the antics of Garrigan, and the bystanders say he struck Garrigan a blow on the neck that knocked him down, and then kicked him after he was lying on the sidewalk. The crowd was indignant at this act, and they induced Garrigan to make a complaint against Schenck. The first Justice appealed to refused to issue a warrant without a more careful examination of the evidence. Justice Kitchen finally issued a warrant and Schenck was arrested and bound over to appear before the Grand Jury. Fifteen witnesses appeared before that body against Schenck, who had previously been one of the most popular men in the town. He will probably be tried at the present term of court.

TURNIP CAUGHT HIM ON THE LIP.

A Frolicsome Clerk Found it Didn't Pay to Fool With a Farmer

A raw turnip and the lower jaw belonging to Bert Clawson, one of the clerks at the grocery of Scheuer & Co., collided on West Front street at an early hour this morning. A produce farmer drove up in front of Scheuer's store to sell some of the cabbages with which his wagon was loaded. Clawson came up, and, as a joke, jumped on the front seat and started to drive away. The owner of the load of cabbages came out of the store and saw him departing. Then the owner opened fire on Clawson with some turnips that he picked up at a nearby stand. Clawson turned around and one of the hard turnips caught him squarely on the lower lip. The lip began to swell and caused Clawson's friends lots of fun.

HAPPY FALL WEDDING.

Brilliant Nuptial Event Consummated in St. Mary's.

CHURCH BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED.

The Altar Garlanded With Roses—Ceremony Performed by Rev. Father Smyth—Bride Gowned Smartly—Reception Held at the Home of Bride's Parents—Given a Great Send Off by Their Many Friends.

It was a brilliant audience that gathered in St. Mary's R. C. church last evening at 7:30 to witness the marriage of Miss Teresa Keely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick T. Keely, of 599 LaGrande avenue, to Thomas J. Hughes, of East Second street. The large edifice was crowded to the very doors with friends of the popular young couple. The decorations in the church were especially noteworthy. In festal array the altar presented a scene of beauty, garlanded with roses and surrounded with stately palms, while the lighted candles gave an additional effect.

The doors of the church were opened shortly before 7 o'clock and while Charles Ward, John E. Keely, Michael J. Mack and Fred Hughes, the ushers, were seating the relatives and friends, Miss St. Leger, who presided at the organ, executed with rare skill appropriate wedding selections.

It was only a few minutes past 7:30 when the familiar notes of the Mendelssohn wedding march were heard on the organ. At the same time the doors of the church were thrown back and the four ushers entered followed by Miss Julia Keely, sister of the bride, who acted as bridemaid. She wore a smart gown of cream colored silk trimmed with lace and ribbon, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and maiden-hair fern.

Then followed the bride, a charming brunette, richly gowned in white brocaded silk, en traine, trimmed with lace. She also wore a veil which was caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away in marriage.

At the altar the bridal party met the groom and best man, John P. Powers, and Rev. Father P. E. Smyth, pastor of St. Mary's church, who performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Murphy, the assistant pastor. The ceremony was a beautiful one and very impressive. At its conclusion, the beautiful Loehengrin wedding march was played as Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left the church. As they passed down the aisle they gracefully acknowledged the presence of their many friends with pleasant recognitions.

The bridal party were then taken to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held for the relatives and intimate friends of the married couple. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and smilax, while an arch was neatly arranged in the hallway over the stairway. The bridal couple stationed themselves in the parlor, where they received the congratulations of those present, who wished them long life, plenty of happiness and success. During the evening a supper was served to the guests, and the younger folks indulged in dancing to the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

A strong evidence of the esteem and popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes was shown in the many valuable and useful gifts received by them, consisting of dinner and tea sets of china, silverware, furniture, banquet lamps, linen, and many other gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes departed from the scene of festivities amid a shower of rice and old shoes in time to catch the 11:28 train for New York, from which place they will go to Virginia, where they will enjoy their honeymoon. On their return they will reside on East Second street, in a house owned by the groom and which is completely furnished and awaiting their reception. The groom is a valued employe of F. C. Langhorne, the Front street photographer.

Mr. White's Offer.

On Friday morning Edward White will present to every lady free of charge a cake of Colgate's violets toilet soap—a soap equal to cashmere bouquet. The only condition is that you bring a copy of their advertisement in Thursday night's Press.

Excavating for New Building.

Work was begun this morning by Contractor Thomas J. McGann, Jr., in excavating for the cellar for the new building that W. M. Stillman is to put up at the corner of West Front street and Madison avenue.

Testimony Taken.

The examination of witnesses in the case of the contested will of Rachel A. Clark was continued before Surrogate Parrot at Elizabeth yesterday. Further hearing was then postponed until Thursday.

STOLE FROM A DEAD WOMAN.

WESTFIELD AROUSED OVER OFFENCE.

An Italian Woman Died and Before Her Body Was Fairly Cold It Was Stripped of Valuables.

Mrs. Mary La Verent, an Italian woman, died at her home on Spring street, Westfield, Sunday, and yesterday, while the corpse was lying in the house, some members of the Westfield Italian colony looted the house of the few goods it contained, even carrying off the dead woman's clothes, and taking $40 which she was known to have in a small bag around her neck. About six months ago the woman's husband, Francisco LaVerent, deserted her and went back to Italy with a young Italian woman whose acquaintance he had made in Westfield. Mrs. LaVerent was left with two children, a boy eight years old and a girl only three. She toiled hard to support the children, but as she was in somewhat delicate health, she found the struggle a hard one. On Sunday morning she died, leaving her three children, one a new-born babe, to the mercy of strangers.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. As soon as the news of the woman's death spread in the colony, a horde of sons and daughters of Italy flocked to the squalid quarters, and appeared to take an interest in the friendless children. The body was left in their care for a time, and when the priest returned yesterday to perform the last rites, he found the house robbed of everything that was of any value whatever. Some of the clothes had been taken from the corpse and the bag containing the money which was around the dead woman's neck, was also gone.

While the place was being robbed the two older children were kept at the house of another Italian nearby, so that they could not know what was taking place. After stripping the house of everything, the ghouls deserted it, leaving the dead body unguarded.

Yesterday complaint was made in the matter to Justice Collins and he proceeded at once to the Italian quarter and took measures to recover the stolen goods. He first made secure whatever goods were left in the house, and then made an announcement that he would give the parties in possession of the stolen goods one hour in which to return them. If all were not recovered then he would make a search of all the houses in the neighborhood, and if any goods were identified by the child of the dead woman as having belonged to his mother, he would arrest the person in whose possession the goods were found.

The Justice's course soon had the desired effect. From all points of the compass Italian men and women soon began to appear with bundles under their arms Before an hour had elapsed nearly all the stolen cloth ng and furniture and $20 of the missing money were recovered.

HIGH VALUE ON HER AFFECTIONS.

Summit Young Woman Wants an Erstwhile Admirer to Pay $10,000.

Tomorrow, in the Union County Court at Elizabeth, a breach of promise suit will be called for trial. The plaintiff, who seeks to obtain $10,000 damages, is Miss Joanna Murphy, a resident of Summit, and a sister of Father Murphy, of St. Mary's church, this city. The defendant is former Assemblyman Philip Tumulty, of Jersey City, who for years has been prominent in Democratic political circles and also held lucrative offices He is between fifty-five and sixty years old, while the plaintiff is a comely woman of thirty. The couple, it is asserted, were engaged to be married two years ago, but for some reason the marriage did not take place. Now Miss Murphy, who blames the defendant for this, wants ample compensation from him for trifling with her affections.

THE FIRST REHEARSAL

Active Preparations for the Spielkartenfest Progressing.

The active preparations for the Spielkartenfest are now going forward and the rehearsals have begun. The first of the rehearsals for the older young people who are to take part in the dances, was held at the Casino last evening. Miss Stewart was present and gave instructions in the dance.

The rules concerning those who are to be admitted to the rehearsals will be very strict this year, and only the dancers and their escorts will be allowed to witness the rehearsals.

Street Cars Temporarily Stopped.

During the storm yesterday morning traffic was temporarily suspended under the Watchung avenue bridge, as the water was very high there. The trolley cars had to transfer their passengers around that place.

GIFT OF A SILVER PLATE

BRYANT SCHOOL MAKES A PRESENT TO WINFIELD SCOTT POST.

Presentation Made at the Camp Fire Last Night, Where Also a Good Time Was Enjoyed Socially By All.

A pleasant event of last evening was the camp-fire given under the auspices of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., to the members of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans. The post room was well filled with an assemblage of loyal people who enjoyed the fine programme presented. On the platform were seated Rev. L. E. Livermore, chairman of the camp-fire committee, and beside him were Commander I. L. McVoy and Mrs. C. B. Stephens, president of the Woman's Relief Corps. The chairman, in his usual happy manner, introduced the several numbers, the first of which was a vocal solo by W.C. Smith, Jr., followed with a reading by Miss Etta Raybert. Both numbers were well received, and when the chairman introduced J. H. Carney hearty applause was given. Mr. Carney said: "It is, indeed, a great pleasure to speak to the survivors of the late war and their lady friends, and meet with the Sons of Veterans and congratulate them in following the footsteps of those who lost their lives during the late war in defending our country's honor. I say to all sons should a call ever come from the north, east, south or west, be you ever ready as were your fathers and forefathers to respond to the call to save our country's emblem, that the glorious Stars and Stripes may ever float in the soft breeze of heaven and over our free country, remembering always that thousands of loving hearts and tender hands are banded together to care for the sick and wounded. God forbid that you should ever be called, but if you are you will find the Woman's Relief Corps at their post ever ready to assist you in defending our country's honor. So much, my friends, from a Son of a Veteran, whose father tonight lies near the battle fields in a soldier's grave."

Mr. Carney concluded his remarks by giving the audience some character sketches in the German dialect. Following Mr. Carney, Miss Jomini rendered a pleasing vocal solo occompanied by Clifford Braider on the piano. The next number was an address by Major Reed, of Philadelphia. Mr. Reed was an organizer of the Sons of Veterans in Pennsylvania, and is also a Grand Army veteran. He gave a thrilling, patriotic address, and complimented the members of the several orgnizations.

Miss Mertie Randolph, of Park avenue, was introduced and gave pleasing recitations in her usual clever manner. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Livermore. The next number was a complete surprise, when Mrs. Smalley from the Woman's Relief Corps, presented the post on behalf of the corps with a handsome solid silver plate to be placed on a flag-staff bearing a flag which was presented to the post May 30th, 1897. On the plate is the following inscription: "Presented to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, Department of New Jersey, G. A. R., May 30th, 1897, by Bryant Public School, Plainfield, N. J."

The gift was received by Commander McVoy in a neat little speech in which he thanked the donors heartily on behalf of the post. The two remaining numbers on the programme consisted of an address by Major Miller, in which he made reference to the proposed soldiers' monument, and a vocal solo by W. C. Smith, Jr.

The rest of the evening was devoted to enjoying a generous supply of ice cream and cake by the committee in charge of which M. C. Dobbins was the chairman.

TALENTED ENTERTAINER.

Miss Anna L. Harris Gave a Selected Programme of Readings.

A talented young woman from the Emerson School of Oratory, in Boston, Miss Anna L. Harris, gave an entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church. Miss Harris gave the entertainment entirely alone and made it a delightful one, worthy of a far larger audience than was present to hear her.

She showed her ability to give humorous or pathetic selections equally well. She was at her best, however, in the sleep walking scene from "Macbeth," which she gave in an exceedingly realistic manner, and in that charming little poem of James Whitcomb Riley's, "My Old Sweetheart."

Mrs. Pruden and Miss Pruden, of East Second street, are visiting Philadelphia relatives.

STRIKE AT SILK MILL.

THIRTY GIRLS AT THE STIRLING MILLS STOPPED WORK.

The Company Proposed a Cut in Wages Which the Girls Refused to Accept—A Compromise Has Since Been Affected.

The little town of Stirling was the scene of great excitement yesterday between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and for a time it looked as though the silk mills of that place would be obliged to shut down. The officers of the company that run the mills decided in the morning to make a cut in the wages of the girls that wind the silk before it is put on the loom. The cut was to be 20 cents on a hundred yards, and when the thirty girls whom the cut would affect, heard of the proposed scheme they decided that they would stop work rather than accept the reduction. At noon the proposition was made to the girls and they were informed that their wages would be reduced as stated above. The girls held a conference at once to determine their action. As a result they decided to declare a strike which began at once.

They left the mills and stood about the village in groups discussing the situation, and it was not long before the townspeople learned of what had happened, and they joined in the crowd and advised the girls not to go back until the company made suitable concessions.

It soon became apparent to the officers of the company that they had stirred up a hornet's nest, and that unless they compromised matters and the girls resumed work, they would have to close the rest of the mill. A consultation followed, and the officials decided to offer the girls a cut of eleven cents instead of twenty cents, and the leaders among the strikers were called in to hear the proposition. It seemed to impress them favorably, and after consulting with their colleagues in the matter, they accepted the proposition and went back to work. At present there is considerable work on hand and the company could not afford to let the thirty girls go, hence the compromise.

YALE CLUB MEETING.

The Annual Dinner Will Probably Not be Given This Year.

The advisibility of holding another dinner of the Yale Club this year was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting of the Yale Club last evening. The old dinner committee were not present at the meeting, but they sent in a written report in which they advised that the custom of the club of holding an annual dinner be given up for the present on account of the lack of interest among the members. The question was thoroughly discussed by the members at the meeting and it seemed the general sentiment that the dinner should be held this year as of old. A resolution was passed to that effect and then a new dinner committee was appointed. The new committee consisted of Charles S. Foote, James R. Joy and George A. Strong.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was held and resulted as follows: President, A. H. Atterbury; vice-president, Herbert L. Moodey; secretary and treasurer, Arthur Lovell.

ONLY A SMALL BALANCE.

The Treasury of Children's Home In Need of Assistance.

There appears to have been a misapprehension regarding the funds of the Children's Home because the treasurer's report, made at the anniversary, showed a balance on hand of $2,020.60 on the first of May last, the end of the fiscal year. At that time a portion of the invested endowment fund had come into the treasury by a mortgage that had just been paid off. Since then the money has been reinvested so that at the present time all there is for running expenses is $380. The average monthly expenses are $190, and the yearly coal bill has yet to be paid.

Motion to Be Argued.

The motion of City Judge DeMeza, counsel for R. F. M. Chase, to quash the writ of attachment served in the case of Cronin against Chase, will be argued before Justice Thomas, of the borough, on Friday afternoon. The hearing was to be held this afternoon but was adjourned until that time.

Chainless Wheels Coming.

The agency for the Columbia bicycle in Plainfield has been temporarily established in one of the windows of George W. Rockfellow's grocery store. The Columbia chainless wheel will be out this week.

A Hollow'een Supper.

A Hollow'een supper will be given by the ladies of the First M. E. church in Vincent chapel, Monday evening, November 1st. Entertainment and games, commemorative of the day, will be furnished for the young people.

A FULL RETRACTION MADE.

ANONYMOUS WRITER CONFRONTED

In the Presence of Her Husband She Exonerated the Innocent Girl From Serious Accusations.

Where before only those in the most select circles had gossiped of the affair resulting from the anonymous letters written by a prominent society woman, the whole city read between the lines in the story published in The Press last night and the subject was the fad for tea table gossip in many families.

In gathering the facts for the story the Press reporter's efforts were fraught with obstacles in the way of the reticence of the parties concerned. Since the publication of the story it has been learned that an error was made in stating that a settlement was yet to be made between the writer of the scandalous letter to the boarding school principal and the parents of the daughter slandered.

It is now learned that a settlement was effected last Saturday afternoon in the office of the lawyer in whose hands the matter had been put. It consisted of the accused woman signing a paper in which was stated that she was the author of the letter and that the statements made in it were absolute falsehoods. The husband of the woman was one of the witnesses to the declaration.

CHILDREN FRIGHTENED.

Heard Suspicious Noises and They Jumped Out of a Window.

Neighbors of J. A Layton, who resides at 137 Grove street, were startled last night about 9 o'clock to hear the terrified cries of several children as they ran about screaming "thieves!" It appears that all the older members of the family had gone out early in the evening leaving the house in care of the younger children.

About 9 o'clock the children heard some suspicious noises about the house and thought they were caused by burglars. The back door was locked and they were afraid to go through the front door of the house because the suspicious noises came from that direction. In terrible fright the children jumped out of the window and ran yelling to the neighbors. An investigation was made and it was found that one of the windows had been mysteriously raised. After the bolder ones had looked about no trace of robbers could be secured and once more the community regained its quietude.

STATE W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Opening Day of the Twenty-fourth Annual Convention.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, of New Jersey, opened in Trenton yesterday afternoon with a prayer and conference meeting conducted by Mrs. M. C. Nobles, of Atlantic Highlands.

Last evening a meeting was held at Association Hall. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Sickels. Welcomes were also extended on behalf of the Trenton unions, by Mrs. R. M. Anderson; on behalf of the Mercer county unions, by Mrs. G. M. P. Wells, and on behalf of the churches, by Rev. Dr. S. M. Studdiford. The response on behalf of the convention was made by Mrs. C. Gebhardt, of Clinton.

FATAL TORNADO AT ELIZABETH.

House Overturned and a Hod Carrier Caught and Killed.

A tornado, followed by a cloudburst, swept over Elizabethport shortly before noon yesterday and did considerable damage. Fences and outhouses were blown down, trees uprooted, and at 211 Rankin street a new two-and-a-half-story dwelling, almost completed, was demolished by the wind.

James Clark, a hod-carrier, who was working in the vicinity, took shelter at the side of the building when he saw the tornado coming. He was crushed beneath the ruins and was dead when his body was extricated. He was 35 years old, married, and his home was in Bayonne City. He boarded on Union street, Elizabeth. He leaves a wife and three children.

ENTERTAINED THE MINISTERS.

The Pastors Given a Pleasant Time at the Home of S. A. Cruikshank

The Ministers' Association, of this city, was entertained at the handsome residence of S. A. Cruikshank, of Belvidere avenue, on Monday evening. It was the regular monthly meeting of the association and it was the turn of Rev. Floyd Appleton to entertain. At the request of Mrs. Cruikshank, the meeting was held at her home and a dinner was given to the ministers. The paper of the evtning was read by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D. Several of the ministers were unable to be present.

SPENCER NOMINATED.

Chosen as Candidate for Surrogate on Second Ballot.

VAN DOREN NAMED FOR ASSEMBLY.

The Republican Convention in Somerset County Met at Somerville This Morning—Plainfield Represented on Committees—Senator Reed Opposed Spencer's Candidacy for Surrogate.

(Special Correspondent to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, October 13th—The contest for political honors opened this morning at 11 o'clock in the County Court house, when the Republican county convention was called to order by ex-Senator L. A. Thompson, chairman of the Somerset County Republican executive committee, after which J. L Griggs, of Somerville, was made chairman of the convention on a motion made by ex-Mayor W. H. Whiting, of Bound Brook. County Clerk F. W. Somers nominated Henry A. McGee, of North Plainfield, secretary and the North Plainfielder accepted the position. The official roll call of the delegates was then read by the secretary. This was followed by a motion offered by former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., of North Plainfield, that the committees be appointed. Mr. Hegeman was appointed chairman of the committee on resolutions, while N. B. Smalley secured a place on the committee on credentials.

The delegation from North Plainfield and the township consists of B. A. Hegeman, Jr., P. A. Emmons, N. B. Smalley, J. W. Codington and Henry A. McGee. After the appointment of committees Mr. Hegeman moved the convention adjourn until 2 o'clock.

There is a large sprinkling of political leaders from North Plainfield, including W. C. Smith, Poole Voorhies, Andrew Lutkins, W. L Smalley, Senator Reed, H. N. Spencer, Judge Brown, Charles H. Lyman and D. J. Carney, and the chief topic discussed during the early part of the convention was the attitude of Senator Reed, who seemed to show that he was supporting G. W. Cooper, Mr. Spencer's strongest opponent for the office of surrogate. Mr. Spencer has for his chief backer ex Senator Thompson, and the latter, together with Mr. Spencer's friends, naturally feel ruffled to think that the Senator has thus turned his energies toward those outside of his habitation.

It was conceded that Mr. Spencer would have the support of the entire delegation from North Plainfield as well as from the leaders who were not delegates. During the adjournment the delegates devotod their time to a discussion of the latest move on the part of the Senator.

When the convention was called to order at 2 o'clock Chairman J. L. Griggs called for a report from the resolution committee, and Mr. Hegeman, chairman of the committee reported. The resolutions in the first place endorsed the platform of the National Republican Convention, especially that which referred to protection and the 100 cent. dollar. They congratulated the country on the election of President McKinley, and rejoiced in the advancing tide of prosperity which has already started the wheels of industry under the policy of the Republican administration. They also rejoiced that the people of Somerset county were so emphatic in their declaration for law and order in the large majority they gave for the anti-gambling amendment to the State Constitution, thus ratifying the action of their representatives in the Legislature.

The resolution pledged the active assistance of the delegates to the convention, and confidently submitted them to the suffrages of the Somerset county voters as worthy of their support. The resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote.

The next business of importance was the work of nominating candidates for the Assembly and for the office of Surrogate. J. V. D. VanDoren, of Hillsboro, received the nomination for Assembly, receiving the solid support of the delegates.

The following persons were nominated for surrogate: G. W. Cooper, of Bernards; G. A. Dilts, of Bridgewater; J. Newton Voorhies, of Franklin; P. N. VanNise, of Hillsboro; H. Newton Spencer, of North Plainfield.

The first ballot by townships was as follows:

	Spencer.	Cooper.	Voorhies.	Vanhise.
Bedminster,	3	2
Branchburgh,	4	1
Bernardsville,		5
Bridgewater,	5
Franklin,			5
Hillsboro,				5
Montgomery,			1	4
North Plainfield,	3	2
Warren,	5

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., nominated Mr. Spencer. On the second ballot, which was the same as the first, except the four votes previously cast by Mont-

SPAIN'S REPLY READY

Cannot Set an Exact Date for Ending the War With Cuba.

HOSTILITIES TO CEASE SOON

The Pacification Would Have Been More Rapid, It Is Asserted, Had It Not Been for Filibusters Under the United States Flag.

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 13.—It is semi-officially announced that the reply of Spain to the note presented by the United States Minister, Gen. Woodford, has been drafted by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Senor Gullon, and will be submitted to the Cabinet at its meeting to-day.

The reply, it is further stated, will announce that Spain is unable to fix exactly the date when the war will be over, but the Ministers are persuaded it will not be long, because "the situation of the rebels is critical, and the efforts of the Spanish troops are sure of success, owing to the rebel situation and the concession of autonomy, administrative and economic, which will be perfected before January. The Government hopes actual hostilities will finish shortly."

Spain, the reply continues, thinks the reforms and the activity of the Spanish troops are sufficient elements to secure the immediate pacification of the island, which, it is asserted, "would have been more rapid if the rebels had not had the support of filibusters who, under the shelter of the American flag, have contributed to maintain this state of affairs."

Sympathy for Weyler.

Havana, Oct. 13.—Senor Romero Robledo, a former Cabinet Minister, has telegraphed to Gen. Weyler from Spain, saying that the day will come when the latter will have "justice done him and be accorded reparation."

Gen. Weyler has also received numerous telegrams from other important politicians, bankers and merchants in Spain, expressing sympathy with him personally and with the policy he followed in Cuba.

It is now said to be possible that Gen. Weyler will not leave Cuba until Oct. 30, when he will embark for Barcelona.

BLOODY BATTLE IN IDAHO.

Four Men Killed in a Fight Between Shepherds and Settlers.

Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 13.—News just received from Long Valley, in Washington County, says that there has been a battle between the settlers and the shepherds, in which four men were killed and one dangerously wounded.

Details are meagre, but it appears that fifteen of the settlers warned the sheep men to leave the valley, and when they refused made an attack upon the sheep camp.

Thirty shots were fired by the settlers, and a man named Barber, leader of the sheep men, was killed.

The sheep men returned the fire, killing three of the settlers. The rest of the attacking party fled.

The trouble is the outgrowth of the strained relations that have existed in that section between the settlers and sheep men for some time. It is not an uncommon thing for stock to be maimed and haystacks to be burned and even settlers and sheep men to exchange shots, but no one has heretofore been killed.

League Will Abolish Temple Cup

Boston, Oct. 13.—The National League, at its coming Fall meeting in Philadelphia, will probably abolish the Temple Cup series. The actions of the Boston and Baltimore players in the recent series was the last straw. They clearly demonstrated that they cared more for gate receipts than for the glory of winning the cup, and by equally dividing the money instead of splitting it up on the 60 and 40 per cent., as laid down in the conditions, they made the games appear farcical.

It is said that President Soden, of the Boston Club, will offer a resolution to abolish the series. It may be that the League will put up a purse for the winning club. Selee and Hanlon counted up and divided the Temple Cup receipts. Each Boston and Baltimore player got a trifle more than $300.

Carnegie's Big Ore Deal.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 13.—Andrew Carnegie has perfected the largest iron producing combination in the world by securing the lease of the Tilden mine. He will operate this big producer in combination with the Norrie and the group of mines which he owns in the Mesaba range. Dr. Nelson P. Hulst, a mining expert, has been placed in charge of all the Carnegie mining interests.

The series of operations whereby the Carnegie interests have come into control of the greatest group of iron ore producing properties in America constitute the most important movement that has taken place in the iron trade for years.

A Jack the Ripper.

Lyons, France, Oct. 13.—A shepherd was yesterday arrested in the Department of Ain, forty-four miles from this city, charged with committing a series of so-called Jack the Ripper murders.

He has confessed to killing three shepherds, three girls and two old women. Vacher was formerly confined in an asylum for the insane.

The series of murders attributed to him commenced in 1894, and they appear to have been actuated by purely bloodthirsty instincts, as the victims were all poor people.

They were terribly mutilated after their throats had been cut, and all the women were criminally assaulted.

$10,000,000 Beer Trust.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—The Central Pennsylvania Brewing Company, with a capital of $10,000,000, has applied to the State Department for a charter.

This company will control most of the breweries throughout the central part of this State.

Hugo's Work Barred.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The committee of the Board of Education of the Girls' High School of this city has placed Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" under the ban of educational conservatism.

TWO WOMEN KILLED.

Mother and Daughter Murdered by Burglars in Camden.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 13.—There is still great excitement over the murder which occurred in this city early yesterday morning, when desperate burglars shot and killed two women who endeavored to save their property from the thieves. The murderers escaped, and thus far have eluded capture.

Mrs. Emma Vane, aged 65 years, was instantly killed, and her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Shaw, expired in less than half an hour, without regaining consciousness.

The two women lived at 242 Line street, in the lower part of Camden, near the river front. It was about 4.30 o'clock when the police discovered the crime. Eli Shaw, a son of Mrs. Shaw, was seen at the third-story window and was shouting for the police at the top of his voice. The young man has been ill with typhoid fever, and in a statement to the police said that he was awakened shortly after 4 o'clock by a pistol shot. He made his way down stairs, and at the bottom of the third-story stairs found his mother bleeding and unconscious. He ran to the window and gave the alarm.

When the police entered the house they found Mrs. Vane sitting in a chair in the sitting-room dead, with a bullet wound in her head. Mrs. Shaw was at once removed to the Cooper Hospital, where she died in a few minutes, without making any statement.

The shock incident to the tragedy has caused a relapse in the condition of Mrs. Shaw's son, and it is feared will result fatally. An examination of the house showed that a rear shutter had been forced open, and a bureau drawer on the second floor had been ransacked.

Reward Offered.

Mayor Wescott this afternoon authorized the offering of $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers.

The police think it possible the robbers knew Mrs. Vane had money in the house, and, not knowing it had been paid out, were searching for it when the women came upon them.

Eli Shaw, the son and grandson, was rigorously examined by two Philadelphia detectives last night, but at the end of their inquiry he was not detained. The police say that the glass of one of the kitchen windows, supposed to have been smashed by the burglars while gaining entrance to the house, was broken from the inside.

American Racers in England.

London, Oct. 13.—American horsemen and the racing public generally are looking forward with unusual interest to the result of the Cesarewitch Stakes, to be run to-day at Newmarket. Apart from the intrinsic value of the event it possesses a certain fascination for the adherents of the Stars and Stripes ever since Foxhall Keene beat a field of eighteen in 1881, and then emphasized his quality by picking up a penalty of fourteen pounds and winning the Cambridge Stakes two weeks later.

America makes a bold bid for a revival of the Foxhall sensation this year, and is well represented in both handicaps. The notable Yankee-bred ones in to-day's race are August Belmont's Keenan and J. R. Keene's St. Cloud II. The former is a 5-year-old, whose form previous to his exportation from here is well remembered. St. Cloud II. is a 3-year-old who ran third to the famous Galtee More in the St. Leger recently. He was then meeting the Irish crack at practically even weights, while now he has a concession of thirty-one pounds.

States' Day at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 13.—New York, Connecticut and Delaware had their celebrations at the exposition yesterday. New York was represented by her Lieutenant-Governor, Timothy L. Woodruff. Gov. Tunnel and staff were here to do the honors for Delaware. The ancient Putnam phalanx, of Hartford, arrived in the morning, demonstrating Connecticut's interest in the day. The battalion made up of four separate regiments of Brooklyn's contingent of the New York State Guards paraded this morning.

The day's festivities concluded with a reception and grand ball in the New York building, which is headquarters for the visiting delegations.

From the Pope to McKinley.

London, Oct. 13.—President McKinley will soon be the recipient of a handsome volume containing a description of the Borghese apartments in the Vatican.

The book is handsomely illustrated and is considered by book lovers to be the most luxurious volume ever published.

Only 100 copies of the book have been printed. The heads of all the European nations will also receive copies of the book. Pope Leo is the donor.

The Condition of the Pope.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 13.—Bishop J. J. Hennessy, of this city, who led the recent American pilgrimage to Rome, has returned. Speaking of the Pope's health, Bishop Hennessy said:

"I see no change in the Pope since my last visit four years ago, save that he is bent a little more, but his physical health is good, his eye is bright, his mind clear, his judgment excellent and his memory extraordinary."

To Corner the Milk Supply.

London, Oct. 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette says that a New York syndicate, which already controls a large part of the milk supply of New York City, is attempting to raise funds in London in pursuance of a scheme to obtain control of still more of the supply, in order to establish a monopoly and dictate the price of milk in New York and the surrounding district.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The appearance of the Grant Avenue station has been much improved by the grading of the lawn and roadway leading to it.

—The fall and winter programme for the Primary Teachers' Union has been issued, and those who are interested should obtain one.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Bass, of Second place, is confined to her home with illness.

Conductor McCormick, of the street railway, has returned from a few days' outing.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Evarts Tracy and family, of Hillside avenue, have taken up their residence in New York.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Madeline Day, of Mercer avenue, is staying in Orange.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Benjamin Schenck, of East Fifth street, has been visiting in Somerville.

E. Maxwell Honeyman, of Duer street, returned to Lafayette College Monday afternoon after spending Sunday at home.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Walter B. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, will appear before the board of examiners of the New Jersey Naval Reserve on Friday evening to take his examinations for the office of ensign. He has already received his commission from Governor Griggs.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.' Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

STRIPPED A SOCIETY WOMAN.

A Bridgeport Lady Accused of Stealing a Diamond Ring.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 13. — All Bridgeport is in a state over the indignities to which one of her society women has been subjected in a local jewelry store.

The injured woman was Mrs. Jane Wingfield, whose position in Bridgeport society is thoroughly established, and she was stripped of her clothing for the purpose of searching her for a diamond ring which she was accused of stealing.

Mrs. Wingfield visited Olsen's store for the purpose of selecting a ring. Max Fairchild, salesman, displayed a tray containing a large variety. Suddenly he accused the woman of appropriating a diamond circlet and demanded that she replace it in the tray.

Her face burning with indignation, Mrs. Wingfield turned to leave the store.

Fairchild ran around the counter and interrupted her, at the same time bawling, "Police! police!"

Mrs. Wingfield turned, and sitting down, demanded that a policeman be sent for.

Several officers arrived in response to the salesman's outcry, and when the situation was explained to them Mrs. Wingfield was asked to submit to being searched.

The young woman to whom was delegated the task of searching her had not yet found the missing bauble, and she actually made Mrs. Wingfield open her mouth that she might inspect it to ascertain if she had pouched the ring in her cheek or held it under her tongue.

The saleswoman was obliged to report that she had found no trace of the missing jewel, but how the victim of this search ever managed to get into her clothing again and find her way home is a mystery to herself.

The missing ring was subsequently found in another part of Olsen's store.

Jeweller Olsen offered an abject apology to the injured woman last evening, but the infuriated husband would not listen to him. He still threatens vengeance on the hasty salesman, whose accusation of his wife resulted in the insults and indignities, and he has brought suit against Olsen for $5,000 damages.

RECORD BREAKING EXPORTS.

Valued at $70,062,911 Last Month, Against $52,910,489 in 1896.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Reports received from several shipping ports by the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department show that the reports of the principal articles of domestic merchandise were much larger during September than in any other month in recent years. August was a record-breaking month, but September showed a still greater increase, the value of the articles exported amounting to $70,062,411, as against $52,910,489 for September, 1896.

During the last month exports of breadstuffs were twice as great as those of the corresponding month last year, three times those of September, 1895, and four times those of September, 1894. The increase in other staples of domestic production was almost as marked, cottons exported being valued at $14,655,400, mineral oils at $4,850,891, cattle and hogs at $3,096,752 and provisions at $12,835,422. Other articles were exported as follows: Corn, $6,092,296; wheat, $19,685,751; fresh beef, $1,810,990; bacon, $3,515,607; hams, $1,649,446; lard, $2,571,171.

Real Trouble in Catskill.

Albany, Oct. 13.—Forty families living on Main street, in Catskill, have petitioned Gov. Black, alleging that the works of the Eastern Paving Brick Company, at Catskill, are operated as a nuisance and are a serious menace to health. The families living in the vicinity allege that every sewing machine near the works has been rendered useless on account of rust, occasioned by the gas from the works, and that the houses must be kept tightly closed the year around, because the kilns give out heavy black smoke, coal gases and foul and noisome smells and odors dangerous to health.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The following fourth-class postmasters have been appointed by the President:

New Jersey—Upper Macoupin, Passaic County, Thomas H. Mable.

New York — Downsville, Delaware County, Arthur J. Wilson; Newville, Herkimer, Chester A. Fort; Rockdale, Chenango, Joseph H. Powers; Vestal Centre, Broome, Wesley Osincup.

These changes, with the exception of that at Downsville, New York, were to fill vacancies caused by removal for political reasons.

Col. George North Resigns.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—Col. George H. North, the stock broker, who was imprisoned for contempt in failing to make payment of a legacy of $2,000 from an estate of which he is the executor, has resigned his commission as Adjutant-General of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, which he has held since March 20, 1879. He will be placed on the roll of retired officers. No settlement has yet been effected of the complications which caused his imprisonment.

A Fake About New York's Finances.

Albany, Oct. 13.—The State Comptroller and State Treasurer are amazed at the audacious fake statements sent out by a press association pretending to show the condition of the State Treasury on Oct. 1. This statement said the balance in the treasury on Oct. 1 was $2,313,314. At the State Treasurer's office to-day it was learned that the balance in the State Treasury on Oct. 1 was $7,243,904, or nearly $5,000,000 more than was stated, and $2,313,858 more than was in the State Treasury on Oct. 1, 1896.

Yale-Princeton Football.

New York, Oct. 13.—Harrison Hall, manager of the Princeton football team, and D. C. Twitchell, manager of the Yale eleven, met in this city yesterday afternoon and practically completed arrangements for the big game between these universities to be played at New Haven on Nov. 20.

Bryan at Bowling Green.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 13.—W. J. Bryan spoke here yesterday to nine thousand people. He said that his reception in Kentucky had been very gratifying, and regarded that as an indication that silver is gaining ground.

KLONDIKE TREASURES

Returning Miners Tell of Great Wealth There.

CLAIMS ARE UNDEVELOPED

Estimates of Immense Ore Deposits in Ground as Yet Unbroken. Claims Not as Rich as on the Klondike, but Climate Better.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 13.—The steamship City of Topeka arrived here Monday night from Alaska. It had on board eighty-five miners from Cook's Inlet and over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of gold dust. George Hall, who represents more mining interests than any other individual passenger, says that three hundred thousand dollars came down. No man had less than one thousand dollars. The party left Cook's Inlet on Sept. 22 on the steamer Dora, connecting at Sitka with the Topeka.

Hall has bought and bonded three thousand acres in Sunrice district, and expects, by hydraulic work, to take out one thousand dollars per day. The miners, he says, are satisfied with Cook's Inlet. Gold is not found there in such large quantities as on the Klondike, but there is plenty of it and no trouble about food.

Among the miners with money were John Raynor, $40,000; Robert Michaelson, $40,000; A. M. Brown, $15,000; E. C. Price, $20,000, and H. A. Schmeser, $14,000, all taken out in one year. Thomas Williams, Robert Elliott, Richard Lane, Frank Ducrey and Fred Smith have from $5,000 to $15,000 each. Sink Creek, at Cook's Inlet, which was abandoned, is now valuable. Smith took out $1,000 there in two days.

The next boat will bring down more Cook's Inlet miners and plenty of gold. Hall says that there has been no rain all Summer, and the creeks are low. One man told him that if the water did not rise he would take out $40 a day. Mining is done on the beds of creeks, and high water stops the operations. Three hundred miners will Winter at Cook's Inlet.

The Topeka brought down John A. Maloney, a lawyer of Juneau, who had reports from Dawson up to Sept. 8. He left there on Aug. 9. He said:

"No boats have arrived with food, and the residents were very much excited. Every bit of food had been contracted for, but there was not sufficient there to feed the inhabitants until Spring, and unless boats arrive from St. Michael's there will be actual starvation this Winter. That is not idle talk.

"Fifty persons were to arrive there on Sept. 20 and come out overland to Juneau. Scarcity of food is driving them away. When it became known that I was going to take a party out from Dawson on Aug. 29 I had five hundred applications for passage on the little steamboat that took us up Pelly River. These persons wanted to come out because they knew that there would be actual starvation, and they did not care to be among the victims. There is gold at Dawson in plenty, but not food."

Washington, Oct. 13.—A report from the United States educational agent at St. Michael's, Alaska, representing a bad condition of affairs in the Yukon country, with prospects of starvation during the Winter, has been presented to the Cabinet by Secretary Bliss. The Cabinet agreed that it would be better to wait for a report from Capt. P. H. Ray, who is investigating the condition on the Yukon, before taking any official action to relieve the distress. It is doubtful if any more relief can be sent to St. Michael's this year.

JOHN CHANLER INSANE.

Amelie Rives' First Love and Astor Heir.

New York, Oct. 13.—John Armstrong Chanler, the great-grandson of John Jacob Astor and formerly the husband of Amelie Rives, the author, was taken to Bloomingdale Asylum six months ago. His friends spread a report that he had gone to Europe, and it was said at his law office in the Equitable building yesterday that he still was abroad.

Amelie Rives, whose divorce from Mr. Chanler was obtained in as mysterious a manner as was his commitment to Bloomingdale, and who on Feb. 18, 1896, was married to Prince Troubetsky, became a mental wreck last June and was taken to a sanitarium in Philadelphia. Later it was announced that she had recovered her health.

Mr. Chanler married the gifted author soon after her book "The Quick or the Dead?" made a sensation in the literary world. No two persons in all the country were more talked about than this couple when they went abroad for the honeymoon. Now both are under treatment for mental disorders.

To Finance the Jersey Bridge.

New York, Oct. 13.—The adjourned annual meeting of the New York and New Jersey Bridge Company, set for yesterday, was again adjourned until Nov. 9, to await the completion of the syndicate, now forming, which is to take up the proposed issue of $60,000,000 of bonds. The syndicate is partially completed, and it was reported yesterday includes two banking firms of this city and a representative of London and Paris capitalists. As the syndicate, when formed, will doubtless demand representation in the Board of Directors, the election of the board will be postponed until the syndicate is prepared to act in the matter.

Dropped Dead at Basket Ball.

Newburg, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Dr. James Johnstone, a veterinary surgeon, 32 years old, and a member of the Tenth Separate Company, dropped dead in the armory last night while playing a practice game of basket ball. Johnstone left a widow. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death.

20,000 Cattle Sold at $13 a Head.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 13.—The largest cattle deal made in Texas since the boom days of fifteen years ago was arranged here to-day, Ike T. Pryor selling to Winfield Scott, of Fort Worth, 20,000 head of cattle of all classes for $13 per head, Fall delivery. Other big sales are pending.

In commenting on L. W. Serrell's letter to The Press concerning the proposed county ownership of an electric railway, the New Brunswick Home News says:

Mr. Serrell appears to have gone over the ground very thoroughly, and unless his estimates of the cost of the improvement are exaggerated at least 50 per cent., it would seem to be a losing game for the taxpayers of Union county. The plan, however, is very interesting in the line of municipal enterprise, and if it is to be undertaken anywhere Union county is a first-rate place to make the experiment.

Public ordinances seeking to regulate the use of bicycles are of little avail unless seconded intelligently by the riders themselves. Instead of this being the case, many bicyclists boast of having violated this or that ordinance without detection. It may be so because of the comparative newness of the sport, and time will bring the remedy. The bettering of affairs rests almost entirely with the great body of riders.

The sweeping effect of the anti-gambling amendment can be realized when it is known that under a strict application of the law even the gift of prizes in progressive euchre is made an offense. The friends of the race tracks now boldly declare that they will insist on having the amendment carried out to the letter.

A New York chorus girl has just been married to a New Jersey farmer. It seems a natural step for her to take. A young woman who has been a chorus girl is accustomed to a life of ease and luxury, and it is well known that the farmer's wife does not have a thing to do but enjoy herself.—Rochester Union.

Plainfield will be entitled to the following representation by wards in the Democratic county convention, to be held in Elizabeth October 19th: First ward, 4 delegates; Second ward, 2 delegates; Third ward, 2 delegates; Fourth ward, 6 delegates. The primaries will be held Friday evening of this week.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that the late John R. McPherson had his eyes cast towards the Gubernatorial chair of New Jersey, and that his political lieutenants were endeavoring to shape affairs so that his nomination might be accomplished.

If there is any one man interested in the laying of sidewalks in the borough that man is Mayor Wilson. His Honor can be seen frequently going from one end of the borough to the other looking after the interests of all concerned.

The fact that the Greater New York Mayoralty contest is four-cornered does not necessarily make it a square one.

"Killed by a horse car." An evidence that New York is still behind the times in some things.

Convention Echoes.

On Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, the Endeavorers of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold a "convention echo" meeting, at which reports of the recent gathering at Paterson will be given by the six delegates from the society. The singing, which will be led by Horace J. Martin, will be a special feature. Following the echo meeting a recognition service for the newly-elected officers will be held.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Assemblyman W. R Codington was in Elizabeth yesterday on business.

Miss Mary VanEps, of East Front street, has recovered from a slight illness.

Miss Belle Lewis, of Somerset street, is entertaining her cousin, John Lewis, of Newark.

Miss Fenner, of this city, who has been visiting relatives in Dunellen, has returned home.

Julius Froebling, of New York city, has returned after a visit with friends in this city.

Mrs. Jonn H. VanWinkle, of Duer street, who has been very ill, is much improved in health.

William Jones, the genial porter at Randolph's pharmacy, has gone on a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Leonard Bunn, of Elmwood place, has about recovered from her recent severe illness.

Miss Lila Abrams, of Rocky Hill, has been the guest of Mrs. George Lewis, of Mountain avenue.

Mrs. Julius Froebling and family, of Liberty Corner, are visiting Mrs. J. A. Hoffman, of Grove street.

Mrs. Jacob T. Stout, of Atlantic Highlands, is a guest at the home of John H. VanWinkle, of Duer street.

Miss Ethel Marsh, of New York, has returned to her home after a visit with Miss Fannie Western, of Washington avenue.

Charles Dunlap, of East Fifth street, has recovered from his illness and is able to resume his duties at the law offices of Murphy & Blatz.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Randolph, of West Front street, have returned after visiting relatives in Brooklyn.

Justice Sperry, of the borough, celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday at his residence on Grandview avenue Tuesday.

VISITORS SHOULD SEE IT.

Hahne & Company's Acre of Home Furnishings.

It is doubtful if there is a single store in New York city, either a department store or a furniture establishment, which carries the amount or variety of house and office furniture that Hahne & Company, of Broad street, Newark, have constantly on hand. There are literally acres of floor space in this great store devoted to the articles that make home comfortable and luxurious. It is possible for every one to be suited, whether the furnishings desired are either of medium quality or of the finest made in the world. There are not a few pieces of various qualities to be selected from, but dozens of qualities and scores of designs in every line of home decoration; and there is nothing offered for sale that is not good for years of service.

Hahne & Company have visitors daily from every part of New Jersey, and it is worth anyone's while to inspect the various rooms which are furnished according to the latest style with bedroom furniture, dining room requisites, library comforts, parlor and sitting furnishings, etc. These apartments show the effects to be secured with an outlay of a comparatively reasonable amount of money.

There are few houses in the United States that are larger buyers of furniture than Hahne & Company, so that it is easy to understand why that concern can undersell competitors in the race for the approval of New Jersey housewives.

"So far as office furniture is concerned," said one of the firm to the writer, "you can understand what we are doing in that line when I tell you that we furnish every office of the Prudential Insurance Company, no matter in what part of the United States it is situated."

Hahne & Company's furniture floor is a sight that no visitor to Newark should miss seeing.

Has Not Bought Boynton Beach.

Colonel J. F. Krueger, son of Gottfried Krueger, denied yesterday that his father had purchased the resort in Middlesex county known as Boynton Beach, on Staten Island Sound. A rumor had been current for several days that the resort had passed into Krueger's hands, and that he would open it up as a park, at which beer and liquor would be sold. Boynton Beach was built up and has always been owned by Cassimer Boynton. It is a temperance resort, and a favorite with Sunday-schools and families.

The short rain of yesterday made it obligatory for the Street Railway Company to transfer passengers under the Watchung avenue bridge.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.

FALL AND WINTER

-CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1 50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.25, that other stores ask $15.00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18.00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50. Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1.65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00, 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16.00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12.00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined, French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3 25, worth 10 00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18.00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2 50 and $3.00, worth from 6 00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants actually valued at 12 00 to 15 00, sale price at $4.50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7 50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's extra fine brown plaid suits at $3.50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2 50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12.00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. Everybody living within tweny-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great sheriff sale.

WESTFIELD

ORDINANCE PRESENTED.

TROLLEY COMPANY AGAIN BEFORE TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE.

Statement of Road Repairs for the Year, and Other Official Business—Social Club Elects Officers—Other Personal Items.

The Westfield Township Committee held a meeting last night, and upon the recommendation of Engineer H. C. VanEmburgh, gave Contractor Johnston an extension of time until the 23d to complete the work of grading and curbing Broad street between Prospect and Elm streets. If the work is not completed by that time, a forfeit will be exacted for each day overtime. The township clerk was instructed to notify the Suburban Electric Company that their poles on Broad street were in the way of proposed improvements on Broad street, and must be changed according to the contractor's wishes. A. A. Gaddis, representative of the Elizabeth and Westfield Railway Company, presented the written consent of the requisite number of property owners along its proposed line of tracks, and also a copy of the ordinance which it petitions the Committee to pass. The question of repairs and alterations to the Central Railroad's culverts within the township was discussed, and as nothing has yet been done in the matter, the Committee decided to visit Superintendent Peddle in a body on Friday and request a speedy completion of the work. The clerk stated that the Union Water Company had done nothing as yet toward repairing Lawrence avenue, as requested by the Committee. Several property owners sent in agreements to pay their sewer assessments in annual installments. Township Treasurer Morehouse read a statement of the township road account, showing expenditures for the year of $3,097 and a balance remaining of $2,750. Road Superintendent J. R. Connolly was instructed to oversee the work of the contractor who is repairing Broad street. Bills to the amount of $419.68 were ordered paid and the Committee adjourned to meet on Friday evening, the 22d.

The Social Club held its annual business meeting at its rooms in the Standard building, last night, and elected the following officers: President, W. H. Gomes; vice-president, Dr. Fred A. Kinch; secretary, A. E B. Bogert; treasurer, H. H. Dounes; governing board, L. R. LeClear, W. H. Hackett and E. J. Whitehead. A house committee will be appointed later by the governing board. The treasurer's report showed the financial condition of the club to be excellent.

The trustees of Fairview Cemetery held their bi-monthly meeting in the Public Library rooms, on Broad street, Monday evening, and the committee in charge of the matter announced that the books containing a history of the cemetery and much information of value to plot-holders are now ready for subscribers.

Mrs. E. R. Wheelock, formerly of Westfield, died suddenly of paralysis on Monday at her home in Brooklyn. The funeral was held this afternoon.

The boards of registry of the first and second districts met last evening and added a number of names to the registry lists.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ostrander, of Omaha, Neb., are visiting Mr. Ostrander's sister, Mrs. S. W. Reese, of Elm street.

Chief Dennis and staff will conduct an inspection of the Westfield Fire Department tonight.

The Exempt Firemen's Association held a meeting in the fire department rooms last night.

Miss Belle Flowers, of Montclair, is the guest of Mrs. Herbert Jones, of Broad street.

Westfield Lodge, No. 169, I. O. O. F., holds a meeting tonight.

It Reflects Our Methods.

There are two notable points about the sale of

that are worth notice. First, we guarantee it. If it fails to give satisfaction in any respect your money will be cheerfully refunded. Second, it is a remedy that can be guaranteed; it would be folly to sell an inferior remedy that way.

The price is 25 cents. It cures bruises, strains, backache or deep seated pains anywhere.

Our proposition on this remedy applies to all the preparations we make. Our aim is to make satisfaction the basis of every transaction. We believe that such methods appeal to thinking people more than plausible promises of something for nothing; more than the use of schemes which in the end must prove a delusion.

JAPAN'S BIG ENTERPRISE IN AMERICA.

Large Appropriation by Imperial Diet—To Inform Americans How to Make Tea.

Several months ago, the Japanese Tea Guild sent to this country a special commission, composed of Mr. S. Mitsuhashi, President of Shizuoka Prefectural Assembly, and Mr. J. Ohara, member of Japanese Parliament, to investigate the condition of the Japanese Tea trade in the United States and Canada and to co-operate with Mr. T. Furuya and Mr. T. Mizutany, the American representatives of the Japanese Tea Guild, in giving publicity to the merits of Japanese Teas and the method of preparing them for drinking which would insure the best results.

Mr. Furuya and Mr. Mizutany are planning to open Tea Bazars in many of the principal cities in the United States and Canada, where ladies can enjoy a cup of fine Japanese tea made by experts, and at the same time receive instructions which will enable them to make it equally well at home. More than half the tea consumed in the United States and Canada is of Japanese growth, yet, the majority of Americans apparently do not understand how to prepare it so as to develop the delicious qualities which it contains. It is believed by these gentlemen that, when Americans are in possession of the secret of making good tea, the consumption in this country will fully equal that of Europe in proportion. The Japanese Government has appropriated a large fund to aid the Japanese Tea growers and Tea merchants in prosecuting this educational work, and it is hoped that American ladies will be apt students. The main Bureau of the Japanese Tea Guild has issued an official recipe for making Japanese Tea, the translation of which is as follows:

First.—Use a small dry, and thoroughly clean porcelain teapot.

Second.—Put in one teaspoonful of tea leaves for each cup of tea desired.

Third.—When using Japanese teas, pour on the required quantity of fresh boiled water, and let stand with closed lid from 2 to 3 minutes. Never boil the leaves. In order to retain the natural flavor, Japanese tea leaves should be kept in tight can or jar, free from moisture.

NOTE.—To thoroughly enjoy the natural, delicate and sweet flavor of Japanese Teas, neither sugar nor cream should be used.

That Popular Music Band.

It is pleasant to announce the coming of anything so entertaining to the masses as a concert by Brooke and his famous Chicago Marine Band, which will be heard at Music Hall tomorrow night. This band is called, and undoubtedly with justice, the greatest popular music band in the world. Everybody says they never heard popular music played so entertainingly, nor so much of a variety of music introduced into a programme with contrasting rapidity. The concerts given by Brooke throughout the east have been unprecedented in the annals of musical events of this character.

RESCUED MISS CISNEROS

How Her Escape Was Effected by a Correspondent.

WILL BE NO COMPLICATIONS

No Clause in Existing Treaties Provides for Extradition in Such Cases—Action by Spain Improbable—No Complaint Made.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The alleged Charles Duval, who effected the escape of Miss Cisneros, is Charles Duval Decker, or Karl Decker, as he is generally known. He is connected with the Washington office of the New York Journal, and was formerly a Washington reporter in the staff of the Baltimore American. He was in Cuba last Winter for the Journal, and returned there about a month ago under a contract from Mr. Hearst to effect the girl's release. Decker is a married man, and had a written agreement with Hearst providing for Mrs. Decker's support and remuneration in case Decker should be killed or put in prison.

No complaint about the release of Miss Cisneros has yet been made to the State Department by the Spanish Government. Senor Dupuy DeLome, the Spanish Minister, is out of town. He will be the proper person to make complaint.

It is supposed in official circles here that he will file a demand for the arrest and extradition of the girl, if she is in the United States, and the arrest of the young men concerned in her rescue. But whatever action the Spanish Government takes will be merely formal. Nothing whatever to the injury of Miss Cisneros and those who assisted her to escape will result from any action Senor Dupuy DeLome and this Government may take.

The State Department will undoubtedly decline to extradite the beautiful Cuban on the ground that she was a political prisoner. This is the rule followed by this country in all cases of refugees charged with complicity in rebellions. As for the men who got Miss Cisneros out of prison, they are quite as safe as the girl. There is no provision in any of our extradition treaties for the surrender of American citizens to foreign governments for trial. Such a provision was inserted in a treaty for extradition between the United States and the Orange Free State during the Cleveland Administration, but it was rejected by the Senate.

If the rescuers are arrested in this country on demand of Dupuy DeLome, they will be brought before a United States Commissioner, who will be obliged to release them on account of the refusal of the United States to recognize the authority of the State Department to surrender an American citizen to a foreign government for trial.

It is believed at the State Department that the Spanish authorities are heartily glad of the girl's escape, and will not press the case too closely. A demand for the punishment of the rescuers may be made, however, and a claim against the United States for damages on account of the rescue may follow.

A Demonstration in Miss Cisneros' Honor.

New York, Oct. 13.—Miss Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros is at the Broadway Central Hotel, but nobody is allowed to see her outside of the few persons connected with her escape from prison. The Cuban colony here has planned a big demonstration in her honor. A committee authorized by the Cuban delegation discussed yesterday the details of the demonstration, and decided that it should take place on Thursday or Friday.

The Treasury to Appeal.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Secretary Gage to-day instructed the Collector of Customs of New York to enter an appeal from the recent decision of the Board of General Appraisers, asserting that the Dingley Tariff law did not become operative until the moment it was signed by the President. The order of the Secretary is based on the instructions of the department originally sent out, directing that duties be assessed on goods entered after midnight on Friday, July 23.

The Secretary says that the department cannot accept the decision of the appraisers as final, and directs the application for review under the provisions of the act of June 10, 1890, "in order that the issue may receive the interpretation of the United States Circuit Court."

Yellow Fever in Jamaica.

New York, Oct. 13.—Advices from Jamaica say that the ravages of the yellow fever epidemic continue unabated, although it is hoped that the recent heavy rains may help to check it. Many new cases and several deaths have occurred. The serious fears entertained that Kingston would not be the only place visited by the plague have been more than realized, and there is little doubt that the disease has broken out in other parts of the island. In Port Royal there have been several grave cases among the seamen and officers stationed there. The city of Kingston has been quarantined by the naval station at Port Royal and by the military stations at Park Camp and Newcastle.

Gov. Bushnell Confident.

Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 13.—Gov. Bushnell, before leaving for Columbus to attend to official duties, said this about the Ohio campaign:

"I feel confident that I will be re-elected. I have visited nearly every part of the State, and everywhere have found Republicans cheerful and confident. The interest in the cause of free silver is not any way near as great as it was last Fall, when in the rural districts gains as great as twenty-five votes to one precinct were made in some parts of the State by the silver forces.

Woman Suffrage in Indiana.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 13.—The women of Indianapolis, under the direction of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will at once begin a crusade for suffrage by circulating petitions in every township in the State, praying that the Legislature amend the Constitution and grant them the right to vote. Mass meetings in the interest of female suffrage will be held throughout the State.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 4, 1897.

AN ORDINANCE

authorizing the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey to lay down and maintain a Siding or Turnout across North avenue and to run and operate engines and cars thereon.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to lay down, construct and maintain, one railroad track across North avenue in the City of Plainfield, and to run and operate railroad engines and cars on and over said railroad track across said North avenue, and that such authorization is granted upon the following terms and condition.

A. That the point where such single railroad track shall cross said North avenue shall be between lands of said Railroad Company on the South side and lands of Charles H. Leonard on the North side of said North avenue and not nearer than fifty (50) feet to Berckman street and not father from said Berckman street than two hundred and fifty (250) feet.

B. That said single railroad track shall be laid and maintained, as nearly as possible, at right angles to said North avenue.

C. That said single railroad track shall be so laid and maintained that the top of the rails shall be on a level with said avenue.

D. That for one foot on the outside of the rails, and between the rails, the said Company shall lay and maintain in good order on a level with the rails, planking, so that the crossing of said railroad track by vehicles shall be easy and convenient, such planking to extend a width equal to three-fifths of the carriage or driveway of said avenue. That the roadway of said North avenue, adjacent to to said crossing, be continually maintained on a level with said planks, and that the planks shall be renewed when, in the opinion of the Street Commissioner, it is necessary.

E. That said Railroad Company in the laying down and maintenance of said single railroad track shall make such culverts or drains, or both, on the gutter lines of the avenue to pass the surface water flowing in said gutters as shall be required by the Street Commissioner of said City.

F. That said Railroad Company shall erect a sign or signal post on one side of said railroad track on the curb line, to be lettered "Railroad Crossing. Look out for the Locomotive."

G. That said Railroad Company shall cause every engine, car, cars, engine and car or cars, which shall be moved across said avenue to be preceded in the going direction of said cars or engines by a flagman to warn persons traveling upon said avenue of the approach of said cars or engines, and no cars or engines shall be moved at a greater speed than such person can walk.

H. That the authorization above granted shall be terminable on thirty days' notice by a resolution of the Common Council to that effect served on said Railroad Company, and in such case said Railroad Company shall forthwith remove all tracks and rails from said avenue and restore the said avenue to the condition in which it now is.

A Dying Man.

SAVED BY THE BLOOD OF A CALF.

Mr John Shields, of Teddington, London whose foot was crushed under a heavy wagon while driving through a lonely lane became unconscious and continued to lose blood and grow weaker for nearly thirty minutes before he was discovered. Blood was drawn from a calf, and injected into Mr. Shields' arm with instantaneous results. He is to-day a healthy man. It was this case that prompted Dr. Campbell to extract the iron or Hæmoglobin from bullocks blood and put it up in the form of Capsuloids, for pale or weak people. One Capsuloid represents two-thirds of an ounce of pure blood.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price by The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 102 Fulton Street, New York.

Rupture!
Trusses!
Dr. Marcley has opened a branch office at No. 325 West Second street, corner Central avenue, Plainfield, for the treatment of rupture. 20 years experience and the most modern appliances warrants satisfactory results. No occasion to go to New York for what you can get better at home. Irreducible, difficult and complicated cases solicited. The treatment of rupture, whether mechanical or otherwise, most properly belongs to a surgeon of long experience in that particular line. No charge for examination or advice. Hours 9-12 a. m., 1-4 p. m. and evenings.

The Tables Turned.
We have almost solved the servant girl problem.
Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.
The tables are turned, and we have turned them.
We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.
Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,
Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth, 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "
What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

CHATTANOOGA'S ELECTION.

Landslide on the Democratic Side. Republicans Beaten by 1,600.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 13.—The municipal election here yesterday resulted in a landslide towards the Democratic side. Col. E. Watkins, Democrat, was elected Mayor over Thomas McDermott, Republican, by a majority of 995. Two years ago the Democratic candidate went in by a majority of less than one hundred, and in the last twenty years a Democratic Mayor has been an exception. Six out of eight Democratic Councilmen were elected, the Republicans losing heavily in every ward.

The Democratic gains are ascribed to the exceptional popularity of Col. Watkins, thorough organization and the difficulties the negroes had in voting, the election being under the Australian Ballot law.

TOM WATSON AGAIN.

Big Fusion Arrangement to Run Him for Governor of Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13.—A combination which threatens to give the Democracy of the State a hard tussle in the Gubernatorial election next year has grown out of a conference between State Senator Yancey Carter, th Populist standard-bearer of the State, with Walter Johnson, United States Marshal, and Edward A. Angier, District Attorney, after which the announcement was made that the Georgia Republicans would support Thomas E. Watson for Governor in the next campaign. Watson will also be on the ticket of the Prohibition party and the Farmers' Alliance, and his popularity in recent days renders it possible that some of the Democratic vote will go to him. The leaders of the machine Democracy will exert themselves to counteract the influence of this arrangement.

Sheriff Sues Paper and Preacher.

Jersey City, Oct. 13.—Sheriff William Heller, of Hudson County, N. J., has instituted a libel suit aganist the Evening Journal, of Jersey City, claiming $50,000 damages.

The declaration sets forth that the Sheriff is charged with having deliberately, corruptly and unlawfully caused men to come before the court to serve as Grand Jurors, and while serving as such jurors to do the dirty work of protecting crime and criminals. The article, the declaration says, has greatly injured the good character of the Sheriff, and leads many to whom he is unknown to suspect him of having been guilty of such offences.

Sheriff Heller has also instituted libel proceedings against the Rev. A. Kennedy Duff, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, in West Hoboken. The Rev. Mr. Duff, in a sermon preached about two weeks ago, openly accused Sheriff Heller of drawing his Grand Juries for the express purpose of shielding gamblers and permitting them to ply their trade.

The League Island Dry Dock.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The Pennsylvania delegation in Congress are much concerned about the fate of the proposed new dry dock for the League Island yard. Representative Adams came to Washington Monday, and was at the Navy Department to consult with the naval officials in regard to the matter. He has entered vigorously into the matter, and says that unless the department accedes to the demand of the Pennsylvania Congressmen there will be a big fight on hand next Winter. From all that can be learned at the Navy Department, it is thought that Secretary Long will not pay any attention to the demands of the representatives from Pennsylvania, but will follow the advice of the dock experts of the Navy Department, and that he will not make any recommendation to Congress for the location of one of the new docks at League Island. Senator Penrose and other Congressmen, while in Washington recently, intimated that they were prepared to fight hard for the new dock, and will take the matter into the Senate and House of Representatives, if need be.

Syracuse's Jubilee.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 13.—This city to-day is getting over its holiday in honor of its semi-centennial. In fact, the city has been incorporated only forty-nine years, seven months, but yesterday was fixed by the authorities as the civic holiday, as the Fall weather would be more suitable for the public demonstration. There was a grand parade, in which 15,000 persons, representing nearly all the organizations of the city, took part.

The parade was five miles long, and was three hours in passing the reviewing stand in Clinton square. Many elaborate floats representing the city's growth were in the procession. On the reviewing stand was a living flag of 500 school children in red, white and blue dresses.

Killed by a Tornado.

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 13.—A tornado passed over this city yesterday afternoon, and after blowing down a house on Rankin street and killing a man, seemed to rise in the sky and pass away to the north. Its path was marked by uprooted and broken trees, leveled fences and damaged buildings extending in a torturous line for nearly three miles from the lowlands into the manufacturing district to the higher territory of the residential section in the northwest. The greatest damage was in the lowlands, where the wind had an unbroken sweep across miles of salt meadows.

Was the Turnkey Bribed?

Havana, Oct. 10.—Senor Don Manuel Valdes Pita, judge of the district of Belden, in Havana, has arrested Jailer Jose Quintana and the guard, Ramon Garcia, from whom Miss Evangelina Cosio y Cisneros escaped.

Ramon Garcia is the custodian of the cell and door keys, and the judge wants to know if the young Cuban lady did not merely walk out of the main door, and with the consent of Quintana and Garcia.

Gen. Rivera Has Not Resigned.

Madrid, Oct. 12.—The report that Gen. Primo de Rivera, Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, had resigned and that his resignation had been accepted turns out to have been erroneous. The Government will retain Gen. Rivera at Manila for the purpose of developing the reforms that are to be inaugurated in the islands.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

Rivalry between the Orange and Elizabeth Athletic Clubs in football bids fair to be fully as fierce this year as last. The members and backers of both teams appear to be equally confident, and it is likely that the game which they play on the afternoon of Election Day will be fully as well attended and attract as much interest as did the Orange Crescent matches of former years. Orange has about decided on the make-up of her team, but Elizabeth is still testing her material, of which there appears to be an abundance. Capt. Phil Stillman will not select the men who will make up his team in the game with Orange until every man trying for the team shall have had an opportunity to show what he is made of.

BASKET BALL.

The date for the regular opening of the basket ball season in Plainfield has not yet been set. The regular team and the business men's team at the Y. M. C. A. have already met and will play several other games, but the first outside opponents of the Y. M. C. A. team have not yet been selected.

Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the Y. M. C. A., says that the prospects for a good basket ball season were never so bright in Plainfield. There are now twenty candidates for a five men team. It is his intention, however, to give them all a chance, and it will be by merit only that the team will be selected.

An attempt is being made to arrange a series of five basket ball games between the teams from the Plainfield and Summit Y. M. C. A's. for a silver cup, the cup to go to the club winning the three games. There was great rivalry between the two teams last year, and such a dual league would make the contests between the teams this year of great interest to players and audiences as well.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Joseph Clum and George Eckhart, of this city, enjoyed a spin on their wheels through the Oranges Sunday.

Peter B. Matthews, of Grove street, started on his wheel for Philadelphia this morning. He will remain there for several days. His cyclometer registered 6,140 miles for this season when he started.

UPSET IN A FLOOD.

An Elderly Man in a Dangerous Predicament Under Clinton Avenue Bridge.

The heavy rain of last night left the water quite deep under the Clinton avenue bridge, at Evona, this morning. At about 8:30 o'clock an elderly man attempted to drive through in a small phæton, but the pony which he drove became frightened and gave a sharp turn, upsetting the phæton and throwing the driver out. As the water was nearly three feet deep, and the man rather feeble, his mishap threatened for a moment to result seriously. While he was struggling in the water, Alfred Randolph, driver for H. A. Weber, the Liberty street grocer, happened along and fished the struggling man out of the water. The shafts of the phaeton were broken and it was otherwise badly damaged

Surprised Friends in Stelton.

A party of young folks, consisting of the Misses Giles, Miss Libby Joseph, Miss Jenkins, Miss Cora Richardson, Miss Ella Gardner, Miss Sadie Randolph, and Messrs. John Steiner, W. Moore, Judson Giles, D Laing, Fred Ross, Dyckman Winckler, Fred Phillips, Fred Batson and John Dilts, were conveyed from Plainfield to Stelton last evening in Captain Hand's stage where they surprised their friends, the Misses Lizzie and Ada Runyon. The jolly party took possession of the house at once and all enjoyed a good time. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing, and when the guests reached home this morning it was nearly 3 o'clock.

—The class in bookkeeping and commercial course at the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight.

COLORED GROOM HAS DISAPPEARED.

Now His Bride and Friends Are Wondering What Has Become of Him.

A sensation was sprung in colored society circles in this city today by the announcement that Robert Kenney, a young colored man who was to have been married today, had left town suddenly last night for parts unknown.

Kenney is employed as a coachman by Dr. Monroe B. Long, of 415 Park avenue. Some months ago he became acquainted with Miss Nora Williams, a young colored woman whose home is at 309 Arlington avenue, and the acquaintance soon resulted in their becoming engaged.

No intimation was given by Kenney at any time of his wish to break the engagement. The wedding was arranged to take place tonight, and the invitations were sent out and all the arrangements made accordingly.

Yesterday Kenney went about the city completing arrangements for the wedding. He hired a quantity of dishes from a caterer and made other provisions for his approaching marriage. This morning he went to the railway station and boarded the 1:17 train for the south.

He has not yet returned to this city, and it is thought that he has gone to his old home in the south in order to escape marriage. The news of his flight fell like a bombshell among the friends of the couple. They are unable to account for his action.

COLLECTED WAGON WHEELS.

Mr. Nevins Objected to the Loss of His and Brought Suit.

Stirling has just passed through a strange experience. Farmers living in that region have been missing the wheels to their wagons. They would awake in the morning and find their farm wagon in the barn with only three wheels. One wheel went from a wagon belonging to Israel J. Coon; another disappeared belonging to A. B. Nevins, and four from vehicles belonging to the Stirling silk mills.

The wagon owners grew indignant and began to watch for the appropriator of wagon wheels. At last it was claimed that the man had been discovered, and a Swede, formerly in the employ of Vincent Cornish, of the valley road, was pointed out as the guilty man. Then Mr. Nevins started legal proceedings against him in Justice Havey's court at Stirling.

Suit was brought in tort and the preliminary proceedings started. Yesterday the case came up for trial and all the residents for miles around came to see the fun. The defendant was represented by A. H. Cornish and the plaintiff by a lawyer from Summit. The case was an exciting one and the testimony was somewhat contradictory. A jury was sworn in and after a long trial they brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $40 and costs.

SPENCER NOMINATED.

gomery for VanNise, the nomination was given to Spencer, thus giving him one more vote than was necessary for the nomination.

The feeling on the part of the Spencer men is very great against Senator Reed, whom they claim is trying to get control of the county in opposition to ex-Senator Thompson, and it seems to be the general feeling here that Mr. Reed has politically killed himself.

Mrs Louis M. Cole, of Baltimore, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Meredith Dryden, of West Seventh street.

Miss Grace Smith, of Park avenue, and Miss Minnie Arnold, of Manning avenue, are the guests of New York friends.

Mrs. Anna Spencer, of New York, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Henrietta Bonnell, of Manning avenue, has returned home.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association held a meeting this afternoon and elected one new member.

—The Park Club board of governors did not hold a meeting last evening, but will meet next Tuesday evening instead.

—At the meeting of the Rathbone Sisters, last evening, one candidate was initiated and two propositions were received.

—Manager George H. Willey, of Music Hall, is in Philadelphia today purchasing costumes for his theatrical troupe with which he will start out next season.

—The women of the German Reformed church will hold a fair this afternoon and tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening in the basement of the church. All are cordially invited.

—Drake's Band, of Elizabeth, has been secured to accompany Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., of this city, to Morristown tomorrow, when they will take part in the annual field day exercises of the order.

—A meeting of the Borough Council will be held tomorrow evening at which time the Council will meet all persons interested in the Watchung Avenue Commissioners' report who have any objections to make thereto.

—Those needing the services of an expert electrician will find Frederick Chase, of Fanwood, a very handy man to have around. Ten years' experience has made him thoroughly conversant with all the details of the business, and he will be able to give very low rates for first-class work.

—An entertainment will be given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on the evening of October 18th, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Band. The entertainment will consist of tableaux and readings from James Austin's book entitled "Emma."

WHO WAS THE MAN?

Brown Claims That He Had Nothing to Do With the Case.

William Brown claims that it is all a case of mistaken identity; that he did not crowd Tom Marley off the sidewalk and that the latter did not use his "growler" with dampening effect on Brown's head. The story of Tom Marley, the drunken negro and the pail full of beer has already been told in The Press. Marley thought that the colored man who tried to crowd him off the sidewalk was Brown The man, whoever he was, ran around the corner, with Patrolman Cash in full pursuit, and was never seen again.

Yesterday, Roundsman Frederickson met Brown on the street and placed him under arrest on the charge of fighting and being drunk and disorderly. He was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza and the latter held Brown under bonds to appear for trial on Saturday morning.

Brown pleaded not guilty and declared that he had not been near Marley last Saturday night and that he had not been drunk on that night or any other night. He claims that he will be able to prove an alibi when the case comes to trial.

Miss Grace Crane, of East Second street, has returned home after a visit with relatives in Brooklyn.

John C. Whiting, formerly assistant secretary at the Y. M. C. A., who has been spending a few days with his mother on East Sixth street, returned today to New York city.

Peter V. Weaver, an old veteran, of West End Park, and his fellow comrade, Albert Runyon, of Mountain avenue, will drive to Rahway tomorrow and attend the annual reunion of Bramhall's Battery and the First New Jersey Cavalry.

KEEN WORDS ABOUT AN AXE.

LED TO A FIGHT BETWEEN WOMEN.

Dora Parsons Accused of Being the Aggressor—She Will Answer to the City Judge.

Miss Dora Parsons, the dusky heroine of a famous breach of promise case that came up for trial in the city court last winter, is now about to figure in another trial before City Judge DeMeza. This time, however, she is the prisoner instead of the complainant, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Parsons, from Paradise alley, figuring as the latter.

Mrs. Helen Parsons is the wife of Jacob Parsons, and together they have lived in peace and quietude in the alley, undisturbed by family troubles. Paradise alley itself has been unusually good of late, and the police have had little to do there. This last trouble arose over an axe that belonged in the household of Mrs. Helen Parsons. Her dusky sister-in-law skipped over the other day from her home on East Fourth street and borrowed the axe, as she wanted to cut wood. The axe was loaned, but not returned. Late Tuesday afternoon Miss Dora went over to the Paradise alley household. The two women began to talk about the axe Their words were cutting and grew sharper as the quarrel grew fiercer. Finally, Mrs. Parsons alleges that her sister in-law grew so angry that she seized the former by the gown and began to tear it into fair-sized strips She also claims that the angry Dora set her finger nails in Mrs. Parson's throat leaving two ugly cuts that are still to be seen.

After Mrs. Parsons escaped, she hurried to City Judge DeMeza's office, showed the ragged condition of her raiment and the cuts on her neck and made a complaint against Dora. A warrant was issued for the offending Miss Parsons, and Roundsman Frederickson was put on her track yesterday afternoon. Before he found her, however, she came to Chief Grant and gave herself up.

She was brought before City Judge DeMeza and released to appear for trial Saturday morning, when the case will be investigated and the story of the trouble will be heard.

THE OLD LEADERS WON.

Hot Fight in the Republican Primary in New Market Last Night.

The Republican primary at New Market last night to elect delegates to the Republican county convention was one of the most hotly contested held in years, the fight being between the old leaders and the new element who want to get control. For years the primary has been held in the afternoon, and when the call was made for the evening there was a great deal of surprise expressed, because it is inconvenient for some of the Republicans of the township to get there in the evening. But the fight was so hot that the attendance was large, notwithstanding the new order of things. A special train from South Plainfield brought a large crowd of voters from that section. The delegates representing the old faction were chosen as follows: Martin D. Nevius, 40; Wm. Drake, 39; J. P. Osmon, 43. The opposition delegates, who were defeated, were as follows: A. L Storms, 35; John Sebring, 22; Wm. Fitz Randolph, 34. Thomas Brantingham, 1.

The Repulican primary held last evening at Dunellen was a quiet affair and there was no opposition shown. Dr. Brakeley called the meeting to order and he was chosen chairman. Wilson Fredericks was made secretary. After the call for the meeting was read, Charles Coriell was elected delegate to attend the convention to be held at New Brunswick. As a second delegate, F. A. Gise was chosen in case he should be needed. The delegates were given the power to fill their own vacancies.

Their First Meeting of the Season

The Parliamentary Club held its first meeting of the season in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. building at 10 o'clock this morning. About thirty members were present. The usual practice was held, and the president, Miss C. R. Yates, and Mrs. S. R. Krom were elected delegates to the State convention of the Federation of Woman's Clubs, which meets in Camden on the 2-th inst. Mrs. Elmer Runyon and Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman were elected to membership, and the meeting adjourned to the 28th, when the annual election of officers will be held.

Discussed License Question.

The philanthropic committee of the Society of Friends held a meeting in the meeting-house, on North avenue, last night. About twelve members were present, and the chief event of the meeting was a discussion of the coming election to decide the matter of liquor license.

ONLY A HORSE, BUT LOVED

TRADED OFF FOR A "BAG OF BONES" BY INEBRIATED HUSBAND.

Mrs. John Staats Insists That Her Husband Had No Right to Dispose of the Horse and Brings Suit to Recover the Equine.

Everybody loved "Toby;" the children cried with glee when the good old equine appeared; the dogs barked joyfully before his forefeet; and his owner, Mrs. Sarah Staats, patted him on the nose and gave the faithful creature a lump of sugar that had been saved specially for him. "Toby" had grown up with the neighborhood and had become a recognized part of it. He belonged to Mrs. Staats, who used to drive him out every day until September 23d, when something dreadful happened. Since then the neighborhood has been mourning the loss of poor "Toby," and the courts have been called in to restore the animal to its original owner.

On that fateful day John Staats, husband of Mrs. Sarah Staats, took "Toby" and went out for a drive. It is said that he indulged too freely, for he has no remembrance of what happened on that afternoon except that he traded "Toby" for another horse that seemed at the time to be far superior to the faithful old equine. At any rate, when he returned Mrs. Staats found a strange horse in the shafts instead of her beloved "Toby." She says the new horse was scarcely more than a bag of bones and could nowhere equal dear old "Toby"

Mr. Staats had no remembrance of what became of the old steed, but the neighbors were called in and finally decided that the horse belonged to Mahlon Mulford, of New Market. So Mrs. Staats hitched up the new addition to her stable and drove to see Mr. Mulford. Mulford admitted that he had "Toby" in his barn, but explained that he had secured the horse by a fair trade made on the road and what was more he intended to keep "Toby." Mrs. Mulford left the other horse at Mulford's and went home.

Now, while "Toby" was not such a valuable horse in the eyes of the world, she had long owned him and had grown greatly attached to him. So she determined to get him back. She consulted her lawyer, Francis J. Blatz, of Murphy & Blatz, and as a result, suit was started in Justice Nash's court, in tort, to recover possession of the departed "Toby." Yesterday summons were served on Mulford, and trial was set down for October 22d.

A CHURCH FAIR.

Women in Charge and Have Arranged Things in a Pretty Shape.

The women of the German Reformed church are holding a fair for the benefit of the church. It opened yesterday afternoon and will continue until this evening. Everything has been well arranged for sale in the basement of the church. The committee in charge, consisting of Mrs. Jacob Blimm, Mrs. Phillip Giese, Mrs. Phillip Bach, Mrs. Fred Conde, Mrs. N B Smalley, Mrs. Angerbauer, Mr. Doeringer, August Wolf and Mr. Schleif, made every preparation for a successful fair.

The fancy table is in charge of Mrs. Jacob Blimm and Mrs. Hook. Mrs. Angerbauer and Mrs. Fred Conde were in charge of the grocery table. The cake and candy table was under the supervision of Mrs. N. B Smalley and Mrs. Phillip Giese, and Mrs Phillip Bach looked after the refreshments.

An attraction is the contest for two prizes, a rocking-chair and a handsome quilt. Those who are contesting for them are Mrs. Phillip Giese, Mrs. Angerbauer, Mrs. Jacob Blimm, Mrs. Fred Conde and Mrs. Phillip Bach.

Last evening a short musical and literary programme was presented by some of the young people of the church, and the large attendance found plenty of ways to pass an enjoyable evening.

County Doctors Met.

The Union County Medical Society held its regular meeting in the Y. M C. A. building yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. About forty members were present, and the vice-president, Dr. Green, of Elizabeth, presided. After the routine business was transacted the association listened to an interesting paper read by Dr. William C. Boone, of this city.

State Endeavor Officers Coming.

The Christian Endeavorers of Plainfield will, at an early date, have an opportunity of meeting the State officers of the society. It is quite likely that the State board will hold a meeting in this city soon.

Germans Will Sing.

On the evening of November 9th, the singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein will give a concert at the Spielkartenfest, to be held in the Cycle Academy for the benefit of the hospital.

MENTIONED FOR OFFICE.

Union County Men Who Are Talked Of as Candidates.

NEITHER PARTY HAS A SLATE FIXED.

Both County Conventions Will Be Held Next Week—Roger F. Murray, of This City, Will Probably Get an Assembly Nomination—James E. Martine, of This City, Talked Of For the Surrogateship

The Elizabeth Journal says:

Next week will be convention week for both Republicans and Democrats, and nominations will be made for candidates for surrogate and assembly. In political circles there is considerable stir, but there have been no slates fixed up which are certain to be adopted by the conventions.

It is well understood that Hon. George T. Parrot will receive the nomination for a renewal of honors of surrogate, and so far as that office is concerned the Republicans will have no other candidate.

But who are to be the Republican nominees for the assembly no one can tell just yet. There are candidates aplenty, or at least a number who are talked of as likely to go before the convention.

Sometimes it looks as if the ticket of last fall will be renominated. Hon. J. Martin Roll, of Springfield, is said to be ambitious for a third term, and there has been considerable talk that Hon. W. R. Codington, of Plainfield, had the same desire. But yesterday it was stated that Mr. Codington had expressed himself as not in the race. If any of the former assemblymen are renominated, the convention will in all probability honor them all, Messrs. Roll, Codington and Clauss.

In Mr. Codington's district there is a strong feeling favorable to the nomination of Roger F. Murray, of Plainfield. Former County Attorney Clarence M. Ward, of Rahway, has many supporters, and in this city, among the men who are mentioned as candidates are: Former Councilman George A. Squire, Councilman Robert L. Patterson and former Councilman Robert G. Houston.

The Democrats are as far from being settled upon their candidates as the Republicans, and more so in respect to the surrogate's nomination. The most probable opponent to Surrogate Parrot is former County Clerk John L. Crowell. His boom was launched at the Whitestone excursion, and it has been carefully nursed by his friends, with all the assistance that veteran in politics could himself give.

Jacob W. Sheppard, of this city, is talked of for the surrogate nomination, and his candidacy has grown in favor during the past week. There are others who hold to James E. Martine, the "farmer orator," although it is understood that Mr. Martine does not wish the nomination. It is also probable that some Democratic lawyer will get into the race as a dark horse.

For the assembly honor State Committeeman William D. Wolfskiel was regarded as slated for the nomination some months ago, but he is going to have a strong opponent in Councilman John J. Gardner, of the First ward.

Other candidates are: Samuel Schleimer, of the Tenth ward, Edward Nugent, of the Eighth ward, Frank Vosseller, of Plainfield, a son of the late County Clerk James S. Vosseller.

The Democratic primaries will be held on Friday evening and the convention on the 19th, at Turn Hall.

The Republican primaries will be held on Monday evening next, and the convention in Lyceum Theatre on Friday afternoon next, at 3 o'clock.

ELDERS AND DEACONS CHOSEN.

Annual Meeting of Trinity Reformed Church Held Last Night.

The annual meeting of the congregation of Trinity Reformed church for the election of elders and deacons was held last evening, at which time there was a good attendance of members. F. E. Smith, A. L. Force and H. J. Martin were chosen as elders, and R. A. Meeker, Curtis M. Thorp and E. E. Anthony were selected as deacons. This comprised all of the important business that was transacted.

Quarterly Meeting Held.

Next Sunday at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church will be held the quarterly meeting. In the morning, at 10 o'clock there will be a love-feast, and in the afternoon there will be preaching at 3 o'clock. The evening service will be devoted to communion. Visiting brothers are expected.

Left Less One Leg.

Charles Manning, who sometime ago met with an accident which resulted in the amputation of a leg, was discharged from the hospital this morning.

JUMPED THE WRONG WAY

Senator Reed Seems to Be Outside the Breastworks.

HE COULDN'T BEAT LEW THOMPSON.

The "Tall Sycamore" Sought to Gain Control of the County Leadership Through the Surrogate Candidacy—Thompson on His Mettle—Did Reed Dig His Political Grave by Such Action?

The fight for the nomination of Surrogate in the Republican convention of Somerset county, held in Somerville yesterday, is evidently broader in results than the nomination of H. Newton Spencer, the old political war horse of "over the brook." While there were several other candidates contesting Mr. Spencer's claims with vigor, the fight in reality was between former Senator Thompson and Senator Reed for control of the county. The Surrogate candidacy was the cornucopia through which the issue was brought to a focus.

After the nomination of Mr. Spencer had been accomplished the political wiseacres immediately proclaimed that "Charlie Reed is politically dead." Before the convention Mr. Reed hadn't said that he was for Mr. Spencer. He hadn't said that he was against him either. His position might be described as that of a man on the fence. But Spencer's friends thought that when it came to a choice between the North Plainfielder and any of his opponents, he would jump off on the former's side. But he didn't. He wanted to play in the political backyard of George W. Cooper, the rotund Somervillian, who ached to have the place Mr. Spencer got, and that is how he came to fall outside of the breastworks.

That is mere detail, however. Lew Thompson—all politicians of Somerset address him familiarly by his abbreviated given name—was the man whose efforts Senator Reed wanted to compass. Thompson is what Senator Reed wanted to be—the leader in the county. Thompson was Spencer's sponsor. It naturally came about in the course of political events that Spencer stood in the way of Reed's aim. Sweep Spencer out of the way and Thompson's influence would have been impaired, the attitude of the Senator seemed to bespeak.

Thus it was that the "Tall Sycamore of Somerset"—the sobriquet applied to the Senator in the Legislature—worked among the delegates yesterday seeking support for Cooper.

The bone of contention, it appeared, was the Warren delegation. A namesake—John C.—of Cooper, Spencer's rival, headed the delegation—they call him the uncrowned king of Warren—and he was persistant and steadfast in being the tail to the Spencer kite. Could he have been won over it was considered that Spencer's kite would have trailed in the dust of defeat. But Thompson had the string that guided the Spencer affair and he handled it so successfully as the political winds seemed to shift that there never was a break.

It remains to be seen what the effect will be on the future political aspirations of Senator Reed. Matters of a political trend are fraught with surprises. Spencer's friends say that Reed's public career is at an end. But the Senator has a way about him that may overcome any such general feeling. But whatever the outcome is the Senator will turn in and try to elect Spencer.

TO LEARN FIRST RUDIMENTS.

A Change in the Method of Instruction in Singing.

A change has been made in the method of instruction in singing at the Plainfield High School. Heretofore it has been the custom to have only one singing class composed of all the pupils in the High School. While some are well versed in music there is a certain proportion who have no knowledge of the principles of sight-reading, and now it is planned to start an elementary class for their benefit. The latter class will hold its lessons on Monday and Friday mornings under the instruction of Charles H. Lewis, the instructor in that branch. The advanced class will take up selections as of old and will hold a lesson on Monday mornings. They will be granted one extra study period on Fridays.

Attending Knights Field Day.

About fifty members of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., of this city, left this morning in a special car for Morristown, where they took part in the annual field day exercises of the order. At Elizabeth the commandery was met by Drake's Band who accompanied them to their destination and escorted them in the parade. The commandery made a very fine showing as they marched to the North Avenue station.

LONG IN PUBLIC VIEW

H. NEWTON SPENCER A RESIDENT OF NEW JERSEY ALL HIS LIFE.

Engaged in the Same Business and at the Same Location Since 1869—Of Revolutionary Stock—Active Temperance Advocat.

In nominating H. Newton Spencer for Surrogate in the Somerset county Republican convention yesterday, Former Mayor Hegeman said that five years ago when Mr. Spencer's friends rolled up 320 majority for him in the borough it was thought that he was surely elected. But in the rest of the county he was beaten, Mr. Hegeman said that it was then tacitly understood that when it came time for another nomination for Surrogate Mr. Spencer should be given another chance. Times had changed since then and Somerset was now a Republican county and there were other candidates in the field for the same honor. They were all good fellows, he said, but it was for the delegates to decide who was to have the nomination. It had been claimed that North Plainfield has the plum of the county offices. "We have and we are proud of it," said Mr. Hegeman, "and we might be content if we didn't have such a worthy son to present." Mr. Hegeman then formally nominated Mr. Spencer.

Henry Newton Spencer is the son of James L and Caroline B. Spencer. He was born in Washington Valley, Essex (now Union) county, N. J., September 18, 1843, and graduated from Wallace's Business College, at Plainfield, in 1857, then entering the grocery business in the employ of his brother, Lewis Craig Spencer. At the outbreak of the war his brother entered the army, and his father conducted the business, with the assistance of H. N. Spencer, until 1866.

At that time Mr. Spencer opened business at Rahway. In 1869 he removed to North Plainfield, where he took charge of the store he now occupies at 76 and 78 Somerset street, and has continued there uninterruptedly to the present time. He cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln for the presidency, and has been active in the Republican party ever since. During the past ten years he has represented his district on the Somerset county executive committee, and on the executive committee of the Republican State League during the past eight years. Mr. Spencer has held many responsible positions, both civil and political, having served several times as township and district clerk prior to 1886, and since then has been collector and treasurer for the borough and township of North Plainfield.

On January 12th, 1867, Mr. Spencer was married to Mary J. Gibby, daughter of Judge Gibby, of Rahway, and by them two sons and a daughter were born.

Mr. Spencer has been active in the management of the Reform Club for several years. He is a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association, the Royal Arcanum and a director of the American Fire Insurance Company. He is of French lineage, and has an ancestry not inconspicuous in the Revolutionary War. His great-grandfather is supposed to have been killed at the battle of Elizabeth in 1780. On the maternal side, William Line, his great-great-grandfather was a captain of militia in the Continental Army, and lived on a farm near Blue Brook, Washington Valley, Union county.

Mr. Spencer is a man that is well-thought of and liked by all who know him, and his many excellent qualities have won for him many friends, both Democrats and Republicans.

Both Offenders go to Jail.

Last evening Henry Morse, colored, a resident of Coontown, was arrested by Chief Wilson, of the borough, for being drunk and disorderly. Morse was found wandering about dooryards in Washington Park, and he was promply given the proper treatment, which was thirty days at Somerville, in default of the payment of a $10 fine. Early this morning Marshal Schenck arrested Adam Martine, an old resident of the borough, for being in an intoxicated condition, as well as disorderly. Recorder Thomas gave him a choice between $10 or thirty days. He took the latter.

Bride and Groom Gave a Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes gave a supper in the Catholic Club Lyceum, corner of Liberty and Sixth streets, last night. The attendance was very large, and a most pleasant evening was passed by those who showed their regard for Mr. and Mrs. Hughes by accepting their hospitality.

—A successful dance was held in T. A. B. Hall last evening, for the benefit of the Pastime Social Club.

—There are shoes, and there are shoes. VanArsdale calls your attention to his shoe advertisement today.

PLIGHT OF A GIRL TOURIST.

SEPARATED FROM HER BROTHER.

Miss Higgins Had Been in New York Sightseeing—Started for Home and Unable to Find Her Brother.

The good residents of South Plainfield are quite excited over the fact that they have in their midst a stranded young woman. Separated from her brother as they boarded one of the Lehigh Valley trains at Jersey City, she is now at the South Plainfield hotel without funds or tickets, waiting to learn of his whereabouts.

Arthur B. Higgins and Miss Bertha Higgins are brother and sister. Their home is in Geneva, N. Y. Several weeks ago they came to New York on a sight-seeing trip, and after seeing all they wished prepared to return. They were to leave Jersey City yesterday afternoon on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. They arrived at the station and the sister went and took her seat in the train while her brother remained behind to purchase a cigar. He carried the money and tickets of the party.

The train pulled out of the station and started on its way, but Higgins did not appear. His sister thought at first that he had boarded another car and would soon join her, but as the minutes rolled by and he did not appear, she appealed to the conductor for help. Together they went through the train, but Higgins was nowhere to be found. Thoroughly alarmed for fear that her brother had met with some accident, Miss Higgins finally decided to leave the train at South Plainfield. She had no ticket nor money.

At South Plainfield she went to Fitzgerald's Hotel and told her story. She was taken in and given a room and her wants provided for. She was very anxious about her brother and feared that he was in trouble somewhere. The South Plainfielders became interested in the case and are now using their best efforts to locate the missing man.

JONES IS GUESSING.

Wondering if Someone Took His Wheel Intentionally or by Mistake.

Jacob Jones is still guessing whether somebody stole his wheel, or made a mistake and took the wrong wheel. It happened yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Jones is an insurance agent and lives on Central avenue. He rode up to the City Hotel on his wheel, jumped off and went into the hotel, leaving the wheel standing at the curb. When he came out of the hotel a few moments later the wheel was gone. The missing wheel was a '96 Hartford that Mr. Jones has ridden for some time.

Mr. Jones began to look about for his wheel thinking that some friend had played a practical joke. In the place where he had left his wheel there was a lady's Richmond wheel. Nobody came to claim the latter. At last a man, who had stood on the opposite corner, came over and said that he had seen a man ride up on a lady's wheel, go into the hotel and come out again, and get on the man's wheel. He had ridden off on the latter.

The lady's wheel is now waiting in the City Hotel until its owner shall come back to claim it. Meanwhile Jones is walking and waiting to find whether it was a case of theft or mistaken identity.

Wesley Evangelists Coming.

The Wesley evangelists, of New York, who will be in this city next Sunday, are fast becoming noted for the impression which their work makes everywhere. They will have charge of the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and in the evening will assist in the services at the East Third Street mission, and at the Memorial chapel at Washingtonville.

Y. M. C A Notes.

The advanced class in mathematics meets at the Y. M. C. A. tonight.

George Weeks Sanford, who is in charge of the shorthand course at the Y. M. C. A., is highly endorsed by the president of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and by the secretary of the Brooklyn Branch of the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Tomlinson gave the first of her series of readings in English literature to a class of ladies at the Y. M. C. A. building this morning. The class meets twice a week, on Thursday mornings and on Monday afternoons.

Death of Mrs. Garretson's Mother.

Mrs. Jacob F. Sharp, mother of Mrs. J. F. Garretson, of this city, died at her home in Somerville today. She was an elderly woman, well known and beloved by many friends in this city and Somerville. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Main street, Somerville, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

I. M. Price, of Brooklyn, has returned to his former position as a clerk in the pharmacy of Horsley Barker, on West Front street.

THE CAMDEN TRAGEDY

Murderers of the Two Women Have Not Been Traced.

SON KNOWS BUT LITTLE

Suspicion Against Him Seems to Have No Foundation and Friends Discredit It—Bullets Not of the Same Size.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 14.—The murder of Mrs. Emma Zane and her daughter, Mrs. Sarah M. Shaw, is the only thing discussed here. There are several Philadelphia detectives, as well as the Camden police, at work on the case, and as far as known there does not seem to be any clew to the murderers.

The friends of the dead woman scout the idea that Eli Shaw, son of Mrs. Shaw, had anything to do with the crime. He is 19 years of age, a member of the Methodist Church of Camden, and of excellent reputation. He is the one who gave the alarm.

There were rumors that burglars did not kill the woman and hints that young Shaw committed the crimes. It was pointed out that he had a 22-calibre revolver in his hand at the time the police were summoned, and that every one of the chambers had been discharged.

The autopsy held on the bodies of the murdered women showed that both had met death by being shot with 32-calibre revolvers. The 22-calibre pistol in the possession of Eli Shaw had nothing to do with the case.

It is the general opinion here that the double tragedy was committed by some one who was familiar with the Zane and Shaw families. They lived in a good portion of the city and were reported to be wealthy. This had led some to think that the double tragedy was committed by some resident of Camden.

The police were informed shortly after the commission of the crime, and it is argued by those holding that the murderers live here that should the murderers have attempted to leave the city the news sent to the police of surrounding places almost immediately would have headed them off.

The bodies of Mrs. Zane and her daughter are in their house at 242 Line street. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed. Both women were widows, and the only man in the house was the son, Eli Shaw.

Two Arrests.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 13.—Two men—one tall, the other short—were arrested yesterday afternoon at Stockton district, a suburb of this city, in connection with the murder of Mrs. Zane and her daughter.

The men went into a Stockton saloon and asked the bartender to take care of a pistol for them until they should call for it last night. The bartender followed them until he met a policeman, who arrested them.

The prisoners answer the description of two men seen by Howard Ross, an engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at 4.30 Tuesday morning. He was walking on his way to the railroad yards when he was nearly knocked down by the men running against him. This was shortly after the murder and was within a few blocks of the Zane house.

TWO WOMEN DROWNED.

Carriage Bearing a Party Returning from a Wedding Upset.

Monticello, N. Y., Oct. 14.—John O'Neil, of Fallsburg, and Miss Rose Lynch were married Friday night at the bride's home at Mountaindale. A company comprising William F. O'Neil, of the law firm of Reynand, Harris & O'Neil, of New York; his daughter Edna, and Archibald D. O'Neil, a hotelkeeper, of Fallsburg, and his wife and daughter Clara, attended the wedding. On their return home in a carriage, while attempting to cross the Neversink River at Denniston's Ford, the harness broke and the horses took fright. The carriage was overturned and the occupants were thrown into the swift water. Lawyer O'Neil saved himself and daughter. Mrs. O'Neil and daughter were caught in the current and swept away. Mr. O'Neil saved himself by catching one of the horses by the tail, and was dragged to the opposite shore. The bodies have not been recovered.

Worse Than War.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Among the interesting data furnished by the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, just out for the year ending June 30, 1896, is the fact that 1,900 employes were killed and 30,000 injured during the year, an increase of 50 killed and 4,000 injured.

Besides these 181 passengers were killed and nearly three thousand injured. The number of persons other than employes and passengers killed was 4,406, and injured, 5,845.

There were 886,000 railway employes.

Orphan Home to Be Investigated.

Poughkeepsie, Oct. 14.—The State Board of Charities will investigate the charges of cruelty in the De Puyster Orphan Home, at Tivoli. Mrs. Anita B. Fisk, president of the New York Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Mission Society, which controls the home, is at Tivoli, and to-day will make a report on the charges at a meeting of the auxiliary, to be held in this city. Gen. De Puyster, of Tivoli, and the Methodist clergymen throughout the country are bringing pressure to bear to have a rigid and impartial investigation made.

A Silver Mayor Elected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14.—Thomas Taggart is re-elected Mayor of the city by a plurality of nearly 5,000. The entire Democratic ticket is elected.

The money question was the main issue. The Democrats indorsed the Chicago platform and combined with the free-silver Republicans on Taggart.

David Martin Wields the Ax.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 14.—Secretary of the Commonwealth Martin has asked for the resignation of Col. James E. Barnett, the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth. Richard E. Cochran, of York, a son of a former Auditor-General, has been appointed his successor.

CANADA'S DEFENCES.

Mr. Dilke Thinks Canada Should Be Better Prepared to Protect Herself.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—Sir Charles Dilke, in a letter from England, touches upon the subject of the defense of Canada in the event of a war with the United States. He says:

"The statement of our military need made by the average man, neglects the defense of Canada. We yielded to pressure from the United States in the Venezuelan question. We are yielding to similar pressure again, and pressure somewhat ungraciously applied, in the sealing question. There is a war party or a jingo party, in the United States which openly avows the intention to humiliate and weaken us, and ultimately to drive us into war. There are it is to be hoped, and perhaps believe in the United States a majority of peace-loving citizens, who shrink with as much horror as we do from the prospect of a conflict between such powers; but, however anxious we may be for peace, and however much we may work to keep it, yet we cannot close our eyes to the obvious facts; and one of these facts is that circumstances might occur under which we should, by no fault of our own, find ourselves at war with the United States, with Canada calling upon us to defend her."

SENT LUETGERT'S CHILDREN OUT.

The Judge Wouldn't Have Them in the Courtroom During a Speech.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The first plea to the jury on behalf of Adolph L. Luetgert was made yesterday by the junior counsel for the defense, Albert Phalen. Luetgert's two children were brought into court, and the prisoner held his youngest boy on his lap and fondled him ostentatiously. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen objected to the exhibition, and the children were ordered removed by the Court. Mr. Vincent objected to the Court's ruling.

"There can be but one object in the defendant's action," pursued the Judge, "and that is to excite sympathy."

"I except to the Court's remarks," said Mr. Vincent, and the incident was over, but the buzz of comment lasted some time longer. One of the jurors smiled when the sausage-maker caressed his children. Mr. Phelan's plea was not oratorical. He scored the State's witnesses and declared that perjury had been freely committed to convict Luetgert. He resumed his argument this morning.

10 TO 7 ON VAN WYCK.

Lots of Money to Wager at That Odds on the Tammany Candidate.

New York, Oct. 14.—Offers to bet upon Van Wyck, conditioned upon none of the candidates for the Mayoralty of Greater New York withdrawing, aggregated a large amount yesterday on the New York Stock Exchange. E. B. Talcott offered $15,000 at odds of 10 to 7 on Van Wyck. He wanted to bet it either in whole or in amounts of $1,000 to $700. He made one bet of $1,000 to $700, E. F. Patchen putting up the latter amount on the field. Later in the day E. L. Norton, of Henry Allen & Co., offered to bet $5,000 against $3,000 that Van Wyck would be elected. M. B. Mendham made a bet of $500 to $250 that Low would not be elected.

E. J. Stachelberg, of M. Stachelberg & Co., offered in Wall street yesterday to bet $10,000 to $7,000 on Van Wyck, conditional on Tracy's non-withdrawal.

ENGLAND AND BIMETALISM.

The British Cabinet Will Reply to American and French Proposals.

London, Oct. 14.—The Daily News says it understands that the Cabinet will, on Saturday, definitely reply to the American and French bimetallic proposals.

In anticipation of any action by the Government a strongly worded memorial is being signed by London bankers, discount brokers and merchants against the Bank of England holding one-fifth of its note reserve in silver.

The memorial earnestly deprecates any interference with the existing standard, and is especially emphatic against any change in the Indian currency without a full discussion in Parliament.

The indications are that a memorial so extensively and influentially signed will check the tendency of the Cabinet to tamper with the monetary systems of Great Britain and India.

Merit Talks

"Merit talks" the intrinsic value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. It will make your blood pure, rich and nourishing, and thus drive out the germs of disease, strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia

"I suffered from dyspepsia 20 years. I had a feeling as though there was a lump in my stomach. I did not dare to eat meat or warm bread, very few vegetables, for fear of the great distress food caused me. I experienced relief right after commencing to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. My appetite increased, I gained in general health and strength. I can eat almost anything now without discomfort. Although I had been an invalid for twenty years, I can truthfully say that I am better than for a long time. I never weighed so much in my life." MRS. EMILY F. BUMP, 45 Portland Street, Middleboro, Mass.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A meeting of the consistory of Trinity Reformed church will be held this evening.

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a very severe cold that caused him to be in a most miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to anyone afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Fred Hughes, of Somerset street, has returned to Philadelphia, after his brief vacation at home, during which time he acted as an usher at the Keeley-Hughes wedding.

Those who believe chronic diarrhœa to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz.: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhœa ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhœa. It is pleasant to take and never fails to affect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. B. Wilson, of Rahway, secretary of the Union county union of Christian Endeavor Societies, was in Plainfield on Tuesday evening on business with other officers of the same organization in this city.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Florence L. Spaulding, of Bound Brook, was the guest yesterday of Miss Luella Crowther, of Sanford avenue.

A pain in the chest is nature's warning that pneumonia is threatened. Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind over the seat of pain, and another on the back between the shoulders, and prompt relief will follow. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

C. Nichols, general secretary of the Rahway Y. M. C. A., visited the association building in this city yesterday.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

James C. Manning, Daniel Manning, Ira Randolph and Howard Randolph, of this city, left on Tuesday to spend a week on Barnegat Bay on the schooner of Captain Dorsey. Fishing and hunting will be the chief amusements of the party.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits."

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

JUSTICE FIELD TO GO

His Retirement to be Followed by a Big Shake Up.

McKENNA HIS SUCCESSOR

Judge Goff May Enter the Cabinet and Be Succeeded by Assistant Secretary of State Day as Attorney-General.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Associate Justice Stephen Johnson Field, of the United States Supreme Court, has made formal application to President McKinley to be retired from the Bench under the law allowing members of that court to be retired when 70 years old.

Attorney-General Joseph McKenna, of California, will most likely be nominated to succeed Justice Field on Dec 6, when Congress convenes, five days after the retirement of Justice Field takes effect.

According to one story, the accuracy of which cannot be vouched for at present, Assistant Secretary of State William H. Day is to become Attorney-General, Secretary Sherman is to retire to private life, Secretary of the Navy Long is to be transferred to the State Department and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt is to be advanced to the head of the Navy Department.

The President is seriously considering the appointment of Mr. Day as Attorney-General, and the succession to Attorney-General McKenna is believed to lie between Mr. Day and Col. J. J. McCook, of New York. Col. McCook having once declined the Interior Department portfolio, some doubt is expressed as to whether he would now accept the Attorney-Generalship, but it is known that he would prefer that office to any other in the Cabinet.

Justice Field has been eligible for retirement since Nov. 4, 1886.

Efforts were made during the Cleveland Administration to induce Mr. Field to retire, but he was determined not to give President Cleveland an opportunity to appoint a Democrat to succeed him.

Field's Great Career.

Justice Field is 81 years old. When his retirement shall go into effect—Dec. 1—he will have served longer than any Justice on this Bench. His term of service will then be thirty-four years, seven months and twenty days. The law prescribes that he shall, when retired, receive the full Associate Justice's salary—$10,000 a year—for life. Until Justice Field's advent to this Bench the record for length of service was held by Chief Justice Marshall. Field was appointed by President Lincoln.

FALSE INSURANCE RETURNS.

Startling Revelations from Investigation of a Life Association.

Hartford, Ct., Oct. 14.—The directors of the National Life Association have admitted to Insurance Commissioner Betts that millions of dollars of insurance had been kept on the books and reported to the directors when payments on this business had not been made since 1892; that President Dolphin S. Fletcher had been not once, but continually, a party to misrepresentation to the directors; that he had been responsible for systematic false statements as to the business of the company, and that he had compelled all under his direction in the company to do his bidding, and make the statements he ordered, or walk the plank.

No one was prepared for such a revelation. It is said that when an examination was determined upon twelve millions of alleged insurance reported in annual statements was marked off.

President Fletcher, whose resignation, with that of Secretary H. T. Braman, has been accepted, was not present when the revelations were made. Mr. Braman, with tears in his eyes, told how he had to do the president's bidding or lose his $6,000 position when he had a family dependent upon him.

Commissioner Betts said the president had not been ignorant of the false returns, and must have known all about the two millions on the books, but not reported to the State Department. He also averred that policies have been shaved.

It is stated that Mr. Fletcher, who, though no longer connected with the company, has been at the office every day, will be requested to deliver his keys and refrain from interfering with the work in progress by even so much as being present to see what is going on.

Mr. Fletcher has endeavored to explain away some of the points made by the State officials. Steps have been taken towards a reorganization of the company, which is still on a firm financial basis. Mr. Fletcher and his family own a majority of the $100,000 capital.

Bridegroom 87, Bride 90.

Rochester, Oct. 14.—Announcement has been received in this city of the approaching wedding of Benjamin F. Hunt, of Boston, formerly of Rochester, and Mrs. Julia A. Sherman, of Watertown. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride on Oct. 20. The prospective bridegroom is in his eighty-eighth year and the bride is 90 years old. Mrs. Sherman is reputed to be worth over $1,000,000.

Oppose Feathers in Hats.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The Women's Parliament, which is in session at Los Angeles, has devoted itself principally to the discussion of extravagance in dress.

The women passed a resolution condemning the use of feathers in the decoration of hats, on account of the slaughter of birds which the fashion causes.

Three Brothers Found to Be Insane.

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 14.—Antonio, Charles and Lewis Jorio, brothers, who clubbed their father to death at Vineland last Winter and have since been in Cumberland jail, were to-day ordered by the court to be sent to the insane asylum at Trenton. Antonio has twice tried to kill his keeper.

Scaffold Broke and Five Men Killed.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 14.—Through the fall of a scaffold at the Baptist Church being built at Piano, Tex., five men were killed. The men fell a distance of thirty-five feet.

The bar associations in various localities of this State ought to see to it that the lawyer who practices unprofessional conduct in any manner is driven from his profession or exposed to public mortification. The only way to purify the bar is for those who honor their calling to require that those who dishonor it shall not have equal privileges with themselves before the courts.—New Jersey Law Journal.

For the benefit of affianced couples we impart the knowledge that there is a new way of getting married. It is modern—real up-to-date—and not according to old forms. In tying the nuptial knot the bride is not asked to obey the husband. In assuming the married state they merely bow their heads together in the affirmative. It makes woman the equal of man.

A costly joke was said in a New York court the other day. A man stole an umbrella and when the Judge asked the culprit what he got on it, (meaning in a pawnshop) the prisoner essayed to be funny and replied "rain." The Judge carried the joke a bit further by sentencing the thief to two years in State prison.

Was there ever a campaign within the memory of the oldest inhabitant but what James E. Martine was either mentioned or nominated for some office? At present the "farmer orator" is being talked of for the Democratic nomination of Surrogate.

Those who are engaged in driving nails in political caskets for other people must remember that the fickle-mindedness of present adherents is ofttimes the jimmy that pries off the coffin top at some future date.

This is distinctly not a year for new political bosses in old parties. If you disagree with the old dictator why start a new party—that's the New York fad in politics.

Senator Reed was one of the first to congratulate H. Newton Spencer after his nomination yesterday.

Miles Ross is in the saddle in Middlesex Democracy again.

ENGINE BURIED UNDER COAL CARS.

Costly Collision on the Port Reading Railroad, But No One Hurt.

An engine drawing a coal train crashed into a light engine on a sharp curve on the Port Reading Railroad, four miles from Metuchen, yesterday morning. The road is a part of the Philadelphia and Reading system, and consists of a single track from Bound Brook to Port Reading, on Staten Island Sound.

The crash wrecked two engines, both of which were going to Bound Brook, and ten large coal cars were piled in a heap on top of one of them. No one was injured, although several of the crew of the train were badly shaken up.

THE BATTLE OF YORKTOWN.

That Revolutionary Event to be Celebrated at the Wallace House.

The Revolutionary Memorial Society of New Jersey intend celebrating the anniversary of the battle of Yorktown at their headquarters, in the Wallace House, Somerville, Tuesday, October 19th, at 12 m., and cordially invite on that occasion all the citizens of Union county who take an interest in matters of this character to be present.

The exercises will be very interesting, as distinguished speakers have been invited and promised to attend. The interest of the occasion will be enhanced by the undoubted identification of the Wallace House as disclosed by the following paragraph taken from the Royal Gazette, a loyalist paper published in New York by James Rivington in 1778:

New York, Dec. 19th, 1778.—By late accounts from New Jersey we are informed that General Washington's headquarters were at Mrs. Wallace's, about twelve miles from Brunswick; the Earl of Sterling's at Convivial Hill, a seat of the jocund Philip VanHorn, Esq., about seven miles from Brunswick; Major General Green's at VanVechter's, on Raritan river; Brigadier-General Knox's with the artillery at Col. McDonald's, at Pluckamin, about eighteen miles from Brunswick. With these four general officers there are about seven and twenty hundred Rebels; Brigadier-General Maxwell commands at Elizabethtown with his brigade consisting of 800 militia cantoned between Elizabethtown and Newark. Col. Stephen Moyoan is marched, it is said, to Lancaster, in Pennsylvania. A southern brigade, commanded by a Col. Woodruff, lately consisting of 900, rank and file, we are informed are now reduced by desertion to 500.

THE SCHOOL FRATERNITY.

The Kappa Delta Phi to be Started Again in the High School.

A meeting will probably be held in the Plainfield High School tomorrow afternoon to start up the Kappa Delta Phi for the coming season. The success of that secret and literary organization has already been proved by several years' trial, and the boys in the High School are now considering it an honor to be elected to membership of that fraternity. Among its alumni members are the brightest young men who have graduated from the High School for the last four years. At the meeting tomorrow the new officers will be elected and the plan for the year's work arranged. There are already a large list of applicants to fill the vacancies in the membership.

—The iron for the new bridge on Watchung avenue has been placed in position on the Plainfield side of the brook, and the men are now erecting the iron on the borough side.

A Piano Sensation!

During this month we're going to sell good Pianos at the previously unheard of price of $170 cash, or $190 on easy monthly payments.

We bought nearly a hundred from different makers during the summer. These are good pianos that we guarantee for five years.

We have also marked down for this month the prices on all of our regular lines of Hardmans, Gabler's, Voses, Sterlings and Standards. There is decided saving for the buyer who comes during this sale.

It would be worth your while to buy now, even if you don't want the Piano until Christmas; we'll store it for you without charge.

FALL AND WINTER

-CLOTHING-

-: FOR :-

MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has failed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers.

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fall and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent. on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth. Men's winter all-wool suits, sizes from 33 to 44, that are sold all over Plainfield at $7.50 and $8.00, are sold here at $3.75; if not satisfied with this suit in any way, bring it back and get your money. Men's fine clay-diagonal heavy-weight suits, silk-lined, worth $22.00, at $7.50. Men's satin lined dress suits in cutaway, worth $22.75, at $8.50. We offer 600 dark colored good suits in mixed cheviots and cassimers at $3 50, $4 50, $5.00 and $5.25, worth easily from $8.00 to $12 00. All wool men's pants at 85c. Heavy cheviots and cassimere pants at 95c, $1 10, $1.25 and $1.50, worth double. Fine double breasted heavy black cheviot suit handsomely made, at $5.95, that other stores ask $15 00 for. Elegant Prince Albert dress suits, very fine imported cloth, wholesale price $18.00 to $25.00, sale price $9.50. Extra fine dress pants, over one hundred styles in stripes and silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, $1.25, $1.50, $1.65, $1 90 and $2.25, worth from $3.75 to $5.50.

Bring this with you and if not shown everything here as advertised we will pay your car fare. Boys' neat double breasted suits, all wool warranted, with double knee and double seat, $1,00, 1 25, 1.50, 1.75 and 2.24, worth three times as much. Men's fine covert cloth fall overcoats, in light and dark shades, silk-lined, worth $16.00, at $5.00, latest styles. Men's heavy diagonal fall overcoat, fine finish, worth 12.00 to 15.00, at $5.50. Men's fine black melton overcoat, blue or black, elegantly made, at $6 50, worth 12.00. Men's imported kersey overcoats silk lined, French facing, worth 22.00, at $8.25. Men's dress overcoats at $3 25, worth 10 00. Buy your overcoat now and you will save sixty cents on every dollar. Men's ulsters, dark blue, all wool, waterproof cloth, worth 18.00, at $6.50. Very fine ulsters at $5.50 and $6.50, worth double. A good ulster for drivers at $2 50 and $3.00, worth from 6 00 to 8.00. Extra fine dress suit for young men and boys, long pants actually valued at 12 00 to 15 00, sale price at $4.50. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suit at $3.50, regular price 10.00. A good youth's suit at $2.50, worth 7 50. Bring anything back within fifteen days, that is not entirely satisfactory. Men's exta fine brown plaid suits at $3.50, $4.50 and $5.00, worth from $9.00 to 15 00. Men's winter bicycle suits at $2 00, $2 50 and $3, worth from 5.00 to 12.00. Remember, no other store in Plainfield can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. We have over three thousand suits to choose from. All wool clay diagonal sack suit at $5.90, worth from 12 00 to 15.00. Over one thousand woolen knee pants from 15c to 60c. WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity

The first night of the fair given by Holy Trinity church, in Etta Hall, last evening, was a brilliant affair, attracting a large number of the members and friends of the church. There were a number of tables among which was the variety table, presided over by Miss Mary Miller, Mrs. Fogerty and Mrs. J. T. Burke, and the refreshment table, in charge of Mrs. Versen, Mrs. McCue and Miss Mary Michaels. A number of guessing contests formed an interesting feature of the evening's fun. Tomorrow night those who have come the nearest to guessing the number of grains of corn in the different jars on exhibition will be awarded prizes. During the evening the young people enjoyed a number of dances, the music for which was furnished by Prof. O'Reilly, of Plainfield. Nearly all the articles of the fair have been donated by liberal friends of the church. The general committee in charge of the affair consists of Rev. Father Smith, James English, James McCarthy, Richard Ratchforde and John T. Burke. Tonight will be the closing night of the fair, and a large attendance is expected.

The annual inspection of the Westfield fire department was held last evening. The firemen assembled at the department headquarters at 8 o'clock and, headed by Lincoln Fife and Drum Corps, marched to the corner of Broad and Elm streets with their apparatus and halted for inspection. The companies lined up were: Empire Engine Company, Bucket and Engine Company and Hook and Ladder Company. Chief Dennis, with his assistants, personally inspected the uniform of each fireman, finding very little to criticise. The apparatus, consisting of the chemical engine, the hook and ladder truck and the hose carriage, were inspected and found to be in good order. After the inspection was finished the companies fell into marching order again and made a short parade about the town, returning to the headquarters at about 9 o'clock.

A delegation from Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Westfield, paid a fraternal visit to Cranford Council, No. 62, at Cranford, last night.

Rev. J. A. Owen, of Elizabeth, addressed the prayer meeting in the Methodist church last evening on the subject of missions.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of the Presbyterian church held a meeting in the lecture room at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A number of Westfield people will attend the musicale given by Mrs. J. T. Dewey, at Greenville, tonight.

The Mission Band of the Presbyterian church will give an entertainment next Monday evening.

Contractor Felix Sterpone is rapidly pushing the work of cleaning and widening the brook.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church holds an all-day meeting today.

Elizabeth B. Woodruff has sold her lot on Washington street to Mrs. Littlefield.

E. C. Winter is about to build two houses on Downer street for Mr. Tully.

Fireside Council, No. 715, Royal Arcanum, holds a meeting tonight.

The Advance Club will meet at Ira T. Bull's tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Charles D. Reese is visiting relatives in New York city.

Mrs. A. H. Schofield is visiting in Washington, D. C.

THE R FOURTH ANNIVERSARY.

A Junior Christian Endeavor Society in a Prosperous Condition.

The Juuior Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church held a meeting in observance of its fourth anniversary in the church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. After a short devotional service, led by Miss Martha Kline, there was a committee exercise in which each committee recited a selection descriptive of its work, and all then went upon the platform and sang an appropriate song. The eight graduates from the junior society, who are to be promoted into the intermediate society, were addressed upon the nature of the work required in the intermediate society by its secretary, Mrs. William L. Remsen. The pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring, delivered an interesting address and the meeting closed with a reading by Leah Hammond, entitled "Grandmother Grey and Grandmother Brown."

—A meeting of the Knights of the Ancient Essenic Order was held last evening and plans were made for the institution of the Plainfield Senate of that order in this city on the evening of Wednesday, October 27th.

It Reflects Our Methods.

There are two notable points about the sale of

that are worth notice. First, we guarantee it. If it fails to give satisfaction in any respect your money will be cheerfully refunded. Second, it is a remedy that can be guaranteed; it would be folly to sell an inferior remedy that way.

The price is 25 cents. It cures bruises, strains, backache or deep seated pains anywhere.

Our proposition on this remedy applies to all the preparations we make. Our aim is to make satisfaction the basis of every transaction. We believe that such methods appeal to thinking people more than plausible promises of something for nothing; more than the use of schemes which in the end must prove a delusion.

SILVER WHIST TROPHY CAPTURED BY THE PARK CLUB FOUR.

Defeated the Elizabeth Team Last Night—The Trophy Presented to State Association a Year Ago by the Present Holders.

After many wanderings, the handsome silver trophy, which was offered by the Park Club, of North Plainfield, to the New Jersey Whist Association, has returned to the clubhouse from which it started. Last evening the twelfth whistic battle for the cup was fought at the clubhouse of the Elizabeth Athletic Club, and the Park Club four, who were the challengers in the match, succeeded in defeating the Elizabeth Athletic Club four.

The Park Club trophy was offered last year after the Parks won the trophy which had been offered by the association itself. All the other clubs in the association were given a chance to play for the trophy at first, and the cup has been traveling about northern New Jersey from place to place as the different clubs won it. Last evening it was the turn of the Park Club to play for the trophy, and they went to Elizabeth, who held the trophy, to meet the well known four from the Athletic Club of that city.

The Park Club was represented by its regular four, Messrs. McCutchen, Howell, Townsend and Rogers. The players for the E. A. C. were Messrs. Maxfield, Lane, Saltonstall and Weeks.

The first round was won easily by the visitors by a score of 11 tricks to 1. The second was more vigorously contested, the Parks winning 7 tricks to 4. In the third round they were also victorious, 8 to 5. The total score was 26 to 10 in favor of the Plainfielders.

The trophy was brought to Plainfield last night, and is now on exhibition in the Park clubhouse. The next game for the trophy will be played next week when the North End Club, of Newark, the old rivals of the Parks, will be the challengers.

PLAYS POPULAR MUSIC.

Brooke and the Chicago Marine Band in Music Hall Tonight.

Brooke and his band will be in Music Hall tonight, and this means much to all lovers of popular music. With his famous Chicago Marine Band he plays all kinds of music superbly, but makes a specialty of playing popular music for people in such a way that there seems to be a never-ending delight to all who hear the concerts. Conductor Brooke is the most cosmopolitan of all leaders, and he gives everybody a chance to have a taste of his own favorite style, and rushes along so briskly with kaleidoscopic changes and mixtures of classic, standard and popular airs, that no one in the audience has a chance to get impatient waiting a morsel of his own particular favorite. Brooke is a young man, but by no means an experiment or an unknown quantity. It has been widely recognized that he has a genius for handling a military band, second not even to Gilmore.

BIG FIGHTING CARNIVAL.

New Orleans Club Arranging to Bring the Boxers Together.

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—The Tulane Athletic Club has authorized Matchmaker Ryan to arrange a carnival of events for the month of December. It is the wish of the Board of Directors to give a series of contests representing the middle, heavy, light and bantam weights. The carnival, according to the present programme, is to open on Dec. 12 or 13, and run three nights. Steve O'Donnell and Choynski have already been offered a guarantee of $5,000. The winner of the Everardt-McPartland contest, which is to be held next Monday night, will make one of the contestants in a fight with "Kid" Lavigne. For the last of the series Ryan has in view Solly Smith, who recently gained a decision over Dixon, and Johnny Van Hoost.

Three Rounds the Limit.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Mayor Harrison has dealt the boxing game in Chicago a hard blow. Instead of allowing twenty-round bouts, as had been anticipated, he says decidedly that three rounds will be the limit, and the police must see that there is no roughing. The Mayor will not grant a permit for a twenty-round go between Frank Garrard and Young Griffo, which has been announced to take place Oct. 23 at Tattersall's.

CUBANS NEAR HAVANA.

They Win Two Brilliant Victories, One Within Sight of the Capital.

Havana, via Key West, Oct. 14.—Gen. Molina confesses his defeat near Aquacate, Havana, in the big battle fought by his column there against the Cubans led by Cols. Arango and Aranguren.

The Spanish Colonel, Rogers, who was wounded, has died, and so has Col. Alfau, one of Gen. Molina's favorite officers, whose body was terribly torn by a shot from a Cuban rapid-fire cannon that was landed by one of the recent expeditions.

The official report of Gen. Molina, in spite of its bombastic praise of the courage of the Spanish soldiers, acknowledges the death of these officers and admits that the Cubans won the day.

The sensation in Havana over this news is intense. It has been increased by the report that a strong Spanish column, which tried to dislodge the insurgents under Castillo from their position in the hills of Calvario, has been repulsed with heavy losses. The Calvario hills are within sight of the capital. The attack lasted six hours. The Spaniards charged several times with their bayonets, but each time were compelled to retreat, leaving their dead in front of the trenches of the Cubans.

AID FO GEORGE.

Money from Kansas with an Excuse for the Smallness of the Amount.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 14.—Populists in a dozen towns in Kansas are subscribing to a fund to be sent to the Henry George Campaign Committee. Concert of action is apparent, for this preamble precedes all signatures on the petition:

"We believe that Henry George stands for principle, for freedom, for equal rights to all men, not only for the city of New York, or the State of New York, or the United States, but of all the world. Our contributions are small from the fact that during our struggle for existence we have been compelled to give one-third of our total production to the landlord or speculator holding land idle; one-third to railroads, telegraph lords, coal lords, oil lords, mineral lords, and a large part of what was left has been taken for taxes and tribute to trusts and syndicates.

LIVING BURIALS IN RUSSIA.

More Bodies of the Fanatics Discovered Beyond Ural Mountains.

(Cable Dispatch to the New York Sun.)

Odessa, Oct. 14.—Further cases of living burials by members of the fanatical religious sect known as the Raskolniki have been discovered in the Trans-Ural region.

A series of small mounds excited the curiosity of the authorities, and an investigation of them was ordered. When the mounds were opened it was discovered that they contained corpses of persons who had apparently been buried alive.

In some instances the mounds had been provided with air passages, which prevented the suffocation of the victims, who had met a lingering death from starvation. The commission of inquiry found that a 15-year-old girl, who had consented to be buried, had broken out of her sepulchre under the pangs of hunger.

Big Beet Sugar Manufactories.

Denver, Col., Oct. 14.—Plans contemplating the investment of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 by Eastern capitalists in sugar factories and refineries have been consummated here, and an agreement has been signed by 100 farmers pledging themselves to the cultivation of 1,000 acres of sugar beets for the purpose of supplying the material to these factories and refineries.

It is expected that a sugar refining business amounting to $1,500,000 will be established in this State.

Boy Killed by a Playmate's Blow.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 14.—Fitzsimmons' famous solar plexus blow was the cause of a death at the State Industrial School for Boys yesterday. John Carson, 16 years old, drew a long breath and asked one of his dormitory mates to strike him in the chest. Frank Martin responded with a back-hand blow over the heart, and Carson dropped dead. The institution physician says the blow produced paralysis. Martin, who is but 14 years old, is held blameless.

Ex-Gov. Altgeld Seriously Ill.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld has been seriously ill for several days and is confined at his home, 1886 Diversey avenue. He was a little better last evening. At Mr. Altgeld's office in the Unity building it was said that the worst seemed to be over.

NOTICE!

To Antoinette DeBaud, Marie Antoinette DeBaud, Marie Debaud, Leonard DeBaud, Elizabeth Rougerat, Rose Blauloeil, Anne Jaulin, Jeanne Roy, Leandre Ribaire, Henri Ribaire, Jean Metayer, Augustin Metayer, Angeline Ardoin, Thomas N. Dwyer, Sarah Bird, William C. Kelly, or any other owner of any part of the lands or real estate with the appurtenances in the notice given below referred to:

You and each of you are hereby notified that it is the intention of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield to take a part of your lands or real estate, with the appurtenances necessary to be taken, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, Union County, New Jersey, within twenty-five feet on each side of the center line of Westervelt avenue, and between the Northwesterly side line of East Front street and a point one hundred and eight and sixty six one hundreths (108,66) feet Southeast of Orange place, pursuant to the provisions of an ordinance of the City of Plainfield, entitled "An Ordinance to widen Westervelt avenue from the Northwesterly side line of East Front street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange place," approved July 12, 1897, to which ordinance and the map in said ordinance referred to, both said map and said ordinance being on file in the City Clerk's office of the City of Plainfield, you are referred to for a more particular description of the lands or real estate, with the appurtenances necessary to be taken as aforesaid.

You are further notified that a meeting of the Common Council will be held in the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, on Monday, the first day of November, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, at eight o'clock p. m., at which time and place you and each of you will please be present, then and there to treat with the said Common Council for said lands or real estate with the appurtenances.

By order of the Common Council.

James T. MacMurray, City Clerk.

The Tables Turned.

We have almost solved the servant girl problem.

Instead of the maid being mistress, we have made it possible for the mistress herself to be mistress.

The tables are turned, and we have turned them.

We have accomplished it to the mutual satisfaction of everybody. The plan is so simple that the wonder is nobody ever thought of it before.

Cheap but good laundering of general house linen enables every housekeeper to have the washing done out of the house. For instance,

Counterpanes 10c each.
Table Cloth 5c "
Sheets - 3c "
Towel, Napkins 1c "

What does our proposition mean? It means no more washday odor about the house. It means satisfied servants, because a maid will not be insolent if she can escape washdays and the delay of other work caused by bad drying days. Our booklet "Tables Turned" tells all about our new plan. You can have it for the asking.

Of Local Interest.

The Information Supplied by This Barber Will Prove of Inestimable Value In This Vicinity.

When the striped pole or sign which now indicates a barber shop, was employed to let the public know where cupping or blood letting was professionally performed, close shaves were a daily occurrence, not the easy removal of the hirsuit or hairy adornment of the head and face, but close shaves from entering eternity. More than one unfortunate entered the barber-surgeon's doorway to leave it a corpse or so weak that it required weeks to get the victim of malpractice on his feet, blood letting was used for everything from a heartache to a corn, and a pain in the loins was invariably treated with two incisions, one on each side of the spine, like plasters and liniments those helped from the counter irritation they created, and we may presume that had Mr. Silzer, Barber, of 22 Hiram street, New Brunswick N.J., lived in the time of George III, of England, in place of taking the course he did a short time ago with his back, blood-letting would have been resorted to. Read how he treated his troubles. Mr. Silzer said: "I had no doubt but that my trouble aroused from my kidneys, for the pain centered in the small of my back. It was very sore in that locality. It hurt me to stand on my feet, especially so on Saturdays, my busy day. An occasional griping pain passed through the abdomen to the groin. I went for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from a drug store to see if they would relieve me from the pain. Well, that is just what they did and they did it in short order. I cannot help but recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, they did all that I could expect and all that is claimed for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

THE WALLER DYNAMITE CASE.

Two Detectives Arrested Charged with Encouraging Perjury.

Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 14.—There is a new sensation in the famous Winter-Schenkkorr-Waller dynamiting case caused by the arrest in Reading of Henry Martz and H. C. W. Martz, private detectives, who were employed by the defense during the first trial this Summer to look after the witnesses in Reading. The warrants charge Henry Martz with willful and criminal solicitation to commit perjury, and his brother with willful subornation of perjury. They are founded upon information given by Emma Wickel Swickert, William V. Riffert and John J. Faust three of Wintersteen's most important witnesses.

It was suspected by the prosecution that there was a great conspiracy involving perjury, and in fact the conflict of evidence in the first trial, which resulted in its nullification, was such that there was undoubtedly perjury on one side or the other. The prosecution now asserts that it has indisputable evidence of this.

From the story obtained from those who assisted in the work it appears that several Reading witnesses, who are alleged to have been promised cash to give certain testimony calculated to break down the evidence of the prosecution, became impatient on not receiving the money and threatened to reveal the plot unless their pay was soon forthcoming. These complaints finally reached the ears of Waller's attorneys.

A Philadelphia lawyer was sent to Reading with plenty of money, and he cultivated the acquaintance of the women who had figured as witnesses for Wintersteen, and soon won his way into the good graces of Emma Swickert. Emma is alleged to have taken her newly-made friend into her confidence and asked him for advice as to how to secure the $1,000 which, it is alleged, she was to have received for her part in the trial.

The detective volunteered to not only secure Emma's money, but also the amounts alleged to have been promised to her friends who testified in the case. Emma accepted the proposition and so did her friends, and after getting certain statements and papers from them, Emma's new friend left, as he said, to force payment of the claims by Wintersteen at Bloomburg.

The arrest of the two detectives followed, and more are expected.

ATKINSON JURORS DISAGREE.

Five Would Have Convicted the Governor's Wife of Forgery.

Glenville, W. Va., Oct. 14.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Atkinson, the wife of the Governor of this State, who has been on trial for forgery, disagreed. After several hours' deliberation they returned to the courtroom at 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and announced that they stood five for conviction and seven for acquittal. They were dismissed.

The defendant was continued under bail for a new trial.

Mrs. Atkinson was accused of forging the name of her former husband, Judge Gideon D. Camden, of Clarksburg, W. Va., to several receipts for money alleged to have been loaned by her to Judge Camden. Testimony was offered at the trial to show that the receipts were written and signed by Mrs. Atkinson after her former husband's death.

Certain lands owned by Judge Camden were found by the executors of his estate to have been stripped of valuable timber by Joshua P. Owens, of Gilmour County. Owens had disposed of the timber. Suit was brought by the heirs to recover the value of the timber. Owens in his answer set up a claim to the land and produced receipts in the handwriting of Mrs. Atkinson for money alleged to have been paid for the land.

An examination of these receipts showed that, although purporting to have been written at different times and different places, two of them had really been written on a single piece of paper and afterward cut apart with a pair of scissors.

The widow and Owens were jointly indicted upon this evidence. Mrs. Camden subsequently married Gov. Atkinson, who has expressed his faith in his wife's innocence, and has promised to pardon her if she was convicted. The trial has been in progress for the past week.

MRS. LANGTRY WINS A FORTUNE.

Merman Captures the Cesarewitch Stakes at Newmarket.

London, Oct. 14.—The Cesarewitch Stakes, a handicap of 25 sovereigns each, 10 sovereigns forfeit, with 500 sovereigns added, for 3-year-olds and upward, the owner of the second horse to receive 200 sovereigns and the third 100 sovereigns out of the stakes, Cesarewitch course (two miles two furlongs and thirty-five yards), was run at Newmarket to-day.

The race was won by Mr. Jersey's (Mrs. Langtry) Merman, 5 years old. Twenty-three horses ran.

Merman's victory hit the betting ring ruinously. The bookmakers will probably have to pay £500,000. It is said that Mrs. Langtry won over £50,000. She laid a single bet on her horse yesterday of £1,000 against £20,000. Merman won by a neck. He is an Australian horse.

$150,000 for the Cause of Atheism.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 14.—Col. John A. Logan, of Nicholasville, an atheist, died yesterday of heart disease. He was worth $250,000, and has given $150,000 to the cause of atheism. The funeral will be held to-day. Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, an infidel, will speak. He leaves a wife and one child.

Fair Victim of Spanish Cruelty Reaches a Haven of Rost.

WAS DISGUISED AS A BOY

Spanish Suspicions Not Awakened by the Passenger on the Ward Liner Seneca. Whose Captain Was Ignorant of Her Identity.

New York, Oct. 14.—The Ward line steamer Seneca, which arrived here yesterday from Mexican ports via Havana, brought from the last-named city Miss Evangelina Cosio y Cisneros, the young Cuban who recently escaped from the Spanish prison at Belen, near the Cuban capital. The Seneca was met at Quarantine by the tugboat Fred Lohman, to which the young woman was transferred and brought to this city. Miss Cosio y Cisneros wore no hat when she descended a ladder from the Seneca to the tugboat, and had neither wrap nor cloak. She was dressed in a red crepon waist, with a show of lace trimming at the throat and a black skirt.

Inquiry as to how the fair fugitive managed to get aboard the Seneca after her escape from prison shows that, disguised as a boy, with her long black hair pinned at the top of her head and concealed by a soft sailor cap, she walked aboard the Seneca at 5.30 p. m. last Saturday, and two and a half hours later the steamship started for this city. She brought no baggage with her. She had a ticket calling for transportation that was made out in the name of Mr. Juan Sola, and when the ship was one day out from Morro Castle the young woman disclosed her identity to the stewardess, Mrs. Berri, and the latter lent her the outfit that she wore when she came ashore to-day.

Then to make things right the name of Mr. Juan Sola on the passenger list had to be changed, but this was an easy matter, the word "Miss" being pasted over "Mr.," and an "a" being added to Juan.

Slipped Past Spies.

How the escaped prisoner managed to get on board the Seneca unobserved is a wonder to Capt. Stevens, the master of the ship. The Seneca, on her way to this city from Tampico, touched at Havana at 6 Saturday morning, and remained there all that day, until 8 o'clock that night.

As is customary two detectives employed by the Spanish Government were stationed at the head of the gangplank during the entire time that the Seneca remained there. Just before the vessel started to resume her voyage the Chief of Police, accompanied by his deputy and secretary, boarded the ship, but made no attempt to search her.

Capt. Stevens says this in itself is peculiar, because they knew that the young woman had escaped on Thursday, and on former occasions, when the Seneca was believed to have suspects on board, the ship was searched from keel to deck. This has happened three or four times, Capt. Stevens says.

Another mystery to Capt. Stevens is how Miss Cosio y Cisneros managed to procure a transportation ticket. Since the beginning of the present insurrection the authorities at Havana, in connection with the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, to which the Seneca belongs, have made it a rule that tickets for transportation to this city be sold to those who show passports only. This rule has been strictly adhered to.

To further offset the possibility of suspects leaving the island a rule that no tickets should be sold on the steamer under any circumstances was also enforced. The supposition is that a passport was substituted.

Miss Cosio y Cisneros turned out to be a good sailor. She occupied stateroom No. 3 on the starboard side, aft the main saloon.

She spent a good deal of time in her room, but made the acquaintance of all her fellow passengers, who did all they could to make her trip pleasant. Among these were Hon. Walter B. Baker, United States Consul at Sagua la Grande; H. T. Stewart, Mrs. B. Lastre and Mrs. Del Real.

Fellow Passenger's Story.

Miss Cosio y Cisneros was accompanied on the trip by a reporter of the Journal. Mr. Stewart, another male passenger, told a reporter that the lady appeared in the saloon for breakfast the morning following the ship's departure from Havana. "I talked frequently with her," he said. "She speaks no English, but I speak Spanish fairly well, and we managed to get along well together. She related her exploit in getting out of jail, and told me that she had come aboard in male attire; that she had showed her passport to the detectives at the gangplank, who had also asked her her name. 'I made my voice as deep as possible when I said Juan Sola,' she told me, and we had a good laugh over it. When we sighted Cape Hatteras light the young woman asked what light it was, and when told that it was an American beacon she knelt down in the saloon and prayed. After that she wept a good deal from joy, I imagine. Now that I look at it, she must have been all strung up with excitement over her experiences, and when she saw the light she could contain herself no longer, but simply overflowed. That's what I think now."

Fifteen Strikers Arrested.

Pittsburg, Oct. 14.—The first wholesale arrest of strikers at the De-Armitt mines was made at Sandy Creek yesterday. Twelve members of a brass band and three strikers were stopped on the road to the mine by Chief Deputy Sheriff Evans and fourteen other deputies and placed under arrest. Chief Deputy Sheriff Evans said that the men were riotous. This was denied by all the prisoners at the Sheriff's office. Three of the musicians said that they were playing a march when the deputies stopped them.

PASSING COMMENT.

There is at present a desire on the part of the motormen on the street railway to wear full beards. A few of the motormen have the adornment already, but those who are now endeavoring to grow whiskers are Mark Hipp, Michael McCarty, Samuel Bower, John Mowen and Christopher Wise.

A curious sight is presented on East Fifth street, near Watchung avenue, where a number of large trees are growing directly in the middle of the sidewalk, making it necessary for pedestrians to wend their way carefully around them. It is probable that the trees were in their present position before the street was cut through, and were spared for the sake of the shade which they afford.

A Plainfield young man who entered Lehigh University this fall, writes home to his friends that the trials of a freshman in college are great. He tells how the sophomores captured him one night and compelled him to carry a large pail of paste until five o'clock in the morning while they pasted up bills about the town telling of the verdancy and other childish triats of his class.

It is strange that more people do not appreciate the delightful bicycle riding that is to be enjoyed at this season of the year. The air is bracing and puts new life into the rider, while the country scenery is magnificent with all its varied colorings. Where it was green, it is now a variegated mass of green, red, orange and yellow all blended harmoniously together.

One of the clerks at Neuman's grocery store has used a novel method for repairing punctures. There was a small puncture in the tire and the young man, tired of trying to find it, pumped a quantity of molasses into the tire. All went well after that, and the molasses filled up the hole in the tire. A week later, the tire exploded after being left in the sun, and the friends of the owner of the wheel were surprised to see a dark colored liquid flowing out of the hole in the tire. It was the molasses.

A well-known Plainfield man, in conversation with the writer this week, spoke in terms of high praise of the bravery and vigilance of the police of this city. The incident which the man related as illustrating this assertion happened a few nights ago. The teller of the story was awakened at about 2 a. m. by the barking of a dog in the alley at the rear of his house. While looking he saw a policeman rush down the street and into the alley and make a thorough search, dark-lantern in hand, of all the nooks and corners. The officer continued his search for several minutes, and when satisfied that no intruders were about, went quietly away upon his rounds, unconscious of the fact that there had been a watcher near.

Harry Dreier, of this city, witnessed a rather remarkable exhibition of feeling and intelligence from a member of the snake family one day this week. While out walking he killed a black snake five feet long and brought the reptiles body back home with him, arriving after dark. Upon going out of the house the following morning, Dreir was surprised to find another black snake, closely resembling the one killed by him the day before. The reptile had been killed during the night. It is supposed that the second snake was the mate of the one killed and that it had followed its mate's body from the swamp to the house where it was placed by Dreier.
